PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Former welterweight champion Johnny Bratton was fined $3,000 Wednesday by the Pennsylvania state athletic commission for "not putting forth his best efforts" in a 10-round losing fight with Johnny Saxton last Feb. 24. Murray A. Frank, general counsel for the International Boxing Managers' Guild of New York, who represented Bratton, called the move "capricious and arbitrary."

Flyers Still Have Chance Of Reaching Play-offs

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Many fans thought Hap Emms was talking through his hat when he told them before the season that Barrie Flyers weren't going anywhere. The coach of the defending Memorial Cup champions apparently knew what he was talking about.

But the seventh-place Flyers, faced with elimination from the playoffs, still have a chance of taking sixth and last playof place by beating out Guelph Biltmores and technically their two remaining games give them a better chance of making the post-schedule play than has Guelph.

The Flyers have games coming up with the third-place Toronto St. Michael's College Majors and the last-place Galt Black Hawks. Guelph's remaining games are with St. Michael's and with the tough fourth-place Hamilton Cubs at Hamilton.

HAD LITTLE HOPE

Even if the Flyers do squeeze into the playoffs it will be a big change from their first-place finish last season when they finished five points ahead of Toronto Marlboros. The defending Memorial Cup champions, however, can't be blamed for their sharp decline. With only three members of last year's championship team on their roster this season the Flyers never did say they were going far. Emms even threatened to withdraw his team from this year's competition before the season started.

Th Flyers missed a chance to take over sixth place Wednesday night when they were shaded 6-5 by St. Michael's in Toronto. A Barrie victory would have put them one point up on the Biltmores, defeated 6-2 by Hamilton in Guelph. Toronto Marlboros walloped Galt 9-0 in Toronto in the other league game.

Barrie led St. Michael's through most of the game. They jumped in front 2-1 in the first period and held a 5-4 edge going into the final stanza.

But the Collegians scored twice in the last period, their final goal coming during the last minute of play, for the victory.

MARLIES WIN EASILY

The Marlboro-Galt game was the first contest of a Toronto doubleheader watched by 2,178 fans. Marlboros led 4-0 after the first period and 5-0 after the second.

Hamilton hadn't much trouble with Guelph, either. The Cubs led 2-0 after the first and 4-1 going into the third. Larry Hillman and Bill Biney, a Junior B import, scored two each for the Cubs. Joe Zorica and Cummy Barton rounded out the total. Ed Mateka and Birley Dimma counted for Guelph.

St. Michael's plays at Guelph Friday while Galt is at Barrie.

Evacuate Movie-goers As Fire Threatens

MONTREAL (CP) — Some 500 movie-goers were evacuated Wednesday night when fire that badly damaged an adjacent fruit store threatened the Passe-Temps cinema in east-end Montreal.

The audience was cleared out by the management a few minutes after smoke fumes from the store were noticed inside the theatre. No one was injured.

The blaze, believed caused by a wiring short circuit, was under control in 40 minutes.

Kiner's Batting Defeats N.Y. Giants

By BOB MYERS

MESA, Ariz. (AP)—Ralph Kiner of Chicago Cubs gives every indication of a young man who hopes to regain the home run championship of the National League and of re-establishing his claim as an all-round baseball player.

His bat sank New York Giants Wednesday for their fourth straight defeat, 10-7, with a performance that started with a two-run homer his first time at bat and a grand-slammer later in the game.

In five exhibitions to date, Kiner is hitting well over .500. He has three home runs and has driven in 10 runs.

Kiner reported to camp weighing a trim 190 pounds, seven less than when he finished the long grind last year and 10 or 15 pounds under the figure he carried last spring into the quarters of his former employers, Pittsburgh Pirates.

'BAD' IN '53

The general impression is that Ralph had a "bad year' in 1953, though many a club would like more "bad" years from a guy who belted 35 home runs, drove in 116, hit a creditable .279 and had a fielding average of .973.

But not written in the records are the facts that Kiner in 1953 played under the handicap of a groin injury and got off to a poor and late start because of a row initiated by his boss then, Branch Rickey, Sr.

Kiner was home-run king of the National League for seven straight years until Milwaukee's Eddie Matthews dethroned him last season.

Muskies Take Third Title In Three Years

LINDSAY (ENS)—The Regent Muskies won their third consecutive Lakeshore League Intermediate A title Wednesday night as they defeated Port Hope Redmen 5-3. It was their fourth straight win in the best-of-seven series. The game was played at Port Hope.

The Muskies took a 3-0 lead in the first period, then coasted to the win as they split a pair of goals in the second and were outscored 2-1 in the final period.

Parker, Packer, Crawford, Hicks and Corley scored for the Muskies, while Al Lintner, Jim Freeman and Harry McKeen connected for the Redmen. The game became rough in the second period and continued that way to the end. Referees Louis Lecompte of Trenton and Jim Holloway of Belleville called a total of 16 penalties, 10 going to the home club. About 1,599 fans watched the tilt.

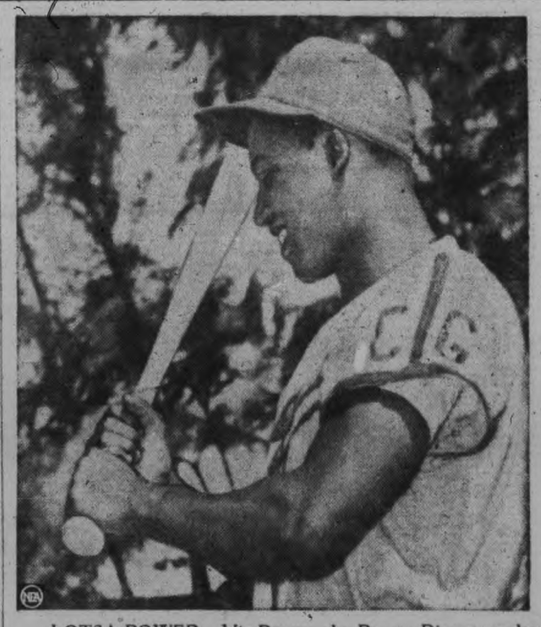
Selwyn WA To Present Bridgenorth Show



SELWYN (ENS)—The Women's Association of Selwyn United church met at the home of Mrs. George Mathieson with 17 members present.

Mrs. Jim McConkey presided. Mrs. Edward Preston read the scripture lesson. The topic was given by the Rev. T. Fleetham.

The treasurer reported a balance of $31.14 from the pancake social after all expenses were paid. The ladies planned to present a minstrel show from Bridgenorth in the church hall on Tuesday, March 16, in aid of the WA. Refreshments were served.

NHL Moves To Strengthen Clubs By Freeing Talented Minors

NEW YORK (CP)—The National Hockey League's board of governors took steps Wednesday to strengthen the league's weaker clubs by freeing talented players kept in the minors in the farm systems of stronger teams.

The governors passed legislation drastically limiting the number of players an NHL club is permitted to keep under wraps and instituting draft and waiver regulations to permit other clubs to strengthen their rosters.

At the same time the governors set up tentative dates for the Stanley Cup playoffs starting March 23. Final arrangements will be made when the standings are clarified by results of the remaining games on the league schedule.

LIMIT 20 MEN

The new player regulations require every NHL club to cut its roster to 20 players—two goaltenders and 18 forwards or defencemen—by Aug. 31 of each year.

At a draft meeting held in the second week of September, players in excess of a club's "protective list" of 18 will be subject to the draft for $15,000 each. The only exceptions are amateur players under the age of 20 on Aug. 1, who are eligible for junior hockey.

At the draft meeting, the team in last place at the time will have first choice among the liberated players. Second pick goes to the fifth-place club with the teams continuing to choose players, one at a time, in rotation.

The new waiver rule will wipe out the practice of an NHL club sending a player to the minors "on loan."

After Aug. 31, any club wishing to send a player to the minors must first put him on the league's waiver list. He is then available to all other clubs at the $15,000 waiver price, with the lowest club in the standings having first chance at him.

The player may proceed to a lower-ranking league only if all NHL clubs notify the league that they do not wish to exercise their waiver privileges.

WINGS FAR AHEAD

The playoff dates were drawn up under the assumption that Detroit Red Wings, currently leading the league by a nine-point margin with seven games left to play, will finish in first place.

Alternative dates were set allowing for a second-place finish by either Toronto Maple Leafs or Montreal Canadiens—currently the Leafs lead the Canadiens by a single point—and a fourth-place finish by either Boston Bruins or New York Rangers.

In series A between the first and third-place clubs, Toronto or Montreal will play at Detroit March 23 and 25, April 1 and April 4 or 5, with the Wings playing at Montreal or Toronto March 27 and 30 and April 3.

If Boston plays Montreal in series B, games are set for Montreal March 23 and, 25 and April 1 and 6. If the Rangers finish fourth, their first two games will be in New York March 23 and 25, with all remaining games at the home-rink of the second-place club. A circus is booked for Madison Square Garden after March 25.

TeePees Players Well Placed In Scoring Race

TORONTO (CP)—Players of St. Catharines TeePees hold down first, second, and fifth spots in the individual scoring race of the Ontario Hockey Association junior A league, the league's statistics show.

The statistics, which include games of Monday, March 7, show Brian Cullen in first place with 65 goals and 92 assists for 157 points—18 points more than the previous record of 139 chalked up by Ken Laufman of Guelph during the 1951-52 season.

Cullen's 65 goals tied the league goal-scoring record for a season, equalling the mark set by Lou Jankowski with Oshawa Generals in 1949-50 and George Armstrong with Stratford 1947-48.

In second place is Hugh Barlow of St. Catharines with 115 points, and Bob Attersley of Guelph is third with 113. Fifth is another St. Catharines player, Brian's brother Barry, with 102 points.

The top 10:

	G	A	Pts.
Brian Cullen, TeePees	65	92	157
Barlow, St. Catharines	44	71	115
Attersley, Guelph	46	67	113
Robertson, Barrie	52	58	110
Barry Cullen, TeePees	60	42	102
Martan, Barrie	44	57	101

Cotton Company Officials Describe Firm

STIRLING (ENS) — Stirling Chamber of Commerce sponsored a dinner meeting at Stirling community hall with an attendance of 100.

Guest speakers were William and David Young, directors of Hamilton Cotton Co., who have purchased property to open a branch in Stirling.

William Young explained the textile business in general, stating that his grandfather had started the Hamilton company in 1880.

Hamilton Cottons have three plants in operation, one in Hamilton, one in Trenton and one in Dundas. Together they employ about 1,000 workers.

IDEAL LOCATION

Mr. Young explained why they had chosen Stirling as an ideal location for their new plant, stating that a light industry is better in a small centre. They hoped to build a new up-to-date building.

David Young explained that they plan to erect a plant with 14,000 feet of floor space. It will be equipped with modern machinery. He hoped the building operations would begin in the near future but couldn't name the exact date.

Reeve R. K. West welcomed the guests and assured them that all Stirling would be interested in the new venture. Thomas Baker, manager of the Trenton plant, spoke briefly. The speakers were thanked by D. W. Rodgers.

Woman Spared Giving Evidence

NEW YORK (AP)—Glamorous Brenda Frazier Kelly, pictured on the verge of a "psychotic state," has been spared giving testimony in the assault trial of Pietro Francesco Mele, Italian movie director and society playboy.

The 30-year-old Mele is accused of battling and battering policemen who tried to escort him from Mrs. Kelly's Park avenue apartment last Nov. 10.

The trial opened Wednesday with testimony by Mrs. Kelly's chauffeur and three patrolmen. The chauffeur, Gerald Kelly, said Mele had wanted to go upstairs for a good-night drink but that Mrs. Kelly said, "No." He said Mele went up anyway.

Patrolmen Duncan Christie and William Murray and Sgt. William Kelly all told of Mele's battle in the apartment and out into the street.

COP HOSPITALIZED

As a result of a kick in the groin, Christie said, he was in hospital for seven days.

The patrolmen said Mele kept fighting and kicking until, in the tussle, his head was smashed against a police car.

Dr. Louis Hausman, noted neuropsychiatrist, said in an affidavit Mrs. Kelly, a patient since February, 1953, had been getting along well until the Mele affair. Last Friday she became hysterical while discussing her subpoena with a lawyer. The state withdrew a subpoena for her appearance and rested its case.

Lt.-Col. H. C. Ritchie

Funeral services for Lt.-Col. Harold Clifton Ritchie were held Wednesday at the Salvation Army Temple before removal of the body to Toronto for burial in the Salvationists' plot in Mount Pleasant cemetery.

Commissioner William Dalziel officiated, assisted by Brig. A. Dickson and the Rev. Henry Cotton. A large group of the ministerial association were present.

Approve Referendums

WINNIPEG (CP) — Winnipeg ratepayers in twin referendums Wednesday approved a $2,000,000 extension of the city's General Hospital and a $2,000,000 loan to a non-profit company to build a new arena in the city's west end.

Both referendums were decided on a straight majority vote of property owners.

Mrs. Henrietta Long

MARMORA (ENS) — The funeral of Mrs. Henrietta Long was held Monday afternoon. The Rev. Ray Rowley of Tabernacle United church officiated at the service in the chapel of the Belleville Burial Co. funeral home and the Rev. K. J. Crawford of Marmora was in charge of the service in Zion United church, North Marmora. Burial was in Zion cemetery.

Pallbearers were all grandsons of the deceased: Harold and Cecil Arthurs, Cecil and William Long, Rayburn Wood and Bruce Ferguson.

Mrs. Long died on Saturday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. R. J. Ferguson, Cannifton Road, Belleville, after a lengthy illness. She was in her 88th year and was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. David Emburry of Madoc township.

She had been a resident of the Cannifton area for the past five years, prior to which a large portion of her life had been spent in Marmora township. Her husband, William K. Long, predeceased her in 1952.

She was a faithful member of the United Church and was an active worker in the Women's Association.

She is survived by one son, Harold, Belleville, and three daughters, Mrs. Frank Wood (Martha), Stirling; Mrs. William Arthurs (Myrtle), Belleville; and Mrs. Robert Ferguson (Keitha), Belleville. A sister, Mrs. Manley Post, Eldorado. Also surviving are 15 grandchildren and 18 great-grandchildren.

Tito Measure Opposed

BELGRADE (Reuters) — The Yugoslav upper House of Parliament Wednesday for the first time strongly opposed a government measure. Seventy-two members voted against the government after a lively debate on a measure to abolish state-subsidized holidays for workers. But the government carried its bill with 85 votes. There were five abstentions.

Charged Hotel Murder

LONDON (Reuters)—Two young men, arrested earlier in the day, were charged Wednesday night with the murder of a London hotel night porter, George Smart, 55. Kenneth Gilbert, 21, and Arthur Grant, 24, were detained for questioning by police only a mile from the Aban Court Hotel where Smart was battered to death early Tuesday.

Hope Vaccine Protect From Polio

DETROIT (AP)—Dr. Albert B. Sabin, Cincinnati virus expert, today reported big steps toward a new kind of polio vaccine which might give life-long protection.

He announced finding "tame" living polio viruses which have been used successfully in vaccine tests on monkeys.

Although still alive, these viruses are harmless "cousins" of regular polio virus, and don't cause sickness. Because they are alive, they presumably would be far more powerful in creating protective antibodies than killed viruses, such as used in the Salk vaccine. The antibodies created by living virus could last for years, even perhaps a lifetime.

Much more work is needed on this type of vaccine, Dr. Sabin, of the University of Cincinnati medical college, told the Michigan Foundation for Medical and Health Education.

ANSWERS NEEDED

Dr. Sabin expressed the opinion there are still some unanswered technical questions about the vaccine developed by Dr. Jonas E. Salk of Pittsburgh.

A main question is how effective killed viruses are in creating antibodies, and how long such antibodies last, he said.

Another is how many thousands or millions of killed viruses are needed for one vaccination. The virus for vaccines now is grown only in monkey kidney tissue, he explained, and there is a limit to its availability.

Dr. Salk is expected to report new findings on just such questions at a meeting tonight in New Orleans.

Dr. Sabin's prepared paper did not imply that the Salk vaccine is not safe.

Use Small Boats As Spotters

ROSLYN, N. Y. (AP)—Details of the first organized effort to use as aircraft spotters the hundreds of large and small vessels sailing off the United States Atlantic coast were announced today.

The United States Air Force, with co-operation from the coast guard, has successfully completed a 60-day test of a plan linking selected Atlantic coastal vessels by radio-telephone with the ground observer corps, a volunteer civilian aircraft-spotting group.

The test was announced by Brig.-Gen. James W. McCauley, commander of the 26th Air Division defence), which has headquarters in this Long island community.

TO COVER LAKES, TOO

McCauley said U. S. air defence command headquarters had indicated that plans are being made to extend the sea-going warning network to the Great Lakes within the next month.

He said that by next summer an estimated 1,000 coastal vessels will extend the eyes and ears of the aircraft warning network more than 250 miles to sea along the Atlantic coast.

The preliminary test during December and January involved 250 vessels, including pleasure craft and commercial fishermen and, in a limited area, coastal freighters.

ONTARIO BUDGET FOR REVENUE OF $353,863,000

Economic Committee Urged To Study Continuance Of High Level Employment

TORONTO (CP)—Closer integration of federal, provincial and municipal policies to ensure continuation of a high level of employment was urged today by Premier Frost of Ontario.

"On several occasions, I have urged that the economic committee, which was established at the Dominion-Provincial Conference of 1945-46, be re-appointed," the premier said in his budget address to the Ontario legislature. "This committee—a fact-finding body composed of technical advisors of the various governments — would not confine its inquiry solely to questions pertaining to the allocation of responsibilities and tax sources. It would also undertake the study of problems dealing with economic stability, income and employment, timing of captial investment and public works, and public borrowings.

"The committee would submit plans on these problems to a conference of provincial representatives or to their respective governments."

Where "rather painful" adjustments occur in several industries resulting in substantial unemployment there should be some method for enabling governments to take action in unison.

"Unfortunately the responsibility between the federal and provincial governments on unemployment matters is not clearly defined, nor have we made progress in implementing the public investment proposals discussed at the Dominion-Provincial Conference of 1945-46."

Mr. Frost said the time has "certainly come, indeed, if it has not passed" when the 1945-46 discussions should be resumed on capital investments and planning and timing grants.

"It may be necessary in the future to undertake, as stabilizing measures, a larger captial program than that upon which we are now engaged. In Canada, most of the porjects which lend themselves to timing lie within the field of provincial and municipal jurisdiction. Accordingly, a working partnership between the federal and provincial governments is necessary."

Highway Plans Call For $124,300,000

TORONTO (CP) — Ontario, entering the fifth year of a five-year plan of highway expansion, intends to spend $124,300,000 on highways during the 1954-55 fiscal year, Premier Frost said in his budget address in the legislature today.

The total included $1,000,000 for mining roads.

The estimate would leave an unexpended balance of $21,500,000 in the province's highway reserve account, which will be used as required.

"With the steady climb in motor vehicle registrations and the mounting use of our highways, we must proceed with our expanded highway program."

General estimates included: property, building, bridges, surveys —$4,293,000 compared with $3,977,974 a year ago; elimination of level crossings — $1,531,000 compared with $800,000; municipal roads—$16,035,000 compared with $13,275,000; municipal road maintenance—$18,584,000 compared with $18,412,000.

10,500 MILES IMPROVED

During the 1953-54 fiscal year the department will have completed 175 miles of resurfacing and general improvement of 10,500 miles of main highways and development roads; 340 miles of gravel roads paved with hot mix, 172 miles of roads surfaced with a light mulch pavement and 302 miles of graded roads.

A total of 203 miles of the Trans-Canada Highway, or 14 per cent of the 1,404-mile route, was now paved and complete. An additional 184 miles was under contract for grading, of which 80 per cent had been completed. Final grading contracts to finish the Ontario section between Ottawa and the Quebec border had been let.

An appendix to the budget listed proposed appropriation for 1954-55 in the various divisions as follows (estimates for the 1953-54 fiscal year in brackets)

Central southern Ontario divisions—Hamilton, Toronto and Port Hope, including the completion of the Toronto and Orillia by-passes and the bottleneck over the canal at Washago; two railway overpasses and paving and grading: $10,074,000 ($15,002,650).

Southeastern Ontario divisions—Kingston, Ottawa and Bancroft, including the completion of the Kingston and Belleville bypasses and the Alumett Island bridge; work on the Trans-Canada Highway and paving and grading: $9,758,000 ($7,275,092).

Attitude Of Confidence Helps To Maintain High Level Of Employment

TORONTO (CP) — Ontario, to meet the adjustments which will occur in various sectors of its economy, must constantly aim at flexibility and adaptability to changing conditions, Premier Frost said today in his budget address to the Ontario legislature.

"We should recognize that in a dynamic economy, adjustment in industry and employment is the normal process by which production is adapted to demand. If normal influences fail, there is a variety of measures that will be brought into play to help cushion the downward swing."

PROVINCE WILL HELP

The federal government was committed to a policy of high general level of employment and income "and the province on its part will keep the situation under review and do everything possible within its more limited financial power to maintain stability."

Decisions governing the spending of 75 per cent of the gross national product in Canada were made by private individuals.

"An attitude of confidence will therefore do more to maintain high levels of income and employment than any other single factor."

The downward trend in farm incomes and slackness in farm implement and textile industries and several other branches of industry, particularly in the electrical appliance sector "rippled the broad surface of Ontario's economic prosperity" last year. Unemployment resulted.

PICKUP EXPECTED

"Serious as these dislocations have been, general employment in this province has been more favorable than in the rest of Canada, and with the coming of spring, the normal seasonal pick-up in activity is expected to provide relief."

It was anticipated that the value of capital investment which formed 22 per cent of all private and public spending in the province, would be at least four per cent higher in 1954. Personal incomes and consumer spending continued to advance while savings, despite the inroads made by instalment and credit buying, were still at a high level.

A start on the construction of the St. Lawrence river power project and the natural gas pipeline from Alberta would create new employment opportunities. The tempo of housing construction will be sustained and probably accelerated.

TORONTO (CP) — A $27,500,000 public works program, including the construction of additions to hospitals at Hamilton, Kingston and Brockville, is planned in Ontario for the 1954-55 fiscal year.

Details of the program were given in an appendix to the budget brought down in the Ontario legislature today by Premier Frost.

The premier $27,500,000 would be spent this year in a $65,000,000 construction program to take several years.

A 500-bed unit is planned at Kingston, including an administration building, medical - surgical building, two informary buildings, new kitchen and dining building, assembly hall and a 30-bed nurses residence.

Aid To Municipal Taxpayer Must Await Tax Payments

TORONTO (CP)—Premier Frost of Ontario said today a proper revision of taxation arrangements at the federal-provincial level must be made before a satisfactory solution to the municipal problem is reached.

"I think it may fairly be said that we have been doing our best to assist the municipalities," the premier said in his budget address to the Ontario legislature. "Of course, there is a limit to what any province can do. During the last 11 years, when demands for direct provincial services have also been heavy, we have stepped up our provincial assistance seven times.

With the introduction of its new system of unconditional grants this year, the province was terminating grants for fire and police services, but the net result was an increase of $7,000,000 to the municipalities.

"The new grants . . . represent a unique attempt to provide for the equitable distribution of the burdens placed upon the municipalities through the assumption of these responsibilities."

During the coming year the province anticipated municipal grants would rise to $134,000,000, compared to $125,100,000 estimated for the current year.

Unconditional grants would total $12,000,000.

During 1953-54 municipal debentures worth $2,493,000 were purchased through the Ontario Municipal Improvement Corporation. The debentures were issued for such purposes as waterworks and sewers. Since the corporation's inception in 1950, it had purchased $17,912,000 in debentures.

Tinted Windshields Not Safe Says Toronto Doctor

TORONTO (CP)—A Toronto eye specialist says tigted windshields in automobiles are a threat to safety in night driving.

Dr. M. K. Bochner, ophthalmologist-in-chief and chief of medical staff at Mount Sinai Hospital, said Wednesday night the green-tinted glass cuts down vision at night.

For drivers who want the daytime cooling benefits of the colored windshields, Dr. Bochner, who spoke at a forum sponsored by the Ontario Medical Association and The Telegram, recommended a colored glass screen that can be shifted out of the way after dark.

Board Considers $65,000 Budget Readied By MOH

The Board of Health soon may be equipped with a fleet of automobiles to take its nurses on their various school and home calls. Wednesday, on the motion of medical health officer Dr. J. P. Wells, the board agreed to call for tenders for four new automobiles of both British and American makes.

It is not yet decided whether or not the board will purchase these automobiles, as suggested by Dr. Wells. When the tenders have been submitted, the board will make its final decision.

But some sort of decision must be made before the end of the month, board chairman J. A. Dewart declared, if the board is to take advantage of federal health grants.

Included in the tentative budget for 1954 is a $2,500 estimate for new cars. If the board buys these cars, at an approximate cost of $10,000, the cost would be three-fourths underwritten through federal health grants at the rate of 25 per cent per year. To collect this year's 25 per cent the board would have to act this month.

WASTE TIME

Nurses should not have to waste "a lot of valuable time" travelling to calls on buses, said Dr. Wells. He said that the nurses who have to use the bus are "away behind" those using the present board of health cars in work output.

There was considerable discussion of the relative merits of English and American cars. One view was that English cars have lower operating costs than American cars. The other was that American cars, generally, have a higher proportionate trade-in value. At present the board of health has one English and one American car.

There will be nine nurses on the board of health staff this year, including the supervisor, Mary E. MacIlveen, who usually makes her calls by taxi.

Bethany Ladies Plan Produce Musical Play

BETHANY (ENS)—The Women's Association of the United Church met at the home of Mrs. Earl Weatherilt on Tuesday afternoon, with Mrs. Mansell Finney presiding. The scripture lesson was read by Mrs. John White and Mrs. T. Jackson gave the lesson thoughts on "The Meaning of the Cross."

Minutes of the previous meeting and correspondence which included letters of thanks from Mrs. George Waddell, Mrs. R. W. Price and Mr. Nelson Kerr were read by the secretary, Mrs. Walter Rowland. A donation from Mrs. Josiah Jones, a former member now residing in Omemee, was received with thanks.

The resignation of Mrs. T. Malcolmson, leader of Group Five was accepted with regret, and it was left to this group to appoint their own new leader.

Plans were made to sponsor a musical play, "Happiness Ahead," produced by the United Church choir from Enniskillen.

The program was in charge of Group Three led by Mrs. T. Jackson, who gave an article on "Memories." Mrs. M. Finney gave a reading, "The Lenten Season." "In this age of hurry, bustle and noise, the need for a period of quiet thoughtfulness is more apparent than ever. The lenten season should be used for a time of spiritual rebirth."

Mrs. Herb. Coppins presented the topic, "The Way of the Cross." She said, "The power of the Christian faith and the source of Christian salvation centres in the Cross."

Following the closing exercises lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Jackson, Mrs. M. Finney and Mrs. H. Coppins.

Woman Has Rapid Rise

LONDON (Reuters)—Col. Mary Railton, 47, a corporal driver at the outbreak of the war, will become Britain's top woman soldier next September. The war office named her Wednesday night as the new director of the Women's Royal Army Corps with the rank of brigadier.

NO NEW TAXES

The budget proposed no new taxes. The tax on race-track parimutuel betting was reduced to seven per cent from eight. In a pre-budget press conference, the premier said one aim was to discourage bookmaking. The security transfer tax would be amended to exempt bonds or debentures guaranteed by the government of Canada or any of the provinces. Minor changes would be made in the succession duties act.

The highways reserve account, a fund to help pay for road-building, got the biggest share—$17,500,000 — of funds distributed in supplementary grants before closing the books on the present fiscal year. With an original appropriation of $23,000,000, the additional sum put a total of $40,500,000 into the highway fund in 1953-54.

$7,000,000 FOR HOSPITALS

The supplementary payments included $7,000,000 for general hospitals, based on a $300 grant for each bed in service last Dec. 31. The grants could be used for retirement of capital debt or for capital improvements.

Another $3,000,000 in capital grants went to universities, including $1,000,000 to the University of Toronto for extension of its dental teaching facilities. The premier said there were only five dental colleges in Canada and he hoped the Canadian government would recognize the dental health problem by contributing to the project.

Other special university capital grants were: $525,000 apiece to Queen's University and the University of Western Ontario; $250,000 apiece to Hamilton College of McMaster University and the Faculty of Medicine at the University of Ottawa; $200,000 to the Ontario College of Art; $150,000 to Carleton College at Ottawa; $100,000 to the Royal Botanical Gardens at Hamilton, associated with McMaster.

$1,000 GRANTS

There were three supplementary grants of $1,000,000 apiece: To the Ontario Cancer Foundation, bringing to $6,300,000 the province's contribution to the $9,500,000 project; to the school teachers superannuation fund; and to the superannuation fund for provincial employees. Another $350,000 was granted to the Canadian National Institute for the Blind for its rehabilitation and occupational services.

Supplementary grants were to be paid in the present fiscal year, ending March 31.

Maintenance grants of $7,271,000 were provided for universities in the coming fiscal year: University of Toronto, $4,700,000; Ontario College of Education, $470,000; Queen's and Western, $675,000 apiece, up $50,000; Hamilton College and Ottawa University's medical faculty, $225,000 apiece, up $25,000; Carleton College, $145,000, up $10,000.

HIGHWAY COST

Highway construction and maintenance costs for the new fiscal year were estimated at $124,300,000 compared with $127,200,000 in the year now ending.

An appendix to the budget set out the status of the highway reserve account, established a little more than a year ago. The fund started with appropriations of $30,000,000 in the fiscal year ending March 31, 1953, and the $40,500,000 this year brought the total to $70,500,000. Expenditures from the fund this year were estimated at $37,000,000 and the balance at next March 31 at $33,500,000. The next year's appropriation of $23,000,000 would bring the total to $56,500,000 and it was planned to spend $35,000,000 in 1954-55.

Gross ordinary expenditures of $376,465,000 in the current year outran estimates by $25,656,000. Revenue of $377,474,000 topped the estimate of a year ago by $26,994,000.

GAS, LIQUOR UP

Gasoline tax revenue of $85,000,000 and liquor profits of $42,000,000 showed the biggest gain over estimates—each up $6,000,000. Succession duties produced $19,500,000, $4,500,000 over the estimate, and $134,448,000 from the tax agreement with the Dominion was $3,448,000 over the anticipated amount of $131,000,000. The tax agreement is expected to provide $140,800,000 in the next year.

For the coming year gross ordinary expenditures were estimated at $372,623,000 and revenue at $373,162,000.

Capital spending, which reached $224,994,000 this year, was forecast at a lower level for the new year, $137,203,000.

The premier spoke with pride of Ontario's credit position, mentioning that earlier this month it sold in New York $50,000,000 in debentures for hydro-electric development at an average interest rate of 3.11 per cent—"one of the best issues any province has sold for years."

MOST SOLD IN CANADA

In his 11 years as treasurer Ontario had issued its own bonds or guaranteed bonds of the province's Hydro-Electric Commission totalling $1,651,000,000. Of the total only $285,000,000 was sold in the United States, the rest in Canada. Hydro absorbed $1,000,000,000 and more than four-fifths of the province's own borrowing was for refunding maturing bonds.

Although the province's net debt rose from $495,000,000 in 1943 to $604,100,000 in 1953, on a per capita basis it dropped from $126.71 to $123.91 and "in terms of real purchasing power the reduction was even greater."

In 11 years, the province had invested in physical assets to a value of $466,900,000 "and it is a source of great satisfaction to us that we have capitalized only 35 per cent of this investment."

In a review of economic developments, the premier said that although there were some soft spots such economic indicators as capital investment, industrial production, mining and forestry output, housing and employment had reached higher levels. Capital investment in 1953 for the first time reached an annual rate of more than $2,000,000,000 in the province.

FARM INCOME DOWN

However, there was a downward trend in farm incomes and slackness in the farm implement and textile industries and some other branches of industry. Gold mining was a matter of concern.

But "there are many strong and vigorous elements in our economy which justify an attitude of confidence." Ontario's population was growing at the rate of about 150,000 a year and had passed the 5,000,000 mark. In percentage terms, the growth was greater than in any other part of Canada. Capital investment would be higher in 1954 than in 1953.

It was hoped a start could be made this year on the St. Lawrence river power project and the natural gas pipeline from Alberta to central Canada. Both would create employment opportunities.

Division of responsibility between Dominion and provincial governments on unemployment matters was not clearly defined, the premier said, mentioning recent "painful adjustments" in several industries.

ECONOMIC COMMITTEE

He called for re-appointment of the economic committee set up at the Dominion-Provincial Conference of 1945-46 to study economic stability, income, employment, timing of capital investment, public works and public borrowings. The committee would report to a conference of provincial representatives or to their governments.

A working partnership between Dominion and provincial governments was necessary to plan to maintain high levels of income and employment.

Education continued a pressing problem. Each year, Ontario had to find school accommodation for 60,000 new students and in another five years the annual increase would be 70,000. Last year $48,000,000 was spent to add 1,610 classrooms and a still larger building program was needed. Until now, the urgent need was for accommodation in elementary schools. In another 10 years, the need would be for secondary school facilities.

Grants for health purposes this year would total $53,300,000, including the special $7,000,000 in supplementary grants to hospitals. Next year, the health appropriation would be $48,300,000.

HOUSE BUILDING

House construction hit a record clip in 1953 with 36,504 new housing units bringing the total since 1944 to more than 250,000. There was every likelihood that construction would hit another record in 1954.

In a survey of natural resources —agriculture, forestry and mining —the premier reported rapid extension of rural electrical lines. The latest survey showed that 85 per cent of rural dwellers now were supplied with electric power.

Mining enjoyed a prosperous year, except for gold, and a committee would be appointed soon to study the economics of the gold-mining industry. Base metal discoveries in the Manitouwadge area, first indicated in a provincial geologist's report 22 years ago, is "of first-rate importance."

Uranium finds in the Blind River and Haliburton areas were of exceptional interest and there had been great expansion in the Sudbury district. In the last three years $2,000,000 had been spent on mining roads and another $1,000,000 would be appropriated in the coming year.

Foresty production resumed an upward trend after a moderate decline in 1952. Additional funds were being provided for the forestry department's timber management division to be used in long-range planning.

CONSERVATION PROJECTS

Expenditures in the next year on various government conservation projects would total $16,500,000. Further plans for conservation and flood control had been prepared, involving expenditure of $52,000,000, but there was no date set for a start.

In the present fiscal year, spending on public works projects would amount to $18,000,000. The appropriation for the new year was $27,500,000. The work was part of a $65,000,000 program to be completed over a period of some years.

Ontario hydro had increased its dependable peak capacity to 3,863,900 horsepower at the end of 1953 from 1,565,400 10 years ago. In the next three years, it was estimated the total would increase another 1,600,000 horsepower to 5,500,000 through developments at Niagara Falls. The next largest source after Niagara was the St. Lawrence project of which Ontario's share would be 1,100,000 horsepower and the province was making every effort to expedite development.

Often accused of under-estimating in his budgets, the premier commented that "budgeting is at all times full of uncertainties." Changes in federal taxation, in income, in driving or drinking habits would affect revenues. "for these reasons, our estimates are made on the safe side."

BABY BORN ON PLANE—The newborn Indian baby held by a nurse in Prince Albert, Sask., hospital was born to 14-year-old Grace Bird (right) in a Saskatchewan government airways plane several thousand feet in the air midway between La Ronge and Prince Albert, 150 miles south. A nursing aide was accompanying the Indian girl to hospital when the stork beat the plane's arrival. She assisted at the birth.—(CP Photo).

Violated Parole Crown Claims

"Can I get a lawyer and fight these guys?" (probation officer John R. Twigg and Crown Attorney John Bradshaw) Daniel Greeniss asked magistrate W. R. Philip Wednesday. Greeniss, unrepresented by counsel, was contesting a charge that he had violated the parole terms of a suspended sentence given last July on three charges of theft of automotive supplies. He was remanded for sentence.

Probation officer Twigg testified that the last visit he had had from Greeniss, who was supposed to report weekly, was on January 11. He said that he had condoned parole violations allegedly made by the accused last summer, before Greeniss went to work in Toronto. When Greeniss moved back to Peterborough, to resume work as a piano tuner, Twigg testified the Toronto probation officials had advised that Greeniss had left without checking with them.

Then, said Twigg, he warned Greeniss that the terms of the parole must be observed.

Under cross-examination by Greeniss, Twigg denied that he had given any guarantee that the accused did not have to report to the parole officer until he found a job.

Greeniss called one witness, Morris McFadden, who testified that he was with Greeniss when he last reported in person to the probation officer. He testified that he overheard Twigg tell Greeniss that he need not report again until he found a job.

In his own behalf, Greeniss said that he had been looking for work, without success, in Port Hope and Cobourg. Meanwhile he is getting room and board and $20 a week for miscellaneous chores at the home of Victor Reid.

Early Start

VANCOUVER (CP)—Right now, while fire hazards are still low, is a good time for householders to begin their spring clean-ups in the garden, says fire chief Hugh Bird. Permits for outdoor rubbish fires are given free of charge.

Supper Prepared By Tasty Treaters

NORWOOD (ENS)—The Tasty Treaters met at the home of the leader, Mrs. John Knox.

The group prepared and served supper. A meat pie with biscuit top was the main dish. A garden salad with French dressing was also served, followed by ice cream and pie. Marie English was host and Audrey Gardner hostess.

The business section of the meeting was conducted by Mrs. Knox. Plans were made for Achievement Day.

Queen Appears Losing Weight

BRISBANE, Queensland (AP)—The Queen has lost weight under the Australian sun. Some people closely associated with her on her tour of the Commonwealth believe she has lost as much as seven pounds.

But officials are not worried about it. Most Australian women lose about the same amount in each summer's heat—and put it on again during the winter. Certainly the Queen looks fit and slim despite her constant round of banquets on her tour.

The Movie Column

Actress Denies Being Perfect Wife

By BOB THOMAS

She is June Allyson, who has inherited Myrna Loy's apron as the ideal spouse of the movies. Miss Loy, who was wed four times in private life, was named the perfect mate after she starred in "The Thin Man" with William Powell. It was about the first time that marriage had appeared exciting on the screen.

Now it's Miss Allyson. She appears to hove two husbands—her real mate, a former crooner named Dick Powell, and her screen hubby, James Stewart. She admits that she often sees more of Stewart than of Powell.

The Stewart-Allyson alliance began with "The Stratton Story." It was so successful that Stewart hunted for years to find another vehicle they could do together. He finally found two — "The Glenn Miller Story," which now is breaking records, and "Strategic Air Command," which is beginning production.

STRONG ON COFFEE, EGGS

When I talked to June she scoffed: "Me the perfect wife? Pooh! ar from it.

"I'm a lousy cook," she said. "The only thing I can really cook well is coffee and eggs. I learned to cook eggs in New York when I was looking for jobs. I had an old two-burner stove and the only thing I could afford was eggs.

"Oh, yes, I can also barbecue. We built a new one, and I went nuts about it. Cooked up some wonderful steaks. I would have been a whiz in pioneer times. It's too bad I can't cook indoors, too."

She added that she always forgets to order food and never has time to sew and do the little wifely chores around the house.

'HUSBANDS' MUCH ALIKE

I asked her about her two husbands, and she said they are much alike.

"I've never seen either of them blow up," she observed. "Jimmy never gets excited. Not that he never gets angry. He does. But the only way you can tell is that he gets a little deadly.

"Richard never raises his voice, either. He's the ulcer type—holds things closely to him. If he ever has to bawl someone out, he says it very nicely."

PCs Honor Drew

OTTAWA (CP)—New Progressive Conservative members of the Commons held a dinner Wednesday night in honor of party leader George Drew. The Commons Speaker, deputy Speaker and members of the parliamentary press gallery and their wives were among the guests.

Newfoundland Divorce Rate Low

OTTAWA (CP) — Newfoundland apparently has the largest proportion of happily married couples of any province, British Columbia the unhappiest.

Newfoundland last year, as in 1952, had the fewest divorces and the lowest divorce rate in Canada, the Bureau of Statistics reported Wednesday. Though the number of decrees rose to nine in 1953 from three in 1952, the rate of divorce per 100,000 population was only 2.3. In 1952, Newfoundland's rate was .8.

In British Columbia, the rate dropped to 120.2 from. 127.9 per 100,000 population but was still the highest in Canada. The number of divorces decreased by 54 or four per cent to 1,478.

Canada's divorce rate rose seven per cent to 41 per 100,000 population last year compared with 1952, though six of the 10 provinces had fewer divorces and lower rates.

Ontario accounted for 45 per cent of the national total—6,055 or 421 more than in 1952—compared with 29 per cent in 1952. B.C. accounted for 24 per cent of all divorces, three per cent less than in the preceding year.

Both the number of divorces and the rate for all Canada were considerably lower last year than in the peak year of 1947 when 8,199 decrees were granted for a rate of 65.5 per 100,000 population.

Fishing Boats Make Season's First Catch

PORT STANLEY (CP) — Tugs from the fisheries here made their first lifts of the 1954 season Tuesday and they were light.

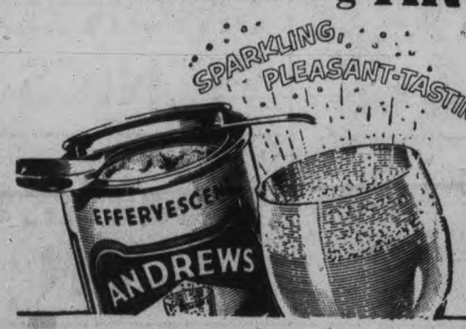
One brought in about 900 pounds of blue pickerel, white bass, a few yellow pickerel, perch and some large smelt. Two other tugs reported lifts of 400 and 300 pounds respectively.

Most gill netters are fishing 10 to 20 miles west of Port Stanley and not more than six miles out in Lake Erie, because of large ice fields in the outer waters.

Egypt, Russia Sign Trade Agreement

CAIRO (AP) — The Egyptian foreign office initialled today a trade agreement with Soviet Russia calling for an exchange of goods totalling £10,000,000 (Egyptian) yearly.

Egypt will ship mainly cotton textiles, leather products and rice if surplus.



Russia agrees to provide ?5,000,000 worth of crude oil, cereals, lumber, machinery, trucks, automobiles, medical supplies and other industrial products.

HELP WANTED—Timothy, a Sealyham, seems to be pleading for help as he sits on a New York City pier beside the baggage of his owners, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Shurthouse. A wildcat strike of longshoremen threatened to shut down the entire port. Office workers of the Cunard Line showed up early to help passengers get their baggage aboard ship and Timothy is trying to attract their attention to his plight.

Community Service Record Reviewed For Bethany WI

Plans were completed for the government short course in the Orange hall on Friday, when Miss Helen Downie of Toronto will lecture on "Cooking Shortcuts". A play "Out of This World" will be sponored by the Institute.

Mrs. Mansell Finney, convener of Group 3, had charge of the program, which featured community activities and public relations.

Mrs. Orloe Wright gave a paper on community activities, as led by the school, churches, Sunday schools, Young People's Unions, sport organizations and Women's Institute programs of social, educational and cultural nature.

She stressed that there was room for improvement in more supervised play for school-age children and teen-agers, such as Girl Guides of Boy Scouts. These could not be organized without more co-operation from the parents. A discuession followed.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

Mrs. William Mark gave a talk on the history of the Bethany Athletic Association, which was organized first in 1909 and through the years has sponsored baseball, football, softball and other sports. The athletic park is well kept up and has been added to and improved from time to time. The baseball diamond is said to be the best between Belleville and Toronto. There have been many champion teams from Bethany. This year they have taken over the community rink.

Mrs. M. Finney gave an account of the Bethany branch of the Women's Institute which was first organized in 1914. Since that time, bales of new and used clothing have been sent to Saskatchewan and Aklavik. Donations have been given each year to the Sick Children's Hospital in Toronto. Last year, a large box of toys and books was sent there.

Sunshine boxes are sent to local people in case of illness. Each member's baby is given a bank book with an initial account of $1. Bedding and clothing have been given to families made homeless by fires. Knitting and sewing were done for Red Cross work.

A piano, stage curtain and matching side drapes were donated to the town hall. In the days before the coming of Hydro, Coleman lanterns were purchased and kept in repair for street lights.

The sum of $150 was donated towards fire-fighting equipment and cisterns were built by the institute so that the water supply would be adequate for the portable pumper.

AID TO CHURCHES

Donations were given the United Church and St. Paul's Anglican church, and to the members of the Orange Lodge to assist in purchasing new shingles for the roof of their hall. A first aid kit was presented to Bethany school and $50 given towards the community rink. A new railing and walk was built at Gribble's pond as a safety measure for the children.

Donations have been given to European flood relief and Western flood relief and to the barley for Korea fund. A Junior Homemaker's club has been sponsored and these girls have had instruction in both sewing and cooking.

The latest project has been the community kitchen installed in the town hall basement. New cupboards have been built and, as finances permit, more equipment will be added.

"Truly, through the years, our records have been consistent with the motto 'For Home and Country'," Mrs. Finney said. "Working together for the common good of the community and the country at large has indeed been good for all of us. We trust the future generations will reap the benefit of much that has been done."

A St. Patrick's contest was won by Mrs. T. Jennings. Following the singing of the national anthem, lunch was served by the hostess.

PYLTONE for PILES

Mrs. H. Williams Recalls First Local Railway

HAVELOCK (ENS) — Mrs. Herbert Williams celebrated her 81st birthday Tuesday, at her residence, Ontario St., where she has lived since 1905.

The celebration was of a quiet nature, with members of her family and a number of friends who called to offer congratulations. Mrs. Williams has been in ill health for several years.

She was the recipient of many gifts as well as a large number of cards from friends and relatives living at a distance as well as here.

Mrs. Williams was formerly Effie Wilde, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Wilde. She was born on the Wilde homestead just west of what was known as Old Havelock, and has lived all her life here.

Mrs. Willlams likes to talk about the pioneer days of this district and recalled that the children of her school were given a holiday to see the the first CPR engine that came into this community. That was in 1882, ten years before Havelock was incorporated.

As long as health permitted she was an active member of the Havelock United Church, formerly Methodist, in all of its departments, having special interest in the work of the Women's Missionary Society, of which she is a life member. She is the only living charter member of the church.

As a young woman, she was Sunday school and prayer meeting organist and also a member of the choir.

Mrs. Williams has two daughters and a son, Miss Minnie Williams, Mrs. A. Russell, and Mr. Rae Williams, all of Havelock. She has five grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren. Her husband died 12 years ago.

Requests For Drains Made To Councillors

HASTINGS (ENS)—Request for a drain to be built in front of his property in order to remove the problem of water seeping into his basement was made to the village council by Dr. J. Reeves. Council on motion of Councillors J. Lynch and F. Kennedy decided to comply with the request. J. Snowell complained of similar trouble and council promised action in the near future. Ken Wellman asked for action in connection with water lying on his property.

Peron Sees 'Chutist Die

MAR DEL PLATA, argentina (Reuters)—Luis Alberto Quajardo, record-breaking South American parachutist, fell to his death Wednesday when his parachute failed to open on an exhibition jump before President Peron. Movie stars here for Argentina's first film festival watched from the balconies of a leading hotel as he crashed onto crowded Bristol beach. A woman was injured by his fall.

Former Nazi Spy Featured In Drug Trial

ROME (CP)—An official report has named the Marquis Ugo Montagna, key figure in the current "drug orgy" trial here, as a former Nazi spy believed to have organized parties at one time "to satisfy the lust of many political personalities."

But the report said it had not been possible to establish whether drug trafficking was among the many activities of Montagna as alleged by journalist Silvano Muto.

Muto, on trial here for sedition, alleged in an article that police were induced to drop investigations into the death of a girl after she had participated in an "orgy" at the marquis' hunting reserve.

Attracted by the sensation, crowds gathered at Montagna's reserve today to peer into his parkland said to have been the scene of wild drug and sex orgies. One enterprising Italian set up a soft-drink stall outside.

ORGANIZED PARTIES

The court here Wednesday heard the report, prepared by police, stating Montagna was a former agent of the Fascist secret police, a Nazi spy and an organizer of parties for United States and British officers after the liberation of Rome in 1944.

"It was believed that Montagna used to arrange parties with women of questionable morality to satisfy the lust of many political personalities of the time," it said.

Main defence witness for Muto was 23-year-old Anna Maria Caglio, who said she had been the marquis' mistress for a year.

She said she knew of no concrete evidence, but suspected the marquis of building a large post-war fortune in drugs.

SLANDER SUITS FILED

By today she was the target of 25 slander suits, brought by people cited by the defence as being connected with the marquis. Another five suits were directed at other witnesses and another dozen at various newspapers.

Premier Mario Scelba promised parliament that his government will push an inquiry into the case. His vow came during his speech in the chamber of deputies just prior to a vote of confidence on his government.

The death of Wilma Montesi, an obscure party girl, on the beach at Ostia last April, touched off the controversy.

BETTER TO HEAR YOU WITH—Silkie, a 12-year-old dog, won't have any trouble hearing his owner, Leland Winters, of Chicago, any more. The deaf dog has been fitted with a hearing aid. Veterinarian Samuel Winonkur, who fitted the gadget, looks on as Winters talks to his pet. Silkie will carry the hearing aid in a special halter clipped to his collar.

Believes "Strap" Deterrent To Hoodlums

OTTAWA (CP)—A veteran Ontario prosecutor believes that corporal punishment would be a strong deterrent to "street-corner hoodlums" who persist in minor crimes such as purse snatching, cigar-store holdups, assault, joy-riding and disorderly conduct.

However, W. B. Common, director of public prosecutions in the Ontario attorney-general's department, said Wednesday that the "strap" should be applied only when all else has failed.

Mr. Common also told the Commons-Senate committee on capital and corporal punishment and lotteries that he believes the Canadian criminal code's provisions for whipping should be retained "under certain circumstances."

Sex offenders who are psychopathic cases should not be whipped. Whipping should not be imposed in cases where imprisonment is for a lengthy period.

He suggested that the committee should consider whether corporal punishment should be imposed on "youthful offenders" who get out of prison and brag about it.

Mr. Common said offenders who were "paddled by a cop" could not live down that punishment in the eyes of their gang.

Jail And Fine For Newspaperman

VENICE (AP)—A Venice newspaper editor was sentenced Wednesday to six months in jail and a fine of 60,000 lire ($100) in a defamation suit filed by a wealthy Englishman.

The editor, Farnando Uonon, wrote about "neronian orgies" in a certain sumptuous palace with a big garden along the Venice lagoon, and described them as worthy of Sodom or Gomorrah.

David Thomas Edge of Liverpool said he only wanted one lire damages—but demanded that it be made publicly clear that no such parties ever were held at his palace on the lagoon.

Union Votes To End Five-Year Long Strike

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP)—The International Typographical Union local No. 158 has voted 23 to 19 to end its nearly five-year-long strike against Springfield Newspapers, Inc.

A spokesman for Springfield Newspapers, Inc., publishers of the Evening Leader and Press and the Morning News, had no comment on the union's action.

The newspapers have been using teletypesetters to get out their editions. Union stereotypers and pressmen did not join the strike.

Auto Workers Break Left-Wing Group

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—Left-wing leadership of local 195, United Automobile Workers' Union (CIO-CCL) was swept aside in a four-day election of committeemen and plant stewards, results of which were announced by the union Wednesday.

The union statement said a heavy vote of Chrysler workers broke a three-year grip on the local by Charles Brooks and his officers. The Chrysler unit includes most of the men in 195.

One ballot for general council contained 45 names for the 18 seats. Stewards handle complaints brought to them from the men by handing them to the committeemen for their plant who deal directly with management.

Mr. Brooks was the only member of the left-wing faction to be returned as committee man. He won by seven votes.

Strike Does Not Allow Collection Tax Rebate

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—A strike does not put a company "out of business" within the meaning of the Ontario Assessment Act, and thus does not enable the company to collect a rebate on its business tax, judge Albert J. Gordon said in a written judgment today.

The judge allowed an appeal by the City of Windsor against granting a rebate of $6,838.78, part of the 1952 business tax paid by Ford Motor Company of Canada, Ltd.

The company had claimed that strikes put it "out of business" on two occasions in 1952. The claim was allowed by a court of revision, but was dismissed today by Judge Gordon after an appeal by the city.

May Start Large-Scale Ore-Shipping Project

MONTREAL (CP) — Canada's Great Lakes fleet may start large-scale movement of northern Quebec ore to industrial centres on the Great Lakes in 1955.

A shipping company spokesman said Wednesday if current negotiations are successful, an agreement may be signed within a month between the Iron Ore Company of Canada and six Canadian lake shipping companies.

The negotiations come at a time when many of Canada's 200 lake ships face an uncertain season because of a fall-off in grain movements.

The contract would be effective next year. After the first year, the vessels would carry an average of 2,000,000 tons of ore each season.

It would give Canadian vessels a large share of the transport of Quebec ore which United States services were expected to compete for once the St. Lawrence seaway is built.

Bethany News

Mrs. Gertrude Bell, widow of Warren Bell, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Valentine Rowan of Bethany, sister of Fred Rowan, Peterborough, Mrs. David White, Millbrook, and William L. Rowan of Bethany, died in Toronto on Monday.

There was an error in Tuesday's news item, which stated the Ladies' Guild met at the home of Mrs. Ina Palmer. It was the Woman's Auxiliary of St. Paul's church.

Need Okay For War

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said Wednesday the United States will never go to war without prior Congressional approval. Eisenhower said that was his answer to a press-conference question about what the United States would do if an American technician is killed or captured in Indo-China.

HELPS ORGANIZE

Constable Don Mackay of the Peterborough city police force spoke Wednesday night to a meeting of members of the town council and Lions club of Campbellford who are organizing a safety school patrol such as Constable Mackay put into operation in Peterborough.

RESIGNS POST

The Board of Health Wednesday accepted with regret the resignation, due to illness, of Dr. H. Wright as assistant medical health officer. The board then decided to advertise for a full-time assistant, to start July 1 at a salary of $6,000.

SCHOOL FIRE

A small fire was reported in the basement of the Prince of Wales School Wednesday night, but the janitor of the school was able to put it out before any serious damage was done. Fire Chief W. D. Sorrie investigated the blaze. Only other alarm was a false alarm, turned in early this morning from the box at Charlotte and Stewart streets.

ENGAGE COUNSEL

Robert H. Carley will be counsel for the Board of Health for 1954. Included in the budget presented at the Board's monthly meeting Wednesday was $200, half as a retainer for Mr. Carley and half for legal contingencies. Mayor Graham and Ald. P. J. Anglesey both expressed the view that no retainer be paid, although MOH Dr. J. P. Wells said he would "hate to ask for free legal advice." E. A. Outram pointed out that Mr. Carley would submit a bill for all services rendered in any case.

Rural Schools Require Auditoriums

Participants from rural schools in the surrounding districts are performing today in the Kiwanis music festival. Entries were so numerous in this class, two auditoriums are being used, St. Peter's and St. Andrew's.

The morning session was made up of almost all chorus presentations, some in harmony and some in unison. There was one boys' solo-class at St. Andrew's which was won by Tom Blewitt, of SS 3, Smith-Peterborough. A boys' and/or girls' duet class was won by Marilyn Tighe and Tommy Blewitt, also of SS 3, Smith-Peterborough.

Rural presentations will continue throughout the day.

Tax Rate Settles At 49 Separate School Supporters Must Pay 56.25 Mills

Public School Levy To Be Raised By 11.05 Mills, Separate School Costs Require 20 Mills

Although the 1954 tax rate for public school supporters was set at 49 mills, as predicted, when city council passed the rating bylaw Wednesday afternoon, the rate for separate school supporters jumped to 56.25 mills.

A total of $579,699.74 was levied on an assessment of $52,462,515 for public school spending, amounting to 11.05 mills. But $130,123.30 was levied against an assessment of only $6,506,165 for separate school spending, amounting to 20 mills.

Added to the public school levy was $87,610.73 or 1.7 mills to pay for debenture service charges, making a total of 12.75 mills, which accounts for the difference of 7.25 mills between the two levies.

Total expenditures on the operation of civic departments is estimated at $1,495,961.02. With revenues from sources other than taxes, such as licences, fines, parking meters, provincial grants and rentals, estimated at $389,116.35, this leaves $1,106,844.35 to be raised from property taxes for the operation of the various city departments. This, with a 1.5 rate for garbage collections, accounts for 20.27 mills.

Other items include $96,706.99 for collegiate vocational spending and $152,726.29 for collegiate academic, which, along with $214,052.69 to Civic Hospital and $45,994.79 for relief, account for another 8.64 mills.

DEBENTURES

Debt service charges on collegiate vocational debentures are estimated at $19,459.33; collegiate academic, $58,967.68; general city debentures, $99,065.70; the city's share of local improvements, $106,141.82; Civic Hospital, $138,574.04; St. Joseph's Hospital, $10,614.18. Together, these debenture payments amount to a rate of 7.34 mills.

$96,558 FOR GARBAGE

Outstanding items of civic spending this year include an estimated $96,558.67 for garbage collections, which is levied at a special rate of 1.5 mills on an assessment of $64,372,450.

Other heavy estimates are $45,000 for the administration of justice; $292,000 for the board of works; $66,000 for charity; $207,000 for the fire department; $65,000 for health; $54,235 for light; $47,577.34 for municipal government; $55,000 in the miscellaneous fund; $72,000 for parks, playgrounds, tree trimming, rinks and landscaping; $205,266.20 for the police department; $49,200 for the public library; $43,427.57 for water (fire protection).

The largest item in the estimated receipts from sources other than property taxes is an estimated $95,680 in unconditional grants from the provincial government. Under the grant system instituted this year, these unconditional grants replace the former grants for fire and police protection.

Other major items in the estimates of revenues are $40,000 from parking meters, $31,000 in police court fines, $33,500 in rents, a $35,000 subsidy to the board of works and $23,000 in city hall rentals, as well as the $29,315.03 surplus from 1953.

Fewer Students Dropping Out Regular Classes

Young persons are staying in school this year rather than quiting in mid-term and going out to hunt jobs, J. F Dwyer, regional employment officer in Toronto for the unemployed insurance commission, said Wednesday.

He said fewer students than usual are dropping out of classes this winter. Only 12 of the commission's 73 offices in Ontario reported any vocational counselling of new workers.

FEWER OPPORTUNITIES

"The reason is, no doubt, the scarcity of job opportunities," he said.

Peterborough was one of the 12 centres where students sought guidance. Twelve young persons sought guidance there and all found jobs. However, at Stratford an official of the commission commented in his report:

"School studies are preferable to days of idleness."

J. Carruthers Named Assistant Inspector

John Carruthers will be the Board of Health's assistant sanitation inspector after he completes a nine-month training course.

The government pays $125 a month to subsidize Mr. Carruthers, $50 less than was originally expected. This is because his wife is now a wage-earner.

Board of Health estimates for 1954 include a $400 increment to Mr. Carruthers for his summer field work with the Board, to compensate for $450 which he will lose over a nine-month period.

This suggestion was deferred after Ald. P. J. Anglesey said he "couldn't go along with" spending $400 of "the taxpayers' money" in this way.

Board Of Health May Buy Cars For City Nurses

A complete revision of the Board of Health budget for 1954 has resulted in tentative estimates of $65,000 for the coming year. This report, submitted by medical health officer Dr. J. P. Wells, has yet to be ratified by the board.

Although this figure is some $8,000 over last year's estimate, Dr. Wells said that there is actually a net saving to the city of close to $13,000 as the result of a complete re-organization of classifications in the budget estimates.

Main difference in the new budget is that it combines many services previously handled through other departments, and for which the board now receives federal health grants.

This year, for example, marks the first that Board of Education and Separate School Board health estimates have been taken over by the Board of Health. The salary of the sanitation inspector is now also carried through the Board of Health, with the aid of federal health grants, rather than through the sanitation department.

The federal health arrangement is rather complicated. The department of health and welfare sets minimum health standards which must be observed by all municipalities, the cost to be borne by these municipalities. But this is only the "base-line" for health services.

CAN GET GRANT

Whatever salaries, services and expenditures the board can justify over and above this base-line are subsidized by the federal department. This means, for example, that if one medical officer is required by the department, his salary is paid by the city. But if the board justifies hiring an assistant, his salary is paid through grants.

The minimum, or base-line, said Dr. Wells, is not the standard. It is simply a base from which all municipalities are expected to operate.

Under the federal health grant scheme, Dr. Wells plans some addition to staff. Included in this plan are two additional stenographers, one full time nurse, and one part-time nurse. There will also be purchase of more office supplies, equipment and furniture.

Asked by Ald. P. J. Anglesey why some of the furniture estimates could not be included under Board of Works estimates, Dr. Wells said that this was the only way to take advantage of federal grants.

At least three items on Dr. Wells' estimates have not met with the unqualified approval of the board. One is for contingencies, amounting to something more than $2,000, yet to be debated. Another is for a proposed additional increment to health staffer John Carruthers. A third is for four new cars for the board, still an undecided issue.

Sure Sign

Practically from the beginning of the new year, The Examiner is annually informed, in one way or another, of signs of the coming of spring — robins, snow drops, pussy willows and what have you. But this one should clinch the matter. A traveller reported today that just west of Trenton he had seen a flock of crows flying north. He estimated that 4,000 passed overhead in a steady stream during a 15-minute period. "Definitely a migration," asserted the traveller, an amateur ornithologist.

Report Dysentry Source Unknown

Three cases of bacillary dysentry, the first in the city for some time, were reported in February. In his monthly report to the Board of Health, medical health officer Dr. J. P. Wells said that this outbreak was "unusual" and that the source has not yet been tracked down.

The incidence of infectious hypatitis (jaundice) also remains high. In February 19 more cases were reported. The high incidence of jaundice is also a relatively new manifestation locally. The reason for the high number of cases is not known, although the view has been expressed that the various sulfa drugs, which kill infectious viruses, might also kill those viruses which act as jaundice antibodies.

Other communicable diseases remained at a comparatively stable level. There were five cases of mumps, four of scarlet fever and 15 of chicken pox.

Total attendance at the clinics during the month was 11. One new case of tuberculosis was reported and two persons were admitted to sanitoria.

Whooping cough, diphtheria and tetanus each had 151 immunization treatments, while there were 49 smallpox vaccinations.

Since Dr. J. J. Neville, separate school physician, was on holidays, there was a falling off in the total school physical examinations during the month. In the public schools there were 332 examinations, and 61 in the separate schools.

CPR Sells Four Best-Known Lodges

CALGARY (CP)—Four of the Canadian Pacific Railway's best-known mountain lodges, Wapta, Yoho, O'Hara and Twin falls, have been purchased by Brewster-Ford Mountain Lodges Limited for an undisclosed price, it was announced Wednesday.

The camps were built by the CPR to attract tourists from eastern Canada to the Rockies. In recent years most of the guests came by automobile and the railway felt they no longer served the purpose for which they were built.

Challenges Jurisdiction Of Revision Court; Says Time Has Run Out

The Canadian General Electric Co. virtually challenged last year's re-assessment of all industrial property in the city when they appealed to the court of revision Wednesday afternoon against their $4,753,868 assessment.

Legal counsel for CGE, Fred Parkinson, QC, of Toronto, not only charged that the company was grossly over-assessed in relation to other industrial property in the city, but held that the methods used by the Charles Warnock Co. of Hamilton, who re-assessed all industrial property in Peterborough, did not conform to the requirements of the Ontario Assessment Act.

Further, Mr. Parkinson challenged the authority of the court to hear appeals on the 1953 assessment after the end of February of this year, and reserved the right to object to the court's jurisdiction in the CGE appeal.

He said the Assessment Act requires the assessment commissioner to return the roll on September 30. An extension of no more than 60 days may be granted, with the approval of the minister, and the hearings of the court of revision may be extended another 60 days as council deems necessary.

"The bylaws authorizing these extensions were never made available to us and I'm taken objection now that they weren't properly passed; I don't know whether they exist or not," Mr. Parkinson said.

The only witness to appear during the 2½-hour session, Stanley Adamson, the company's manager of accounting, said he had asked City Clerk E. A. Outram for the bylaws but Mr. Outram refused.

"Did he say why?" Chairman John Harstone asked.

"He seemed to be angry," was the answer.

"But did he give you a reason?" asked Mr. Parkinson.

"No, he didn't," Mr. Adamson said.

SETTLE IN LAW COURT

Counsel for the city, Robert Carley argued that the question of the court's jurisdiction was a legal one which would have to be checked by a court of law.

"What's the point in our spending all this time if our jurisdiction is being attacked," Mr. Harstone said.

"I'm merely reserving the right to object and ask the court to take it into consideration," Mr. Parkinson said.

"That's just the point," Mr. Harstone said but obtained the agreement of the other members of the court to continue with the hearing.

On a sheet of figures which he presented to the court as exhibits, Mr. Adamson presented a series of calculations which he had made on the basis of assessments notices, figures published by The Examiner and information obtained from Assessment Commissioner J. E. Davis.

He submitted that of the total 1952 assessment, used for 1953 taxes, the portion of industrial assessments was 21.88 per cent of the whole; commercial 20.72 per cent; residential 56.91 per cent; miscellaneous .49 per cent.

As a result of the re-assessment, the 1953 assessment for 1954 taxes on industrial property had risen to 27.23 per cent and commercial to 22.69 per cent, while the residential share of the total assessment had dropped to 50.08 per cent of the whole.

Mr. Adamson maintained that the increase of industry's share of the total assessment was not the five per cent indicated but was closer to 20 per cent in terms of the percentage increase of each class of assessment. The total residential assessment had increased approximately 28 per cent, commercial 54 per cent and industrial between 70 and 80 per cent.

Mr. Parkinson submitted that the CGE assessment had increased from $2,382,460, which was 25.67 per cent of the whole industrial assessment of the city, to $4,573,270 in 1953, which was 29.13 per cent. He charged that CGE had been "singled out of its own class."

"I wouldn't want to be understood as asquiescing in this evidence going in," Mr. Carley said. "I object to the court of revision determining whether or not a proper method was used in carrying out the assessment. It involves a question of law which is not within the competence of this court to decide."

Mr. Adamson said that he had been conversant with the assessments of the company's buildings at least since the 1930s and was asked by Mr. Parkinson to show how they had been assessed since then.

"But possibly these points are irrelevant," Mr. Parkinson said, once Mr. Adamson had begun.

"No, go ahead. I'd love to hear it," Mr. Carley said.

The properties in question were the company's main plant and the porcelain plant facing Townsend St., including an addition known as the new percelain plant, which was assessed separately.

The 1953 assessment of the main plant is $4,607,202, of the old porcelain plant, $52,570, and of the new plant, $94,270.

The most significant increase in the assessment of the main plant since 1930, Mr. Adamson said, had come in 1945. During the Second World War, CGE had transferred land to the federal department of munitions and supply for $1. The department had erected buildings which the company had bought back after the war for $1,150,000.

Increases in some years could be attributed to the erection of additions, some of which Mr. Adamson was unable to identify, but in 1952 the company had begun extensions to buildings in the centre of the plant which would cost in the neighbourhood of $1,000,000 "plus or minus 10 per cent."

Chest Campaign Hits Third Of Final Goal

Another $23,643.15 was added to the Peterborough Red Cross and Community Fund kitty Wednesday. This brings the total raised in the first three days of the two-week campaign to $37,512.65, or better than a third of the $100,000 objective.

Wednesday it was the Industrial Section which set the pace. This section added $21,530.80 to their total to bring this section up to $24,117.30 for the three days.

Special names picked up better than $1,000 to reach $8,845 while the Retail Section now stands at $1,381.50.

After a whirlwind start, the women's division is temporarily resting on its laurels. They added another $200 to bring their total to $2,403.85.

Percentage-wise, the industrial section already has 56 per cent of its objective. The women have roughly 33 per cent while special names and retail trail with just over 30 per cent and the retail with roughly 8 per cent.

Blame Crashes On Icy Streets

Icy streets were cited as a factor in four accidents reported to city police Wednesday.

On Charlotte St., near number 737, Dr. G. A. Lewis, of Weller St. W., failed to negotiate a curve. He skidded on icy pavement and struck a car parked off the road at 737. This car was owned by Phillip A. Chester of that address. Damage to the doctor's car was $75, to Chester's $60. Constable Robert Muldoon investigated.

Charles A. Garside, 39, 499 Dickson St., was stopped waiting for a light while facing east on Simcoe at George when a second car skidded into him from behind. This car was driven by Bernard Dwyer, 21, of 538 Armour Rd. Dwyer suffered $80 damage, Garside $10. The collision was investigated by Constable Dennis Smith.

Police reported that Donald W. Clarke, 46, of 748 Armour Road, was proceeding east on Charlotte St. Wednesday morning when he stopped in the line of traffic. This, the report states, caused a car driven by John Cawood, 27, of 277 Pearl St., to skid into the rear of the Clarke vehicle. Damage to Cawood's car was $40 and to the other $2.

Another accident of Charlotte St. also involved one car skidding into another. Kenneth Metcalfe, 31, of R.R. 7, Peterborough, drove a York Trading Co. truck in the rear of a vehicle driven by Kenneth Patterson, 36, of 92 Hunter St. The truck was undamaged but Patterson suffered $20 damage. The latter two accidents were both investigated by Constable D. W. Erskine.

Juvenile Crime Drops

SUDBURY (CP) — Juvenile crime in the Sudbury district dropped from a record 194 cases in 1952 to 145 last year, the annual report of juvenile court judge E. C. Facer showed today. Thefts and shop breaking were the most common offences last year.

Light Panel Truck Struck By Freight

LINDSAY (ENS)—Eric Thompson, 33, Coboconk, narrowly escaped death Wednesday night when his light panel truck was struck by a CNR freight train at a level crossing on Highway 7, just west of Manilla.

Thompson was rushed to the Ross Memorial hospital with head injuries. He suffered lacerations and undetermined head injuries, according to the hospital, but is in satisfactory condition.

Pope Will Miss Special Service

VATICAN CITY (AP) — High prelates of the Roman Catholic church prepared today for Friday services in the famed Sistine Chapel honoring the 15th anniversary of the coronation of Pope Pius XII. But for the second straight year, illness will keep the pontiff away from the ceremonies.

A solemn pontifical mass will be conducted in the chapel, and members of the diplomatic corps accredited to the Vatican will attend. Similar services marking the anniversary will be held in Roman Catholic churches throughout the world.

The Pope is recovering slowly from a gastric disorder. Last year at this time he was convalescing from a bronchial ailment.

Spring Arrives In Europe

LONDON (AP) — Spring broke through today, drawing crowds to western Europe's sidewalk cafes and melting memories of the worst winter freeze-up in years.

Strollers were out early along the boulevards of Paris, where the temperature climbed to 62 degrees at 9 a. m. A light south wind played with the frocks of pretty girls and ruffled the brighg umbrellas of cafes on the Champs Elysee.

Outdoor cafes and hotel terraces in Holland also reported business booming as warm sunshine drove away heavy morning fog. Cloudless skies covered most of West Germany, where temperatures were in the mid-50s.

Near-60-degree temperatures warmed England, and the daffodils were blossoming. Atlantic gales and fog had delayed for 20 hours the arrival of the liner Queen Elizabeth at Southampton today, but the 800 passengers came ashore in spring-like weather.

Barbara Brent's BUYS and WHYS
A WEEKLY INFORMATION SERVICE

MONTREAL, March 11th — Let's have baked beans for dinner! That's a suggestion that comes straight from a man's heart . . . particularly when he knows he'll get the succulent, baked-in-real-ovens beans that come from the Heinz tin! Try all five kinds of HEINZ OVEN-BAKED BEANS, either alone or combined with other foods like this—

All-Star Casserole

1 tbsp. butter
¼ cup chopped onion
1 can (20 ounces) Heinz Oven-Baked Beans with Pork and Tomato Sauce
½ cup sliced celery
4 to 6 slices salami

Heat butter in a frying pan; add onion and celery and fry, stirring occasionally, until vegetables are tender and golden. Cut salami slices into star shapes; cut remaining bits of salami into small pieces. Turn Heinz Beans into a casserole; add vegetable mixture and bits of salami and combine lightly. Cover and bake in a moderate oven (375 deg.) 20 minutes. Uncover casserole and arrange salami stars over beans; return to oven and bake uncovered about 10 minutes longer. Garnish with sliced stuffed olives. Makes 3 or 4 servings.

There are many delicious, economical and nourishing recipes in Heinz' Oven-Baked Bean Recipe Booklet. Write to me for your FREE COPY . . . Barbara Brent, 1411 Crescent St., Montreal.

Never Really Understood that there are two kinds of dirt that get on wood — (one is cleaned with water; the other with oil)— until I used O-CEDAR "DOUBLE-ACTION" CREAM POLISH. I think the same thing will happen to you— for you see O-Cedar Cream Polish removes both kinds of dirt—cleans and polishes at the same time! It's wonderful for furniture which is in use a lot. That's why it's called the "Cleaner-Polish" . . . really good for dark or light furniture, woodwork, porcelain and baked enamel. Won't dry white! Ask for the SPECIAL OFFER— a large economy bottle of O-Cedar Cream Polish and a velvety-soft dusting cloth — only 79c — regular value $1.04.

Let Nothing You Dismay . . . and next Christmas nothing will — not even those after-Christmas bills. For the Brents at least there won't be any! Our Christmas Savings Account at the BANK OF MONTREAL will see to that. Each year about this time, I work out how much Christmas is going to cost us. Then I divide the result by ten. That tenth part goes into the B of M each month without fail! You'd be surprised at how quickly our "Christmas Fund" grows. Before we know it, we've got quite a tidy sum set aside — and Christmas doesn't seem to sneak up on us the way it used to. So why not open your Christmas Savings account today at "MY BANK"? It's the best way I know to wish yourself a Merry Christmas.

Isn't It Silly . . . how irritable we get (and how irritable the other person gets!) when we dial a wrong number? And it's usually our own fault, because our telephone always does its part perfectly. When you hear "Sorry! You've got the wrong number" . . . it means you've made a mistake somewhere. Perhaps you were not sure of the number in the first place . . . or maybe you didn't wait for the dial tone . . . or you may have got one of the numbers twisted. That's why it's so all-important to check the number first; listen for the dial tone; and then to dial each digit carefully. Three easy steps to avoid trouble.

The Girls Came For Bridge on Tuesday—and wouldn't believe I had waxed the floors that very morning. There wasn't the whiff of any waxy odor in the house! That's because of my CHAN Paste Wax — it's "odor-refined". (Soon as you lift the lid you realize—there's practically no wax odor at all!) Chan has been so popular for so long because of its perfect blending of four different types of wax. . . . It's hard in the can—yet smooths to a cream for easy, easy application! Gives a hard surface—that wears well. Chan makes waxing a worth-while pleasure—"One sweep across—and there's your place!" (And it lasts!)

London Theatre Bringing Two Plays To City

The famous London Theatre Company will play Peterborough next week, presenting "Camille" on Wednesday and Thursday evenings in the PCVS auditorium and "Spring Model" on Friday and Saturday evenings.

By far the most sensational success in the repertoire is "Camille," which has drawn huge audiences wherever it has been played, and has driven every drama critic into ecstasies. This unforgettable story of Marguerite Gautier, who lived in Paris in the 1880's, was written by the great Alexandre Dumas, and was forever immortalised on the world's movie screen by Greta Garbo. This brilliant English production is distinguished by some of the most beautiful costumes and finest acting ever seen in Canada.

As Marguerite, lovely Hilary Vernon, one of Britain's best dramatic actresses, gives a performance so moving that it will long be remembered. This is what one Canadian critics said of her: "Hilary Vernon gave a superb performance. Her grace and golden beauty were exactly right, but it was the luminous quality of her acting — her facial expressions, gestures and grace, which made the performance live for us. It was a triumph of acting skill and sheer poetry to watch."

Six Of Family Die

LA JUNTA, Colo. (AP)—A father and five of his six children were burned to death in a fire at their home near here Wednesday. Carl Bangert, 36, rescued his oldest daughter, Wanda, 8, but died trying to save the other children. The mother was away from the house working at a restaurant.

Trains Collide, 20 Hurt

CHICAGO (AP)—More than 20 persons were injured, none seriously, when the Pensylvania Railroad's Liberty Limited and the Burlington line's Minneapolis Zephyr collided Wednesday in the Union Station's train shed. Twelve of the injured were passengers in the Limited, which was bound for Baltimore and Washington. Five of the train's porters and waiters also were hurt, as were six Burlington employees aboard the Zephyr. There were no passengers on the Zephyr, which was backing into the big station prior to an outgoing trip.

We're proud of our new arrival!

Happy new mothers will be in a mood to rejoice with us over four new additions to the famous Heinz Baby Food Family.

Singing Groups Win Praise And Criticism For Efforts

So far, so good. The second day of the Kiwanis music festival ended Wednesday evening with the PCVS band beginning the Cinderella Overture, a little off pitch, but concluding in a burst of colored rythmn.

Two renditions of Sullivan's, "O Hush Thee my Babie" were offered; one by the George St. church group, noted for its blending and tempo; the other by a Port Hope group of ladies with exceptional clarity and trueness of tone. The Peterborough Coventry Singers offered a Sussex folk tune which was light, easy, and a pleasure to hear. Their second number, "Isle of Beauty," however, was a bit on the heavy side, with the tenor section forcing at times.

The Kiwanis club choir was well tongue whipped by adjudicator Frank Odell. Their spokesman said they would render Sibelius' "Finlandia." Mr. Odell asked him why he left the "er" on the verb. Actually, both performers and the examiner were playing at seriousness — it seemed. In competition with the Junior Farmers' Choir, the Kiwanians didn't show.

IN TOP FORM

Campbellford Choralfans were in top form and the adjudicator had many complimentary things to say about the performance. Only in one section of the second number did the harmonizing voices suffer pitch default.

The three piano contestants, playing a Schumann selection, all suffered one particular fault, pointed out adjudicator Ronald Biggs. The melody line was smothered with the harmony, only surfacing at intervals. The number was difficult, requiring the utmost dexterity of fingers, particularly the fourth right one.

Probably the brightest spot of the afternoon session was the final number. Three girls, 9 or younger, seated themselves before one piano, and added " a touch of artistry" to an "Air from Orpheus" (Gluck). The three little girls were, Daura Buckley, Joan Philips, and Barbara Fitzgerald, all of Peterborough.

Liner Beaverbrae Offered For Sale

MONTREAL (CP) — Canadian Pacific Steamships' 9,035-ton liner Beaverbrae, one of the largest ships still operating under Canadian registry, is being offered for sale.

The ship has been used exclusively on the run between Bremerhaven, Germany, and St. Lawrence river or eastern Canadian coast ports and has brought thousands of immigrants to new homes in Canada.

Difficult maintenance problems, the Beaverbrae is the only diesel vessel in the CPS fleet, and high costs of operation, compared with other CPS vessels which have British registry, prompted the decision. The vessel will continue in service until she has been sold.

The Beaverbrae is the former German liner, Huascaran, and was given to the Canadian government as war reparations. The ship was subsequently taken over by CPS.

Policeman Sentenced To 3½ Years Prison

TORONTO (CP)—Terry Thomas, 25-year-old police constable who pleaded guilty to robbery in connection with the snatching of a briefcase containing $10,800 from a woman insurance company clerk Feb. 16, today was sentenced to 3½ years in penitentiary.

Two other men charged in connection with the robbery were also sentenced—Peter Mason to three years in penitentiary, and Frank Stevens, to six months in reformatory. Both men are 26 and former employees of a firm of security guards, the Barnes Investigation Agency.

Police said the wives of the three men are in England, and that the men, born in Britain, had planned to join them with the proceeds of the robbery.

Widow Locks Out 12-Month-Old Baby

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — A baby who won't be a year old for another few days, has been locked out of his home by his mother—a widow with three other children—with the claim that she can no longer look after the child.

Acting Sgt. John Ferguson, called to the Ontario street home Wednesday night, said he found the baby sitting on the verandah. The mother refused flatly to take him back into the house.

Ferguson took the child to the Children's Aid Society, where no decision has been reached concerning the disposition of the case. Fred Cristall, superintendent of the Society, said the mother had apparently "rejected" the infant.

Declare Senate Seat Be Ruled Vacant

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Republican majority of a Senate investigating committee recommended today that the seat held by Senator Dennis Chavez (Dem. N. M.) be declared vacant because of "irregularities" in the 1952 election.

The report said the election, in which Chavez was opposed by Republican candidate Patrick Hurley should be voided.

The third member of the committee, Senator T. C. Hennings (Dem. Mo.), is preparing a minority, dissenting report.

Queen-Kissing Incident Alarms Officials

BRISBANE, Australia (Reuters) Blonde Narelle Dick, the four-year-old who managed Wednesday to kiss the Queen, insisted today that the Queen kissed her too.

She said the monarch's lips touched her forehead. So today she refused to let her mother wash her face because "I want to keep the Queen's kiss there forever."

While 75,000 Australians watched dumbfounded Wednesday, Narelle slipped away from her mother, sprang into the Queen's lap and smacked the royal cheek.

LOVED QUEEN AT SIGHT

"I saw her and loved her so much I wanted to kiss her," Narelle said.

And not only did Her Majesty return her kiss, Narelle added—she also squeezed her, asked her her name and where she lived.

Her mother said she was so engrossed in watching a children's display for the Queen that she didn't notice Narelle sneak off and climb onto the royal dais.

"But the Queen is a mother herself and should understand," she said.

TOUR MANAGERS UPSET

The protocol-conscious Australian royal tour management, however, viewed the incident with alarm.

"We have taken steps," said C. J. McPherson, Queensland's royal visit executive committee chairman, "to see that it does not happen again."

"Any roamers in the Queen's vicinity will be grabbed quickly and lively—Queensland police security officers and visiting Scotland Yard men will see to that."

Today at Toowoomba the Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh were treated to wild-and-wooly dancing by almost-naked aborigines.

It was 84 in the shade as the royal pair watched the corroboree tribesmen, wearing gaily-colored loincloths, perform a primitive hunters' dance.

DANCE CENSORED

The dancers omitted certain parts of the ritual which the tribe never performs in the presence of any woman.

The dancers wore two-foot-high headdresses made of grass plaited with thin ropes of human hair and topped with white cockatoo and emu feathers, and they were daubed with red and white ochre.

While the royal pair watched the tribesmen fling their long, decorated spears in the abandon of the dance, other aborigines clapped rhythmically and native instruments crooned a weird dance melody.

Normally the dancers' feathers are plastered to their bodies by blood drawn from the dancers . . . today a sugar solution was used.

Study Approach To New Western Military Plans

By ALAN HARVEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

PARIS (CP)—Allied officers are working on a four-year "new approach" to western European military strategy, it is learned.

Study groups are trying to forecast what new weapons may be available in 1957 and what impact they will have on manpower requirements.

Officers say the survey will take four to six months to complete, and there is no suggestion its results will necessarily point to any reduction in the size of North Atlantic Treaty Organization forces.

A NATO officer explained Wednesday:

"Up to now, future planning has been strictly in terms of conventional weapons. But obviously the war of the future, if one comes is going to involve a range of new weapons such as guided missiles, atomic cannon and so on.

"The object of the survey thus is to look ahead to 1957, to see what NATO nations can expect to provide by that time, to determine how these new unconventional weapons can be integrated into the NATO defence program, and what impact they will have on such things as manpower needs."

NATO's "emergency war plans"—the instructions to military commanders in event of any sudden enemy move—remain unchanged.

The new, long-term strategy was outlined by senior officers at Supreme Headquarters Allied Powers in Europe during a visit by newspaper correspondents representing six NATO countries, including Canada.

Public Support Commentator

NEW YORK (AP)—Thousands of phone calls and telegrams poured in on the Columbia Broadcasting System today in response to a denunciation of Senator Joseph McCarthy by commentator Edward R. Murrow.

CBS officials said the reaction was overwhelmingly in favor of Murrow but that the calls were coming in too fast to total them immediately.

Murrow said on his "See It Now" program Tuesday night that McCarthy repeatedly overstepped the line between investigation and persecution.

He offered McCarthy an opportunity to reply on a later "See It Now" program.

CBS said it had not yet received any indication from McCarthy, who is in Washington, as to whether he would accept.

Murrow, a member of the CBS board of directors, used films and tape-recordings of McCarthy speeches and statements and said they showed that the senator employed half-truths as a "staple."

He accused McCarthy of confusing the public between internal and external threats of communism.

"Flying Bishop" Dies In France

MONTREAL (CP) — Most Rev. Gabriel Breynat, "Flying Bishop" of the Canadian Arctic, is dead.

The frail Roman Catholic prelate, a legendary figure in the north, died Tuesday night near Lyons, France, a spot he picked for retirement after 51 active years in the Arctic. He was 86.

He joined the order in France in 1888 and came to Canada in 1892, travelling immediately to missionary outposts in the Mackenzie district of the Northwest Territories. He was appointed Vicar Apostolic of the district in 1902 and held the post until ill health forced his retirement in 1943.

He became known as the "Flying Bishop" and "Bishop of the Winds"—names given him by Indians and Eskimos because of his extensive travels, first by dog-team and later by plane.

During one of his dog-sled treks he froze the toes on both feet and was threatened with gangrene. A brother missionary cut off the toes with a pocketknife.

Threaten Layoff 12,000 Workers

DETROIT (AP)—The Michigan Central division of the New York Central Railroad said Wednesday it will clamp freight embargoes along its routes and lay off 12,000 employees unless an unexpected settlement is made with a strike-threatening railroad union.

A strike is set for 6:30 a. m. Thursday.

A. W. Laskoske, general manager of New York Central operations in Detroit, made the decision known by letter to employees.

"We are standing pat in the unwarranted strike against us," he said.

The dispute involves the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen (Ind.) which has disputed an interpretation of working agreements. The group includes conductors, trainmen, switchmen, yardmen and other operating employees. There was no comment from the union today.

With 220,000 American and Canadian members the union is the largest of the "operating" brotherhoods.

A federal mediator said Tuesday night he was powerless to force a strike postponement.

Library Budget In Lakefield $1,700

LAKEFIELD (ENS)—The Public Library board will raise the insurance on the contents of the library to $3,000, it was decided at this week's meeting. Chairman Miss Grace Yonge presided.

A tentative budget for the year was presented by librarian, Mrs. J W. Ridpath and the village council will be asked for $1,700.

The secretary was asked to write the district high school board with reference to a grant of $100 for services to high school students and those in the outlying districts who use the library.

It was decided to send some extra books, now in the library, to Apsley and the remainder of the discarded books will be sold.

Mrs. Ridpath reported circulation for January as 1,002 boks and for February 1,076. Total fees and fines amounted to $11.62. Only 29 new books have been added so far this year, but as a large consignment was received in December there is still a wide choice of the newer books available.

She also reported that Miss Irene Madill, literature secretary of the Missionary and Service Club of the United Church has added a considerable number of books to her suggested reading list and was continuing her work again this year.

Present were Mrs. L. J. Delaney, Mrs. W. H. Fife, Mrs. K. Jakins, Reeve W. C. Grant, C. J. Davis and H. Wannamaker.

Gov't Reforms For Kenya

By RONALD BATCHELOR

NAIROBI, Kenya (Reuters)—Britain today introduced top-level reforms in the colonial government of strife-torn Kenya, bringing non-whites into the government for the first time.

Colonial secretary Oliver Lyttelton announced the move after an on-the-spot survey here which followed widespread criticism in Britain and Kenya of the old colonial set-up. The reforms call for:

1. A council of ministers of two Asians, one African and 13 white representatives. The council, an advisory body, will work closely with governor Sir Evelyn Baring, also a member.

2. A "war council" to pursue with "the utmost vigor" the war against the anti-white Mau Mau tribal guerrillas.

5,500,000 AFRICANS

Representatives of Kenya's 5,500,000 Africans objected to having only one minister in the new advisory cabinet, Lyttelton said, but representatives of the colony's 154,000 Asians and 42,000 white settlers, in general, expressed satisfaction.

The reforms will give colored persons government portfolios in British East African and central African territories for the first time in history. One Asian will be a minister of works, and another will be a minister without portfolio. The African will be minister for community development.

The reforms will go into effect immediately, Lyttelton told reporters.

Satement On Highway Probe Expected From Investigatior

TORONTO (CP)—The public accounts committee of the Ontario legislature will hear "within a day or two" a statement from the provincial auditor on alleged irregularities in the highways department Premier Frost says.

"I hope that within a day or two the provincial auditor and others will give a statement to the public accounts committee," the premier said Wednesday in an interjection during an address by opposition leader Farquhar Oliver winding up the Throne Speech debate.

"Nothing will be spared," the premier added.

BUDGET DUE TODAY

The end of the debate cleared the way for presentation of the 1954-55 budget today by Mr. Frost, also provincial treasurer.

The House voted 69 to 9 in favor of moving the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne read at the House opening Feb. 11 by Lieutenant-Governor Louis Breithaupt. The motion was made earlier in the session by Arthur Jolley (PC—Niagara Falls) and seconded by W. G. Noden (PC—Rainy River).

Mr. Oliver attacked the government's decision to turn the highways question over to the public accounts committee.

"The public accounts committee dies with this house," he said. "There is only, I suppose, three weeks or so left of this session. It will, therefore, be impossible to give the attention needed to the question if the committee sat for the whole three weeks."

Mr. Oliver said he wanted to know if the divisional engineers were instructed to "bail out contractors who bid too low." He added:

"I doubt very much that the divisional engineers and from that level down were responsible for the mess we're in. It was done by those above the engineering level . . . It is time the high brass in the department of highways should stop shouting 'thief'. . . and turn the spotlight on their own front door."

RIVER A 'SEWER'

Earlier G. T. Gordon (PC—Brantford) called the Grand river "an open sewer" and urged the government to enforce anti-pollution legislation.

E.P. Morningstar (PC—Welland) asked for elimination of level crossings, construction of high-level bridges across the Welland canal and an increase in unemployment benefits.

Premier Frost announced a new arrangement by which five experienced civil servants will act as watchdogs of the treasury. He introduced a bill to accomplish what is in effect a reorganization of the treasury department. The five men are to work all year 'round on the preparation of the annual budget, Mr. Frost said.

Pupils Admitted Too Soon To High School

LAKEFIELD —(ENS)— J. E. Stephens, principal of Lakefield District High School was guest speaker on Monday evening when the Home and School Association held their annual "High School Night."

In his address Mr. Stephens spoke on the problems of the high school of today and said he felt pupils were some times admitted from grade eight to grade nine who were not really ready for high school. This is more evident now than when there were entrance examinations.

He also explained the program for manual training and household science now being taught in grades nine and ten and which would include grades 11 and 12 next year.

An informal discussion period followed Mr. Stephens' talk and he was assisted in answering questions by Mrs. Godfrey of the English department.

The meeting opened with a devotional period conducted by the Rev. Horace Kaye and Mrs. Stanley Burger, president, conducted a short business period.

Announcements included that of the executive meeting to be held on Tuesday evening, March 16, at the home of Mrs. Donald Nichols. At the April meeting Mrs. Lloyd Raper of Peterborough will show a film "Shyness" and conduct a discussion period. At this meeting nomination forms will be given to members.

Plans were outlined for the school fair to be held in the public school on April 9 and members were asked for donations for the candy and home baking tables and the fish pond.

Murray Paterson, vice-principal of the public school, spoke briefly on the work of Junior Red Cross in the school and Mrs. M. Kingdon then drew the winning ticket for a cake made by girls of Mr. Paterson's room. The winner was Jeannie Wannamaker. Proceeds from the draw will be for the Red Cross. Mrs. Roy Farrow iced the cake with white icing and in the centre was a red cross.

Betty Jane Rath gave the speech which won the top award in the oratorical contest sponsored by the Lions Club and Edith Whetung contributed a piano solo.

Mrs. Albert O'Donnell moved a vote of thanks to those taking part in the program and refreshments were served by the mothers of high school students.

U.K. Gov't Denies Extravagance Charge

LONDON (AP)—The government has denied charges of a Labor member that the Queen's new yacht Britannia was built in a wild burst of extravagance.

J. P. L. Thomas, first lord of the admiralty, said Wednesday the opposite was true. He told the Commons that the late King George VI, the Queen and her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, had requested that "every kind of economy" be used in building the vessel.

"Quite Proper" Mutiliate Mau Maus

NAIROBI, Kenya (Reuters) — Capt. Gerald Griffiths, a British officer charged with cruelty to Africans, said at his court martial here Wednesday that he thought it "quite proper" for a Mau Mau terrorist prisoner to be led by a wire run through a hole in his ear.

Griffiths, 42, who has pleaded not guilty to charges of causing "grievous bodily harm" to Africans told the court: "These men have holes made in their ears when very, very young."

Griffiths admitted he had suggested threatening a group of Mau Mau suspects with castration when they refused to answer questions.

But he insisted "there was no intention at all to castrate them, or mutilate them in any way." He said he impressed this on his aide, 2nd Lieut. David Innes-Walker before he handed his knife to a Somali soldier, Pte. Ali Segat.

Trousers of one of the prisoners were taken down and Segat grabbed the man by the ear, holding the knife in his other hand, Griffiths testified.

"He said he would castrate the man. He said 'I will do it like this,' and cut the man's ear off, throwing it on to the ground.

"It was the quickest thing I have seen. There were three Europeans there and none of us could possibly have stopped it."

Stingray Now Tame

SYDNEY, Australia (Reuters)— The biggest stingray in captivity— 10 feet long and weighing 500 pounds—has become so tame that it now eats out of keepers' hands at Taronga Park zoo here. When first placed in the zoo several months ago, it was so vicious it frightened a 10-foot shark sharing the same pool.

Boys And Girls Solo Classes Are Adjudicated

At a certain age most boys have a change of voice — and are glad of it. Their pitch tumbles an octave or two.

Such was the case of Allan Bailey, of Blackstock, when he appeared Wednesday at the Kiwanis music festival singing "Where'er You Walk" (Handel). He had reached the point in life where high soprano notes are apt to wobble off the track, although his middle and low tones were clear and pure, and show promise in the tenor or baritone range.

The other contestant in the class, George Potton, of Toronto, still retains the intangible quality of the boy soprano in his voice. Adjudicators Ronald Biggs and Frank Odell, both of England, gave the boy 84 per cent.

Heard Wednesday morning were (a) girl's solos, 13 and under (b) boy's solos, 3 and and under (c) boy's solos, 11 and under (d) boy's solos, 9 and under and (e) choir boy's solos, 16 and under and 13 and under.

Class 68, boy's solo, 11 and under, London River (Lee): 1 Billy Potton, Toronto 84, 2 Bill Baker, Toronto 83, 3 Billy Skitch, Port Hope 78; others, Philip Brown and Brian Purdy, Port Hope.

Class 70, boy's solo, 16 and under, Where'er You Walk (Handel): 1 George Potton, Toronto 84, 2 Allan Bailey, Backstck 74.

Praises Bay Route

SASKATOON, Sask. (CP) — The Hudson Bay route is "coming into its own" for the movement of export grain, says Transport Minister Chevrier. In an address here Wednesday night, he said that in the last few years it has helped ease the pressure on shipments through other ports.

Part Of Landmark To Go

TORONTO (CP) — One of Toronto's historic landmarks is to be partly torn down because it is in danger of falling apart. Board of control decided Wednesday to call for tenders for the dismantling of the two 102-year-old wings of the original Trinity College in west-central Toronto. The wings are unoccupied.

Scelba Wins Vote

ROME (Reuters) — Premier Mario Scelba won a vote of confidence in the lower house Wednesday night by a 300-to-283 vote to ensure the continuance in office of his month-old coalition government. Scelba's 90-minute speech was interrupted by a near-riot at one point, and only a human barrier formed across the chamber floor by the ushers prevented deputies from going at each other's throats.

Why we use whole eggs in this better mayonnaise!

Ever notice that the best tasting cakes and pie fillings are the ones that use lots of eggs?

Well, we had the same idea when we developed the recipe for Hellmann's Mayonnaise. We asked ourselves, "How can we make Hellmann's the very finest tasting product for salads?" The answer was: use freshly broken whole eggs in the making!

And what a difference those whole eggs make . . . a richer flavor, a smoother texture . . just the way mayonnaise should be.

Hellmann's doesn't have the strong flavor you find in the usual salad dressings. The Hellmann's flavor is mild and friendly . . . doesn't out-taste the other good things in your salad.

This mayonnaise isn't filled with starch the way an ordinary salad dressing is. So you can mix Hellmann's with cream, fruit juice or what-have-you . . . make it go farther . . . save money!

When you taste Hellmann's, you'll realize why so many women are glad to pay a little more . . . and get a whole lot more . . . for the whole-egg mayonnaise!

French-Speaking Canadians Said Loyal Only To Canada

Crux of the misunderstanding between French and English-speaking Canadians is that the French have an undivided loyalty to Canada while the English have "one foot here and a tenuous hand over there (across the Atlantic ocean)".

That's how the difference was summed up Wednesday night by Robert M. Campbell, vice-president of the J. Walter Thompson Agency, Toronto. Mr. Thompson, an experienced advertising man, was addressing a SO-ED audience at the YMCA.

Apart from his business interests, Mr. Campbell has one major occupation: interpreting the French-Canadian to his compatriot, the English-Canadian. His address to the Peterborough audience Wednesday was "French Canada and the Canadian Nationality."

LEARN VIEWPOINT

As a qualification for his job as interpreter, Mr. Campbell said he had made a point of mixing with the French and learning their viewpoint. During the Second World War he joined a French-speaking unit in Canada and found they were willing to be led by English-speaking NCOs who had the proper psychological approach.

He denounced as scurrilous some of the criticism that emanated from Toronto during the Second World War representing the French as cowardly and zombies and unwilling to join the services. The cream of Quebec soldiery joined English-speaking regiments and did not appear as French in the enlistment statistics quoted by the Toronto press.

He referred briefly to the history of the French in Canada.

The present-day French-Canadian is of French peasant stock, he said. They were the "hewers of wood and drawers of water" —the type known to English-speaking Canadians as "hunky labor." They engaged in the fur trade and were employed as canoeists — transporting furs and goods on the inland waterways.

The voyageurs, explorers and others who first came to the New World were out to "make a killing" and then return to France— and settle down here to make a permanent home. It was the later immigrants who were the ancestors of the population today.

"These people came out from the old land to the new and put a portcullis between the old land and themselves," said Mr. Campbell. "They came out during the reign of Louis Quatorze — when France was strongly royalist and Roman Catholic."

LEFT ATTACHMENTS

Because they had divorced themselves sentimentally from the land of their birth they were not affected by the overthrow of the monarchy and the growth of anti-clericalism that followed the French Revolution. They regarded themselves (and still regard themselves) as "Les Canadiens," not people with a dual loyalty like "Les Anglais" (their term for their English-speaking compatriots).

This exclusively Canadian attitude was shown by the French-Canadian attitude to the Boer War, Mr. Campbell said.

"The French view was this: This is Canada not Britain; why should we meddle in the differences between Britain and one of her colonies?"

Mr. Campbell said that the First World War saw the expansion of the French Canadian settlements. They settled along the railways — north of the main settled region of southern Ontario—and spread to Winnipeg. In the Second World War they came into their own when there was a scarcity of war workers for industry. During this period they learned some of the skills that— as a group they previously lacked: engineering, mathematics and accountancy (all necessary for modern business).

They are no longer just servants to the North American economy, said Mr. Campbell.

Concluding, Mr. Campbell said that some people dream of an English-speaking nation from coast to coast. But he doesn't think this will happen. And, in any case, it wouldn't be a desirable thing.

In contrast to the Anglo-Saxon preoccupation with material success, the French have a contribution to make in music, culture, religious viewpoint, and a respect for the past, the speaker said. In this way they are a leavening influence in the North American way of life.

Mr. Campbell was introduced by James Fraser, manager of the chamber of commerce, and was thanked by Douglas Vaisey. Tom Cook, SO-ED president, was chairman.

Mack Sennett Re-lives Life On TV

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Mack Sennett, once Hollywood's king of comedy, took a sentimental journey into the past Wednesday night as his stars of yesteryear gathered for a reunion at his old studio.

The Canadian-born creator of the Keystone Kops and the Mack Sennett bathing beauties was the subject of the television show "this is your life."

Ralph Edwards assembled many of the old Sennett troupe for dinner and drinks at the site of the old Keystone studio, now used by a van line, and the company erected an obelisk in honor of the studio for the occasion.

The 69-year-old Sennett was taken by surprise. He was induced to attend the program by Cameron Shipp, with whom he is writing his memoirs. He was supposed to be appearing on a show called "so you want to write a book," and even a phony script was concocted.

"How am I going to live up to 'the king of comedy,'" Sennett remarked afterward, referring to his billing on the show. "I wish I had gotten more laughs."

LAUGHS AND SENTIMENT

There were many laughs and much sentiment at the after-show party. Edwards had assembled many figures from the Denville, Que., native's past, among them his boyhood sweetheart from Northampton, Mass., Mrs. Rose Clark, whom he had not seen in many decades.

Also there was Fritzi Scheff, star of "Mademoiselle Modiste," in which Sennett played as a chorus boy 50 years ago.

The dwindling ranks of the Keystone Kops included Hank Mann, Chester and Heinie Conklin and Andy Clyde. Other Sennett stars present included Sally Eilers, Phyllis Haver, Louise Fazenda, Jack Mulhall, Franklin Pangborn, Minta Durfee Arbuckle and Alberta Vaughn.

Harold Lloyd was there, and recalled working three or four months as a juvenile for Sennett at $50 a week before moving on to greater fame. Sennett, who also started such stars as Charlie Chaplin, Bing Crosby, W. C. Fields, Carole Lombard and Gloria Swanson, has been in semi-retirement since 1935. He leads an active life, though, remaining in touch with the show world and playing golf daily.

The only disappointment of the evening was dessert. Custard pie was not served.

END OF A RED NIGHTMARE — Exhausted by a long journey, a small boy and girl, comforted by an old woman, fall asleep aboard a tranpsort crossing the Austro-Hungarian border. About 1,272 Greek hostages, taken by the Communists during the Greek civil war in 1947 and 1948, were aboard. They were living in Hungarian concentration camps until the Red Cross obtained their release. It was reported that the transport had to detour through Austria and Italy because Hungarian authorities refused to release the Greek returnees to Yugoslav authorities.

Fewer Honkers

VANCOUVER (CP)—City motorists are not blowing their horns unnecessarily as much as they used to do, the traffic commission was told by alderman Birt Showler. He said people are realizing that it they wait for traffic signals they get along faster.

Had Long Run

ROTHERHAM, England (CP)—The animal shelter at this Yorkshire town has disposed of its 24-year-old cat Dinah. She was believed the oldest cat in England.

Prospectors' Convention Differs From Most Business Meetings

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

The annual convention of the Prospectors and Developers Association, held in Toronto this week, is different from most conventions.

Most national business gatherings, for instance, discuss things which, while of vital interest to the delegates, are not usually tied up with the next 24 hours.

The prospectors, however, are discussing their life tomorrow. They will argue all night about whether the law should call for one or four stakes as an inside post on a claim, because putting in those stakes is work in the wilderness.

They let out a cry of anguish at an out-of-date map under which they may have staked incorrectly. Said one:

"Do you know what it is to travel 50 or 60 miles through the bush, only to be told to do it again? My God, do I have to go back through that snow because a map was wrong?"

They are probably the best of delegates for faithful attendance at sessions. Because that long address, heavy with scientific and mining terms, and that map which looks like nothing-at-all to the layman, may be the way to tomorrow's fortune.

RESENTS 'GADGETS'

The old-time prospector is in a minority at such gatherings and sometimes he resents the modern gadgets which seem to be taking over his way of life, or making him an employee rather than an independent roamer.

Yet, if armed with pick and packsack, he does strike it rich, he may owe it to modest-salaried survey men who made up a map whose secrets he was able to read.

A university professor, with a yen to show men what to look for, has sometimes shown the way to wealth for those he taught.

Prospecting today, one may judge, is a vast co-operative effort in which science joins with work-a-day men and women, and the cold and sweat of the man in the wilderness.

Springville WA Plans Agriculture Banquet

SPRINGVILLE (ENS) — The World Day of Prayer service was held at the home of Mrs. B. Preston, with 17 in attendance.

A short business period was transacted for the WA at the beginning of the service. Committees were appointed for the Fedaration of Agriculture banquet which will take place sometime in March in the basement of the church.

A "thank you" card was read from Mrs. A. Stevens who has been a patient in hospital. Mrs. George Dew expressed her thanks for letters of sympathy received.

The Day of Prayer service was followed with the following ladies leading in prayer: Mrs. W. Bowles, Mrs. P. Johnson, Mrs. Cook, Mrs. D. Cathcart, Mrs. B. Preston, Mrs. A. Larke.

Mrs. L. Whittington gave an address on the theme, "That they might have life." Mrs. Larke sang "Fling Out the Banner." The offering was accepted and dedicated. The benediction closed the meeting.

Danger Signal

WINNIPEG (CP)—A live shell 8½ inches long was discovered by a city workman in a pile of refuse. E. A. Wood, street-cleaning superintendent, said various shells "and plenty of bullets" have gone into the incinerator and exploded in past years. One workman was injured recently.

RECIPES FOR MEATLESS MENUS

By Elsie the Borden Cow

CHATEAU-AND-EGG-GRILL

Just centre a poached egg on hot toast, top the egg with slices of Borden's Chateau. Then pop under the grill until the Chateau melts. If this doesn't cause a sensation at mealtime, nothing will! The mellow-mild flavor of Borden's Chateau Cheese makes a terrific hit with children and men alike. Chateau is so versatile for meatless dishes. See what a difference it makes with macaroni, with rice-and-tomato. Keep a good supply on hand all the time.

BAUMERT CHEESE PARTY

Here's how to prepare an oh-so-tasty party snack your guests will really go for. Leave 4 pkgs. Borden's fresh-tasting, creamy Baumert Cheese at room temperature for an hour to soften. Then add ½ cup milk, ¼ tsp. salt, 1 tbsp. salad dressing, ½ tsp. onion juice, ½ tsp. mustard and beat until smooth. Serve on tray surrounded by potato chips or crackers. Ask your guests to "dip in"—and watch it disappear!

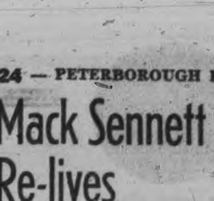
LUNCHES ON THE DOUBLE

With double-length Borden Cheese Slices. If your man carries his lunch to work, he'll love you if you use Borden's Cheese Slices in his sandwiches. They have that mellow-mild zip that men go for. And those double-length slices mean fresher flavor in every slice. You see, you usually don't use the whole package for one lunch, so you just cut the package in half, across. Use half, and the remainder stays wrapped and fresh till you need it. And always remember—it's easier to separate King-size Borden Cheese Slices from the cut edges.

IF GUESTS DROP IN:

It's like waving a magic wand the way you can come up with a snack for surprise visitors . . . if you keep Borden's Elsie Roll on hand. It slices into circles just the size for those dandy round crackers. Try Elsie Roll with salads too, and with apple pie.

SOUPED-UP SOUP



You can add extra zest to soup by sprinkling on a little Borden's Grated Cheese. A natural for spaghetti! Keeps for weeks in its handy canister.

Toronto Couple Cared For 500 Babies In 13 Years

TORONTO (CP)—Toronto's top foster mother, Mrs. Frank Mitchell, has cared for 500 babies in the last 13 years.

She doesn't run a nursery school or an infants' home. She and her husband, with part-time assistance of her married daughter Lois, look after as many as five babies at a time for the Children's Aid Society.

Most of the babies are foundlings or illegitimate wards of the society. They come to her home for care until they are ready for adoption. After about three months the baby is ready for a new home with a family that's been on the waiting list.

Mrs. Mitchell is one of three foster mothers in the Toronto area who have gone over the 500-mark in babies, the society says.

Her own daughter was seven when she and her husband decided to adopt a baby son. Inquiry showed they might have to wait as long as two years, but the Children's Aid Society asked them if they would consider looking after a baby on a temporary basis.

The first infant arrived amid rejoicing, but was adopted a month later by a couple who had priority on the list. To lighten the gloom, they took another baby, and they've been taking them ever since.

Mrs. Mitchell has looked after children of all races, sometimes as many as six at once with a con-

Name Commemorates

A social evening was held at the Auburn school on Tuesday with parents of the district attending. Name chosen for this new club is Auburn School Century Club, to commemorate the 100th birthday of the school. Bingo was played and the prizes went to Mrs. A. Brotherstone, Mrs. R. Hewitt, Mrs. C. N. Downer and Mr. S. Exell. The door prize went to Mrs. C. R. Smart and Mrs. C. A. Hough. At the next meeting, on Thursday, April 9th, there will be euchre and crokinole games. Lunch was served by Mrs. K. P. Sheeran, Mrs. A. Windsor, Mrs. C. Covert and Mrs. Hough.

Address By Request

Ven. Archdeacon C. W. Balfour gave by request an address on the Virgin Mary at the meeting of Afternoon Branch of All Saints' WA on Tuesday. He was thanked by Mrs. Q. C. Woods. Mrs. Howard Clark opened the devotional period with hymn and prayer. Litany was taken by Mrs. P. Hughes and Bible reading by Mrs. C. Thackeray. The sum of $10 was voted to be sent to Ingles House, Toronto, a home for girls, and $15 to the St. Faith Mission, Swan River, Manitoba. The Peterborough Examiner is to be sent as a remembrance to Mrs. Sarah Williams, a former member now in St. John, New Brunswick. Next Tuesday there will be a shower in the WA room for an unfortunate family. Mrs. J. Garroll volunteered as social convener for April. Lunch was served during a social period by Mrs. A. Acreman and assistants.

WMS Group Meeting

Meeting of Group 8 of the Georeg Street church WMS was held on Wednesday with leader Mrs. A. Roseborough in charge. The lesson was taken by Mrs. Cliff Hurle and a temperance message given by Mrs. Joseph Stenton. Miss Wilma Telford gave a synopsis of the study book chapter. A solo "Down from his glory" was rendered by Mrs. Len Slaughter who also recited a poem "From darkness to dawn." Scripture was read by Mrs. Ray Hetherington and Miss Ila Sayers led in prayed. Mrs. E. H. Brown was guest speaker and picked as her topic "The way of the spirit." Refreshments were served by Miss Ethel Butcher and her committee and a vote of thanks was moved at the close by Miss Ethel Robson.

Remember Missionary

Nettie McKenzie Misson band bi-monthly meeting Wednesday at Knox United Church was attended by 26 members and three visitors. It was regretted that some members have now joined activities at the Y and could not attend. Missionary remembered in the prayers was Dr. Florence Murray whose work in Seoul, Korea, is told in a letter in the Missionary Monthly. Reminder was given of the Thankoffering meeting to be held April 21st, when the children can invite their mothers. Wallace McCracken and Suzanne Scott acted as work and worship twins. Entries in the work and worship books were made with Mrs. D. Richardson supervising. Mrs. C. Ross led a worship service on Peace with Mrs. H. G. Dougles assisting at the piano. It was announced that money collected in the thank-offering envelopes is to be used for vacation Bible Schools in Canada. Linda and Louise Mahood were appointed to the work and worship twins for March 25th.

To Have Bake Sale

Business and devotional meeting of the Afternoon Branch of St. Luke's WA was held Tuesday, with president Mrs. D. H. Wyatt in the chair.

As an introduction to the study book on Africa, Mrs. W. J. Gilling told of her home in Rhodesia, 25 years ago. She described the homes, gardens, servants, climate and customs, using a map and photographs to give a vivid picture, and this set the background for further study. An invitation from the Evening Branch of the WA invited the Afternoon Branch to their meeting on April 9th to view slides on the study book. A letter from the matron of the Old Sun Indian Residential School at Gleichen, Alta. was read. It thanked the branch for the bale of boys' clothing received last year. Mrs. Gilling, reporting for the JA announced a further increase in membership. She asked for donations of materials for making stuffed animals, and of old nylon stockings which could be cut up for stuffing, thus making the toys easily washable. Mrs. Wyatt spoke about the work of the Associates of the Anglican Women's Training College, and suggested a shower for the college be considered at some later date.

It was decided to have a bake sale on Saturday, March 20 at the Metropolitan store, both morning and afternoon. Mrs. Wyatt, Mrs. M. Burnham and Mrs. G. R. Langley are the convenors. Donations of baking will be collected by Mrs. J. J. Turner and Mrs. R. Krant.

Installs New Officers

The Mother's Auxiliary of 9th Parkhill Cubs and Scouts, Guides and Brownies met at Dixon House Wednesday evening. Past president Mrs. H. Reynolds took the chair and called the meeting to order with the Auxiliary prayer. She introduced Mr. Gordon Hunt of the Kiwanis Club who spoke in greeting from the club which sponsors the 9th Parkhill boys and girls. He then installed the following new officers: president Mrs. A. Crowder; vice-president Mrs. P. Gould; Guide treasurer, Mrs. J. McGovarin; Guide secretary, Mrs. H. Cockerill; Scout treasurer, Mrs. A. Clark. Mrs. Crowder afterward completed her committees; lunch convener, Mrs. Strode; telephone Mrs. A. Bradley, Mrs. J. Madden, and Mrs. H. Lintlop; sunshine convener, Mrs. L. White; press secretary, Mrs. G. Primeau. Mrs. K. Whatley mentioned the need for more neckerchiefs for the scouts and Mrs. D. Hillier was appointed to purchase material for them. The lunch committee included Mrs. McGovarin, Mrs. D. Hillier and Mrs. Whatley.

Nurses Serve 200 At Annual Tea

The annual St. Patrick's tea and bazaar of the student nurses of the Civic Hospital School of Nursing was held Wednesday evening in the nurses' residence. About 200 guests were welcomed by the director of nursing, Miss Evelyn Robson.

A pretty tea table centred with spring flowers and candles was presided over by Miss Ella Reid, and Miss Cornelia Wilson, Mrs. M. J. Swanston and Mrs. John Hornal, Mrs. Gordon Wainwright and Mrs. W. T. Fanjoy, Miss Margaret McIntyre and Mrs. Mary Landyke, in turn. These ladies were representatives of the teaching and administrative staff, the Board of Governors, the Nurses' Alumnae and the Women's Auxiliary to the hospital.

Miss Jacqueline Tyndall was convener of this event and students from each class assisted in the tea room and on bazaar tables.

Major draw prize was a woollen blanket and this was won by Dr. H. G. Carleton. A cake was won by Mrs. Fanjoy.

Brown-Monks

The wedding of Joan Anne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Noel Monks, to Grant Kenneth Brown, son of Mr. Wm. Brown and the late Mrs. Brown, all of Peterborough, took place Saturday afternoon at St. James' United church.

The bride was wearing a navy taffeta dress trimmed with white angora, white hat and gloves and navy shoes, and she carried a nosegay of carnations, 'mums and roses. Bridesmaid Miss Gwendolyn Brown was dressed in slate blue taffeta and wore a tangerine shade hat and black accessories and carried a nosegay of white 'mums and blue carnations.

A small reception for the immediate family was then held in the church parlor. Afterward the couple left on a short honeymoon trip, the bride going away in a navy suit with beige topcoat and white and navy accessories.

They will live at 327 Downie street.

Sorority News

BETA SIGMA PHI

Mrs. William Gray presided for the joint meeting of Alpha Theta and XI Iota Chapters of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, held at the home of Miss Marilyn Hollingsworth on the Chemong Road this week.

Mrs. Clair Sullivan gave out telephone lists for the fothcoming concert by Mario Braggiotti which the Sorority is sponsoring in aid of the association for Retarded Children. Miss Mary Clifford advised the advertising schedule she had rawn up for this. Miss Shiela Briggs took charge of securing advertising for the programs.

Nominating committees were formed and will be Miss Hollingsworth, Miss Barbara Lawrie and Mrs. Maybelle Mutton for Alpha Theta, and Mrs. Sullivan, Mrs. J. Hiland and Miss Muriel Adams for XI Iota.

Convener Miss Clifford took the chair for the program. First speaker was Miss Briggs, who was introduced by Mrs. G. Matthews. She gave a very interesting talk on "Dress and Morals."

Refreshments were served by the hostess and social committee members, Mrs. Matthews, Mrs. Lance Foord and Mrs. Mutton.

McLean, Mrs. Jane Anderson, Mrs. Vera Howson and Mr. and Mrs. George Moore. They were honored and presented with corsages and boutonniere by junior past matron Mrs. A. Newton.

Past matrons and past patrons were Mrs. Florence Beggs, Mrs. Elizabeth Rowe, Mrs. Sarah Dayman, Mrs. Annie Melrose, Mrs. Evelyn Hutton, Mrs. Annabelle Joselyn, Mrs. Nellie Beatty, Mrs. Jessie Spenceley, Mrs. Mabel Hendry, Mrs. Marie Green, Mrs. Agnes Munro, Mrs. Madola Windrem, Mrs. Eva Ward, Mrs. Beatrice Newton and Messrs Robert Hendry, Walter Terrace and Orville Kidd, were welcomed by Associate matron Mrs. Esther Smith, and presented with corsages and boutonniers by conductress Mrs. Ethel Johnston and associate conductress Mrs. Jean Keating.

Suitable music was supplied by a choir comprised of members under the leadership of Mrs. Dorothy Watkins, and solos were sung by Mrs. Jessie Spencely.

Guests of honor present were WGG Mrs. Alice Gooch from Strathroy, WGP Mr. Ernest Burgess from Toronto, AGC Mrs. Edna Anderson from Bowmanville, Grand Ada Mrs. May Goodhouse from Ottawa, Grand Ruth Mrs. Elva Green from Byron, Grand Esther Mrs. Peggy Shillington from Blenhiem, Grand Electa Mrs. Myrel Shadlock from Agincourt, Grand Warder Mrs. Evelyn Hadley from Trenton, Mrs. Mabel Mackereth, PGM and member of the Temple Board of the general Grand Chapter, from Toronto, DDGM Mrs. Edna Dobbs from Belleville.

Peterborough Chapter was well represented by its own members and guests were present from Cobourg, Belleville, Lindsay, Port Hope, Bowmanville and Marmora.

Refreshments were served by the lunch committee with Mrs. W. Terrace, Mrs. B. Jones and Mrs. M. Sanders in charge.

St. John's Girls Visit City Hall

As part of their educational training, the Girls' Auxiliary of St. John's Anglican church visited the city hall after their meeting Tuesday. Mayor Norman Graham showed the girls and their leader, Mrs. W. C. Boate, throughout the building, explaining each department thoroughly. In the mayor's office he displayed the scroll presented to the city by the mayor of Peterborough, England, and in the council chamber the impressive carved coat of arms.

The girls were much impressed to learn that Peterborough is one of the few cities in Canada with an authentic coat of arms devised and granted by the College of Heralds in London, England, and considered one of the finest in Canada.

The mayor was besieged with questions about the assessment department, the board of education administration and functions of the city council. He was thanked for his time and patience in answering in detail by Mrs. Boate.

Arrangements have been made for the group to visit the county court house next week.

Plans were made to hold a rummage sale the end of March, with Rosemary Deyell and Mary Sutton the conveners. Proceeds will be sent to the Diocese of Caledonia. Beverley Farrance gave a report on the home baking sale held recently to raise money for sheets for the mission ship Northern Star.

GA members were advised that they must wear their uniforms correctly and neatly. They are navy or black skirts with plain white blouse in shirt style with long sleeves, blue ties with the narrow end out of sight, and blue beanies. To complete their uniforms, the girls will make their beanies at the next meeting.

The leader announced that the Afternoon Branch of the WA is offering a scholarship to the GA member who does the most to promote the GA. This scholarship will enable a girl to attend Camp Couchiching this summer.

Arrangements to attend the annual Diocesan GA Festival at St. John's Church (Norway), Toronto, on April 24th were made.

Mr. & Mrs. D. Dines Celebrate 50th Anniversary

COLDSPRINGS (ENS) — Mr. and Mrs. David Dines, lifelong residents of Coldsprings district, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary on Tuesday, March 9th, and were "at home" to 125 friends and relatives at the home of their nephew, Mr. Douglas Gibson, and Mrs. Gibson in Cobourg.

Mrs. Dines is the former Christina Crossen, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jackson Crossen, and her husband was the second son of the late Mr. and Mrs. David Dines, all of Hamilton township.

Their marriage at the bride's home in 1904 was performed by the Rev. Albert Margaret of the Cobourg Congregational church, and it was recalled that it was a bright but very cold day and the minister had to walk two miles from Coldsprings.

Attendants were Hannah Dines, sister of the groom, and William Crossen, brother of the bride, who are now married and were present for the celebration. They will observe their own golden wedding anniversary on May 31st.

It is interesting to note that seven couples of this section of Hamilton township will celebrate golden wedding anniversaries within the year. The others are Mr. and Mrs. T. F. McBride and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ford of Coldsprings, Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Anes and Mr and Mrs. Wm. Arnold of Gore's Landing, and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Harper of Camborne.

Mr. and Mrs. Dines took up farming on the Dines homestead after their marriage and continued until 1928 when they retired and moved to the village of Camborne where they now live. They are members of St. Paul's church at Coldsprings, where Mr. Dines has been an elder for any years and his wife a faithful member of the WMS.

For the reception the rooms were decorated with carnations, roses and daffodils, gifts to the couple on this occasion. The tea table was lace-covered and centred with a three-tier cake.

Pouring tea were Mrs. Wm. Dines and a niece, Mrs. Ewart King and the servers were Mrs. Melville Dines, Mrs. J. Dougherty and Mrs. Fred Lang.

Many gifts, including a trilight floor lamp, a mantel clock, a table lamp, an electric pad, cups and saucers, more than 150 greeting cards, including a message from the Hon. W. A. Goodfellow, minister of welfare, and the seal of congratulations from the Province of Ontario, were received. Flowers were wired from Winnipeg by a brother, Mrs. Wilbert Dines.

MAY'S SCHOOL

Open school was held by May's Home and School Association Tuesday evening. President Mrs. P. Dyer received parents at the door.

Teachers and room mothers on duty to discuss pupil's work and problems were: kindergarten teacher Mrs. J. Grills with Mrs. W. McKinley; grade 1 teacher Miss D. Ferrier grade 2 teacher Mrs. P. Bosnell with Mrs. D. Acreman; grade 3 teacher Miss L. Kidd; grades 4 and 5 teacher Mr. G. Ball with Mrs. O. Wells.

Tea and do-nuts were served by Mrs. O. Weese and Mrs. W. Bugg.

PRINCE OF WALES SCHOOL

"Open school" drew a large crowd of interested parents to Prince of Wales school Tuesday evening. Teachers were in their classrooms from 7.30 to 9.30 p.m., giving parents the opportunity to discuss school problems concerning their children.

Mrs. J. Morley, nominations convener, and her committee distributed nomination forms in the entrance halls of both schools.

Refreshments were served throughout the evening by the social committee.

PARKHILL SCHOOL

The parkhill Home and School Association held a very successful open house Tuesday evening. President Mrs. R. Parnell and vice-president Mrs. F. Barker greeted the many parents as they came to view a fine display of the children's work.

Assisting the teachers in receieving in the classroom were room mothers, Mrs. H. Lemon and Mrs. J. Lee for Miss Bailey's room, Mrs. J. Quigley and Mrs. G. Holmedell for Mrs. C. Osborne's room, Mrs. V. Bruce and Mrs. H. Griffin for Miss Goheen, and Mrs. W. Wiseman, Mrs. V. Ferguson and Mrs. Macdougall for Miss J. Adams' room.

A dainty tea table centred with daffodils and matching yellow candles was set up in the hall and parents were served by Mrs. B. Goulding, assisted by Mrs. J. Howard, Mrs. E. Burnham, Mrs. W. Griffin, Mrs. G. Morrow and Mrs. E. Johnston. Mrs. B. Holloway poured tea.

Mrs. Parnell presided over a short business meeting afterward and Mrs. M. Belch led a devotional service.

Tea convener Mrs. A. Fort announced final plans for the fifth anniversary tea on April 7th. It was decided to send Mrs. Parnell and Mrs. Goulding as delegates to the April convention in Toronto. Nomination forms were distributed to members.

KING GEORGE SCHOOL

"Fathers' Night" of King George Home and School Association drew a large crowd of members and friends to St. Luke's parish hall where this meeting was held Tuesday night. Welcome was extended at the door by president Mrs. Hugh Morrison and after conducting a very brief business period she turned the program over to Mr. Victor Coleman.

Several contests followed, perhaps the most amusing being the "boxing match." Contestants wearing boxing gloves and each provided with a hammer, nails and pieces of wood, had to construct a box. The winner was principal Mr. C. D. Munro.

JEANETTE SCOTT CHAPTER

A $50 scholardship is being donated for the Kiwanis Music Festival, now going on in the city, it was announced at the meeting of Jeanette Scott Chapter on Tuesday evening, as treasurer Mrs. P. LaBranche presented the 1954 budget.

Regent Mrs. Andy Rutter, who presided, extended her personal thanks to all members for their hard work in connection with the fashion show last week, which was so pleasingly successful. A full report on the show was given by the convener Mrs. K. Wilson.

Mrs. M. Knox, reporting on services at home and abroad, said that clothing for the chapter's adopted family will be sent next month.

Miss Mary Medd, convener of Empire and World Affairs read a paper titled "Beware the trend," and also gave a short talk on the Canadian Association of Consumers.

Mrs. A. E. Sayers is the new convener of the party to be given Monday evening, March 15th, for the graduating class of New Canadians at PCVS. Chapter members and their husbands are invited to attend.

Mrs. LaBranche and Mrs. D. Clarke were appointed to represent the chapter at the Provincial Chapter annual meeting in Hamilton in April.

The meeting was held in the YWCA and a social half hour followed the adjournment.

Canadian Designs Needed Dr. Gaitskell Tells Guild

A remark that hit where it hurts most was made by Dr. Charles D. Gaitskell in speaking Wednesday evening to Handcraft Guild members and guests, on the elements of design — line, space, color and mass — with reference to good and bad design in daily use.

"Look at some of the streets in Peterborough critically" he said, after having described the architecture of his own Toronto as "a slum from end to end." The doctor suggested that local citizens think about what could be done with their city, and to think also about what was done with it several generations ago.

Then, the design was fitted to the horse and buggy times, but he felt it was not now adapted to the automobile era. For instance, Dr. Gaitskell said, he had been unable to see a downtown stop light last night, because of an overhanging sign obstructing his vision.

He described the architectural picture the country over as "a sort of solidified chaos of design developed by having no plan."

Then he turned to the modern automobile. "Not one is designed by a Canadian. They all have tinsel tacked onto them and look like Christmas trees." The art director for the Ontario Department of Education feels that there is "something all wrong and something anti-Canadian" about the design of these cars. He mentioned also a table lighter that is in the shape of an Aladdin's lamp.

"There is nothing to do with us in these design" Dr. Gaitskell declared. "Surely Canadians are getting on enough to be able to make something for themselves." His solution is that "if enough people think about this situation, perhaps we can get started on something in Canadian design."

MUST STRUGGLE

"Good design comes from a terrific struggle" he went on. "It is never the result of an accident. All your thought, intellect and emotions must be given to producing a good design." He also lamented that there isn't even a standard vocabularly concerning design.

"There are no limitations to thought" Dr. Gaitskell stated. "All human beings have the ability to turn out something which is new." He told the handcraft workers that a lot of background work in design should be done before attempting any piece of handcraft. He showed random examples of paper and plaster sculpture that aid in developing design technique.

His own opinion is that color is not nearly so important as the other elements to good design. He believes that line and texture must be right first.

Three principles of design he outlined were: use of the elements to arrive at a visual unity; when dealing with qualities, keeping these qualities and not faking them as something else, (examples: pillars of wood that look like marble and plastic table tops that look like linen); making the design suitable to its purpose, (Don't use a pattern from a book —you're cheating yourself).

Interesting sidelines of this address were quotations of various important people about architectural design in the world, and stories about the development of the summer art course for school teachers of which Dr. Gaitskell is director.

Introduction of this speaker was made by Mrs. James Wharry and he was thanked by Mr. Ken Robinson.

Guild president Mrs. E. R. Frost opened the meeting in Queen Mary auditorium. She called upon Mr. Wil. Langan, member of the Recreation Commission of Peterobrough, to outline its purpose.

"Recreation can satisfy three of the major psychological needs of the human being" quoted Mr. Langan. These needs are: urge of competition; need to create; need to relax. "Recreation is the enjoyable, satisfying use of leisure time, and that is our aim for the citizens of Peterborough."

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Cheese Can Take Place Of Meals

There are a great many families among our readers who are observing Lent. There are also a large number of cooks who crave variety to spice up their meals (I'm one). There are hundreds who implore me to keep my recipes within their budget-range.

For once I can please everybody, for cheese takes the place of meat adequately; is the joy of the imaginative cook with all its variations and may be bought for as little as 35 cents per pound.

My paternal grandmother used to make what she called cheese dish. When I reached cooking-school age I discovered cheese fondue was the same thing.

Made properly — as of course all you faithful folk make everything — it is a piece de resistance, and what's more fits into all of the categories mentioned above—Lent, change-cravers, slim budgets.

GRANDMA'S CHEESE FONDUE

Cut white bread into 2-3-inch cubes and measure 3 cups. Grate old cheese and measure 1½ cups and put these in alternate layers in buttered baking dish. Beat 3 eggs a little and to them add 3 cups hot milk to which you have added 3 tablespoons butter so that it can melt, and 1¼ teaspoons salt and ¼ teaspoon pepper and ⅛ teaspoon dry mustard. Mix and pour evenly over the bread and cheese. Cover and let stand ½ hour. Stand in dish in larger dish containing about 1 inch of hot water and bake at 325 deg. Fahr. about 50 minutes—or until custard is set and top is attractively flecked with brown. This must be served at once to be at its puffy best and goes well with spinach, and new beets. Pretty too.

Cheesecake has a reputation of being involved and expensive. The version of cheesecake which is below is in the form of a pie and won't strain anyone's skill or bend her budget. Serve it after a first course where the protein content (meat in other words) is low or nil.

CHEESECAKE PIE

FILLING: 8 ounces white cream cheese (it is less expensive to buy this in one ½-lb. bar than two 4-oz. packages); 2 tablespoons butter, ½ cup sugar, 1 egg, 2 tablespoons flour, 2/3 cup milk, ¼ cup lemon juice, 2 tablespoons grated lemon rind. Cream the cheese and butter together until smooth, then add the sugar and egg and beat well. Add remaining ingredients in order, mixing well. Pour into unbaked graham cracker shell (below). Sprinkle ½ cup graham cracker crumbs (which are reserved for this) in a circle around the edge. Bake at 350 deg. Fahr. for about 35 minutes. This is at its best when thoroughly chilled before serving.

GRAHAM CRACKER CRUST: ⅓ cup sugar, ⅓ cup melted butter, 1¼ cups sifted graham cracker crumbs. Add sugar and butter to cracker crumbs. Mix well. Reserve ½ cup mixture for topping. Press remainder on bottom and sides of well buttered layer cake tin or pie plate. Chill until set.

There is a new onion soup on the market but it contains beef stock—so Lenten observers take note. The reason I mention it is that it's a wonderful foundation for cheese on a raft. In other words float rounds of dry toast on each bowl of boiling hot onion soup, sprinkle that generously with grated Parmesan (or old Cheddar) cheese and Presto! you have French Onion Soup. (Strictly speaking the whole business is baked after it is assembled—and you can do that too.)

CHEESE BALLS

These may garnish your soup bowls or salad plates or be served as hot hors d'oeuvres. Combine ¼ cup softened butter with ½ cup grated cheddar cheese, ½ cup dry fine breadcrumbs and the beaten yolk of 1 egg and ⅛ teaspoon mustard. Form into little 1-inch balls, roll in fine crumbs and fry in deep fat at 375 deg. Fahr. Drain on unglazed paper! Don't attempt to hold these, they must be served with dispatch.

DOROTHY DIX

Divorced Man Woos Widow Age, Children No Bother

DEAR MISS DIX: Six months ago I met Ida, a wonderful girl. We fell in love with each other and I would like to marry some day. We have both been married before. She is a widow with three children; I'm divorced, and my two youngsters live with their mother. Ida feels that taking on the responsibility of her family would be too much of a burden for me, and I am equally certain that it won't be. Also, she is four years older than I am, which worries her. I like her boys, and am sure I would be a good father to them. We are all very friendly; they seem to like me. I'm sure we can adjust ourselves to that fact. How can I overcome all her doubts?

B. G.

SHE HAS HER DOUBTS

ANSWER: While it's very true that you would be taking on quite a big job in the acquisition of this ready-made family, it is equally true that many men have done it with success. It is certainly something that requires considered thought, however. Don't rush into the marriage until all doubts of you both have been removed. Your desire to marry Ida may be largely motivated by longing for your own children. After your marriage she may resent any attempts on your part to see your youngsters, resulting in complete estrangement from your family.

The age difference is a point against the marriage, as is Ida's constant harping on her doubts. Actually, the issue that she may most doubt is her own love for you. If you continue making your union so desirable for her, she may give consent that is not wholehearted. These are just a few of the problems you must ponder, and ponder well, before taking such a serious step. I urgently advise a wait of at least a year before you really decide on marriage.

DEAR MISS DIX: I run a private, state-licensed boarding home for children. For some time I had a small child whose mother ran into financial difficulty and, to help out, I offered to keep the youngster for less than my usual rates. When the mother remarried, and was able to take care of her obligations, she still continued to bring the child to me occasionally, usually offering no pay, or very little. What can I do? G.R.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Don't let yourself be imposed upon in this way, even though you are fond of the little girl. Simply refuse to accept the child unless you're paid for her care. Women like this mother have lost the right to sympathy. Remind her that the low rate charged in the past was a temporary accommodation to help her in time of need. She should appreciate it, not accept it as her right.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I'm a high-school senior with many friends. Recently I met a chap of 21, who is very serious, but also very nice. However, he gets annoyed if I laugh or joke when we're in a group. Since this is my nature, I don't know how to change.

Bess

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Why make the effort? As long as your laughter doesn't reach the boisterous stage, and you seem too sensible for that, you'd be making a mistake to turn yourself into a sobersides. If you'd like a poetic example of your problem, read Robert Browning's "My Last Duchess."

Roast Beef, Yorkshire Pudding Favorites

Roast beef and Yorkshire pudding are dinner favorites with many families. With beef prices as they are, you can serve roast beef and Yorkshire pudding often. The fact that so many people are buying roasts today prompted the home economists of the consumer section, Canada department of agriculture to retest their Yorkshire pudding recipe. Their recipe had been accepted when beef was cooked at a much higher temperature than is used today, so that was their first problem—to find how they could make a good Yorkshire pudding at a lower temperature. Before they started to experiment with different temperatures, the home economists read all they could find and talked with women who had been making Yorkshire pudding for many years. They found out that in the old days, when meat was roasted on a spit, the pudding was cooked in a shallow pan placed just under the meat so that the pudding would absorb the rich drippings from the roast. With the coming of ovens and roasting pans came a roasting pan which had a moveable rack so that during the last part of the cooking time, the rack with the roast on it would be pushed up and the pudding could be placed right in the roasting pan below the roast and again it would absorb the drippings.

Thinking of how Yorkshire pudding would be made today, the home economists started their tests — making a pudding in a shallow pan and trying to get a temperature which would be closer to 325 deg. F., which is the temperature now recommended for roasts. After some tests, they found that they had best results using muffin tins and that 375 deg. F. was a very satisfactory temperature. Since it took only a few minutes to bring the oven from 325 to 375, that seemed practical too.

YORKSHIRE PUDDING

In looking over some old recipes for Yorkshire pudding, the home economists of the Consumer Section, Canada department of agriculture, found that sometimes a handful of plump seedless raisins were stirred in just before baking. Other recipes called for the addition of either a little coarsely grated onion and a sprinkling of sage in which case it was called savoury pudding. Neither of these variations seem to be used much today. Here is the home economists' recipe for Yorkshire pudding.

YORKSHIRE PUDDING

1 cup sifted all purpose flour
½ teaspoon salt
2 eggs
1 cup of milk
4½ tablespoons beef drippings or fat

Mix and sift flour and salt, combine eggs and milk and beat with a rotary beater. Add to the flour and salt mixtuure and beat well. Chill batter one hour in refrigerator.

Place half a tablespoon dripping or fat in the bottom of each muffin tin 1½ inches deep and 3 inches in diameter), heat in oven until fat is hot. Place 3 tablespoons of chilled batter in each tin (½ full). Bake in a moderate oven, 375 degrees F., for 30 minutes. Yield: 9 individual puddings

POT ROAST

If pot roast is popular at your house, you will be very glad to have this recipe from the home economists of the Consumer Section, Canada Department of Agriculture. It is a very good way to do a pot roast and the method they suggest keeps the good meat flavor which is so often lost.

POT ROAST

4 or 5 pound pot roast (blade, short rib or cross rib)
¼ cup of fat
2 tablespoons water flour
6 medium size potatoes
6 medium size carrots
1 medium size turnip pepper
¼ teaspoon salt

Brown the meat well on all sides in fat in the roasting pan, add the water. Cut vegetables in serving size pieces, flour and add to meat. Season the meat and the vegetables with salt and pepper. Cover the pan and roast in a 325 degree F. oven for 30 to 35 minutes per pound. Uncover meat for the last hour of cooking. Baste it occasionally and use the liquid in the pan for gravy. Flouring the vegetables thickens the liquid so that very little, if any, flour needs to be added. ½ to ¾ of a cup of either tomato catsup or chili sauce may be spread over the roast for the last hour of cooking.

White Slavers Arrested

HULL, Que. (CP)—Police today said they have cracked one end of an international white slave syndicate with the arrest of two Toronto men here.

Inspector J. M. Lavigne of the Hull police said Anatol (Tony) Ethier, 25, and Marcel LeBlanc, 31 were arrested about 6 a.m. EST today with two women. He said the men had recruited the women for prostitution in Toronto and were about to drive to the Ontario capital when arrested.

The men were booked on charges of inducing women to prositute themselves.

Inspector Lavigne said a list was found in possession of the men which indicates they worked for a syndicate recruiting women in cities in Quebec, Ontario and the United States.

His men have been working on the case since last September when they received a tip that women were being recruited in the Hull area, Inspector Lavigne said.

Heifer Too Tough For Westerner

Mervyn Johnson, CCF member of the commons for Kindersley, Sask., wound up on his back in a snowbank when he tried to put a rope on the runaway heifer that had broken loose from an abattoir here.

The Westerner borrowed a rope from dogcatcher Romeo Morissette when the durham heifer with the dogcatcher and a city police posse in full cry was cornered in a backyard near where the MP lives.

But the heifer moved first, butted the rancher into the snow and was off again.

In a criss-cross chase over the Rideau river and adjoining properties; one officer took a rifle shot at the heifer, but the slug just bounced off the animal's skull.

Finally, morality officer Gordon Hicks ended the hunt with a pistol shot that made the heifer into prime beef.

Rule Age Pension Subject To Tax

OTTAWA (CP)—The income tax appeal board today ruled that the federal government's $40-a-month pension for persons over 70 is subject to income tax.

The board turned down an appeal from the tax launched by a western judge, who was not identified.

The board observed that the judge—taxed $196 on his 1950 pension of $480—evidently had appealed from a revenue department ruling on behalf of the many other taxpayers in the same position as wel as himself.

The judge's main argument was that, since he is charged the regular income tax and a special tax of two per cent for financing the pension, the result is double taxation on the pension.

The board said it had been unable to find anything in the legislation exempting the pension from income tax, expressly or by implication.

Suffragette Pioneer Dies In England

GOMSHALL, England (AP) — Lady Pethick-Lawrence, 86, oft-jailed pioneer of the women's vote campaign in Britain, died today.

Her husband, a Labor peer, is 82. As young Fred Lawrence, he zealously backed the suffragettes. He fell in love with Emmeline Pethick, who was in the vanguard of the fight along with Dame Christable Pankhurst.

Both spent time in jail before the suffragettes won the vote in 1918.

Pethick-Lawrence was made a baron in 1945.

Injured Driver Charged After Accident

Nineteen-year-old Robert W. Faiers was on trial before Magistrate W. R. Philp today on a charge of dangerous driving. The charge was laid as a result of a spectacular collision on Highway 28 near Lakefield last September 7.

George Labarre of Toronto, driver of the other car involved in the accident, testified that he was driving south towards Lakefield at 40 m.p.h. He said that he saw the other car veering to the right in the long, sharp-centred curve on the highway just north of Lakefield. He thought that Faiers was on the wrong side of the road.

Under cross-examination by defence counsel Donald Bark, he said that his truck would take up most of his half of the highway and that the centre line on the road "could do with a paint job." He said that after the impact his truck turned over on its left side and ended up crosswise on the highway.

BEHIND TRUCK

Lloyd Fawns of Port Perry said he was travelling 100 yards behind the truck which was "well inside the centre line." Under cross-examination he said that the centre-line was "imaginary" and that he was judging the position of the truck by guesswork. He said that the truck was "pretty well taking its own half" of the road.

Mr. Fawns also testified that the Faiers car turned over on its left side, travelled on its side for some distance along the road, backed into the right ditch and ended up on all four wheels.

Eric Bryan said he was travelling south 400 feet behind the truck. He testified that the Faiers car swung onto the wrong side of the road as he (Faiers) got part way around the turn. He said he pulled off the road because the Faiers car was heading towards him, ending up in the ditch almost opposite him. He said the car was almost through the sharp curve at the point of impact.

Mr. Bark brought from Bryan the admission that it becomes progressively more difficult to tell the position of a car in relation to the road, as the road becomes less straight.

When the case was adjourned till Monday, the defence was opening its case. Faiers was on the stand testifying that there was, to his knowledge, no centre line, but that the truck with which he was in collision was "straddling the centre of the road." He said he tried to swing to the right to avoid collision, but remembered nothing more until questioned by police in hospital.

Wednesday the groundwork for Crown Attorney John Bradshaw's case was laid by two Ontario Provincial Police officers on the stand. Const. Ballock, the OPP's photographic expert introduced 16 pictures taken at the scene. Investigating officer Const. Jim Healy said that he was at the scene shortly after the accident, about 4:30 Labor Day afternoon. He testified that the two damaged vehicles ended up 214 feet apart.

Officers Investigate Ship Espionage

LIVERPOOL, England (AP) — Security officers probed today for clues in a case of deliberate damage to the wiring of the British destroyer Urania, being equipped here with top-secret electronic devices for atomic and anti-submarine warfare.

The damage was discovered Wednesday night. An Admiralty spokesman said a number of electric lead wires were cut, apparently with a pair of clippers.

Detectives questioned shipyard workers.

Sabotage was not ruled out, but some workers believe the damage may have been done by someone with a personal grudge.

Army Officer Guilty Of Cruelty Charges

NAIROBI, Kenya (Reuters) — Gerald Griffiths, British army captain, today was found guilty of five of six charges alleging cruelty to African prisoners.

He was sentenced to dismissal from the army and five years imprisonment. Both the verdict and sentence are subject to confirmation.

The incidents occurred last summer during the height of the campaign against the anti-white Mau Mau cult, now in its 16th month. The ear of one African was sliced off and another's ear was pierced with wire to be used for leading him on the hunt.

Strange Object In Sky Seen By Two Men

COBALT (CP)—A big ball of light trailing a tail of red, that plunged straight down from the sky to disappear beyond the horizon, was reported Wednesday night by two Cobalt men.

Drivers Fred Graham and Albert Duval were standing outside a taxi stand at 11:30 p. m. when they first saw the object.

They said it appeared as a huge ball of light to the southwest of Cobalt. Trailing a tail of red, the light descended straight down to drop over the horizon.

RCAF officials at North Bay, 75 miles south of here, said they had no report on the object.

Home And School

Other winners were Mrs. D. Walker for "spilling the beans," Mr. and Mrs. Dorothy Warboy for "a close shave," Mr. and Mrs. M. Pomeroy for "sewing a patch on hubby's trousers while blindfolded."

Guest speaker was Mr. James Wharry who was introduced by Mr. Lloyd Ash. Mr. Wharry having travelled extensively around the world, and having photography as his hobby, was able to take his audience on a magic journey, with pictures and story, starting at St. John's, Newfoundland, then to England, Scotland, Nigeria, the Gold Coast, Belgian Congo, Kenya and Lebanon. These names alone stirred imagination, but combined with amusing and informative commentary and natural color scenes, new insight into these lands and their people was provided.

Mr. Wharry was thanked by Mr. Worboy.

It was announced that a rummage sale will be held March 23. Donations may be brought to the school and can be called for if arrangements are made at 21151 or 5817.

The attendance award was won by Miss N. Wartman's Grade 1 class.

Members were asked to provide for a home bake table, at the school on the night of the April meeting. Nomination forms will be distributed then.

The committee of fathers in charge of the program were Messrs. V. Coleman, H. Morrison, E. Bradshaw, M. Mesley, W. Ward, L. Ash and M. Pomeroy.

Refreshments were served by Messrs. D. Worboy, W. Ward, K. Hoard, L. Ash, E. McNabb, M. Pomeroy, H. L. Pollock, M. Mesley and E. Toms.

CENTRAL SCHOOL

An enthusiastic audience, overflowing the kindergarten room of Central school, greeted the efforts of the junior performers on the program of the Home and School Association meeting. The evening featured a display of the art and craft work of all grades. Classes were being held in the manual training and home economics rooms, under the watchful eyes of Mr. C. Munro and Mrs. E. Scott. There were no hammered thumbs, and the fudge was delicious.

Miss S. Palmer's choir sang, "The Sandman," "Snowflakes," "On Tiptoe," "A Pleasant Day," and in conclusion further delighted listeners with "The Ugly Duckling." Following this Miss M. Brock's class performed "The Health Clinic."

President Mrs. M. Callaghan conducted a brief business meeting. Peterborough's representative of the Canadian Milk Foundation, Mrs. P. Kingdon, was introduced by Mrs. H. Tranter, and she spoke on food rules. Mrs. R. Weekes expressed thanks to her.

The social committee served lunch.

CAMERON STREET SCHOOL

Organization meeting of the Home and School Association of Cameron Street School and "open house" were held as a combined evening on Tuesday at the school. Head mistress Miss H. M. Bonnycastle welcomed the parents and then turned the meeting over to district organizer Mrs. C. Coons.

Mrs. Coons told the history of the Home and School Association since instigation in 1894 and then showed a film titled "Our Town Home and School Association" which also explained the work of the association.

The creed and the aim and objects of the Home and School were read by Mrs. Vert Reynolds, president of the Council.

Forty-seven charter members were enrolled. It was decided to meet on the second Tuesday of each month. A nominating committee then brought in the following slate of officers:

President, Mrs. Stan Reiten; vice-presidents, Mrs. C. H. Crouter and Mrs. J. Mortimer; recording secretary, Mrs. H. Franklin; corresponding secretary, Mrs. J. Ainslie; treasurer, Mrs. G. Stewart; executive members, Mrs. H. Pickell, Mrs. L. Putnam, Mrs. W. Masters, Mrs. C. Whatley and Mrs. J. Holt.

Mrs. Coons installed these officers and the new president then took the chair. She called an executive meeting for Monday, March 15th, at eight o'clock, at the school.

Parents then had an hour in which to visit classrooms and talk with the teachers.

KING EDWARD SCHOOL

The King Edward Home and School Association held open house this week and a large number of parents took the opportunity to look over their children's work and to discuss their progress with the teachers, along with any problems. Grade mothers were present to assist teachers in the classrooms.

President Mrs. J. Dunkerley and vice president Mrs. Earle Wellman welcomed parents at the door and Mrs. G. MacMillan was in charge of registration. Nomination forms for the election of a new slate of officers were distributed by nominations convener Mrs. V. Fee, assisted by Mrs. F. Willison, Mrs. L. Webb and Mrs. O. Rosborough.

Refreshments were served throughout the evening by members of the executive. The table was pretty with white cutwork cloth and lighted blue tapers set in white tulle to carry out the school colors, and cut-out letters circling the centrepiece spelled out "King Edward School".

Teachers and grade mothers on duty were: Mr. J. Telford and Mrs. L. James, Mr. J. Burns and Mrs. A. Phillips, Mr. W. Downes and Mrs. H. Turney, Miss M. Mutton and Mrs. A. Warner, Miss M. Ball and Mrs. L. James, Mrs. H. Mutton and Mrs. G. Whatley, Mrs. D. Crawford and Mrs. D. Atkinson, Miss E. Doherty and Mrs. D. Syvertsen, Mrs. H. Jerries and Mrs. A. Worr, Miss M. Nelson and Mrs. E. Hess, Miss G. Blue and Mrs. C. Goodberry, Mrs. C. Brickman and Mrs. C. Copperthwaite and Mrs. M. Dunlop in the kindergarten.

Social convener Mrs. A. Clark was assisted in serving refreshments by Mrs. R. Stanlock, Mrs. D. Mannen, Mrs. K. Wesenberg, Mrs. E. Boyler, Mrs. N. Hamliton, Mrs. H. Barnard and Mrs. G. Rogers.

Youth Given Maximum Term

Hugh L. Smalley, 18, pleaded guilty to assault and battery and Judge Bruce gave him all the law allows for this misdemeanor, 18 months imprisonment and a $1,000 fine.

Rice testified that he was sitting in a parked auto and observed Smalley trying to let the air out of the tires. He remonstrated, he said, and Smalley thrust his fist through the car window and struck him in the left eye.

Destroys Models Gets 5 Months

LONDON (AP) — Ernest Bridgen, 32-year-old draftsman, today was sentenced to five months imprisonment for smashing models of Prime Minister Churchill and three other government leaders at Madame Tussaud's waxworks Feb. 18.

Bridgen, who pleaded guilty, said he attacked the wax models with a hammer to protest the government's education policies. He told the court there are too many illiterate people in Britain and that "even members of the government should be educated."

Judge A. W. Cockburn told Bridgen: You may hold any opinion you like, but you may not destroy other people's property in order to advertise those opinions. This was an utterly outrageous performance."

Taxpayers Claim $125,000,000

OTTAWA (CP)—Individual taxpayers will claim refunds of around $125,000,000 on their 1953 income tax payments, the revenue department estimated today.

The department figured that 4,650,000 persons will file tax returns and that 2,500,000 will apply for refunds because of overpayments for a variety of reasons.

One of the major 1953 tax changes that will bring on refunds was a reduction in tax of 11 per cent during the last half of the year.

Other changes included a greater allowance for tax-deductible medical expenses, an increase in the income allowed those listed as dependents and a provision that a dependent child over 21 may be regarded as a dependent if he is attending university.

The deadline for filing returns is April 30.

The department's estimate of returns, expected number of refunds and amounts claimed, in that order, includes: Kingston, 40,000, 16,000, $700,000; Belleville, 75,000, 40,000, $1,500,000; Toronto, 745,000,400,000, $21,000,000; St. Catharines, 105,000, 55,000, $3,000,000; Kitchener 120,000, 50,000, $2,000,000; Sudbury, 125,000, 75,000, $4,000,000; Fort William, 61,000, 35,000, $2,000,000.

Trade Bodies Asked Kill Illegal Combines

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's anti-combines body has called on national trade associations to play an active role in destroying illegal combines and keeping the Canadian economy free.

The Restrictive Trades Practices Commission said in a report made public today that associations do not discharge their public responsibility if they are content merely to "stay within the law."

"They exist to develop more and better business. . . . It should, therefore, be their function to act as a public medium actively discouraging arrangements and practices that are prohibited by law."

Three Men Get Jail For Theft, Forgery

BLIND RIVER (CP) — Three men got jail terms here on six charges of theft, forgery and receiving stolen money. Philip Lacourse, 40, was sentenced to two years; Victor Dunn, 24, six months, and Paul Martel, 20, three months.

Complainant Lawrence Kernan said Dunn and Martel stole three cheques for $74, $95 and $55 from his pockets and they forged the signatures and cashed the cheques.

Capacity House

KITCHENER (CP)—A capacity audience packed the Memorial auditorium here Wednesday night when the Royal Conservatory Opera Company of Toronto presented Puccini's opera La Boheme.

It is the first time in many years an opera was staged here.

CGE Says

"There has been a steady assessment in the past, perhaps too steady," Mr. Adamson said. "It has been for that reason CGE has never raised any serious complaint about the assessment. But it would seem to me the constant figures ignore such items as obsolescence and depreciation."

Mr. Adamson said when the Warnock company had assessed the CGE property, he had obtained access to the working sheets.

He said his study of the methods used by the Warnock Co. showed their practice was to measure the cubic content of the buildings. They then selected the rate per cubic foot from their own manual.

BAFFLED BY RATES

"I am completely baffled as to how these rates were determined or varied from building to building," Mr. Adamson said. "Having chosen the rate, they would then vary it in line with their own thinking. They selected the rate but not in a manner that makes any sense to me. In some instances it would appear that the variations in rates were taken from the wrong sections of the manual. Some of them appear to have been selected indiscriminately."

Mr. Adamson said that when the assessment was made, a CGE employee had been assigned to checking the Warnock company's work.

"At that time minor errors turned up; but we didn't have complete knowledge of all the facts," he said.

Mr. Adamson then produced a photostat copy of one of the Warnock company's work sheets and claimed that by the mistaken addition of two zeros to the cubic measurements of one of the buildings, an error of $124,073 had been made in the assessment.

"Did you point that out to the assessor?" Mr. Ephgrave asked.

"It was just discovered last Friday," Mr. Adamson answered.

"If you pointed it out to the assessor and he agreed a mistake had been made, I'm sure he would correct it," Mr. Ephgrave said.

"We had a review of the figures made by one of our experts and we have all the totals; but that is not the main part of our appeal," Mr. Adamson said.

"The basis of our appeal is not the errors," Mr. Parkinson said. "We are basing it on the broad principle that methods were used which are not permitted by law."

Asked by Mr. Parkinson if he knew the factors the Assessment Act required to be taken into consideration in determining assessments, Mr. Adamson referred to "present use of a building, its location, normal rental value, normal sale value, replacement costs and any other factors affecting its value."

OTHER FACTORS

"Is there any indication that the Warnock company took any consideration of the present use, location, normal rental value or normal sale value?" Mr. Parkinson asked.

"No," was the reply.

"Is there any indication that any consideration was given to the cost of replacement?"

"Their manual must be based on something of that kind," Mr. Adamson said.

"While I'm not admitting that the act makes any allowance for obsolescence or depreciation, is there any allowance made on the company's sheet," Mr. Parkinson asked.

"There's a column marked 'percentage depreciation'," Mr. Adamson said. "But in some cases they have entered one per cent and in others none at all."

"I believe two or 2½ per cent is not an unreasonable figure to allow for the depreciation of a plant where hazardous manufacturing is carried on — where the plant is subjected to stresses or strains.

"For example, the machine shop building, built in 1891: We will face an immediate expenditure of more than a million dollars if we wish to make it suitable for our purposes. We would be better off to demolish a number of buildings, from the point of economic use."

"Does the Warnock system give any effect to present use?" Mr. Parkinson asked.

"I don't think it does. It's the most vital factor."

"What about location?"

"There are innumerable cases. One of the outstanding is the brass foundry which is deep in the heart of the plant.

NOT USABLE

"No-one in his right mind would occupy the old porcelain plant for manufacturing purposes," said Mr. Adamson, causing laughter among the city's representatives.

"Is the building you acquired from War Assets a suitable building for the purposes to which you are putting it?"

"That sale to us by War Assets recognizes the inadequacy of production conditions in it," replied Mr. Adamson. "One building is extremely high. It was constructed so that cranes could life 3.7 guns."

"Are the travelling cranes still there?" Mr. Ephgrave asked.

"We put them to limited use," Mr. Adamson admitted. "But the building is still too high."

Using a method of rental capitalization which he maintained did not vary materially from that used in the province's manual of assessment values, Mr. Adamson said that approximate value of the property as a rental proposition was slightly more than $2,500,000.

As to the sale value of the property, Mr. Adamson said he had S. A. Darling make an exhaustive survey and he had no knowledge of any sale in the last few years of any properties in the city comparable to those held by CGE.

At the close of Mr. Adamson's evidence, Mr. Carley informed the court that he would have other cases to cite in presenting the city's case. The hearing was then adjourned until next week. It will resume either Tuesday or Wednesday.

Not Policy Advocate Price Fixing

TORONTO (CP) — F. A. B. Rands, national secretary of the Retail Merchant Association of Canada, said today it is not the policy of the association to advocate or condone price-fixing of any kind.

The association, along with the Unincorporated Automotive Retailers Association of Vancouver and 31 Vancouver area gasoline dealers, has been accused by the federal restrictive trades practices commission of combining illegally to fix retail gasoline prices in the Vancouver area.

"We are strictly advisory to the 40,000 or so retailers in 10 provinces whom we represent under provincial associations that are affiliated with the head office at Toronto," Mr. Rands said.

He said the national body has at no time taken part in meetings to fix prices.

"Mad Gunman" Shoots Again

FLORENCE, Italy (AP)—Florence's "mad gunman" shot again Wednesday night, but missed.

His score to date: Two hits and five misses in indiscriminate shootings at pedestrians on the streets of Florence. The incidents have terrorized the city for several weeks.

The latest shooting followed the pattern. Vollaro Maoggi, 22, reported to police that the gunman leaned from a small car and fired as Maoggi was pedalling home on a bicycle. The bullet skimmed by his head and the assailant raced away in the night.

Fire Kills 7 Of Family

HIBBARD, Ind. (AP) — Fire destroyed a two-storey frame home here early today and killed seven of the 12 members of a South Bend factory worker's family.

The dead are Mrs. Bessie Carmen Kovacs, 48, her three sons, Donald M., 23; Carl K., 19; Frank V. Jr., 18; Donald's wife, Elizabeth, 26, and her two children by a former marriage, Michael Quackenbush, 2, and Jeanette Quackenbush, 5.

Survivors are Frank V. Kovacs, 50, his father, John Kovacs, 86; the Kovacs' two daughters, Caroline, 25, and Ruth Ann, 11, and Caroline's daughter, Rose Marie, 14 months.

Security Forces Kill 48 More Terrorists

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP)—Security forces have killed 48 terrorists in the last 48 hours, military headquarters announced tonight.

In addition, 79 suspects were detained, and four wounded terrorists were captured, the announcement said.

In the same period RAF Lincolns and Harvards dropped more than 20 tons of bombs on terrorist hideouts in the south Mount Kenya forest.

Richard T. Parnell

Funeral service for Richard Thomas Parnell, 503 Parnell St., a member of Peterborough's first full-time fire brigade, was held today at 2 p.m. at the Kaye funeral home with the Rev. Arnold A. Mathews of George Street United church officiating.

Mr. Parnell died Monday after a long illness at the age of 77. Burial was in Little Lake cemetery.

He was one of the 11 men of the fire brigade when city council decided to hire a permanent full-time force in 1908. W. A. Howard was chief of the brigade at the time.

Mr. Parnell was born and educated in Smith township. He was the son of the late Martin Parnell and Elizabeth Lee. He lived in this district all his life. In 1951 he retired from the Canadian Nashua Paper Co. He was a member of George Street United church.

He leaves his widow, the former Bertha Buller; six daughters — Mrs. Madeline Fidge, Mrs. H. Boucher (Grace), Mrs. W. Tatryn (Molly), Mrs. J. Magee (Isabel), all of Toronto, and Mrs. L. Blodgett (Claire), Mrs. D. McIlwain (Dolly) of Peterborough; five sons —Harold, John, Arthur, Edward and Everett, all of Peterborough; a sister, Mrs. William Harron of Peterborough and Bert Parnell of Saskatoon.

Mrs. Mitchell says a firm schedule is the secret of handling babies. When they first come they are usually emotionally upset and need regulated care and a great deal of loving attention. By about the third night they are sleeping "like little lambs."

"I won't give in to their opinion of the best schedule," she says. "They soon adjust to mine."

"Our babies have kept us young beyond our years," says Mrs. Mitchell. "Babies should happen to everybody."

Anti-RedPremier Wins Vote Of Confidence

By JAMES M. LONG

ROME (AP) — Premier Mario Sceiba's month-old government has won parliamentary approval to push for a knockdown fight on ratification of the European Defence Community treaty.

The tough anti-Communist premier won a final vote of confidence Wednesday night in a stormy session. The 590-member chamber of Deputies approved his program of mild social reform at home and continued ties with the west by a 17-vote margin.

Sceiba pledged to rally his backers quickly for approval of the pact which would bring West German troops into a one-uniform army with Italy, France, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg.

But it probably will be several weeks before he can clear the way through the maze of complicated domestic issues of confronting his wobbly four-party coalition government to get final action on EDC.

DIFFICULT TASK

With the thin majority the 52-year-old Christian Democrat premier commands it will not be easy to push through his domestic program. And the fight over EDC may be the toughest hurdle of all.

Plagued by the Communists and fellow-travelling Socialists on the left and the Monarchists and neo-Fascists of the right, Sceiba managed to win the vote of confidence 300 to 283. The 334-member senate gave him a bare five-vote margin of approval Feb. 26.

Confirmation by the deputies brought at least a temporary halt to the government crisis which has plagued Italy ever since the June 7 elections cut the props from under the pro-Western, centre-of-the-road regime of Sceiba's long-time mentor and Christian Democrat leader, Alcide de Gasperi.

Catholic Priest Changes Views

LANDEBIA, France (Reuters)—This Britanny village of 352 souls is split into two camps by the doubts of the Abbe Launay, a Roman Catholic priest who no longer believes in purgatory.

The abbe has been suspended indefinitely by his bishop for having preached his views on heaven and hell and what lies between. A successor has been appointed, but the Abbe Launay refuses to move out of the rectory.

As a result, every Sunday the Abbe Launay and the new Abbe Robert say mass alternately in the little wooden church for their separate supporters. Each priest has his own organist.

Feeling in the town is running high. Stones have been thrown at the church windows, the new priest has been threatened and political meetings have been held on the church steps.

Blood Stains Evidence In Murder Trial

BARRIE (CP)—A medico-legal expert said Wednesday stains from blood of the same type as that of shooting victim Fred Cameron, 60, were found on the family automobile of one of two Toronto youths charged with Cameron's murder.

Dr. Noble Sharp of the Ontario attorney-general's department was one of 10 Crown witnesses to testify on the first day of the trial of Stephen Kingsley, 19, and Ian Robertson, 21, in Ontario Supreme Court with Mr. Justice H. A. Aylen presiding.

Dr. Sharp said Cameron, former professional soccer player in Scotland and one-time Birmingham policeman, had type "O" blood, a common grouping.

He said bloodstains made by type "O" blood were found in the trunk of the car owned by Robertson's father. He said blood of that type also was found on Cameron's clothing.

SEVERAL WOUNDS

Dr. Chester McLean, provincial pathologist, testified that an autopsy showed Cameron, messenger for a Tronto investment firm, died from multiple bullet wounds, including one in the head from a shot fired at "very close range."

All the bullets were fired from relatively close distances, one to six inches, said Dr. Ward Smith of the attorney-general's department.

Earlier, while Robertson's pert blonde wife nervously fingered a rosary as she listened in the courtroom, Stephen Dunn, manager of a Toronto pool room, described Cameron as a man who spent every night of the week in the pool room and liked to "flash his roll" if anyone else showed banknotes.

Two residents of this district 50 miles north of Toronto testified they heard shots and the sound of a car being driven away the night of Oct. 29.

In outlining the Crown's case, Crown Attorney W. M. Thompson said the Crown will seek to prove the youths drove Cameron from Toronto and robbed and killed him.

19 Prisoners Stage Riot

CHICAGO (AP)—Nineteen prisoners in a Cook county's overcrowded jail rioted for more than seven hours before they surrendered Wednesday night after a barrage of tear-gas and streams of water from fire hoses.

Three of the 19 suffered injuries in the stormy battle waged with guards, police and firemen. Four guards also were slightly injured.

The thwarting of a jail break was named by sheriff John E. Babb as the reason touching off the siege by the prisoners. All were confined to the maximum security" section of the jail and were considered dangerous. The ringleaders were described by officials as a condemned murderer and a bank robber.

OVERCROWDING

Another jail official said overcrowding of the jail, which houses nearly 2,000 contributed to the riot. The jail was built to accommodate 1,305 prisoners.

More than 50 gas shells were fired into the day room, which measures 30 by 100 feet. Firemen poured water in through broken windows and through ports inside the building.

The gas-saturated room was left in ruins. Six inches of water covered the floor. Tables were overturned and bunks destroyed. Broken glass and plumbing fixtures littered the floor.

Stomach Upset, Had Aches And Pains—Tells of Relief

"For four years I suffered with stomach troubles and the first real relief I've had has come through taking Syntona," said Mr. Hank Mestenmaker, R.R. 2, Bear Line, Ontario, in a recent statement.

"I would get awful gassy pains in the pit of my stomach after my meals. My food soured in my stomach giving me indigestion, heartburn, and a sick nauseated feeling. Often my stomach was upset for days at a time. I was subject to dizzy spells and throbbing headaches and more recently rheumatic pains set into my back, limbs and muscles.

How It Helped Him

"I was trying one thing and another without getting any better, so when I read about Syntona I began taking it and undoubtedly this is the best medicine I ever had for stomach trouble. It cleared up the gassy condition of my stomach, stopped my food from souring and relieved the heartburn. After awhile the aches and pains and headaches went away and I could enjoy all my meals, sleep better and felt better throughout the day.

"This is some time ago that I first heard about Syntona and since then I've used it off and on and it has never failed to help me."

Has Helped Thousands

It is no exaggeration to say that Syntona has helped thousands of men and women all over the country in this same way. Made from 12 of Nature's Finest Herbs and Roots Syntona is particularly helpful to suffers from the common disorders of stomach, kidneys, liver and bowels, and associated rheumatic pains, nervousness and tired, rundown condition.

Committee To Probe Irregularities

Legislature Members Will Examine Highways Witnesses

TORONTO (CP) — Alleged irregularities in the department of highways will be probed by a select committee of the Ontario legislature, Premier Frost anounced Thursday.

The premier gave notice of motion on the appointment of the committee in the house following the presentation of his 1954-55 budget. The move reversed an earlier decision he made in indicating the question would be referred to the public accounts committee.

Mr. Frost said the committee will have full power to examine witnesses under oath. He did not indicate when it would begin hearings. The irregularities were discovered by the department last October.

The original investigation began in the Fort William division and since then further irregularities have been uncovered in the Ottawa and Huntsville areas.

Two divisional engineers and five members of the departmental staff have been suspended and five of these men have been arrested.

In giving notice, Mr. Frost said the committee will have "the fullest of powers."

11 MEMBERS

He gave no indication as to who would be on the committee. In reply to a question put by opposition leader Farquhar Oliver, the premier said he is considering a membership of 11.

Earlier, Mr. Oliver moved an amendment to the motion in reply to the address to the speech from the throne regretting that the government failed to call a judicial commission to investigate the irregularities. The house turned down the amendment Wednesday by a 69-to-9 vote.

Mr. Frost said he did not believe the public accounts committee would have time to conduct a suitable investigation and was therefore proposing the select committee "in order not to take from parliament. . . the right of full disclosure to which they are entitled by reason of the course of the present investigation and the normal prorogation."

Last January the Toronto consultant firm of J. D. Woods and Gordon Limited was appointed to

Quite A Bite

WELLINGTON, N.Z. (Reuters) — Street crowds used sticks and stones and even jerked the tails of a spaniel and a German shepherd in a vain effort to halt a furious dog battle Wednesday. Then a young Maori stepped forward, seized the spaniel and bit him hard on the hind leg. There was a yelp, a cloud of dust, and the fight was over.

Britain To Test Equipment Germ Warfare

LONDON (AP) — Britain will carry out germ warfare defence tests off the Bahama islands this year, the government said Thursday night.

A communique from Supply Minister Duncan Sandys said tests have been going on off the coast of Scotland for some time and now are being switched to the Bahamas widely removed from any normal shipping route.

There was no indication what form the tests would take or on what scale they would be carried out.

EDITED BY WINNIE

The announcement pointed out that biological warfare is "expressly forbidden by the rules of war." It added, however:

"Her Majesty's government cannot neglect consideration of the precautions which would need to be taken should this form of warfare ever be applied against us."

Supply ministry officials indicated that Prime Minister Churchill himself had edited the communique before it was released.

Taxi Hits Truck Driver Fails To Avoid Collision

GERALDTON (CP)—Three persons died and another was severely injured after a head-on collision between a taxi and a heavy pulpwood truck near here Thursday night. Killed were Ernie Clark, 40, of Longlac, driver of the taxi and father of two children; and Eli Mallet, 42, Longlac blacksmith.

Marcel C. Chaput, 20, Longlac pulpwood cutter known in the district as the Iron Man, died about three hours later in hospital at Longlac, about 150 miles northeast of Fort William.

Ovida Bacon, 21, a passenger in the taxi, was taken to hospital with severe injuries. His condition was still critical today, but hospital authorities said he had improved.

All the dead were in the taxi. Peter Boracheff, 53, of Geraldton, driver of the truck, was badly shaken up.

Boracheff said he veered off the road into a snowbank to try to avoid a collision. He said his empty truck had almost come to a stop when the taxi hit it.

He told police the taxi appeared to be weaving as it approached him.

The taxi was returning to Longlac from Geraldton. Boracheff was returning to Geraldton after unloading his pulp truck at Longlac.

Premier Stresses Trade Links With Japan

By WILLIAM STEWART
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TOKYO (CP) — Prime Minister St. Laurent, in a luncheon address to members of the Canada-Japan society today, said there is increasing awareness on the part of Canadians of the needs, aspirations and friendship of Asia and Japan, Canada's closest Asian neighbor.

The visiting prime minister said: "I am happy to say that a survey of relations between Japan and Canada shows very few outstanding problems. Canadian interests may be summarized briefly in two words 'peace' and 'trade.'"

During the early years of Canada's history the thoughts of the majority of Canadians had turned eastward to Europe.

But "during the past 10 years there has been tremendous economic development in British Columbia and I have no doubt that as this growth proceeds trade between western Canada and countries of the Far East will increase substantially."

HOPES FOR WIDER TRADE

Canada and Japan had a common interest in expanding trade, and there were opportunities for growth of trade on a complementary basis with many other countries as well as with one another.

While from the nature of Canada's economy and size of population it might not be practicable in near future for Canada to sell as much to Japan as Japan sold Canada, he hoped "without disturbance of our economy we will be able to absorb an increasing quantity of the kind of goods which you desire to export."

(The Associated Press reported that in an "important departure" from his prepared speech the prime minister said "fortunately or unfortunately we are relying to too great an extent on the United States as an intermediary."

("If there is to be an expansion it must be a joint effort to expand trade between both countries."

Three Nurses Sacked Without Notice

TORONTO (CP) — Florence H. Walker, general secretary-treasurer of the Registered Nurses' Association of Ontario, charged today that three nurses on the teaching staff of the Kitchener-Waterloo General Hospital were dismissed Feb. 15 without notice and given 24 hours to pack up and leave the residence.

Miss Walker said press reports seemed to indicate the nurses resigned because they disapproved of a proposed policy change in the educational program of the school. This was not correct.

"The facts are that these instructors were dismissed without notice," she said in a statement, "without opportunity to know what the proposed policy change was or to defend their position in relation thereto."

"The Registered Nurses' Association of Ontario wishes to go on record as expressing strong disapproval of this action. In many years of experience in dealing with nursing affairs it has not met an equivalent situation."

She said six additional members of the teaching staff and the school secretary resigned in protest against the firings.

"It is true the hospital has a legal right to dismiss any employee but justice demands reasonable cause and fair hearings," she said. "It is understood these three persons were given a month's salary and vacation allowance. Since it is unlikely they will be able to establish themselves in similar positions before September, this is less than adequate compensation."

$100,000 Fire Damage

MONTREAL (CP)—A two-alarm fire early today gutted an east-end premises of Les Pharmacies Universelles Ltee., causing an estimated $100,000 damage. No one was injured.

The fire was fought by more than 100 firemen from 10 stations.

Suggest Instalment Plan For Paying Of Fines

OTTAWA (CP)—Canadians may be given more leeway in paying fines. Justice Minister Garson said in the Commons Thursday he is willing to accept a suggested change in the Criminal Code to "extend the elbow room a little bit."

Spokesmen for the CCF and Social Credit parties agreed with lawyer John Diefenbaker (PC-Prince Albert) that the present system of giving jail terms in default of payment of fines is unfair to the poor.

Mr. Diefenbaker described the system as "a relic of the past" and urged adoption of the United Kingdom system of paying fines on the instalment plan.

The discussion centred around a section in the revised Criminal Code covering "summary conviction" offences—the minor crimes under the code. Maximum penalty for such offences is a $500 fine or six months in jail or both.

IMMEDIATE PAYMENT

Mr. Garson noted that the present law permits magistrates to fix a time for payment of fines. He agreed with opposition speakers, however, that few magistrates depart from the practice of requiring immediate payment.

Wallace Nesbitt (PC—Oxford), a former crown attorney, proposed an amendment which Mr. Garson said he is prepared to accept. It would provide for payment, if the guilty person is unable to pay immediately, at a time and under conditions fixed by the court.

Mr. Garson said he does not think it will mean any major change. It involved the administration of justice, which came under provincial jurisdiction. Parliament was limited to writing the law.

He said some control is needed over those who break the law and are unable to pay fines. If they couldn't be sent to jail there would be nothing to stop them from breaking the law.

The section of the new code was set aside to allow the government to reword it.

$300,000 Fire Razes Fur Plant

MIDLAND (CP)—Fire destroyed one of Canada's largest fur processing plants Thursday night in this town 80 miles north of Toronto. The flames raged out of control for three hours and damage was estimated at $300,000.

The blaze broke out in the rambling, two-storey plant of Midland Shearings Limited in Midland's east end shortly after 6 p. m. All but three of the firm's 90 employees had gone home for the night. They were Alfred Evans, Raime Lang, and David Boucher. All ran from the building unhurt after the fire broke out from undetermined causes in one section of the building.

Firemen said the blaze spread quickly to chemicals used in fur processing. It was three hours before firemen got the blaze under control, and the building was burned to the ground.

Firemen credited two passing motorists with preventing an explosion they said could have blown up part of the plant. The two men, Walter Dube and Ross Edwards, rushed into the building's furnace room and turned off the steam into some large boilers.

The plant was one of Midland's biggest industries. Furs from many countries, including Russia, were processed in it.

Sabre Jets Intercept Reds

SEOUL (AP)—Four southbound Communist jets turned tail at the Korean demarcation line today and fled north when American Sabre jets streaked up to meet them.

No shots were fired, said a spokesman for the United States 5th Air Force.

The Red planes apparently were headed toward Inchon, port city for Seoul in South Korea, the spokesman said, but there was no way of knowing if the Communist pilots actually intended to cross into South Korea or were just testing Allied radars and air alert practices.

It is possible the Communist planes were off course, although the air force said they apparently flew overland and the Han estuary terrain near Inchon would be hard to mistake in daylight.

SPOTTED BY RADAR

The air force said the southbound jets were picked up on Allied radar screens and four Sabre jets—which shot down MiGs in almost 15-to-1 ratio in the Korean war—scrambled to meet them.

It was the first jet incident reported since Sabres shot down one of several MiGs that tried to intercept an Allied reconnaissance plane off North Korea's west coast three weeks ago.

Red-Hunters Charged By U.S. Army

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senator Charles Potter (Rep. Mich.) said today the Senate investigations sub-committee should immediately remove chief counsel Roy Cohn if it is true, as the army reported, that he sought to force special treatment for G. David Schine.

Potter said "all the facts should be gone into," including the references in the army report to Senator Joseph McCarthy (Rep. Wis.), chairman of the sub-committee. Potter is a member of the sub-committee.

The army report, released Thursday night, said McCarthy applied pressure to get special treatment for Schine and charged that Cohn used threats in frequent calls to top army officials.

Schine, 26, is a former committee consultant who was drafted into the army. He is the son of a wealthy New York state theatre chain operator.

URGES QUICK ACTION

Potter, meeting newspaper men in his office, said he wrote to McCarthy late Thursday urging an immediate closed session of the sub-committee to go into the situation.

Potter said that he was assured that an executive session of the sub-committee would be held, but he added that McCarthy set no date. Potter said he hoped it could be held today.

"The army's chronological listing of events concerning the alleged intercession in behalf of Private G. David Schine by the chief counsel of the Senate permanent investigations sub-committee, Mr. Cohn, carries most shocking charges," Potter said in a statement.

CONVERSATIONS

Potter said he thought the sub-committee also should explore that angle to determine whether Carr should be removed.

Potter said it was his understanding that "there is information which contradicts the army report"—or, at least, he added, he understands that McCarthy and Cohn "have facts they would like to present."

Refuses To Answer Jailed Six Months

NEW YORK (AP)—Julio Pinto Gandia, leader of Puerto Rican nationalists in New York, was sentenced Thursday to six months in prison for contempt in refusing to answer questions concerning last week's shooting of five congressmen.

Federal judge Henry W. Goddard sentenced Gandia after the Puerto Rican twice refused to answer certain questions put to him by a federal grand jury.

Belgium Ratifies Defence Pact

BRUSSELS (AP)—Belgium completed parliamentary ratification of the European Defence Community treaty today. She is the third of the six prospective members of the date. Potter said he hoped it could projected alliance to do so.

The Belgian senate approved the treaty bill 125 to 40. The lower house passed it 148 to 49 last Nov. 26. With signing by King Baudouin and publication in Belgium's official journal, the bill will become law.

The Netherlands has already signed and sealed her ratification of the treaty, which would line up West German troops with Dutch, Belgian, French, Italian and Luxembourgian soldiers in a unified command.

West Germany's parliament has approved the treaty, but its signature by President Theodor Heuss is being held up until constitutional questions are ironed out.

France, Italy and Luxembourg have yet to act.

4 Boys Attempt Burn School

TORONTO (CP) — Education week backfired at a school in Toronto when four young boys tried to burn it down.

The boys, aged 12 to 14 were arrested Thursday by police on charges of attempted arson, breaking and entering and theft at St. Martin's school.

Police said the boys stole $3, ransacked rooms, then collected piles of papers and books which they lighted in the school basement.

Vietminh Besieging French Fortress

SAIGON, Indo-China (Reuters)—An estimated 30,000 Vietminh rebels besieging Dien Bien Phu have started closing in on the French-held mountain fortress, the French high command said today.

The command said there was heavy local fighting in the northwest Viet Nam area. Rebel mountain cannon Thursday shot up the fortress' vital landing strip for the first time in a month. Dien Bien Phu is supplied wholly by air.

Observers think the Communist commander may be planning an attack on the fortress before the end of this month.

Meeting Cancelled

The meeting scheduled for this evening in the auditorium of Queen Mary public school in connection with Education week was cancelled this afternoon. Word was received from Ottawa that the guest speaker Dr. Maurice Chagnon of Ottawa University could not attend on account of illness.

U.K. Commons Debates 22 Hours

LONDON (Reuters) — Members stumbled out of the House of Commons today rubbing red-rimmed eyes after a non-stop session that fell just short of 24 hours.

As the chimes of nearby Big Ben boomed out hour after hour, the weary voices had droned on and on in a discussion of life in the British army. About 50 parliamentarians saw the marathon session through from its start at 2:30 p. m. Thursday to its end at 12:52 p. m. today.

The Conservative party pressed the session to its conclusion, despite several Labor attempts to find a lack of a quorum, in order to wind up debate on its £628,500,000 army budget for the coming year.

The Commons finally approved the budget without a recorded vote.

2 Dead, 80 Hurt In 'Chute Jump

FORT BRAGG, N. C. (AP)—Two members of the 82nd Airborne Division were killed in a mass jump of 9,000 paratroopers here Thursday. Thirty were taken to hospital and about 50 other men received minor injuries.

The booted, combat-ready troopers jumped from about 45 C9s (Flying Boxcars) onto four drop zones. Some failed to land in proper zones; others landed in trees.

Driver's Excuse: "Just Fell Asleep"

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—"I just fell asleep; I guess," was a Woodstock man's explanation in County magistrate's court today of a traffic tangle on Highway 2 at Three Bridges March 8.

Kenneth Showers, 23, of Sydenham street, Woodstock, pleaded guilty to careless driving and to driving while his license was under suspension.

On the first charge, Showers was fined $20 and costs or 15 days. Magistrate A. F. Cook reserved sentence on the second charge.

Britain Plans Airborne Army

LONDON (AP) — Britain announced Thursday night plans for a new airborne and air-supplied army but cautioned that the day of push-button atom warfare has not arrived.

"There is no prospect I can see of a kind of atomic curtain, a thing with press buttons, which could protect Western Europe," War Minister Antony Head told the House of Commons.

"There is not enough missile material, and it would not be practical, even with the full use of the air, . . . Any question of guns the size of a 25-pounder firing atomic missiles is at the moment extremely remote."

Head said the British army's new 3.5 rocket launcher, the Patchett gun, new vehicles and tanks "are the best of their kind and there is no prospect of their becoming obsolescent for the next few years."

Govt. Approves Transfer Film Board To Montreal

OTTAWA (CP)—The Commons has approved the transfer of the National Film Board to Montreal from Ottawa, with one Liberal member dissenting.

George McIlraith, member for Ottawa West and former parliamentary assistant to Trade Minister Howe, sided Thursday night with the three opposition parties against the government's decision.

A standing vote of 80 to 33 defeated a CCF motion to delete a $1,500,000 item in the government's 1954-55 estimates for the $5,230,000 NFB building in Ville St. Laurent, a Montreal suburb.

The government already had decided to award the contract to the Hardy Construction Company of Toronto for the building, which will house film board operations now scattered among a number of buildings in Ottawa.

The Montreal move, under consideration for several years, has sparked debate both in the Commons and from Ottawa's Mayor Charlotte Whitton.

The board has about 540 employees, but not all will be involved in the shift.

Mr. McIlraith, speaking in the Commons last week, said the board should be kept in Ottawa under the eye of the government and Parliament, and added that several matters of NFB policy should be decided before any move was made.

Opposition Leader Drew, whose constituency of Carleton includes part of Ottawa, charged the government with going over the head of Parliament and denying it information on which it could decide the question.

Public Works Minister Winters said Parliament had been fully informed of the government's intentions.

He said the move will put the film board in the middle of Canada's largest pool of talent, both French- and English-speaking, and in contact with Montreal's private film industry and the CBC television operations there.

McCarthy Cries "Blackmail" To Army

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senator Joseph McCarthy cried "blackmail" today in reply to an army report charging that he and his chief counsel, Roy Cohn, applied pressure to army authorities for special treatment of a drafted McCarthy aide.

At the same time, four members of the seven-man senate investigations sub-committee headed by McCarthy demanded an immediate meeting to investigate the army charges.

One of the four, Senator Charles Potter (Rep. Mich.) said Cohn should be removed if charges against the 27-year-old sub-committee counsel are true.

SAY STEPHENS THREATENED

The army report said Cohn had voiced threats that Army Secretary Robert Stevens would be "through" and the army "wrecked" if Pte. David Schine were sent overseas. Schine, a pal of Cohn, was a committee consultant until he was drafted last fall.

The three Democratic senator-members John McLellan of Arkansas, Stuart Symington of Missouri and Henry Jackson of Washington —issued a joint statement saying "we assume" McCarthy will call an early meeting.

McCarthy held a press conference at which he flung his counter-charge of "blackmail" and also said he did not see how he could have a sub-committee meeting today. He said he was leaving at 5 p. m. EST for a speaking engagement in Wisconsin.

He said he will be back in Washington Monday.

As to his contention of "blackmail," McCarthy said that John G. Adams, the army's legal adviser, had let him know that the army was preparing a report which would embarrass the sub-committee and which would be released unless the sub-committee halted its investigation of the army.

WON'T FIRE COHN

McCarthy said he has no intention of firing Cohn—"if I can keep him with the committee I will."

Cohn, himself, sitting pale faced beside the senator, denounced the accusations listed in the report as "untrue."

"No improper influence was ever exerted by me of anybody else to my knowledge on the army in behalf of Mr. Schine," Cohn said.

"And No. 2, no such threat as is reported on Mr. Adams' report was ever made."

Of the report as a whole, Cohn said: "It's an unprecedented thing, obviously leaked out by the army because they had failed in prior blackmail attempts."

Specifically, he said, he never threatened "to wreck the army, Stevens or any other such thing."

PROMISES NEW VIEW

McCarthy said he was making public documents from his file which, he said, would throw a different light on the whole episode.

The army report, released Thursday night, said McCarthy applied pressure to get special treatment for Schine. It charged that Cohn used threats in frequent calls to top army officials.

Civil Servants Fired, Cannot Appeal

OTTAWA (CP) — Federal civil servants fired or transferred to other jobs as bad security risks have no right of appeal.

The government said Thursday that it has not been able to formulate a satisfactory appeal procedure because of the impossibility of disclosing to the employees concerned the evidence against them.

The information was contained in replies to three questions placed on the Commons order paper by Dave Fulton (PC—Kamloops).

The government said earlier in reply to questions asked by Mr. Fulton that civil servants who are unable to pass the security screen can be fired or transferred without being given a reason. They also may be dismissed or transferred if they are known to associate or to have associated with Communists.

Mr. Fulton asked whether the government had worked out any appeal procedure for civil servants fired or transferred on security grounds.

CASES REVIEWED

The government said its security measures are continually reviewed and that an appeal procedure has been considered from time to time.

Mr. Fulton asked whether State Secretary Pickersgill, former clerk of the privy council, was a member of the security panel when he was a civil servant or had any responsibility to the panel. He also asked if Mr. Pickersgill is at liberty to answer questions with relation to the work of the panel.

"It is the established and general practice to preserve the anonymity of civil servants serving on interdepartmental committees," the government said. "It has already been indicated that this panel is made up of senior officers of those government departments and offices most concerned with security matters."

The government said the security panel has a secretariat, but did not disclose any names.

Seek To Beautify Buckhorn Village

BUCKHORN — The women's institute met at the home of Mrs. Bruce Hall on Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Harry Shearer the president presided and the first part of the program consisted of community singing. A donation was made to the "Korean Fund." Major projects are to be undertaken to beautify the village if cooperation can be had from the Harvey council.

The theme of the meeting was community activities and the program in chage of Mrs. R. Montgomery who gave two readings, "Happiness in our Institute" and "A link in the community." Mrs. B. Hall gave a paper on "How to improve our community."

Mrs. Harold Calvert conducted a contest after which a social hour was spent at which Mrs. Montgomery gave a demonstration on what can be made out sacks and luck towelling.

The Weather

Peterborough Temperatures:

Today:
Night low....12 Noon.....21
Noon barometer.....29.4

Yesterday:
Highest.....34 Lowest...11

One Year Ago:
Highest.....44 Lowest...34

Official forecasts issued by the Dominion public weather office in Toronto at 9:30 a.m.

Synopsis:

While an extensive high pressure area reaching from the Great Lakes to the Arctic continues to give mainly clear skies over Ontario, the Maritimes are being battered by an intense storm that developed over the Atlantic Thursday and is now hovering over Newfoundland. Another intense storm centred over Kansas is giving gales, rain and snow to a considerable part of the central States. Present indications are that the high pressure area will begin to yield to the advancing storm today, permitting snow or rain to edge into southern Ontario tonight or Saturday.

Northern Lake Huron, Lake Ontario and southern Georgian bay regions: Toronto: Sunny with a few cloudy intervals today and Saturday; clouding over with wet snow or rain Saturday afternoon; little change in temperature; winds north 15 today, light tonight, east 15 Saturday; low tonight and high Saturday at Wingham 25 and 35, Toronto and Trenton 20 and 35, Muskoka 10 and 32. Summary for Saturday: Increasing cloudiness, then snow.

Northern Georgian bay, Kirkland Lake and Haliburton regions; North Bay and Sudbury: Sunny with a few cloudy intervals today and Saturday, clouding over Saturday evening, not much change in temperature; winds north 15 today, light tonight, east 15 Saturday; low tonight and high Saturday at Killaloe 10 and 32, North Bay and Sudbury 5 and 30, Earlton 0 and 25. Summary for Saturday: Increasing cloudiness.

Toronto Trading Prices Higher

TORONTO (CP) — Most prices were higher in light afternoon stock market trading today.

Industrials rose slightly. Papers, liquors and refining oils were stronger. Utilities and food slipped and steels were slightly lower. Constructions, financial institutions and motors were steady.

Although base metals were ahead, profit-taking attacked several recently strong seniors and the group's advance was slowed. Juniors were even and Manitouwadge-area issues stronger.

Uraniums and Bathurst-area base metals were steady.

Golds and seniors were slightly lower but juniors and holding companies were a little stronger.

Western oils were the market's strongest issues with gains ranging to 40 cents by Dome Exploration and 62½ cents by Great Plains.

Mr. Diefenbaker said the courts "stigmatize" people by sending them to jail if they are unable to pay a fine.

Mr. Garson said the instalment system is possible in the U.K. because of that country's probation system. It would be difficult to administer in Canada because of the wider area served by individual courts.

The Commons Thursday night completed its once-through study of the 753 sections in the revised code. However, members still must deal with more than 50 sections, most of them involving contentious issues, which were postponed.

Police Chief Has Doubts About Vice Ring

TORONTO (CP) — Police chief John Chisholm said today he doubts a vice ring luring girls with promises of big money in prostitution is operating in Toronto.

In Hull, Que., Thursday police director J. A. Robert said there is a "big-time" white slave syndicate operating here with girls on call. Recruits were sought from Quebec, Ontario and United States towns among girls whose earnings were small in legitimate occupations.

Hull police arrested two Toronto men—Anatole (Tony) Ethier, 25, and Marcel Leblanc, 30—as they were about to leave for Toronto with two young women. The men were arraigned later on charges of procuring or attempting to procure women as prostitutes.

Police director Robert said a report giving names and addresses in Toronto had been forwarded to police chief Chisholm.

Chief Chisholm said he is anxious to get the report and "we intend to investigate it fully."

Inspector Ellsworth Walker of the Toronto morality squad said he also doubts whether such a ring, if it exists, is based in Toronto.

Morning Crowd Delays Start

The morning session of the Kiwanis music festival was delayed today because of heavy entries in the under 16 and under 14 piano solo tests. Nevertheless, adjudicators Frank Odell and Ronald Biggs kept things moving along and the last item, violin solos, were finished shortly after 1:00 p.m.

Among the highlights of the morning session were choral offerings by Queen Mary school and Immaculate Conception school, but their high markings, 86 and 85, respectively were closely followed by the other contenders.

make an "unlimited investigation" into the highways department. Last Monday the books of six contracting firms working in the Fort William division were seized. The federal government stopped payments on 14 contracts for the trans-Canada highway in the Fort William district which involved $10,500,000 of federal and provincial money.

MAIN ST. TOPICS

CONS. WILLIAMS CONFIRMED

The newest addition to the Peterborough police force, John V. Williams, Thursday was confirmed as a constable by the Board of Police Commissioners. Const. Williams' confirmation had been held up following a physical report from Dr. J. T. Stewart required by the board. The board also decided to advertise for several new fourth-class constables. Applications will be discussed at a special meeting of the board March 24.

GOOD FINE NEWS

No longer will you have to make repeated trips to the police station to pay your parking fines. On the motion of Mayor Norman Graham, the Board of Police Commissioners voted Thursday to maintain a fund of $25 at the sergeant's enquiry desk so that police will be able to make change for those paying fines. The board also voted to establish a $250 fund for acting chief John Naples, to be used at his discretion, to take care of minor disbursements hitherto handled individually through the treasurer's office.

CIVIC NEGOTIATOR

C. B. Scott, personnel manager of the Massey-Harris company in Toronto has been named by the board of governors of the Peterborough Civic Hospital as the hospital's appointee in wage negotiations with unionized employees at the Civic. Hospital superintendent John Hornal said that he expected this dispute to go before a conciliation board shortly. A conciliation board can make recommendations on wages, but only an arbitration board can render mandatory judgments.

LADIES' PENNY SALE

The Board of Police Commissioners Thursday authorized a request from the Women's Auxiliary of the Peterborough Civic Hospital to hold their annual penny sale from May 27 to June 7, a few days longer than usual. This is a ticket-draw arrangement designed to raise money for the hospital. The commissioners also approved a request from the Ladies' Auxiliary of St. Joseph's Hospital to hold their annual tag day April 24.

ASIA'S STATUS GROWS

The prime minister said emergence of new independent status in south and east Asia in the last few years had introduced orientation into international affairs.

"The United Nations reaction to aggression in Korea under the great leadership of the United States of America has provided an example of what can be achieved by peace-loving nations working together to resist aggression and to restore peace," he said.

"In developing our views on Asian problems we have had the advantage of the close consultation which is a feature of Commonwealth relations. We have been further influenced by the extent to which our good friend and neighbor, the United States, has become interested in the problems of Asia in recent years.

ASIAN NEIGHBOR

"What I have said is intended to show the increasing awareness on the part of Canadians of this part of the world: of Asia's needs, of Asia's aspirations and Asia's friendship, and of Japanese needs, Japanese aspirations and Japanese friendship, for Japan is Canada's closest Asian neighbor."

Canadians hoped that Asian peoples, through their own efforts and with the help of such programs as the Colombo plan and UN assistance, would be able to live fuller and more satisfying lives.

"And we hope too that under these plans they will prove for themselves that the democratic processes which characterize the non-Communist world offer more substantial opportunities for material and cultural advancement than the empty promises of communism."

Today the prime minister visited three Canadian destroyers serving in the Far East. He described the destroyers, the Haida, Crusader and Cayuga, as part of Canada's contribution to halting aggression.

GREETED BY COMMANDER

The squadron's senior officer, Capt. John A. Charles of Victoria, who is commander of Canadian destroyers in the Far East and commanding officer of the Haida, greeted the prime minister on his arrival.

A United States Army band played "O Canada," and then the prime minister inspected a guard of honor and the ships' companies.

In a short address in English and French he told the men their job had involved many days of duty at sea, but Canada "felt it was necessary to do our part to prevent any more wars."

The men gave three cheers for the prime minister and he responded by leading them in three cheers for "Canada, this great nation of ours."

Easy Lessons

LANGLEY, B.C. (CP)—A group of Dutch immigrants here is learning the English language faster by singing familiar hymns. Lincoln O'Connor, teaching a choir of 43 at Sharon United church, says "the progress they have made in English is astonishing."

Man Charged With Arson

TORONTO (CP) — John Currie, 27, was charged today with arson in connection with fires Thursday at the plant in West Toronto where police said he once worked.

Currie, arrested earlier today, was also charged with breaking and entering in connection with the fires, at the plant of the Mennen Company, a toilet preparation manufacturer near Bloor and Dundas streets.

The Toronto fire department said today four separate fires were started with gasoline on the plant's third floor. The flames caused damage estimated at about $500.

Police quoted Currie as saying he got drunk at a nearby hotel and had a grudge against the firm.

Joseph C. McMillen

The funeral for Joseph C. McMillen was held from the family residence, Percy Township, to Our Lady of Mount Carmel church, Hastings, where requiem mass was celebrated by the Rev. Leo Leahy of Peterborough, with the Rev. J. C. Moloney of Campbellford in the sanctuary.

Pallbearers were James Crowley, Alphonse Sullivan, William F. Barry, William Thompson, Art Lamey, James Faux.

Graveside prayers were said by Father Moloney, assisted by Father Leahy. Burial was in Our Lady of Mount Carmel cemetery.

UE Advocates Higher Tariffs On U.S. Goods

Higher tariffs to protect the Canadian electrical appliance industry from United States' competition is advocated by the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America (Indep.).

This was stressed Thursday night by Art Hunter, business agent of Local 524, UE, at the February meeting of the union in the Brock Street Summer Gardens.

Concerned about the general economic picture in Canada, the UE are calling on two rival union groups—the TLC and the CCL—to get the federal government to initiate a program ensuring full employment.

This resolution was passed at the last district council meeting of the union. C. S. Jacksokn, Canadian UE president, has sent letters to Percy Bengough, TLC president, and A. R. Mosher, CCL president, asking them to enlist the support of all trade unions, farm organizations and other public groups to persuade the government to start a full-employment program. A conference of all these parties would be held in Ottawa.

Mr. Hunter referred specifically to the refrigerator business as an example of United States competition in the electrical appliance line.

In 1950 Canadian makers turned out 345,715 refrigerators and by 1952 this figure was down 249,617, he said. In that period exports of United States-made refrigerators to Canada had increased from 11,088 to 202,506.

Mr. Hunter said that the CGE refrigerator plant in Montreal (moved there from Peterborough) has laid off about 400 or 40 per cent of their employees since 1951.

Expect New Minister To Be Appointed

TORONTO (CP)—The Toronto Star said Thursday announcement is expected soon by Premier Frost of a new cabinet minister and a new department of government.

The newspaper quotes inner government circles as saying the premier is contemplating the setting up of a department of conservation and adds the new post may be filled by Hon. William Hamilton, former minister of reform institutions who now is minister without portfolio.

Mr. Hamilton represents Wellington South for the Progressive Conservatives in the legislature.

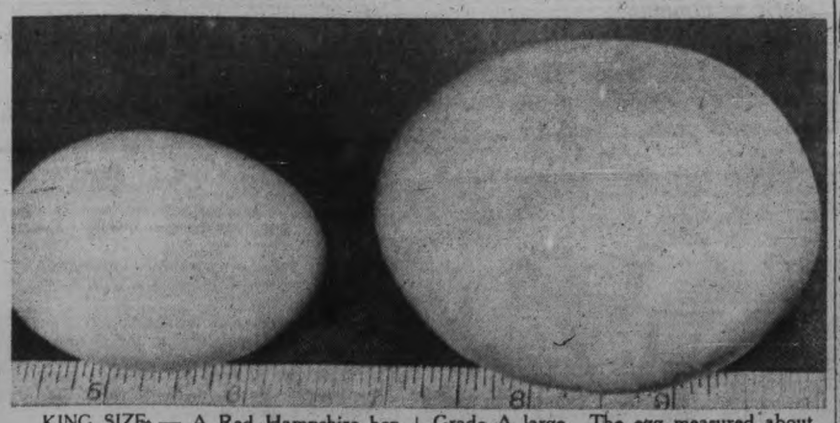
HOW TO USE YOUR LIGHTS AT NIGHT

With good headlights, you can see only 200 feet ahead. You can't stop within this distance at speeds over 50 m.p.h.



- Dim your headlights as soon as those of approaching car begin to cause you discomfort. If he dims first, lower yours at once. Even if he doesn't dim his lights, keep yours low . . . don't glare back!
- Don't ever look directly at oncoming headlights. They can blind you for 3 seconds before you pass—and for 7 seconds afterward!
- Keep your eyes on the shoulder of the road, and use it as your guide when passing.

Mental Patients Occupy Half Of Hospital Beds

ROSENEATH (ENS) — "One half of all patients in hospital beds in Ontario are mental patients," said Dr. A. G. Slemon, M.A., of the staff of the Ontario Hospital, Cobourg. Dr. Slemon was guest speaker at the March meeting of Roseneath Men's Club. His subject was "The World of the Neurotic". "One out of every 20 persons sometime in their lifes will be hospitalized and one out of every five people will need help for neurotic trouble". Continuing he defined a neurotic as "a person with a general feeling of incompetence, inadequate, always unsure of himself, extremely anxious and nervous". Dr. Slemon concluded his address by saying "Sympathy and understanding of the family is absolutely necessary to help the neurotic."

The speaker was introduced by O. J. Robins and thanked by Leslie Campbell. The president C. W. Varcoe presided.

The guest artist for the evening was Ronald Andrews of Hastings, who played a number of violin solos.

During the business period the secretary Fred G. Lewis reported there was an enrollment of sixty members in the club.

Plans were made for an open meeting to be held in three weeks when the members of Cobourg, Baltimore and Grafton Clubs will be the guests of the local club.

An invitation was extended from the members from Fenella to hold this open meeting in the new Community Hall at Fenella. On motion the invitation was accepted.

The executive will arrange for a speaker and entertainment.

The annual meeting and election of officers will be held on April 14.

Plans were made for a "Ladies Night" in April when the wives of the members will be the guests.

The meeting was closed with the National Anthem.

Week-Old Calf Sells For $50

Grade Shorthorns sold up to $216 at the Clarke Garbutt sale on the county home road west of Lakefield Wednesday. The attending crowd was estimated at 1,000 or more. "Coming year and a half" beef grades averaged around $131, year olds $102, calves $80, and one a week old brought $50. A well used hayloader sold for $200.

Cliff Hancock picked up several antiques, one an old cutter which was in its glory maybe a century ago; an ox yoke of the same vintage, and a handmade and operated churn of simple and rare design.

Mr. and Mrs. Garbutt have sold their farm, long held in the family name, and are moving to Lakefield.

W. H. Miles says he has another interesting sale in Dummer on March 23 at the farm home of Mrs. Howard Kidd, South Dummer lore says this farm has been in the Kidd family possession 120 years, one of the longest titles in the county.

Youth Arrested Say Car Stolen

COBOURG (ENS)—Following a chase through town Thursday night Ronald Shortreed, 16, of Port Hope was arrested by constables Homer Seale and Lloyd Huskilson. He is being held for Port Hope police. The two constables were on patrol and noticed a car with two men in it driving along University Ave. They decided to check the car and when they drew up the car sped away. A sixty mile an hour chase through town came to a stop when the fleeing automobile reached the lakeshore. The two men got out and fled but one of them, Shortreed was apprehended.

Converting Equipment For Natural Gas

TORONTO (CP)—An official of the Consumers Gas Company says plans are being drafted to convert equipment of its 170,000 customers in the Toronto area for use of natural gas.

The company hopes Toronto housewives will begin cooking with natural gas by the end of the year if Parliament clears the way for a pipeline from Buffalo to Toronto to bring gas from the United States.

George F. Knight, general superintendent of works, said Thursday the conversion will be completed in 89 days from the day the servicemen begin the job. The work includes adjusting each burner to take the heavier natural gas which has twice the heating value of coal-derived gas now in use.

OPP Find Two Dead In Parked Car

SUDBURY (CP)—The bodies of Omer Jackson Caldwell of Windsor, N. S., and an unidentified woman were found in a parked car on a little-used dirt road in suburban New Sudbury early today.

They are believed to have been asphyxiated.

Police said it is possible the bodies may have been there as long as two days.

They were discovered by two provincial policemen on routine patrol.

The woman is thought to be about 40.

Fed Up With Army Soldier Gets 12 Months

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Cpl. Stanley Kopinski, 22, a native of Calgary, Thursday was sentenced to 12 months in jail on a charge of kidnapping an 18-year-old business school student.

Margaret Sisson of Watford testified Kopinski forced her into his auto at knife-point Feb. 22 and drove her into the country. She said he threatened her with the knife and took off all her clothing but finally returned her unharmed to her London boarding house.

Kopinski said in a statement earlier: "I'm fed up with army life and was drunk."

P.L. REDI-CUT GARAGE

HOME OWNER'S BUDGET TERMS AS LOW AS 16.00 PER MONTH WITH NO DOWN PAYMENT

THE P.L. REDI-CUT GARAGE uses methods of construction the same as those used by an experienced carpenter, but whereas the carpenter has to plan and measure his lengths, cuts, mitres and notches, and then do the craft work on the job, the P.L. Redi-Cut Garage is prepared at the P.L. Plant on Monaghan Road by skilled craftsmen using accurate high speed machinery. You can inspect an erected P.L. Redi-Cut Garage on display on our parking lot. It measures 12'-0 x 20'-0. The sills, studs, plates, plate ties and roof rafters are seasoned graded Hemlock D4s, cut to size, notched and bevelled where necessary and plainly marked. The 1 x 6 Spruce Cove Siding is a select grade, dry and well machined. There is a choice of colours for roofing, which is the well known 90 lb. rock faced roll. The door is 8'-0 x 7'-0, the 24 panels make a smart, good looking job. Because the door is so important it is manufactured 1⅜" thick for extra sturdiness. The overhead garage door hardware is the one piece, lift up type, easy to operate Eastern Steel LIFT-EZE. Pine Trim, all nails, an erection plan, all are included.

(N.B.—If you prefer 8" Pine Bevel Siding, add $12.50 to total cost, 10" Pine Bevel Siding add $30.00 to total, 210 lb. Asphalt Strip Shingles add $23.06. At P.L. your choice is unlimited.)

Maw and Paw Susby left their mountain farm for the first time in ten years to attend the county fair. While strolling through the fair grounds, they passed a demonstration stand where a well-known company was exhibiting one of its washing machines in operation. Paw looked long at the glass door in the machine's front and at the wildly gyrating clothes, suds, and water and then remarked to Maw:

"Well, all I can say is, if that's television; they can have it!"

The New Mill Rate

Peterborough's new tax rate is 49 mills on the dollar, for public school supporters. This looks well, compared with 1953's 64.5 mills. However, when ratepayers get their tax bills, few of them will see a rosy glow. The lower mill rate is due to the re-assessment, not to lower municipal spending. In fact, the estimates against which the tax rate is levied show that the ratepayers are being required to provide $222,858 more this year than they did last. This additional amount is one reason why most ratepayers' tax bills will be higher this year than last.

* * *

Another reason which makes the 49 mill rate higher than the hoped-for 47½—hoped for three months ago when the new assessment notices were going out—is this. The new total assessment is lower than anticipated, lower than the guesses made earlier. In the middle of November the total assessment against which rates could be levied was said to be $59,562,390 (compared with the total before re-assessment, of $42,214,161). This gave ground for hoping that, if the city spent no more this year than last, the new mill rate would be around 47. But by February 1st, and after the first returns from the Court of Revision had come in, the total assessment was thought to be about $59,180,000. By the end of last month, the Council had an official estimate of $58,967,680 on which to base its calculations about the mill rate. This is a drop of half a million dollars from last autumn's first assessment returns. Together with the increase in municipal expenditure, this made the new rate of 49 mills unavoidable.

* * *

Wherein lie the increases? The biggest are for schools, both public and separate, an increase of $67,000 for public schools and collegiates, an increase of about $30,000 for separate schools. Other items in the city budget showing significant increases are estimates for the police and fire departments (the increases partly explained by the lack of direct Provincial grants to them, now in the form of "Unconditional Grants" and about twice as big), Board of Works, Suburban Area Roads, Town Planning, and the Department of Health. The allotment for special grants, despite the new grants for the Historical Society and the Nurses' Registry, is only a thousand dollars more than allowed in the estimates last year, about $1,500 more than the actual expenditure last year on special grants . . . Taxes would have gone up anyway, reassessment or not, because of the increased expenditure.

* * *

There is a considerable gap this year between the rates for Public School supporters and Separate School supporters. The latter usually have a higher rate, but this year the disparity amounts to 7¼ mills. This is large, taking into account also the generally higher assessments. The Separate School Board has some heavy financial obligations, resulting from greater school attendance and high costs. We wish to point out that the wide difference between public and separate school rates is not uncommon today. Consider the situation in Ottawa. That city was re-assessed last year, too. A couple of weeks ago the new mill rates on the new assessments were struck. The drop in the mill rate was less than the drop in Peterborough (from 50.75 to 37.25). That is for the public school ratepayers of Ottawa. The new Ottawa mill rate for supporters of the Separate Schools is 47.36 mills—10.11 mills higher than the rate for the public school supporters. And this very large difference occurs in a large city where half the people are Roman Catholic. Separate school supporters in Peterborough may console themselves that they do not live in Ottawa.

Maintenance Of Parents

In law parents must support their children; also in Provincial law, children must support their parents. The Ontario Legislature is now giving attention to both laws. A new Child Welfare Act has been introduced to strengthen the safeguards already erected for the care and protection of the young. It specifically provides new penalties for negligence in the management and care of children, and for black marketing babies. A jail penalty is provided for the former, a three-year prison term for the latter. Ontario will not allow its children to be exploited.

* * *

The other law, for the maintenance and care of dependent parents, has been strengthened. The new version describes a dependent parent as one who is "destitute or if by reason of age, disease or infirmity he is unable to maintain himself." For such parents children are required to assume responsibility, and sons or daughters may be ordered to pay each week as much as $20 for the support of a dependent parent.

* * *

There are few instances in Peterborough of children refusing to care for old, sick and destitute parents, and fewer where parents have to go to law to claim that support. Nevertheless, there are such cases, as the Family Court officials know.

* * *

It is interesting in this day of the welfare state that an old, even tribal, custom should continue to have support in law. It is an assertion in Ontario that the family, not the state, is the unit of its civilization, and family responsibilities are still primary. Mothers receive the family allowance cheque, but this does not remove from them the responsibility for full and proper care beyond the means of that monthly cheque. Persons aged seventy and over are pensioners, but their $40 a month cheque does not relieve children of the responsibility of seeing that the old parents do not suffer want. Family ties are binding, and the Ontario government is ensuring that the knots are strongly tied.

U.S. Income Tax Tipsters Rewarded

After long and vigorous protest, the Canadian Government abolished the practice of rewarding persons who gave information about other persons who had in some way evaded payment of income tax. The practice is still retained in the United States, however, and judging from figures available, it is not likely that the Treasury Department of that country would drop it without vigorous opposition. The informing allies of the department have enabled it to collect $54 million dollars during the past seventeen years that it might never have collected otherwise. And even in a country in which Federal budgeteers talk glibly of billions, any government would be reluctant to surrender such a source of revenue.

Expectation of profit is not the only motive that leads informers to tell the tax collectors what they know or suspect. Jealously, revenge or curiosity are all allies of the U.S. Treasury Department. One informant, it is reported, was a bookkeeper who thought he should have received a raise, and didn't. Another was a disgruntled business partner. Still another was a wife who knew her husband cheated at cards, caught him cheating in love, and promply told the tax collectors he was probably cheating them also. He was.

The informers receive up to ten per cent. of what the Government may collect, although the average reward is around five per cent. Payments have ranged from as low as $2.69 up to $80,000. During 1951 and 1953 more than $19 million dollars was collected through tips, and more than $1.1 million was paid out to informers. That must have been most satisfactory to the Treasury and to the informers.

No doubt the system operated effectively in Canada, but we are pleased that it has been discontinued. We prefer to have tax collectors and law enforcement authorities trace offenders without the services of paid informers, and from lack of complaints to the contrary, we assume they are doing fairly well at the task. We are not intimating that their task is made easier because there are fewer offenders per million of population in this country than in the United States. We simply dislike the paid informer system, and we hope it will never be reinstated in this country.

NOTES AND COMMENT

A psychiatrist says that nudists tend to be egotists, and certainly they are wrapped up in themselves.

Our defeat in the international hockey contest suggests that Canada should buy a few Russians to raise our hockey standards.

Toronto crooks have made off with $15,000 worth of artificial teeth, and are now fully equipped to put the bite on somebody else.

One out of every three people seeking work in Canada at the moment is registered as "unskilled." And if that isn't a lesson for Education Week, we don't know one.

A contemporary complains that the late Lord Bennett was 'slandered' in Parliament. But there can be no slander in Parliament, for every word uttered there is privileged, and though they may not abuse each other the Honourable Members may abuse the rest of the world to their heart's content.

Senator Haig says that the rural papers he has seen are for the most part 'gossip sheets' Yes, gossip about rural councils, rural churches, rural business, rural sport and rural interests of all kinds. In fact, what less exalted folk than Senator Haig call 'news'. Why, Senator, even international dispatches have been called 'the gossip of chancelleries'.

Money Values Here and Abroad

By SUSAN STRANGE

A NEW and, it is claimed, more realistic method of comparing American and European prices, wage levels, standards of living and defence contributions has been worked out by the statistical experts of the Organisation for European Economic Co-operation in Paris. It indicates that the real national output and defence efforts of Western Europe are substantially higher in comparison with those of the United States than has hitherto been thought.

✧ ✧ ✧

NORMALLY, whenever comparisons are made between the two countries, the price of anything in pounds, francs or other European currencies, is converted into dollars at the official rate of exchange.

✧ ✧ ✧

BUT, as European travellers to the United States have found to their cost, and as most American tourists in Europe find to their relief, two dollars and eighty cents do not go nearly as far in the United States as a pound sterling in Britain; and 350 francs, 625 lira or 4.20 marks seem to buy more in France, Italy and Germany respectively than the official exchange equivalent of one dollar will buy across the Atlantic.

✧ ✧ ✧

BEARING this in mind, the O.E.E.C. economists have worked out a more realistic method of comparison which they find gives some illuminating results.

✧ ✧ ✧

THEIR METHOD, which has already been partially used by the war-time Combined Production and Resources Board in a study of "The Impact of the War on Civilian Consumption" (1945) in Britain, Canada and the United States, is based on the purchasing power of American and European currencies, in real terms of goods and services inside each country, rather than their official exchange values.

✧ ✧ ✧

THUS, the official exchange value of the dollar in sterling terms is seven shillings and one penny. But in terms of relative internal purchasing powers for goods and services, the equivalent of one dollar on the basis of how Britons spend their money was 4s.6d. Spent on food, which is relatively cheap in Britain, for example, three shillings and tenpence will buy a dollar's worth of food; spent on clothing it equals six shillings and one penny. But spent on running a car which, largely because of tax, is a relatively expensive item in Britain, it is worth ten shillings.

IN national terms, the new method of comparison shows that Britain's gross national product amount in 1950 to 57,200 million dollars, valued at American internal prices, or 48,100 million dollars valued at European internal prices — whereas it is usually converted at the official exchange rate into the equivalent of only 34,100 million dollars.

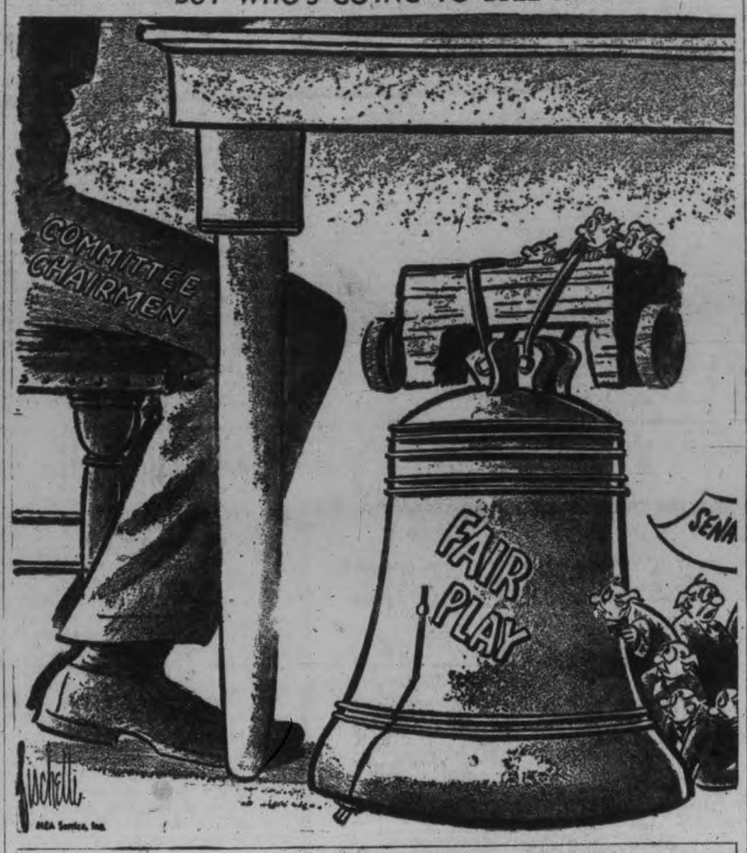
✧ ✧ ✧

SIMILARLY, the defence contributions of Britain, France, Germany and Italy were worth in real terms at American prices more than twice as much as their dollar equivalent at the official exchange rates —11,400 million dollars compared with the United States' 14,600 million dollars. Even by 1952, when the American defence effort had been greatly increased compared with that of Western Europe, the new figures give the latter as over a third of the American effort, instead of just over a quarter.

✧ ✧ ✧

SIMILAR calculations show that none of the four countries are investing even as much as half the real capital per head invested in the United States. Among the European countries, as other studies have also indicated, capital investment is highest in Germany, higher in France than in England, and comparatively low in Italy.

✧ ✧ ✧



IN MAKING all these new comparisons, the O.E.E.C. economists are not arguing that the official exchange rates are wrong or that European currencies are under-valued in terms of the dollar. The internal purchasing power of a currency has little to do with the relation between demand and supply for it in international markets, even if these were freed from all present restrictions.

✧ ✧ ✧

STATISTICIANS, of course, are popularly notorious for being able to prove anything by playing about with figures. But in this case common sense and common experience would seem to support their contention that this new method of comparison, though like all international comparisons, it cannot be completely accurate, is at least more realistic than the usual one based on official exchange rates.

An American Opinion: "---BUT WHO'S GOING TO BELL HIM?"

Radios Wrecking Revolutions

(EDMONTON JOURNAL)

THE radio has been blamed for a great many social changes in recent years. Now the claim is that it has revolutionized South American revolutions.

A writer in the Spanish newspaper, Madrid, commenting on the latest dustup in Bolivia, explains that in former times revolutions in that part of the world were more or less private affairs. They were simply conflicts between rival groups of politicians — the Ins and Outs — each backed by a section of the army. The soldiers fought it out for control of the presidency, while the mass of the people were only interested in dodging stray bullets.

The Bolivian revolution last November started out in the classical manner. Army leaders rebelled against President Estenssoro, overpowered the loyal troops, and seized control of the public buildings. As soon as they captured the radio station, they followed the standard practice and broadcast an announcement of their victory.

This was their big mistake. The revolutionary strategists had forgotten two things. One was that Bolivia's Indian population, who form the majority in the country, had formed the habit of listening to the radio. The other was that the Estenssoro government was very popular with these people because of a land reform program it had sponsored.

Before anyone realized what was happening, enraged Indians poured into the capital from all the surrounding countryside, determined to rescue the president and slaughter his enemies. The revolution collapsed, and its leaders, who were already celebrating their triumph, had to flee for their lives.

To the old professionals, this unexpected interference from the sidelines must seem unsporting and probably illegal. Thanks to the increased irritability of Indians, revolutions in Bolivia may never be the same again.

Letters To The Editor

LIFE-LONG TRANSFUSION

SIR: In reading tonight's issue, I thought much of the letter signed by "David." Re the so-called Jehovah Witness it would seem that "witness" would drop a little bomb right in the midst of our community chest drive, trying to confuse some, by quoting scripture against the transfusion of blood; of course the Devil can and did quote scripture.

Perhaps God in His Mercy will reveal through these verses of scripture to "witness", yes and to us all, our only hope of Eternal Life is through the shed Blood of our Lord Jesus Christ, and He Himself told us to "eat His flesh" and "drink His blood."

St. John's Gospel, chapter 6, verses 53 to 56, we read these words. "Then Jesus said unto them, Verily, I say unto you, except you eat the flesh of the Son of Man and drink His blood you have no life in you.

Whoso eateth my flesh and drinketh my blood, hath eternal life, and I will raise him up at the last day.

For My flesh is meat indeed and my blood is drink indeed, he that eateth my flesh and drinketh My blood dwelleth in Me and I in him."

Yours very truly,
"DAVID'S LITTLE BROTHER."

BILLY GRAHAM

SIR: I would like to say, we do appreciate seeing items of news in your paper (and ours) of the Billy Graham campaign in England. Three (3) issues in a row (Sat., Mon., Tues.) carrying news and comments about his activities will surely meet with the approval of thousands of your readers.

When Billy Graham was in Toronto for three weekend services (January 23-24-25) we were indeed happy that we could hear him in person. He is a man with a message which Canada, England, and every country needs to hear and accept if we are to know peace in our own hearts and peace among the nations. We listen to him regularly on Sunday afternoon on his "Hour of Decision" radio program (WKBW at — up to date — 3:30 and CFRB — 1 week late — 12:30).

In one sense Billy Graham has visited Peterborough through two of his splendid Christian films, "Mr. Texas" and "Oil Town, U.S.A." Then too (I believe it was) 6 bus loads went to Toronto to hear him at his Monday night meeting in Maple Leaf Gardens, January 25th, as well as many private car loads.

With his pianist, Ted Smith and wife being from Toronto and gospel singer George Beverly Shea and his wife from Ottawa, Ontario has a rather personal interest in Billy Graham's team. (I knew Bev. Shea's wife, Irma, when we were girls.) And although one of our so-called most popular radio newscasters in Ontario (Gordon Sinclair) has been making many disparaging remarks about Billy Graham, and in some cases actually distorting the news, yet it all serves to advertise the wonderful work which Dr. Graham and his team are doing. We pray God may continue to bless their efforts.

Sincerely,
MRS. J. W. JOHNSTON.

Bible Message

(From The Authorized Version)

Trust ye in the Lord for ever: for in the Lord JEHOVAH is everlasting strength. (Isa. 26:4.)

✧ ✧ ✧

How great are his signs! and how mighty are his wonders! his kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and his dominion is from generation to generation. (Dan. 4:3.)

✧ ✧ ✧

But in the last days it shall come to pass, that the mountain of the house of the Lord shall be established in the top of the mountains, and it shall be exalted above the hills; and people shall flow unto it. And many nations shall come, and say, Come, let us go up to the mountain of the Lord, and to the house of the God of Jacob; and he will teach us of his ways, and we will walk in his paths: for the law shall go forth of Zion, and the word of the Lord from Jerusalem. (Mis. 4:1, 2.)

✧ ✧ ✧

Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse, and there may be meat in mine house, and prove me no wherewith, saith the Lord of hosts, if I will not open you the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it. And I will rebuke the devourer for your sakes, and he shall not destroy the fruits of your ground; neither shall your vines cast her fruit before the time in the field, saith the Lord of hosts. And all nations shall call you blessed: for ye shall be a delightsome land, saith the Lord of hosts. (Mal. 3:10-12.)

Toy Electric Motors

(UK Information Office)

A British invented and manufactured power unit, known as the Electrotor 2, is a phehomenon of advanced electro-dynamics. Weighing only ¾ oz., its capacity is less than one cubic inch, yet, powered by an ordinary three-to-six-volt flashlight battery, it develops 5,000 revolutions per minute.

Size for size and weight for weight, it is claimed to be the smallest and most powerful motor in the world. It has opened up new fields in the provision of motive power for working toys and models, for it can be housed in confined spaces where previously it has been impossible to accommodate a driving unit. It has many other applications in in the field of science and industry, such as driving small experimental equipment. Repeat orders are regularly received from the Atomic Energy Commissions of Canada, the U.S. and Britain. Universities and research laboratories in many parts of the world have also bought the motors.

Car Rescues Deer

(Sherbrooke Daily Record)

For once a living deer has been given a ride in a car. Passersby who saw an injured buck in the rear seat of an Ottawa worker's auto must have been surprised for the sight is rare.

Gerard Lanthier, 28, who lives in nearby Limoges, spotted the injured animal while driving to work. The deer was bundled into the car; later bedded down and fed, Lanthier plans to free him, when recovered, well outside the city.

Thousands of dead deer are every year sped into the cities by hunters, proud of their prowess. We see them sprawled across hoods and tied to fenders.

Man has come to the rescue of the deer before. Persons living in country districts know how often they have been fed in poor seasons. But we still think a car ride must be rare.

A BRITISH OPINION

"You'll know all about atomic explosions and guided missiles when the Old Man comes to the page about the Army being placed second to the Air Force."

Over-Expansion No Cause Of Difficulties

MONTREAL (CP)—A spokesman for the Primary Textiles Institute says assertions that present difficulties in the Canadian textile industry are caused by over-expansion are not merited.

Commenting on a statement in Ottawa by Revenue Minister McCann who said the industry became over-expanded during and after the war and was now in the process of a shakedown, the spokesman said:

"What little expansion that was undertaken during and after the war has been much less than the expansion of the Canadian market and most other Canadian industries have grown faster than their markets.

"Before the Second World War, Canadian mills supplied 73 per cent of the fabrics used in this country, the remainder being imported. The largest actual output ever achieved was in 1950 but by then imports had increased to such an extent that domestic mills were supplying only 68 per cent of the market.

"If in 1953, Canadian mills had produced at the peak of 1950 they would still have produced only 73 per cent of the cloth used. As it was, imports increased and production dropped, so domestic mills supplied only 56 per cent of the market.

"That is why 17,000 of the 98,000 persons employed in 1950 had lost their jobs by the end of 1953 and why most of the remaining employees were working part-time.

"It should be reasonable for an essential Canadian industry to be able to supply three-quarters of the total market without being regarded as over-expanded."

TWO STUDENT TEACHERS attending Peterborough Teachers' College joined student teachers from all parts of Ontario last weekend when they attended the conference sponsored by the Federation of Women Teachers' Associations of Ontario in Toronto. Suspended Sentences For First Offenders

Wallace Nesbitt (PC — Oxford) said Thursday that should be the rule instead of the exception. At present, suspended sentences for first offenders were the exception instead of the rule.

He suggested during Commons study of the revised Criminal Code that this probationary measure should be statutory.

Suggest Using Prisoners For Planting

TORONTO (CP)—A. H. Cowling, Progressive Conservative member of the legislature for Toronto High Park, Thursday proposed that prisoners from county jails and provincial reformatories be used throughout the watershed areas to do tree planting.

"I can't see any reason why groups of men couldn't be transferred from Guelph and other institutions and jails up to work on the Don and Humber stretches," Mr. Cowling told members of the legislature's conservation committee. "Those districts needs conservation measures badly and so do other districts in the province."

"It would be beneficial to the taxpayer, to all these people in jails—think of the fresh air and work they'd get—and of benefit to all conservation in Ontario."

Committee chairman R. M. Myers (PC—Waterloo South) said the idea merited consideration. It was first mentioned in the report of the select committee on reform institutions and deserved public support.

Some members thought organized labor might object, but Mr. Cowling said unions had always co-operated "wonderfully" in the past, "and there's no reason why not now too."

"We have to pay the prisoners' keep anyway—why can't they be out on the land doing things?" asked Mr. Myers.

The committee agreed to make such a recommendation in its report to the legislature.

Find Headless Corpse

ST. CATHARINES (CP) — The headless body of a woman was recovered from the Niagara river at the Queenston dock Wednesday night. Coroner Dr. J. L. Poirier said the body may have been in the water for months.

How to KEEP FIT after 50

In the old days fifty seemed the signal to slow down—take things easy—watch your diet—get more rest. It's still good advice. But these days you can face fifty with many interesting and active years ahead,—active, that is, if you can avoid backache and the "tired-out" feeling, due to kidney and bladder disorders, that often develop around that age. For more than 60 years Dodd's Kidney Pills have been helping men and women of all ages to keep kidneys and bladder in good order,—helping them to feel better, to work better, and get more fun out of life. If you are approaching fifty, or past it, Dodd's Kidney Pills may help you, too. You can depend on Dodd's. 54

Canadian Troops In Korea Find Nothing Is Wasted

By JACK BRAYLEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

IN KOREA (CP)—The "scrounge and improvise" system of troops of Canada's 25th Brigade would warm the most cold-hearted treasury official at Ottawa.

In the opinion of Col. Harry Sterne of Brantford and Kingston, Ont., it's developing the highest degree of enterprise and ingenuity among the units. He was speaking particularly of his gunners of the 4th Royal Canadian Horse Artillery.

Nothing is wasted in this land of scarce material. Tin cans have uses from light shades to warning rattles. Shell casings become everything from sewer pipes to candle-holders. Boxes become furniture or flooring for tents. Ammunition tins may turn up as radio amplifiers.

HANDY OIL DRUMS

There are scores of uses for oil drums, including company shower baths. Col. Sterne himself has a couple in his caravan which provide him with an excellent bath. It's fed by hot water from an arrangement of oil drums outside.

"This operation," said the colonel "has taught us not to waste a thing and made better soldiers of us all."

The 4th fought the tail-end of the Korean war as the 81st Field Artillery and was recruited largely in Winnipeg, Guelph and Montreal. Post-war reorganization saw it with the new designation and it is scheduled to move back to Canada in April. It takes with it a battle record of three killed, four wounded and seven decorations including a Distinguished Service Order for Col. Sterne.

One of the regiment's proudest battle honors is the citation from the 1st Republic of Korea Division for artillery support during the last days of the war. The Koreans say the situation was saved on their front by the unit's accurate fire.

GOES TO MONTREAL

He's a Royal Military College graduate and was a gunner through the Second World War.

The 4th will be relieved by the 3rd RCHA, formerly the 79th Field, and the newcomers—like the reliefs for other home-going battalions—will find a tough pioneer job has been done in digging out comfortable quarters from the battle-marked hills of Korea.

The homeward and incoming formations will pass each other on the dockside at Inchon, with neutral commission inspectors keeping count to ensure Canada is not increasing her United Nations forces.

One British light battery, the 42nd, also comes under Col. Sterne operationally. This battery served in Halifax in the early 1800s and is the only British unit in the area with a Canadian colonial service record.

CHUMMY SOLDIERS

The Canadian gunners are in the same area with British, Australian and New Zealand artillery men. Their exchange of visits is perhaps more regular than that involving any other large Canadian formation.

Neighboring U.S. Marine artillery also pay regular visits.

One of the gunners' projects is a big tent department store which has done up to $20,000 worth of business a month.

A big sign in the headquarters area proclaims "Come to church every Sunday" and this is popular because a gunners' choir of 15 under Capt. Jack deHart of Halifax with soloist Lieut. G. E. M. Ruffie of Wolfville, N.S., both MC winners in the Korean fighting, makes the services attractive with good music.

Outside Work For Prisoners

OTTAWA (CP)—A former crown attorney says drunk drivers serving short jail terms should pass the time of day mowing the lawn or shovelling snow.

Wallace Nesbitt (PC — Oxford) suggested Thursday that Canada's revised Criminal Code should allow prisoners in county jails to volunteer for outside work to get some fresh air. At present, county jail authorities refused such requests from prisoners on the ground hard labor was not part of the sentence.

The code, he said during Commons study of the revised Criminal Law, should make a distinction between "labor" and "hard labor."

Justice Minister Garson said the revised code does away with hard labor, but that does not mean prisoners will remain idle.

They still will be subject to prison rules and regulations concerning work to be done while serving time. He indicated, however, this applies to prisoners serving long sentences.

CPR Engineer Dies

KINGSTON (CP) — William O. Cudworth, 69, of Sharbot Lake died here Thursday while visiting relatives. He was for many years chief engineer of maintenance of way with the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Push Fluoridation

TORONTO (CP)—The division of health of the Toronto Welfare Council will make the fluoridation of water in Toronto its main project this year. "We must make every effort to bring fluoridation into reality," chairman Dr. Gordon Hatcher said.

Legalize Betting

TORONTO (CP) — Mrs. Paul Seeden, organizer of York township tenants' association said Thursday that Toronto metropolitan council should legalize gambling and collect taxes from bookies before "sub-tenants are milked for school tax." Her remark came after a suggestion by the metropolitan assessor that sub-tenants be forced to pay school taxes.

Suggest Higher Witness Fees

OTTAWA (CP)—A Progressive Conservative and a Liberal think that the fee for witnesses appearing in minor court cases, such as faking fire alarms, should be higher than $4 a day.

Wallace Nesbitt (PC—Oxford), a former crown prosecutor, said Thursday night the fee should be doubled to $8 a day, so that it would be commensurate with the cost of living.

Rev. Dan McIvor (L—Fort William) said it should be the equivalent of what the witness would earn at his job.

Mr. Nesbitt also said a $2.50 fee for a half-day for interpreters is ridiculous and should be increased to $5.

Justice Minister Garson replied during Commons study of the revised Criminal Code that the fees in such summary convictions cases must be paid by the person who is fined.

In most cases, he said, people of "humble means" are involved and they should not be expected to pay high costs in addition to the fine. The figures in the code were reached after considerable study and discussion by a Commons committee.

Appoint Strathcona Co.

OTTAWA (CP)—Lt.-Col. Robert James Graham, DSO, CD, 41, of Belleville, has been named commanding officer of Lord Strathcona's Horse (Royal Canadians) effective June 1. A Second World War veteran, he has been a general staff officer in the directorate of military training at headquarters here for several years.

Coffee Truck Stolen

TORONTO (CP)—A truck loaded with coffee and tea was stolen from outside an east-end store Thursday. Three coffee trucks have been stolen here in as many weeks. Police said the same gang appeared to be responsible for taking the coffee trucks and for ransacking grocery warehouses for coffee.

Find Vote Stealing

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate sub-committee, split on party lines, Thursday recommended unseating Senator Dennis Chavez, New Mexico Democrat, on the ground that there was "flagrant" vote-stealing and other irregularities in New Mexico's 1952 senatorial election.

GRANT'S SPORT CORNER

By DON GRANT

The swish of a skipping rope. The thud of a fist hitting a punching bag. The thumping of feet about the padded ring. The smack of leather hitting flesh.

These sounds are common about a boxing club's quarters, especially prior to an important card. All these and more could be heard Wednesday night as the Alpha Boxing Club's fighters prepared for their first Peterborough showing Monday night at the Brock.

This corner moved from its padded chair and ringing telephones long enough for a good look at the club's boxers and its new quarters in the armouries.

Climbing the stairs leading to the old band room, we recalled how a decade ago the same feet trudged those same stairs to a boys' band practice. It brought back sweet memories of friendships and good times as well as a few sour notes from the brassy trumpet.

But once inside the door those memories were wrecked by the steady beat of hammers and the jagged tune of saws mingled with the singing of the skipping rope and the thud of padded fists.

Boxing And Working

Friend Charlie Birch had his hands full. Trying to keep track of his boxers, preparing them for their skipping, shadow boxing and a few light rounds, Charlie was also hammering and sawing a punching bag into shape.

Club coach, Alex Cross, was rushing across the room, checking boxers, greeting newcomers, collecting club fees, helping Charlie with the standard and generally keeping operations going at a quick pace.

"What do you think of it" he asked glancing about the room, as he passed by. That wasn't hard to answer.

From nothing a week ago the club has developed into the best boxing club Peterborough has ever had. Their enthusiasm in the sport had resulted in the past week into a homemade ring as good as money will buy, a fair amount of equipment, and more projects such as the bag standard under way. All the boys were pitching in.

At the same time the boys on Monday's card were jogging, skipping and shadow boxing amid the construction work.

Harold Jones butted in and with his "How's about a little timed skipping?" both boxers started to work in earnest. Soon both were worked into a sweat.

At this point City Constable Lou Rodreque walked in. Usually when the law enters, action seem to slow but no one with the exception of this corner, Alex, Charlie and several bystanders greeted him. Work continued.

Helps Training

Lou, a former boxer, has volunteered some time to help the lads train. He watched contentedly for a while and at the same time the old urge gradually took possession of him. Finally off went the tunic and shirt and on went the gloves.

Although he towered over stocky, well-built Crough who is featured in the final against Toronto's tough Ray Bloom Monday night, Lou went a few rounds. After that Crough had picked up a few pointers, also a few nasty jabs.

Coasting with Crough, Lou stepped up the tempo in a few rounds with heavy Cridland whose sparring partners are few. They landed some heavy blows in the brief encounter as Lou gradually displayed more of his know-how.

The army then arrived and took over for Lou. Earl Martin, an active forcer from Kingston, changed quickly from his khaki duds into boxing shorts. He's in training for the Eastern Ontario championships in Kingston next week.

After working over the punching bag, Martin sparred a few rounds with Cridland, finding his heavier partner a little too much for him. He then went a few more with welterweight Bill Twomey, who was just a little nervous after a new experience, becoming a poppa.

By this time the place was really humming with activity and no one was in a talking mood. We slipped towards the door and out unnoticed.

Peterborough Rink Skipped By Lye Wins Ontario Colts

Ron Lye's Peterborough quartet won the 14th annual Colts' competition of the Ontario Curling Association at the Granite Club on Friday night, defeating a kid foursome from the Kitchener Granites, 8-6, in the final.

Like most of the other nine games played in the primary and consolation events, it was a close, well-played affair all the way.

Peterborough, although tied after the second and fourth ends, was never behind, but it was necessary for Lye to play a perfect takeout with his last stone to gain the victory. Before he played this rock, Kitchener was lying three and his shot had to be perfect.

By Lye's victory, Peterborough drew up even with the Kitchener and Galt clubs in the matter of victories in the Colts. Each of the three clubs have won the Harvey J. Sims Trophy twice. Peterborough previously won in 1951 and was runner-up last year.

YOUTHFUL RINKS

The two rinks in the final were young aggregations. The winners averaged just over 26 years of age, while the losers, skipped by 19-year-old Jim Lehnen, was the youngest rink to ever reach the last eight in competition.

Garry Pheler and John Fleming, the lead and second, are 18 years old, while Jack Harris, vice skip, is 20. The rink averages just under 19 years.

It was a tight battle. Each rink scored a pair of deuces and there were two dead ends, the fifth and seventh. Peterborough built up a 7-3 lead on the first nine ends, but Kitchener came right back to total three on the next two ends, trailing 6-7 coming home.

C. Pilling On Top

C. Pilling had high singles of 267 and H. Heckman best triple of 633, including 215 and 238 games, in the Wednesday afternoon girls' bowling circuit. H. Bleakley's 615 was next best three, including games of 200, 307 and 208. Dinkies topped teams with 2561 and Wild Cats had high single with an 875 chore. Ramblers and Dinkies each took three points from Bombers and Tornadoes, while two each went to Rockets, Terrors, Happy Gang and Eager Beavers over Whizzz Bangs, Cisco Kids, Wild Cats and Playfairs.

Good scores: A. Lucas (239) 598, A. Collins (233 and 200) 597, M. Downer (203 and 225) 597, M. Manley (217 and 222) 581, F. Kokesh (222 and 215) 577, J. Casey (216) 556, C. Pilling (267) 549, L. Aces Lose Out To The K's On The Series

Peterborough Aces defeated Kingston All-Stars 3-2 in Kingston last night but lost out in their OMHA juvenile "A" playdown round by a 9-7 score. Kingston had won the first game of the home-and-home provincial series 7-4 here last Thursday night, and managed by close defensive work in the scoreless third period to hold off a determined but vain attempt by the Aces to sew up the round.

The Aces, managed and sponsored by Angus Bradley, with Bill Crowley of the Petes as coach, turned in a fine effort in a speedy, clean contest, to earn the decision, though falling two goals short of tying the round. They earned plaudits with a fine showing in a losing cause, playing better hockey last night than in their first tilt with the All-Stars of the Limestone City.

Ferren scored early from Kane and Floyd for Aces, with Burnett tying it up at 1-1 later in the initial period. It was all Peterborough in the middle heat, Floyd scoring half way through from Ferren, and later Kane counting on a solo for the Aces. They kept peppering the Kingston goalie but couldn't get another past him. Meantime, Kingston got one marker in the final few seconds of the period, Jackson and Sullivan. Aces again pressed in the third but neither side scored.

Kingston—Goal, Hooper; defence, Hampton and McIntosh; centre, Drinka; wings, Brown and Burnett; alternates, Bolting, Ries, Howland, Tinkess, Peters, Jackson, O'Sullivan and Snelgrove.

Gimblett Leads

Mary Gimblett won a case of pop with high single of 307 in the Mercantile Bowling League as Zita Spencer hit top three of 765, two more than Gladys Hamilton. George Gimblett led men bowlers in the loop with 739 for three, as Jack Martell hit a high single of 293. Neill's showed the way for teams with 3056 pinnage.

Glen Baker's crew topped A & P No. 2 team by 4-0, as Austin's blanked Crowe's. Neill's also whitewashed Prudential, and East City applied the brush to Empress. Cal Nicholl's bunch split evenly with the A & P No. 1 team.

Kroll, Besselink Share Golf Lead

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Tiny Ted Kroll and towering Al Besselink, a pair of long-driving New Yorkers, twisted a strong wind into an ally Thursday to share a one-stroke lead in the $10,0000 Baton Rouge PGA Open with sizzling six-under-par 66s.

Kroll and Besselink showed a thin lead over tournament favorite Cary Middlecoff of Memphis, veteran Ed Furgol of St. Louis, and virtually unknown Mike Homa of Rye, N.Y., all a notch behind with 67s.

Midget Policemen Advance Into OMHA Semi-Finals By Defeating Barrie 11-2

Pat Doherty's Policemen are only midgets but when it comes to scoring they're giants. Their opposition in PMHA and OMHA will certainly agree to that.

Take for instance the Policemen's first game with Barrie Flyers this week. They coasted then to an easy 11-3 victory. Then take Thursday's game at the Civic arena in the second game with Barrie. They won that easily by a lop-sided score, 11-2.

Those victories gave the Policemen the two-game series 22-5 and advances them into the OMHA midget "A" semi-finals probably next week against Kingston.

Coached for the past two seasons by Doherty, the Policemen displayed every little trick taught them as they romped through the Flyers Thursday night. They also had a few defensive tricks which kept Barrie off the scoresheet until midway through the third period.

The Policemen passed and shot well as they outskated the Flyers throughout. Only once or twice, then late in the third, did the Flyers press, then in several one and two-man attacks.

RUIN SHUTOUT

Goalie Terry Welsh, not overly worked in the first two periods, made several sensational stops on the Flyers' Bob Quinlan, Ron Butler and Greg Tomlinson before his chances of a shutout were ruined.

When Quinlan finally did break Welsh's goose-egg, the Policemen goalie didn't have a chance as his teammates let Welsh break in too closely. The other goal, by Jim Edwards, came on a Barrie powerplay while the Policemen were a man short.

Meanwhile in the Flyers' goal Ray Walton was kept busy until hurt in the second period. His replacement, John Ambroso, was kept equally busy by the Shamrocks as Gary Darling, Bill Mahoney, Pat Baker, Pete Heffernan and Jim McCarthy easily slipped through the Flyers' defence time after time.

GOALIE HURT

Walton suffered a possible fractured shoulder in the second period and was carried from the ice. Later after preliminary inspection by a doctor, Walton was taken to St. Joseph's hospital for x-rays.

The Flyers' goalie was starring to that point and he was left unguarded. Finally Pete Heffernan broke through, blasted a short shot at the net, Walton stopped it with his right shoulder, and fell injured.

Only minutes before the Policemen's Frank Daly had been carried from the ice unconscious, hit by a puck on the forehead. Sporting a large bump he returned for the third period.

DALY SCORES

Daly opened the scoring as he slapped in a passout from Rick Pace behind the Flyers' goal. Bill Mahoney followed up six minutes later with the Policemen's second goal, knocking in a rebound after a shot by Darling.

Going into the second leading 2-0, the PPolicemen pressed and were rewarded when Wayne Haig scored on a long shot from the blueline. Pace set up another goal minutes later when he passed to Baker as they broke in on Walton.

Then up 4-0, the Policemen Heffernan broke in alone on Walton, his shot hitting the Flyers' goalie's shoulder. Walton slumped out of his net, Cy Coombes grabbing the puck and passing to Heffernan who shot into the open net.

Before the period ended Darling climaxed a neat passing play with Mahoney and Baker by scoring on the replacement, Ambroso.

Darling also opened the scoring in the third when he tipped in a rebound after Pat Baker had shot from well out. McCarthy sent the Policemen further ahead at the 12-minute mark when he combined with Darling.

Then Quinlan put the Flyers' on the scoresheet with a shot from close-in, only to have Darling retaliate a minute later. The Flyers came back and Edwards scored while Daly was off.

McCarthy and Baker finished the scoring as the Policemen started to break through easily on Ambroso in the dying minutes of the game.

Lineups:

Six Peterborough Teams To Compete COSSA Finals

Saturday is COSSA basketball day in Toronto. That's the day when six teams from PCVS and St. Peter's High will represent the Lakeshore district in the tournament against representatives from the Bay of Quinte, Niagara Falls and Georgian Bay districts.

The senior and junior "A" titles for boys and girls, the boys' senior and junior "B" championships will be the targets for the Peterborough quintets.

This is by far a record for sending teams to Toronto for the Central Ontario championships. Previously the best was three teams, usually both boys' teams from PCVS and one girls' team.

This year is the first time since the war that all four PCVS teams have represented this district. At the same time it's the first time that the Purple and Gold from St. Peter's has made its appearance in COSSA basketball play.

In fact, the city school quintets did so well this season that they swept six out of the eight possible places in the COSSA. The only sections in which the city isn't represented is in the girls' senior and junior "B".

"The" game Saturday will be the senior "A" semi-final between PCVS and Niagara Falls Collegiate 1953 champions and once more the favored quintet. These quintets meet in the semi-final round at Hart House, University of Toronto at 2 p.m.

HIGH HOPES

Coach Zoltan Temesv is high in his hopes that the Garnet and Grey will defeat the Falls' entry. The Niagara team has been thoroughly scouted by the Garnet and Grey in recent games.

If the Garnet and Grey wins, it will be only the third time since the Second World War that the Falls haven't been COSSA senior "A" champions. They have lost to PCVS and Belleville.

The other senior semi-final pits Belleville Collegiate, Bay of Quinte district, against St. Andrew's College, Georgian Bay district. The winners will meet at 8 p.m. for the championship.

Two Peterborough teams are highly favored to win COSSA titles. They are the senior Saints, coached by Hilly Yudin, and the juniors, coached by John Lynch. Both quintets have proved strong in district play.

Basing predictions on the Ontario Catholic Conference tournament a month ago, senior Saints should easily slip into the senior "B" final, defeating the Niagara representative, Notre Dame Collegiate of Welland, in the semi-final.

Providing they reach the final, the Saints will meet the victor of the Albert College, Belleville, Pickering College semi-final.

In the junior "B" play, the junior Saints will first meet the junior quintet from Notre Dame. The winner there will advance into the final to play either Trenton or Midland who play in the other semi-final.

The boys' "B" tournament will be played at the Ryerson gym, beginning a 1 p.m.

FACE FAVORITES

Art Currie's PCVS junior "A" quintet, like the seniors, face the tournament favorites in the semi-final play. Limwell Collegiate, representing the Niagara district, easily won their district title and the right to play in the COSSA by drubbing Saltfleet twice.

In the other junior semi-final Belleville and Orillia meet. The junior final will be at 7 p.m., also at Hart House.

Meanwhile at the Ontario College of Education the Garnet and Grey will by flying in the girls' "A" competition. This is the first time in two years that both PCVS teams have played in the COSSA.

Mabel Gillen's strong junior quintette also have their hands full in the semi-final play, meeting their old rivals, Niagara Falls, at 2 p.m. The winner of that game will advance into the final against Barrie, the Georgian Bay champions who reached a bye in semi-finals.

The situation for Miss Gillen's senior Garnet and Greys is the same. They meet Niagara in the semi-final, the winner advancing into the final against Orillia who also received a bye.

Survivors Reaching Final In Local Curling Bonspiel

Today is the final day of the all-week open mixed rink bonspiel and it is expected that around 10 o'clock this evening, winners of the four trophies will be declared.

It has been a week of real high-class curling. The majority of the games were close and from a spectator's point of view they were really interesting.

During the week there were 224 curlers competing from 25 curling clubs and from all parts of Ontario. That this bonspiel has now become one of the outstanding events of the curling season there is no doubt.

VISITORS LEAD

In yesterday's games the visitors once more took the play from the local curlers. Out of the seven rinks that qualified to play on Friday, five were from visiting clubs and only two from the local club.

Those who qualified were: The Empress Hotel Trophy, G. Braund, Peterborough and Dr. A. Walkey, Hamilton; The Calvert Trophy, H. J. Murphy, Bobcaygeon and W. H. Sonley, Toronto High Park; The T. Eaton Trophy, T. Doughty, Peterborough and B. McClure, Brampton; The Gordon K. Fraser Trophy, Dr. C. Brereton, Toronto Granites.

Congratulations to the local Colt's rink. They won the championship in Toronto Friday: E. Poast, G. Foresbery, G. Unsworth and R. Lye, skip.

Ontario Girl Heads Entries In Junior Skating Crown

By PHIL ADLER
Canadian Press Staff Writer

CALGARY (CP) — Junior-class skaters complete their program today as the Canadian figure skating championships advance into the second day with four titles in the offing.

Junior women's and men's singles champions will be crowned as well as champions in the junior pairs and junior dances. There are no previous Canadian titleholders competing because winners automatically advance into senior events.

The schedule of 10 events was cut by one Thursday when officials scratched the fours competition because the Vancouver Connaught Club quartet of Pat Spray, Audrey Downie, Norman Walker and Brian Power was the only entry.

DOMINATED FIGURES

She dominated the compulsory school figures by skating to first place in all five figures.

Members of Calgary's Glencoe Club and the Toronto Skating Club took all but one of the other five top positions.

Dianne Williams, clubmate of Miss Shippam, finished second while Pamela Willman of Connaught held third place, a fraction of a point better than fourth-place Karen Dixon of Glencoe.

The compulsory figures account for 60 per cent of total marks, the balance being scored on the free skating to be held tonight.

The eight trying for the junior men's singles title will skate their compulsory figures in the morning and finish at night with free skating. The Connaught club is making a bid for the title, won in 1953 by Douglas Court of Toronto, with Walker, Douglas Scott Eaton and Power. The other competitors are David Lowery and Lennart Loevenmark, Oshawa; Robert Paul and John Rodway, Toronto; and Richard Rimmer of the Minto Skating Club, Ottawa.

PRELIMINARY ROUND

Three pairs skated a preliminary round in the junior dances class Thursday night. The change from elimination round was necessary because of the small entry list. Connaught's Doreen Leech and Walker, Saskatoon's Leone Miller and Dennis McFarlane and Claudette Lacaille and Jeffrey Johnston, of Montreal and London, Ont., respectively, were marked but the points were not announced. The title will be decided tonight.

Competing for the junior pairs honors will be Beverly McIntyre and Michael Healy, Arlene McFarlane and Eaton of Connaught, Diane Nelson and Edwin Cossitt of Hamilton; Gale Rennie and Dennis McFarlane of Saskatoon, and Barbara Wagner and Robert Paul of Toronto.

By JIM BASTABLE

Jim Thomson scored his first goal in 200-odd games. Harry Lumley got a shoutout. Toronto Maple Leafs beat Montreal Canadiens. New York Rangers lost and are just about out of the Stanley Cup running. And little Wally Hergesheimer broke a leg.

The spectacular and the disastrous ran like that in the National Hockey League Thursday night.

The league-leading Detroit Red Wings walloped the last-place Chicago Black Hawks 6-2. The Leafs strengthened their hold on second place with a 3-0 victory over Canadiens before 14,516 frantic fans at Montreal. Boston Bruins sent the Rangers into virtual oblivion for another year with a 1-0 win.

But, take a look at the sidelights:

Thomson, the Leafs' top but seldom-scoring defenceman fooled Montreal goalkeeper Jacques Plante with a weird, bouncing shot from 75 feet out. It was his first goal since the 1950-51 season and the 10th in regular competition since he came up to the Leafs as a regular in 1946-47.

COACH'S DREAM

Lumley, a coach's dream ever since he joined the big leagues 10 years ago, racked up his 13th shutout of the season by robbing such Montreal stars as Maurice Richard Ken Mosdell, Bert Olmstead and Tommy Johnson.

At Boston the Ranger loss was bad. But when Hergesheimer tripped over Boston's Leo Labine in the third period and fractured his left leg it was tragic. Hergy has been a great rightwinger with the New Yorkers and was a key man in coach Muzz Patrick's plans for the playoff run.

The Rangers now trail the Bruins by three points for the fourth and last playoff berth. The Rangers have only four games to go. The Bruins, however, have two games in hand.

In the third period, Richard came dashing into the Toronto end and was blocked off by Leaf defenceman Tim Horton. When Referee Red Storey failed to call a holding penalty, the fans yelled and threw rubber overshoes, newspapers and programs.

Lumley made 34 saves. Plante stopped 17 Leaf drives.

SEVENTH SHUTOUT

At Boston, Dave Creighton's third period goal gave the Bruins their 28th victory of the season. His close-in shot on a pass from Labine trickled through goalie Johnny Bower's legs at 12:42. Goalkeeper Sugar Jim Henry of Boston thus marked up his seventh shutout of the season.

Heavyweights To Fight In New York

NEW YORK (AP)—Cuba's Nino Valdes and Saskatchewan - born James J. Parker, a couple of king-sized heavyweights with long winning streaks, have it out in Madison Square Garden tonight. The Cuban champion is a 3-to-1 favorite to win the 10-rounder.

Both the 29-year-old Valdes and Parker, 25, stand six feet, three inches and weigh 210. Both are better than fair punchers and the chances are that the fight won't go the limit.

It starts at 10 p.m. EST and will be broadcast and telecast.

Valdes, the world's No. 2 contender behind Ezzard Charles, has a winning streak of six that started July 18 when he knocked out Omelio Agramonte to grab the Cuban crown. His other victims included Charles by decision and European champion Heinz Neuhaus via a knockout. His record is 29-8-1 with 20 knockouts.

Parker, former resident of Toronto and Barrie, who now lives in Paterson, N.J., has won nine in a row since April 14, seven of them by knockouts. His over-all record is 26-4-2 with 22 kayos. He has been stopped twice, by Dan Bucceroni and Bernie Reynolds.

A one-time soldier, oilwell driller and cowboy, Parker has a big kick in his right hand but there are indications he has a china chin.

Remember When—

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Saskatoon Quakers won the Saskatchewan senior hockey championship 21 years ago tonight by beating Regina Vics 3-2 in a two-game total-goal series. The Quakers then defeated Edmonton Superiors and Trail Smoke Eaters to enter the Allan Cup finals, where they lost by two straight games to Moncton Hawks. It was the Maritimes' first Allan Cup triumph.

Stronger Teams May Be Sent To World Hockey

By W. R. WHEATLEY

MONTREAL (CP)—If Canada is to continue sending teams to the world hockey tournament, this country's representation must be stronger, president W. B. George of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association says.

George arrived by air from Stockholm Thursday, where the Toronto East Yorks absorbed a 7-2 licking at the hands of the Russians in the final game.

The make-up of any future teams pre-tournament training and practice and expenses involved are points to be considered, said George.

At the same time, he indicated plainly that the Europeans, and particularly the host-country Swedes, had no illusions that Canada had sent its best despite the victory march of the East Yorks before they ran into the Russians.

NO RUSS TOUR

George said he is convinced the Russians won't send their team to Canada, although secretary-manager George Dudley of the CAHA was quoted Wednesday as saying he favored inviting the Russians because of current interest in the team and as a good financial proposition.

George said he felt the Russians "wouldn't want to jeopardize the position they are in now" and also "wouldn't want to play under our rules."

On the other hand, he said he was approached about a possible visit of a Canadian team to Moscow. His reply was that any move in this direction would have to be made through the International Ice Hockey Federation and the CAHA.

George will make his report and any recommendations to the CAHA annual meeting in Vancouver May 9-13.

He gave no indication what his recommendations will be about continuance of Canada's participation and team selection. He did say, however, consideration would have to be given to taking a ready-made team or assembling a group of players from various parts of the country. There would also be the question of length of training and whether this should be done in exhibition games in Canada or in Europe.

Want Action Against Vicious Attackers

TORONTO (CP)—St. Michael's College will seriously consider quitting junior hockey if something is not done to curb "vicious attacks" by some players on St. Mike's men, Rev. Don Faught, manager of the team, said Thursday.

Referring to a fight in the third period of last Sunday's Ontario Hockey Association Junior A game with Toronto Marlboros, Father Faught said St. Michael's will decide whether to continue "in a sport that allows a player like Marlboros' Gerry James to get away with vicious attacks on opposing players."

Father Faught said: "If someone did such an unexpected thing on the streets, he would be put in jail. Yet in hockey that is exactly what James did. He hit Reaume for no reason at all except that he wanted to get him."

James, however, charged that Reaume boarded him behind the St. Mike's net. He also said St. Mike's was one of the "dirtiest" teams in hockey.

"Every injury that team gets it deserves."

Father Faught's reply was that St. Mike's have been handed fewer penalties than Marlbores and most of these were minors.

"The only time our boys fight is when someone else starts it," he said.

Howie Meeker Finds Success As Coach

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Howie Meeker, who is known for doing things well in his first attempt, is adding another first-year accomplishment to his record.

The five-foot, 8½-inch native of Kitchener is making a success of his first year as a coach—and at the expense of his home town. Forced to retire as a member of the National Hockey League Toronto Maple Leafs because of a back injury this year, Meeker took the job as coach of Stratford Indians in the Ontario Hockey Association Senior A series.

Not only did he steer the Indians to the playoffs but the little right-winger has driven them to within one game of eliminating Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen from the OHA semi-finals.

Considering that the Dutchmen, last year's Allan Cup champions, finished this season's schedule in second place—three spots ahead of the Indians—Meeker is doing quite a job.

The Indians came from behind with four goals in the last period in Kitchener Thursday night to defeat the Dutchmen 6-4. The victory gave Stratford a 2-0 lead in the best-of-five semi-finals. One more victory will send the Indians into the OHA final against either the Owen Sound Mercurys or Chatham Maroons.

The Mercurys, who finished first in the standings, are having the same troubles as the Dutchmen but not quite as bad. After taking a 3-0 lead in their best-of-seven set with the Maroons they have twice muffed a chance to wrap up the series.

Chatham walloped them 6-0 in Owen Sound Thursday night to narrow the lead to 3-2.

The Stratford-Kitchener tussle survived a first period in which 22 penalties, accounting for 78 minutes, were handed out. The game quietened down after that and only eight more penalties were assessed.

The Indians also got the best of the penalties, taking 16 of the 30, including 12 minors, two five-minute majors and two 10-minute misconducts. Included in Kitchener's total of 14 were 10 minors, three majors and one misconduct.

Owen Sound's poor showing is attributed to the loss of a number of key players. The Mercurys operated with only two forward lines Thursday night. Jerry Reid, John Shedden and Tom Burlington are all out with injuries. Buck Forslund, a victim of influenza, also sat the game out.

Sixth game of the Owen Sound-Chatham series will be in Chatham Saturday, the same night that Stratford meets the Dutchmen at Kitchener.

MAY SHATTER RECORD

BRADENTON, Fla. (CP) — The man to beat Babe Ruth's record of 60 home runs is Eddie Mathews, an apple-cheeked lad of 22 who hit 47 last year with Milwaukee Braves.

Charlie Grimm, his manager, thinks so. He believes the youngster has the potential to succeed where such men as Jimmy Foxx, Hank Greenberg, Hack Wilson, Lou Gehrig, Johnny Mize and Ralph Kiner failed.

"He has the power—that I know" said Grimm at the Braves' training base. "He hit the longest ball I ever saw last year at Cincinnati.

"The thing that will help this kid is his temperament. He still wears the same size hat. He's anxious to learn."

Grimm, of course, didn't mean Mathews necessarily would hit any 60 this year. He'd be satisfied with 47 again. Ruth didn't hit his until he was 32. That gives Eddie 10 years to make it.

Mathews is durable, an important factor in shooting at any record. This is particularly important at third base where he must face enemy spikes and line drives every day. He played every game last season.

BIDS FOR OLYMPIC GAMES

He said Thursday he would be willing to go to Greece in May to make a personal plea on behalf of the city before the International Olympic Committee.

"The only way we would be able to get the Olympics here is to indicate we mean business," said the mayor. "I've been interested for som years in having the Olympics in Canada, and I think now is the time to go all out."

The mayor said the CNE stadium could be enlarged to the 40,000 capacity required for the Olympics.

Quinn had been ailing since he suffered a stroke two years ago.

His son, John J. Quinn, is general manager of the Milwaukee Braves National League Baseball club, the same team the elder Quinn served as general manager before it moved to the mid-west city.

Training Camp Notes

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Johnny Pesky, last of the Detroit Tiger holdouts, signed his contract Thursday after a second conference with general manager Muddy Ruel.

GREENVILLE, S.C. (AP)—Lou Brissie, southpaw pitcher ticketed by Cleveland Indians for a minor league role this season after six years in the majors, said Thursday he will not report to Indianapolis of the class triple-A American Association.

"I know that two major clubs have attempted to work a deal for me, but were turned down," he added. "Since there is apparently no hope of returning to Cleveland and major league ball, I am not going to report to Indianapolis."

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Outfielder Jim Rivera of Chicago White Sox needed hospital treatment Thursday after crashing into a wall during a "B" team game with Cincinnati Redlegs.

Rivera suffered chest and leg injuries when he bounced into the centrefield wall trying to field an inside-the-park homer by Bob Hazle of the Reds in the fifth inning.

He was carried off the field and taken to hospital where x-rays disclosed no serious injuries, it was reported.

The former New York Yankee, Washington and St. Louis Brown pitcher gave up three hits, struck out three and walked two during his stint. The Red Sox later won the game 3-2 in 10 innings.

Skiing In Ontario Reported Still Good

TORONTO (CP)—There is still excellent skiing both on the tow hills and in the bush at five Ontario points—Cobourg, Collingwood, Kirkland Lake, Larder Lake, and Orangeville-Hockley—a province-wide survey shows.

Good skiing is reported at Flesherton-Markdale, Owen Sound (excellent in the bush), Sinclair township (excellent in the bush), Sudbury-Levack and Sundridge; fair skiing at Barrie (good in the bush), Brimmacombe, Haileybury (good in the bush), Huntsville, Midland (good in the bush), Newmarket (good in the bush), North Bay (none on the hill), and Toronto Summit (good in the bush). Skiing conditions at Raglan are poor.

There is no skiing at other points.

Piano Quartette Attains Highest Yet In Festival

Probably the Musical treat of Thursday evening's session of the Kiwanis music festival was the first number; a piano quartette played by four Peterborough girls, 18 years or younger. The adjudicator's mark was 88, the highest so far attained in the musical field. The girls were Evangeline Roberts, Carole Routly, Lorraine Middleton and Terry Northrop.

Thursday evening found the auditorium packed although the coming and going of heavily populated choirs accounted for much of the congestion. Junior choirs from various churches from the city and district, afforded pleasant listening and appealing tableaux. The Kenner and Otonabee choirs were especially large.

The George St. United church and Sacred Heart church ladies triple trios heralded the approaching 17th with renditions of Moffat's "The Dear Little Shamrock." The former was noted for its quality of tone and excellent blending; the latter for its vivacity.

A general fault in the junior choirs was a monotony of volume. The crescendos were lessened in effect by the lack of forerunning piano. Both adjudicators, Frank Odell and Ronald Biggs advised stricter attention to the score markings or dynamics. One of the most delightful numbers of the evening was Mendelssohns' "The Fairies Ride," but in each case, the choirs lacked the light quick quality which is the hallmark of Mendlessohn.

The final number "The Oak and the Ash" (folk song), by the PCVS triple trio, left little to be desired. The only detected defect was a slight sharpness at the end of certain phrases.

THURSDAY EVENING—ST. PETER'S

Class 123, two-part chorus, Isle of Beauty (Irish folk song)—1 SS 6, Smith, Lakefield (82); 2 SS 3, Manvers, Bethany (80); 3 Warsaw public school (79); others, SS 4 South Monaghan, Bailieboro school, Burleigh Falls school, USS 12, Douro and Dummer, Indian River, Lily Lake school, Young's Point school, Cedar Grove, North Cavan, SS 5 South Monaghan, SS 3 Smith-Peterborough, Cedar Valley, South Cavan, SS 9, Dummer.

TWO-PART GIRLS' CHORUS sang "Somewhere a Child Is Singing" to win first place in one of the several choral groups at Kiwanis music festival today; they are from the Immaculate Conception School, Ashburnham, and their singing class was contested by Cartwright Intermediate School, Blackstock. The morning program included violin and piano solos; the many contestants caused some congestion and delay and ran the program slightly behind schedule. —(Examiner Staff Photo).

Ex-Saboteur Discusses Master List Reds

MONTREAL (CP)—John Hladun, described as a Moscow-trained saboteur who now has become lecturer and author, said Thursday night his greatest ambition is to "find the secret master list of names on a card index, hidden somewhere in Toronto, and containing all known Canadian contacts of the Communist party."

Addressing an RCAF intelligence unit, he told how he underwent an eight-month course in sabotage in Moscow after joining the party in 1930 and added:

"Among the tactics taught us was the importance of compiling a thorough index listing all party members, sympathizers, people we could count on from time to time, persons who could be black-mailed into helping us and our chief opponents."

He said he believes this master index now is kept by the party at the Toronto headquarters.

Hladun, a farm boy from a small community near Winnipeg, said: "During the depression, the idea of a classless society where everyone had an equal share of everything sounded very good. But I found Russia very miserable. Their plans were diabolical, beastly, and had no respect or compassion for the individual."

Hladun, who said he left the party in 1933, stated the course, for 20 Canadians and 6,000 other people at Moscow University, "began with indoctrination lectures in which we were told to prepare for an eventual world revolution.

OBITUARIES

MRS. HARRY BROOK

Funeral services were held on Thursday for Mrs. Harry Brook, the former Janet Elizabeth Smith, who died Monday.

The service was held from the Brook residence at 99 Princess St. to the Kaye funeral home. Major H. G. Roberts of the Salvation Army officiated at the 3.30 ceremony.

Burial will be in the Little Lake cemetery.

MRS. MARY ELLEN PETERS

A resident of Peterborough for the past 37 years, Mrs. Mary Ellen Peters died at her home 63 Aylmer St. N., Thursday evening. She was in her 86th year.

Born in Belmont township, Mrs. Peters was the daughter of the late Samuel Hubble and his wife Anne Drain. Miss Hubble married George Peters, who predeceased her in 1941.

After receiving her education in Oak Lake, Mrs. Peters spent most of her married life in Norwood. She came to Peterborough in 1917.

Mrs. Peters is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Lillian Dunford, also of 63 Aylmer. Three sisters also survive: Mrs. Emma Emery of Peterborough, Mrs. Ada McCausland of Gormley and Mrs. Fleda Buchanan of Toronto.

Three grand-daughters also are among the chief mourners. These are Mrs. Milton Fowler (Leah) and Mrs. Everett Dawe (Norma) both of Peterborough, and Mrs. Frank Fage(Faye) of Vancouver.

The funeral service will be held from the Kaye funeral home to Knox United Church Saturday at 2 p.m. The Rev. H. Douglas will officiate. Burial will be in the Norwood cemetery.

CLARA ALBERTA ROBINSON

After a lengthy illness, a lifelong resident of Peterborough, Clara Alberta Robinson of 3 Bellevue St. died in St. Joseph's hospital, Thursday. She was in her 47th year.

The deceased was the daughter of the late Harry Robinson and his wife, the former Eva Nicholls. The Robinson family were longtime residents of this city.

Clara Alberta (Evans) Robinson is survived by four children and two grand-children. Children are Mrs. L. Filicetti (Norma) of Niagara Falls, Gilbert Evans of Hamilton, Robert of Gormley and Jack Evans of Peterborough. Peterborough also survives.

A brother, Leonard Robinson of

The funeral service will be from the Kaye funeral home Saturday at 11 a.m. The Rev. A. A. Mathews of George St. United church of which the deceased was a member will officiate. Burial will be in the Bridgenorth cemetery.

"Most Wanted" List Given By Mounties

OTTAWA (CP) —Donald Winslow Henderson of Calgary, suspected of strangling his girl friend five years ago, heads the new list of the seven fugitives "most wanted" by the RCMP.

The new list, issued by the Mounties today, says the 37-year-old Henderson, a university graduate and bush-cutting contractor, is wanted by Calgary police for the slaying of Yvonne Lvesque on Aug. 11, 1949.

The previous top man on the "most wanted" list was Jonathan Dawn, 23, wanted by Montreal police in connection with the January 1953, fatal beating and robbery of Joseph A. McAbbie, owner of the Montreal restaurant, Au Lutin Qui Bouffe.

Another man wanted in connection with that fatal beating, Patrick Gerald McKuhen, is still being sought.

ST. KITTS MAN SOUGHT

Others on the new "most wanted" list:

Michel Sisco, Montreal restaurant owner; John Mallock, Winnipeg salesman; William Patrick Ryan, of England and New Zealand; William Adams, of St. Catharines, Ont.; Daniel William O'Connor, Keremeos, B.C.; Patrick Gerald McKuhen, Montreal.

Parson To Visit Canada

LONDON (CP) — Rev. Cyril Brown, 50, the Seamen's Parson, left by air today for Canada on a good will tour coinciding with the 50th anniversary of seamen's mission work in Vancouver.

The parson's tour starts at St. John's, Nfld., Saturday and ends at Nanaimo, B. C. April 10. It will cover cities including Halifax, Montreal, Trois Rivieries, Que., Winnipeg and Vancouver.

Mr. Brown will visit Vancouver April 3. He expects to stay eight days for district meetings and to help plan a new seamen's club.

Mr. Brown, general superintendent of the missions to seamen, the "Flying Angel" mission, a Church of England society caring for seafarers, will also meet most Rev. J. F. Barfoot, Anglican Primate of Canada, at Winnipeg for talks on mission world-wide centenary celebrations in 1956.

Barbara Hutton Leaving Husband

NEW YORK (AP)—The World-Telegram and Sun says today that Barbara Hutton Rubirosa has informed members of her family she will leave her husband, Porfirio Rubiroso.

The newspaper says it learned the Woolworth heiress made her decision to leave her husband of less than three months after a heart-to-heart talk.

Charles Ventura of the newspaper writes that the rift has been widening for weeks and started a few days after their surprise wedding last Dec. 30 when Rubirosa, a Dominican diplomat, escorted a succession of beauties to Palm Beach, Fla., night spots.

Miss Hutton had been married four times previously. Rubirosa has been married three times.

Winter Slashes West Provinces

EDMONTON (CP) — Winter slashed at three widely-separated sections of Saskatchewan and Alberta and edged into northeastern British Columbia Thursday while normal weather conditions prevailed at other western points.

Heavy snowfall was reported in Saskatchewan and in northwestern and southern Alberta.

East - central Saskatchewan caught a surprise storm that reached near-blizzard conditions.

Nine members of an oil-drilling crew were stranded without food for 24 hours near the town of Lanigan, 100 miles north of Regina. Seven and eight-foot drifts were reported at Lanigan and cars were abandoned on clogged roads.

B.C. Auto Dealers Critical Of Government's New Budget

VANCOUVER (CP) — Automobile dealers have a name for British Columbia's new budget.

To them it's "The April Fool's joke."

The reason: Some relief was mapped for car owners, a reduction in registration fees, but the sales tax was boosted.

The present three-per-cent provincial sales tax will be increased to five per cent, effective April 1.

It will mean higher car prices. The tax on a $3,000 car will be increased from $90 to $150. On popular small-car models the jump will be from around $57 to $95.

"This new tax is going to have a slowing effect in the car business," said Charles E. Thompson, prominent dealer and director of the B.C. Automobile Association.

TAXES HEAVY

Federal taxes already take a big bite. There is a 15 per cent excise tax, 10 per cent sales tax, and $275 freight costs for a car delivered here.

Dealers advocate a reduction in the federal excise tax. Representations have been made to Ottawa.

Automobile drivers had hoped for an additional reduction in licence fees. The registration fee was cut from $10 to $1. All car purchasers pay the registration fee. The licence fee was reduced from $25 to $22.50 for average-size passenger cars at the beginning of the new licence year March 1.

New car sales dropped off here by 625 units for the first two months of the year from 2,453 to 1,828.

The increased revenue from higher sales tax, estimated at an annual $23,000,000, will be used to finance B.C.'s hospital costs.

Petroleum Reserves Outpace Production

EDMONTON (CP)—Increases in Canada's established liquid petroleum reserves continue to out-pace the annual production rate. New discoveries and extensions of known pools accounted for a 300,000,000-barrel boost last year.

The country's total underground petroleum potential is set at 2,044,000,000 barrels in the annual report of the Canadian Petroleum Association, issued today. Reserves consist of 1,845,000,000 barrels of crude oil and 198,000,000 barrels of natural gas liquids.

New crude oil discoveries in Ontario and New Brunswick combined totalled 979,000 barrels, with extensions and revisions of 769,000. Total present reserves after 1953 production of 313,000 barrels is 1,435,000 barrels.

Drummond Mine To Start Work

WESTVILLE, N. S. (CP)—The Drummond coal mine here, closed because of lack of orders, will start working again Monday on a 50,000-ton order for the Canadian National Railways.

The order runs until April, 1955, and although it means new life for the town's only industry, it also means that the pit will have to cut its working force to half.

In addition to the 50,000-ton order, the pit has some others to keep it working until the CNR order comes into effect April 1.

The mine was closed several weeks ago when the CNR cancelled the 14,000-ton remainder of a 40,000-ton order because of poor quality of coal.

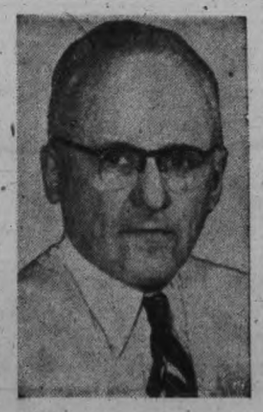
H. Hunt Chosen To Adjudicate Drama Festivals

OTTAWA (CP)—A former director of the Old Vic Theatre in London, England, will decide which of the winners of 13 regional drama festivals in Canada is the best.

Hugh Hunt, a producer and director of theatrical productions since his days at Oxford University, has been selected to adjudicate the Dominion Drama Festival finals at Hamilton May 10-15. The choice was announced Thursday night by festival director Richard MacDonald.

Mr. Hunt, who is the younger brother of Col. Sir John Hunt, leader of the group that conquered Mount Everest last year, is expected to arrive in Canada May 8, Mr. MacDonald said. With the 43-year-old director will be his wife.

They will fly to Toronto and go directly to Hamilton, where the theatrical groups chosen by adjudicator Graham Suter from the regional competitions will vie for Dominion honors. Mr. Suter, a 34-year-old English actor and director will have spent three months making his selections from among 55 three-act plays and about a dozen one-act productions.



STUDIED AT OXFORD

Mr. Hunt got his first taste of the theatre while a student at Oxford University. He was president of the University Dramatic Society (OUDS) in 1933.

He was appointed producer at Dublin's Abbey Theatre in 1935, remaining there until 1938 when he went to New York. His New York productions included "The White Steed."

From 1940 to 1945, Mr. Hunt, served with the King's Royal Rifle Corps. Toward the end of the war he worked with the Resistance Movement in France and Germany.

Following the war, he became producer and director of a branch of the Old Vic in Bristol, the Theatre Royal. He was appointed director of the Old Vic in 1949 and remained there until last year.

SONG WRITER—Clarence C. Charters, 54-year-old night watchman at an Ottawa hotel, has written folk songs and poems as a hobby since he was a boy, but it didn't interfere with his job until just recently. Now one of his songs, "Isle of Campobello," has been recorded by Canadian ballad singer Earl Heywood and requests for permission to use the song have come from as far away as Australia. He is considering hiring a secretary to keep up with his correspondence. A native of Midway, N.B., Mr. Charters has been employed at hotels in Edmonton, Vancouver, Jasper, Alta., and Charlottetown. —(CP Photo).

Canada's First Car Back On Roads

KITCHENER (CP) — Canada's first "production" car, built in 1901 in Kitchener, formerly called Berlin, soon will be back on the road.

It is the first of 32 LeRoy cars made by Dr. Milton H. Good, who now lives in Wasaga Beach, his brother Nelson of Waterloo and Alex Walker, also of Waterloo.

The car, dismantled and stored in an attic, has been bought by Lionel Rider of Stratford. Rider spent about 1,000 hours and $800 to put the car together.

He said he plans to exhibit it at the Canadian Sportsmen's Show and the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto.

Mr. Walker, now president of the Canadian Met-Craft Industries Limited, Waterloo, said he hopes to have the car placed in the proposed Waterloo county museum.

Traveller Dies

TORONTO (CP) — Harry G. Pankhurst, 84, known in western Ontario as a travelling salesman for wall paper firms, died here Thursday. Born in England, Mr. Pankhurst came to Canada as a boy and lived in Hamilton for a few years. Among other companies he later worked for the Niagara Wall Paper Company.

Doctor Almost Sure New Vaccine Will Adequately Combat Polio

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

He reported new evidence Thursday night for this unexpected and ... turn in research on his vaccine.

... finds that two small shots of the vaccine, with a third "booster" shot later, can even outdo nature in creating tremendous amounts of antibodies to combat polio.

Antibodies are disease-fighting "soldiers" created naturally when germs invade you, or created by plan by giving a vaccine containing dead or altered germs.

Dr. Salk, 39-year-old University of Pittsburgh bacteriologist, gave his answers on every score to a few scientists who have suggested delaying the mass vaccine tests on half a million or more American children.

These trials, scheduled to begin within a few weeks, must be made to see if the vaccine actually protects against epidemics of polio, he said. The key question is whether antibodies in the blood are the real defence.

Dr. Salk declared the vaccine is safe, potent, and can be plentiful.

It has been given to nearly 5,000 children in the Pittsburgh area—including Dr. Salk's own youngsters—and not a single one has shown any fever, or reactions in the arm from the inoculations, he said, adding:

"I would not go ahead with the trials if I had any doubts about the safety of the vaccine."

The vaccine is made of dead polio virus, killed by formaldehyde, triple-tested for safety.

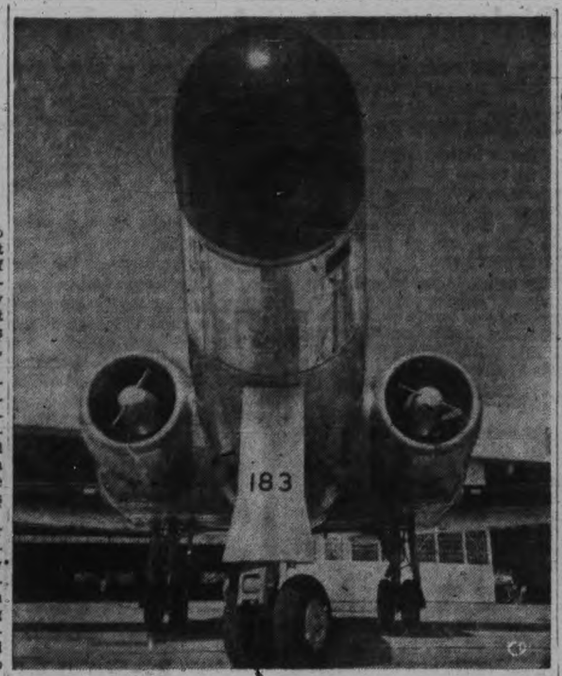
Police Chief Resigns In Italy

By WEBB McKINLEY

ROME (AP) — Premier Mario Scelba's shaky young government rocked today at the resignation of national police chief Tommaso Pavone following court testimony linking him with Italy's biggest post-war scandal, the mysterious death of a high-society party girl, Wilma Montesi.

Resigning Thursday night, Pavone, in a statement denied "indignantly and in the most categorical manner" allegations implying that he had shielded, and received gifts from, one of the men prominent in the case. He said he will take legal action to clear his name.

It was a major headache for Scelba, who won final parliamentary confirmation only Thursday for his month-old coalition government by only a 17-vote majority in the Chamber of Deputies. During the parliamentary debate the Communists accused the regime, and Pavone in particular, of trying to hush up the Montesi scandal.



Scelba appointed a minister without portfolio, Raffaele de Caro, to head an investigation into the case, in which many prominent persons have been named, including Piero Piccioni, son of Foreign Minister Attilio Piccioni.

NUDE BODY FOUND

The nude body of the Montesi girl was found on the beach at Ostia, last April. The police report said there was no reason to believe she had died of anything other than accidental drowning.

The police have stuck to that in spite of charges published recently in the one-man magazine Attualita (Actuality) that the dark-haired Wilma was drugged at an "orgy" at an exclusive hunt club near Ostia and left for the Mediterranean tides to drown.

Two Companies Criticize Tax Methods

MONTREAL (CP)—The Aluminum Company of Canada and one of its subsidiaries today said "discriminatory taxation" probably will have serious effects on development of the province unless something is done to revise the tax structure immediately.

The view was contained in a joint brief prepared by the Aluminum Company and the Saguenay Power Company Ltd.; for the Quebec royal commission on constitutional problems. The brief dealt particularly with taxes on the companies' properties in the Saguenay district.

The brief objected particularly to multiple taxation for education. The aluminum company must pay regular municipal property tax, and a special tax for the benefit of neighboring municipalities. The electricity it uses for its plant is taxed under a provincial clause.

The aluminum company also objected to having to pay dual taxes on its property in Arvia.

PPROVINCE WARNED

The brief complained of what it described as the injustice of a provincial law taxing companies exploiting Quebec's natural resources. Hydro-electric projects, although they used resources that would go to waste otherwise, must pay the tax. However, farmers, fishermen and miners, who exploited the natural resources, were exempt.

"If this worry is not removed as soon as possible, it is to be feared that serious consequences will arise that will hinder the development of the province, for certain industries, in the face of this instability, will hesitate to establish temselves here . . .," the companies said.

U.K. Conservatives Win By-Election

Results announced today showed James Ramsden, Conservative, with 20,263 votes to 8,367 for Laborite Ernest Kavanagh. Conservative votes represented 70.78 per cent of the total cast, a slight advance over the 70.56 the party gained in the 95 general election.

Current standing in the House: Conservatives and allies 322, Labor 292, Liberals 6, Irish Nationalists 2, Irish Labor , vacant 2.

Dr. Ralph Vandervoort Heads Rotary Club

STIRLING (ENS) — Dr. Ralph Vanderwoort, local dentist, was elected president of Stirling Rotary Club at their meeting in Stirling Hotel. The other officers are: vice-president, Ed. Warren; secretary, Geo. Noble; treasurer, Dave Duffin; directors, R. A. Paterson, Clare West, E. D. Ketcheson and H. C. Bird.

Bride, 67, Slain

DECKERVILLE, Mich. (AP)—A 76-year-old farm bride of six months was found slain in her kitchen Thursday and police quoted her husband, John Brabant, 77, as saying: "I must have done it." Mrs. Flora Brabant died of a severe head wound, possibly inflicted by a small ax. She was the third wife of Brabant and the second to die a violent death.

Pope Remains In Sickroom

VATICAN CITY (Reuters)—Pope Pius remained in his sickroom today while a solemn thanksgiving mass was celebrated in the Vatican palace to mark the 15th anniversary of his elevation to the pontificate.

The Pope, who celebrated his 78th birthday and the 15th anniversary of his election 10 days ago, has been suffering from a stomach ailment for seven weeks.

Hastings Mothers Plan Dinner For Daughters

HASTINGS (ENS)—Mrs. E. Hess was hostess to the Evening Auxiliary of Trinity United with 10 members present.

The President, Mrs. R. Burnham opened the meeting with a poem and hymn "Go Labor on" was sung followed by prayer by Rev. N. Cole. Mrs. Burnham gave a short paper on Lent.

The worship and study book was in charge of Mrs. J. M. Baker assisted by Mrs. R. Burnham, Mrs. E. Hess and Mrs. F. Crate.

The worship opened with a reading followed by scripture from II Corinthians Ch. 10. The minutes were read and Mrs. C. Oliver seconded the Treasurer's report.

A paper on Christian Stewardship of the Mind was read by Mrs. Harvey Youngs.

Mrs. Burnham reported for the committee for the Mother and Daughter Banquet, stating the date decided on was Friday, May 7th and a special speaker is to be obtained, the charge is to be 50c per person.

Mrs. Burnham will be hostess for the Easter meeting on April 13th, committee in charge, Mrs. L. Humphries, Mrs. J. Jones, Mrs. C. Lockhart, Miss Jessie Lamb.

Vote of thanks to the hostess by Mrs. Burnham.

Church Comfort

WELLS, England (CP) — Mrs. H. V. Moore, a rector's wife, told town council she favors knitting in church "as a means of attracting bigger congregations."

Lenten Services Held In Millbrook

MILLBROOK (ENS) — During Lent special interdenominational midweek prayer services are being held in each of the village churches in turn. The first one on Ash Wednesday was held in St. Thomas' Anglican church, with the Rev. L. R. Pocock, the rector, as the speaker. In addition to the special Lenten services last week, two services were held to celebrate the 150th anniversary of the Bible society. Speakers at those meetings were the Rev. Walter Patterson, former minister of Grace Presbyterian church, now retired, and the Rev. Gilbert D. Smith, of St. Giles' Presbyterian church, Peterborough.

On Wednesday the prayer service was held in Grace Presbyterian church, where the Rev. G. H. King, Canadian secretary for missions to lepers, was the special speaker, and showed films. The interchurch young people's have chosen suport to leper missions as a special project this year. Each member is endeavoring to donate at least $1 for this purpose during Lent.

The midweek service this coming week will be held on Wednesday in St. Andrew's United church. The speaker that evening will be the Rev. I. G. Pollock of Grace United church, Peterborough.

Millbrook Student Young Composer

MILLBROOK (ENS) — Among compositions chosen for performance from works of young composers now studying at the Royal Conservatory, Toronto, was a short choral work by George Ingham of Millbrook. The presentation took place at a concert in the Victoria College union music room last Sunday evening.

Other works presented included "The Punctuation Suite" for piano by Morris Eisenstadt, Piano Suite by Nicholas Slater, Toccata by William Barnes and an anthem for mixed chorus by Doris Grierson.

Mr. Ingham is studying in composition major under John Weinzwag at the faculty of music, and is a member of the students' composition workshop at the conservatory.

Japan Ship Builder Held

TOKYO (Reuters) Police Thursday arrested Kensuke Matano, president of one of Japan's biggest shipping companies, Kino Kaiun Kaisha, in connection with shipbuilding bribery allocations. Thirty senior officials of the transport ministry and shipbuilding companies have already been arrested on charges of conspiring to misuse government ship-building subsidies.

Testify Kingsley Said He Shot 57-Year-Old Man

BARRIE (CP)—Two witnesses, friends of two Toronto youths on trial for murder, testified Thursday that 19-year-old William Kingsley told them he shot Fred (Scotty) Cameron on a downtown Toronto street.

Both Victor Kemp and Kenneth R. Shank, who worked with Kingsley for a railway express company in Toronto, said their fellow-employee described the details of the shooting and how Cameron, still alive in the trunk of a car after a 50-mile drive from Toronto, was "finished off" on a lonely, country sideroad.

Kingsley and Ian Robertson, 21, were charged with Cameron's murder following their arrest nearly a month after the bullet-riddled body of the 57-year-old brokerage house messenger was found in a ditch at Stroud near here last Oct. 29.

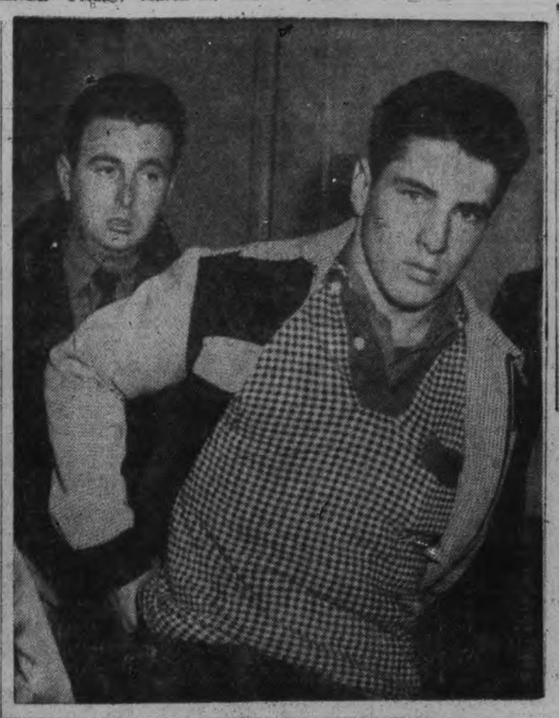
Kemp testified that Kingsley said night following the slaying Kingsley handed him an evening paper and told him "to read the part about the murder."

"He told me that he did it," said Kemp.

The witness said that Kingsley related to him that he met Cameron in front of a pool hall at Queen and Yonge streets in Toronto, shot him on the street, shoved the body in the back of the car and then transferred it to the trunk when outside the city.

Kemp testifiedt hat Kingsley said "We" did it but didn't say who the other person was.

WANTED ALIBI



Shank told the court that the morning after Cameron was shot Kingsley asked him to provide an alibi for him (Kingsley) for around seven o'clock the previous evening.

"I asked him what for and he said 'If I tell you I'd have you to worry about.'"

Shank also testified that Kingsley told him later Cameron was shot in front of the poolroom while a buddy in the car revved up the engine.

"'I hollered and shot the man,'" Shank quoted Kingsley as saying.

S. Sgt. W. W. Sutherland, RCMP ballistics expert, identified parts of an ammunition clip as being from a .32 Savage automatic and said three spent bullets taken from Cameron's body were the same make and type as two unfired ones found in Robertson's room in Toronto.

Cattle Trading Unevenly Higher

TORONTO (CP) — Cattle trade was unevenly higher at the Ontario stockyards this week.

Early steer sales rose 25 cents but a decline in buying eased prices towards the week's end. Fed yearlings, cows and bulls were fully 50 cents higher with other classes moving steadily. Hogs dropped $1 while calves and lambs were steady.

Cattle receipts totalled 6,750 head. Choice weighty steers $19-19.50, one load $18.70 and one at $19.85; good steers, all weights, $18-19; mediums downward to $16. Good heifers $15.50-16, a few tops $16.50. Choice fed yearlings $19-20; medium to good $16-18.50. Good cows $11.50-12.50, a few heifery cows $13-14; canners and cutters $7. Good heavy bulls $12.50-13.50; cull bulls from the provincial bull sale made $16-17.50. Stockers $14-17.

Calves were 1,342 head with prices unchanged at $27-29 for good to choice vealers and common to medium $15-26.

Hogs totalled 2,932 head. Grade A hogs were lower on the Ontario stockyards at $34.50, a few $35. Dressed sows $26. Stags $18.

Sheep and lambs were 267 head. Medium to good feed-lot lambs made $21.50-22.50 in small lots; plain classes $15-20. Common to medium sheep $4-7; good sheep $8-10.

Fishermen May Lose Lobster Industry

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Prince Edward Island fishermen were told Thursday they may lose the valuable lobster industry.

George Saville, Liberal member of the Prince Edward Island legislature for Fifth Kings, pinned the danger on illegal lobster fishing and the fact that lobsters are not as plentiful now as they were 50 or 60 years ago.

He called on the Liberal government for stricter measures of control and said he did not know what would happen if fishermen received a poor price, coupled with current low catches.

INCREASE SALARIES

The Nova Scotia house heard the first step toward increasing members' salaries and inaugurating a retirement allowance. Liberal premier Angus Macdonald gave notice of motion that he will move that a committee, including members of the Liberal, Progressive Conservative and CF parties to study the matter.

Members now receive a sessional indemnity of $1,600 and $800 for expenses. The speaker receives an additional $1,000. Cabinet members and the leader of the opposition all are paid extra. Cabinet ministers receive $8,000 a year and the premier $9,000.

OIL RESERVES

Resources Minister J. H. Brockelbank said at Regina that Saskatchewan has proven oil reserves of nearly 1,000,000,000 barrels. Speaking in the budget debate he said Saskatchewan has 24 defined oil and natural gas fields with 835 oil wells capable of production. There were 89 gas wells capable of production.

In the Manitoba house, Premier D. L. Campbell told his fellow Liberal-Progressives and the Progressive Conservative and CCF opposition that he thinks the possibility of a flood this year in the Red river valley is remote. He added, however, that a flood-forecasting committee had been set up and that he had not yet heard from it.

Research Will Restore Lakes Fishing Industry

PORT DOVER (CP)—Fisheries Minister Sinclair Thursday night said scientific research and international co-operation will restore the Great Lakes fishing industry.

Speaking at a banquet after the official opening of this Lake Erie port's new $150,000 post office and customs building, he said treaties between Canada and the United States improved fishing on the east and west coasts.

On the United States side of the Great Lakes, the value of lake trout caught had declined from an average of $15,000,000 a year to $5,000,000.

Mr. Sinclair said the federal and provincial governments plan to spend $250,000 immediately on lake fish research, as the start in a program to restore the fish harvest. Once science had determined what needed to be done, international treaties were needed to put the regulations into effect.

Midland Fire Causes $300,000 Damage

MIDLAND (CP)—Loss estimated at $300,000 was caused Thursday night when fire destroyed the fur and skin processing plant of Midland Shearlings Limited, one of the largest factories in this Georgian Bay town.

A warehouse crammed with mink, squirrel fur, sheep skins, rabbit furs, kid skins and stocks of imported furs and skins, was gutted. Firemen were unable to prevent the flames from spreading to an adjoining cedar-block factory.

Want To Outlaw Lurid Covers On Books

MONTREAL (CP)—The National Council of Women of Canada Thursday asked the federal government to outlaw lurid covers on paper-backed books.

The council's spring executive meeting unanimously adopted a resolution calling on the department of justice to "make it mandatory in Canada that no pictures be allowed to appear on the covers of cheap paper-bound Pocket-Book editions."

VISIT FROM STUDENTS

Members of the executives of PCVS and Kenner collegiate student councils will be invited to attend meetings of the board of education. PCVS will be invited to attend the April meeting and Kenner the May meeting.

OIL RAGS BURN

A passerby, trying to be neat, touched off a smouldering fire in an ash bucket outside Herb's Men's Wear, 436 George St. N., on Thursday afternoon. Some oily rags had been thrown into the bucket on top of the ashes, and when the passerby threw a lighted cigarette butt into the bucket the rags ignited. Firemen used a handpump.

OPEN COUNTY TENDERS

The county roads committee are meeting in all day session today, opening tenders on materials and supplies needed on county and suburban area roads during the year. These include bids on gas, oil, calcium, mulch and other items needed for construction and maintenance.

POLICE EXPENSES

Total expenses of the Board of Police Commissioners for January and February of 1954 were $25,188.03. Expenses for February were a shade over January, the totals for the two months being $12,346.81 and $12,841.22. This expense was reduced $10 for a radio refund.

OLRB HEARS PRINTERS

Judgment was reserved Thursday by the Ontario Labor Relations Board on an application by Local 248, International Typographical Union (AFL-TLC) to have seven printers on the Lindsay Post included in the composite local. There are now about 50 printers in the bargaining unit —on the Examiner, Peterborough Review, Peterborough Printing, and a one-man shop in the city.

DELAY CYCC CONVENTION

The three-day convention of the Christian Young Councillors which was to have been sponsored here this weekend by the Peterborough Boys' Work Board has been postponed to April 2. The group is expected to comprise 100 senior teen-age boys from the mid-Eastern Ontario region. Insufficient enrolment is said to be the cause of the postponement.

NEW YMCA NUMBERS

Bells are ringing all over the YMCA today, and in the head of harrassed YMCA general secretary Jim McClenaghan. Starting today there will be direct telephone lines for the Y, to eliminate confusion and delay in placing calls both to and from the Y when there was but one line. The two new numbers are 25488 and 25489. If one is busy, the other will automatically answer. The old number, 5584, has been discarded.

INSTALS UE OFFICERS

C. S. Jackson, Canadian UE president, on Thursday night installed Local 524's 1954 officers. Carl Signorotti succeeds George Wallace as president. Other officers include Alex Seppala, vice-president; Bill Wallace, financial secretary; Roy Wagar, treasurer; George Stevens, recording secretary; and 11 zone representatives; three trustees and a floor guard.

NOW TAKE THIS ONE, FOR EXAMPLE says A. J. Casson, outstanding Canadian painter, as he gives constructive criticism to two PCVS art students. Mr. Casson, invited by the collegiate's art club, addressed the assembly Thursday. In the afternoon he had a session with Grade 11 and 12 art students, explaining methods and techniques of advanced painting. Here he is shown examining some of the work of students, and passing along some hints to Barbara Lewis, left, and Barbara Walker, right. Zoltan Temesy, ort instructor, is also listening to Mr. Casson's criticisms.

School Board Packs Up In 55 Minutes

With exclamations of surprise and pleasure members of the board of education on Thursday night suddenly realized that 55 mintues after their meeting had started there was no more business to attend to.

Apart from growling over the old problem of the Summer Theatre in the Queen Mary school auditorium there was little to ruffle the quiet meeting.

The board approved a motion to continue renting the auditorium for $160 a week this year, but not before some of the members had got in a few licks.

W. B. Gordon said that he was willing to concede that the property committee had probably gone into the question of adequate rent thoroughly.

"If the committee feels that the taxpayer is not subsidizing a commercial enterprise," he was willing, he said, to agree to the $160 rent. But there was no mistaking he had serious doubts as a board member and as a taxpayer that the amount was enough.

G. Wilson Craw voiced one of the reasons, board members were doubtful that the rent was adequate: "Those seats are going to wear out and going to wear out a lot faster than if they were just being used by the pupils." And when they needed replacing, he said, the board would have to float a debenture loan to buy new seats.

SINKING FUND

The board should have established a sinking fund to take care of such an eventuality, commented chairman Charles H. Huffman.

At the time, the board had made its decision to rent the auditorium only under pressure, the members who had been on the board then, commented. And it was felt that the Summer Theatre should not be charged too heavily because it was making a contribution to art and drama in the city and was just getting established.

Supervision committee chairman Dr. Donald Whyte and Mrs. Anne Rowell one of its members, felt they had done a good job in figuring what the rent should be and defended their position briskly.

But the opposition wasn't serious enough to demand any change. However, both the supervision committee and other members of the board let it be understood that all possible factors (including the seats) will be considered when the rent is set for next year before this season is completed.

When that problem had subsided again, the board lost little time in disposing of the rest of its business.

NO PHOTOS

It turned down a request made by Parks Studio to take and sell photos of public school students. The Parks plan was to take the photos when it was convenient for the school. Parents were to be given a chance to see the photos and decide whether or not they wanted to buy them. The teachers were to collect the money for them.

Too much work for the teachers, the board decided. And that would be just the beginning of all sorts of schemes. How could the board allow one and not another.

Superintendant K. S. Wightman reported that he had received a request from Ald. P. J. Anglesey, chairman of the city's finance committee for the board to reconsider its estimates for 1954.

Because the time was short, the board chairman and its finance committee chairman had conferred with Mr. Wightman and decided nothing could be done.

One or two other small matters were dealt with and then the chairman asked, "Any more business?"

Silence. "I move we adjourn Mr. Chairman," said Mr. Craw. Seconded and passed.

May Service Police Cruisers In City Garage, Save Money

"If you take your car into a garage for a checkup, something is always found to be wrong with it," chairman of the Board of Police Commissioners Judge John deN. Kennedy said Thursday.

Judge Kennedy was commenting on the suggestion that police cars be serviced at the board of works garage instead of by private concerns. Present arrangement is that officers report defects in their cars to acting chief John Naples who usually tells them to take them to private garages for check-ups.

Mayor Norman Graham felt that a considerable saving could be effected if the city handled mechanical troubles in police cars. He saw a "lot of unnecessary expense" in $3 an hour garage bills.

City Clerk E. A. Outram said that this question had been debated for four or five years, and that the city is expanding its garage equipment annually. At present it is equipped only for greasing and oiling, and not for major overhauls. But Mr. Outram said that the ultimate aim was to have a fully-equipped municipal garage.

Too many policemen are buying gasoline from uptown service stations instead of from the board of works depot, the commissioners agreed. Acting chief Naples was instructed to ask his men to use the city's services.

The commissioners approved a $480 expenditure for installation and maintenance of frequency modulation communication equipment installed in radio cars by the CGE. This contract is analogous to that held with the fire department, although somewhat more expensive because police radios usually get more use.

Joseph Watson Heads Y's Men

Joseph Watson was elected president of the Y's Men's Club at the annual meeting of the group Thursday night. Mr. Watson succeeds Don Harwood who remains on the executive as past president.

Other members of the executive elected Thursday are first vice-president Harry Powell, second vice-president Doug Martin, secretary Ron Watson, and Treasurer William Loomis.

Only unchanged position on the board is that of treasurer Loomis. President was formerly first vice-president, and Ronald Watson is the former editor of the Y bulletin.

There will be no meeting of the Y's Men next week. Instead, the group is planning its annual dinner dance at the Kawartha Club March 20.

Nurses To Get 4-Week Holidays

General duty nurses at the Peterborough Civic Hospital will receive an annual vacation of four weeks, the board of governors of the hospital decided Thursday. They will receive full salary for 22 working days retroactive to January 1.

This new arrangement will likely cost the hospital nothing, treasurer T. T. Rodger predicted. He said that readjustments could be made with the present staff, to compensate for the extra holiday.

One board member expressed the view that most nurses, while they would not refuse a salary increase, would prefer more holidays than more pay. This would be because higher pay would necessitate cutting staff, thus putting a heavier burden of work on those remaining.

A schedule appended to the board's 1954 budget, showed that salaries and working conditions of nurses at the Civic compare favorably with those recommended by the Registered Nurses' Association of Ontario. General duty nurses at the Civic get $2,340 to start as opposed to the $2,460 recommendation of the association. Residence, meals and laundry are cheaper for nurses at the Civic than the suggested standard.

Rangers Plan To Hold Reunion

Members of the Prince of Wales Rangers Association are meeting in reunion Saturday and Sunday at the Canadian Legion Hall. They will be from Peterborough and district, Toronto, Hamilton and other places in western Ontario.

Registration of members Saturday afternoon will extend into a period of renewing friendships. Buffet supper will be at six o'clock followed by an evening program.

Sunday at 11.30 a.m. there will be a parade and placing of wreath on the cenotaph and dinner at 1.30 p.m. at which members' wives will be guests. Howard Doolittle, president of the Association, will be chairman of the dinner.

The Searles instrumental trio will provide music. The toast to the Regiment will be given by Frank Pammett and the response by Andrew Jackson.

Col. J. A. Dewart will pay the honors to the ladies, and Mrs. Al Heideman will reply. Dr. Ralph Honey has been assigned a reminiscence of activities of the Regiment, including its affairs on the west coast.

Watson Butcher is convener of the registration committee, with W. A. Curtain, Harold Webb, James Field, Alf Brook and others in charge of the entertainment features; Bruce Rollins is convenor of the banquet committee.

Who Should Pay To Bring Back Suspects To City?

Suppose a Peterborough man commits a murder. The police discover that he is in hiding in the Yukon, and two constables are sent out to bring in the suspect. Who pays the bill, the municipality or the province?

This theme was discussed by the Board of Police Commissioners Thursday as the board voted to add $1,200 to the police budget this year to cover police accounts which have not heretofore come to the attention of any particular executive body. Such accounts could then be forwarded to the Attorney General's office for reimbursement under the Administration of Justice Act.

NOT TOO CLEAR

Trouble is, said police magistrate W. R. Philp, that the act "is not as clear as it might be" as to what can be charged to the crown and what is the direct responsibility of the police force and, hence, of the city.

The logical division said Judge John deN. Kennedy would be at the point of laying a charge. Before the charge is laid, the police force detects, and later the crown prosecutes. This is considerably different from the United States where district attorneys usually have highly-developed detection facilities of their own.

Insofar as police investigation is concerned, Article 9 of the Administration of Justice Act provides that a special allowance can be claimed from the crown for constables engaged in the detection of crime when this is "not covered by the ordinary tariff." Article 16 provides that such accounts must be certified by the crown attorney.

Although both city and county are entitled to rebates under the terms of this act, it is the county which actually submits the total claim to the province. Then, in the words of one of the commissioners, "we get some of it back."

Car Recovered Before Missed

Two young high school students late Thursday night stole a car from the Duffus Motors used car lot at George and Townsend Sts. They were arrested by Toronto police, who noticed a licence plate missing, shortly after midnight.

The car, a 1953 Pontiac sedan, was on display in the lot. There was a man on duty until 10 p.m. and the vehicle is believed to have been stolen shortly after that.

A routine check by Toronto police, who noticed the missing licence plate, revealed that the car was stolen. They notified Peterborough police who had received no report of the theft because the car dealer didn't know the car was missing.

Hospital Cuts $5,000 Off Budget

Provincial Grant Reduces Amount Required From City

Because of the provincial government's grant to hospitals, the Peterborough Civic Hospital has been able to chop close to $5,000 from its requests to the city for 1954. The revised budget requires the board to ask for $209,113.11 as opposed to the $214,010.11 previously estimated.

This figure is also down from the $225,600.64 requested in 1953. While the budget request for this year is listed as $233,997, this includes a surplus of approximately $23,000 of municipal money previously received which the board did not spend.

Major change in the budget is the deletion of $5,223 budgeted for under capital expenditures. This was a result of the provincial grant of $67,000 figured at $300 for each of the hospital's 226 beds. Miscellaneous additions and subtractions produce an estimated total budget for 1954 of $1,065,441. This includes $85,500 in deductions through such money making venture as the hospital cafeteria.

In 1953 the board budgeted for $995,562.69 and spent $1,007,122.44. There is, then, a net increase of just under $58,000.

BUDGET CHANGES

Some other changes in the budget from the schedule originally proposed boosted sickness and indemnity costs roughly 10 per cent to $2,282. This is more than balanced by a drop in taxes of $380. When the city set the tax rate at 49 mills, the hospital's garbage tax went down proportionately.

There are no general class increases in salary, though the budget calls for more pay for certain individuals who the board feels have rendered especially meritorious service. Included in this class was superintendent John Hornal, who was given a $500 raise. However, it is still not quite comparable to superintendants' salaries in some other cities of equal size.

Apart from salaries, these major changes were made in the revised 1954 budget, as opposed to that of last year:

2—More coverage under the sickness and indemnity policy, as agreed upon with the union.

3—An allowance for two-thirds of the estimated cost of annual pensions, since it is estimated that the pension plan may become effective by May 1.

4—An increased payment of $250, to the Community Nursing Registry.

5—Setting up a $1,500 fund to pay for services of the medical staff lecturing in the School of Nursing.

6—A $774 decrease in the fuel bill, due to installation of new boiler meters.

The city, which underwrites about a fifth of the hospital's operating expenses will be asked to give $14,132.31 for the month of February, followed by ten monthly payments of $10,498.08. Earnings from patients, less deductions, are expected to be $736,778.

Winter Again

Enjoy the spring? It won't last through Saturday, the weatherman said. In spite of the sun the last two or three days, it has been chilly. Thursday night, for example the temperature went down to 12 degrees. Only a bright sun brought it up during the day to a degree or two above freezing. But Saturday it is supposed to cloud over. Therefore it will probably stay much chillier. And then it may snow. Winter!

$6,000 Raises Chest Total To $44,170

The special names section added $6,000 to its total in the Peterborough Red Cross and Community Fund drive Thursday, but most of the other groups remained relatively stationary.

The total at the end of the first four days of the campaign is $44,170.15, still nearly $6,000 short of the half-way mark. Chest officials expect, however, that $50,000 should be reached Saturday morning.

Meanwhile campaign publicity director Russ Baer has suggested that chest contributors stop to consider the nature of their donations.

Whatever is given to the community fund must be divided ten ways, said Mr. Baer. He said that those who normally give $2 to each of five agencies, should perhaps, consider that they are giving to ten agencies and expand their contributions accordingly.

All contributions of whatever amount are greatly appreciated, said Mr. Baer, but the campaign will have difficulty meeting its objective without an average of $5 per contributor. This is still well below the $2 per agency which many would normally give.

Mr. Baer was amplifying a statement made at the campaign's open dinner late week by chairman Alex Elliott. Mr. Elliott said that the one great danger in a composite campaign is that some contributors do not raise their contributions in proportion to the number of agencies involved in the $100,000 appeal.

The totals at the end of Thursday are as follows, with the increase from Wednesday evening in brackets:

Special Names $14,880 ($6,035); Retail $1,541.50 ($160); Women's $2,866.35 ($462.50); Industrial $24,170.30 (unchanged). The industrial section reports every other day. These figures, with the $765 raised by the children last week, bring the four-day total to $44,170.15.

NO STORAGE SPACE

A harried man is Const. Don Mackay, in charge of the police department's school patrol. Thursday the Board of Police Commissioners considered a request from Cont. Mckay for some place to store his school-patrol gear, now scattered through the identification bureau. Another man with a housing problem is the deputy chief who has asked the board to buy him a filing cabinet to take care of some material overflowing onto the floor. This request was passed while Const. Mackay's problem will be studied by E. A. Outram, the city clerk.

Court Slices Assessments Of Two Plants

Assessor Advises $140,920 Reduction Appeals Withdrawn

The court of revision Thursday night made reductions totalling $140,920 in the assessments of two Peterborough industries on the recommendation of Assessment Commissioner J. E. Davis.

In letters read to the court, both the Peterborough Lumber Co. and the Brinton-Peterboro Carpet Co. Ltd. agreed to withdraw appeals against their assessments as a result of revisions recommended by Mr. Davis.

The Peterborough Lumber assessment was reduced from $162,000 to $140,730, including a reduction of $13,840 in the business assessment and $7,430 on the buildings.

Mr. Davis explained that the company formerly carried out complete fabrication of houses and had a business assessment of 60 per cent of the building assessment. Now, the majority of parts such as doors and windows were purchased from other manufacturers.

He was convinced that the preponderance of their business was in lumber and he was satisfied that they should be assessed as lumber dealers rather than as manufacturers.

Mr. Davis recommended also that the company's building assessment should be reduced from $88,800 to $81,370 because some open sheds had previously been assessed as four-walled buildings.

In their letter of withdrawal the Brinton-Peterboro Carpet Co. Ltd. expressed thanks to Mr. Davis and to Hector McLean of the Charles Warnock Co. of Hamilton, who had co-operated in suggesting revisions to their assessments.

The total reduction in the company's assessment was from $632,570 to $512,920 and applied not only to company's plant but to four vacant lots.

LIGHT CONSTRUCTION

Mr. Davis said he had checked the actual costs of some of the buildings as of about 1940 and had discovered that the assessments were high because the buildings were "very, very lightly constructed."

The largest amount of the reduction, however, was on the portion of the plant which had once been a sugar factory. When the plant had first been assessed it was not realized by the department that this building was not being used by Brinton-Peterboro for the purpose for which it was originally built.

He described the building as "amazingly high" with huge monitors in the roof. A portion of it was used as a dye plant and acid fumes had ruined the roof which had to be replaced.

Mr. Davis explained that when the department had first been informed of this condition, it was thought that the term "re-roofing" had been used in the ordinary sense, such as re-shingling or the equivalent. But the sheeting in the roof had required to be replaced.

The reductions in the assessments of the vacant lots were recommended, he said, because there was no access to them by road.

County Farm Notes

By HARRY THEOBALD

Federation Dinner Meetings at Warsaw, North Smith, Springville, Keene, Stewart Hall, Norwood ....Weanling Pigs Sell For More Than Veal Calves ....Forums to Visit Farms in Accident Prevention Effort....High Prices of Bulls.

County dinner meetings of the Federation of Agriculture have been listed by Harold Lewis.

A similar series of meetings around the county a year ago were all well attended, and provided an interesting feature winding up the winter Forum broadcasts and rallies.

Ray Hergott, field supervisor for the Ontario Federation, will be the speaker at the dinner in the 16th line of Smith hall on Friday, March 26.

McGINNIS AT SPRINGVILLE

The Springville dinner will be in the basement of the United church on Monday March 29, Chas. McGinnis president of the Ontario Hog Producers Association, has accepted the Springville invitation as after-dinner speaker.

At Keene on Monday, April 5, Dan Stauffer of Bright, one of the prominent leaders of the Ontario Federation, is particularly well qualified to review its activities among and on behalf of the farmers of the province, if that is the subject he chooses.

William Graff, librarian of the Peterborough Public Library, will be the speaker at Stewart Hall dinner Friday, April 9.

C. MILLIGAN AT NORWOOD

Forum members and generally the farmers of the Federation are requested by Mr. Lewis to make note of these evening dinners. Peterborough Federation has a capable group of speakers for this series. Presumably some attention will be given to the recent activities of agents of the Western Farmers Union who have been east on missionry work for the Union, including central Ontario counties.

Travelogue For Juniors

Frank C. Paterson will be the speaker at the monthly meeting of Junior Farmers at Teachers' College, Tuesday, March 16, at 8 p.m. To this joint meeting of the young men and women, Mr. Paterson will show his own color film of the Peace River district and British Columbia. Bill Wood will be chairman.

+ + +

Calves Cheaper Than Pigs

Six-weeks pigs are selling for more than veal calves at local auctions in Glengarry county, as quoted from the weekly review of the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

Weanling pigs have been as high as $18 in Bruce and some brought $20; Hastings county reports $18 to $20 last week, and springer cows averaging $175. Little pigs in Frontenac are quoted at $15-$16; in Grey $15-$20. Leeds says the acreage in soybeans will expand this year.

+ + +

New Canning Methods

Trent River Women's Institute are sponsoring a meeting March 16 at 2 p.m. in the community hall showing new canning methods. Film strips will be used for objective aid. Canning of fruits, vegetables, chicken and meat will be featured. Helen Downie, home economist of the department, will explain the methods.

Big Bull Prices

According to the Ontario Aberdeen-Angus Association, a world's record for a beef animal was established recently when John and Urban Simon, of Simon Angus Farms, Madison, Kansas, sold a half interest in their senior herd sire for $115,000 to two Texas Aberdeen-Angus breeding farms. This bull is Prince 105th of TT. The buyers were Byars Royal Oak Farm, of Tyler, Tex., and the Four Wynnes Angus Farm of Kaufman, Tex. The Simons say that young prospective herd sires by Prince 105th of TT have averaged $26,120.

Top price at the Perth sale, Scotland, was $10,000 guineas ($29,000) paid for the Shorthorn Calrossie Claymore by Wm. MacGillivray of Glastullich. He was sold by Captain John MacGillivray.

A report of the Perth sale says: "A good bull was contributed by W. D. Dron, of Crieffvetcher, and bought for 1,800 guineas by the manager for L. Cadesky of Peterborough, Ontario." The manager at Louada Farms is W. W. Donaldson. Translated into Canadian funds this bull cost in excess of $6,000.

At the beef bull sale this week in Toronto, 93 Herefords averaged $517, with the top more than $800, and 40 head of Aberdeen Angus averaged $417 with top $1,000. Shorthorns sold Wednesday, 132, averaging $430. Top was $1,700.

Check Farm Accidents

Westwood Farm Forum adopted an unusual project after the discussion period on the subject "Safety on the Farm", last Monday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Patterson. Eleven attended with Ronald Cameron leader.

Mrs. W. W. Graham, secretary, appended to her report, this announcement: "We have given our members two weeks warning, and then we are sending out small committees to inspect each farmstead looking for accident hazards. We think that most of these hazards exist because the owner, through familiarity, no longer sees them, and that fresh eyes of the committee of neighbors will be able to point out many things which the owner can remedy in a short time once he is conscious of them."

R. E. Stanley-Jones, health and accident insurance agent, was a guest at Westwood.

Stewart Hall Forum reported 25 present at their meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kindred, with Stewart Whittington leader. They had three men from the Peterborough Hydro Commission as their guests, and to answer questions relating to electrical installations.

4-H tractor clubs have been operating in the county for several years, and Stewart Hall proposed "boys should be taught properly how to operate tractors and machinery before being allowed to use them. Organize meetings to study safety measures concerning tractors and other implements."

Central Smith Forum at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Reg McMullen, 18 present, and Mr. McMullen leader. They suggest as a general project: put a fire extinguisher and a first aid kit in each barn. After the regular discussion Mrs. Morris Telford, RN, gave the ladies a lecture on first aid.

All the Forums stressed the need of care and precaution in field and other phases of farm work. Power machines and electricity are common now throughout the country.

Lily Lake Forum. 15 present at the school house, with Mrs. George Middleton leader suggested: "It would be a good idea to prepare ourselves to look after the injured by taking a course of first aid. Members could help themselves to safety by making a complete check around their own homes and farms."

Beaver Forum met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Junkin. James McConkey was discussion

CHECK FARM

Good Pasture Cuts Dairy Cow's Grocery Bill

The dairy farmer knows from his own experience that roughage (pasture, hay and silage) is the main dish in the ration of his cows. Grain mixture or concentrates are the dessert.

Fresh green pasture is the most nearly ideal feed for dairy cows, and the cheapest source of milk-producing nutrients. It is the most important single factor in economical milk production.

Spring pastures are high in water content, rich in protein, palatable and low in fibre. As pastures mature, the protein content lowers, the fibre increases and palatability and digestibility decrease. A proper appreciation of the wide variation in feeding value of pasture throughout the season is fundamental. Lack of uniformity can be overcome by the use of emergency pasture crops, green feeds, silage and grain feeding.

The phrase "excellent pasture" applies to the end result of a preliminary phase of good farming—fertility of the soil, quite a chapter in itself, its preparation, seeding, place in rotation, and so on. The Ontario farmer has to anticipate the prospect of a dry spell in midsummer, and the necessity of providing ample hay and ensilage for a long winter. And, all the while he has to keep his attention fixed on his costs, and profitable returns from his broad program.

SEPARATING MILKERS

Pasture management in the early summer when grass is lush in growth suggests provision for the milkers of the herd with as much as possible of the best quality feed. It is often advisable to divide the herd into two groups, allowing the milking section to graze on the luxuriant pasture, and following along with the dry cows and heifers.

Field husbandry is a requirement of the dairy farmer from year to year, and is only one phase of the exacting job he has chosen. When it is safe to let the herd into the fresh grass, behind him is the winter he spent in maintaining seasonal production. In season and out he has to keep his eye on the grocery bill of his cattle. In that continuous round of his business, his pasture and forage crop comprise a big accomplishment.

FEED IN DRY WEATHER

If weather is adverse, and there has been winter killing, roughage from other sources may be needed. Silage from corn or grass is a standby, from storage in the previous season. Lacking that reserve, excess growth of early pasture or some of the hay crop could be ensiled early in the season and fed out during midsummer as grass silage. Or, the dairy farmer may have emergency crops of green oats, sudan grass, millet or combinations as supplementary feed.

GRAIN MIXTURE RATIO

For the cow producing 30 lbs. of milk daily on excellent pasture (3% milk) the number of pounds of grain mixture or concentrate to feed daily is 4.5; for 3.5% milk 5.2 lbs., and 4% milk 5.9 lbs. of feed.

For 35 lebs. of milk a day from pasture, 3% milk, 6.7 lbs. of grain or concentrates; 3.5% milk, 7.6 lbs.; and 4% milk, 8.5 lbs. of the extra feed.

There is a differential in daily milk produtcion depending on the quality of pasture. It may be up to eight or nine pounds. For example, a cow that gives 30 lbs on excellent pasture may yield only 21 pounds a day on good pasture, and only 12 pounds on fair pasture, even though the amounts of grain mixture or concentrate fed are the same in each case.

Howard Doane, a grassland farmer in Missouri, believes from his experience that using grass may allow a farmer to produce a desirable meat-type hog, and for less cost than when heavy grain feeding is used. It will take a little longer, but as they say in the Ozarks, "What's time to a hog?"

Central Ontario Juniors Steal Show March 18 Assume Entire Program

There is all kinds of talent in the rural communities of Central Ontario. That's what Bill Weir of Omemee says, and he gets around a lot. He is master of ceremonies for the Thursday night concert (March 18) of the Central Ontario Spring Show.

Mr. Weir, in fact, is already putting down in his book the names of promising performers for March 1955.

For next week, Junior Farmers of the district have stolen the Thursday night show. Actually, they have accepted the assignment.

This three-hour program in the old horticulture building at Morrow Park starts at 7.30 p.m. with overture selections by Sargent Brothers, orchestra.

Vocal contributions are:—

Victoria county Junior Farmers' Male Quartette.

Prince Edward Junior Farmers Ladies Trio.

Ontario County J. F. Quartette.

Frontenac J. F. Quartette.

Northumberland Junior Farmers Trio.

Durham Junior Farmers Quartette.

Nearly every county in the Central Ontario district is represented in that vocalism.

PROVINCIAL DEBATE

For variety there is the provincial Junior Farmers' semi-finals debate between young speakers from Carleton and Peel counties. Their subject is: "Resolved that the trend toward commercialization and professionalism in sport is detrimental to sport in Canada."

That whole program is being assumed by Junior Farmers, and it sounds like promise of fine entertainment. This is the main concert of the four-day Spring Show. The building will be heated. Admission is 50 cents.

WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Peterborough Citizens Band will open the Wednesday night program at 7.30 o'clock in the main building of the show.

The presence of the band last year was much appreciated, especially by district visitors, and they are returning with special selections.

Peterborough Junior Farmers' Choir is listed for 8.30 p.m. Robert McDougall of Otonabee, another Junior, will perform sleight of hand tricks; and at 8 p.m. there will be presentation of the prizes won in the boys seed judging competition Wednesday morning in the market hall at George and Charlotte Streets.

No additional admission charge for the Wednesday night program. There is a 25 cent button for entry to the seed show in the former drill hall. This small item is merely to provide the executive with adequate control of the building where the Central Ontario grain entries will be judged and displayed.

MACHINERY DISPLAYED

One building is allotted to the Ontario retail dealers in farm implements for their display of new equipment and apparatus.

Two panel discussions have been planned particularly to be of some practical help to farmers of this district. Subject of one is: "The place of grain, corn and soy beans in Central Ontario farming." Are the new beans hardy enough for this eastenr area? New varieties have been grown all the way through to the Ottawa River. Present prices are strong, and possibly the soybean could be another cash crop in these counties.

MACHINERY PANEL

The public is invited to bring thier problems or suggestions to the afternoon panels. Discussion of "Farm Machinery" is booked for Thursday at 2 p.m. with Dr. H. L. Patterson of the Ontario Department of Agriculture chairman. What machinery is necessary for the operations of the average farm? That will be one of the topics in this panel's deliberations.

Other members are: Wm. Kalbfleisch, Ottawa, Central Experimental Farms; Henry Sharpe, Peterborough; Prof. J. R. Scott, O.A.C.; Wm. Craven, Bath, RR 1; Walter Bagshaw, Cambray and Geo. McLaughlin.

President of the Central Ontario Spring Show is James T. Brown of Newcastle.

Chemong Forum With Majority

Of the more than 400 Ontario Farm Forums reporting on the School Tax subject, 64% of the groups endorsed the Chemong protest that the farm land owner has to pay educational costs that are created by the rural small lot owner.

Those farmers agreed that taxation on a land basis was not fair. Their properties are chiefly adjacent to cities and towns.

Zorra Forum in Oxford said: "We think the only fair way is to tax the dwelling instead of the land. We would suggest a larger provincial grants."

Muir Forum in Brant: "Our Forum feels that farmers are carrying an unfair burden of educational taxes. In the last few years there has been a large movement of people to small holdings in the country, causing crowding and making expansion of class rooms necessary. These people are paying very little of the total taxes, while the bulk of the tax is passed on to the farmer because of his larger assessment."

Coldsprings Forum: (Otonabee) meeting at Lily Lake School House suggested that the provincial government should build new schools and leave grants the same for maintenance by local areas. Or, "tax per family unit for school levy."

18 AT ST. HELENA

Eighteen members attended the St. Helena Forum meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Wilson. They were definitely on the negative side. "In High School areas, municipalities should pay a tax rate in accordance with the number of pupils attending."

"Many people living in rural areas while working in the cities have a larger income while their school taxes are comparatively low. These people benefit as much by the school as many others paying very high taxes. Therefore, in setting a school tax, a farmer's entire land should not be considered. More county assessors should be elected and all counties should have equalized assessment at once, figured by the county assessor."

FAVOR UPKEEP ONLY

Daisy D Forum (in the Norwood area) met at the school with Clare Telford leader. "Property owners agreed that they would not mind paying for the upkeep of schools, but that new schools should be first financed by the government. We think the school tax should be based on the value of the house instead of all the buildings and property; those who own just a house and small area of land have the same educational benefits as the farmer. In our township (Asphodel) we are paying a higher percentage of the school tax, but the village has a larger population."

Some of the Forums mention federal aid, but so far education has been the concern of the province.

Pine Grove Forum, at Alex Hunter's, evidently has few of the folks who packed up and got out of the city partly, perhaps, to avoid the urban tax levy.

"Our group thinks we should have equalized assessment." Their comment also expressed satisfaction with the system of school finance.

Insofar as it may be true that many of the urban expatriates were getting out from under city values and taxes, including schools, they were in effect shifting part of their costs to the farm community. That topic was generally overlooked in the December 14 broadcast on the relations between urban and rural people.

The newcomers on the concession lines, and paved highways, are certainly not farmers, but they greatly accentuate the educational problem in the country.

Lake and river-front dwellers, mostly summer, have been complaining at times that the townships were not supplying them with satisfactory road access. Objection now turns in the opposite direction that virtually urban groups have complicated the economy of the farmers in the effect of greatly increased school costs with disparity in their distribution.

Another Forum season is almost ended, and in the rating of immediate responses the banner line went to the Bridgenorth folks. From what the Forum headquarters people report, the group summaries are made available to the members of the federal and provincial houses of government. If so, elected representatives should find some interesting and pointed information in what are virtually rural demands for readjustment of the school tax burden caused by the cities and their overflowing populations.

Holstein Breeders Reduce Prices Of Calves For Norwood Fair Project

A progress report on the plans of the Norwood Fair executive to secure purebred Holstein heifer calves for 40 to 50 boys and girls has been received from the president, G. A. Brethen.

Objectives of this enterprise is to supply the young folks with calves of foundation quality for display and competition at the Norwood Fair next October, and in the meantime for 4-H calf club purposes. Ownership of exceptionally good stock is the fundamental ideal of the fair board in bringing these selected Holsteins into a wide community of Peterborough, especially its eastern township farms.

"Interest in the project is developing rapidly," Mr. Brethen reports, "not only among the boy and girl entrants, but also among breed organizations. The Holstein-Friesian Journal is sending a representative to write a story of this enterprise. Altogether, it could prove to be one of the most valuable and attractive activities which the Norwood Fair has so far undertaken."

"Last Saturday, Arnold Stevenson, one of our young active fair directors and the President went on a buying trip to York County to round up the calves required. At Markham, we contacted the Holstein Sales Agent for York and Simcoe Counties and he was of invaluable help in locating calves and their owners.

VISITED DOWNSVIEW

We first visited the Maple Artificial Insemination Unit to inspect the sires of our prospective calves. We later visited the Lonelm herd of Geo. C. Jackson at Downsview Farm from which many of the great bulls at Maple Unit had been selected. Mr. Jackson's herd of 75 head was founded on the "Texal Fayne" family, a strain of Holstein cattle of big, straight-bodied cows that are growing in popularity because they live well, work well, and look well in their long-term heavy production of high butterfat milk for the Toronto trade.

Believing that 'like begets like', if the qualities desired are well fixed for several generations, we decided that in buying foundation calves for the boys and girls at Norwood these were the kind of Holsteins that could be safely built upon to produce a top-notch herd for their future. In our search for forty to fifty heifer calves that in type size and breeding would be as 'like as peas' when shown by their young owners at Norwood Fair on Saturday, Oct. 9, we were delighted when visiting the stables of the farmers in this area that we were able to buy the type of calves we wanted, tracing back not only through the Maple Unit sires but also through their dams through several generations to this highly desireable "Texal-Fayne" family. When told that we have already purchased daughters and granddaughters of these good Maple sires, Lonelm Texal Highcroft, Govenlock Lonelm R. A. Ivan, Rembra Texal Sovereign, Houckholme Duke Burke (whose dam milked 35, 314 lbs. of 3.6 milk), Bond Haven R. A. Maple, etc., top Holstein breeders will tell you that in securing calves of these carefuly selected linebred sires of the Texal-Rag Apple cross we are buying a type that has proved itself through the years for high test and well-above average production.

When we told our story that these calves were for some 40 or 50 boys and girls as foundation stock, that they had to be tops in type and breeding and bought at a price of $75 that anyone could afford to pay to get started right, it was interesting to see the sellers' reaction. Every one of them said "I think that is a good idea. I wish they would do something like that for the boys around here."

Some, who had at first priced their calves higher or refused to sell at all said they would help us out, and we got our quota for the day.

It is interesting to note that in the two 50-head Maple Unit sales, older sisters of our calves, (bred or in milk) averaged $505 in 1952 and $387 in 1953. We expect to pay another visit to the Toronto area to complete the purchase of a heifer calf for every boy and girl who wishes to enter and tells us NOW.

Anyone interested is asked to contact G. A. Brethen, Norwood, phone 2-3937 or D. A. McNeil, Norwood, phone 2-3556."

Alan Ladd Busy In Garden

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — You'll never guess what Alan Ladd did on his first morning home after being out of the country for more than a year. He was up at dawn to clip bushes.

"I can't stand shrubs that aren't neat," said the two-fisted actor. So he awoke early and spent four hours snipping away at the greenery.

Home after making three pictures outside the United States, Ladd says, "It's hard on somebody who has lived in California most of his life But I don't regret having gone over there. It was a great experience, and the Europeans treated us wonderfully."

Ladd came back to Hollywood a broken man. Before leaving he had broken his hand in a movie scene. While in Canada, when he was showing his son how to dive, he bounced off a hotel bed and broke his foot. Later, in England, he was playing football with some kids on a cold day. He caught the ball on his finger and crunch!—a compound fracture.

He finished "The Black Knight" with his finger in a cast. The finger was poorly set and he is still having trouble with it.

Bing Crosby, by the way, is getting around more these days. First-nighters were startled to see him take an aisle seat with an unidentified date at the Los Angeles opening of "An Evening With Bea Lillie." Bing seemed to have a ball watching the Toronto-born Miss Lillie's antics.

Four Grooms, Four Brides Leave Holland For Canada

ENSCHOT, The Netherlands (Reuters)—Farmer Henricus Kort one day last month married off five daughters and a son—one after the other. Nearly all of this community's 3,215 citizens turned out for all-day festivities—and to say bon voyage to four of the couples who will make their homes in Canada.

The four brides and four grooms who will fly the Atlantic to take farm jobs in Ontario are not all strangers to Canada. Frans Bertens, 24, and Jan van Haaren, 25, have already worked for 18 months in Ontario.

They acted as "advance guard," learning Canadian customs and farming methods and preparing for the others.

PROSPECTS DIM AT HOME

Frans and Jan decided to emigrate because there was no room for them in densely-populated Holland. Jan van Haaren said he was one of eight children "and there is no prospect for me here."

His father's farm could support only two families, and it was practically impossible for a young farmer to buy additional land in Holland.

They chose Canada without hesitation. Enthusiastic letters from friends who had gone before spoke of splendid farming opportunities—a view which, they said, was confirmed by their own experience.

At first they worked together at Grand Bend, on the farm of C. Stokkermans, a Dutchman who emigrated six years ago. Then Frans moved to the 150-acre poultry farm of Verne McArthur at Thamesford.

On arrival in Canada by air March 27, the four couples will separate. Frans Bertens will take his 23-year-old bride Riek de Kort to Thamesford, where McArthur—"a fine boss," Frans said—is giving them four rooms in his house for their start in housekeeping.

GO TO THETFORD, ZURICH

Jan van Haaren and his 24-year-old bride Lucia (Luus) de Kort will go to Thetford, where Jan has found a job on Fred Donald's horticultural farm. Adriana (Ad) de Kort, 30, husband of Johanna (An) Bertens, 25, is going to Zurich, where Philip Durand, who has a 200-acre dairy farm, has promised him a house at reasonable rent.

Gerardus (Graard) Bertens, 28, husband of Annie de Kort, 27, will work on the 100-acre turkey ranch of Charlie Douglas at Embro, where part of a house has already been set aside for them.

"We will be separated by distances of up to 40 miles," the four men said. But they will try to keep family ties as close as possible.

"Who knows, each of us may have a car some day," they said. "We are looking for happiness and prosperity and we are sure to find them in Canada."

BRIDE HAPPY-MAN BLUSHES

The four brides shared this optimism and thought it "marvellous" to be going to Canada. All were confident that they would make a success of their new lives.

"I do not mind where I am, so long as I am with him," said An Bertens, pointing to her husband, who blushed.

Mother de Kort, mother of 11, is reluctant to see three daughters and a son disappear abroad but said: "I shall not shed a tear."

"After all," added Father de Kort, "we shall still have five children at home, four boys and a girl, and two of our daughters are married and have their own farms nearby, so we shall not be quite deserted."

Burgomaster A. G. M. Panis is proud of the world-wide publicity which the multiple wedding last Feb. 23 gave his community. Eleven of the 12 newlyweds came from the two families, and the one "outsider", Jan van Haaren, is related to one of the families.

CANADA GETTING THE BEST

The burgomaster said many young farmers in the district have no prospect of ever acquiring a farm of their own here.

"The emigration of the Bertens and the de Korts may stimulate others to follow their example," he said.

"It is with deep regret that I see them go—the best of our people leaving us. But I am convinced that Canada will gain by having such hard-working, devout and decent people. It is good for Canadians to know that we are giving up to them our best human material."

Stop Worrying!

TORONTO (CP) — Metropolitan chairman Fred Gardiner said municipal officials should stop worrying about tax increases as a result of metropolitan spending. Speaking at a meeting of the Canadian Public Relations Association, Mr. Gardiner said the metropolitan area may spend $200,000,000 on essential services during the next 10 years. He said that to attract industry, millions must be spent on sewage and water projects.

All Surgery In Soviet Institute Is Done Under Local Anaesthetic

By BILL BOSS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MOSCOW (CP)—Strapped on the operating table in the glare of the dome light, the patient lay with a long incision in his chest.

But he was talking—lucidly.

Grouped about him in one of the many operating theatres in the Surgical Institute of the Academy of Medicine of the U.S.S.R. were the director, two women surgeons, a team of two at the patient's head and another group at his feet.

Behind the surgeon was a nurse whose sole job was to keep plenty of hypodermic syringes charged with novocaine. Key to the patient's freedom from pain, at times she was a busy girl.

TALKS WITH PATIENT

The 40-year-old patient's chest was open from below the arm pit to just above the navel. Prof. Alexander A. Vyshnyevsky, head of the institute, was preparing to open the plural sac and remove a growth that had displaced the lung.

The man to whom all this was happening was conscious. He had just asked for, and received, a glass of water.

Before entering the theatre Vyshnyevsky told me:

"There is nothing special about our operating techniques in chest surgery. You do such operations as the one you will see very well in North America. What will be unusual for you will be our anaesthesia."

All surgery in this institute is under local anaesthetic. That goes for abdominal, chest and neurological surgery.

AID TO RECOVERY

Russian doctors maintain that certain methods of anaesthesia practised abroad are unnecessarily harmful to the system and prolong post-operative discomfort and recovery.

By applying total anaesthesia, they say, Western doctors merely knock out the sensory area of the brain. They leave the rest of the system open to pain stimulation from the area of operation—so that while the patient isn't conscious of it at the time, pain nonetheless is taking its toll of his system. The operation leaves him weakened, ragged, often also nauseous.

Their technique, they say, isolates the field of operation from the rest of the system.

The brain and the rest of the body are left largely unaffected by the proceedings. The patient emerges from the operation fitter to take up the process of recovery.

SIMPLE TECHNIQUE

The technique involves massive doses of novocaine, an inexpensive and common drug, in a "creeping" technique. It is applied by the surgeon himself as the operation proceeds. It is so simple, they say, that it may be practised in the smallest clinics and enables major surgery without unusual facilities.

A couple of hours before entering the theatre the patient gets a sedative. On the table he gets a nerve-block on each side of the neck about 20 minutes before the operation begins.

The "local" is then applied. Along the whole length of the projected incision 25-per-cent novocaine and sodium chloride is injected just under the skin. Every half-inch or so a new needleful goes in.

When the whole course has been covered—by probably 35 or 40 injections—the first incision is made Before the operation was over the injections were administered twice more.

CHATS WHILE WORKING

All the while Vyshnyevsky talked to his patient. "How are you feeling? No pain? Now, I must tell you about my own operation. . ."

The plural sac was opened and immediately Vyshnyevsky saw what he was after. The x-ray plates had shown only an enlarged whitish area displacing the lung.

"I've found it already. Call in the others—this is a one in a million. It's a lipoma."

Medical dictionaries define a lipoma as a simple tumor, only rarely found on the lung. It is not malignant.

It must have weighed at least five or six ounces and was as large as a man's fist.

"Show it to the patient," said the doctor. "Show him what we've taken away from him."

"Seen it?"

"Yes."

"Well, that's it. We're almost finished now. All we have to do is close you up."

"Thanks very much. I'm very grateful for your trouble."

"Not at all. We'll have a cognac together in a day or so if you invite me."

The two women assistant surgeons did the suturing up.

By coincidence a Russian acquaintance named Ludmilla, to whom I mentioned the operation had had an appendix removed by Vyshnyevsky.

"No, I didn't suffer any pain," she said. "During the operation I felt a little drunk, if anything, I wanted to sing. Afterward I didn't suffer at all. But I still didn't want to move for a while because I knew there was a hole down there."

Pierre Kushnier started the first continuous French Buffet service in the Town & Country five-and-a-half years ago. At that time he had one assistant. Today, he heads a kitchen staff of fifty-five, including thirty-five cooks.

Born in Normandy, France, Mr. Kushnier came to Canada in 1928, and has served in the Chateau Laurier; the Ritz Carlton, Montreal; Manoir Richlieu; Bigwin Inn; and ocean-going liners on the Montreal-British West Indies run.

THE HEAD CHEF AT THE TOWN & COUNTRY says "We always use MONARCH FLOUR for cakes and pastries!

"Our reputation for fine food is put to the test by hundreds of customers daily," says Pierre Kushnier of the Town & Country Dining Room, Toronto.

"We must obtain consistent results in our baking, for although we produce large quantities of cakes, and as many as four-hundred and fifty pieces of pastry a day, each serving is individually judged by an expectant customer.

"Long experience has satisfied me that only Monarch Cake and Pastry Flour gives consistently light, tender cakes and smooth, flaky pastries. In fact, for all non-yeast recipes, I wholeheartedly recommend and use only this flour.

"When you consider that Monarch Flour is specially milled from soft Ontario Wheat for use in cakes and pastry, it's not surprising that it has a softer, finer texture, and that it does make a noticeable difference in the appearance and taste of pies and cakes.

"Many people have praised the results I get with Monarch Flour, including quite a few celebrities of stage and screen, and if you like compliments as I do, I think you'll find they're easy to win if you always use Monarch Cake and Pastry Flour for non-yeast baking."

Your Children's Aid Society

A Weekly Column Written in the Interest of the Peterborough Children's Aid Society

She sits at the desk across from the social worker at the Children's Aid office and wonders if she too is going to condemn her. It has been difficult for this unmarried mother who feels shame and guilt. Unkind remarks have been made, she knows some people think girls who get "into trouble" are bad. Will this be what will happen at the Children's Aid office?

Timidly she says she wants to place her baby to be born in three months time for adoption. Will the Children's Aid worker arrange that? She is assured the Society will help her plan for her child if that is what she wants. She is told what adoption means and what information the Society needs to have. She is told about her rights to her own child and what other plans she could make. If she wishes to get financial help from the father of the baby, she is advised that the Society will help her.

That is all very important for the present. But why are these young people unmarried parents? It is difficult to make a statement which would apply to all situations. However, with but few exceptions the relationship of the unmarried person to one or both parents or within the family setting has not been a happy one. Do not misunderstand. These people do not have indifferent parents. Frequently, these are parents who wanted to do well with their children but who because of their own experiences have not the ability to show affection, to show no partiality, to give firm but kind direction. The son or daughter grows up needing understanding, needing affection or even acceptance. This is what the unmarried parents need to find out about themselves because only then can they develop more acceptable behaviour.

We are told that removing the child from the unmarried mother makes it easy for her to have another baby. Make her look after the child and then she'll not repeat her mistake, it is said. But is this so? Statistics show us that it is not. Moreover, if the mother does not want her baby, what does it mean to the child to remain with her? Might this child, because he is unwanted and unloved, become an unmarried parent too?

Most unmarried mothers do love their babies, however, and for most of them it is a very difficult thing to give up the child. It is not done, either, until the mother gets a good deal of assurance about the kind of homes the Children's Aid Society chooses either for boarding or adoption. One unmarried mother went to work in a home where the people were adopting a baby (not her own of course.) She said she had really known the Children's Aid Society would see that babies were well looked after but she was completely convinced after her experience. Are these girls callous and indifferent to the welfare of their babies? Of course not.

So the unmarried parents find they can talk freely at the Children's Aid office and get help with problems which have been bothering them for many a day. Assistance is given in arranging for admission to a maternity home if they wish to go there. Plans for their babies are made with their full understanding of what it means and every financial help secured for them. The timid girl who came to the office for her first interview finds it easier to return to continue talking and planning with her social worker.

Next week we will tell about some of the other services given by the Children's Aid Society.

Accidental Shot Fatal

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — Howard Thomas Loveless, 42, accidentally shot himself to death Thursday while hunting near his home in nearby Thorndale. His 14-year-old son, Robert, found him with a bullet wound in the head when he went to look for him.

Dies After Gassing

WATFORD (CP)—Mrs. Katherine May Lamb, 65, of Alvinston, one of two women found unconscious in a gas-filled home in Glencoe five weeks ago, died Thursday. The other woman, Mrs. Jean McVicar, 62, of Glencoe died several days ago.

Offers Find Woman Another Position

WASHINGTON (CP) — A suspended army signal corps employee was told by a Democratic member of the Senate investigations sub-committee Thursday that if she is not reinstated in her job, "you come around to me and I'm going to see you get another one."

Mrs. Annie Lee Moss appeared before the McCarthy committee and denied that she is or ever was a member of the Communist party.

"I may be sticking my neck out" Senator Stuart Symington (Dem. Mo.) told her, "but I think you are telling the truth."

Symington then made his offer to find her a job if the army doesn't take her back.

Senate Called "Other Place"

OTTAWA (CP)—For years members of the Commons have referred to the Senate as "the other place." The same has been true in the upper chamber in references to the Commons.

However, Senator Wishart Robertson, Senate speaker, Thursday told the upper chamber that this practice is usually wrong. The correct thing to do is refer to the two chambers by the names given them at Confederation—the Senate and the House of Commons.

Senator Robertson said the custom of referring to "the other place" in those words seems to have arisen from a parliamentary rule against alluding in one House to the debates in another.

Senator Robertson concludes that when it is in order to refer to the other chamber, it also is in order to call it "the House of Commons" or "the Senate" as the case may be.

Survey Indicated Drop In Shipping

A year ago, the port of Buffalo already had been open for a week. Today, not one of the 57 freighters berthed here for the winter had been boarded by engineering crews whose job is to prepare the ships for first sailings.

Th News said "It is almost a certainty that some of them will not be put back in service when the 1954 navigation season is under way."

"There is no longer enough business to keep all the ships in the big lakes fleet active," the News reported.

Hard To Compete With U.S. For Interns

Members of the Board of Governors of the Peterborough Civic Hospital have expressed interest in a newspaper report which said that 42 per cent of medical gradates from the University of Toronto do their interning in the United States.

"The United States draft is the key to the whole thing," said one official. He said that American hospitals were particularly attractive to Canadians because, in the face of a doctor-shortage created by the draft they can, as non-resident aliens, write their own ticket in many hospitals.

Another official said that while the best-known hospitals in the country still paid low wages to interns, the medium sized ones have to compete for interns by offering financial attractions.

At a Toronto council meeting Thursday, Ald. John Kuckerepa charged that salaries in many United States hospitals are twelve times those paid in Toronto. He said that there was small incentive for Canadian doctors to stay in Canada when they can make $200 to $275 a month, plus room and board in the U.S, as opposed to $200 a year in Toronto.

The alderman, who is a doctor, also charged that at the Riverdale Isolation hospital in Toronto interns are paid less than half the wages of orderlies.

BETTER LATE—Alphonse Berube, of Montreal, finally arrived home recently after leaving on a hunting trip over six months ago. Alhponse had lost his way and wandered around in the woods for six days without food, sbelter or sufficient clothing and when found his feet were frozen and his toes had to be amputated. When released from hospital after several months he lived with a friend as his apartment was too small to use his wheel chair. It will be another month before he can return to his job as mechanical foreman for the CNR.

leader. Eleven were present. It is their intention as a group "to visit the farm of each member this summer. We shall list the hazards found, the idea being that we all become too familiar with some hazards and do not notice them. Also it will tend to have us repair known hazards of which we have been careless. If we know we are to be visited by a group of helpful critics, we shall be much more critical ourselves."

Manipulation of machinery becomes a habit and induces carelessness. Chances taken in overloading tractors is one cause of accidents, speed another. They recommended a safety week program in schools; first aid course; strict vigilance of electrical wiring and equipment.

St. Helena Forum had 23 at their meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Warner. Max Humphries. Some of their comments were: "Tractors are often driven at excessive speeds. Power take-off shields are not kept in place . . . Do not drive at speeds at which you can't control your tractor . . . Do not risk driving a tractor on steep hills or embankments. We suggest appointing two of our members as advisers or inspectors to visit farms in our community and give suggestions as how to improve present conditions . . . Each farm should have on hand a first aid kit, the buildings should have fire extinguishers; and pulleys, belts or any rotating device should be properly covered for human protection.

Electrical equipment should be installed by an electrician only; burned out fuses should not be replaced by one cent copper coins, and farmers should not carry too heavy a load on their fuse box, transformers and lines.

Bewdley News

At the weekly euchre party held in the community hall Tuesday evening, seven tables of progressive euchre were played. Ladies' prizes went to Mrs. Harold McCallister, Mrs. W. Davis, and Mrs. F. McCallister, and gents' to Messrs. Frank McCallister, Art Pearce and W. Elmer.

Ross Little and Neil Manley were among those playing in a recital by the pupils of Mrs. C. Howey, Port Hope, Friday evening, held in the Sunday school room of St. Paul's Presbyterian church. At the close Mrs. Howey and some lady assistants served refreshments. The minister, the Rev. L. H. Fowler, congratulated the children. Mrs. Howey was presented with a lovely bouquet of flowers on behalf of her pupils.

Wedding Eve Conviction

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Leroy Goss was sentenced on his wedding night to 99 years in prison. Goss, an ex-convict, was on trial charged with armed robbery. As a jury filed out Thursday he and Miss Frances Parga, 23, sent for a minister, and were married in a witness room Thursday night—six hours and 15 minutes after the marriage—the jury returned and convicted Goss. He buried his face in his hands and wept.

Advice To Indians

NEW DELHI (Reuters)—Indian women government workers were officially asked today to wear sober dress in the office, in colors and designs that "help to maintain dignity and decorum." For formal occasions the women were advised to garb themselves in sober-colored saris of plain material. Office dress should be "plain cotton or silk sari without a border." The sari is the traditional long-skirted flowing garment of Indian women.

Decide on Scholarship

Afternoon Branch of the WA of St. John's Anglican Church met this week with president Mrs. F. E. Hooper presiding. The Rev. F. G. Ongley, rector, conducted the opening devotions. Mrs. J. Cridland presented the chapter from the study book titled "Raise your sights," which dealt with evangelism in debt. She clarified this complicated subject for the ladies. The rector drew attention to a booklet "Forward in faith" and suggested it for reading. On his recommendation it was decided to give a camp scholarship to a GA girl this summer and the committee appointed to look after this included Mrs. Hooper, Mr. Ongley, Miss M. English and Mrs. W. C. Boate. Miss English reported a treasury balance of $466.95. Mrs. A. Pink was welcomed as a member of the Auxiliary. A letter from the prayer partner Miss M. Rock was read. Discussion of a spring tea took place and it was decided to hold it on April 27th. Tea was served by Mrs. J. Johnston and Mrs. Boate.

To Have Chain Of Teas

St. James church W.M.S. met Tuesday afternoon in Wesley Hall. Quiet music by Mrs. H. Doig opened the meeting, after which Mrs. L. Bird recited the call to worship. "Come, let us sing of a wonderful love" a favorite hymn of the late Mrs. L. Piercy, was sung and Mrs. G. H. Rowe led in prayer. Mrs. A. E. Prest reported on the canvalescent and bereavement cards sent out. Much discussion on a project for the Christian citizenship department of which Mrs. H. S. Powers is convenor, resulted in a decision to raise money to send one or two girls to camp by a chain of teas. Mrs. Rtwe reminded of articles for the overseas bale. and a collection was taken to provide a sheet for the supply departments. Worship service on the theme, "The Church in Their House" was led by Mrs. Powers group leader. Scripture was read by Mrs. H. Doig, and prayer offered by Miss M. Collins. Mrs. E. Kitney favoured with a solo "Take up Thy Cross" accompanied by Mrs. Doig. The offering was received and dedicated by Mrs. T. Meredith.

The chapter in the study book dealing with "The Christian Church in the whole of Africa" was taken by Mrs. Bird. Using a map she explained the characteristics of the north, central, and southern parts and the efforts to establish the church.

Mrs. Powers took charge of the rebuilding of European churches and told of the eagerness to return to the study of the Bible. Mrs. W. Peel closed with prayer.

Stresses Home Teaching

Miss Greta Clark, a missionary in China for 34 years, spoke to Trinity Baby Band Mother's Association, Wednesday evening. She told of the struggle of the Christians in China and of how communists were always trying to undo their work. She emphasized the importance of the Christian teachings being given children in the homes here. She was introduced by Mrs. P. Busbin and thanked by Mrs. W. Wildman. Miss Barbara Poole, a guest for the evening, favored with a solo, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. E. Richie.

Devotional theme was "Brotherhood" and Mrs. W. Messervey read the scripture. Mrs. G. Taylor told a story "The Great Soul" and Mrs. Brisbin led in prayer. President Mrs. E. William presided during business. Members were to asked to bring used clothing for Korean relief. Plans for an evening coffee party on May 5th were discussed by Mrs. H. Wilson, General convenor. The following new members were introduced and welcomed, Mrs. F. W. Buckle, Mrs. W. Durant, Mrs. E. Lohr, Mrs. M. Lowes and Mrs. G. Hearn. Delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. P. Brisbin and her south end group.

High School Students At Home To Their Parents

MILLBROOK (ENS)—The students of Millbrook high school were at home to their parents and friends from 2 to 4.30 on Wednesday afternoon. Welcoming guests at the door were Donald Kent, president of the students' council, and Miss Frances Dawson, secretary.

Programs were given out telling that in the period from 2.00 to 2.40 visitors might sit in on classes in Grade 9 science conducted by Mr. Williams; in Grade 10 French by Mrs. Cheshire; Grades 11 and 12 mathematics by Mr. Young, or Grade 13 English by Mr. Ingham. In the period from 2.40 to 3.20 they might observe Mrs. Cheshire's Grade 9 mathematics class or Mr. Young's Grade 10 typing one, or Mr. Ingham's Grade 11 and 12 history class, or Mr. Williams' Grade 13 biology. Visitors were allowed to enter or leave classes as they wished.

At 3.20, all met in the assembly room. George Young, the principal, spoke briefly, welcoming the guests, and then turned the rest of the afternoon over to the executive of the students' council. Don Kent, president, announced the following program: A girls' sextette comprising Frances Elson, Marilyn Sanders, Natalie Belch, Dorothy Chapman, Dorothy Ball and Lenore Ouelette singing "Put On Your Old Blue Bonnet" and "Moonlight Bay"; glee club choruses "Oh What a Beautiful Morning" and "Dry Bones," directed by Miss Dianne Hogaboam; a trumpet solo by George Patton accompanied by Miss Beverley Patton, and a piano solo by Miss Natalie Belch. A film on Finland was shown.

Tea was served by members of the students' council. Miss Vilda Brown and Miss Lois Lord poured tea from silver services at either end of a lace-covered table centred with spring flowers and lighted candles.

St. Giles' Group Hears Two Guests

A variation of the usual roll call routine injected a note of humour into the Wednesday evening meeting of Friendship Group of St. Giles' Presbyterian Church, meeting held at the home of Mrs. Arnold Steele Riverside Drive. Attendance was excellent and each lady answered the roll call with her husband's Christian name.

President, Mrs. Wm. Clark presided. Mrs. Loyd Endicott read the scripture and lead in prayer. The business session was lengthy as the approaching completion of the church, added several matters to the agenda. One of the more important of these was discussion concerning the most suitable social amenity to be observed at that time.

Program convenor Mrs. Alfred Philips added to the enjoyment of the evening by providing a guest soloist, as well as a speaker. Freda Estabrooks, small daughter of one of the members very sweetly sang "Message to a Lambkin", and a "Brahm's Lullabye". She was accompanied by Mrs. L. Monk.

Mrs. D. Rostocky gave a lively discourse on "Democracy in the Family". She began with the first year of marriage, and the inevitable adjustments that result from the union of two people who have grown up in different home atmospheres. Then continued with an outline of the different situations that arise after the arrival of children until the hurdle of adolescense has been overcome. "Thus, adjusting, as the necessity arises, instead of trying to force anyone or anything into a certain mold, exemplifies the democratic way of living", she concluded.

Mrs. H. Renwick Hostess To Aid

KEENE —(ENS)—The Knox Presbyterian ladies' aid met at the home of Mrs. Hugh Renwick on Wednesday evening. The president, Mrs. N. McCuaig, was in the chair and twelve members answered the roll call. The opening hymn was followed by the Lord's Prayer. The scripture reading, was given by Mrs. Peter Mather. Readings were given by Mrs. F. Blackbourn 'Cheerup, Life was Meant to be Enjoyed', Mrs. L. Hogg 'Bridal Customs and Costumes Date From Far away Ages', and Mrs. H. Donaldson 'Won't You Stay for Dinner'. The closing hymn was, followed by the Mizpah benediction. Mrs. Geo. Hawkes conducted a contest and lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. D. Davis.

Mantle-Davidson

MARMORA (ENS) — At St. Bartholemew's Anglican church, Bannockburn, the wedding took place of Anne Marilyn, daughter of Mrs. Eva Davidson of Bannockburn to George John Mantle, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Mantle of Marmora.

The Rev. T. H. Good officiated. Wedding music was played by Miss Rosemary Webb of Bonarlaw, Miss Anne Nickle of Madoc was soloist, rendering "The Lord's Prayer" before the ceremony and "Because" during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her uncle Mr. Clayton Davidson of Coe Hill, the bride was in a floor length gown of white chantilly lace over nylon tulle. A finger tip veil fell from her lace headdress and she carried pink gardenias and lily of the valley on her prayer book.

As maid of honor, Miss Dorothy McCoy of Peterborough wore a ballerina gown of blue nylon net with pleated bodice and net stole. Miss Gwen Lloyd of Bannockburn was bridesmaid, wearing pink nylon net ballerina gown with pleated bodice. Both wore matching feather headdresses and carried baskets of pink and blue hyacinths.

Little Donna Adams of Belleville, cousin of the bride was in floor length organdy with matching poke bonnet and carried a basket of pink and blue hyacinths.

Mr. Allan Mumby of Trenton was groomsman and Tom Brooks of Deloro and Donald Johnston of Eldorado were ushers.

A buffet lunch was served to 75 guests at the AYPA rooms in Bannockburn. The bride's mother received, wearing wine silk with black accessories and a corsage of white carnations. She was assisted by the groom's mother who wore a figured suit with black accessories and white gardenias. Guests were present from Peterborough, Ottawa, Kingston, Belleville, Marmora, Madoc and Coe Hill.

For their honeymoon trip the bride chose a navy dress, fashioned in princess style with navy accessories and a corsage of red roses. They will live in Marmora.

Mrs. Green Host

MARMORA (ENS)—The March meeting of the women's institute was held on Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. L. L. Green. Mrs. M. Kouri was in the chair. The roll call was "An Irish Saying". A letter was read from the district president, Mrs. J. Horspool, stating her hope to be present at the April meeting which is the annual one.

Mrs. R. E. Neal and Mrs. Hogarth Sabine were appointed as committee to bring in the slate of officers at the April meeting.

Following the business period a short program was given. Mrs. Percy Gray Sr. contributed a humorous reading, "The Schizaphrenic Sow". Mrs. Green staged a "Motor Romance" contest, which was won by Mrs. Hogarth Sabine. Refreshments were served by the committee for the month.

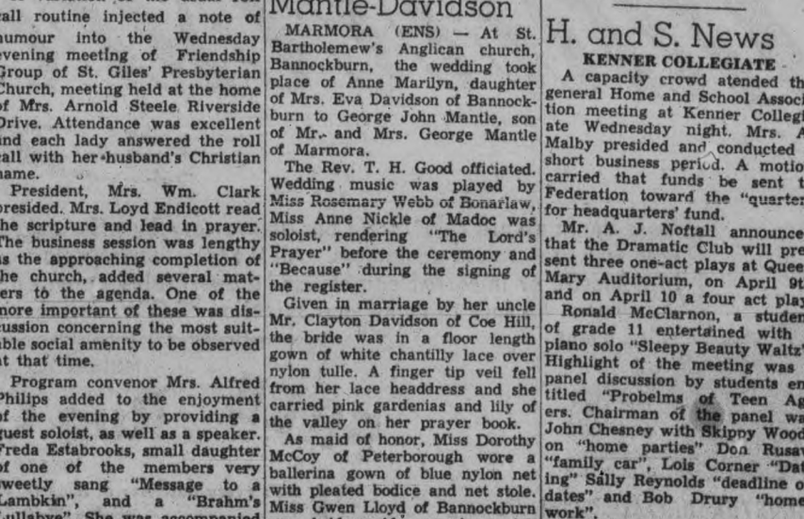
KENNER COLLEGIATE

A capacity crowd atended the general Home and School Association meeting at Kenner Collegiate Wednesday night. Mrs. A. Malby presided and conducted a short business period. A motion carried that funds be sent to Federation toward the "quarters for headquarters' fund.



Mr. A. J. Noftall announced that the Dramatic Club will present three one-act plays at Queen Mary Auditorium, on April 9th and on April 10 a four act play.

Ronald McClarnon, a student of grade 11 entertained with a piano solo "Sleepy Beauty Waltz". Highlight of the meeting was a panel discussion by students entitled "Probelms of Teen Agers. Chairman of the panel was John Chesney with Skippy Woods on "home parties" Don Rusaw "family car", Lois Corner "Dating" Sally Reynolds "deadline on dates" and Bob Drury "homework".

Each student outlined their topic and the panel discussed each in turn, presenting their own views. In conclusion the chairman asked for questions from the parents, which they would try to answer. Questions were many and varied, but answered in a very thorough and thoughtful manner which left plenty of food for thought with the parents.

Members of the panel are to be congratulated tn their splendid work and also on the way it was presented .

Mrs. Malby thanked all taking part. A social hour followed with Mrs .G. Myles and her committee in charge.

Kinettes Give Convincing Parisian Night Club Show For Annual Entertainment

Let several local Kinsmen go broke and Peterborough might have a night club floor show that would bring sight-seers from Paris. Their wives would be the attraction, of course.

Kinettes presented a convincing sample of what they could do Thursday evening, on the stage of Club Aragon. This was their annual "gentlemen's night" entertainment and they titled the program most aptly, "Varieties of '54".

There was a torch singer, a "blues" singer and tap dancer, a comedienne, a comic song quartette, a chorus line and comedy, and a spectacular "can can" revue. Who could ask for anything more in one evening, with bar refreshments and dancing thrown in.

But there was more—"cigarette girls" to delight the eye in shimmering green tights. This pair however were presenting souvenir match books.

The aduience of 130 couples applauded and applauded the acts, and managed to bring several back for encores. This time the Kinettes threw the party open to their friends so that they might make money to send more diabetic children for a summer holiday at Ilalee Lodge. They have been carrying on this worthy project for several years past and the result has been most satisfying.

An approving guest on this occasion was Mr. Dick Hannah of Toronto, who is assistant national director of Kinsmen, and the editor of the "Kin Magazine".

Kinette president Mrs. Cameron Craig introduced the entertainment presenting the convener Mrs. Harley Carr and the director Mrs. George Stone for special commendation of their work. Many hours had been spent practising for this show, as was clearly evident in the stream-lined production witnessed.

The slinky songstress, dripping jewels and furs, who chose "Too Old to Cut the Mustard" as her song, was none other than Mrs. Gerald Norris, and the snappy tap dancer singing "Bye Bye Blues" was Mrs. Harvie Ball.

Introduced as "The poor man's Kate Aitken", Mrs. Howard Powell gave a screamingly funny demonstration of "cooking tricks she had learned in Paris." The wine which was a repeated ingredient of the fresh vegetable salad seemed however to have more effect on the cook, and she ended the scene in an interpretative dance.

"Beaus and Belles", the quartette, featured Mrs. Bob Hamilton and Mrs. J. Robertson as the beaus, and Mrs. Norris and Mrs. Clare Boorman the belles, and the verses they sang were specially written to the music of "A Woman's a Woman".

The "Rockettes", 10 in number, did a smooth chorus girl routine and sang "Diamonds are a Girl's Best Friends". They were dressed in black shorts and tops and wore bow ties and black stiff hats.

Brilliant-hued, be-ruffled gowns and feathered hats in the traditional style for the "Follies Bergere a la Kinettes" were the ones used for the "can can" dance in last year's CNE grandstand show. These girls came up with every kick in time to the music, and their finish was "outstanding." Perhaps it was for another "glimpse" that the audience called them back again.

The Club Aragon orchestra accompanying, and MC Orv Wainman added immeasurably to the show, with Mr. Wainman helping out the soloists with their encores, and also putting on a little side show of his own.

Decorations to achieve a night club effect on stage and on carabet tables were the work of Mrs. Edward Jones and Mrs. Fred Ash and their committee.

Arrangements for the evening included the serving of lunch at an intermission in the dance program.

Readers' Friday Column Conducted By Mary Moore

QUESTION: . . . during the holidays we bought some German Coffee Bun which we enjoyed very much . . . can you send me the recipe . . . the buns I can buy here are spoiled with so much icing . . . Jane J.

ANSWER: There are so many versions of German Coffee Cake that I will give you the basic dough and some choices among the toppings.

COFFEE CAKE (baking powder)

Beat together until smooth ¾ cup sugar, ¼ cup soft shortening and 1 egg, then stir in ½ cup milk. Sift together and stir in 1½ cups sifted flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder and ½ teaspoon salt. Spread this batter in a buttered and floured square pan 9 x 9 inches. Sprinkle with desired topping (see below). Bake at 375 deg. Fahr. for 25 to 35 minutes.

TOPPINGS (for coffee cake)

(1) ½ cup brown sugar and 1½ teaspoons cinnamon mixed together; (2) one -third cup moist cut-up candied fruit, ½ teaspoon cinnamon, 3 tablespoons sugar; (3) ½ cup brown sugar, 2 tablespoons flour, 2 teaspoons cinnamon, 2 tablespoons melted butter, ½ cup chopped nuts.

COFFEE CAKE (yeast)

1½ cups lukewarm milk, ½ cup sugar, 2 teaspoons salt, ½ cup lukewarm water, 1 package granular yeast, 2 eggs, ½ cup soft shortening, 7 cups sifted all-purpose flour. Add 1 teaspoon of the sugar to the lukewarm water, sprinkle yeast on top, let stand 10 minutes, then stir. Mix together the sugar, 1½ cups lukewarm milk and salt. Add the shortening and stir, then beat in eggs, and stir in soaked yeast. Mix in the flour with a spoon. When too stiff to do this mix with hand. Cover and let dough rise to double. Cut dough down and fold and turn over about 10 times, and let rise again to double, covered. For the coffee cake take one-third of this dough and roll out to fit pan about 12 x 8 inches. Sprinkle with any of the toppings above OR with one-third sugar mixed with one-third cup flour, 3 tablespoons butter, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, ½ cup cut-up nuts. Cover and let rise until doubled. Bake at 400 deg. Fahr. for 25 to 30 minutes. Shape remaining dough into hot rolls. Let rise.

LETTER: This is the tastiest salad I've run into in a long time. Hope you will try it. Got such a nice letter from you when I wrote two years ago. Our Peters just starting to university—remember? Our Pete is still at it though he gets fed up boarding out. Sez he, "Guess I'm spoiled, Mom" . . . if I don't get this to you now it will never get done. Eloise N.

JELLIED SALAD

One lime jelly mixed with 1 cup hot water and cooled. Add 1 pint cottage cheese, 3 teaspoons grated carrot, 2 tablespoons grated onion, ½ cup chopped celery, ½ cup salad dressing, ½ cup cream, salt and pepper to taste, 2 tablespoons chopped green pepper if available. Eloise N.

ANSWER: Sure I remember about our two Petes both starting off on their own to go to college. It's fun noticing how much more they appreciate a home-cooked meal now isn't it? Thanks so much for the salad—it is good.

QUESTION: . . . was wondering if you could give me some ideas for my kind of meals (diabetic) . . . things like making salads from vegetables or dressing them up, also desserts . . . here is a very good recipe for mincemeat.

MINCEMEAT (Courtesy Idella R.)

Two lbs. raisins stoned, 2 lbs. currants, 1 lb. citron cut fine, 3 lbs. beef, 1 lb. suet, 1½ rounded tablespoons cinnamon, ½ round tablespoon cloves, ½ round tablespoon allspice, 3 nutmegs grated, 1 quart boiled cider, 1½ cups molasses, 4 cups white sugar, 4 cups brown sugar, 3 lemons grated peel and juice, 2 oranges and salt. Twice as many apples as chopped meat. I revise this a bit. I just use all small raisins and no currants, also less sugar—about 3 cups each, and I use mixed peel. This recipe is my favorite. Idella.

ANSWER: Thank you, Idella. This recipe came at a good time. I'm sure there are many readers with apples who will make use of it. I have mailed you material on diabetic foods.

THOUGH PARIS STRESSES the tiny hat this spring, designers also show some medium brims. Dotted black-and-white surah is used (left) for Breton by Jacques Fath. This same designer does tiny toque in flag blue felt (right) that is typical of the doll-sized hat worn straight across the brows. Crowns have shrunk to a couple of inches this year and hats are anchored by wired grips at either side of the head.

DOROTHY DIX

Repentant Boss Would End Affair With His Secretary

DEAR MISS DIX: For over 10 years my boss and I have been intimate. He's a married man. Now, after all these years, he seems to have acquired a conscience. He wants to return to church, and to be free of a sense of guilt. He wants to break up. I see his point of view, and though it will be difficult for me to terminate our relationship since I do love him, I know in the long run I'll be glad I did. However, here's the immediate problem: Because I am a good worker, and understand him so well, he wants me to continue my job as his secretary. I think it would be better if I left the place. I can get another job, I know. F. T.

AN OFFICE AFFAIR

ANSWER: I thoroughly agree with you. The idea of separation will never be entirely accomplished so long as you two continue to work so closely together. Perhaps your boss' repentance isn't quite complete. While he realizes the wisdom of ending his affair with you, he doesn't want to deprive himself of an able secretary, and isn't that the line he's been pursuing all along? He maintained the respectable home life of a prosperous businessman, had a charming wife to act as social background, and to perform home duties efficiently, while he enjoyed an extramarital relationship in which he was entirely free of responsibitlity. Now, for some reason, he wishes an easy conscience, or perhaps has just tired of you personally. It's difficult for me to believe wholeheartedly in the reformation when apparently there is quite a big catch to it, i.e., your continued presence in the office.

You have doubtless suffered many hurts already through this affair, and I assure you there will be more—and worse—unless you follow your own sensible idea to quit the job as well as the man.

DEAR MISS DIX: Before I was married, 18 months ago, my husband drank quite a bit, but promised to give it up. He didn't keep his promise and our married life has been quite miserable. When he comes home drunk, he accuses me of being in love with his brother, and nothing could be further from my mind. I cry all the time, but he doesn't change. A. D.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: A wife constantly in tears is enough to drive a man to drink. Why not change your childish tactics for something a bit more constructive? Of course you're miserable, but tears won't wash out your mistake. Try to get your husband interested in Alcoholics Anonymous.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I do ironing for people. The last few times I've worked in my customers' homes they deducted from my wages a small amount to pay for electricity used by me. Am I supposed to pay for electricity? R. R.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Are you sure the deduction was for electricity? You know employers are required by law to deduct money from wages, under certain conditions. The money is for Social Security, and in time will be of benefit to you. Check this with your customers. It's difficult to believe they could be small enough to charge for electricity used in doing their ironing.

Kitchener Raises Tax Rate 1½ Mills

KITCHENER (CP)—Following a 13-hour meeting the Kitchener council early today set a 1954 tax rate of 73½ mills, 1½ mills higher than last year.

With one mill representing $51,783 this year, the budget will provide $3,806,074 to run the city, compared with $3,576,096 last year.

The budget provides $20,000 to start a re-assessment program, also funds to permit increase of aldermen's salaries from $10 to $15 a meeting if council so decides. The mayor's salary may also be raised from $2,500 to $3,500.

Lake Erie Clear Of Ice Tugs Get 1st Catches

PORT DOVER (CP)—Ice conditions have cleared enough on Lake Erie for Port Dover tugs to bring in their first catches of whitefish this season, but catches have not been heavy.

Four tugs brought in 1,100 whitefish. Heavier lifts of pickerel, white bass and perch are reported. One tug netted 2,400 pounds.

Port Dover, on Lake Erie, is 40 miles south of Hamilton.

EARLY PROHIBITION

Premier Not Visiting Formosa On Tour

OTTAWA (CP)—External Affairs Minister Pearson said Thursday that no "political inference" should be read into the fact that Prime Minister St. Laurent was unable to visit Formosa during his current world tour.

He was replying in the Commons to John Blackmore (SC — Lethbridge) who asked if it was "an accident or deliberate planning" that Mr. St. Laurent's itinerary did not include Formosa and a visit to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, leader of the Chinese Nationalist government.

"No political inference of any kind should be read into the fact that the prime minister was not able to visit Formosa," Mr. Pearson said.

WA Votes $5 To Polio Fund

WESTWOOD (ENS)—Mrs. Irwin Russell was hostess to the members of the Woman's Association on Tuesday evening. Mrs. Ronald Warner, vice-president, took charge of the meeting, and opened with the theme song and prayer.

Mrs. Clayton Brackenridge had charge of the devotional period on "The Way of the Cross," with a meditation.

Five dollars was voted to be sent to the Canadian Foundation for Poliomyelitis Fund.

An invitation was accepted from Trinity WA of Hastings, to meet with them on March 26.

Mrs. Stephen Elmhirst contributed a reading, and a musical contest, with Mrs. Max Brackenridge at the piano, was won by Mrs. Aubrey Wood.

Lunch was served by the hostess and committee in charge.

UNIVERSITY BOATS

The eight-oared shells used in the historic boat race between Oxford and Cambridge are 60 feet long.

Premier Visits Flotilla

TOKYO (CP)—Canadian sailors had a showy hour with Prime Minister St. Laurent this morning, and after a brisk walk down their rigid, well-scrubbed lines he told them they made him prouder than ever to be a Canadian.

He mounted a saluting stand for a 10-minute talk to the 800 men of the Canadian Far East flotilla whose spanking-clean gun turrets and yards formed an appropriate background.

He had travelled on his round-the-world tour with the RCAF, which contributes to the United Nations airlift, and he had spent three lively days with the 25th Brigade in the Korean front lines. Today he completed his inspection of Canada's Far East commitment by visiting the destroyers.

The flagship Haida, along with the Crusader and Cayuga, had moved into dock from their patrol stations and they were dressed from stem to stern with a gay assortment of pennants. Gun barrels glistened in the shafts of sunlight.

1,000 Evacuated Burning Gym

MONTREAL (CP)—Some 1,000 persons, including 750 children, were safely evacuated Thursday night as fire swept through the gymnasium of suburban Ville St. Laurent high school.

The children were preparing to stage a gymnastic display for parents and friends when the flames, believed started by a short circuit appeared in paper stage decorations.

Witnesses said the children, ranging in age from eight to 15, filed out of the blazing room in a "quiet, orderly fashion."

Firemen reported the gym was badly damaged by fire and water.

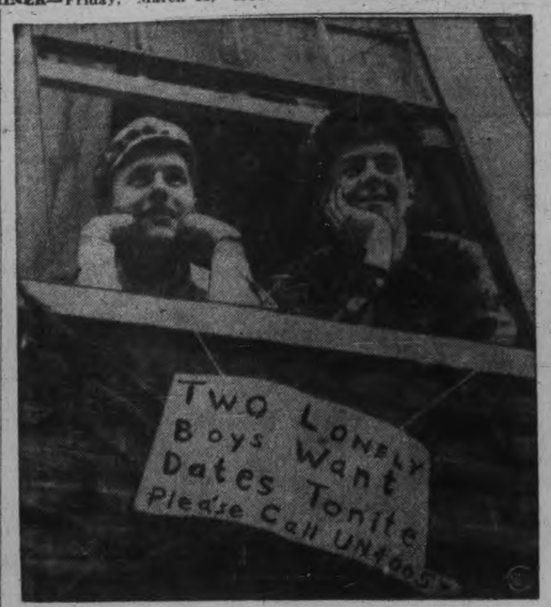
Performances Much Improved Says Adjudicator

"You know," festival adjudicator Ronald Beggs mused at the Kiwanis club meeting Wednesday, "when I hear your club choir in action, I wonder why the choir members don't take up farming."

Mr. Beggs and Frank Odell, also an adjudicator at the Kiwanis festival this week, were luncheon guests of the sponsoring club. Although they felt that the amateur choir of Kiwanians perhaps leaves something to be desired, namely talent, they were enthusiastic about the musical efforts of Peterborough generally.

There has been a "tremendous difference" in the quality of musical talent in the past two years said Mr. Beggs. He recalled that there had been some spotty work when he was here before from England in 1952, but now most performers had achieved much more "smoothness." He said that it was now "a real pleasure" to adjudicate in Peterborough.



Mr. Beggs paid particular tribute to the work done by rural choirs. He said their work was particularly laudable since many of these groups must practice without piano accompaniment

Commenting on the work of the impromptu Kiwanis choir which performed at the luncheon Mr. Odell noted that they sang the piece they performed two years ago. Some progress, he acknowledged, has been made since then.

But the Kiwanians are to be congratulated for doing such a "grand job" in organizing and promoting the festival. Then he impishly added that this was especially praiseworthy since "you are not musical."

At this point Mr. Odell announced that he would now sit down "before I start getting any razzberries."

USE DATE BAIT—Amidst the ivy on the walls of Harvard University, in Cambridge, Mass., is a sign, "Two lonely boys want dates tonight, please call UN 4-0657." It was the idea of Walter Reschke, left, of Cincinnati, Ohio, and John Liebeskind, of Waterbury, Conn., who believe it pays to advertise.

Men Not Affected By Radiation

WASHINGTON (CP) — The Atomic Energy Commission said Thursday night that 28 Americans and 236 natives were subjected to "some radiation" during the recent atomic test in the Marshall islands but all those exposed are "reported well."

The commission announced March 1 that the first of a series of nuclear tests had started in the Pacific proving grounds.

The commission announcement Thursday said:

"During the course of a routine atomic test in the Marshall islands 28 United States personnel and 236 residents were transported from neighboring atolls to Kwajalein island according to plans as a precautionary measure.

"The individuals were unexpectedly exposed to some radiation. There were no burns. All were reported well.

"After completions of the atomic tests they will be returned to their homes."

The commission made no amplification of this announcement. However it seemed probable that a "fall-out" of radioactive waste and activated moisture from a cloud drifting from the explosion probably descended on the Americans and natives on the atoll to which they had been moved.

32 DEAD IN BOAC AIRLINER CRASH

PETERBOROUGH MOTHER SHOWED HER SON the way to curling laurels in the open mixed-rink annual bonspiel on Friday. The Selkirk rink won over the Walkey rink of Hamilton in a close score of 8-5 to win the Empress Hotel trophy. Shown above a minute after the last stone was thrown are Mrs. Vern Selkirk, seated left, and son Clayton, skip, while teamates Mrs. Hal Bletcher and Bill Lewis beam in the background. Of four trophies played for the Selkirk rink was the only Peterborough winning rink; Clayton is the youngest skip to participate in a major bonspiel in the city. —(Examiner Staff Photo)

MiG Fighter Attacks U.S. Planes

Czechs Say Americans Fired First Shot

MUNICH, Germany (AP)—Two United States navy carrier-based planes were attacked by a Communist MiG near the Czech-German border Friday, and Czechoslovakia charged immediately that they had flown over its uranium-producing centre at Jachymov, 35 miles inside the Iron Curtain, and fired the first shot.

The U.S. navy said one of the two American propeller - driven planes was damaged but both pilots brought their aircraft safely down at Neubiberg air bases in the American zone of Germany near here.

A U.S. navy spokesman in London said an investigation into the shootings has been ordered by the U.S. sixth fleet. He said first reports showed empty aviation ammunition cartridges were found on German soil after the attack. One American spokesman in Munich said the planes had "inadvertently" crossed into Czech territory. Clouds covered much of the frontier area over which they were flying.

CONFIRMATION SLOW

Bavarian police were the first to report the incident and it was hours before U.S. officials came out with official confirmation.

Before they did, the Red government of Czechoslovakia already had announced over Prague radio that it had lodged a formal protest charging the planes had entered its territory at Domazlice in the early afternoon and flew as far east as Jachymov—one of the Soviet world's most important producers of atomic-energy raw materials.

The Czech broadcast said one of that country's jets intercepted the American aircraft and demanded that they follow it to a landing inside Czechoslovakia.

"However, the American planes refused to follow this demand and attacked the Czech plane," the Prague radio report claimed. "The Czech plane then used its weapons in self-defence."

The navy said the two planes were on a training flight off the carrier Randolph. The navy did not say where the Randolph is.

PILOTS NOT IDENTIFIED

The two navy pilots still were at the Neubiberg airbase this morning, but the commanding officer there said he was ordered to answer no questions concerning the incident. He refused to identify the pilots or permit reporters to see them.

The clash occurred over the same tense East-West frontier where MiG fighters attacked two American F-84 Thunderjets March 10, 1953, shooting down one. Two days later, Soviet fighters destroyed an RAF Wellington bomber over the same frontier area, killing seven British airmen.

Temporary Salesman

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Back in 1904 Otto W. Vossmeyer answered a newspaper want ad and got a temporary job as a salesman for a St. Louis photographic supply company.

It was more than a "temporary" job. The firm honored Vossmeyer, 67, for 50 years of service at a dinner Wednesday night.

Severe Storm Batters South Ontario

TORONTO (CP) — Motorists were warned today that driving conditions in southern Ontario will be hazardous for the weekend. Pea-sized hail stones pummelled many sections. Highways department sanding crews were out in force.

Waves were reported four feet high, endangering the foundations of homes along Lake Ontario.

"It's pretty wicked down there—there's an awful sea running," said chief Hazel. Beach residents fear a repetition of disastrous conditions which wrecked homes in 1950.

Lightning struck a large double barn on the farm of Stephen Herale six miles southwest of Delhi and destroyed it with loss close to $20,000.

35 Cars Burned In Garage Fire

KINGSTON (CP) — Fire which raged uncontrolled for two hours on the two top floors of Kingston's largest garage destroyed about 35 automobiles last night. Damage estimates ranged as high as $200,000.

The blaze started at the rear of the second floor of St. Remy Motors. New cars on the first floor of the three-storey brick structure were driven safely out of the building.

The fire started with an explosion in the paint shop and quickly spread to the third floor.

Police and army troops were called out to keep the large crowd of spectators away from the building, which occupies half a block.

No employees were hurt but two firemen were briefly overcome while fighting the flames.

Australian Sprinter Equals World Record

The world mark was set by Mel Patton of the United States May 15, 1948, at Fresno, Calif.

Earlier in the day, Hogan, 22, also equalled the world 100-metre record of 10.2 seconds, but this feat was attained in an unofficial handicap race and will not be claimed as a world mark.

8 Crew Members Escape Alive Flaming Wreckage

SINGAPORE (CP)—A London-bound Qantas-BOAC Constellation crashed and burned on landing at Singapore today. An airlines official said 32 of the 40 persons aboard, including all the passengers and one of the crew, were killed.

Eight crew members survived the flaming wreckage and are in a Singapore hospital. The survivors included the pilot, Capt. Trevor Hoyle.

Qantas is an Australian firm. The letters stand for "Queensland and Northern Territories Aerial Services." The London-Australia route is operated jointly by Qantas and British Overseas Airway Corporation."

BOAC said eight passengers were British, six were New Zealanders, four were Australians, two American, one Canadian, one South African, one Fijian, three Indonesian, two Indians, two Dutch and one Chinese. The Canadian was identified as Alexander J. Wood of Montreal.

The Singapore Standard said W. M. Juste of Cable and Wireless, M.C.T.M. Chitambaram Chettiar, managing director of Indian Overseas Bank, and Sen Gupta, district manager of the United Commercial Bank, were believed among the passengers.

The four-engined plane was coming in from Jakarta, Indonesia, where it had stopped over on its scheduled flight from Sydney, Australia, to London.

DESCRIBES RESCUE EFFORTS

Leslie N. Pritchard, a security officer at the airport, told of desperate efforts to rescue passengers trapped in the blazing wreckage, as flames belched out and black smoke curled 1,000 feet into the air.

"The plane was badly broken up," he said. "Parts of the wings had broken off, but the main fuselage was intact. We tried to hack into it and we used fire extinguishers, but the flames were too much for us. . . .

"By this time firemen were also trying to save the passengers, but it was hopeless. We dragged out one man from the plane. He was badly injured. I understand he died later.

"All through this, with the roar of the flames, I heard no cries and no screams from the passengers.

"I was sure there were no passengers alive in the plane. We tried to get some of the mail out."

Two hours after the crash, the wreckage had cooled down enough for rescuers to drag out 10 charred bodies. There were no immediate identifications.

Mossadegh Ally Arrested By Iran Police

By DON SCHWIND

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — Hossein Fatemi, Iran's "most wanted" man since last August, was picked up by police in a Tehran suburb today and jailed. Fatemi, a fiery nationalist, was foreign minister under Mohammed Mossadegh until the forces of the shah deposed Mossadegh last fall.

Soon after Fatemi was brought to police headquarters an ardent pro-shah backer tried to wrest him away and kill him.

Shaban Jafari, a black-bearded ex-wrestler, stalked through the building's main lobby toward the corridor where Fatemi was being held.

BAYONETS LEVELLED

Three soldiers with bayonets levelled at Jafari's huge belly stopped him at the door leading to the corridor. Pounding his chest, Jafari bawled:

"In the name of Allah, hand this man to me so that I can break him into little pieces. Long live the shah. Down with Mossadegh and his followers."

The police were adamant and Jafari stamped out.

Mayor Enters N.Y. Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—Mayor Robert F. Wagner has called for meetings today with waterfront labor leaders and employers in hope of ending a wildcat strike costing the shipping industry an estimated $1,000,000 a day.

The mayor intervened after city business leaders told him that New York's economy will be seriously hurt if the walkout continues.

Wagner said 5,000 businesses have already been affected and soon may begin to lay off workers. Importers told him that millions of dollars worth of fruit and vegetables will spoil on ships stranded in the port.

Dock workers stayed off their jobs in defiance of a federal court order against striking. The executive of the International Longshoremen's Association, (Ind.) has termed the strike unauthorized and said it has tried without success to get the men back to work.

Despite ILA protests, the National Labor Relations Board has asked that the union be fined at least $100,000 for contempt of the no-strike injunction. The union is to answer the board in court next Tuesday.

Indian Ship Sinks

BOMBAY (AP)—The 857-ton Indian ship Janaki, carrying three passengers and 37 crew members, capsized and sank three miles out of Bombay harbor today. Twenty persons are missing.

Drag Thames River For Motorist's Body

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Firemen are dragging the Thames river here for an Ingersoll man whose car swerved off the street and plunged into the water near the Dundas street bridge, early today.

Police were told that Tye drove his car at high speed down the river bank north and east of the bridge. He was then seen wading from the stranded vehicle toward mid-stream.

Premier Leaves For Canada

TOKYO (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent, his round-the-wold tour now on the homeward lap, relaxed today several thousand feet above the blue Pacific on the way home to Ottawa and a parliamentary report on his travels.

He took off from Tokyo's Haneda airport this morning in the RCAF'S C-5 transport which had carried him to London, Paris, Bonn, Rome, Karachi, New Delhi, Jakarta, Manila, Seoul and Tokyo, with a few intermediate stops, since he left Ottawa Feb. 4.

In a farewell statement at the airport, the Canadian leader said he is "going back to report to the Canadian Parliament" on his tour.

He had received 'friendly, cordial and confidence-inspiring receptions" everywhere.

"I think I can say we have lots of good friends all over the world, and nowhere have we better friends than here in Japan."

SHAKES HANDS

Despite holding on to his hat in a stiff breeze, the prime minister lingered to shake hands and chat with the leader of a police band that greeted him on his arrival and was on hand to bid him farewell. The Japanese musicians played "Auld Lang Syne."

Then he went down the line of diplomats and Japanese officials, who included the chief court chamberlain, Yasumasa Matus-

Young Newsboy Falls 4 Storeys

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — A 12-year-old Belleville, Ont., newspaper boy was critically injured early today when he accidentally plunged four storeys from a downtown hotel bedroom.

Frederick L. Clark, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick L. Clark of (40 Hillside Ave.) Belleville, lost his balance and crashed through a closed window, falling 80 feet to the sidewalk, police reported.

Young Clark and 44 other carrier boys were in Syracuse as guests of the Belleville Intelligencer, for having gained the most customers during a circulation contest.

Circulation manager Dolph McFadden and police said Clark and several other boys were "roughhousing in the bedroom." The boy was standing on a bed at a level with a nearby window when he lost his balance, fell backwards and crashed through the window. With him in the room were six other boys, police said.

Court Order Halts Union Tactics

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (AP)—A federal court order today halted leaders of Local 301, United Electrical Workers Union (Ind.), and the CIO Electrical Workers Union from shifting the powerful local into the CIO.

The local is the union's largest and most powerful unit. The union was ousted from the CIO in 1949 on the ground it had "slavishly adhered" to the Communist party line.

King Signs Decree Calling New Elections

BRUSSELS (Reuters) — King Baudoin today signed a royal decree calling for new general elections, following Belgium's ratification of the European defence treaty Friday.

The decree specified April 11 as election day and April 27 as assembly date for the newly-elected parliament. The old parliament was dissolved Friday when it agreed on the necessity for revising the constitution — a decision which automatically entails dissolution.

Einstein Defends Human Rights

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — The Emergency Civil Liberties Committee today quoted Dr. Albert Einstein as saying that intellectuals have the duty "in refusing to cooperate in any undertaking that violates the constitutional rights of the individual."

"This holds in particular for all inquisitions that are concerned with the private life and the political affiliations of the citizens," the scientist was quoted as saying.

The committee held a meeting called for the announced purpose of observing Einstein's 75th birthday, which is tomorrow.

But Einstein himself wasn't there, having turned down the invitation to attend.

Nixon to Reply to McCarthy Trouble Among Republicans

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice-President Richard Nixon presents the case for the Republican administration tonight in a radio-television address while a family fight rages in the party over Senator Joseph McCarthy and some of his investigative aides.

McCarthy protested Friday that defence department officials had attempted to "blackmail" his investigations sub - committee into dropping a probe of the army. The Wisconsin Republican made public a document that represented Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens as trying to divert the group's attention to a search for wrong-doing in the navy and air force, and the defence department itself.

Stevens and John G. Adams, the army's general counsel, termed the accusations untrue. McCarthy had said Adams told him several months ago that a report embarrassing to the sub-committee would be made public unless an investigation of the army were called off.

WON'T DODGE ISSUE

Before the day was over, some Republicans as well as Democrats in the Senate were demanding investigations to determine who is telling the truth in the crossfire of accusations.

Nixon had been designated last Monday to deliver the party's reply to last week's criticism by Adlai E. Stevenson, the 1952 Democratic presidential nominee. One of Stevenson's thrusts was a description of the Republican party as "half McCarthy and half Eisenhower."

President Eisenhower had backed Stevens when, after an earlier row with McCarthy, the secretary said he would protect army witnesses against any "abuse" at the hands of investigating committees.

The explosion that again shattered the peace between Stevens and McCarthy came when Senate sources made public an army report saying efforts were made to get special treatment for G. David Schine, an unpaid consultant to McCarthy's sub-committee, after Schine was drafted last November as a private.

McCarthy's retort of "blackmail" was accompanied by memoranda he said came from the sub-committee files, depicting officials trying to sidetrack probes of army matters.

Nixon said he will "not dodge the issues" in tonight's speech, which will be carried at 10:30 p.m. EST over CBS television and radio networks, and also those NBC radio stations which carried Stevenson's address a week ago.

There was no advance text of his speech. He discussed his plans in a 45-minute conference Friday with Eisenhower.

French Troops Push Back Rebel Drive

By LARRY ALLEN

HANOI, Indo - China (AP)—French union troops, backed by tanks and a mighty artillery barrage, today routed Vietminh troops blocking France's vital north Indo-China supply line.

Sweeping into the heart of the Red river delta last night, the Communist-led rebels blasted five gaps in the main-line railway linking Hanoi with the coast. They also blew up bridges and captured, burned and destroyed many watchtowers and small forts along the route.

The Vietminh for a time threatened to cut a highway over which about 6,000 French supply trucks move each day.

The fire-power of the French armored units finally forced the Vietminh to break off the battle and flee into the rice fields and bamboo thickets.

Today, French tanks and armored cars patrolled the highway all the way to the coast to keep it open to vital war traffic. Without this road and railway, all supplies would have to be flown to the main French forces in the north.

Businessmen Cancel Talks

LONDON (AP) — The government today advised 40 British business men to call off trade talks planned for next Monday in East Berlin with the Chinese Communists.

The foreign office said the China trade committee, which is sponsoring the trip, is linked with a Communist - front organization which "exists for other purposes" than promoting legitimate trade.

The foreign office linked the China trade committee with the British Council for the Promotion of International Trade, which Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden has labelled a Communist front. The council has denied the charge.

A foreign office spokesman said Prime Minister Churchill's government remains intent upon encouraging trade with Red China and the Soviet world generally in non-strategic goods, but not under the sponsorship of any Red front groups.

End Cold War Says Malenkov

By SIDNEY WEILAND

MOSCOW (Reuters) — Premier Malenkov says Russia wants "peaceful economic competition" with the west and an end to the cold war.

That was the focal point of his review of Soviet foreign policy received last night with loud cheering by 2,000 of his constituents at an election rally in preparation for tomorrow's polling in the supreme Soviet elections.

Malenkov said it is not true that mankind is faced with only two possibilities—" a new world slaughter" or the continuation of the cold war. Any international problem, however difficult, must be resolved peacefully, he said.

"We can express satisfaction that in London they are beginning to appreciate the importance of developing economic ties with the Soviet Union."

ATTACKS EDC

The "main obstacle" to easing world tension was the western approach to international problems "as a closed military grouping." There was no security for Europe with the European Defence Community "in which West German militarists will play the leading part."

"There is no doubt that given a genuine desire to assure the security of Europe it would be possible to overcome all difficulties preventing the conclusion of a collective security pact in Europe."

Probable That Cigarette Started Fire Which Ravaged Empress of Canada

LIVERPOOL, England (Reuters)—A cigarette butt probably caused the fire which gutted the 20,000-ton Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Canada in dock here in January, 1953, a government-appointed court of inquiry said today.

The liner heeled over and sank after fire had raged in her for hours. Last Saturday she was pulled back on to an almost even keel in one of the greatest feats in maritime salvage history.

The government-appointd court listed several discrepancies between the routine in force at the port and the principles recommended. These were:

1. No liaison existed between the owners and the fire brigade in relation to the ship.

2. Fire-patrol frequency was below the recommended standard.

3. A direct telephone line from ship to fire brigade was not available.

4. The fire main was uncharged and no alternatives had been provided.

5. Fire doors and water - tight doors were not closed.

6. Gas cylinders would not appear to have been as wisely disposed as possible.

PATROLLING SYSTEM SCORED

The ship capsized after the blaze because of a lightening of weight on the starboard side, caused by the fire and the seepage of loose water from the starboard to the port side, the report said.

It added that it was difficult to explain why the fire remained undetected long enough for the build-up of considerable heat and gases inside the ship.

"It may well be, however, that the patrolling system was something less than effective; and the ventilating system, plus false deckheads and other factors, aided concealment until it was too late."

Of smoking by men working on ships in port, the court said:

"It was clear from evidence that smoking was carried on to a considerable extent on the Empress of Canada.

NO INCENDIARISM CLUES

The report said incendiarism was a possibility, but in the absence of any clues there was no reason to believe that the ship would be the subject of such an attempt.

"In this connection it is most unfortunate that when access was obtained to the starboard side of the ship after the fire no attempt was made to investigate the debris which was all swept away and disposed of, thus removing all the evidence of possible incendiarism. Why this was done was left unexplained."

Dealing with the question of fighting the blaze, the report stated: "The treatment of this important matter by the chief officer and the assistant chief engineer appears to have been casual in the extreme."

Canadian Bacon Being Sold "Danish" Label

TORONTO (CP) — Members of the Ontario legislature's agriculture committee today criticized processors who sell Canadian bacon labelled "Danish."

O. F. Villeneuve (PC—Glengarry) said the product is simply Danish-cured and should be labelled as such.

T. Pryde (PC—Huron) charged it was an attempt to "mislead the public."

George Johnston, secretary of the Hog Producers' Association, said he discovered the Danish label in a Toronto meat market.

S. L. Hall (PC—Halton) suggested that bacon produced from garbage-fed hogs should be labelled that way on packages, "then we'd raise the quality of bacon."

Charles W. McInnis, president of the Hog Producers, said his organization had been pressing for the grading of the finished product.

"Unfortunately in the last couple of years there has not been enough spread between A and B1 grades to establish the quality."

URGES MORE MARKETS

Construction of smaller livestock markets, particularly for the marketing of hogs, in other Ontario centres, was urged by Mr. McInnis.

Mr. McInnis suggested that small markets be established in the Kitchener, Belleville and eastern Ontario areas.

Outlining the first-year operations of United Livestock Sales, a central hog marketing agency for the province, Mr. McInnis said stockyards would play an important part in establishment of hog prices. While 60 per cent of the hogs slaughtered in Ontario are in Toronto, the remaining 40 per cent are killed at smaller provincial packers.

QUEBECKERS MOVE IN

The practice of Quebec buyers moving into eastern Ontario to purchase hogs at small community markets, was criticized by O. F. Villeneuve (PC—Glengarry).

Mr. Villeneuge said approximately 500 hogs a week are taken out of the area by Quebec buyers. As a result United Livestock Sales is done out of its commission.

The member admitted the farmer was concerned "only about the dollars and cents and not about putting select bacon on the market."

C. D. Black, manager of United Livestock Sales, said the organization felt that in its first year it would not exercise full authority granted by the government.

Two Labor Councils Plan Special Meeting

Executive members of all CCL and TLC unions have been asked to attend a special meeting March 25 to lay plans for dealing with unemployment in Peterborough and district.

Purpose of the March 25 meeting will be to formulate plans for a later meeting to which the public will be invited.

This move, decided on Friday night after discussion between the heads of the two labor councils, is part of a Canada-wide policy of CCL-TLC co-operation to find a solution to the growing problem of unemployment.

U.K. Not Expected To Buy Many Apples

STRATHROY (CP)—The secretary-treasurer of the Ontario Fruit and Vegetable Growers Association says Britain is not expected to buy many Canadian apples this year but may soon be open for Canadian canned peaches and pears.

M. M. Robinson of Toronto told Middlesex fruit growers Friday: "If we cater to our home market for apples the way we should we will be able to sell all we produce without worrying about export."

McLeod Urges Licences For Dairy Trucks

TORONTO (CP) — Extension of public commercial vehicle licences to dairy trucks was urged today by J. R. McLeod, secretary of the Ontario Automotive Transport Association.

His argument before the Ontario legislature's agriculture committee was supported by C. V. Millburn, secretary-manager of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture, and Charles W. McInnis, president of the Hog Producers' Association.

"We would like to see the department of highways rule that the big dairies be licensed in the same way as the independent operators," Mr. McLeod said.

Mr. McLeod also said today the milk producers must prepare for the day when milk will be picked up in tanks from the farm.

"We feel this is a method that is definitely coming," Mr. Mcleod said.

The farmer would be required to instal a bulk cooler on the farm. The steel-lined tank truck would pick up the milk by pumping machines every other day.

Mr. McLeod said the system would cost the farmer money for the original installations but a saving would be made in lower costs and premium rates.

Obituary

MRS. LEWIS SCRIVER

HASTINGS (ENS) — After a lingering illness, Mrs. Lewis Scriver, the former Sarah Ann Tobin, died at the home of her son, Clifford, in Hastings, Friday. She was in her 72nd year.

Mrs. Scriver had lived in Hastings for the past 45 years. She was born in Toronto, daughter of the late Michael Tobin and his wife, Sarah Hunter, and received her early education there.

In addition to her son, Mrs. Scriver is survived by a brother, Albert Tobin, of Toronto, and a granddaughter, Mrs. John E. Heard (Barbara), of Hastings.

Mrs. Scriver was active in the affairs of Trinity United Church in Hastings. She was also an honorary member of Unit 458 of the LOBA.

The funeral service will be held at Trinity United Church on Monday, at 2 p.m., with the Rev. N. Cole officiating. Interment will be in the Trent Valley cemetery in Hastings.

Humanitarian Award

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Isaac Siskind, of London, president of the eastern Canadian council of the B'Nai B'Rith, announced that Dr. Sidney Smith, president of the University of Toronto, has been awarded the 1953 Canadian B'Nai B'Rith humanitarian award.

The award is made annually to a Canadian who has made an outstanding contribution in the field of unity and human relations.

Court Dismisses Theft Charge Against Realtor

LINDSAY (ENS). — Magistrate R. B. Baxter of Port Hope Friday dismissed a theft charge against Lindsay realtor, and reserved judgment on a second charge of fraud.

The magistrate acquitted Babcock of the theft of $1,900 from Mallon Culbert of Lindsay, during a period from August to January last. The money represented a deposit on a house Culvert wanted to purchase, but never gained possession of.

"I can find no evidence of an offence in this case," commented the magistrate, who said he had spent a great deal of time reviewing the evidence from the trial which was heard a month ago following the verdict. Babcock through his solicitor H. E. Richardson, made restitution of the amount to Culbert.

The second charge was one of obtaining $1,400 by deceit or other fraudulent means from Mrs. Velma Raffen, Lindsay, between December and January 28 last.

Babcock pleaded not guilty to this charge also. Mrs. Raffen had given Babcock the money. It was shown as a deposit of Babcock's in December. The home was mortgaged by Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation in Peterborough. Mrs. Raffen told the court she was asked to fill an application form to Central Mortgage, and later approval forms. Jack Raine of the Peterborough office of CMHC told the court such forms were never received at his office.

WAITING FOR MONEY

At the time of the sale of the house to Mrs. Raffen, previous purchaser John Burgess, formerly of Varsity View, Manitoba, was waiting to collect his money from the sale of the property. He had formerly made a $5,000 deposit on the house.

In January while the process of selling the house to Mrs. Raffen was being undertaken, Crown witness showed a writ was issced against Babcock by Burgess asking for the completion of the deal to sell the house, or the return of the $5,000. The writ was heard in Supreme Court on March 1 and judgment granted in favor of Burgess.

Crown Attorney Lorne Jordan claimed Babcock should have known he could not go ahead with the sale of the property while it was involved in litigation.

Mrs. Raffen laid the charge originally of theft on January 9, when she was advised by a solicitor that she would probably not be able to get title to the property, under CMHC requirements. Later in January the charge was changed to one of fraud.

Mr. Richardson, Babcock's counsel, in summing up, said that the money to be returned to Mrs. Raffen had been available for some weeks and that she had not therefore irretrievably lost it. Crown Attorney Jordan stated his appreciation of the fact, but pointed out that the money was never returned during the time the charge was pending.

Judgment was reserved for two weeks by Magistrate Baxter.

Utilities To Seek Province's Gas Policy

Howard Powell, general manager of Peterborough utilities commission, and commissioner Richard Raine will form a delegation to Toronto this month to determine the provincial government's policies on natural gas.

On the suggestion of Mr. Powell, the commission agreed that some investigation should be made. Chairman Fred Hills appointed Messrs. Powell and Raine.

The natural gas question is becoming more and more relevant, said Mr. Powell, as Trans-Canada Pipelines completes its pipes east. He said that some private firms, including Mid-Continent Gas, would like to create an advance market for western gas by tapping western Ontario reserves.

The commissioners agreed that the gas situation in Ontario needs clarification. It was also suggested that Peterborough's MLA, Harold Scott, be asked to make inquiries as to Ontario policy.

Fishermen Estimate Loss Of $15,000

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — High winds whipped western Lake Erie Friday and fishermen at Wheatley and Kingsville estimated they have lost $15,000 in nets and equipment since the fishing season opened March 1.

Catches at Port Stanley have been moderate with a heavy run on white bass and a good run of blue pickerel. At Port Dover, tugs Friday brought in their first catch of whitefish but lifts were not heavy.

Strong winds forced ice into the harbors of Port Burwell and Kingsville.

Hospital Bars Boracic Acid Blamed For Death of Babies

TORONTO (CP)—An official of the Hospital for Sick Children here said Friday an "internal directive" has been issued that the use of boric acid, also known as boracic acid, be discontinued in the hospital.

He said the action was taken by doctors trying to counteract a certain type of poisoning which might conceivably be caused by boric acid.

He was commenting on a report written by two Montreal doctors—R. B. Goldbloom and A. Goldbloom—in the Journal of Pediatrics. They said of boric acid:

"Its use in any form of medical treatment, particularly as applied to infants and children, should be discontinued."

The powder, used by some mothers to combat baby ailments such as diaper rash, is absorbed through sensitive membranes as well as in cuts and scrapes.

The journal report said if a baby under one year of age is poisoned by boric acid, death occurs in more than 70 per cent of the cases. In older persons poisoned with boric acid, the death rate was still 55 per cent.

The Montreal doctors said the medical value of boric acid in combatting germs is slight.

In addition to analyzing the findings in medical records, the Goldblooms described from specific cases of their own experience—infants who had been brought into their Montreal hospital within a span of one year. Careful diagnosis had shown that the infants had been suffering from advanced boric acid poisoning.

In summarizing their findings, the Goldblooms say, in part: "In spite of a steadily growing accumulation of literature concerning the dangers of boric acid, the drug continues to enjoy a widespread and totally undeserved popularity, particularly in pediatric procedure.

Many babies, it would seem, have died of a condition apparently regarded as meningitis which may have been boric acid poisoning.

The action of the Hospital for Sick Children follows that of many other children's hospitals, mainly in New York where the subject became a vigorous issue about a year ago before the acid made from boron was barred.

Citizens Band To Play At Windsor

Although the invitation has not yet been formally accepted, there is much enthusiasm for the idea among the members, Bandmaster Wally Parnell reports. But it is considered that at least 32 members would have to make the trip in order to make a favorable showing.

The band played 24 engagements last year, including six concerts in the parks during the summer months and six engagements at the Peterborough Exhibition. They also played at the community service preceding the Coronation and in the parade on the day of the Coronation itself.

Other engagements included the Eastern Ontario Seed Show, program for St. John's WA, Lakefield IOOF decoration service, Centreville WA strawberry social, concert at Cobourg, Kiwanis march of dimes, Keene Lions club concert, Canadian Legion church parade, Remembrance Day service and the Kinsmen club's annual hamper show.

4-Hour Delay Costs $15

LINDSAY (ENS). — A Peterborough man, George Wheeler, of 540 Downey St., was fined $10, and costs of $5, for failing to report an accident on Highway 7, east of Lindsay, March 2.

Wheeler's car left the icy surface of the road west of Omemee, clipping off three guard rail posts.

Wheeler left the scene of the accident, he said in Lindsay police court, to drive to Peterborough and report to the OPP. On the way, his car seized up and he was forced to hitch-hike the last nine miles.

Wheeler finally reported the accident to the OPP in Peterborough some four hours after it happened, and Constable Jim Plumtree of Lindsay investigated.

Magistrate Baxter asked the accused for his definition of the section, pointing out that reports should be made soon after accident, so that investigation can be made by police at the scene with those involved still there.

Wheeler was defended by Donald Bark of Peterborough.

Father-Son Duo TB Sanitorium

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP) — Chuckie asks a lot of questions, even for a six-year-old.

"How long do fingernails last, daddy? Why have we got toes? Where does the sun go at night?"

Patiently, his dad runs a 24-hour-a-day answering service. Most fathers take their turns at satisfying young curiosity, but for Robert Biggs it is an inescapable full-time occupation.

Biggs and his son, Chuckie, share a two-bed ward in a sanatorium near here, undergoing treatment for tuberculosis.

Dr. J. W. Strayer, superintendent of the William Ross Sanatorium, says it is the only father-son combination he has ever heard of.

Biggs, 39, learned he had tuberculosis last December when a mobile x-ray unit made its annual visit to the printing plant at Crawfordsville, where he worked.

Routine x-rays of Biggs' wife and three children disclosed Chuck had the disease. Doctors say Chuckie may have had it before his father.

One eye-witness said:

"I saw the plane coming down with only one of the wheels lowered. The plane then turned, tilted and spun round. There was a loud explosion, the engine caught fire, it made a complete somersault and then broke in two."

Relatives and friends of those aboard crowded round the counter of the airline office demanding "are they alive."

Sir Miles Thomas, chairman of British Overseas Airways Corporation, said today he will fly to Singapore "by the next available service" to carry out an on-the-spot investigation of the crash of a BOAC-Qantas Constellation there today which killed 32 persons.

MEDICAL FILMS

The nursing division and the two ambulance divisions of the Peterborough St. John Ambulance Corps will attend the showing of two films supplied by the Medical and Biological Film Service through the National Film Board in the auditorium of the Public Library on Wednesday, March 24. One of the films will illustrate the control of infection and treatment of [illegible]s; the other will deal with the [illegible]ctional treatment of fractures. Dr. William Wedlock, divisional surgeon of the Peterborough division, was instrumental in obtaining the films.

The Midway stop will be for refuelling and only unofficial functions are scheduled for the Hawaiian visit. The C-5 is due at Honolulu today at 4:30 p.m. Hawaiian time (9:30 p.m. EST) and will leave for San Francisco and Ottawa Monday midnight.

In Honolulu the prime minister will place a wreath on the rusting hulk of the American battleship Arizona, sunk by Japanese planes in the Pearl Harbor attack that brought the United States into the Second World War Dec. 7, 1941.

He also will pay an unofficial call on acting governor Farrant L. Turner Monday morning, and will make an informal tour of Pearl Harbor with Admiral Felix B. Stump, American commander-in-chief in the Pacific. Tomorrow has been set aside for "rest and worship."

With The Boy Scouts

5TH PETERBOROUGH

It was decided the previous week, by the court of honor, that the first and last week of every month was to be a regular troop meeting. The second and third weeks were to be for individual patrol meetings. On Thursday each patrol held its own separate meeting, during which time, a good deal of instruction was given.

A number of promotions also took place. Don York and Gar White were promoted to troop leaders. Harvey Howden and Lawrence Julian were promoted to patrol leaders. The new assistant patrol leaders have yet to be chosen.

4th Car Theft In One Month

Early Friday evening, a car belonging to Lorne Hutton of Lindsay was stolen from the parking lot at the CNR station at the south end of town. No trace has been found of the vehicle yet.

Police are also planning to lay charges against a Lindsay man, Peter Burns, following an accident on William St. S. late Friday night. Burns' car is alleged to have collided with a parked vehicle, driving it into a second parked car.

Damage to the two parked cars is estimated by PC Ralph Fountain, who investigated, at $150 each. Burns' car sustained damage of some $400.

No Flying Saucer Ready To Fly Yet

TORONTO (CP)—The A. V. Roe Company of Toronto said Friday it has no flying-saucer aircraft ready to go into construction and that a report it wants a buyer for such an aircraft is "completely cockeyed."

A Montreal Star story said a prototype of a flying-saucer plane has been built and is "awaiting the go signal that will see it take wing." The story said the defence department has not provided the money needed to put the plane in production and Avro is seeking another buyer.

Statement Read In Barrie Murder Hearing

BARRIE (CP)—A Toronto police detective testified today a statement made to police by William Kingsley, 19-year-old Toronto youth charged with the murder of Fred (Scotty) Cameron, described the slaying as "the first time anybody shot anyone for $14."

Kingsley and Ian Francis Robertson, 20, also of Toronto, are on trial for murder before Mr. Justice H. A. Aylen and an all-male Ontario Supreme Court jury.

The trial went into its fifth day today and is expected to continue into next week. The crown so far has called 30 witnesses.

The youths were arrested Nov. 26 for the murder of Cameron, 57-year-old Toronto brokerage house messenger who was shot five times the night of Oct. 29 and his body dumped in a ditch on a Barrie district side road.

Detective-sergeant Bernard Simmonds testified a voluntary statement had been made to him by Kingsley after a proper precaution had been read to the youth.

STATEMENT READ

Kingsley's statement then was read in court here. It told of Kingsley's first meeting with Cameron and of his having taken part in homosexual practices with the slain man.

The statement said that on Oct. 29 Kingsley and Robertson took Cameron in Robertson's father's car out of the city. When Kingsley climbed into the car Robertson indicated to him to put his hand behind the seat. He did and grasped a .32 automatic. They stopped the car on a concession road in pretence something was wrong and all got out.

"We want your money," Kingsley, according to the statement he gave to police, then said to Cameron.

"He (Cameron) turned around quick and took his hands out of his pockets. That is when it did not feel like me. It just went boom. It did not feel like I had shot anybody."

"Ian (Robertson) said 'You shot him in the head,'" the statement added.

CAMERON IN TRUNK

Then the youths put Cameron in the trunk and drove off. Later Cameron began to yell. They stopped the car and opened the trunk. Robertson had taken the gun. Robertson hit Cameron with the gun but then Cameron still got out, the statement continued.

"Ian shot him a couple of times. Ian said: 'We have got to make it look like a gang killing. Take his watch and go through his pockets.'"

Kingsley's statement to police, Det.-Sgt. Simmonds testified, then quoted Robertson as saying: "He sure gypped us. I bet this is the first time anybody shot anyone for $14."

Six of Robbins Family Work In CGE Departments

The Robbins family likes the CGE's Peterborough works so well that six members of the family are scattered through various sections of the plant.

The wife and four sons of Harvey Robbins all draw their pay checks from the CGE. Mr. Robbins is in the steam plant while his wife is connected with the cleaning department. Sons Orville and Martin are in the wire and cable section. Delbert works on structural steel and Hubert is in the machine shop.

The Robbins family came from Bancroft in the early 40's. Mr. Robbins had operated a store and sawmill in Bancroft, but decided to sell it and move to Peterborough when his sons joined the services.

The elder Robbins were first to join the CGE 11 years ago. Orville came in 1946 followed by Delbert, Hubert and Martin in that order. Martin has been with the CGE for four years, coming to the plant directly from high school.

Others in the family are Otlin, an electrician with Grant and Loucks, and Irvin with the Quaker Oats Company. A younger sister, Danna, is still in high school.

TV NEWS

By KEN McCANNAN

If a group of African monkeys should happen to see a group of TV technicians preparing a shooting scene for special effects they'd probably join the goings on and think they'd found some long lost brothers. Take the making of snow, rain and fog for example.

Snow is the simplest to make and involves fewer monkey-shines than the others. It usually consists of powdered gypsum, dairy salts or marble dust sprinkled on the ground. The special effects men reproduce falling snow by blowing (you'd never guess) bleached corn flakes over the scene. The same effect is achieved for specially fine snow with confetti.

When light rain is desired water from a watering can is sprinkled down across the front of the lens but if a real downpour is called for things get complicated. The TV experts have a special cloth with a light-reflecting plastic woven through it which is stretched across the drum and revolved in front of the camera lens. The negatives from this shot are superimposed on those made by the watering can and presto . . you have a downpour.

There are machines to make fog though simply blowing steam on dry ice produces an excellent facsimile. Incidentally, if all the points to be considered in making an intelligent decision on a new TV set have you somewhat in a fog then come and talk it over with us. We charge nothing for reliable information and there's nothing we'd rather talk about than television. The name to remember in TV is McCANNAN ELECTRIC . . . and you'll find it stands for reliability in service and the greatest value for your appliance dollar you'll find anywhere. Drop in TODAY at 274 George Street and have a look at our new shipment of PHILCO TV. YOU CAN PUT YOUR CONFIDENCE IN KEN McCANNAN.

Port Hope Pair Face Charges Of Car Theft

COBOURG —(ENS)—Two Port Hope youths were remanded on bail Friday in Cobourg magistrate's court after being charged with a number of car thefts.

They were arrested Thursday night after a chase through Cobourg streets in a stolen car. The car was later abandoned.

Ronald Shortreed, 16, has seven charges of car theft against him. Cobourg police caught him after a short chase on foot.

Andrew Archibald, 17, faces four charges of car theft, Chief Constable Charles Graham of Port Hope stated. He was picked up by the police shortly after the chase.

The pair have been remanded to March 26.

Consider Programme Too Expensive

KITCHENER (CP) — Walter Hatch, administrator of Kitchener-Waterloo General Hospital, says charges against the hospital by an official of the Registered Nurses Association of Ontario are not factual.

Florence H. Walker, general secretary-treasurer of the association, said at Toronto three nurses on the teaching staff were dismissed Feb. 15 without notice and given 24 hours to leave the residence.

Mr. Hatch said Friday:

"The author of this release would have been well advised to have come to Kitchener and got the true story.

"We felt that the program of training nurses was too costly to the hospital and was not practical."

Stopped Car Hit At Crossing Driver Charged

COBOURG (ENS)—Carl Warren of Orchard Park, New York, on Friday was charged in Cobourg magistrate's court with drunk driving after a two-car accident on Highway 2 in which two men were injured.

Warren was remanded on $1,000 bail to March 29 on the drunk driving count.

The accident occurred early Friday when a car driven by James Collie of Appleton stopped at the CPR level crossing between Cobourg and Port Hope. The Collie car was rammed from behind by a car which, the OPP charge, was driven by Warren.

A freight train was passing at the time but as the direction of the collision was on an angle the Collie car was knocked into the south ditch. It didn't come into contact with the train. Warren ended up in the north ditch.

OPP Constables Warner and Meadows investigated.

Suggestions Bring Men $203

Alex Clark of the CGE's experimental section pocketed $57 for a suggested improvement in plant production this week. His share of the total prize money of $203 was for an improved method of piercing holes in dies.

An idea to reduce wastage in the equipment section netted Terry Woods $42. His plan is to save many slot strips and use them on other parts. This will effect a considerable saving for ordinarily these would have been scrapped.

A practical plan has been developed by Ward Weaver of the transportation section for washing trucks more economically. The suggestion committee felt this idea was good enough for a $30 award.

Minor suggestions brought their donors $74 for a total of $204. Suggestions have been coming in especially well recently, perhaps because CGE workers hope to finance an extra Easter outing with suggestion committee prize money.

Trent River WA Holds St. Patrick's Tea

TRENT RIVER (ENS)—St. Patrick's Tea and quarterly meeting of the Trent River United church Women's Association was held Wednesday afternoon in the community hall with about 40 members and visitors attending. Group 4 were hostesses for the afternoon.

Mrs. Rhoda Campney, president, was in the chair. Mrs. Steve Deline read the scripture and Mrs. Thos. Brown read the topic. Reports were given by the three groups and planning of year's work was discussed. Fifty dollars was donated by group 3 for missionary fund. Parsonage committee reported a combination electric stove was bought with the WA paying the third of cost. New pipes have been purchased and United Church plaque purchased and erected in the vestibule of the church. Mrs. Gordon Shearer, Mrs. Frank Openshaw and Mrs. Thos. Brown were appointed to the parsonage committee.

Group 1 is to be hostess for June meeting to be held in the church.

Mrs. Steve Deline, convener, presented the following program: Singsong with Mrs. Bert Robson accompanying on the piano. Readings were given by Mrs. Maclean Donald, Mrs. Frank Openshaw and Mrs. Clarence Glenn. Mrs. Frank Openshaw played piano instrumental of Irish songs. Two contests were enjoyed.

Lunch was served at tables set for four and very attractive decorated with St. Patrick motif and covered with pale green luncheon cloths.

Bomber Crash-Lands

BRISBANE, Australia (Reuters) An RAF Canberra jet bomber carrying important meteorological equipment has crash-landed on an island in New Guinea waters, the Australian air ministry announced today. None of the crew was killed or seriously injured. The ministry said the crash occurred two days ago, but would not reveal the name of the island, the destination of the plane or from where it took off.

Japanese Prince Teacher

TOKYO (AP)—Prince Mikasa, Emperor Hirohito's brother, next year will become the first imperial prince in Japan to teach in a university, the newspaper Yomiuri reported today. Yomiuri quoted Dr. Takeshi Saito, president of Tokyo Women's University, as saying that the prince will teach ancient Hebrew history at the university, a Christian missionary institution.

Lindsay Quartette Praised For Singing of Welsh Song

Beginning with a violin duet, Monday night's agenda at the music festival carried through accordian and piano selections, ending with some fine harmony and solo singing.

The Maple Leaf Quartette, a group of Lindsay singers, were highly appraised for their offering of Leslie Woodgate's "The Silent Land." " A fine quartette, singing a fine song," said Frank Odell, one of the two adjudicators. "But here, again, as in many of the cases in this festival, more attention should be paid to pianissimo effects. He advised the group to constantly practice very soft tones so long as they retained support.

Three Beethoven sonatas were played by three individal pianists, but each performance contained at least one flaw. Miss Marnie Porter of Kingston, the winner of the class, was advised to strengthen the melodic line, as at times it was smothered by the harmony. The other two contestants were advised to take more time in developing a mental image of any lengthy number before playing. Particular stress was placed on the accurate reading of the notes and dynamics.

HARD TO CHOOSE

Mr. Odell admitted difficulty in deciding the better of the Campbellford and PCVS double trio groups, but gave the Campbellford group a two point margin.

Generally the solo selections at the end of the program were of high quality. These included baritone, tenor and contralto solos by contestants under 21 and the lowest mark was 79. Mr. Frank Taylor, of Lindsay, scored a high 85 for his baritone rendition of Duna (McGill) as did Mr. and Mrs. William Perry, another Lindsay pair, who won the vocal sacred duet class.

Traffic Lights Not Enough

The traffic down town at rush hours and all day Saturday is congested to the point of immobility. On a morning such as this was it may take five minutes and three changes of traffic lights to drive on George Street from Hunter to Charlotte. Cross streets leading into George are sometimes blocked with cars right back to Aylmer; they cannot get into or across the stream of George Street traffic, because despite the light's going green for them, drivers along George are bumper to bumper and blocking the intersection.

* * *

Under such conditions traffic lights are not adequate. Traffic lights have no brains. Policemen should be on point duty to exercise theirs and control and speed the flow of traffic. Instead, one sometimes sees a police officer standing on the sidewalk, just watching the block of vehicles. Traffic lights cannot recognize congestion; policemen can, and should not depend entirely on the mechanical blinkers. They have arms, whistles, and should be trained to clarify a traffic plexus.

* * *

The one and only remedy for the increasingly cumbersome traffic condition in Peterborough is not, of course, a policeman on duty. Pedestrians stepping off the curb when they should not, or crossing against a red light, are obstacles—whose removal can be, unfortunately, hazardously abrupt. Drivers who whizz around corners without first coming to a stop when they should, have a responsibility for the condition. Rubber-necking drivers looking at shop windows and at the people looking at shop windows, instead of getting on with the business of moving, are pestilential. Cars with no brakes, or with such good ones that their owners like to demonstrate their screaming braking power, are a nuisance. So are all other kinds of careless or incompetent drivers, including those who do not know how to move away quickly when the light changes, and those who cannot turn a corner without veering into the line of oncoming cars. Double-parkers impede the flow of traffic.

* * *

The new regulations now being drafted in Toronto requiring drivers to signal a stop and a right turn, as well as a left turn, should do much to ease the jar of traffic and the jam. We do not consider, however, that traffic conditions in Peterborough yet warrant a system of one-way streets, such as Ottawa and Montreal have installed. We mildly suggest that the traffic branch of the Police Department organize its force and concentrate its brains on this not insoluble problem of pokey and even stalled Peterborough traffic in rush hours. The term "rush' is ludicrously inapposite when applied now to people trying to move in those hours.

Ontario As Seen By Premier Frost

In his Budget address to the Ontario Legislature on Thursday, Premier Frost drew this good picture of Ontario's position:

Ontario has about the lowest provincial tax structure of any of the provinces. Although there are over 62,000 miles of paved or other hard-surfaced highways in Ontario—more than double that of any other province—our gasoline tax is some 2 to 4 cents per gallon less than that in five of the provinces. Our motor vehicle licence rates are the lowest in any of the Canadian provinces. For the last three years our revenue from gasoline tax and motor vehicle licences has been less than our expenditure on highways. Half the provinces of Canada impose a general sales tax, where rates range up to 5 per cent. of the retail price. Five provinces tax such things as meals, cigarettes, tobacco and liquor. Ontario has no general sales tax, nor any specific taxes on such commodities. In other fields, our rates are comparable with those in the rest of Canada. Although our budget has increased very rapidly, we are actually spending a smaller proportion of the taxpayers' income than before World War II.

It is a self-satisfying picture, and it is reassuring to know that "we are acually spending a smaller proportion of the taxpayers' income than before World War II" because in fact, the Ontario Government is spending two and a half times as much as it did in 1946. It is not therefore an understatement that the budget is growing "very rapidly". So, incidentally, is the public debt of the Province—more tens of millions each year for tremendous capital works like Hydro. That the Province can undertake spending on this very great scale, and undergo new and huge debts without staggering, is one of the best proofs Ontario people can have of the essential soundness of the Province's material progress.

The Premier said in his budget address that the Province's new investment in physical assets in the eleven years since he became Provincial Treasurer totals $466.9 million. But Ontario's credit stands high in world markets. Ontario debentures (for Hydro) totalling $50 million were sold in New York at the beginning of this month at an average interest cost of only 3.11 per cent. "One of the best issues any province has sold for years", said Mr. Frost, "and it demonstrates that despite the formidable demands we have made on the money market, our credit ranks with the highest among Canadian provinces".

Yes, it is a pretty good Province, judged by cold figures and dollar resources. The last ten years have indeed been "remarkable by any standard. They have brought difficulties and imposed arduous tasks, but they have also been years of more concentrated growth and progress than this Province has seen in any other corresponding period of its history". There have been some recent difficulties—some soft spots in industry and agriculture (a skid in farm incomes, for instance). There has been, and is, some unemployment. As Premier Frost said, every year presents its problems and it is important to keep them in focus. Not long ago the hue and cry was over inflationary rises in prices. That worry has subsided, to be replaced by another. There is always something to worry over, if one is the worrying kind.

Mr. Frost is not worrying. "All the chief economic indicators, such as capital investment, industrial production, mining and forestry output, housing and employment, reached higher levels and in most cases the highest level ever obtained in Ontairo", he said in reviewing the fiscal year just ending.

The domestic market is expanding rapidly owing to the growth of population in Ontario—a rate of about 150,000 a year. This county shares in the growth—there were 1,000 more people in Peterborough city and county last June than there were in June, 1952, according to the Ontario Bureau of Statistics and Research.

Half the immigrants who come to Canada settle in Ontario. The birth rate is climbing. There were 130,000 births in this Province last year—61 per cent. more than in 1941. "Each year we require an increase of at least 2½ per cent. in the supply of a great variety of structures, commodities and wearing apparel just to keep our living standard from falling". And there is now a "better balance between agriculture and manufacturing, and through doing more of our processing at home we also secure, in greater measure, the economics of large scale production, with corresponding reductions in unit cost".

While the budget for 1954-55 has been drawn up with caution, and calls for about eight million dollars less expenditure (and anticipates that much less revenue) in the next twelve months than in the preceding twelve months, Ontario's future, near and distant, looks well. But it should be kept in mind that the decisions governing the spending of 75 per cent. of the gross national product in Canada are made by private individuals. "An attitude of confidence will therefore do more to maintain high levels of income and employment than any other single factor".

Pay No Attention, Marilyn

A British newspaper columnist reports that 5,000 of his readers, chiefly women, have chosen Marilyn Monroe as 'the first movie star they would pitch out of an imaginary balloon, to keep it from sinking'. The stars voted as 'next most expendable' were Mario Lanza, Audrey Hepburn, and an English comedian (unknown to us) called Norman Wisdom. This is interesting, but not very important. We advise Miss Monroe to pay no attention.

Beauty and charm always have enemies. Disguise it as moral indignation or a resentment of a woman whose chief preoccupations are dress and personal appearance if you like, but the plain fact is that the ladies would throw Miss Monroe out of the balloon because she has qualities which they lack. Miss Monroe would be perfectly safe in a balloon filled with men, we presume.

Where there is great admiration, there is likely also to be great resentment. Often these emotions are mingled in the same mind. If we wish, desperately, to be as beautiful and attractive as Miss Monroe, we may also wish to get rid of her, for she is a living reproach to our own deficiencies.

In any case, if anyone decides to throw Miss Monroe from a balloon we hope that they will inform this office beforehand, and we shall ask the Fire Department to hasten to the scene with a net. If they think of throwing Audrey Hepburn from a balloon, we shall be on hand to catch her personally.

It's an odd fact that some of the most expensive new cars are still being driven around with last year's licence plates, comments the St. Thomas Times-Journal. Not odd at all; the owners are just making do with what they have like other thrifty people.

LONDON LETTER

Hypnotic Dentistry

By KENNETH HARRIS

READING RECENTLY of the formation of the British Dental Hypnotists Association, I decided to go and have a chat with its Chairman. He is a distinguished London dentist, but to give his name would be to offend against the etiquette of his profession. I found him a quite unmysterious, unhypnotic, and good-humoured gentleman in his fifties. His rooms are in Wimpole Street, which, together with neighbouring Harley Street, forms the habitat of Britain's leading doctors, surgeons and dentists.

✧ ✧ ✧

HE TOLD ME that experiments have already ascertained that at least one patient in five can be put into a state of hypnosis deep enough to permit teeth to be extracted without pain, and that two patients in five can be hypnotised sufficiently to make them indifferent to the sound or vibration of the drill. Any dentist, he told me, could practise hypnosis—there's no magic about it. He himself can hypnotise patients by getting them to concentrate hard for a couple of minutes upon, say, his mouth lamp, or the tip of a propelling pencil. "It's the concentration that does it," he told me, "not any power on our part." He also told me that it's a fallacy that only weak-willed patients respond to hypnosis. "On the contrary,' he said, "it's the more intelligent person who can concentrate hard for a couple of minutes and cooperate, who is best suited to profit from hypnotic anaesthesis."

✧ ✧ ✧

IT is well-known, of course that the famous Dr. Bramwell of Hull, the city sea-port half-way up England's eastern coast, used to obtain remarkable results about sixty years ago. He would hypnotise a patient in Hull, send him to Leeds by train—a journey of a couple of hours—with a note for the dentist at the other end with "Go to sleep" written on it. "Dr. Bramwell says 'Go to sleep' " the dentist would say to his patient. The patient would drop off at once.

✧ ✧ ✧

EXPERIMENTS are continuing, and some of the best brains in British dentistry are taking part in them. Last year, for instance, a paper on dental hypnosis was read to the annual meeting of the British Dental Association. One day we may see professional hypnotists setting up in, say, Devonshire Street "readying" patients for having their teeth pulled out in Wimpole Street around the corner.

WHAT may prove to have been the first shots in a protracted battle over the nation's educational policies have just been fired in "the battle of Eltham Hill."

The London County Council, the local government body which runs most of the affairs of Greater London, has decided to close down about thirty schools. These were of the type known as "Grammar Schools," a type which gives the traditional type of British secondary schooi education to children between the ages of 12-18, an education based on the syllabus required for preparing students for entry into a university. The L.C.C. proposed to absorb the staff and pupils of these grammar—or "county" as they are sometimes called—schools into a new type of school called "comprehensive."

✧ ✧ ✧

THE COMPREHENSIVE SCHOOL, which would be four or five times as large as the grammar school—i.e. taking up to as many as two thousand pupils—is intended to offer not only the old type of grammar school syllabus, but a syllabus intended for people likely to leave school at 15 or 16 and not wanting to concentrate on academic subjects, this being called the "modern" course, and another syllabus of technical subjects intended for boys and girls who are going into commerce or industry. The idea is that, at the comprehensive school, a pupil can be educated along whichever of these three lines suits him best without feeling that he is segregated from children who are being educated along one of the other two lines.

UP AND DOWN the country there is a good deal of resistance to the idea of the comprehensive school. Some parents genuinely believe that the grammar school, as it exists at present, gives a superior kind of education which they want their children to have without being placed in a large establishment where two other "inferior" (they claim) educational systems are being worked. Other parents, of course, are attracted by the "snob" value of the grammar school. Most of the resistance, I think, is due to ignorance of what is really involved.

So much for the background of the "battle of Eltham Hill." Now for the battle itself. Having decided to make a start by closing down Eltham Hill, and absorbing it into a comprehensive school nearby, the London County Council put up its proposal (as it is compelled by law to do) to the Minister of Education, who happens to be a woman —Miss Florence Horsbrugh. Miss Horsbrugh refused to sanction the closing of Eltham Hill. The grounds which she gave for so doing were that Eltham Hill is, and has been, a very good school, and that the L.C.C. had failed to satisfy her that closing it would be educationally advantageous to all concerned.

HER ACTION immediately raised two wide questions in the minds of members of the London County Council. Can the Minister of Education be permitted to interfere to this extent with a local government's educational policy? And does the Minister's decision in the Eltham Hill case mean that the Conservative Government in Westminster is opposed to the Labour-dominated London County Council's comprehensive schools policy?

The Conservatives on the London Council say that, of course, the Minister is perfectly entitled to over-rule government decision, and that since Miss Horsbrugh made it clear that she was judging this case entirely on its own educational merits there was no question of the Conservative Government being opposed in principle to the L.C.C.'s comprehensive schools policy.

BUT the Labour-dominated L.C.C. is far from satisfied that this is the case and its education committee is investigating the matter. We shall probably hear a great deal more of this in a week or two. The National Labour Party is officially committed to support of a national comprehensive schools policy. There is a great deal of feeling on the matter up and down the country. What with the prejudices of parents and the possibilities these offer to politicians the Battle of Eltham Hill may start up something recalling the class struggle of classical Marxism!

Letters To The Editor

LOVELY, A LITTLE PUDDLY

Sir: These days are delightful, may they last. Another thing is the delicious air. Having lived for 18 years in California I thought I was satisfied but apparently not. Nor, can we dream of our lovely trees casting a beautiful shade through the town. The taxi men are as enthusiastic as your writer and we think we know.

There is one other thing I should like to mention and we think you will not object. It is the way the sidewalk ploughs clear the walks which leave a pile of mud and snow on the side of the walk, later to melt and run down in an ugly puddle. This plough was made too wide. Had it been made of sufficient width it would have been quite right. But, also, the sticky mass of snow and wet mud leave a very dirty decoration on the side of the walk, waiting to be allowed to run down. Could this little unhappiness not be seen to? I think it would stop immediately.

KATHLEEN I. JENKINS.

IN THE WRONG METER

Sir: Being that your fair city of Peterborough is our county seat I feel we who live in the county should have a little interest in the governing policy of it, and with this in mind would like to air a complaint that I feel would be to the advantage of the city as a whole to have cleared up.

The story is this. On visiting in your city on Wednesday of this week I had to park in the market square parking lot, as my time was very limited and had to hurry, pulled in with our service truck, locked the door on my, the driver's side, slid over, got out on the opposite side, locked the door with the key and stepped ahead and deposited a 25 cent piece in the meter.

On completion of my business I returned at eight o'clock to find a tag on the truck for overparking and on making enquiries found I had put my money in the wrong machine as I should have put it in the machine to the left of my truck not to the right as I did. No doubt it is written under instruction to put your money in, but in all my travels it is the first time I ever saw when you had to use the machine on the opposite side of your vehicle. I have talked to a number of people who were taken the same as I and they tell me that last summer it was terrible the number of tourists who ran into the same thing and it is sure poor advertisement for our community to have a trap like this exist.

Hoping that through the influence you carry you might be in a position to start a movement to help clear up a set-up as exists there.

Yours very truly,
E. J. SANDERSON

RELIEF FROM RENT CONTROLS

Sir: As a long suffering landlord, freed as of March 2 from the nightmare of Rent Controls, I am writing in protest against the implied threat of one or two delegates at a recent Labor Council meeting that as they were not satisfied with the abolishing of Rent Controls, they might "do something" about it.

I believe that the Mayor and Council of Peterborough have taken a well advised step in abolishing controls and I know that I am speaking for the landlords 100 per cent when I say so, and though it may sound paradoxical, I am speaking for the best of the tenants too, 100 per cent—for those who are thoughtful, lawabiding and with an eye to their own interests.

It is a well known fact that though Controls may be necessary during national emergency, rents tend to level off after Controls are lifted and to find their level at a lower rate than when Controls existed. Building investment in the housing line is much more extended when the builder does not have to submit his investment income to the arbitration of a third party. And, so far as apartments are concerned, desirable tenants are always glad to have the landlord empowered to quickly evict the undesirables.

So far as the open and avowed 'roughnecks' go, they don't care particularly about Controls one way or the other. They find shelter among their own kind. They probably don't intend to pay all their rent anyway, and after a few hearty rows with all hands participating they part company to the satisfaction of both sides, the tenant a few week's rent to the good, the landlord glad to be rid of the obnoxious fellow that was tougher even than he.

Those who object seriously to the discontinuance of Rent Controls regardless of the financial aspects can be divided into two classes. The first are those who wish to bring into the living quarters contracted for, something that was not implied nor allowed in the Contract—generally quantities of booze or a co-habiting person to whom the decent landlord would object on moral grounds. How many tenants expecting shortly to offend in both these particulars make application wrapped in a cloak of sober gentility. The landlord boasts to his friends of his lovely new tenants and all is sweetness and light until the latter throws a party. There is carousing until late into the night, the other tenants think despairingly of the alarm clock in the morning and the landlord of the six months that must elapse before the notice which he will serve in the morning will be acted upon. Court actions for immediate eviction are costly and uncertain. "The law leans over backward to keep a tenant in his home", my lawyer told me on my complaint to him. Nothing can be done but wait and sweat it out. The barriers are down, the tenant leaps into the driver's seat and generally so rough-rides over the other occupants of the house that they would be afraid to give evidence against him.

I have no objection to a little quiet drinking in the rooms nor to lively parties in a private house or a public hall, but carried on every few nights in an appartment or rooming house, they can be taste of Hell.

To the other class of objectors to the discontinuance of controls belong the neurotics, the border-line cases, the trouble-makers who make life miserable for all in the house not because of their social tendencies but because of their anti-social behaviour.

They generally sleep at night, snugly enough but in the daytime their brawling high-pitched voices ring from their rooms, often in obscenity and blasphemy and in the halls as they try to intercept tenants quietly going about their business.

As a case in point, an elderly lady, neatly dressed came to occupy a room in our house. After she had settled in, she rarely dressed again but went around in her night gown and kimona with her hair hanging in limp shreds about her head. About the fourth day, she began haranguing abusively in the hall. From then on, for several months, her shrill, quarrelsome voice could be heard at her door. Finally she crept up behind a kindly, helpful old lady, passing her door, one who had befriended her and shopped for her. The neurotic drew her finger nails down the back of the poor old lady's neck leaving ugly scratches. For several months I had been trying to evict the crazy person without success. Now with the help of Mrs. Shadgett, the police matron, and the elderly lady who was attacked, a charge was laid, the neurotic was hospitalized.

But the point is, under Rent Controls, I had to harbour a seriously deranged woman unsafe to herself and to others, and until she actually attacked another person, I had no grounds for relief from her insane conduct.

So I wish to thank the Mayor and Council for their stand in the matter and to thank you Mr. Editor for allowing me this space.

Yours truly,
NORTH ENDER

Bible Message

(From The Authorized Version)

Then Philip went down to the city of Samaria, and preached Christ unto them. And the people with one accord gave heed unto those things which Philip spake, hearing and seeing the miracles which he did. For unclean spirits, crying with loud voice, came out of many that were possessed with them: and many taken with palsies, and that were lame, were healed. And there was great joy in that city.

But there was a certain man, called Simon, which before time in the same city used sorcery, and bewitched the people of Samaria, giving out that himself was some great one: to whom they all gave heed, This man is the great power of God. And to him they had regard, because that of long time he had bewitched them with sorceries. But when they believed Philip preaching the things concerning the kingdom of God, and the name of Jesus Christ, they were baptized, both men and women. Then Simon himself believed also: and when he was baptized, he continued with Philip, and wondered, beholding the miracles and signs which were done. (Acts. 8:5-13.)

For the word of God is quick and powerful, and sharper than any two-edged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is a descerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart. (Heb. 4:12.)

More Stakes Than Strikes In Bancroft Uranium Field

Prospectors Even Stake The Lumber Yard • Company To Spend $300,000 Just Locking

A Special Report By NICK NICKELS

BANCROFT, March 12 — Last week an ebullient stranger walked up to the order counter of the Bancroft Lumber and Fuel Company and ordered some cull cedar posts.

Upon delivery he shouldered them across Highway 62, a mile east of the village, sharpened the ends of the posts and drove them into the hard ground, some here, some there.

To each post he nailed a clean shingle showing his name, date and mining license number. He then paced off the mill yard and drove stakes across the property. In other words, this man was exercising his authority to prospect for minerals under private property. He was after uranium.

This typical example, though most mining staking has been done on Crown Land, has been going on for the last two years. The staking tempo ran with the speed of a bush fire since late last fall, until there is scarcely any unstaked ground left over a large area from Bancroft southwest and south into mid-Peterborough county.

CAUTIOUS OPTIMISM

Prospectors are carefree optimistic fellows who think nothing of hard living and difficult travel conditions in hopes that they may stake an Eldorado and option the ground to some reputable mining company for a modest fortune. During the past 50 years few of them have clicked but most of them make a modest living.

Modern science is helping them in one sense. Aircraft dragging scintillometer instruments plot ground from aloft in systematic grids. Maps are made showing mineral occurrences in anomalies or patterns. Prospectors stake the better-looking patterns and blanket ground on either end "in case there might be an extensive ore body". And in no time at all there is no open ground left over many hundreds of square miles.

From surface trenches they have cleared through the overburden to bedrock prospectors swarm with geiger counters and listen hopefully in headphones for slow or rapid "clicks" that tell them of the strength of radioactive rock underneath.

Mining companies move in with diamond drills to probe the rock at depth and from the cores pulled correlate the shape, width and dip of ore "in place", if any. There are fourteen drills working 'round the clock in three shifts in the Bancroft country at the present time. Some rigs work on lake ice, others on the lip of steep ridges. But none of this activity means that a mine has been located.

TWO MAJOR PROSPECTS

There are only two major "prospects" in area at the present time, both five miles west of the northeast end of Paudash lake, Centre Lake Mines and its immediate northern neighbour, Croft Uranium. Management of both properties "think they have a chance". But mining engineers and geologists with hard-headed money-men behind them and who are extremely jealous of their integrity, refuse to go overboard in order to "promote" a worthless property. If, in the cold reasoning of scientific data they feel their property is not of sufficient grade to make a mine, they turn the ground down cold and in so doing kill a mining area for years to come. Here is what Centre Lake Mines have done and are planning:

DONE AND PLANNED

In the last 18 months they have diamond-drilled thousands of feet to determine an ore structure. They knew that ore existed to certain depths, that it was so wide, that it raked in various directions. From the base of a ridge they drove an adit, or tunnel, for 1,500 feet with branches north and south. They cut an ore dike 28 feet wide that, sampled, showed a uranium content of .08 per cent.

The next thing for them to determine is whether the ore body extends in four directions from this horizon and it is going to cost the company $300,000 plus to have a look.

NEXT WEEK'S MOVE

To do this, within a week, contractors will move into the property and prepare to sink a three-compartment shaft some 400 feet west of the portal of the adit. The shaft will be sunk to a level 125 feet below the existing sill of the adit, with a 30-foot drainage sump, and crosscuts driven for 375 to cut the ore dike. In the process of this drive, five known dikes will be intersected. Results plotted from this contract will determine whether the ore continues strong or peters out; values must also be constant and of a grade and tonnage necessary to interest the government in buying it. The pioneer, then, is still a long way from being a mine.

The Croft property on the immediate north has started their adit tunnel which, they think might be in the same ore body as Centre Lake's. This week they intersected a dike of interesting ore possibilities in the tunnel but they have barely begun.

THIRD ACTIVE SITE

About six miles north-east of these two properties is the third most active prospect, Farady Uranium. It is situated on the east arm of Bow Lake, adjacent to Highway 28 and there are four diamond drills probing two structures on the mountain-goat ridges.

On Wednesday afternoon your reporter puffed up the slippery slopes to the core shack where manager A. W. Jeckell and engineer Bob Liard were plotting drill cores. Before them a shift-by-shift picture of the drilling operations was laid out in the neat rows of rocky core. A 3 p.m. two drill runners slid down the trail to the camps; they had finished their stint and the drill, still running, was taken over for the next eight hours by Rene St. Cyr and Rolland Julien. How were things with them?

"Looks good," said St. Cyr. "Three weeks I bring la femme and child-ren. I like this count-ry."

SIZING UP

With Farady several months in the prospecting picture behind the Centre Lake companies, manager Jeckell talked with caution about present and future. He was new at the location himself.

Diamond drills are working in nine other various likely-looking places between Bow lake and Kinmount.

All this action constitutes a boomlet of modest proportions which, if the grade of ore is there in tonnage figures at the rate of one million tons per vertical foot measure, three or four mines may come into being. Even that is an optimistic guess at the present time for the experts in the field just don't know.

PROSPEROUS ACTIVITY

The activity has been good for the country. Settlers who are hard pressed to make a living for their families heretofore can work as labourers at prospect properties at good wages. And most of them are employed.

Storekeeper and sawmill operator Roy McKenzie at the north end of Paudash lake says business, for cash, at his store is brisk but that help for ordinary country wages at his portable mill is hard to find. The story up and down the highway is the same. Times are good.

The boom has even affected Apsley where prospectors are buying large quantities of supplies for temporary camps in the "West Country". One group of men have taken over the farmhouse of Mac Tucker, three miles north of the village, as headquarters for a surface mineral hunt on a large block of claims. For prospectors they are living in style: no tents and burned beans for them.

WHY THE DEMAND?

Some reasons for all this mad rush for uranium may be determined from discussions carried out by experts at the recent Prospectors and Development Association in Toronto.

Said Dr. D. A. Keys, vice-president of National Research Council:

"The demand for uranium is going to increase considerably due to its necessity to supply power. All our power, except hydro, is expendable and power demands are increasing. Uranium is the only naturally-occurring fishionable material."

Said Dr. T. E. Gillingham of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission:

"The United States has $4 billion invested in plants which have an enormous appetite for uranium. Military demand won't decrease and new uranium is needed for atomic power. With government-guaranteed prices until 1962, the future for the next 10 years is certain . . . beyond that the outlook is quite rosy."

THE BIG IF

The big "if" is: have we uranium in commercial quantities in the Bancroft area? Time will tell and meanwhile your reporter conducted his own experiment.

He took a few small pieces of ore home in his pocket and drove his household crazy in rigging up a portable darkroom to expose his samples on a piece of raw film. After ten and one-half hours the plate was developed and should have shown the outlines of the images thereon.

There was nary a speck.

CAUTION is the keynote from management, S. C. Brown, of Centre Lake Mines, above, to drillers Rene St. Cyr and Raymond Julien, left photo, when it comes to forecasting whether or not there is a mine under their feet. The uranium boomlet southwest of Bancroft has staked the country solid but few mines, if any, may be found.

DRILL CORE IS LOGGED by manager A. W. Jeckell, right, and engineer Bob Liard at Farady Uranium property.

BANCROFT MAY BECOME a mining centre where a railroad could serve properties being developed in the rugged hill country to the south.

New Weapon vs. Cancer

In the British House of Commons at the first of this month the Lord Privy Seal, Capt. H.F.C. Crookshank, announced: "The great Canadian cobalt bomb which was presented last year to the British Empire Cancer Campaign has been put to work. This very morning the first patient was treated with that bomb at the Mount Vernon Hospital."

In principle it is similar to the radium units in general use—but it is about 200 times more powerful. The source of the radiation which is directed at cancerous tissues is, instead of radium, a disc of radio-active cobalt about one inch wide and half an inch thick which has been made highly radio-active by exposure in an atomic pile. This activity wanes gradually, reaching half its original intensity in about five years, but fresh exposure in a pile "charges" it up again.

The radiation produced by the new unit can exert a powerful effect on tissues as much as 10 cm. beneath the skin. In this way it may be possible to treat hitherto inaccessible tumours.

A·F·I·E·L·D with NICK NICKELS

A JULES VERNE TYPE by the name of Orpen of Toronto called at the regional lands and forests office this week with a proposition to rid some of our Kawartha waters of carp. Orpen said he was a member of a skin-diving club which, equipped with suits, goggles and oxygen tanks, spent their summers in the cool green depths observing fish life.

Orpen's proposition was to get permission to let his club mates go after carp and spear them to extinction. He found there were two snags: (a) Carp frolic in shallow muddy marsh waters that would make impossible stalking situations for frogmen. (b) Spearing fish, no matter what kind, is illegal in Ontario game fish waters.

Sounded good for a moment, though.

IF YOU ASK most people you meet on the streets these days if they are going to the Canadian National Sportsmen's Show they look at you as if you are crazy. Of course they are going, somehow, sometime.

The big affair opened on Friday morning at 11 a.m. and visitors poured through the turnstiles in thousands. From former years they knew what they could expect and each year they see more as new attractions are added. Billed as America's largest springtime exhibition, this is no more ballyhoo. Here are some of the things you will see:

Travel and cottage show; wildlife exhibit; sports of all types in demonstration areas; Indian village; square dancing and hundreds of exhibits. The stage and water revue is showing most of the popular acts held previously, which includes the incomparable Sharkey the seal, and, a new attraction, Rodney the wrestling alligator.

Hurry! Hurry! Hurry! Children pay two bits, their parents, half a dollar. All proceeds from the show, when the smoke of heavy expenses have cleared, go to conservation projects. Your patronage couldn't go towards a better cause.

Contemporary Perc Angwin of Barre Daily Times, Barre, Vt., sent us a recent column clipping wherein he told of one, Al Sutherland, who is manufacturing a collapsible aluminum and canvas boat that measures 10½ feet and weighs only 30 pounds.

In New England where guides and outdoorsmen carry their duffle in wicker pack baskets, this craft is designed to fit into same. Since Peterborough is one of THE boat-building centres of the continent we are interested in any new wrinkles afloat even though no one could ever sell us the folding-boat idea. We do see its possibilities for the use of some of these avid hinterland trout fishermen who portage into the back-of-beyond, come May 1. And they seem more practical that those war surplus rubber blow-up affairs that tourists used to bring in following the war.

Marmora Gets TVL Win From Havelock

MARMORA (ENS)—Marmora at home on Friday evening, before 1,1,00 spectators, took the second game of their four out of seven series for the championship of the northern section of the TVL by the score of 11-4. The game was fast but marked with no roughness. Top scorers for the winners were Lavender with three goals and an assist and Mantle with three goals. Laing was the most effective player for Havelock, getting two of his team's goals and an assist. In the third they tried hard to reduce the 7-2 margin facing them but their play lacked the desired finish. Each team had seven penalties.

The next game will be in Marmora on Monday evening. The homesters will find Sunday a veritable rest day as they engage Vandorf at home on Saturday evening and away on Tuesday.

Black's Capture Opener Girls' Hoop Semi-Finals

Black's beat Lindsay Neill's 29-22 at the YWCA last night to open their best-of-three Girls City Basketball League semi-finals. The second game will be on the same floor next Friday evening. This series is in the intermediate section, Collis having captured senior honors. The loser in senior finals drops back to intermediate playoffs.

After a 6-5 Black's lead in the first quarter, Lindsay drove hard to outscore the local lasses 6-2 in the second for an 11-8 margin at the half. Black's edged them 7-5 in the third and finished stronger with 14 points to six for the win in a fine fray. The victors had 12 fouls called on them to 10 for Neill's.

C. Bosnell led Black's scorers with 11 points, C. Gibson getting eight, R. Naylor four, J. Kearns three, M. Middleton two and R. Butcher one. Tops for Lindsay was M. Owen with 11 points, as H. Robertson clicked for four, E. McBrien three, and J. Humphries and D. Copp two each. Teams:

Lindsay: D. Copp, M. Vanstone, H. Robertson, J. Humphries, M. Owen, E. McBrien.

Black's: C. Bosnell, J. Kearns, E. McIlhagga, M. Middleton, R. Naylor, C. Gibson, R. Butcher.

Referee: J. W. Smith.

Lindsay Boys Get Lead On Midland

LINDSAY (ENS)—The Lindsay Legion Juveniles will take a one-goal lead into the second game of their OMHA juvenile semi-final series with Midland on Monday night after eking out a 3-2 win here last night.

Pete Carveth's goal with five minutes remaining in the third period gave the home club the win after they had come from behind a 2-1 Midland lead at the end of the second. Lindsay took a 1-0 lead in the first period on Jim Sinclair's goal but the visitors came back with two in the second period by Culbertson and Wilson, the second with Lindsay shorthanded.

Carveth scored early in the third on a solo break from the blue line and the Lindsay club came to life to threaten for the rest of the period. When Lowes of Midland went off for a minor sentence, Carveth combined with Vickery and Williams for the game-winning tally. Carveth, Hennessey, Sinclair, Williams and goalie Gordie Roy stood out for the winners, while Culbertson, Dunn, Wilson and Lowes were best for the Midland club. Winners of the series go into the league finals against Port Colborne.

Local Trundlers In Classic Show

The second annual Molson's Classic tournament at Canadian National Sportsmen's Show got underway today when Mayor Allan Lamport of Toronto rolled the first ball down the alleys. The seal (one of the other big attractions of the sportsmen's show) also took part in the opening ceremony.

In the first half of elimination series the results are: ladies' singles, Irene Atkinson, Northern Ontario, 925; Elsie Hodgson, Hamilton, 865; Mary Hatt, London, 862; Ethel Anderson, Ottawa, 847; Margaret Hegyi, St. Catharines, 814; Millie McCabe, Toronto West, 762; Bea Ross, Peterborough, 760; Ruth Grant, Windsor, 745; Helen Clarke, Toronto East, 745; Joan Jermey, Barrie, 733; Marj Hass, Kitchener Waterloo, 727; Betty Lalonde, Kingston, 720;; men's singles: Bill Hoult, Toronto East, 1307; Gene Lagault, Ottawa, 1228; Chuck Heath, Peterborough 1218; Stan Battersby, Hamilton, 1216; Forrest Richards, Windsor, 1187; Jack Pritchard, Toronto West, 1138; Bill Cameron, Barrie, 1116; Jim McKenzie, Kingston, 1098; Harold Reibel, Kitchener Waterloo, 1095; Jim Matschke, London, 1083 Noah Bertuzzi, Northern Ontario, 1054; John Patterson, St. Catharines, 1016.

The 37th annual meeting of the Ontario Baseball Association will be held at the William Pitt Hotel, Chatham, on March 19-20. This is just a passing mention as there doesn't seem to be too much local interest in the diamond sport at present. Not even enough so far to call a meeting and see if Peterborough can enter a club in the COBL. Unless our hockey club wants to swing into baseball for the summer months, prospects aren't bright for anything but minor ball. In fact, there isn't too much interest in Eastern and Central Ontario in the OBA convention, as we note only Oshawa and Bowmanville have nominations up for office. Rest all hail from the peninsula or Western Ontario. Times have sure changed since Bill Kay, Max Swanston and later Jack Turner served on the provincial association.

Jim Coleman advises us that, three months before the 95th running of the Queen's Plate, the professional price-makers have established King Maple as a sizzling hot favorite at odds of seven to five. The Toronto colt was the Canadian juvenile champion in 1953. Queen's Own is rated second choice. Of course, bookies have been wrong before. But, getting away from the runners, we note where 316 trotters and pacers for 11 harness racing stakes will go at Woodbine this summer in a 35-day meet. No doubt there will be entries from Peterborough and district. 'Tis likely, too, that some meets will be held in Morrow Park again in '54.

NHL Windup In Sight

NHL teams are pounding down the stretch now with the schedule winding up in another week, on the first official day of Spring tra la. That'll give the major loop pros practically six months of play ere Stanley Cup semi-finals and finals. Interest mounts in the far reaches of the country, and puck followers on George St. argue as hotly o'er how the top four will finish as fans on Yonge St., St. Catherine, Broadway and Woodward. The Wings are a cinch to take the NHL title once more, but of course cup playoffs provide the real excitement in hockey during the spring-like weeks ahead. Various individual player awards provide a hot topic of conversation, too. 'Tis world series time coming up in Canada for the national winter sport.

Closer to home, our TPT Petes travel tonight to Orillia for the sixth game of their best-of-seven OHA senior "B" group semi-final set. Seventh, if necessary, here on Monday eve. Petes hold a 3-2 lead at the moment and hope to wrap up the series on foreign ice. Eddie O'Toole was promised 65 reserved seats in Orillia for this game, but probably had no trouble getting rid of 'em, since we expect the arena to be sold out—as was the cast here last Wednesday. Shapes up a sizzler, this sixth struggle, as the Ponties won't be eliminated without putting up a terrific fight. Group finals will get underway next Wednesday.

Midgets Still Around

Peterborough has one minor hockey team left in playdowns, the police-sponsored Shamrocks, coached by Pat Doherty. Local juvenile Aces put up a fine showing in Kingston the other night to win 3-2 but they were eliminated on the round by a 9-7 count. Tough on Angus Bradley (who dug deep in his pocket this season to operate the squad) and tough for the boys. Al Watkins tells us that Shamrocks go next against Kingston and it'll be OMHA midget "A" finals, the teams to arrange their own dates next week. He also informs us that Tod Lintner, classy intermediate puckist with Ned Vitarelli's Port Hope Redman, had an eye removed the other day as the result of an accident in the Redmen's last playoff game with Lindsay, the Muskies taking the lakeshore title. That was certainly a bad accident for the player.

Emmett Crough of Peterborough meets Roy Bloom of Toronto in the main bout of the amateur boxing card in the Brock Arena on Monday eve. Bill Twomey of this city tackles Tap Zasturzio of Toronto in the semin-final, both top bouts being five-rounders featuring welters. It's heavyweight Bill Cridland from here against Peter Anderson of Toronto in the third go; while Pete Howe of this borough mixes with Toronto's Lorne Gibson in the fourth; these are three-round scraps. Also four other bouts between Lindsay and local leather-pushers. Alex Cross is promoting the mitt card with his Alhpa Club fighters going against out-of-town talent. It's quite a while since Gord Garwood staged Alpha Club boxing shows around here.

Only Two Berths Undecided For OHA Junior Playoffs

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Sixth place, the last playoff berth in the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A series, was decided in the midst of two overtime games Friday night. Now, with only five games left in the schedule only third and fourth place are undecided.

Guelph Biltmores scored two overtime goals in Guelph to take a 7-5 decision over Toronto St. Michael's College and clinch sixth place. Barrie Flyers, defeated 8-7 by the last-place Galt Black Hawks in Barrie, will remain in seventh.

The Barrie loss closed out the season for the Flyers. The other seven teams in the league still have at least one game remaining before the schedule finishes Sunday. Third and fourth places will be decided during those games between St. Michael's and Hamilton Cubs. The Irish are currently in third, two points ahead of the Cubs.

The second-place Toronto Marlboros play in Galt tonight while Guelph goes to Hamilton and Kitchener-Waterloo Greenshirts travel to St. Catharines to play the TeePees, who are already assured of first place.

Hamilton plays Marlboros and the TeePees meet St. Michael's in the Toronto Sunday doubleheader.

The Flyers, last year's Memorial Cup champions, finished the season with 25 victories, 33 defeats and one tie—quite a difference from last year when they ended the season in first place with 37 wins, 17 losses and two ties.

They led during the greater part of Friday night's game but Rick Collin's overtime goal, his second counter of the game, gave Galt the victory. Flyers were ahead 3-0 in the first and 5-3 after the second. Other Galt scorers were John Sleaver, Neil McDonald, Pete Kowalchuk, Ken Crawford, Ed Switzer and Hec Lalande.

Bob McNeil scored twice for the Flyers, singles going to Ross Graham, Cleland Mortson, Jim Robertson, Don Hope and John Martan.

Guelph also came from behind twice for its victory against St. Michael's. The Biltmores poured 62 shots at Irish netminder Gerry McNamara during their bid for the playoff berth. St. Michael's took 10 of the 15 penalties handed out and Guelph capitalized on them, scoring three goals while the Collegians were short-handed.

Bob Attersley, who was awarded the Ron Plumb Trophy as the most valuable Biltmore this year, scored two goals for the winners. Hillary Menard also notched a pair. Bill Sweeney, Ike Scott and Bill McCraery rounded out the total. Paul Knox led the Irish with a pair of counters. Brian Anderson, Noel Price and Jim Logan scored the others.

Costly Snow

MONTREAL (CP)—The original civic snow removal budget of $3,700,000 was expended by Feb. 20, and an aditional $200,000 has been approved. The executive committee was told the entire winter cost might reach $4,200,000.

NEW ZEALANDER SCORES—Speedy A. E. G. Elsom, New Zealand All-Black wing three-quarter, scores the first try in an exhibition rugby game with Victoria Crimson Tide. The try was one of four Elsom scored in the game his team won by a whopping 39-3. Victoria forwards Frank Gober (left) and Don Smith (right) arrived too late to stop the New Zealanders. Grant Winner Over Baptie Tankard Play

TORONTO (CP) — Ray Grant, who comes from a family of curlers, led his Unionville rink to a 10-8 victory over Doug Baptie of Peterborough Friday night to take the Ontario Curling Association junior tankard trophy.

Grant passed up the quarter-finals of the Royal Canadian Bonspiel to compete in the tankard. He is the lead on his father's rink which entered the Royal Canadian 'spiel.

The secondary event went to Peter Mitchell of Hamilton Thistles who defeated Charles Grant of Orillia 10-6.

BEAT LINDSAY

Ray Grant eliminated J. Moseley of Lindsay 12-4 in the tankard semi-finals. Baptie made the finals by beating J. Brown of Lindsay 11-10.

Mitchell defeated G. Hancock of Peterborough 9-4 in one of the semi-finals of the secondary event. Charley Grant downed D. Tieman of Kitchener 8-7 in the other one.

Donaldson Hits 904

M. Donaldson had high single of 393 and top three of 904 this week in the men's City Bowling League. McGillis led teams with 3,650 and best single went to Ferguson's squad. The 6-0 victories were taken by Payne, Monumental, Ferguson, MacDonald, Primeau and McGillis over Family Credit, McBride and Anderson, Cookie's, Edwards, Stopawhile and Novelty in that order, as 4-2 wins went to Royal York over Sunocos and Parkhill against Golfers.

Good scores: G. MacDonald 822, A. Mattucci 809, F. Martin 851, J. Wade 733, W. Harris 776, E. Reynolds 706, P. Pryde 712, G. Walton 740, B. BcCarrell 762, W. Stanbury 780, J. Gaspari 779, H. Fisher 716, V. Ferguson 754, M. Caccavella 768, B. Nichols 847, J. Barnes 722, H. Frost 725, J. Playford Jr. 725, G. LaPlante 791, I. Haines 745, J. Denault 712; and singles of B. McCarrell 316, W. Stanbury 321, M. Donaldson 304, V. Ferguson 328, B. Nichols 321, G. LaPlante 328, W. Harris 310, F. Martin 302 and 355, A. Mattucci 312.

L. Martin Leads

L. Martin had high three of 722 and Mary Simmons best single of 300 in the YMCA lasses' bowling circuit. Lucky Strikes had a team single of 1,092. The standing is: Aces 94, Tigers 88, Glens 86, Commandos 80, Lucky Strikes 79, Corvettes 56, Bombers 49, Hurricanes 44.

The big upset was the whitewashing of one of the leading teams as Glens were blanked by Corvettes, Commandos took six points from Hurricanes, as did Tigers from Bombers. Lucky Strikes took four over Aces.

Selkirk Rink Wins Empress Trophy In Mixed Bonspiel

By the close score of 8-5, Clayton Selkirk of Peterborough, the youngest skip ever to win a major bonspiel here, defeated the veteran Mr. A. Walkey, Hamilton, in the final game to win the Empress Hotel Trophy, in the all-week open mixed rink bonspiel sponsored by the Peterborough Curling Club.

It was just a case of youth must be served.

Dr. R. Morgan, Peterborough, came third and another local rink skipped by N. Hawley finished fourth.

So completely did the visitors outplay the local talent that only one of the four trophies stayed at home.

MOST SUCESSFUL

It was the unanimous opinion that the bonspiel was the most successful ever held by the local club.

The co-operation the committee received from all was all that could be wished for; the good fellowship and good sportsmanship was wonderful.

The ladies did a fine job; the dinners and the entertainments in no small way added to the success of the tournament.

Bonspiel chairman Fred Stenson and his committee are greatful to all.

It was an excellent bonspiel, all around.

McKenzie vs. Atkins

Jack Dempsey Special Referee

Jack Dempsey, former world's heavy boxing champion, will be the special referee when the sensational Tex McKenzie, who scored such a smashing hit here this week, downing roughhouse Tiny Mills in two straight falls, takes on rugged Fred Atkins in the main event. A win over the Australian hard-rock Atkins will certainly boost the young Texan's stock in the mat world—and with Dempsey riding herd things should be kept in control.

Fred Atkins

Big Ike Eakins has picked himself a toughie in the semi-final, tangling with the Hindu terror, Nanjo Singh. Eakins has created quite a following in his two bouts here. He is a smart wrestler and stands up in any kind of going.

Popular Earl McCready of Aurora and Alan Garfield of England are in the opener.

A capacity crowd is expected to see the greatest fighter of all time, Jack Dempsey, in action.

Fifth Big Time Bid For Lewicki Converted Centre

By ED SIMON

Opportunity knocks again tonight for Danny Lewicki, just three years after he burst into the big time. The 23-year-old Fort William flash was tagged as "hockey's greatest prospect" by Managing Director Con Smythe when he first hit the Toronto Maple Leaf line-up as a left-winger. A smooth stickhandler, he had looked wonderful with Toronto Marlboro junior and senior teams in the Leaf farm system.

He scored 16 goals in his rookie year. But the following season he produced only four in 51 games and finished the season with Pittsburgh Hornets in the American League.

Three times since then Lewicki has taken the train ride from Pittsburgh to Toronto and back, gaining one goal, three assists and 14 minutes in penalties.

RETURNS TONIGHT

He returns tonight with little fanfare, a converted centre with 36 goals and 45 assists in AHL play this season, filling the slot vacated by Ted Kennedy, Leaf sparkplug and captain, who suffered a groin injury at Montreal Thursday night.

Either club can come close to clinching its final playoff position with a double victory. The Leafs lead Montreal Canadiens by three points in their contest for second place while the Bruins have a similar margin over New York Rangers for fourth.

The Canadiens have a chance to pick up points in a double bill with the last-place Chicago Black Hawks starting at Montreal tonight. The Rangers, on the other hand, face tough sledding against the league-leading Red Wings in Detroit tonight and New York Sunday.

3 CANADIENS OUT

Toronto and Montreal left each other badly bruised as the Leafs took a 3-0 decision Thursday. Knee injuries to Canadien defenceman Bud MacPherson and forward Calum MacKay and centre Ken Mosdell's sore ribs may keep all three out of action against Chicago.

The Rangers will have trouble finding an adequate replacement for Wally Hergesheimer, their 27-goal right-winger, who suffered a fractured leg in Boston Thursday.

A Message from the Peterborough ORNAMENTAL SWIMMING CLUB
to the citizens of Peterborough and District

On the morning of the 4th of August, 12 girls from Peterborough, one from Montreal, two from Quebec, chosen by the British Empire Games Committee, will exhibit Synchronized Swimming in Vancouver, B.C., to interest the Commonwealth Nations with the possibility of adding Synchronized Swimming to competitive Sports.

We understand Canada has the Movie and Television rights for this event, so once again the girls will be publicizing Peterborough, this time to Australia, New Zealand, England, Wales, Scotland, Ireland, and all the other Commonwealth Nations. The Games take place August 1st to August 7th, and following this, on the 9th and 10th of August, the Dominion Synchronized Championships will take place in the same Crystal Pool. As the Peterborough girls plan to enter, it will necessitate a stay-over of at least 7 days.

Valdes Plans Tour Of Europe

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP)—His prestige dimmed by a lacklustre victory over Canada's James J. Parker, Nino Valdes of Cuba today planned a European invasion to bolster his chances for a September title shot at heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano.

In fact, his prestige was dimmed so much that chairman Bob Christenberry of the New York State athletic commission said Valdes' title-fight application cheque is being returned. The Cuban had posted $5,000 as a challenge for Marciano's title.

"Of last night's fight we can't consider him a worthy challenger," said Christenberry, but he added: "Things can change by the time Marciano meets Ezzard Charles in June."

TO FIGHT SYS

The 29-year-old Cuban champion, No. 2 heavyweight contender, will first fight Belgian Karel Sys in Antwerp in April, manager Bobby Gleason said.

Valdes scored his seventh straight victory by outpointing the unrated Parker, who comes from Barrie, Ont., but now fights out of Paterson, N.J. The decision was unanimous, but Nino failed to impress the Madison Square Garden crowd of 4,173 and televiewers across the country. The gross gate was $12,619.

The two six-foot-three heavyweights were expected to put on a punching bee. But the customers booed and stamped their feet and there wasn't anything resembling a knockdown, even though Parker came into the ring with 22 knockout scalps and Nino with 20 to his credit.

HURTS HAND

"I hurt my right hand in the fourth round," said Valdes, "otherwise I knock him out in the sixth or seventh round."

Valdes, 211 pounds, and Parker, 210, mauled away mostly at close quarters.

The loss snapped Parker's win streak at nine and was his fifth defeat against 26 victories. Valdes racked up his 30th win against eight defeats.

Black Hawks Up For Sale

GALT (CP)—Jack A. Moffat, president of Galt Black Hawks, Friday invited the bids of any prospective operators of the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A franchise in Galt for next season.

The invitation followed rumors that Toronto Marlboros of the OHA Junior league and Detroit Red Wings of the National Hockey League were interested in operating the team here next year.

Mr. Moffat said he knew nothing about the rumors concerning Marlboros and Detroit. He added that "It is the opinion of the executive and myself that if some other group is interested in operating the junior A franchise in Galt next season, we would be pleased to hear from them. We are quite prepared to step aside for any group whether it be Marlboros, Detroit, (Montreal) Canadiens or anybody."

The Hawks, who close their schedule here this Saturday in a game with Marlboros, had a disappointing season. They have no chance of getting out of last place.

Kitchener Golfer Leads In Baton Rouge

BATON ROUGE, La. (CP)—Jerry Kesselring of Kitchener, remained within two strokes of the leaders Friday at the half-way mark of the $10,000 Baton Rouge Professional Golfers Association open.

Kesselring shot even par 72 Friday for a 36-hole total of 140. Pre-tournament favorite Cary Middlecoff and opening day leader Ted Kroll led with 138's and Ed Furgol had 139. Seven other golfers were tied with Kesselring in fourth place.

Training Camp Notes

TAMPA, Fla. (CP)—Bob Boyd, bidding for the first-base job with Chicago White Sox after moving up from Toronto Maple Leafs late last season, doubled in two runs but was out trying to stretch his hit into a triple Friday as the rookie-studded Sox dropped an 11-7 decision to Cincinnati Reds.

Jocko Thompson, former Toronto and Baltimore southpaw, pitched the first three innings for the losers and left with a 4-2 margin but rookie Bill Fisher, a returning serviceman, was hit hard in the late innings for the loss.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (CP)—Paul Penson, a pitcher with no professional experience, throttled New York Yankees for four innings and gained credit for Philadelphia Phillies' 2-1 victory over the world champions Friday.

BRADENTON, Fla. (CP)—Pittsburgh Pirates, who finished last in the National League last season and are generally favored to repeat, belted six home runs Friday to rout Milwaukee Braves 25-11 in their exhibition game.

Jerry Lynch, a rookie outfielder, slammed a homer, two triples and a single to highlight the Pirates' 19-hit attack, which produced a nine-run seventh inning.

PHOENIX, Ariz. (CP) — Willie Mays sparked New York Giants to a 13-5 victory over Cleveland Indians Friday by slamming two successive home runs off Cleveland Ace Mike Garcia.

Canadian Swimmers Have Good Prospects At Games

By BRUCE LEVETT
Canadian Press Staff Writer

VANCOUVER (CP)—If anybody expects to beat Canadian swimmers at the July 30-Aug. 7 British Empire games here they'll have to come up with world-record times. So says Percy Norman who won his last race in 1933 and coached Canada's 1936 Olympic swimming team.

Percy is a meat salesman who can't keep a crease in his pants. He is also chairman of swimming for the games and coach of the Canadian team.

Interviewed in the steam-bath atmosphere of Crystal Pool, Vancouver's only indoor public swimming pool, Percy looked at his tube-like trousers, damp with perspiration and steam.

WIFE STOPS BEEFING

Below him, swimmers whose names are listed prominently in Canadian record books cut through the 74-degree water, dodging amateur divers and floundering "Sunday swimmers."

"Mrs. Norman stopped beefing long ago," he said, "both about the hours and the problem of keeping my pants pressed."

Percy said "we'll have one of the best groups ever to represent Canada this time."

Among names he expects to see on the Canadian team following the trials here July 5-7, are:

Gladys Priestly and Beth Whittall, both of Montreal; Judy Grant of Toronto and Kay Kerr and Marg Stangroom of Winnipeg.

"Judy and Gladys will be awfully hard to beat," he said, "anyone who does beat them will be setting world times."

Tops for the boys are three Vancouver lads. Percy figures they'll sweep very event they enter.

Gerry McNamee specializes in the free-style, Bobby Gair in the breast-stroke and Ted Simpson in the back-stroke.

"Then they team up as a free-style relay team," Percy said. "They can break any Canadian record set up for them."

Gair proved this late last month here when he broke the Canadian 440-yard breast-stroke record. The 17-year-old high school student made a mess of the old record, cutting it from 6:38.3 to 5:56.2. He also set records for the 100, 200, 220 and 400 as well—all in the same swim.

McNamee recently shaved the Canadian record by swimming the 220-yard free-style in two minutes, 12 seconds.

"You can count on one hand the number of men who can do that," Norman said. Gerry is an 18-year-old college student.

Percy was born in Revelstoke, B. C., the son of a cigar-maker and took his first dip in the icy Columbia river in 1911. "I was never much as a swimmer," he said. "I seem to be able to tell them what to do but I never could do it."

He claims Vancouver's coastal position has little to do with Canada's third largest city being a stronghold of swimming. First, the water is too cold and he discourages "bathing" as he calls every type of swimming other than competition work. "And those beaches are filthy."

Percy will be 50 years old Sunday and he plans to spend the day in typical fashion—in Portland, Ore., 400 miles south of here where his swimmers will compete in the western AAU indoor swimming and diving championships.

"They don't know it yet," Percy said, "but they're going to win a hatful of American records."

Coliseum Sale Reports Denied

QUEBEC (CP) — Persistent reports that Quebec's four-year-old Coliseum would soon be bought by a syndicate interested in acquiring a National Hockey League franchise for this city were denied Friday in Quebec.

In a tabled statement at city hall, directors of the municipally-owned Coliseum said they had not heard anything of such a move, in effect denying that negotiations were going on for its sale.

The statement was in reply to a series of questions filed Feb. 12 by alderman Joseph Matte after unofficial reports said an unidentified syndicate had offered the city $3,000,000 and $4,000,000 for the Coliseum.

According to these reports the syndicate planned to acquire the Chicago NHL franchise and players.

The Coliseum, with a seating capacity of 11,000 is said to be one of the most modern hockey rinks in North America. It is headquarters of the Aces of the Quebec Hockey League and the Frontenacs of the Quebec Junior League.

The directors said $3,606,095 has been spent on the Coliseum to date.

Canadians Win 5-3

PARIS (Reuters)—A team of Canadians drawn from the British Streatham and Harringay hockey squads whipped Sweden 5-3 here Friday night in the first game for the Jean Potin Cup.

Ray Maissoneuve, Jim McKenzie, Gordon Knutson, Ken Westman and Fred Dunsmore scored the Canadian goals.

FOOTBALL COACH — Frank (Pop) Ivy, 38-year-old Oklahoman, has been appointed head coach of the Edmonton Eskimos of the Western Interprovincial Football Union. He succeeds Darrell Royal. Ivy played six years at end for Chicago Cardinals and for the last six years has been an assistant coach for Oklahoma Sooners. (CP Photo)

Sports Show A 9-Acre "Peep-Hole"

By JIM PEACOCK
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO (CP)—Canada's forest and stream lore can be seen through a nine-acre "peep-hole."

It's the Canadian National Sportsmen's Show which opened an eight-day stand last night. At first sight there is the eye-catching speedboats, the mighty Railton special and Sharkey, the trained seal.

The show is staged by the Toronto Anglers' and Hunters' Association and the emphasis is on field and stream.

Canoes, rowboats and near-luxury liners to fish from. A boat to suit every taste. Bait, lures, rod and reel are on display with thousands to choose from. There are camp stoves, tents and a variety of cabins.

Experts are on hand to show anyone how to fish, to golf, to clean a fish. Badminton, archery and other sports are on the list.

CANADA ON SHOW

Provincial displays are prominent. Alberta shows the lure of the Rockies. There are pictures of rodeos, skiing and golf. Ontario, Quebec and the Maritimes proudly present their rugged countryside.

That leads to the stage show, where Nova Scotian and Quebec log rollers battle to the last dunking in a 6,000-gallon water tank. Wood - chopping, canoe-jousting, juggling, diving and other athletics also are in the spotlight.

The animal acts are great. Trained greyhounds and monkeys go through their acts. Then Sharkey goes into action.

Sir William Welsh, North American representative of the British Society of Manufacturers and Traders, officially opened the seventh annual show last night. Attendance figures were not announced but officials said "it's the biggest opening night we've had."

Two Goalkeepers Vie For Honors

MONTREAL (CP) — If Harry Lumley of Toronto Maple Leafs and Terry Sawchuk of Detroit Red Wings finish in a deadlock for goaltending honors the National Hockey League may be out an extra $1,000.

It has never happened before—two clubs finishing the regular schedule with an equal number of goals scored against them.

In the rousing battle between the leading goalies Sawchuk has a three-goal edge but his Red Wings have six games left while the Leafs have five. They have fought it out all season, Lumley scoring his 13th shutout Thursday night at the expense of Montreal Canadiens.

"I don't see what we could do if there is a tie except set up a duplicate award," said NHL president Clarence Campbell Friday. "After all, each goalie would be a winner, wouldn't he?"

Lumley and Sawchuk then would be joint owners of the Vezina Trophy and would each collect the money award, $1,000. The trophy and cash go to the goalie who has played the most games for the team with the least number of goals scored against it.

Rugby Negotiations At Deadlock

OTTAWA (CP) — Negotiations to end the squabble between Cleveland Browns and Ottawa Rough Riders over football player John Kissell have broken down, the Riders' lawyer said Friday.

Sam Berger said he represented Riders at a meeting with Cleveland officials who want the big tackle returned to the National Football League team. Kissell played last season with Riders in the Big Four. Browns have a suit pending in the Canadian courts charging Kissell with breach of contract.

Two Ontario Skaters Claim Titles At National Championships

CALGARY (CP) — Two young skaters, one of them making her debut in major competition, won the main junior titles Friday night in the Canadian figure skating championships.

Joan Shippam, 15-year-old blonde from Calgary and Schumacher, Ont., won the junior women's singles crown with a 34-point margin. Richard Rimmer of Ottawa, also 15, took the men's championship by 35 points. It was Miss Shippam's first attempt in the championships.

Two other champions also were crowned to wind up the junior bracket of the competition. Senior women's and men's singles, pairs and dances will be held tonight.

TORONTO PAIR WIN

The Canadian junior pairs title went to Barbara Wagner and Robert Paul of Toronto who skated to an easy win over four other sets.

Top laurels for junior dances were taken by Vancouver's Doreen Leech and Norman Walker. They swept the event with little difficulty. There were two other entries.

Calgary's Glencoe club, hosts for the three-day competition, made a clean sweep of the junior women's singles. Runner-up to Miss Shippam was clubmate Dianne Williams with Karen Dixon in show position.

WON FIVE FIRSTS

The new women's champion took first place in all five school places Thursday which gave her a wide lead going into the free skating.

The brittle condition of the ice took little away from Miss Shippam's performance of precision manoeuvres skated to the rhythm of the Warsaw Concerto.

She took seriously to figure skating when she was nine years old and for the last three years has been averaging five hours of practise a day. The work paid off Friday night when the five judges each awarded her first place.

Daughter of the manager of the Timmins Chamber of Commerce, her ambition is to become the world's senior and Olympic champion.

Rimmer, third in last year's title race won in Ottawa by Douglas Court of Toronto, started figure skating five years ago. He earned the championship by placing first in four school figures and fourth in the other while four of the judges scored him tops in the free skating.

Walker was second in total points while David Lowery of Oshawa improved his standing to third in the free skating after being edged into fourth place in the school figures by a single point. His clubmate Lennart Loevenmark who was awarded third place after the figures, slipped to fourth in the final.

There were 15 entries in the women's singles and eight in the men's.

Save U.K. Miler For Zatopek Passes Up Vancouver Games

By ARCH MacKENZIE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP) — Gordon Pirie was on the right track when he elected to keep Britain's best-known set of running legs away from the Empire Games at Vancouver, says a newspaper poll.

Pro-Pirie sentiment was in the majority in letters published by the Daily Herald, which had asked its 1,864,514 readers what they thought about the Pirie decision. Gordon, 23, said he preferred to save his lean frame for the European Games at Bern, Switzerland, late in August, when he hopes to conquer Emil (the iron Czech) Zatopek in the 10,000 metres.

"It would be pointless of Pirie to go to Vancouver just to 'show the flag,'" said a typical sympathetic answer. "Surely any Canadian would be the first to acclaim a British win over Zatopek at the expense of the British Empire Games."

STRONG ENTRY

Beside the theory that "Pirie can do more for Britain in Europe than in Canada" was the argument that he won't be needed at Vancouver.

"We have great runners like Ken Norris, Frank Sando, . . . Chris Chataway and Roger Bannister," said one citizen. "Pirie won't be missed at Vancouver."

Runner Norris said he felt the same way. His letter asked: "Why should Pirie go to Vancouver?" Since Pirie had planned to run in the mile, and Bannister and others could probably handle any opposition that was on hand, Norris felt Pirie should conserve his strength.

European competition will be "much tougher" than at Vancouver said Norris. "We cannot afford to have a tired man representing our country," he added, referring to the time gap between the Empire Games and the Bern event. The Empire Games run July 30-Aug. 7 and the European Games begin Aug. 25.

Among contrary views, one writer didn't doubt that Pirie can beat anybody, but he figured the lanky runner needs to convince himself that he can "take" Zatopek and that he is in danger of "beating himself with this terrific concentration on one event."

Pirie's latest training schedule reflects the advice he got from his German coach, who said Pirie's heart is immature. Pirie now plans only a couple of six-mile competitive runs before the European Games. Presumably, however, he will continue the daily canters of 20 to 30 miles in progressing toward the Zatopek meeting.

SWIMMING COACH—Percy Norman, 50, is coach of Canada's swimming entry in the British Empire Games to be held at Vancouver this summer. A meat salesman, Percy weighs 250 pounds, won his last race in 1933 and coached Canada's Olympic team in 1936. As for Canada's entry in the games this summer, Percy says, "We'll have one of the best groups ever to represent Canada this time."—(CP Photo).

Canadian Soldiers To Compete Germany

SOEST, Germany (CP)—Canadian soldiers will compete in two more sports events this year against other units of the British Army of the Rhine—a track and field meet in July and a golf tournament in September.

These competitions are part of a sports program for 5,000 members of the 1st Canadian Infantry Brigade stationed in Germany.

The 2nd regiment, Royal Canadian Horse Artillery, has already won the British Army of the Rhine basketball championship.

Bears Win 7-2 Against Reds

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Hard-hitting Hershey Bears strengthened their hold on second place Friday after walloping fifth-place Providence Reds 7-2 in the American Hockey League.

The victory moved the Bears five points ahead of third-place Pittsburgh Hornets who lost 4-2 to Cleveland Barons, now only one point behind the Hornets.

In Cleveland, defenceman Tom Williams fired the clinching goal for the Barons. Andy Bathgate, Chuck Blair and Ray Ceresino were the other Cleveland marksmen while Willie Marshall and Frank Sullivan tallied for the losers.

Warsaw Flyers Take Title Over Lakefield

WARSAW (ENS) — Warsaw Flyers defeated Lakefield Merchants 3-1 Friday night before a record crowd of over 900, to take the EPL series 3-0 in the final playoffs, thus receiving the Dit Clapper Trophy.

The game was a hard-fought battle all the way, with Warsaw receiving three penalties and Lakefield five. In the first period Coons received a penalty for interference and Stan Lonsberry got the nod for slashing.

The second period opened fast and furious and Knox received a penalty for hooking. While Clements was serving time for hooking, Lakefield were able to tally when Heffernan from P. Calberry outsmarted Wingett. Evans from Williams and Griffin was able to put Warsaw out in front at 17.06 and then G. Darling did a solo and this completed the scoring for the game. Coones received a penalty for interference.

The third period was scoreless with three penalties handed out. Coones for tripping and Williams for hooking. D. Sloan of Lakefield received two minutes for slashing the goalie across the face. At the 20-minute mark the bell rang to end the game, the series and the last chance for Lakefield to make a comeback. Spectators swarmed onto the ice to congratulate the Flyers.

The EPL president, Fred Whalen, presented the Dit Clapper Trophy to the Warsaw team and congratulated them on their victory.

Lakefield—Goal, Wasson; defence, Coons, Jopling; centre, Patterson; wings, Knox, Hopkins; alternates, D. Sloan, R. Sloan, Heffernan, R. Calberry, P. Calberry, Pamette, McCracken.

Referees, R. Romhanie, R. A. Garden.

During intermission between the second and third periods, a collection was taken to help pay for new jackets for the Warsaw Flyers. This amounted to over $64.

The More People we Employ...

The More Wages we Pay...

The More we Buy from All Canada...

The More VALUE we Give You!

To a motorist, our name means motor cars, first and foremost. But to a businessman it may mean trucks; to a railwayman it may mean powerful diesel locomotives; to many a housewife it stands for gleaming electric appliances.

And none of these people is wrong — for General Motors makes, in its eight Canadian factories, all of these things and dozens more besides. They are as diverse as washing machines and jet fighter plane components, but all have the common bond of General Motors' better value.

In part this better value which characterizes GM products springs from our vast technical resources. These include laboratories, proving grounds and the highly skilled specialists who man them. These great resources can exist because our customers are so numerous. Their purchases keep 22,000 Canadians busy in our plants, earning more than $80,000,000 a year in wages. Those same purchases require that we spend more than a million dollars every working day for supplies and services. And, of course, people buy confidently from us because of the better value they find in General Motors products. And so the circle is complete.

12,000 Britons Spend All Night Praying For Graham's Crusade

By JOHN DUDMAN

LONDON (Reuters)—About 1,200 churchgoers emerged from three London churches into a cold, grey dawn today after praying all night for the success of American evangelist Billy Graham's religious crusade.

Members of Graham's "team" helped the vicars of the widely scattered churches in services from 10:30 p.m. last night to 6 a.m.

Biggest get-together was at St. Paul's church, Portman square, in central London where 600 packed the pews. Another 300 turned up at a tabernacle in the tough south-central Elephant and Castle district and 300 more at St. Mary Magdalene church in Holloway, a north London industrial area.

There was only one short break in the prayer sessions—at 2 a.m., when everyone stopped to have tea and cakes.

A member of the American team said Graham was "delighted" with the support the churches had given him. He said more all-night prayer meetings probably will be held soon.

Today Graham rested up for another marathon Saturday night session. He will hold three revival meetings in London's vast Harringay arena.

Last night about 2,500 persons were turned away from the arena after 12,000 had been admitted. Another 800 heard the service over loudspeakers in an outdoor refreshment tent.

Attendance figures have reached 145,000 since Graham opened in London nearly two weeks ago. Last night a record number of 335 persons made their "Decision for Christ."

Tomorrow Graham will make his first appearance on British television in a 20-minute BBC-TV program.

Several States Get Buffeted By Snow Storm, High Winds

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A snowstorm moved northeast today out of Colorado and Kansas, wetting down clouds of dust that had reduced visibility to zero in parts of five states. The storm dumped up to 10 inches of snow in its wake.

Winds that had buffetted the plains states with gusts up to 100 miles an hour diminished slowly this morning, but hail borne by a howling wind and accompanied by lightning lashed as far east as Grand Rapids, Mich.

Nebraska bore the brunt in the early stages as the storm substituted snow for dust in its drive across the country.

Snow to depths of 10 inches was reported at Chadron in western Nebraska.

The weather bureau here said the storm will move northeast today through Iowa and Minnesota into Wisconsin and Michigan.

WIND FANS FIRES

High winds buffetted Missouri last night, fanning dozens of forest fires, some covering more than 500 acres each.

Dust got so thick on a basketball court at Stillwater, Okla., that it had to be brushed off after every quarter in a regional tournament of the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

And to the south, in Texas, the dust also continued to cause trouble. A heavy pall covered the upper two-thirds of Texas last night.

Pushed along ahead of the dust was a dense blanket of fog that cut visibility to less than a mile at Beaumont, Houston, Galveston and Brownsville.

MOTORISTS STRANDED

In Colorado and Wyoming the snow storm was diminishing after leaving up to six inches at Casper and Lander, Wyo. An estimated 300 motorists were stranded at various points in the two states, and 40 Colorado schools were closed.

In Nebraska the moving snowstorm also was disrupting transportation. At Lincoln, the site of a state basketball tournament and a Democratic party meeting, hotels and motels had to turn away stranded travellers.

Mrs. Shaw Presides St. Paul's United WMS

WARKWORTH (ENS) — The Women's Missionary Society of St Paul's United Church met on Thursday at the home of Mrs. William Shaw with an attendance of 31 ladies and some children.

Mrs. W. Grant Allen, president, presided with the opening exercises.

Mrs. D. H. Evans and Mrs. Gordon Hutchinson were conveners for the devotional portion of the meeting. The hymn, "Tell Me the Old, Old Story," was sung in unison.

Mrs. Evans spoke on the subject, "Brothers of Christ, Love One Another," as taken from John 13:15.

Mrs. Gordon Hutchinson gave a group of three readings entitled "Home," "Difficulties" and "The Size of Your Heart."

In the business period reports were given by the secretary and the treasurer, Mrs. H. Evans, gave her report. Reports were also given by the standing committees.

Soviets Kill Russian

VIENNA (AP)—A Soviet patrol fired on and killed a Russian officer in a coffee house in the market town of Eisenstadt, in the Soviet zone of Austria, last Sunday, Austrian police sources said today. The shooting followed a brawl between Soviet occupation soldiers, the informants said, adding that Soviet authorities ordered Austrian police not to investigate the incident.

Sentenced To Death

LEEDS, England (Reuters)—Albert George Hall was sentenced Friday night to be hanged for the murder of six-year-old Mary Hackett. The child's body was found buried in the foundations of the church where Hall worked as a caretaker. During the trial the prosecution said Hall had talked of the nature of the girl's fatal injuries before they were known by police.

Tillicum Class Told Of Mental Health

The worship service, prepared by Lois McFarlane, was conducted by the president, Edith Eason. The scripture reading was by Evelyn Richardson. A poem was read by Emma Coltman. Alberta Drummond read a story. Lois McFarlane led in prayer.

Guest speaker was Mrs. Clarence Coons, of Lakefield, vice-president of the Peterborough branch, Mental Health Association. Mrs. Coons spoke on the work and purpose of the association and outlined its benefits to the community.

The play committee was given authority to secure a Peterborough play to be presented late in April or early in May. A report on the progress of the redecoration of the church basement was received and volunteers were called to assist with the painting.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Marion Elmhirst, Evelyn Richardson and Isobel McIntyre.

Unemployment Continues Rise

WASHINGTON (AP) — Unemployment in the United States, continuing its rise, reached 3,671,000 in February by the last government count.

It's anybody's guess whether the key March figure to be published next month will show the decline hoped for by President Eisenhower.

The president said some weeks ago that if the March jobless total fails to drop he will consider government action, including possible tax relief, to buoy American economy.

The census bureau reported Friday that U.S. unemployment rose 584,000 in February.

The jump is sure to touch off new controversy. The CIO, waiting with a statement when the census figures were announced, called the new total, "a disgrace to America."

Government spokesmen say there are signs the unemployment trend is slowing. However, the clues to what may happen to March unemployment are not so far conclusive.

Red Inquisitor Jailed

LONDON (Reuters)—The Communist Hungarian police chief who interrogated Cardinal Mindszenty and American business man Robert Vogeler has been sentenced to jail for crimes against the state, the Hungarian News Agency reported Friday. Gyula Decso, former minister of justice, secret police colonel and interrogation specialist, was sentenced to nine years by a court which also jailed for life Gabor Peter, former state security service chief, the agency said.

Hutton Rumors Of Rift Provide Gossip

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Reports that Woolworth heiress Barbara Hutton has walked out on her latest Prince Charming, Porfirio Rubirosa, gave the international smart set another choice morsel of gossip to chew on today.

Society sources here say Barbara left the rented honeymoon villa Thursday night and moved in with her aunt, Mrs. James P. Donahue, at the Everglades Club.

She was reported in seclusion. Rubirosa, the suave playboy-diplomat she married Dec. 30, was reachable but not talking.

"I do not know anything," Rubirosa told a reporter when asked about the separation reports. "Ask her."

The New York World-Telegram and Sun yesterday printed the first reports of the rift. It started, the paper said, when Rubirosa escorted several Palm Beach beauties to night spots.

Pledge asked this year is $100 and $3.50 expenes fund.

Mrs. Downing, Dorcas secretary has a quilt ready for the sewing meeting in the church basement March 25.

Mrs. Bent reviewed two chapters of the study book and the current bulletin. The Rev. A. W. Smith closed the meeting with prayers. Mrs. Nurse served tea.

Silent Auction Sale By Warkworth Ladies

WARKWORTH (ENS) — The Blue Banner Group of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church held its regular meeting on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. John Carlaw.

The hymn "Jesus is our Shepherd" was sung and Mrs. Bert Smith read the scripture lesson from the 14th chapter of St. Luke, and Mrs. Carlaw read an explanation of the scripture passage which was written by Virginia Banks of the Presbyterian church in Canada.

Mrs. George McCubbin gave a talk on "How the Bible is Building Isreal."

A Silent Auction was held at the close of the meeting.

Lunch was served by the hostess and lunch committee.

Wartime Official Dies

FRAMINGTON, Mass. (AP)—Arthur B. Newhall, 69, co-ordinator of rubber for the United States war production board in the Second World War, died Friday night. A prominent industrialist who began his career as a high school teacher, he once was called "one of the unsung heroes of World War II" by Donald M. Nelson, former WPB director. Newhall was instrumental in the development and production of synthetic rubber.

Swallows In Capistrano

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, Calif. (AP)—The swallows are coming back to Capistrano. The first of them, called scouts by villagers, returned to their nests in the eaves of the age-old mission Friday. The others are due next Friday, St. Joseph's Day. They will be welcomed with a traditional celebration including masses in the historic chapel of Father Junipero Serra, founder of the California Roman Catholic missions.

Books Seized From 6 Firms

TORONTO (CP) — The Toronto Star said in a newspage story Friday that six construction firms whose books were seized Monday by provincial police received contracts totalling $29,207,490 from the provincial highways department in the five-year period ended last March 31.

The story says the information came from Ontario public accounts, issued annually by the government. The public accounts report in detail payments by all government departments. Total road contracts in the period were reported at $154,378,800.

Seizure of the books was announced Monday by Attorney-General Porter who said they would be turned over to a private firm investigating the highways department.

The Star listed amounts of contracts for each of the firms in the five-year period as follows: H. J. McFarland Construction Co., Picton, $9,393,257; Tomlinson Bros., Ltd., Toronto, $8,466,582; Bergmann Construction Co., Toronto, $3,693,993; Hewitson Construction Co., Port Arthur, $3,561,891; Wolfe Construction Co., Timmins, $2,926,562; Hacquoil Construction Co., Fort William, $1,168,205.

Vets Cheer Manstein

BONN (AP)—German veterans stamped and clapped in an uproarious ovation to former field marshal Erich von Manstein in a beer hall here Friday night. It was Manstein's first public appearance since he was released by British authorities from a war-crimes sentence ten months ago. He has just been elected honorary member of the German Soldiers Union.

Proceeds From Party Donated To Cavan WI

CAVAN (ENS) — Mrs. James Danford was hostess for a euchre and crokinole party when seven tables were played. High scorers in crokinole were Miss Marion Zufelt and Hugh Rose. Low scorers were Miss Lena Beyers and James Danford.

High scorers in euchre were Mrs. Harry Kennedy and George Clarke. Low scorers were Mrs. Williams and Don Guthrie.

The hostess served lunch. Proceeds were donated to the Women's Institute.

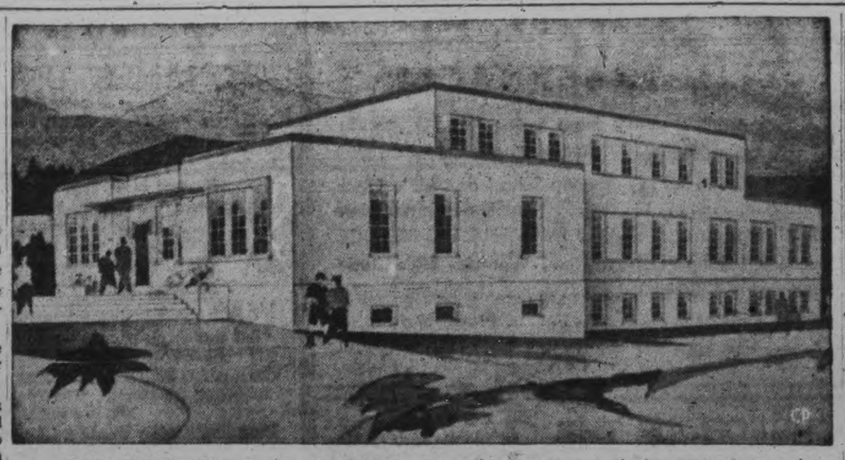
Have You Heard Raucous Starlings Sing?

TORONTO (CP) — Mazo de la Roche, author of the well-known Jalna books, says starlings "have a truly pleasant song which I have heard many times, even in mid-winter.

"Their rather raucous cry," she says, is "their cry of warning or alarm."



Miss de la Roche's Jalna books about the Whiteoak family and their home in southern Ontario have been read by thousands in many countries. She lives in residential Forest Hill, a Toronto suburb, and her views on starlings were made known in a letter to a Toronto newspaper columnist. She wrote:

"I realize that it may be necessary to keep down the numbers of the starlings in certain localities, but I am filled with wonder by the ferocity shown by many people when the question of eliminating certain creatures comes up.

"It seems they would do away with everything but themselves and motor cars.

"Doubtless these people will have their way and the future will see long lines of cars and trucks, bumper to bumper, filling the air with their fumes, staining the streets with their oil, blaring their stinking way through the streets of a birdless city.

"But if any of these gentlemen appear in my street with their guns to destroy my starlings, I pity them."

FREE HOSPITAL—This is the $375,000, 12-bed hospital now nearing completion at St. Lawrence on the Burin Peninsula in Newfoundland, a gift to the people of the community from the United States government. The hospital, expected to be completed this spring, is being erected as a tribute to men of the community who saved 148 men from the United States destroyer Truxton and supply ship Pollux, which ran aground near St. Lawrence in 1942. It will also serve as a memorial to the 189 men who died in the crash. (CP Photo)

Small Outport Hospital Memorial To Naval Tragedy

By STEWART MacLEOD
Canadian Press Staff Writer

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—A small white outport hospital, memorial to a naval tragedy of the Second World War and a tribute to the heroism of Newfoundland coastal folk, is nearing completion at St. Lawrence on the Burin peninsula.

Money for the $375,000 hospital is coming from the United States, but there isn't an American within 100 miles.

Steaming along the south shore of Newfoundland in a stinging blizzard Feb. 18, 942, two United States warships, the destroyer Truxton and supply ship Pollux crashed into the rocky shore near St. Lawrence. The disaster took 189 lives but 168 men were saved mainly through heroic work by residents of the area.

NAVY GRATEFUL

Later that year Admiral A. L. Bristol, commander of the U.S. Atlantic fleet support forces, proposed that a permanent building be erected as a tribute to the rescuers and a memorial to the men who died.

The suggestion met with President Roosevelt's approval and he proposed it to Congress before he died. The hospital was finally approved in 1949.

When completed, the modern 12-bed institution will be turned over to the provincial health department which will take over its operation.

In that early morning storm 12 years ago visibility was zero as the Truxton and the Pollux hugged the rugged coastline. Snow hid the 220-foot cliffs at Chamber's cove. The Truxton, leading the way, crashed into the wall of rock after scraping bottom for an instant. The time was 4:30 a.m.

LOSS OF POLLUX

A few miles away the Pollux smashed into Lawn Point where the cliffs were just as high.

Many men were washed off the ships and others went down. Three men of the Truxton reached shore. They pulled themselves up the side of the cliff and began walking through the storm.

Before daylight they met a group of miners on their way to work in the fluorspar mines at St. Lawrence. The mines suspended operations and all 80 miners headed for the Truxton with ropes and axes.

DROVE TO WRECK

At Lawn, a few miles away, word of the Pollux's grounding reached a group of eight men who hitched up a horse and sleigh, gathered rescue equipment and headed for the wreck.

The two groups worked for about 12 hours in freezing temperature and high winds.

First aid stations were set up at the top of the cliffs and nurses cared for the injured. All the men were later taken to homes in St. Lawrence.

A United States Navy communique described the rescuers as "tireless, efficient and in many cases heroic."

Narrow Choices To Three Distinctive Canadian Flag

By BERNARD DUFRESNE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP) — An unofficial committee of 14 Liberals studying the national-flag issue is aiming at government sponsorship of a definite design for parliamentary approval at the next session.

In efforts to find a design "acceptable" to the majority of Canadians, the committee has narrowed consideration to three:

1. Canada's coat-of-arms on a red-and-white background.

2. A "simplified" design of the leading elements in the coat-of-arms on a red-and-white background.

3. The same design placed in the masthead corner of an all-red field, with or without a large green maple leaf in the fly.

ARSENAULT BILL

It is possible the Commons will consider the issue at the present session. The committee's suggestions may be discused if debate is resumed on a motion and a bill proposed by Bona Arsenault (L—Bonaventure).

Some British Columbia members want a national flag in time for the British Empire Games in Vancouver next summer. However, it is unlikely a definite proposal will be made at this session.

Mr. Arsenault's motion calls for a Commons-Senate committee to consider and report on a suitable design. His bill, given first reading, asks the state secretary to submit a design to the government, Parliament and the Queen.

The most popular choice among members of the committee, on which all 10 provinces are represented, is said to be the "simplified" design of Canada's armorial bearings.

SIMPLER DESIGN

Opposition to the coat-of-arms rises from a feeling that it is "complicated." The simpler design of a gold crown representing the Queen, three green maple leaves on one stem representing Canada, and the Union Jack and three gold fleur-de-lis on a blue shield recalling the country's racial origins appears more popular.

The design could be placed on the white band of a red-and-white background. The white band—representing French Canada—could be either in the centre or against the flagstaff. The red would represent English Canada.

The design also could be placed in the masthead corner of an all-red field, suggesting the Red Ensign, with or without a maple leaf in the fly.

WIDELY USED

There is some argument for the principle of the coat-of-arms. Nine of the 60 United Nations have a coat-of-arms on their national flag: The Dominican Republic; Ecuador, El Salvador, Guatemala, Iceland, Haiti, Mexico, Paraguay and Venezuela. Several others have admorial bearings on various secondary ensigns.

A national flag would not eliminate the 12 other flags recognized officially in Canada. The nearest to a national flag is the Red Ensign, the merchant navy's flag, which since 1945 is flown wherever a Canadian flag is required.

The other flags recognized in Canada: The Union Jack, the governor-general's flag, the Canadian blue ensign, the white ensign, the naval board flag, the RCAF ensign, the RCN badge, the Canadian army badge, the RCAF badge, the Nova Scotia flag and Quebec's fleur-de-lis flag.

Opposition to the Red Ensign as the national flag, Mr. Arsenault said in the Commons Dec. 9 last, is that "it is essentially a naval flag, not a land flag."

RETAIN UNION JACK

He urged at the time that the Union Jack be retained as the Queen of Canada's flag and that it be flown alongside a national flag which is "fully representative of the sovereignty vested in the people of Canada."

The committee studying flag designs: Chairman John Lorne MacDougall, Vancouver-Burrard; W.J. Henderson, Kingston; R. F. L. Hanna, Edmonton Strathcona; Walter Tucker, Rosthern; George Weaver, Churchill; deputy-chairman, A. H. Hollingworth, York Centre; George E. Nixon, Algoma West; Mr. Arsenault, secretary; Lucien Cardin, Richelieu-Vercheres; A. A. MacNaughton, Montreal Mount Royal; A. Wesley Stuart, Charlotte; A. J. MacEachen, Inverness Richmond; Neil A. Matheson, Queens; T. G. W. Ashbourne, Grand Falls-White Bay-Labrador.

DESIGN FOR NEW FLAG—These are two designs for a distinctive Canadian flag suggested by an unofficial committee of 14 Liberal members of parliament. The top design is red and white with a "simplified" version of Canada's coat-of-arms. The bottom design is all-red with the armorial design in the masthead corner and a green maple leaf in the fly. Mice Make Money Must Be White SADDLEWORTH Yorkshire (CP) Mice make money for 48-year-old James Hough—but only if they are white. Hough, who sells albino mice to scientific research laboratories, has 80,000 in his "mouserie"—all descendants of four pairs he purchased 20 years ago when out of work.

He sells youngsters at a shilling each, males at 2s 6d, and "expectant mother" mice for five shillings. Sales are approximately 6,000 a week.

Says Hough: "Wild mice are taboo here—they bring disease."

Cats? Hough says a number drop in during the summer when the mouserie doors are open, "but they don't cause any trouble."

World Council Of Churches

By REV. A. C. FORREST

The Second Assembly of the World Council of Churches, scheduled for this summer at Evanston, Illinois, is already being spoken of by officials of the WCC as "one of the most outstanding religious events ever planned for the North American continent.

Judging by the numbers expected to attend, 600 delegates, an equal number of accredited visitors, 150 consultants, 100 youth observers, plus 400 newspaper and radio reporters, it should be a tremendous conference, taxing the capacity of the campus of North-Western University, and flooding over into the hotels of Chicago.

The delegates will be from 48 countries, and will represent 161 denominations, and include practically all major Protestant groups. When one makes that claim, it has to be remembered there are some rather sizable Protestant and fundamentalist groups in the U.S.A., with overtones in Canada, who don't think much of the World Council or its doings.

The task of the Assembly is to consider "the church's mission and message in the contemporary world." Although the World Council itself is very young, having had its only assembly before in Amsterdam in 1948, there have been other world conferences of non-Roman Catholic churches of a similar size in other parts of the world. This is the first one of this type to be held on this continent.

There are six subjects to be considered:

1. Faith and Order, or Our Oneness in Christ and our Disunity as Churches.
2. Evangelism, or the Mission of the Church to those outside her life.
3. Social problems, or the Responsible Society in a World Perspective.
4. International Affairs, or The Christians in the Struggle for world community.
5. Inter-Group relations, or The Church amid Racial and ethnic tensions.
6. The laity, or the Christian in his Vocation.

Those who read the religious press will have found that for many months now a great deal of space has been given to discussions of the subjects to be considered at the assembly from August 15 to 30. One of the things which is somewhat startling to Canadian Christians is the different emphasis and point of view which comes from the conventional churches in Europe and the Far East. Christians of this continent who once had a smat-

Assessment Of Outboard Cut $49,730

Agreement Reached Before Appeal Made In Court

The court of revision Friday night reduced the assessment of the Outboard Marine and Manufacturing Co. by $49,730.

Agreement was reached previously after consultation between Assessment Commissioner J. E. Davis and company officials. Confirmation took only a few minutes at the special 7.15 p.m. sitting of the court.

No other appellants appeared before the board Friday night.

Original assessment that was protested by the Outboard company was $9,380 on the land, $395,520 on the buildings, and $242,940 business assessment.

The revised figures are $9,380 on the land (the same), $364,440 on the buildings ($31,080 less), and $224,290 on the business ($18,650 less).

The adjustment was chiefly on the old building. Mr. Davis found that the old plant was older than he had calculated, so he made an extra allowance for depreciation; he also agreed that the building was not as adaptable to modern manufacturing methods, so he made a further allowance.

ACCEPT REVISION

"We are prepared to accept the revised assessment," said Bruce L. Payne, secretary-treasurer of the company.

"Well, it's nice to think that around a conference table you can discuss these problems and come to an agreement," said John A. Harstone, chairman of the board.

This cordial exchange continued as Mr. Payne said: "The assessment commissioner (Mr. Davis) has been most helpful. We feel we have had a substantial increase in assessment (about 100 per cent) . . . still what we are primarily interested in is that there should be equality in assessment (among industries) . . . . and that's what the commissioner assured us on."

Mr. Payne said that obsolescence and depreciation were factors that must be taken into consideration. He said that 30 per cent of Outboard production was for the export trade and costs must be in line with those of competitors in the United States.

Chairman Harstone said that this was also true with regard to other foreign competitors, and he added a few comments on world trade as it affects Canada. The hearing was over about 10 minutes after it began.

Tried Fishing First Visit, Now A Curling Fan

By JACK FINN

There are two English gentlemen visiting this city for a few days. One is Ronald Biggs, adjudicator; the other is Frank Odell, also adjudicator. They are plying their trade at the Kiwanis music festival, and, from all observations, doing it well. The fact they are called, and call themselves, Frank and Ronald rather than Francis and Ron, is, to some extent, indicative of their individual personalities. Mr. Biggs is quiet, mild, and competent. Mr. Odell is amiable, jolly—and competent.

While waiting in the lobby of St. Peter's auditorium, Friday, as a group of pianists were being scrutinized by Mr. Biggs, I noticed Mr. Odell sitting unobtrusively on a stool, coat and hat on lap, puffing matches through a pipe. Tossing greetings at each other we commenced a sort of intermittent conversation. The ash tray was across the way.

LIKE BOWLING

"I just came from watching the curlers," he said. "I imagine I'd like to take a hand at it myself if I were to be here long. Much like bowls. Lawn bowling you know. Yes, I do quite a bit of it at home; played with some of the best teams in the British Isles. Still do as a matter of fact when I get the chance.

"No, I haven't noticed much change here. Of course I didn't see too much of the city last time. That's when I sang in a quartette at the Capitol Theatre. Never this far west, before. The last time was in 1937 and the hall was near the river, I think. Isn't it? Wonderful river . . . yes, some men took me for a boat ride all up and down it one day. Fish? Why you just had to whistle and the boat would be full of them."

"Yes, nasty things weren't they," said Mr. Odell. "You know our house was smashed up 12 times. We were living in Wandsworth Common then, in Greater London. It was heavily bombed. Oh, yes, those silent one were bad enough, but they had one blessing—you didn't know they were around until they exploded. And if you didn't hear them explode . . . well.

"But it was those buzzers that got me, especially when they stopped buzzing. Just dive under the table and wait. I remember one landing near our house. It smashed all the windows and knocked the plaster off the ceiling and so on, but we decided to stay on. We worked for two days getting the place all tidied up again, and then Tuesday morning along comes another one and lands about 25 yards from the house. Knocked the whole west wall off.

"I see where the butter ration is coming off soon," said the ticket man. "That's the last of it, isn't it?"

"No, there's still meat, but that's coming off in July sometime. Then it'll be harder than ever to get the stuff. You know I haven't finished a meal over here yet. Just haven't got room for it all."

"I remember those clothing coupons were worth more than money during the war," said the ticket man.

"By golly, I'll say so. You know," looking my way, "we were only given 24 coupons a year—and it took 20 of those to get yourself a suit of clothes. Four left for buttons.

"Biggs? Oh yes, we get on well. I think we make a good team. He's on the serious side and I take things a little easier. No, this is the first time we've worked together over here, but we do quite a lot of adjudicating at festivals in England. Well, I should say the British Isles . . . about 12 a year . . . not always the two of us, of course.

"Ronald doesn't bowl. I don't think he plays much at any sport. Spends most of his time at his cottage.

BIG COUNTRY

"This is a big country, isn't it? You know we were booked to finish a festival in British Columbia on a Saturday night and begin another one in Halifax the following morning. Why, that would be impossible even if we flew. I wrote the secretary about it—and we received an extra day. Take a train 5.30 a.m., Sunday, and arrive in Calgary and then fly the rest of the way. We'll get into Halifax 10.30 Monday night."

At this point the doors flew open and kids came pouring out. Ronald was through for the morning and Frank was taking over.

Family Of 13 Homeless After Flames Engulf Verulam Twp. Log House

Overheated Woodstove Ignited Partitions
Fenelon Falls Fire Truck
Bogs Down On Icy Road, Arrives Late

LINDSAY (ENS)—A family of 13 are being cared for by the Victoria county Red Cross after fire from an overheated stove destroyed their log house in Verulam township Friday morning and left them homeless.

Victims of the fire were Mr. and Mrs. William Greaves who rented their seven-room log house, four miles southwest of Fenelon Falls, from George Martin, a nearby farmer.

Nobody was injured but the house was burned to the ground.

The family saved only the clothing they were wearing and a few household possessions, including a sewing machine and a washing machine. Three of the children didn't have enough time to put on their shoes .

Mr. Greaves, who is a bushworker during the winter months, was away when the fire broke out about 9:30 a.m. It is believed that the wood stove overheated and ignited the partitions. Within a few minutes the whole building was aflame.

FIRE TRUCK SLOWED

A phone call for assistance was put in to the volunteer fire brigade in Fenelon Falls, but the pumper got stuck on the icy roads while going to the blaze. When the pumper finally arrived at the scene the crew found there was no water.

Mrs. Greaves, carrying her youngest child (a five-day old boy), walked a mile to a neighbor's home for shelter. She was accompanied by her children who range downward in age from 17 years.

Besides Mr. and Mrs. Greaves, there are eight sons: Gerald, 17, William 16, Peter 10, Glen 7, Gary 6, Buddy 3, Stephen 1, and the baby, Donald, who was born last Monday; also three daughters: Mona 15, Sandra 13, and Norma 12.

The family moved into the log house (three downstair rooms and four upstairs bedrooms) last May. They did not work on the farm, owned by Mr. Martin, but had the use of a garden.

At present the family are being sheltered at the home of Mrs. Greaves' mother, Mrs. D. Embury of Lindsay. They are being looked after by the Red Cross.

Retail Section Lagging In Fund Drive

The retail section is lagging badly in the Peterborough Red Cross and Community fund campaign. Chairman Alex Elliott said today he was "somewhat concerned" about the work of this section and that canvassers will have to put forth a "special effort" if they are to meet their objective.

Other figures show that the drive for $100,000 is just past the half-way mark after five full days of canvassing. Total so far is $50,741.52.

Last year at the same stage of the campaign $43,694.83 had been raised. This was about 47 per cent of the total $90,000 objective as opposed to 50.7 per cent this year.

Major share of the $6,571.37 picked up Friday was from the industrial section, which added more than $4,000. This section reports its returns only every other day. Retail added $1,300 while the women's division collected another $400. Special names remained relatively stationary with a $350 addition.

Special Names $15,230 ($12,570); Industrial $28,636. 20 ($21,550); Retail $2,862.22 ($4,570.95); Women's $3,248.10 ($4,206.14); Penny-a-day $765 ($697.74); Total $50,741.52 ($43,694.83).

Although there is no cause for serious alarm, chairman Elliott pointed out that "the last $20,000 will be the toughest". He called for a special effort from all groups, particularly the retail section, so that some clue to the success of the campaign may be known the middle of the week.

Son Scores Goal Dad Dies Of Heart Attack

LINDSAY (ENS)—Following the excitement of seeing his son score a goal in a Lindsay-Midland juvenile hockey game, James Wilson, 42, of 343 Manley St., Midland, on Friday night suffered a fatal heart attack.

He was treated at Dr. R. M. Parker's office in Lindsay and died shortly after arriving at Ross Memorial Hospital.

His son scored at the 17.47 mark in the second period to put the Midland team in the lead. In the interval at the end of the period Mr. Wilson was stricken.

Dr. Parker ordered him removed to hospital and he suffered his second attack while on the hospital elevator.

Lindsay overcame the one-goal deficit and eventually won the game, three goals to two.

Out Of Control Rams Parked Car

A taxi shimmied out of control and rammed into a car on Monaghan Rd. near King St. at 7:25 Friday evening, causing total damages of $400.

John G. Clarke, 29, of 336 Parkhill Rd., told police that he was driving north on Monaghan Rd. when the car began to veer out of control. He struck the left front fender of a car parked on the east side of the road, owned by Dr. Hugh Mitchell of 1228 Monaghan Rd.

Damage to the taxicab was $250. Dr. Mitchell's car suffered $150 damage.

Mr. Clarke told police that he attributed the accident to a loose or disconnected tie rod. He said that the taxi had just come from the garage where extensive repairs had been made to the front end.

The accident was investigated by PC Harold Andrews.

MAIN STREET TOPICS

WINNING TENDERS

Three bids submitted by Trebilcock Bros. for school supplies were accepted by the board of education because they were the lowest. The bids were: workbooks, and paper, $5,875.88; pencils, rulers and sundries, $1,619.84; and collegiate supplies $389.71.

NEW PUC TRUCKS

The Peterborough utilities commission Firday accepted tenders for two trucks. One, a half-ton job, will replace one now in use by the commission and will cost $1,600. A three-quarter ton truck to be delivered to the PUC stripped to chassis and cab will cost $1,888 on a straight cash arrangement. These were the two lowest tenders submitted.

SUB-STATION TENDERS

Tentative architect's plans have been made for the proposed new Bellevue substation of the Peterborough utilities commission. Friday the PUC voted to call for tenders to build the new station to conform to the general plan already laid out. The idea is that if tenders turn out to be higher than the commission expects, the plans for the new sub-station will be revised accordingly.

PUC WON'T SELL

Once again the Peterborough utilities commission has turned down a suggestion that it sell its unused property in the triangle near the Wenonah Motel on the Lakefield road. Secretary James Turnbull, commeting on a letter from an Omemee resident asking the Commission's intentions said that "several people have had their eye" on this property. Said Chairman Fred Hills: "The answer is still No."

RAINE APPOINTMENT

Peterborough utilities commissioner Richard Raine Friday was named to serve on the accident prevention and health promotion committee of the Ontario Association of Municipal Electric Utilities. This followed a suggestion from PUC general manager Howard Powell that the commission should take more of an interest in the affairs of the association. Mr. Powell was named to head a delegation to the Canadian Waterworks Association convention in Toronto, April 12 to 14. This convention will feature presentation of a scroll, donated by the PUC, to the best Canadian waterworks operator.

Separate School Teachers Of District Hold Convention

A hundred and fifteen separate school teachers from the Peterborough district of the Ontario English Catholic Teachers Association met Friday at St. Anne's school for their annual convention.

Purpose of the convention was to discuss teaching techniques and methods. Religious and lay teachers attended from Cobourg, Hastings, Campbellford, Kirkfield, Lindsay as well as Peterborough.

The day began with mass celebrated by the Rev. J. Coughlan. There was congregational singing during the mass. The agenda included lectures, films and group discussions.

First guest speaker was the Rev. Jerome Ferraro of Ottawa. He observed that March 12 was the anniversary of the coronation of Pope Pius XII and the feast day of St. Gregory who, he said, protected science by supporting the course of the monasteries during the Middle Ages.

CHARACTER FORMED

Father Ferraro said the mission of the teachers is to conquer the elements of the child and make him aware of his duties as a good citizen. The child comes to school at five or six years of age with his character already formed by environment.

At one time scholars were proud to be disciples of certain masters (such as Michelangelo), said Father Ferraro. Today this is not so because of the disciplinary effect of the school. The task of the teacher is to remove the element of fear and show that the school is the normal way of life.

Miss Justina MacMartin, president of the Peterborough branch OECTA disposed of a few business items. Then she introduced J. C. Doyle, separate school inspector for the district.

Mr. Doyle welcomed the visiting teachers and repeated the speaker's injunction that the efforts of the teachers should be to draw the child closer to God. He urged them to give their full support to the Red Cross and Community Fund campaign, and said they should try to make the child realize his duties as a citizen of the world.

Mr. Doyle also advised the teachers to guide their pupils into the habit of reading good books instead of comics.

Fourteen-year-old Robert Parsons of St. Michael's school, Cobourg, spoke on "Words." Robert, a grade 8 pupil, has won the oratorical championship of the Belleville district. He will represent the district at the Easter Convention in Toronto.

TEACHING OF SCIENCE

"Science Through the Grades" was the subject of a lecture by Leo W. Copp, principal of the Peterborough Teachers' College.

Mr. Copp said the teacher should keep three objectives in mind when teaching science. In the primary grades the child is taught to observe. In the junior grades he is taught to observe and compare. And in the senior grades he is taught to observe, compare and draw conclusions.

A child doesn't see or understand the lesson unless he can give it back to the teacher in some method, Mr. Copp said. He also advised the teachers to encourage pupils to write their stories with more adjectives, adjectival phrases and adverb clauses.

Truck Drivers To Form Safety Club

A safety club for truck drivers is being organized in Peterborough.

Some 80 companies in the city have expressed their interest and willingness to join when an organization meeting is held March 31 at 7.30 p.m. in the Empress hotel. This will mean a membership of 250 drivers, but Constable Don Mackay who has been prime mover of the club, said every truck driver in the city is wanted as a member.

The club, to be known as the Peterborough Truck Drivers Safety Club, will take part in the Ontario Safety League Safe Drivers award plan.

Two firms in the city, the Bell Telephone Co. and the Brewer's Warehouse, are already associated with the plan, but they are anxious to join the Peterborough club.

At the organization meeting, Col. R. E. Reynolds, general manager of the Ontario Safety League, Ken Mackay, secretary and Paul McClelland, safety director of the Bell Telephone Co. will explain the award system and help get the club started.

MEET MONTHLY

Monthly meetings will be held when an executive is elected. Some guest speakers have already been lined up and films will be shown. One guest speaker will be Col. A. Rice, of the public safety division of the University of Toronto.

The aim of the club is to improve standards of safe driving in the city with the truck drivers setting an example for the rest of the citizens.

A steering committee has been handling the details of organization and any individual or company interested in the club can contact any one of them: Fred Innes, superintendent at Canada Packers; Ralph Pollock, manager of Toronto-Peterborough Transport or Don Mackay.

Rule Gasometer Not A Building

The assessment on the Peterborough Utilities Commission gas department has been cut by $25,200. This means that this department will pay $1,290 taxes on an assessment of $20,000.

Reason for the deduction was the city's decision that the PUC's gasometer by the Hunter Bridge is a machine and not a building. It is, therefore, not assessable.

A letter from city clerk E. A. Outram suggested, however, that the gasometer be removed. This, said Mr. Outram, would be "an improvement in the city's appearance." The board moved to inform the city that the gasometer is in use and will stay.

Financial news from Ontario Hydro was less encouraging. The PUC will receive $60,739.58 rebate which is about $4,000 less than last year. This money is withdrawn from Hydro's stabilization of rates reserve.

General manager Howard Powell said that he thought all municipalities with the exception of Belleville were receiving less this year. He said Belleville would get more because they had economized in the cost of power production last year.

Cold Blamed For Debit In Gas Dept.

The Peterborough utilities commission gas department showed a loss of more than $1,200 in February, although the amount of gas sold to industry, the biggest consumer, was up 685,000 cubic feet from January.

Main reason for this, said PUC general manager Howard Powell, was unusually cold weather during February. This, he said, caused considerable freezing of gaspipes. In addition, the gas department has to combat the problem of dust clogging the pipes more than usually.

Was this in part due to defective equipment, as well as weather problems, commissioner Richard Raine wanted to know. Mr. Powell said that the weather was the main problem, but that any defects will be corrected.

The commission should make a thorough study of this situation in the summer, said Mr. Raine, so that if the situation can be corrected there will be no loss during the next cold spell. The main trouble spot was in the north end of the city.

HIGHER CONSUMPTION

The electric department monthly report shows kilowatt hour consumption up 577,252 kwh over the same period last year. The peak load increased 8.7 per cent to 25,900 kw, 2,071 more than the peak in February, 1953.

During February new lines were built to serve the Westmount Gardens subdivision, and Hilliard St. between McClennan and Langton streets. Lines were rebuilt in other parts of the city.

Commenting on the water department report, Richard Raine said that he hoped the public could be educated to conserve water this summer. He felt that if the public took a long-range view of the water situation, restrictions might not be necessary even if the weather were especially dry. Usually restrictions on lawn-watering are applied as needed, depending on the weather and the pressure in the mains.

Total February pumpage of the water department increased more than 10 million gallons over the same period last year. Last month's total was 124,920,000 gallons.

Driver Jailed After Accident

Wesley Morton, 47, of Pontypool, was arrested and jailed on an impaired driving charge Friday night as a result of an accident at King and George Sts.

A car driven by Mrs. Catherine Roberts, 27, of 658 Downie St., was parked at the corner, behind a small pickup truck waiting for the light to change so she could proceed east on King St. The accident occurred when Morton's truck struck her from behind.

Morton's truck apparently skidded on a patch of ice behind Mrs. Roberts' car, then plowed into the rear of her car, causing $30 damage. His truck suffered only $5 damage.

Constable Edward Stephen arrested Morton on the impaired charge. He permitted Morton's passenger, Walter Fairless, to drive the truck back to Pontypool.

Judge Reserves Decision CPR Application

OTTAWA (CP) — A Supreme Court of Canada judge has reserved decision on an application of the Canadian Pacific Railway for permission to appeal to the court against a judgment of the board of transport commissioners denying freight rate increases to the railways.

In a case fought by eight provincial governments, the CPR contended the board failed in its duty when it ruled Feb. 15 against a CPR proposal for a new basis for setting freight tolls which would have involved hefty rate increases.

The provincial governments—all except Ontario and Quebec—argued in reply Friday that the company was trying to get the Supreme Court to take over the rate-making functions of the board.

LEAVE TO APPEAL

The CPR's motion for leave to appeal, on technical legal points, was heard by Mr. Justice Robert Taschereau. At the end of a one-day hearing, he gave no indication of when he might make a ruling.

The board in its Feb. 15 judgment refused an application by the CPR for a radically-new method of establishing railway revenues in Canada, which opponents suggested could bring on general freight rate increases of up to 33 per cent.

Coupled with that application was one for an immediate increase of nine per cent in tolls, which would have run to about $38,000,000 a year.

Says MPs Should Keep Fit

OTTAWA (CP)—An 81-year-old Liberal member of Parliament said Friday that MPs should have a gymnasium and swimming pool to help themselves keep fit.

Rev. Dan McIvor (L—Fort William) suggested that room for them should be blasted out of the rock of Parliament Hill. The underground space could then be used for a shelter in wartime.

"Surplus fat is a dead weight on any individual, and it does tend to mental obscurity and lack of clearness," he said.

". . . Members who have got something on their chests would like to get it off. If they could go and punch a bag for a while instead of punching the opposition or the government it would do them good and it would keep their minds clear."

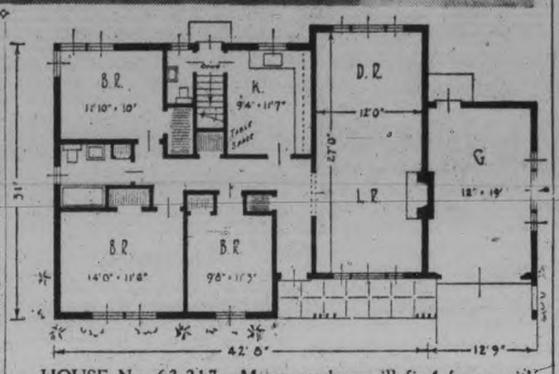
Housing Interest Fixed At 5½%

OTTAWA (CP) — The interest rate under the government's new housing legislation will be fixed initially at 5½ per cent, it was learned Friday.



There has been pressure by lending institutions to have the rate boosted to 5¾ per cent from the current 5¼, but a shift in the rate on long-term government bonds prevents a jump to 5¾.

The new rate will be incorporated in regulations to be issued by the government when the legislation, now before the Senate, gets final approval, possibly within the next two weeks.

The government also plans to boost the ceiling on National Housing Act mortgage loans to $12,800 from the current $10,000. This also will be included in the regulations.

Meanwhile, Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation has set up an expanded organization, ready to place the new legislation into operation the moment it gets royal assent.

CMHC officials said they have expanded loans offices across the country to 81 from 30.

HOUSE No. 63-217—Many readers will find favor with this design for its sheltered porch providing protection from the weather between front entrance and attached garage. More and more home buyers are looking for this feature. Located on an attractive 60' lot, this home was designed with identical picture windows front and rear in the big living-dining room combination to take advantage of a view overlooking a golf course at the rear. Planning leaves little to be desired—the three bedrooms are well located for privacy from the living area of the house—closet space is ample—and there's a convenient extra washroom at the head of the basement stairs. This home is of brick construction, painted in pale pastel hues. For working drawings, write Home Building in Canada, 2842 Bloor St. W., Toronto.

39 Students Awarded Grants For Studies

OTTAWA (CP)—Thirty-nine students have been awarded fellowships or grants to continue studies in the social sciences during 1954-55.

The Canadian Social Science Research Council announced that the Rockefeller Foundation has provided $30,000 for 15 fellowships valued between $750 and $2,000 each, 14 partial fellowships and 10 grants to aid research valued at less than $750.

Robert M. Adams of Brantford and Grant L. Reuber of Kitchener were among those receiving fellowships. Peter M. Cornell of Fort William and W. D. Wood of Palermo were awarded partial fellowships and Stewart Fyfe of Kingston was given a grant in aid of research.

Wants Free Issue Birth Certificates

TORONTO (CP)—Municipal Affairs Minister Dunbar turned a cold shoulder to a suggestion by J. B. Salsberg (Lab.-Prog.—Toronto St. Andrew) that the government do away with the $1 "nuisance charge" in the issuing of birth certificates.

Mr. Salsberg suggested in the legislature the certificate be sent out automatically upon receipt of the registration form.

Mr. Dunbar said the vital statistics department needed some revenue to carry on its work.

Bell Pioneer Dies

MONTREAL (CP)—William H. Winter, who was an operator in the early days of the Bell Telephone Company of Canada and assistant of the vice-president on retirement in 1935, died Friday at the age of 85. Born in Prescott, he joined the Bell company in Montreal as a relief and night operator five years after its incorporation.

4 Straight Suits In Bridge Game

CRANSTON, R.I. (AP) — Four bridge players spread their cards Friday night and suppressed gasps of surprise—each had a perfect hand of 13 cards in the same suit.

Perhaps almost as surprising was the fact that a bid of seven hearts won the contract.

As Mrs. Irene Motta, the successful bidder, explained charitably, the holder of 13 spades, Miss Gilda Argentieri, is a beginner and just didn't know what to do with her perfect hand.

Another beginner, Mrs. Evelyn Oakley, with 13 clubs opened the bidding with two clubs. Miss Argentieri bid three spades, and Mrs. Motta bid seven hearts, shutting out Mrs. Lydia Parisi who was sitting with seven diamonds. Miss Argentieri let her take the bid.

Mathematician have figured that the odds of four perfect hands being dealt at once are one in two octillion, 200 septillion. Or, if you prefer, one in $2,200,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000.

Injunction Permits TV Dancers To Appear

TORONTO (CP)—An injunction ordering the Toronto local of the American Federation of Musicians (AFL-TLC) to lift a ban on four dancers on CBC television shows was handed down by Mr. Justice C. D. Stewart Friday.

The injunction permits Andrew Body, Robert Van Norman, William Yule, and Babs Christie to reappear on the CBC-TV Friday night show "The Big Revue."

The four sought the injunction claiming they were banned from the show a month ago by the union in a jurisdictional dispute it has had with the American Guild of Variety Artists, to which the four dancers belong. They refused to give up their AGVA membership.

Beautify Ontario Says Fieldman

TORONTO (CP) — A province-wide rural beautification program was suggested by A. J. McTaggart as a lure to keep young people "down on the farm."

Mr. McTaggart, fieldman for the Ontario department of agriculture, was speaking to 50 members of the Ontario Horticultural Association.

Elected president of the association was J. A. Tiffin, Toronto. Executive members include Herb Beilharts, Sault Ste. Marie; Ken Gardiner, Brantford and H. Occomore, Guelph.

Industrialist Dies On Bahamas Vacation

NASSAU, Bahamas (CP) — Archer Lee Ainsworth, 53, prominent Toronto automobile dealer and industrialist, died Friday, a week after becoming ill while on vacation here with his wife.

The president of Ainsworth Motors Limited and former vice-president and general manager of the John Inglis Company was admitted to the Rassin clinic this morning. Doctors were unable to stop an internal haemmorhage which caused his death.

A gun production expert, Mr. Ainsworth served during the Second World War as associate director-general of the munitions department's gun production branch.

Hideaway Bed Small Home's Space Saver

By MR. FIX

Strictly speaking, the old in-a-door bed hasn't been away, but it is enjoying a comeback, anyway.

Remember when it seemed that every family had one, especially those who lived in apartment buildings? Then hideaway beds seemed to fall out of favor. Now they're coming back like song, and for a very good reason.

It's because the homes being built these days are generally smaller and more compact, yet the people who buy them like to have as much room to move about in as they ever had before.

Then there are those who would like to have, say, a guest room and a study, but don't have room for both.

Hideaway beds can be a very practical answer in either case. Installed under a bookcase in a study, a hideaway doesn't diminish floor space a bit, and you'd never suspect it was there. Folded down, it converts the study into a guest room in a flash.

One model will fit into a recess only 12 inches deep. It is built for any standard single or ¾-double mattress. Counterbalancing springs absorb most of the weight of the bed as it is raised and lowered and the bed's legs fold away to conserve every inch of space.

Nothing could be simpler than the installation of a recess bed like this one. A half-dozen screws fasten the bed to the floor so that the counterbalancing springs can be attached to a base frame which in turn is solidly secured to the floor.

Raised, the bed rests on one side. There are others that stand on end in their enclosures, and still others that pivot or roll on wheels into closets.

On the other hand, an installation can be pretty complex if you want to make it so. An engineer in Cleveland, Ohio, connected his in-a-door bed to an electric motor so that when he flips a switch the bed slips into the room under its own power.

The problem for the home owner who wishes to install his own hideaway bed is the construction of an enclosure for it. This, too, can be handled simply, if you like.

The bed might be concealed by floor-to-ceiling drapes or bamboo curtains hung from a ceiling track, or could be built into a room divider between dining and living areas.

Another convenient and attractive arrangement calls for a floor-to-ceiling enclosure made of raised grain plywood. Closed it looks like a wardrobe cabinet, but actually houses an upright hideaway bed. Hinged doors on the "cabinet" are equipped with drop leaves for convenient writing space.

Recess beds that disappear into the walls of an expansion attic add a lot of extra play space for the youngsters during the day.

Finally, don't overlook the basement rumpus room as a location for a recess bed if there is no room elsewhere in the house.

FIX-IT FORUM

A—Chances are the metal was incorrectly primed or not primed at all. Remove the old paint completely, clean the surface with turpentine and reprime with galvanized metal primer. Follow this with a metal protective paint, trim and shutter paint or house paint.

RECESS BEDS are adaptable to a variety of installations, all attractive, and all fairly easy on the weekend craftsman.

With The Boy Scouts

TRINITY—16

The 16th Boy Scout Troop met in Trinity Church Wednesday evening with 20 boys in attendance.

As part of the program Ab Thompson started a course of instruction on semaphore signalling which is being taken by 12 boys as part of their first and second class tests. The course will continue for several weeks.

Bill Hendey, troop leader, and Peter Chown, Lion patrol leader, gave instruction to the tenderfoot. The evening ended with a game directed by Bill Hendey.

It was announced that the Eagle patrol had won the honor patrol flag for the highest number of points in February.

It was also announced that the assistants in the duty patrols would be responsible in future for recording the events of each meeting and submitting them to the press.

Your Garden:

Plan Your Landscaping Before Foliage Is Out

By HENRY PREE (NEA)

Now is the time for the new home owner to review the landscape development of his yard and garden. Defects are more discernible at this time than in summer when foliage and flowers are at their best.

Particularly noticeable will be either the lack or excess of trees. Generally the first is true since most new homes are on treeless lots.

Both cases present problems because the removal of excess trees can be as costly as the planting of fairly well-matured shade trees.

Unfortunately most young couples are confronted with many demands upon their very slender budget and must do their own planting or removal operations.

Get expert advice before you start landscaping your home.

Realizing that fairly well-matured trees that provide immediate shade and background are beyond their means the young couple must choose fast-growing yet suitable trees.

The willow, honey locust, sycamore, poplar and soft maple are fast-growing trees but are not recommended because their vigorous close-to-the-surface root systems rob the soil of all its nutrients and because of their susceptibility to wind breakage.

However, these trees can be used to advantage where space permits and they are planted at least 100 feet from the house.

Regardless of the varieties chosen, success with planting will depend upon drainage and soil. Since the roots of trees grow from the soil, it is important that the soil be deep and as loamy as possible.

Also it is most important to dig holes larger than the spread of the roots, to allow for root development, and the hole must drain itself of excess water.

It is well to keep shade trees at least 15 feet out from the house. This is especially pertinent to ranch-type houses with their large overhanging roofs.

The following is a list of rather fast-growing trees available at the better nurseries and roadside garden supply centers. Some will be suitable to your house and lot, while others may not.

If in doubt, be guided by the judgment of those who know, the arborist, the nurseryman and the landscape architect.

Fast-growing shade trees:

Red maple (Acer rubrum).
Sugar maple (Acer sacharum).
Norway maple (Acer platanoides).
Thornless honey locust (Gleditsia triacanthos inermis).
Tulip tree (Liriodendron tulipifera).
Hackberry (Celtis occidentalis).
Pin oak (Quercus palustris).
Hornbeam (Carpinus betulus).

To add variety to the planting about the home include a few flowering trees like the crabapples, dogwood, golden chain and the lilacs.

These small trees, likewise, are fast growers.

HYDRAULIC LIFT — The tremendous pressure from a broken fire hydrant holds this car suspended after it broke off the fire plug in Los Angeles. A few minutes later the car settled down and straddled the hydrant, allowing the owner to climb out wet, but otherwise unhurt.

Plan Your Home Grounds For Safety

Over 10% of all home accidents occur in the yard. Good planning of the walks and steps, the driveway and garage, the lawn, playspace, etc., can make your grounds a much safer place in the summer ahead.

WALKS AND STEPS

Remember that gently sloping walks or ramps are safer than outside stairs. Slopes should never be steeper than one foot rise to each eight feet of length.

While short flights of steps with platforms between are safer than long flights—never put less than three steps in one flight. Keep steps no steeper than a 7¾" rise with 10" tread. Provide handrails for all steps and for walks on steep slopes.

Walks and steps in contrasting colors is a safety help. Small reflectors such as used on highway signs countersunk in steps or walks will insure better visibility. Non-slip surfaces for walks, steps and ramps is another safety measure.

Provide drainage across walks of ¼" per foot slope—never more than ½" per foot. Keep walks and steps away from downspouts where drainage may result in slippery spots in winter weather.

DRIVEWAY AND GARAGE

The safest drive is the shortest. Plan for easy grades and maximum visibility, with no blind spots from shrubbery, buildings, etc. If space permits, the long drive should have a turn-around area so the car will not have to be backed out the entire length. Provide adequate lighting for backing the car out at night.

Provide plenty of ventilation in the garage with louvered gable ends or open eaves as a guard against monoxide poisoning from exhaust fumes. Garage doors that lift or roll up out of the way help reduce accident hazards.

THE ENTRANCE

Keep your entrance platform, porch or terrace as close to the inside floor level as possible, as people are not accustomed to stepping down right at the door. By all means provide adequate light at the entrance. Glass block or windows are ideal to light up the entrance level.

Brick paving or rough flagging that might catch high heels should be avoided at all entrances and areas where traffic is heavy.

LAWN AND PLAY AREA

Avoid sudden small drops in grade whenever possible. For seep grades, terraces are safer than retaining walls. Prickly shrubs such as barberries and roses help discourage short cuts. Never use barbed-wire or low, inconspicuous wire to deflect traffic. Guy wires for newly planted trees should be plainly marked.

The play area for children should be so placed that adults can supervise play while at work inside the house. Keep it level and free of obstructions. Examine play equipment such as swings frequently for dangerous defects.

Garden pools present very real dangers to small children. Heavy bird baths should be well anchored in the ground to avoid danger of pulling them over. Provide plenty of safe storage for garden tools and equipment. A convenient rack may prevent dangerous injury from an upturned rake.

Finally, a word about lighting. Remember that proper outside lighting such as a built-in eave light, for outside steps, terraces, etc., provides protection not only against accidents, but against burglaries as well.

Army Unworried By Protocol As Bandsmen Salute Left

By JACK BRAYLEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

IN KOREA (CP) — The smart bandsmen of the Royal Canadian Corps of Signals, providing most of the music for the 25th brigade's ceremonial and recreation, may be a bit left-handed in soldiering, but they're certainly right-handed as musicians.

"So what, if they salute left-handed or tip their hats to the brigadier," said a staff officer, "they're all top musicians and artists. They're doing a terrific job."

The signals band of 40 musicians is one of the army's new musical formations reinforced by the best professional musicians of Britain and Europe. The signals band, organized in 1952, is composed of 17 Canadians, 12 Netherlanders and 11 Britons.

Bandmaster is Capt. Bernie Lyons of Kingston, Ont., who has been in the army for 25 years.

FINE CONCERT PARTY

The band is a self-contained concert party in itself. It can be broken down into several units: Salon, quintet, brass, reed quintet, 17-piece dance band, Dixieland band and soloists. Several bandsmen are composers and arrangers and the programs often include their original works.

S. Sgt. Del Crary of Peterborough, Ont., is a solo saxophonist with the dance band, master of ceremonies and gag man extraordinary for the troop concerts.

S. Sgt. J. A. Perks, a recent English import, is concert master, and does violin solos. He's a clarinetist for band numbers.

Capt. Lyons says that while Canadian troops like all popular music best, they also have a surprising appreciation for popular classical material. He tries to diversify his programs and the troops can hear anything from Sgt. Hans Ninaber, a Netherlander, playing the "Warsaw Concerto," to Sgt. Sheldon Richardson of Peterborough leading his own jive composition, "The Imjin Jump."

"We have everything," said Capt. Lyons, "but a soft-shoe number."

They're even combining with the sword dancers of the neighboring and famous Royal Scots, oldest regiment in the Commonwealth.

The band's record includes a TV performance in the United States, a key spot in Ottawa's Coronation program, musical entertainment for the American troopship that brought them to Korea and finally a hastily improvised all-Japanese program for Japanese officials and citizens of Kure.

They were buried under flowers for this last show which included a final complimentary gesture when S. Sgt. Crary made his last announcement in Japanese after studying it hard through the concert.

They have bumped over the rutted roads of Korea in their 2½-ton trucks keeping as many as four engagements in a day. When they finish their hitch in May they'll have done more than 400 concerts and shows in less than six months.

PORT ROWAN (CP)—The whistling swans, an omen of spring, are back in Long Point bay. Whistling swans, a wild species of the bird, are distinct from their other mute relatives because of the wild musical sound they make.

Highways Worker Charged In Court

ROCKLAND (CP).— Donat Dubeau, 50, a patrolman with the Ontario highways department, appeared in court here Friday charged with theft of government materials and falsifying pay sheets. He was remanded one week without plea.

Ontario Provincial Police laid the charges following an extensive investigation. They allege that Dubeau made false entries in highways department time sheets, and stole trees, concrete, salvage lumber, piping and other materials valued at "more than $300," from the provincial government.

Dubeau is under suspension by the highways department. He was in charge of maintenance and repairs on the trans-Canada highway and Highway 17.

The crown alleges that he fraudulently entered the names of six highway laborers on his pay sheets, using the men to do private work for him, and that he took the materials for his own use in building. The offences are alleged to have occurred between last September and January.

Atomic Information Missing From Files

WASHINGTON (AP) — Representative Thomas Pelly (Rep. Wash.) said Friday considerable classified material is missing from the files of an atomic plant at Hanford, Wash.

Pelly told newspaper men he had asked for an investigation by the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee and Representative Sterling Cole (Rep. N.Y.), chairman, has agreed the committee should make one.

Pelly said he wrote chairman Lewis L. Strauss of the AEC last Feb. 25, asking for information regarding reports of missing documents.

He said a representative of the AEC called on him the next day and confirmed that some atomic documents are missing.

He said the AEC spokesman did not reveal the nature of the missing material.

Lawyer Dies

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — Maj. George Nelson Weeks, 94, who until his retirement several years ago was one of the oldest practising lawyers in Ontario, died Friday night at his home here. He served overseas as a staff officer with the Canadian Expeditionary Force in the First World War and was later appointed deputy advocate-general for military district No. 1.

Unemployment Increase

WASHINGTON (AP)—The census bureau reported Friday unemployment in the United States rose 584,000 in February to a total of 3,671,000.

Queries Project To Import Gas From U.S.

OTTAWA (CP)—A former Nova Scotia coal miner suggests that a project to import United States natural gas to Toronto may be a "stock promotion" idea and "a method of blackmail."

Clarie Gillis (CCF—Cape Breton South) questioned Friday the advisability of allowing Niagara Gas Transmission Limited to build a $7,000,000 pipeline.

He said in the Commons that if the franchise is awarded, Niagara Gas could set its own price and make its own offer in a few years' time to the interests which will build a Trans-Canada Pipeline.

Niagara Gas plans to bring U.S. gas from a border point on the Niagara river to Toronto, for the exclusive use of that city. The Trans-Canada project would bring Alberta gas to the Ontario-Quebec market in two or three years.

Mr. Gillis viewed expanding use of natural gas for fuel as a threat to the coal industry in the Maritimes. The all-Canada gas project was not in the best interests of the country if some part of it would be hurt.

FORCED TO POSE—Actress Anna Maria Cagiio is held by a photographer when she refused to pose after testifying at the Rome, Italy, trial of editor Silvano Muto. He is charged with upsetting public order by publishing that beautiful Wilma Montesi died of an overdose of drugs. The official cause of the 21-year-old playgirl's death was drowning.

Ministers Deny Charge Pushing Act

TORONTO (CP) — Two cabinet ministers Friday denied that the government was attempting to "push through" an amendment to the Municipal Act which would give the municipal board authority to establish a police village as a village.

Municipal Affairs Minister Dunbar, in reply to a question put by opposition leader Farquhar Oliver, said he did not know when the bill would be given royal assent.

"Well are you anxious to," asked Mr. Oliver.

"No," replied Highways Minister Doucett, acting for Premier Frost who was absent from the house.

Attorney-General Porter added that there was no intention of seeking royal assent for any legislation before the end of the session, expected in about three weeks.

The bill was discussed in committee of the whole after it was studied by the municipal law committee. At that time the amendment was discussed in relationship to the police village at Malton which has an application before Peel county council to become a village, away from Toronto Township. The council sits next Wednesday. The area contains the huge A. V. Roe airplane manufacturing plant. The committee approved the amendment.

Jury Dismisses Damages Claim

BRACEBRIDGE (CP) — An assize court jury Friday dismissed damage action for $5,000 brought by William E. Stunden, 40, of Oak Ridges against provincial police constable Terrance Griffin.

Stunden, wounded by a bullet at a Sparrow lake farm near Orillia about a year ago, was seeking damages from Griffin. The jury decided there was no fault or negligence on Griffin's part.

Griffin said he went to the farm when a girl and her parents objected to a visit by Stunden and three companions. He said he was abused and drew his gun as a safety measure when three of the men started to close in on him. The revolver discharged, he said, when he tried to avoid Stunden's attack.

Find Dead Baby Wrapped In Paper

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Two surveyors found the body of a newborn baby boy on the bank of the Thames river north of London. The body was wrapped in old newspapers and wrapping paper and stuffed into a coal sack.

Coroner Dr. A. R. Routledge said it was apparent no doctor was present at the birth and the child had been dead for three or four days at the most. He ordered a post mortem to decide if the child was born alive.

The newspapers wrapping the body were dated March 4.

Child Killed By Truck

BRANTFORD (CP) — Douglas Bragg, 6, started across the road in front of his school to join playmates when he was hit and killed by a truck Friday.

Festival Tickets Demand Heavy

STRATFORD (CP)—With three months to June 28 opening date, the Stratford Shakespearian Festival announced Friday 18 per cent of the seating capacity for the eight-week showing of three plays have been sold.

Officials said while demand remains heavy, plenty of tickets still are available. The tent theatre holds 1,900 and eight performances will be given each week.

The festival stars James Mason, British stage and film actor, in "Measure for Measure," and "Oedipus Rex. The third play is "Taming of the Shrew."

Frances Hyland of Regina, now in England, will play opposite Mason in "Measure for Measure," and Eleanor Stuart of Montreal will have the leading feminine role in "Oedipus Rex." An English female star will be chosen for "Taming of the Shrew."

The emphasis on ticket demand, previously heavily in favor of United States requests, has shifted to Canada the board said. Several play-goers excursions are planned from western Canada.

Attempt Attract New Industries

OTTAWA (CP)—The federal government will co-operate with Ontario in attempts to attract new industries to Ontario centres where textile mills have closed or reduced operations.

Labor Minister Gregg made the announcement Friday in the Commons in reply to a question by Dr. William Blair (PC—Lanark). A number of mills have closed in Dr. Blair's riding.

Mr. Gregg said the Ontario government has announced that it plans to explore the possibility of attracting new industries to communities where textile mills have ceased operations or have cut their output.

"My department has expressed its desire to work in closest possible co-operation with that project," Mr. Gregg said.

Canadian Homes Of Future Now On Drawing Boards

MONTREAL (CP)—Designs for Canadian houses of the future are taking shape on drawing boards in Europe and Canada.

The plans are being drawn by architects competing in an international house competition sponsored by McGill University's school of architecture. Awards and prizes totalling $12,000 are offered by a distillery.

FOR FAMILY OF 5

Competitors were asked to design a house for a family of five—two adults and three children under 15. The architects were asked to submit plans for houses that would be in good taste, simple in detail and pleasant in color, without being impractical to maintain or too costly to build.

Already 624 archiects have notified McGill of their intention to design such a dwelling. European competitors outnumber Canadians by about three to one, say competition officials.

The breakdown of applications for entry forms:

Austria, 29; Belgium, 11; Canada 148; Denmark, 24; Finland, 9; France, 31, Germany, 44; Great Britain, 190; Greece, 4; Holland, 35; Ireland, 14; Italy, 20; Norway, 8; Portugal, 13, Spain 2; Sweden, 23, and Switzerland, 19.

Judging the submissions about mid-May will be Prof. Eric Arthur, University of Toronto; Humphrey Carver, chairman of the research committee, Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, Ottawa, and Gio Ponti, editor of the architectural magazine "Domus" of Milan, Italy.

$5,000 FIRST PRIZE

The winning entry will receive an international award and $5,000. Exclusive of this, the best Canadian entry will receive a Canadian award and $2,500. The best European entry, excluding the international award winner, will receive a European award and $2,500. There will be 10 honorable mentions, each with an honorarium of $200.

Brig. Gen. F. W. Hill Dies, Aged 87

FREDERICTON (CP) — Brig.-Gen. Frederick W. Hill, CB, CMG, DSO, died in hospital Friday. He was 87.

Gen. Hill led the first battalion of the first contingent of the Canadian Army overseas in the First World War. He was born in Welland and was admitted to the Ontario bar in 1891.

He practised law in Niagara Falls, Ont., and was elected mayor of that community in 1898.

Gen. Hill married the former Henrietta Johnson of Dunville in 1894. His wife died in 1937. A daughter, Isabel, is the only survivor.

Funeral services will be held here Sunday. Burial will be at Niagara Falls.

Blind Veteran Gets His Degree

TORONTO (CP)—David Ferguson, Cape Breton native blinded at Caen during the Second World War, Friday was graduated with eight others from an academic course that will lead to a field job with the Canadian National Institute for the Blind.

In 1946 he received his high school diploma. Three years later, after five years of blindness, he left the University of Toronto with a bachelor of arts degree.

He will be an assistant field secretary for the CNIB.

Wage Demands Higher

TORONTO (CP)—Mayor Allan Lamport said Friday that, if the city met wage demands now being made on it by all its employees, it would cost $3,954,000. Board of control started negotiations with locals of the Toronto Civic Employees Union and the Toronto Municipal Employees' Association. The mayor said their demands alone total $2,979,000. Police and firemen also seek increases.

Board To Control Price Of Gas

TORONTO (CP)—Legislation setting up an Ontario fuel board to control the distribution and price of natural gas is expected to be introduced in the legislature next week.

It would have wide powers in all questions having to do with natural gas, coal and other fuel sources except hydro.

Witness Says Youths Admitted Killing

BARRIE (CP) — A man who met two Toronto youths in Barrie jail last fall said Friday they both talked freely about the fatal shooting of Fred Cameron, 57-year-old Toronto brokerage house messenger. He quoted both youths as saying they killed Cameron, whose body was found in a ditch near here Oct. 30.

Morley Sallows of Newcastle testified at the murder trial of William Kingsley, 19, and Francis Robertson, 21, that on the last night of a term he served for skipping bail, he shared a cell with Robertson.

"I don't know how the conversation came about but we were talking about the murder" Sallows said. "He talked quite freely about it. He said he and Kingsley murdered Cameron.

"He said if he had to do it over again, he would do it. He said he was pretty made at the time but did not say what about. He said they had used his father's car. The gun that he used, he told me, was a .32 automatic."

NOT BRAGGING

Robertson's counsel, G. I. Finlayson, said in a cross-examining Sallows:

"I suggest Robertson was talking big, bragging, talking of gangs, guns and things children read about in comic books."

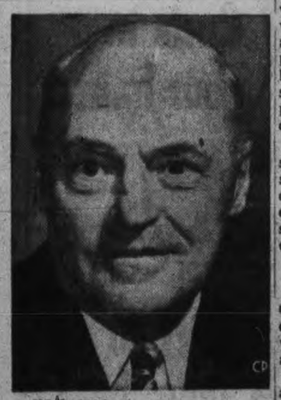
"No," said Sallows. "He said he had more guns or could get more."

Sallows said he also talked with Kingsley in the jail. When he met Kingleys, asked the youth why he was in jail.

"He told me he had been charged with murder. He told me he and Roberston both used the same gun. He said they had fired seven shots. I believe. It was a .32 automatic."

It is the crown's theory that the youths killed the former Scottish professional soccer player to rob him, then drove him from Toronto to the area where his body was found.

Much of Friday's hearing was given over to legal argument about admissibility of testimony.



Iran's Fatemi Arrested

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—An official source said Iran's fiery nationalist former foreign minister Hosein Fatemi, on the "most wanted" list since the overthrow of ex-dictator Mohammed Mossadegh last fall, was arrested today in a Tehran suburb.

Fatemi, 36, fled into hiding during the bloody royalist coup which overthrew the Mossadegh regime Sept. 19. He first was reported "torn to pieces" by an angry mob, then later was said to have escaped to Egypt or Syria.

But Premier General Fazzolah Zahedi, who led the anit-Mossadegh coup, said all along he believed Fatemi was hiding somewhere in Tehran.

Fatemi was No. 1 aide to Mossadegh in pushing through Iran's nationalization bill which seized the country's rich petroleum industry from British owners. His former chief already is serving a three-year solitary confinement sentence on charges of treason.

IN RUNNING—Earl Rowe, 59, Progressive Conservative member of Parliament for the Ontario riding of Dufferin-Simcoe, has been mentioned as a possible candidate for president of the National Progressive Conservative Association. Russia Seeks Foreign Trade New Trade Pacts Signed

By SIDNEY WEILAND

MOSCOW (Reuters) — A year ago, the arrival of a Western business man in Moscow was an event. Now, the silvery-blue Ilyushin airliners rarely fly in from Helsinki without a quota of business men.

Georgi Malenkov's government has taken several significant steps in the foreign trade field since the new year.

British industry was offered contracts for machinery, raw materials and consumer goods worth $1,120,000,000, with the orders spaced out until 1957.

France, which doubled trade with Russia between 1952 and 1953, was promised a "further expansion" of business.

Norway, Sweden and Belgium signed trade pacts with the Soviet Union.

Finland was given a 40,000,000-ruble Soviet loan in gold, dollars and other foreign currency, and talks began on a trade agreement between the two countries.

Argentina sent an economic delegation to Moscow to buy machinery and to discuss export possibilities. The delegation reported "highly favorable" prospects.

BUSINESS MEN INTERESTED

Egypt studied the chances of selling cotton and other products to Russia in exchange for heavy equipment, and offered Moscow the chance to take part in Egyptian reconstruction plans.

The Soviet foreign trade ministry, an ultra-modern white granite skyscraper in Smolensk square has been buzzing with a score of European languages.

Nearly every Monday, Wednesday and Friday, there is a welcoming party from the foreign trade ministry to meet the plane from Helsinski as it taxis over the runway.

The two Moscow hotels catering to foreigners, the National and the Metropole, both built in czarist times and heavy with golden chandeliers and plush furnishings, have faced a serious accommodation problem. Visiting business men have been invited to "double up" and share rooms.

Business men who have visited Moscow believe that Russia is sincere in wanting to do business. Russia needs western equipment for her expanding heavy industry, products for her much-advertised consumer goods drive and appliances to aid the current Kremlin to raise agricultural output.

DOLLAR TRADE THREATENED

Malenkov's government believes the United States is moving toward an economic slump. The Moscow press has, therefore, seized the opportunity to point this moral to western Europe: trade with the dollar world is threatened by crisis and contracting markets, while the planned economy of the East offers stable markets.

Clearly, the Kremlin would be happy to note fewer economic ties between Europe and the United States. Offers of trade on profitable terms are probably seen here among measures which might ease relations between certain Europan nations and the Soviet Union.

This process also extends far beyond Europe. Twelve Asian countries, including India, Indonesia, Ceylon, Japan and Malaya, have been invited to send missions to Moscow this fall. The Soviet government is prepared to pay for them "to acquaint themselves with the economic development of the Soviet Union."

To buy from the West, Russia must sell. A series of recently-negotiated trade pacts shows that the Soviet government is prepared to export grain, manganese and chrome ores, cars, timber, cellulose, anthracite, pig iron, asbestos, furs, tobacco, petroleum, cotton wool and precious metals.

Security Trading Moves Quietly On Toronto, Montreal Exchanges

By BOB JOHSTONE

Toronto and Montreal stock exchanges moved quietly ahead this week. New York reached 24-year record levels.

In Toronto, papers and steels were generally higher early in the week. Utilities joined in the advance Wednesday. Liquors, papers, steels and refining oils headed Thursday's gains. Friday's session was slightly weaker as papers and steels bore the brunt of profit-taking.

On the recently gloomy mining scene, base metals moved ahead sharply Wednesday and Thursday on reports of higher lead and copper prices. Friday, although slightly lower, brought no heavy drop.

OILS STRONG

Western oils also were stronger. Great Plains, Pacific and several other higher-priced issues led with more than 50 cents a session additions.

Golds, uraniums and Bathurst and Manitouwadge area base metals were steady to slightly lower in dull trading. Brunswick added in early trading and Geco was up to $10; but these were both bright spots on a listless board.

The Friday-to-Friday comparisons showed industrials up 2.93 at 328.20, golds down .92 at 71.30, base metals up 2.02 at 144.23 and western oils up 4.75 at 98.42.

The Montreal market leaned forward and when it closed Friday, five sessions of gradual gain had strengthened it considerably. Papers and oils took the early lead, then industrials, banks and steels moved to the front. Carriers and banks were strongest at midweek and Friday's close, although only slightly higher, was led by papers steels and banks.

INDICES UP

The Friday-to-Friday Montreal comparison showed barks up .58 at 37.88, uitlities up 1.5 at 98.9, industrials up 5.5 at 189.3, combined up 4.2 at 159.2, papers up 18.65 at 843.08 and golds up .05 at 53.70.

New York opened slightly weaker as profit-takers moved in on a well-fattened board which had been steadily climbing to near-record levels.

Steels, aircrafts, radio-televisions and coppers led the midweek drive that took the market to its highest level in 24 years. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was down 10 cents at $116.10.

Big Feed

MONTREAL (CP)—A deep apple pie four feet in diameter yielded more than 600 generous slices at a party in th Pointe St. Charles boys' and girls' club. The monster pie included 520 apples, 20 pounds of sugar, 10 pounds of shortening and seven pounds of flour.

MOTHER RESCUES BABY — Mrs. Carleene Chavez holds her two-months-old son, Randy, after he was treated at a Los Angeles hospital for burns of the head, face, arms and hands. Mrs. Chavez reached through a wall of fire to save Randy after a heater near his bed set fire to his blankets.

Plan Fall Tea

Ever Awake Bible Class of St. James' United Church on Thursday evening met at the home of Mrs. W. McCullough, Morrow Street. Devotions were in charge of Mrs. C. Sedore, who used prayer as her theme. Scripture was read by Mrs. E. Carroll and several appropriate readings by Mrs. D. Traynor, Mrs. G. Hutchinson, Mrs. B. Rosebush and Mrs. Sedore who also closed with prayer. Roll call was answered by 23 members. Main business discussed was fall tea which it is hoped to hold about October 20th. Silver and sunshine collections were taken. Lunch was served by the hostess and committee.

WA Executive Of Presbytery Hold Meeting

A spring executive meeting of the Peterborough Presbytery of the WA was held in Mark Street United church Thursday afternoon with a good representation present.

Mrs. C. Bell, past president, conducted a brief and inspiring devotional period, her topic being Christian fellowship.

President Mrs. T. E. Rath of Lakefield presided for the business session. The minutes of the fall executive held in Grace United church were read by Mrs. G. Lowes, corresponding secretary.

A letter inviting the group to Bensfort for the fall executive meeting was read. Plans were drawn up for the annual convention to be held in Mount Pleasant United church May 6. It was decided to ask Bridgenorth ladies to take charge of the devotional service in the morning session.

Mrs. C. Bell was asked to secure a speaker for the convention. Mrs. Rath closed the meeting with prayer.

Mark St. ladies served a dainty lunch.

Mental Health Discussed At Club Meeting

St. Andrew's United church Mr. and Mrs. Club, held their monthly meeting Friday evening in the church parlor.

Mrs. Clayton Andrew gave the scripture reading in a brief devotional period.

Mr. Clayton Andrew introduced guest speaker Dr. J. S. Pratten, consultant psychiatrist at Civic Hospital.

Dr. Pratten gave a most interesting and enlightening talk the facts and misconceptios about metal illness. He stressed the importance of good mental health hygiene and told of plans for mental health education in Peterborough.

A stimulating discussion period followed in which Dr. Pratten answered many questions from the members.

Mr. Dave Brown thanked the speaker.

Refreshments were in the form of a box social with each lady bringing a boxed lunch gaily wrapped in St. Patrick's day decorations with clay pipes and shamrocks much in evidence.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew's group were in charge of the evening.

A-Sub Research Beautifies Living Rooms

Years of research which culminated recently in the launching of the U.S. Navy's first atom-powered submarine, the Nautilus, will pay dividends for Canadian housewives right in their living rooms.

In their search for material to be used in the interior of the submarine, the designers laid down the following requirements: It must provide the comfort and pleasant appearance important to maintain the morale of the men cooped up in the undersea boat. Hundreds of different materials were investigated—some still hot from the chemist's vats.

For the coverings of furniture, padded areas, wall space, the designers came up with the oldest, and yet the newest, of the materials used by man—genuine leather. This is what their reports said:

"Leather has many qualities that man has been unable to duplicate in synthetics. It has a luxurious feel, it takes on a fine patina with age, and where a puncture in a plastic soon becomes a long tear the fibers in leather hold it firmly together."

What this means for the average housewife, who will never get closer to the Nautilus than through the newsreels, is that the furniture in her home is now being covered in the same beautiful, but tough, leather used on the atom sub.

As a result of experiments and research carried on in recent years by the tanners of upholstery leather—the leather that covers chairs and sofas, decorates table tops and beautifies new automobiles—there have been developed leathers which have the feel and beauty of high fashion, and are more wear-resistant than ever before.

When buying upholstered furniture, you can now choose from more than 125 leather colors—colors which can be blended and integrated with any style of home furnishings.

What's more, once you have your furniture, you can maintain it with a minimum of care—regular dusting and an occasional cleaning with a moist rag and a pure soap. Actually, good leather furnture improves with age, as it develops a patina that only comes with use.

In automobiles. leather is being used more widely every year because it has been found that it will outlast the life of the car, and adds less to the price than the seat covers that the average motorist buys over the years.

Also, leather allows you to use and glory in the beautiful upholstery placed in the car by the manufacturer, instead of covering it with seat covers. A recent questionnaire showed that many autoists never see their cloth upholstery from the time their car leaves the show room until they trade it in on a new one.

So, the next time you slide across leather into the driver's seat, or stretch out in a comfortable leather chair, think kindly of the men on the Nautilus. They helped you get where you're sitting.

THE LUNCH-DINNER ensemble in petunia colored linen, left, consists of a straight dress with round neck, cap sleeve, blouse bodice and a jacket which is full at the bustline and by means of the "Lily of the Valley Bell" cut, tends to close in towards the waist. The versatile shirt dress in hand-loomed white wool, centre, was designed by Sybil Connolly. The French rouge chiffon evening dress with the elaborately draped lamp shade skirt, is by Nanty of New York.

To Have A Part In Canada Hall Erected In Israel

Peterborough will help to perpetuate the name of Canada in Israel through the building of Canada Hall by the Hadassah Organization of Canada at the Hebrew University in Jerusalem, according to an announcement made here today by Mrs. Myer Cherney of 369 Brock St. president of the Peterborough Chapter.

Plans for Canada Hall, formulated at a recent meeting of the National Executive of Hadassah, were contained in a message just received by Mrs. Cherney from Mrs. D. P. Gotlieb, of Winnipeg, National President of the organization.

An intensive Dominion-wide campaign to raise funds for the construction of Canada Hall will be launched early in April under the chairmanship of Mrs. Clarence Gross of Montreal who is Hadassah's National Chairman for the Hebrew University. The local Chairman for the campaign will be Mrs. A. Moldaver.

Canada Hall—the first structure in the new State to bear the name of Canada—will be an auditorium seating 400 persons, adjoining the Biology Science Building of the University. Funds for the construction and equipment of the Biology Science Building have been contributed by Hadassah Chapters from Coast to Coast during the last three years and the building is now nearing completion. The lecture hall will be housed in a separate stone structure and will be the largest modern lecture hall in Jerusalem. It will be available for use by students in many fields.

"Through its history", Mrs. Gotlieb said, in making the announcement, "Canadian Hadassah has been concerned with saving and sustaining life. Now it concerns itself also with the study of the science of life, biology, and the preparation of youth to serve mankind through the sciences. Through its contributions to the Hebrew University in Jerusalem, Hadassah is moving in new directions, broadening its program with healthy, enlightened growth."

Among the many projects in Israel supported by Hadassah, which is affiliated with the Women's International Zionist Organization, is an agricultural training school at Nahalal, a Children's Village at Haddassim, and a School for Retarded Children in Jerusalem. It also supports Youth Aliyah, a child-rescue rehabilitation program, which has saved more than 60,000 children in the last 20 years. Its funds are raised by 15,000 members in nearly 300 chapters throughout Canada and are all spent in Canada on the program in Israel.

Soldiers Prefer Jap Girls Find Them Man-Dominated

By RELMAN MORIN

NEW YORK (AP)—In northern Japan the other day, I watched an American sergeant board a train, followed by a pretty Japanese girl.

As the train rumbled along, the sergeant fell asleep and presently she loosened his necktie and unbuttoned his collar. He smiled through the drowsiness.

I thought of the axiom, coined long ago by white men who live in the Orient: "The formula for happiness is to have an American-style house, a Chinese cook, and a Japanese wife."

There is some disagreement about the first two points, but you seldom hear a dissenting vote on the third. The sergeant, smiling in his sleep, looked like an example.

Marriages between American soldiers and Japanese women here, I am told, numbered somewhere around 20,000 since the occupation began. Moreover, any number of soldiers told me they would prefer to take a Japanese girl to the movies than date "the round eyes" as they call American girls.

MARRIAGE 'FAVOR'

By and large, the American male is the most woman-pecked figure in the world. His women, by some alchemy or prestidigitation, have convinced him that he is lucky to get a date, and that they are doing him a great favor when they agree to marry him.

Vice versa, the Japanese woman is the most man-dominated figure in the world.

She considers herself fortunate indeed to have a home and husband. In the pattern of marriage, she asks very little, expects to give a great deal.

HUBBY WAITED ON

When the master comes home from the office, she meets him with a low, floor-touching bow at the front door. She removes his shoes, takes his coat and hat, runs for his kimono, assures him that his bath is ready and dinner will be waiting whenever he wants.

If he should decide to go somewhere alone after dinner, she will ask for no explanations, no matter what time, or in what condition, he may return. There is no furtive searching for lipstick on his collar.

It is a high compliment, and a sign of great affection, if a Japanese wife simply says of her husband, "He is kind to me." She asks little else.

Knox Church Women Plan Spring Tea

The Knox United church Women's Association met on Thursday in the church parlors with the president, Mrs. Gordon James, presiding. Final plans were made for the spring tea on March 24 and a for a rummage sale. It was decided to cater for the annual father and son banquet in April.

Mrs. A. C. Gertly and Mrs. J. Londerville were named in charge of the April meeting which will be a special affair. A vote of $5 was made to the church hockey team to help pay the deficit owing the arena for playing time.

Mrs. L. Foster and her group were in charge of the devotional service and those assisting were Mrs. C. Grainger and Mrs. J. Donaldson. Mrs. Grainger sang a solo accompanied by Miss Phyllis Kidd.

Average density of salt in the ocean is 35 parts salt to 1,000 parts water.

Falling Asleep Can Be Easy If Well Planned

Falling asleep can be the easiest thing in the world, no matter how much you have on your mind, or how overtired you may be. All it takes is a carefully planned bedtime routine, plus several other important factors.

Allow yourself at least one hour for preparations. If you feel you must have a snack before retiring, make it milk or fruit. Anything heavier is unwise, and coffee will only help to keep you awake.

After you have removed all your make-up, and set your hair, relax in a warm soapy bath. Push all the thoughts of the day out of your mind, and try to concentrate on the melody of a favorite song, or attempt to visualize a group of glowing colors.

QUIET

Once you are in your bedroom, absolute quiet is a necessity. Close your door, and, if necessity, plug up your ears with cotton. If you are a chronic all-night reader, better take the bulb out of your bedlamp.

As for some of the important plus factors, first be sure you are sleeping on a good bed, one that supports your body properly, and permits the muscles to relax. Clean, fresh bed linens and a fluffed up newly-laundry blanket also add to your sleep insurance.

Keep a jar of night cream on a table nearby your bed, and when you are comfortably settled, massage the cream slowly and thoroughly into the skin on your face and neck. The soothing manipulations will definitely put you in a slumber mood.

For a final fragrant touch, just before you slip between the sheets, spray a light cologne over yourself and the bed linens. You'll be wafted off to sleep feeling luxuriously relaxed.

Quick Lenten Dish Can Be Elegant

A new twist to an old favorite is always welcome in the lenten season. Colorful canned peas and quartered hard-cooked eggs combined in a delicious curry sauce make an unusual luncheon or supper treat, that can be served elegantly from your chafing dish. (Or any favorite serving dish. Add a tomato aspic ring mold, easily made with canned tomato juice, and a big basket of toasted buns. It's a pretty but simple buffet meal.

CURRIED PEAS 'N EGGS

4 tablespoons butter or margarine
4 tablespoons flour
¼ teaspoon dry mustard
¼ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon curry powder
1 teaspoon grated onion
1 teaspoon salt
2 cups milk
½ teaspoon lemon juice
6 hard-cooked eggs, quartered
1 can peas, drained
6 buns, split and toasted

Melt butter or margarine; remove from heat. Blend in flour, seasonings, and grated onion. Slowly stir in milk. Cook, stirring constantly until smooth and thick. Stir in lemon juice. Add eggs and peas and heat thoroughly. Serve over halfs of toasted buns. 6 servings.

CHERRY CHIFFON PIE

1 tbsp. gelatine
¼ cup cold water
½ cup hot water
¾ cup sugar
1¼ cups cherries
¾ tsp. salt
one-third cup cream, whipped
2 egg whites, beaten stiff
¼ cup sugar

BAKED PASTRY SHELL

Soak gelatine in cold water (5 minutes) and dissolve in hot water. Add sugar, cherries and salt. Blend thoroughly and chill in refrigerator. When mixture begins to thicken, fold in whipped cream. Combine stiffly beaten egg whites and sugar. Fold into gelatin mixture, fill 8-inch pastry shell, and chill until ready to serve. Serves 6.

Wife Of Student Writes Plays, Husband Studies

By MURIEL NARRAWAY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP)—Laura Common, American-born wife of a Montreal medical student, has found a lucrative hobby for the evening hours while husband David is poring over his texts. She writes plays.

They met while both were attending Columbia University in New York, and were married in 1949 while still at college.

David, son of lawyer Frank B. Common of Montreal, decided to study medicine at Westminster Hospital here, and they came to London two years ago. After he gets his degree, he intends to set up practice in Britain.

LIKED HER PLAY

At the suggestion of Val Gielgud, drama head for the BBC's radio section, Mrs. Common wrote a play called "A Present for Jenny." The play was based on a bus accident on a snow-covered Maine road and an argument between the agnostic driver and a convent-bred girl passenger. It was on the air for an hour and earned "just over £1 a minute."

The Listener, weekly radio magazine, said "hardly a play but certainly a portrait." Other critics liked it, too, and the BBC asked for more.

So the chestnut-haired, 22-year-old playwright, who started writing poems, stories and newspaper articles at high school and college, is adapting a play from American author Edith Wharton's classic, "Ethan Frome." She is also writing her second play, now three-quarters finished.

Date With Boss Will Not Produce Salary Increase

By DOROTHY ROE

NEW YORK (AP)—Sex appeal may get you a date with the boss, but it won't produce a salary increase.

This is the opinion of two women who have achieved top executive jobs in widely separated fields. One is Cecilia W. Kelly, recently appointed vice-president of one of the largest flooring concerns. The other is Ida Raisbeck, vice-president of a big advertising agency.

Miss Kelly's recipe for success is to learn everything possible about you job, keep your eye on the next step forward and never watch the clock. She adds:

"Many girls have the mistaken notion that by adopting glamorous styles they will make a good impression on the executives. All cartoons to the contrary, this is just not so. An office is a place to work, not for flirtation."

TAKE IT EASY

Miss Raisbeck, known as Becky, has this advice for career girls:

1. Don't throw your sex around. In business, sex is hex.

"2. Don't compete with men as though you were a man. Compete with them, but as a woman. That doesn't mean to make eyes at the boss, but to think as a woman, since the woman's viewpoint is important in every business.

3. Don't claim special privileges because you are a woman. Nothing makes a man madder (during business hours, that is).

ACCEPT SALARY DIFFERENCE

4. Don't expect as much money or as fast advancement as a man would get for doing the same job.

5. Don't discriminate against other women after you've made your mark. This is a common fault of women executives. They can't bear competition from their own sex.

Both Miss Kelly and Miss Raisbeck claim they achieved their present eminence in spite of—not because of — being women. It's tougher to fight you way to the top if you're hampered by petticoats, but it can be done.

Teen-Agers Also Need To Relax

Teen-agers, have you ever noticed how many articles are devoted to telling women how to relax? They may not seem to apply to you, but, really, in a very special way, they do.

The tensions that people build up through the years usually have their beginnings in adolescence when the tempo of life suddenly steps up. School work gets harder, social life vastly more complicated and all the while your bodies are undergoing great changes.

The wonderful energy that you have carried over from childhood may give you a false sense of security about your ability to take all this in your stride. But time will tell. Not too many years from now you may suddenly discover that you are always tired, washed-out, nervous. Then it will take lots of pampering of your body and lots of work to learn how to relax.

You can avoid such a situation simply by using common sense. By not overdoing anything now, you will be able to continue to do everything for years and years.

Absolutely nobody has an endless supply of energy and good health, so conserve them. Do not allow yourself to go too deeply into anything—studies, dates or sports.

Confine dating to weekends; reserve after-class time for out-door exercise, and week nights for study, with a bit of time out for a good book or TV.

SAUCE MAKES DIFFERENCE

The difference between a plain cooked fish and a gourmet's dish can be the sauce. This recipe for barbecue sauce is recommended for broiled, baked, pan-fried, or oven-fried soft fish or shellfish.

BARBECUE SAUCE FOR FISH

One-third cup minced onion
3 tablesp. butter or margarine
1 cup catchup
one-third cup vinegar or lemon juice.
2 tablesp. brown sugar
½ cup water
2 teasp. prepared mustard
2 tablesp. Worcestershire
⅛ teasp. salt

In saucepan, saute onion in butter until tender but not brown. Add remaining ingredients; simmer, covered, about 10 minutes. Makes about 2 cups.

DOROTHY DIX

Bachelor Refuses To Tell Widow Of His Intentions

DEAR MISS DIX: I'm a widow and have been keeping company with a bachelor for some time. Although he's younger than I am, he acts much older. He knows I am very much in love with him, but never lets me know what his intentions are concerning me. He sees me with fair regularity. but never mentions where he's been between our dates, or what he does when he's not with me. Don't you think he should be more frank with me, or at least tell me if marriage is his intention? Peggy

✧ ✧ ✧

HE'S A CONTENTED BACHELOR

ANSWER: The cogent point in your problem is that, while you are anxious to marry, your bachelor friend is perfectly satisfied with his present life, and has no desire to change it. Don't lose sight of the fact that he has remained unmarried of his own accord, has undoubtedly had many ladies more than willing to take on his name, yet has successfully avoided all of them. Almost certainly, he has no undeclared intentions. He likes you as a friend and companion; that's all.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I'm a man of 45 keeping company with a divorcee of 28. I knew her husband, and don't blame her for getting a divorce from him. She has two children. I intend to marry her and adopt the children. However, she has one bad habit I'd like to cure. She is a very untidy housekeeper, and while I admit her present quarters are rather cramped. she never has anything put away. The place is a conglomeration of clothes, toys and dishes. Also, it seems to me she spends too much time away from home. I don't mind her going out if the house is in order. but I don't think she should go away leaving everything so upset. Felix M.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: You have such an obsession for order that it's doubtful if a house with small children will ever suit you. No matter how tidy a woman is, youngsters are bound to create some disorder around a home; I doubt if you could take it. Your dictatorial attitude, evidenced in your "I don't mind her going out, etc.," doesn't indicate the flexibility needed for taking on the job of helping to raise another man's children. Better give this very careful consideration.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I'm a 16-year-old senior engaged to a boy in the same grade. He attends school in another town, so I don't see him too often. When we're together we get along well, but my problem is that I can't get him to write. N.B.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: You can't expect the fervent fidelity of an older person from a 16-year-old boy. Your lad enjoys your company when he's with you, but just can't see the importance of deluging you with mail, especially when he's undoubtedly tied up with studies. Be content as things are; write him occasionally. but don't nag when no answer is forthcoming.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: My son is in love with a girl whom we don't like. The chief reason for our objection to her is that she is constantly belittling her own family to us. She also pokes fun at us, before our son. She boasts that in-laws will never cause trouble in her home because she'll never invite them there. Mrs. H.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Give this young lady enough rope and she'll do the expected thing with it. Her attitude may appeal to your boy as "cute" for a while, but an overdose of it will, I'm sure, kill any affection he has for her. Remind him that he was brought up to respect his parents, in accordance with God's commandment, and that he should expect the same conduct from his financee.

CHINA High-lights by TOM O'CONNOR

THE GREAT WEDGWOOD!

Born in 1730, Josiah was the youngest of thirteen children of Thomas Wedgwood and Mary Stringer and represented the fifth generation of family potters from Gilbert Wedgwood (1588-1678).

Father Thomas was a potter in a smallish way at the Churchyard House in Burslem, and made "Salt Glaze" and "mottled wares." Little did he realize what a significant contribution young Josiah was to make to the pottery industry and to humanity generally.

We will continue with our story on Wedgwood next week.

Endeavor To Solve Shyness Before Child Enters School

By NANCY CLEAVER

"John is such a shy child! He is not at ease with other children and he positively dreads being left alone with a strange grown up! I wish I knew how to help him. But the more I urge him to be friendly, the less he seems to want to mix with others!"

Mothers who have the problem of a very shy son or daughter, do well to try to solve this difficulty before a child enters school. It is true that a shy child often suffers from too much parental attention. Seldom does a very shy child belong to a large family. He feels his mother's anxious interest constantly focused on his actions and this tends to make him self-conscious and self-centred. But at the same time, mothers cannot let a very shy child "muddle along" hoping that time will cure this handicap.

The shy child is usually one who has lacked plenty of opportunity to play with other youngsters and to get to know adults outside his immediate family circle. Sometimes he has been subjected to too repressive and strict discipline. More often his parents are too fearful of harm befalling him and they have adopted a too protective attitude to all he does.

"Don't climb so high, you may fall."

"Be careful or you'll hurt yourself."

These are the type of admonitions he is constantly receiving from his mother. Much of the need for change lies in the parent's treatment of the too-shy small child, rather than in the child himself.

PLAY WITH OTHERS

The shy child should have the chance to play regularly with other children, even if this demands special planning. In a city or town, the small fry in the same block soon "sort down" together and have good times in each other's yards. The Community Play centres are a great help to children who are inclined to be shy. There they can enjoy the play equipment and gradually get to know the other boys and girls who spend their time there. But for a child in an isolated district or a farm home, a mother can arrange a "Visitor's Day" for a neighbour's child around the same age. The other child's mother will likely be willing to take a turn looking after her child, and so the shy youngster has the opportunity to play with a chum at home and also visit at the chum's home.

The habit of arranging for a "baby sitter" occasionally in the daytime, an older girl or woman who likes children and knows how to play with them, is a help to a child of a retiring nature. Friendly relatives, aunts or a grandmother also strengthen a child's liking for other grown-ups beside his parents, whom he can trust and whose company he enjoys. The mother who prides herself on never leaving her child with anyone else, is not really preparing him to grow beyond the earliest dependent stage of childhood. As a child gets older, if he is entrusted with small errands, such as going to the store for a loaf of bread, this builds up his self-confidence. He needs praise and re-assurance for these excursions by himself, or for times when he has made a real effort to be friendly to a caller.

NEVER BASES OF REMARKS

Parents appreciate visitors who get along happily with every member of the family, even a shy child! His bashfulness should never be remarked on. But a grownup who likes and undere stands children can often make a comment which pleases the child. If possible this should be a remark to which he does not have to answer. Admiring a toy or an article of his clothing is usually a good idea.

Feeling at home with even one new stranger builds up a child's confidence in the friendliness of people. It is this faith in others which eventually will vanquish his uncertainty over being made welcome. Then in time he will outgrow his self-consciousness — and he will no longer be "such a shy child."

Tested Recipes

TOMATO AND CHEESE RING

2 cups tomato juice
6 cloves
1 small onion, minced
1 bay leaf
2 tbsp. sugar
1 tsp. salt
1 tsp. whole black peppers
2 tbsps. gelatin
½ cup cold watr
2 tbsps. vinegar
Grated rind and juice of 1 lemon
1½ lbs. cottage cheese
Shredded lettuce
Mayonnaise
3 hard-cooked eggs

Combine first 7 ingredients in saucepan and boil gently for about 10 minutes. Strain. Soften gelatin in cold water and add the hot tomato liquid. Add vinegar and lemon. Stir until gelatin is dissolved. Pour into large ring mold and chill in electric refrigerator.

Rub cottage cheese through a coarse sieve, season to taste with salt and pepper, and place in ring mold over the tomato jelly. Chill until ready to serve.

Turn out of mold and fill centre with mayonnaise or cooked salad dressing. Garnish with shredded lettuce and hard-cooked eggs sliced lengthwise. Serves 6.

Try Disguise For Figure Faults This Spring

Why worry about your figure faults this spring when there is something you can do about them. The trick is in learning the art of camouflage and disguise.

The too-thin silhouette will deceive all on-lookers when it is pleasantly rounded in gypsy-sleeved blouses, peplums, unpressed pleats, voluminous coats and boxy jackets.

If your weight is under par, keep away from slinky jerseys and clinging crepes. You are a woman who can wear wide belts and bright colors.

Disguise is certainly the important element for the overweight figure. To develop during the period of the diet, stay within straight, classic lines. Narrow centre panels, princess styles, and gently flaring skirts all have a slimming effect.

Large prints are pointless, and loud colors outlandish. This is the time in your life when you must be conservative above all else.

Since heavy hips have a habit of happening to all types of figures, it's well to know that you can balance them with built-up shoulders. Full skirts are taboo, as are wide belts and stripes.

Just the opposite rules apply if you are "top-heavy." Your shoulder line should be kept small and simple, with all emphasis placed on the skirt.

Don't depend entirely on your clothes, however, to flatter your figure. Help them along with diet and exercise.

RUNNING SMALL ERRANDS, such as going to the store for a loaf of bread, help a shy child to overcome the lack of self confidence.

QUESTION: Would you be kind enough to look and see if you have a recipe for Simnel Cake. It is a cake used in England on "Mothering" Sunday two weeks before Easter . . . V. M. J.

ANSWER: You did lead me a merry chase, but I tracked down the recipe.

SIMNEL CAKE

Evidently it is baked in tube pans, with an almond or marzipan paste filling between layers of the batter. After first baking it is coated with apricot jam or puree and baked again, then covered with final fancy almond paste decoration.

Cake Batter: (This is a large amount and will fill four 6½-inch tube pans.) Twelve ounces butter or margarine, 2 oz. shortening, 14 oz. Barbados sugar, 17½ oz. eggs, 1 ½ oz. flour, 4 oz. ground almonds, 1 oz, mixed spices, 16 oz. each sultana raisins and currants, 12 oz. mixed peel, essence of almond, rum and vanilla, burnt sugar coloring. (There are no mixing instructions and I have not made the cake but think it should be mixed as you would mix a rich fruit cake.) In each tube pan place one-eighth of the batter, make it smooth, place circle of almond paste on it (see below) and cover with another eighth of the batter—thus using up all batter in two addtions to each tube pan. Bake at 360 deg. Fahr. for 110 minutes. Cool thoroughly. Spread top with apricot jam and bake long enough to make jam bubble. Cool thoroughly. Decorate with almond paste

ALMOND PASTE

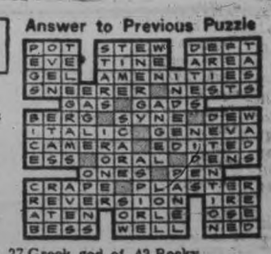
(for Simnel Cake): 12 oz. ground almonds, 12 oz. castor sugar, 2 oz. ground rice, 2 oz. eggs or egg yolks, yellow coloring and almond essence. Mix dry ingredients, make a bay in centre. In bay put coloring essence and eggs and when blended draw in the dry ingredients and mix to a firm paste. Use 7 oz. fo reach cake and roll out to 5½ inch rounds — making 4 — one for each cake.

I sincerely hope I have been of help.

QUESTION: Will you please tell me how to make Rye Krisps . . . Lou.

ANSWER: I'd love to know myself Lou, but this is a commercial product and the process is not for public consumption. A poor imitation of them is as follows:

HOMEMADE RYE-WHEAT WAFERS



One cup rye flour, ½ cup each whole wheat flour and white flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon shortening, about ½ cup milk. Sift flour and salt together, cut in shortening until very fine. Add just enough milk to make a stiff dough, but one that may be rolled out. Roll out on lightly floured board, prick very closely to prevent blistering, with fork, and cut into squares or oblongs. Bake in hot oven 8 to 10 minutes. Or these may

Murrow Replies Criticisms By McCarthy

NEW YORK (AP) — CBS commentator Edward R. Murrow says John Foster Dulles, now United States secretary of state, was a member of the board of trustees of the Institute of International Education in 1935.

On his regular news commentary last night, Murrow replied to criticism made Thursday night by Senator McCarthy, who had connected Murrow's institute activities 19 years ago with what he termed "a Moscow university summer session."

Murrow said:

"Now here are the facts about that Moscow summer school . . . I was the assistant director of the institute . . . This organization dealt primarily with the exchange of students and professors between this and foreign countries. . . .

"It was largely financed at that time by the Carnegie Corporation and the Rockefeller Foundation.

"Among its board of trustees were such as John Foster Dulles . . . and others equally distinguished.

The Russian authorities abruptly cancelled the proposed summer school before it began, and most of the prospective members spent the summer travelling in the Soviet Union."

LONDON (CP) — The British Broadcasting Corporation last night televised a copy of last Tuesday's Columbia Broadcasting Service program in which commentator Edward Murrow analyzed and criticized Senator McCarthy's methods.

The BBC announced that if McCarthy makes a televised reply to the Murrow telecast, the BBC will broadcast it.

Husband, Wife Hurt In Accident

MORRISBURG (CP) — Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Poyner of Cardinal, Ont., were seriously injured last night when their automobile and a transport truck collided.

Mr. Poyner, who received multiple leg fractures, was pinned under the car, which had to be raised with a jack before he could be released.

His wife suffered undetermined chest injuries and leg lacerations. Both were taken to hospital at Brockville.

LETTER: Since pastries and rich foods are taboo for me I don't read your colums so closely as some—however I can't refrain from "window-shopping". I'm delighted with your recipe for simple Carrot Pudding—no suet or butter. I used candied pineapple—red, green and yellow—in place of peel. It's delicious. I used lemon juice in the sauce. About goose grease: We had neighbors who raised geese for the fat which they used in their baking—especially pies. I wasn't really convinced until in trepidation I tried it, and found that my finicky family didn't notice the difference. It was very easy to work with. I always used buttermilk in pie pastry when I could get it because it browned so nicely. I agree with you about "Five Oaks."—L. H. S.

ANSWER: I do hope those girls with duck and goose fat surplus see this and want to thank you for it. I want to point out that the fat should be light in color, not burned from roasting duck or geese in too hot oven and should be strained and very cold.

Stands Collapse As Crowds Watch Display

CAIRNS, Australia (Reuters)—Hundreds of men, women and children were thrown screaming to the ground when two stands collapsed as the Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh watched a display of dancing here today.

As ambulance men treated the injured from one stand, another collapsed on the other side of the ground. They rushed across to drag clear victims lying in tangled heaps under the debris. About 20 persons were treated on the spot for cuts, bruises and sprains. Two others were taken to hospital.

The Queen and Duke were obviously concerned as they watched ambulance men treating the injured, though the show went on.

Before leaving, the Queen told civic authorities she was "very concerned" about the collapse of the stands. The royal couple were watching a display of maypole dancing by 500 children when the second stand collapsed.

TRIBAL DANCE

They had come ashore from the royal liner Gothic to watch a display of tribal dances by islanders from Torres straits off the northernmost point of Australia.

Next stage of their voyage is to the Barrier Reef, the great coral rampart of reef and islets running parallel with the Queensland coast for hundreds of miles.

Australian yachtsmen who had planned to follow the Gothic during the Queen's day of rest off the Barrier Reef tomorrow are being "invited" by the Royal Australian Navy to respect the royal couple's privacy. The points where the Gothic will anchor while the Queen and the Duke visit the tiny coral islands or the great reef itself are not being revealed.

Helen Hajnik Semi Finalist

Mezzo-soprano Helen Hajnik, 27, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Hajnik, live at 159 Montgomery St., will be on the first semi-final show of the CBC talent program "Opportunity Knocks" Monday, March 15, at 8.30. The program is broadcast on CHEX.

Because of the unusual number of tie-winners during this Opportunity Knocks' series, it will be necessary to hold three semi-final broadcasts instead of the usual two. The four best performers will be selected from these three programs and will be heard on the final broadcast on April 5, when they will be judged first, second, third and fourth.

First prize is a CBC network series; second prize, $100; third prize, $75; and fourth prize $50.

The judges for the semi-finals and final broadcasts will be the same as throughout the series: Dr. Richard Johnston, professor of music at the University of Toronto; Herman Geiger-Torel, stage director at the Royal Conservatory of Music, Toronto; and Gordon Sinclair, columnist for the Toronto Daily Star.

Ennismore Takes Bush League Title

WARSAW (ENS)—The Dummer community rink bush league series ended Thursday night when Ennismore defeated Warsaw 5-4 in an overtime game of the finals. Ennismore won the best of three out of five in the three straight.

A Warsaw player, Fred McCracken, had his nose broken in two places in a game that was fast and very rough.

LEARNS VALUE OF BUCK

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—After two years of army life Frank House, Detroit's $75,000 bonus catcher, thinks he now realizes the value of a dollar.

House is on leave as he works out with the Tigers. He will report back to camp for his discharge April 16, three days after the season opener.

"I'm a lot more serious now," the 24-year-old backstop said. "This year I have a good chance to make the ball club."

"When you're in the service, you realize what it means to play baseball for a living. I realize the value of a dollar more now. They don't come easy in the army."

BOMBERS SIGN U.S. BACK

WINNIPEG (CP) — Ralph Misener, president of Winnipeg Blue Bombers, announced Friday the signing of 24-year-old Byron Townsend, 190-pound fullback from Texas, to a 1954 contract with the Western Interprovincial Club.

Townsend, who had his best season with Texas Longhorns in 1950, scored 14 touchdowns and averaged 3.7 yards on his 228 rushes with the Longhorns in 1950. He was out most of the 1951 season due to injuries.

A tryout with Los Angeles Rams in 1952 was cut short when he was drafted by the United States Army. He was discharged from the army last year.

YANKS RATED TOPS

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Ted Williams has named New York Yankees as "still the team to beat" in the American League but added "They're going to have more trouble."

Talking with reporters in his hospital room, the Boston Red Sox outfielder said: "They lost something when they lost (Vic) Raschi. No club can give up a pitcher like that and not be hurt. They've also lost (Billy) Martin and (Mickey) Mantle is a question mark with his leg."

Recovering from an operation which set his badly fractured left collarbone, injured March 1, Ted described the Red Sox as "definitely a dark horse in the race."

"It depends on what the rookies do. You never can tell about them. But we have some good kids."

STAMPS SIGN BACK

STOCKTON, Calif. (AP)—Rupe Andrews, 27, a halfback on the Stanford football team when he graduated in 1949, said Friday he has accepted an offer to play football with Calgary Stampeders.

Andrews, in the real estate business here, said the offer from the Western Interprovincial Football Union team was "too good to pass up."

He hasn't played football since leaving Stanford.

Andrews was drafted in 1949 by Chicago Bears but didn't sign a contract.

Mercury Lights May Brighten Main Corners

Mercury vapor street lights, three times as strong as the incandescent type, may soon be spotted strategically over the city if the Peterborough utilities commission can convince the city of their value.

Friday, the commission, on the suggestion of Richard Raine, voted to give the question of brighter street lighting further consideration. First step will be to install a demonstration light at one of the major intersections, likely at the five corners of Sherbrooke and Park Sts.

The utilities commission cannot install a mercury vapor system on its own initiative. It is expected, however, that a light at one of the main intersections would show how effective they can be.

Already there are three mercury vapor lights along Aylmer St. near the commission. These, according to general manager Howard Powell, are not ideal because they cast an eerie blue light and make pedestrians appear non-human. Girls standing by these lights look as if they are wearing purple lipstick.

MOST MODERN

Most modern light in the city is one just outside south of King St. on George St. This is of the mercury vapor type too, but is equipped with an "envelope" which eliminates the blueish effect.

Mr. Raine looked forward to the day when these would be standard at all the main intersections. He felt that they were much like traffic lights, inasmuch as they show drivers blocks away that a main intersection is near.

[illegible] and Mr. Powell, supporting this view, is the Sherbrooke-Aylmer corner. Motorists, he said, think they are approaching George St. when they see the mercury vapor lights while driving east on Sherbrooke St.

MORE EXPENSIVE

Another and more expensive type of light is that at Simcoe and George St. This fluorescent light is three times as expensive as the incandescent light, and the commission doubts if it is as economical as the mercury vapor type.

If the mercury vapor lights are generally adopted in Peterborough, they will be for main streets and intersections only. They would, said Mr. Powell, be too bright for general residential use.

Mercury vapor lights are more expensive than the incandescent, but they produce three times the illumination for the same amount of power. The light at Foster's gives off about 22,000 lumens. (One lumen equals the light given off by a point-source of one candle-power.)

"Church And Home" Theme Of WMS Study

ROSENEATH (ENS) — "The Church and the Home" was the theme of the devotional period of the WMS of the United Church, with Mrs. A. J. Campbell giving the scripture reading. Mrs. T. S. Coyle led in prayer.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Howard Macklin, with the president, Mrs. J. N. Lovelace, presiding and Mrs. Douglas Coyle pianist.

The community friendship report for the month showed 30 cards, eight letters, seven boxes sent, eight home calls and 15 hospital calls made.

Good cheer cards were autographed and sent to two members who are ill, Mrs. J. W. Pacey and Mrs. E. J. Milne.

A hospital draw sheet had been made and sent to the Presbyterial supply secretary to be forwarded to a mission hospital.

The treasurer, Mrs. J. A. Nichol, reported having sent a sum of money to the Presbyterial treasurer for the quarterly instalment toward the yearly allocation of the society.

Mrs. A. J. Campbell gave a temperance report. Mrs. J. Coyle read an article on Christian stewardship. Mrs. Douglas Coyle gave a reading by Bliss Carman.

The Rev. J. N. Lovelace closed the meeting with prayer.

Mrs. Macklin, assisted by her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Melville Macklin, served afternoon tea.

Injured Man Dies After Car Collision

BROCKVILLE (CP) — Walter J. Poyner, 38, of Cardinal, Ont., died in hospital here today from injuries suffered Friday night in a head-on collision on No. 2 Highway, two miles east of Iroquois. His wife, a passenger, was brought to hospital with chest injuries.

The car Poyner was driving met a transport head-on while rounding a curve. Both vehicles were ditched. Police said the driver of the truck was Leland Ferguson, 29, of Maitland, who escaped injury.

Construction Goes Ahead In United States

By WALTER BREEDE, JR.

NEW YORK (AP). — Activity in most lines of business continued below year-ago levels in the United States this week. But there were notable exceptions.

One was new construction. Contracts in February set a record for that month and the January-February total was 13 per cent over the high level of a year ago.

Industry sources spoke of beating last year's $34,700,000,000 construction record.

Steel output lagged: The meeks scheduled operating rate of 68.8 per cent was the lowest for any non-holiday, strike-free week since March, 1950.

New-car sales have been moving up—February sales of 401,500 cars were up 18 per cent from January—but not fast enough to keep pace with production.

GAINS IN PRODUCTION

The week saw gains in the production of crude oil and electric power and sales of cotton textiles. Prices of lead, copper scrap, tin and zinc turned firm; the stock market was at its highest level in 24 years.

There were other less favorable indicators:

Freight car loadings were off more than 13 per cent from the corresponding week of 1953. Department store sales were down 11 per cent from a year ago. Unemployment at the end of February totalled about 3,500,000, an increase of 500,000 for the month.

There was increased pressure in Washington for tax reduction.

President Eisenhower's top economic adviser, Dr. Arthur F. [illegible] are now "outrunning production," and with inventories down from previous peaks "a foundation is being laid for a new economic advance."

RIOT DEBRIS—Benches, mattresses and scattered debris fill the day room at the Chicago County Jail after 19 convicts ended a seven-hour and 45-minute rebellion. The prisoners surrendered after tear gas shells and tons of water had been loosed in the room. The water caused heavy damage to the jail.

Apparent Eclipse of CCF Only Temporary: McDonald

MILLBROOK (ENS)—The apparent eclipse of the Ontario CCF is only temporary, the party's recently-elected provincial leader, Donald McDonald told a meeting of the Durham county CCF in Port Hope town hall Thursday.

The party's program must be kept up to date, he said. Regional conferences which he was attending throughout the province were sifting proposals and principles [illegible] grain ever issued by the CCF, he prophesied.

After 40 meetings in northern Ontario and several in old Ontario, the speaker was convinced of a new political atmosphere.

"The people are in a mood more receptive to our message than for many years," Mr. McDonald said, stressing the need for support from both the farmer and urban worker. "Let us give them our message; and we shall be surprised at the result."

UNEMPLOYMENT

There were several reasons for the change in sentiment which would favor the rapid growth of the CCF, he said. Most important was unemployment. He charged that there were between 300,000 and 500,000 people out of work in Canada.

"In Sault Ste. Marie, 4,100 people walk the streets looking for jobs. These and others like them are facing the fact that there is something wrong with a system that can provide jobs for all only when there is a war.

"Secondly, the people are no longer being deluded by their liking for the benevolent and plausible premier. The highways scandal has made them unhappy. So has the delay in the correcting the abuses. Only now has a committee of the legislature been appointed with some authority. Five months elapsed before the books of the companies involved were investigated.

"In the third place, farmers are realizing that they cannot prosper unless they co-operate with the urban workers," he said.

SENIOR PARTNERS

"In the old parties there is not much friction between workers and farmers, for they are both junior partners; in the CCF they are senior partners . . . Farm papers are now considering the possibility of unionization and of co-operation with trade unions.

"Of the $10 billion income of Ontario, 83 per cent comes from manufacturing; only 7½ per cent from agriculture. Only from a democratic socialist party can farmers get what they need.

"In 30 years, little change has taken place in the attitude of the old parties. The legislature in Toronto is a businessman's club. Labor gets no help; the farmers are tolerated because they control several constituencies.

EDUCATION

"Of the staggering costs of education, the government shares only 31 per cent instead of the 50 per cent it promised."

The two CCF members of the legislature represented 170,000 voters each, whereas the 80 Progressive Conservative members represented only 10,000 each, Mr. McDonald said. "No party should have 80 of the 90 seats in the assembly."

Mr. McDonald was introduced by Tommy Thomas, MLA. Chairman was Spencer Cheshire, president of the Durham county CCF.

Mr. Cheshire said that in 1952-53 farm income was cut by more than 40 per cent, leading to unemployment in the farm implement industry. The United Automobile Workers had reported 1,000 men out of work.

Mr. Thomas said that the delegates to the recent convention where Mr. McDonald was chosen leader were proud to have the opportunity to choose from three young men of such distinction as Mr. McDonald, Andrew Brewin and Fred Young.

Needlework Shown By Centenary WA

ROSENEATH —(ENS)—A display of needlework, including aprons and fancy work, made by the WA members, was shown at the March meeting of Centenary WA. The work was done in preparation for the annual bazaar.

The meeting was held in the church. The president, Mrs. Dawson Timlin presided, with Mrs. Arnold Elder as pianist.

The treasurer's report prepared by Mrs. Reginald Timlin showed a balance on hand of $93.32.

Thank-you letters were read from recipients of good cheer by the secretary, Mrs. Ernest Burrison. Plans were made to secure a play at an early date as a means of raising funds.

A quilt was quilted during the afternoon.

The meeting closed with the Mizpah benediction. Lunch was served.

Former Peel Warden Killed In Accident

BOLTON (CP) — Etto J. Hardwick, 47, a former warden of Peel county, was killed last night when his car failed to take a curve and hit a concrete bridge abutment near his home.

Mr. Hardwick, a past president of the Ontario Minor Hockey Association, was an active promoter of amateur sports and sponsored a hockey team at Nobleton. He was born at Bolton, about 25 miles northwest of Toronto.

He was the second motorist to die in the Toronto area during the night. Near Port Credit, Ben Bewitt, 23, of Toronto, was killed and another man injured when their car hit a tree.

Mine Negotiations Still Underway

VAL D'OR, Que. (CP) — Negotiations for the settlement of an impending strike at East Sullivan mines are still underway, officials of the United Steelworkers of America (CIO-CCL) said today.

Another meeting between union and company has been scheduled for next Friday following a meeting between negotiating committees Friday afternoon.

The union is asking for a seven-and-one-half-per-cent wage increase retroactive to April 1, 1953.

Union members voted 189 - 21 last week in favor of strike action if their demands are not met.

Separate School

William Graff, Peterborough librarian, showed the teachers a film "Shyness"; afterwards he headed a discussion on how to get the retiring or shy child into group activities.

A question-and-answer session expanded this theme to teaching problems generally. (Do parents need professional help in settling children's problems? Do parents expect too much of children? etc.)

SPECIAL PROBLEMS

Mr. Graff said there was a special shyness problem involved when the child differs from the others because of race or religion. The child must be treated sympathetically to "bring him out."

With the large number of people emigrating to Canada from Europe this is a big teaching problem these days, he said. Much depends on the teacher in the development of new Canadians.

Sister Marion, delegate to the Christian curriculum planning conference in Toronto last December, reported on the meeting. Its purpose was the better development of the child.

For relaxation, the teachers heard a prize-winning group from Grades 1 and 2 in Immaculate Conception school give a choral reading. They are under the instruction of Miss Marie Flynn.

Cameron's Old-Time Fiddler Has Been Married 60 Years

CAMERON (Special) — Peter Hewie and his wife were married 60 years ago on Sunday and they are the honored guests at a celebration today.

On that important day 60 years ago, Peter's older brother, William, played the violin. And he is at the celebration today with his violin.

Peter and Will are the only surviving members of a family of ten children. Peter, now 83, remained a farmer all his life. His brother, Will, now 93, has operated the general store at Cameron, 8 miles north of Lindsay, for the past 45 years. Despite his advanced age, he is in the store every day assisting his son, Peter.

The two elderly brothers have been good violinists since their youth and they play by ear many of the pleasant old-time songs that always seem popular. They played at weddings, dances and social events throughout the years and they were in great demand. Today, they can swing easily into many old-time numbers that start their listeners toe-tapping.

William's wife died two years ago. In addition to his son at the store, he also has a daughter, Mrs. Charles Sparkle, of Stirling. And there are two grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Hewie still live on the farm about two miles from the village. Their son, Grenville, lives with them. They have two daughters, Mrs. Herb Worsley and Mrs. Perce Ellis and there are five grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Many Fishermen Just Novices Says Biologist

NORTH BAY (CP)—Russ Whitfield, biologist for the department of lands and forests, says two-thirds of Ontario's fishermen are novices who catch few fish. He added, however, that these persons have a lot of fun and are probably the happiest of all fishermen.

Anglers are divided into three groups, Mr. Whitfield said at a meeting in nearby Sturgeon Falls. There are: The skilled angler, who gets a lot of fish but doesn't enjoy the sport half as much as he thinks he does; the intermediate group, who are wary of the ways of fish; and the novices.

Members of the last group, Mr. Whitfield said, "are the blessed." He added:

"If it wasn't for them, there just wouldn't be any fishing. These patient work dunkers are not too choosy," he said. "They will fish off any bridge or any dock. There may be only two feet of water where they are and they can see every rock and weed on the bottom but they sit placidly and bake in the sun.

"They may not catch any fish, but they don't worry too much about it. They are enjoying nature at its best."

High Winds Near London

TORONTO (CP)—Winds reached hurricane force in gusts at Centralia airport near London last night as thunder, lightning, sleet, snow and freezing rain smote parts [illegible]

The gusts of 80-mile-an-hour at Centralia were part of a mixture of bad weather sweeping into the province from the mid - western states.

Winds reached 44 miles an hour at Toronto, accompanied by thunder, lightning, hail, sleet and snow. Snowflurries or freezing rain were predicted today for southern Ontario, followed by snowflurries Sunday with temperatures hovering around the freezing mark.

Steady cold held northern Ontario. Predicted low tonight for White River and Kapuskasing was zero.

Ladies' Aid To Sponsor Cooking School, Play

HASTINGS —(ENS)—St. Andrew's Ladies' Aid met Thursday at the home of Mrs. W. Chrysler with 18 ladies present. Mrs. S. Whitred read the scripture. Two readings were given by Mrs. W. Moore and Mrs. Chas. Dodd.

Plans were complete for the play "Henpecked Henry," to be held in Hastings town hall Thursday evening March 25, presented by the Dramatic Club of St. George's Anglican Church, Peterborough.

Plans are also being made for a cooking school sponsored by St. Andrew's Ladies' Aid to be held in Hastings' town hall Monday and Tuesday evenings, May 3rd and 4th.

The members also decided to make two more quilts that have been ordered. The hostess and her helpers, Mrs. W. Moore and Mrs. Basil Johnston served lunch.

Mrs. Harold Fife invited the ladies to her home Thursday, April 8.

Apartment Blaze Claims Five Lives

NEW LONDON, Conn. (AP) — A dingy apartment in a blighted area went up in flames here early today, killing five persons.

Nineteen escaped, some through the heroism of off-duty sailors from the nearby submarine base.

Dead are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sawicki, each about 40, Mrs. Gregory Ortiz, 27, and her daughter, Olgita, 4, and Mrs. Amelia Pina, 34.

Before she died, Mrs. Pina awakened her three children and her brother-in-law Haginico Pitre, 40. All jumped into the waiting arms of rescuers.

Tugboat Operator Fatally Burned

NIPIGON (CP) — A Cameron Falls tugboat operator, working for a pulpwood company, suffered fatal burns and his friend sustained severe injuries last night when their trailer home went up in flames on a bush camp road, 12 miles north of Nipigon.

Bedford Jardine, 61, died in Nipigon Memorial hospital two hours after the fire. Al Petipa, 57, a bushman, was badly burned about the hands and face when he sought to save Jardine.

Provincial police said Jardine rushed into the burning trailer to save household goods.

Euchre Party Held

CAVAN (ENS) — The Women's Institute held a euchre party in the Community Hall. Eighteen tables of euchre were played.

Half A Whale Bit Too Much

SHIMONOSEKI, Japan (AP) — To the man who doesn't know one whale from another, it was just a bit confusing.

The Nisshin Maru whaling fleet of the Taiyo Fishing Company today radioed that it has caught 1,000½ whales since the Antarctic season opened Jan. 2, and claimed a new fleet catch record.

As if that half a whale wasn't perplexing enough, the fleet also radioed that its season's catch totals 154 blue whales, 1,683 fin whales and 15 humpback whales. That adds up to 1,852 whales—and one half.

The discrepancy was ironed out when Kyodo news service explained that whaling catches are figured in terms of blue whales. Figure each fin whale as half a blue and each humpback as two-thirds a blue and you get 1,000½ whale units.

East Bengal Election Closes Peacefully

DACCA, East Pakistan (Reuters) Polling in East Bengal's first general election, which began Sunday closed peacefully last night.

More than half of the 20,000,000 voters cast their ballots. Counting will be completed by March 30.

Election trends indicate a majority of Moslem seats for the United Front, an election alliance of several opposition parties against the ruling Moslem League party.

Laura Salverson Wins Fiction Award

LONDON (AP) — The Racing Club of Buenos Aires held strong Chelsea team, English first division soccer club, to a 0-0 tie in the last match of the team's English tour today.

Liquor Official Challenges Statement

TORONTO (CP) — A distillery official Friday challenged Health Minister Phillips' recent statement in the Ontario legislature that most of the liquor sold in Ontario contains up to 10 per cent of fusel oil, a poison.

Carl T. Carson, vice-president in charge of production for Hiram Walker and Sons, called the statement "inaccurate and misleading."

"It was alleged that a 26-ounce bottle of liquor contains one to three ounces of fusel oil, depending on its age," Mr. Carson said in a statement. "This would be equivalent to four to 12 per cent fusel oil content.

"Laboratory records show that Canadian whisky contains only 10 to 17 parts per 100,000, that is, 0.1 per cent to 0.17 per cent.

"In other words, the statement in the legislature claimed that whisky contains about 1,000 times as much fusel oil as it actually does."

Two Men Face Smuggling Count

LONDON (Reuters)—Col. Frank Norman, prominent London business man, today appeared in court accused of trying to help smuggle $599,200 worth of strategic copper to Communist Poland in violation of British export regulations.

Norman, 56, and a 28-year-old shipping clerk, Alfred Edward Weiss, were charged with being concered in an attempt to ship 799 tons of copper wire rods to a Polish port.

The council president of the Westminster Chamber of Commerce, was remanded on £1,000 bail and Weiss on £500. They are due to appear for preliminary hearing next Wednesday with six other men arrested on the same charge earlier this week.

$30,000 Field Home

SARNIA (CP) — Plans for a $30,000 football field house for Athletic Park here were released Friday night by the Sarnia Board of Works.

The one-storey, brick field house is being erected in memory of Johnny Bell, Imperial football player, who died in 1950 following an accident in a Senior Ontario Rugby Football Union game here against Toronto Balmy Beach.

Duke May Visit Canadian Regiment

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — Adjustment of plans for the Duke of Edinburgh's Canadian tour to allow a visit to the 1st battalion, the Royal Canadian Regiment, will be sought by the London - based battalion, its commanding officer said today.

Lt.-Col. T. R. McCoy commented that the duke's appointment as colonel-in-chief, announced by Defence Minister Claxton, "is a great honor to the regiment."

Dairy Considers Milk Tank Trucks

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP) — Purity dairy in Windsor said today that introduction of tank trucks to pick up milk from the farmers is "something for the future" in southwestern Ontario.

The idea is under consideration at Purity's Windsor office, a spokesman for the company said, but details would have to be worked out before tank truck pickups would be practical.

In Toronto, the Ontario legislature's committee on agriculture heard a prediction yesterday that the pickup of producers' milk will be done almost entirely by tank trucks in three years.

William Murdoch, Essex South Progressive Conservative, said he had heard that Purity Dairies of Windsor were changing over completely to tank trucks.

The company said the tank truck proposal has been considered but as yet nothing has been done about it.

An official said such pickups are "a long way away."

Paper Prints Photo In Full-Color

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — The Buffalo Courier-Express this morning published a full-color spot news picture in its pages.

Howard W. Clother, assistant to the publisher, said he believed it was the first such picture to appear in a metropolitan newspaper in the eastern United States.

The picture was a four-column view of Friday's warehouse fire here. It was printed on the picture page of the newspaper's final editions for Saturday.

Clother said previous color pictures printed by the newspaper took several days to process.

3 Commissioners Offer Resignation

VICTORIA (CP) — The three-member British Columbia power commission and its chief engineer resigned Friday as an aftermath of last August's $1,000,000 mudslides at the interior B.C. Whatsham power project.

Premier W. A. C. Bennett, in accepting the resignations, said:

"This is the toughest job I've had since I've been premier."

The resignations of commission chairman Sam R. Weston and commissioners Maj.-Gen. W. W. Foster and Forrest Shaw followed a royal commission report which found them "negligent."

The commission's chief engineer, A. W. Lash, also resigned.

Slides, caused by seeping water, crashed down on the power plant on the Arrow lakes in the southern interior. Whatshan, a $5,800,000 development, supplies power to Okanagan valley.

Fraserville WA Told Life Of Dr. Chakko

FRASERVILLE (ENS) — The WA group of Fraserville United church met at the home of Mrs. A. and Mrs. L. Hewitt with eleven members present and two visitors.

The early part of the evening was spent in finishing a quilt.

The president, Mrs. W. G. Waterman, opened the meeting with "A Woman's Prayer." A hymn was sung and a psalm was read by Mrs. Ray Davis. The scripture was read by Mrs. Arthur Wood. Mrs. Ray Finlay offered prayer.

A new member was enrolled. A report of the last crokinole party was given by Mrs. John Flett.

A committee was named to be responsible for a social evening in March. Mrs. K. Moncrief was named convener. She is to choose her helpers.

The president turned the meeting over to the missionary president, Mrs. Keith Larmer, who chose as her reading the life of Dr. Sarah Chakko, who composed the program for this year's World Day of Prayer, and died on the morning of that day.

Lunch was served.

Announcing Canada's newest and smartest Tank-Type Cleaner . . . the sensational new Hoover

1

new, throw-away bag holds more dirt, needs replacing less often. When bag is full, toss it away. A new one may be clamped into place almost automatically. Air is triple-filtered. No dust can reach motor. None can escape. That means dust-free air as well as dust-free rugs and furnishings every time you clean.

2

new, Veriflex hose is so light and flexible it's like holding a feather for overhead cleaning. Can't kink. Can't resist. Flexes freely with slightest movement of your wrist. It's an exclusive Hoover feature that gives you complete freedom as you clean all around the room . . . drapes, furniture, lamps, tables and rugs. Tools are easy to attach, hold securely by means of friction joint.

3 more suction, quiet operation. New high speed motor, extra large filtering area and efficient "Litter Gitter" rug nozzle design give this newest Hoover superior dirt-getting power. Does away with need to "bear down" or "scrub" to get rugs clean. Exclusive new filters hush suction, make this Hoover so quiet you can vacuum while baby sleeps.

saves you work in every way!

Owning a new Hoover Model 416 is like taking a holiday from housework, for this ultra-modern cleaner speeds you through all your cleaning and dusting — from floor to ceiling — in much less time — with much less effort. WARRIOR'S FATE

Pontiac, great chief of the Ottawa Indians, was slain by an Illinois Indian at Fort St. Louis in 1769.

ONTARIO MP—George Hees, 54, Progressive Conservative member of Parliament for Toronto Broadview, is a candidate for president of the National Progressive Conservative Association. The annual meeting will be held in Ottawa March 15-16. Mr. Hees, a former football player with Toronto Argonauts, is a past president of the Young Progressive Conservative Association. He entered parliament in 1950 (CP Photo)

Moose In Numbers

PORT ARTHUR, Ont. (CP)—Game officials here said motorists have reported unusually large numbers of moose along the highways and side roads. Pilots from lands and forests department planes have also reported large numbers of moose roaming the bush.

World Council of Churches

tering of Greek and Latin; and perhaps a little French or German are always humbled at such conferences, when they find that their brethren from countries which they have long considered a bit underprivileged and lacking in culture, are at home in half a dozen languages.

European Christians at the moment are tremendously interested in things like "the second-coming" and last year the Lutherans of Sweden were rocked with a violent argument over hell, and who went there. Those are subjects in which American Christians haven't been nearly as interested, or certainly not as vocal.

Readers may be interested in the allocation of seats in the assembly granted Canada.

Church of England, 4; Presbyterian Church, 2; United Church, 6; Disciples, 1; Society of Friends, 1; Lutherans, 1.

The Assembly itself is made up in the following way: Reformed and Presbyterian, 99; Lutheran, 98; Methodist, 75; Anglican, 74; Orthodox, 55; United, 51; Baptist, 36; Congregational, 31; Other Eastern Churches, 25; Disciples, 16; Old Catholics, 7; Others, 25.

It will be noted, of course, that there are many denominations which are not mentioned. Some of them are included in the broad categories above. Others have not seen fit to join the community, national, or world councils of churches. Many will have representatives there as unofficial observers.

The official personnel from Canada are:

Archbishop Philip Carrington of Quebec; Bishop Henry D. Martin of Saskatchewan; Canon W. W. Judd of Toronto; and Canon R. K. Naylor of Montreal; make up the delegation from the Church of England. It is noted that the Church of England in Canada is sending no official lay delegates.

Rev. O. W. McCully of Toronto represents the Disciples, Rev. A. W. Lotz of Kitchener, the Lutherans, and Fred Haslam of Toronto, the Society of Friends, Rev. S. B. Coles of Oshawa and H. M. Jackson of Simcoe are the Presbyterian representatives.

The United Church is sending, the Moderator, Dr. A. A. Scott; Rev. G. R. Cragg of Montreal; Professor H. G. Harland of Winnipeg, and Principal C. M. Nicholson of Halifax, H. E. Langford of Toronto, and Ivan C. Robison of Calgary.

In addition there will be an equal number of accredited visitors from Canada, and a great many observers have a more or less official right to attend. Among the better known accredited visitors are the Ven. Archdeacon Wallace of Hamilton, and the Rev. Leonard Griffith of Ottawa.

The following Canadians have been asked to serve as consultants: Professor A. John Coleman of Toronto; Canon H. R. Hunt of Toronto; Rev. J. R. Mutchmor; and Dr. J. S. Thomson of McGill.

$30,000 Fire Destroys Village Store

Plainville Building 60 Years Old; Owner In Toronto

COBOURG —(ENS)— Fire which broke out while the owner, Fred Grey and his family were away in Toronto, totally destroyed a combined dwelling and general store at Plainville, nine miles north of Cobourg, Sunday afternoon. Loss is in excess of $30,000.

A neighbor, Mrs. Roddy McCrea, gave the alarm when she saw flames through the store window. Cobourg firemen responded but the fire had gained such headway that nothing could be done except to save a house across the street to the south-east.

While waiting for firemen to arrive from Cobourg, neighbors smashed a window to gain entry and managed to remove all the first-floor furniture. Some of the contents of a shed at the rear of the store were removed, including an oil space heater.

One casualty was the family cat, which had been put outdoors before the family left Sunday morning. The cat ran frantically around the burning building after the walls had collapsed, close enough at times for its fur to be scorched, and then darted into the heart of the flames and was burned to death.

STARTED IN STORE

The building was a two-storey frame structure covered with insul-brick. The store was on the main floor in the north-east corner and it was there that the fire originated. Underneath the store was the furnace room.

It is estimated that there was more than $10,000 worth of stock in the store, some of it being paint, which helped feed the furious flames which soared 50 feet in the air at times.

So great was the heat that the Lake Fishermen Suffer Major Losses

KINGSVILLE (CP) — The commercial fishing fleet working out of Kingsville and Wheatley suffered major loss over the weekend as gale-force winds ripped fishing nets from their moorings and snarled what few nets remained in place.

Damage, which may run as high [illegible] is still being assessed, and it may be three days before the full story is pieced together.

The heavy winds followed similar conditions 10 days ago, when many fishing captains sank their nets in hopes of clearing them from ice. Many of these nets have been lost; others are so jammed with debris that it will take days to clear them.

The storm struck during a period when fishing was good.

The Essex county fishing fleet consists of about 25 tugs out of Kingsville and another 10 out of Wheatley.

All along Lake Erie over the weekend, fishermen were buffeted by strong winds, but catches as high as 4,000 pounds of fish were reported.

Animal Diseases Threat To Humans

TORONTO (CP) — At least 80 infectious diseases of animals are a threat to human beings, Dr. T. L. Jones, principal of the Ontario Veterinary College, Guelph, said Saturday night.

He told the Royal Canadian Institute that protection of human beings from animal-borne diseases is a result of advances in veterinary science.

Communists Besiege Fortress

Savage Onslaught Threatens French Stronghold

By LARRY ALLEN

HANOI, Indo-China (AP)— Communist-led Vietminh troops drove toward the heart of the big French union fortress of Dien Bien Phu tonight after seizing a strong point to the north. They lost 1,500 killed in furious fighting.

The savage rebel onslaught gained ground despite French reinforcements dropped by parachute to help the hard-hit defenders of the last French union outpost in northwest Indo-China. Dien Bien Phu is 175 miles from Hanoi.

The Vietminh attack on the besieged fortress began Saturday night but the defenders held them off throughout Sunday. But today the rebels threw in thousands more troops.

The rebels bombarded the dust bowl fortress with artillery shells before they launched their new series of attack.

VIOLENT BATTLE

As the violent battle rounded out its second day, a battalion of French and Viet Namese paratroopers jumped onto the Dien Bien Phu airstrip to reinforce the French union garrison.

Other reinforcements were airlifted from Hanoi.

The French high command in Saigon said the French union forces had the "situation well in hand" and were holding solidly against the "very violent" rebel attack.

A three-hour cease-fire interrupted the fighting Sunday morning while both rebels and French carried their dead and wounded from the battlefield. The French claimed at least 1,000 rebels killed in the initial assault Saturday night and early Sunday, and admitted

Change Of Policy No Defence States Pearson

By HAROLD MORRISON

WASHINGTON (CP)—External Affairs Minister Pearson appealed to the United States today to reject "entrenched continentalism" as a concept of defence against world communism.

He warned that Canadian-American relations will be threatened if the U.S. reverts to a policy of defence narrower than that of the North Atlantic Pact.

"The stakes now are higher than ever, and the necessity for co-operation and consultation greater than ever," he said in a speech prepared for the National Press Club.

"It is essential that we work together in any new defence policy —as we have already been working together, if the great results which we have formed for peace is not to be replaced by an entrenched continentalism. . . ."

This narrow defence concept, under which presumably the U.S. would choose its own time, place and means of retaliating against a Red attack, "makes no great appeal to your northern neighbor as the best way to prevent war or defeat aggression," Pearson said.

BULWARK AGAINST REIS

He made his appeal for continued support of a strong, unified North Atlantic community as the basic bulwark against communism in referring to the Jan. 12 defence speech of U.S. State Secretary Dulles.

Dulles' address — described by Pearson as "one which may turn out to be one of the most important of our times"—outlined a new U.S. defence policy based on a Washington decision "to depend principally upon a great capacity to retaliate, instantly by means, and at places of our own choosing."

"The key words in this sentence are 'instantly,' 'means' and 'our,'" Pearson said.

"From our point of view, it is important that the 'our' in the sentence I have quoted, means those who have agreed together, particularly in NATO, to work together and by collective action to prevent war or, if that should fail, to win it."

EXPLOSIVE EFFECT

The new American defence policy, Pearson said, makes diplomacy not less but even more important, especially when nations contemplate the "means, including atomic," that may have to be used, the occasions when they should be

Boycotts Wharf Refuses To Meet Queen

MACKAY, Australia (CP) — [illegible] was to be presented to Queen Elizabeth when she came ashore today, because there would be no band on the wharf to play the national anthem.

Civic authorities of this sugar-growing town decided to fire a royal salute when the Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh arrived on board the destroyer Anzac after a week-end cruise along the Great Barrier reef.

The national anthem, they thought, should be reserved for a later ceremony.

Councillor McColl had different ideas.

He boycotted the wharf ceremony, and stationed his own band —a fife and drum corps—just down the road.

When told his band must not play "God Save the Queen," he had it play "Long Live Elizabeth."

OTHER PROTESTS

McColl's was not the only protest brought on by the royal visit to Mackay.

Mayor J. Binnington selected his seven-year-old granddaughter, Daphne Newman, to present a bouquet of orchids to the Queen.

But Daphne comes from another town. The townsfolk of Mackay objected to the intrusion of a "foreigner."

Mayor Binnington received several abusive letters, among them an anonymous note which read:

Canada Seen As Arbitrator

By WILLIAM STEWART

HONOLULU (CP)—Canada may find itself with a major job of international interpreting to do as a result of Prime Minister St. Laurent's world tour. It would be the role Canada has played between Britain and the United States—of explaining one to the other.

It was suggested Feb. 26 when the prime minister was near the end of his one-week visit to India. An editorial in the New Delhi newspaper The Statesman called Canada the "bridge" between the Commonwealth and United States.

It said: "Canada can substantially help in interpreting Washington to New Delhi and vice versa." But the new job may be bigger than that.

It may involve interpreting Europe to Asia as well as North America to eastern millions.

The work has been started, not only by Mr. St. Laurent in talks with the leaders of 11 important European and Asian countries but also by Canadian representatives in United Nations organizations and diplomats in about 40 Canadian missions abroad.

REALISTIC INTEREST

The Statesman editorial said Canada's international point of view over the years has been "distinguished by a rare combination of detachment and realistic interest." It also said Canadian views usually are given undemonstratively and are "more effectively represented in the lobby than on the rostrum."

Mr. St. Laurent's tour, concluding Wednesday in Ottawa where it started Feb. 4, followed closely the lines drawn by the New Delhi paper.

The prime minister, who is 72,

1953 Ford Sales Set New Record

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—A substantial increase in the sale of vehicles by Ford Motor Company of Canada, Limited, raised total dollar sales in 1953 to a record, Rhys M. Sale, president, told shareholders today in a preliminary report on last year's operations. Mr. Sale's letter to shareholders said the company's annual report would be mailed about a month from now.

The total value of sales at $309,443,029 was the highest on record, an increase of $41,759,060 over 1952. Sales in Canada totalled $287,469,995, an increase of $59,612,643, or 26 per cent.

Unit sales of Ford of Canada cars, trucks and tractors in domestic and export markets increased 20 per cent to a total of 165,802.

Particularly significant in the 1953 operations was Ford of Canada's increased share of the Canadian market for new passenger cars of the North American type, which rose from 26.4 per cent in 1952 to 32.3 per cent in 1953. Truck sales represented 28.8 per cent of total truck sales in Canada, as compared with 26.9 per cent in the preceding year.

Additional revenue from overseas resulted in an increase of 30 per cent in Ford of Canada's net profit after taxes which amounted to $20,029,513, equal to $12.07 per share, as compared with $15,342,920 in 1952, equal to $9.25 a share.

Eight Children Burned To Death

HOGANSBURG, N. Y. (AP) — Eight Indian children, ranging in age from one to 15, were burned to death early today when a fire levelled their home on the St. Regis reservation near here, state police said.

The youngsters, all children of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cree, were trapped in the flaming house.

Police identified the victims as Doris Susan, 15; Raymond, 14; Francis, 11; Thomas, 10; Merna, 8; Kenneth, 6; Joyce, 4, and Jennifer, 1.

$1,600 Theft By Gunmen

HAMILTON (CP) — Three masked men, armed with a sawed off shotgun and a Luger pistol, robbed an office of the Community Finance Company here of $1,600 today.

The office manager, Hubert Barrell, and a clerk, Robert Macfarlane, were told to "back up against the wall," then bound hand and foot with neckties. The gunmen, masked with white handkerchiefs then took the money from the already opened safe.

The clerk managed to struggle free shortly after the gunmen left and called police.

When the three men entered th office one of them said to Mr. Barrell, "Sorry, pop. We hate to do this, but we're out of work."

The thugs used eight neckties they had brought with them to bind and gag the manager and clerk.

Three Soldiers Explain "Brain-Washing" Methods

By WARREN ROGERS, Jr.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some of the mystery has been stripped from "brain-washing," the process by which Communists make men confess in detail and with an appearance of willingness to things they never did.

Three men in a position to know have publicly given the details that fit into a manuel of brain-washing. They are marine Col. Frank H. Schwable, Maj.-Gen. William Dean and Dr. Joost A. M. Meerloo of New York. All testified last week before the court of inquiry which is trying to determine whether Schwable should be put on military trial for signing a false germ warfare confession after seven months in Chinese Communist captivity.

Dean also was taken prisoner in Korea. Meerloo is a psychiatrist who underwent capture by the Nazis and served in the Dutch underground.

Here, from their testimony, is the technique of "mind murder"—menticide, or brain-washing:

1: Take away all the needs of the human mind and body. Make your victim feel, "I am nothing."

2. While he is ripening into "a mechanical imitator of his tormentors," tell him what you want him to "confess."

3. Interrogate him for as long as it takes—three hours or three weeks—until he is willing to agree, and perhaps believe, that black is white.

4. Use no drugs, except to keep him from temporary escape into unconsciousness. Use no physical torture. That way you can say "we never laid a hand on him."

5. When he has broken, "fatten him up" with all the things he had been denied. As your propaganda drums beat, exhibit him as all the world can see he confessed "voluntarily."

Republicans Face Decisions In Feud With McCarthy

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican party leaders faced critical decisions today on strategy for ending the war between Senator Joseph McCarthy and the army and avoiding an outright break between the Wisconsin Republican and the Eisenhower administration.

McCarthy and Republican leaders seemed agreed that a showdown, at which he and top army officials would testify under oath, is needed to get at the truth in the welter of charges and counter-charges.

But where and when to stage it —and whether publicly or behind closed doors—remained undecided.

One major question was: Should the investigation be entrusted to McCarthy's own sub-committee?

After Vice-President Nixon's speech Saturday night, with its passages obviously directed at McCarthy, the feeling spread that a showdown must come soon.

RECKLESS TALK

Nixon said "reckless talk and questionable methods" in fighting communism played into the hands of administration opponents and that the administration insists procedures used both in the executive and legislative branches must be fair and proper.

McCarthy said Sunday night he will leave Wednesday on a speaking trip which will keep him out of Washington until next week.

He said that if the sub-committee then wants to discuss his row with the army "we will certainly do so."

The feud flared anew last week with publication of an army report alleging that McCarthy and an aide on his Senate investigations sub-committee had put pressure on the army to get special favors for Pte. G. David Schine, a former member of the sub-committee's staff. The report specifically accused the sub-committee's chief counsel, Roy Cohn, a pal of Schine, of backing such demands with threats.

"BLACKMAIL"

"Blackmail" McCarthy retorted. He accused Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens and John G. Adams, army general counsel, of trying to use the drafting of Schine as "a club" against further probing by the sub-committee into McCarthy's charges of Reds in the army.

The Senate Republican policy committee scheduled a meeting for Tuesday, and its leaders said the controversy and possible methods of investigating it will be considered.

2 Men Captured After Wild Chase

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — Two men were captured and a stolen safe recovered early today after a wild, high speed chase along No. 2 highway with provincial constable Harold Howting trading shots with the fleeting car.

Charged in city court with breaking into the Lamont and Perkins drug store and stealing the safe were John Charles Parks, 54, alias John Cooper, no address, and Gerald James Sullivan, 27, of Toronto. They were remanded in custody to March 22.

Sullivan suffered a head cut when the car sideswiped a hydro pole and plowed into a snow bank on a curve just east of Delaware. He also was shot in the right foot by a bullet that police said came from his own gun.

Police are questioning the pair in connection with other week-end breakins in western Ontario. At Woodstock a 400-pound safe containing $1,000 was stolen from the Southside Inn. At Stratford thieves got cash and tobacco worth $800 and at Brantford $100 in cash.

Eight Violent Deaths In Eastern Canada

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Two young boys were drowned in separate accidents in the Maritimes during the week-end. Their deaths brought to eight the number who died violently in central and eastern Canada.

Quebec province counted three deaths, all in separate traffic accidents; Ontario counted two, New Brunswick two and Nova Scotia one.

In Toronto Gary Loader, 4, was killed by a car as he ran across a street and John H. Caldwell, 57, died after a jacket heater exploded in his basement.

Armed Bandits Get $900 Haul

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP) — Two armed bandits made a $900 haul early today at the Wellington market when they held up the owner of the store and locked him in an ice box before making their getaway.

Charles Herman, 41, who lives above the store, said he had just opened up about 7 o'clock when the holdup men pounced on him as he was bringing meat from a large cooler at the rear of the store.

Herman was hustled inside the ice box which was then secured from the outside with a heavy steel flipover catch.

He was released after 10 minutes by a youngster who entered the store.

Falling Lamp Post Kills Kingston Woman

KINGSTON (CP) — A falling metal lamp post, knocked from its base by a skidding truck, today killed Mrs. Edna Dupuis, 50, of Kingston, as she was walking to work.

Police said the driver of the truck, Dolphus Timmerman, of Elginburg, told them he was in second gear because the icy street made driving hazardous.

The truck went out of control on the rink-like street and smashed into the pole.

Interest In "Joe" Beginning To Lag

MANHATTAN, Kan., (AP)—The Manhattan Mercury-Chronicle announced in a front page editorial today it is putting all stories about Senator Joseph McCarthy on an inside page for a week.

"Joe has said he is tired of all the yakkety-yak," the paper said, referring to the Senator from Wisconsin. "So are we. So are most of you."

From talking to many readers, the Mercury-Chronicle's editorial said, the paper has decided McCarthy stories for the most part are being overplayed.

"Unless something unexpected develops this week, you will find McCarthy stories on page 3—just for a change of pace and as kind of a damper on the 'yakkety-yak.'"

LOSS IN EXCESS OF $30,000 was caused by a fire which destroyed the combined dwelling and general store at Plainville, nine miles north of Cobourg, Sunday afternoon, while the owner, Fred Grey and his family were away in Toronto. Only casualty was the family cat which rushed into the burning building, where it was burned to death. Neighbors removed the first-floor furniture before the arrival of Cobourg firemen, who prevented the blaze spreading to a house across the street. Found Not Guilty Of Charge In Fatal Accident

Robert W. Faiers, 19, was acquitted this morning in magistrate's court on a charge of dangerous driving. The charge was laid as a result of an accident last Labor Day in which John Faiers, an uncle of the accused, was killed.

In dismissing the charge against Faiers, Magistrate W. R .Philp said that the Crown had proved no more than that the accused was travelling 40 to 45 miles per hour and might have been "slightly" over the centre of the road.

The accident occurred on a sharp curve on the Lakefield highway near the Grove school. Faiers, travelling north, was in collision with a southbound truck driven by George Labarre, of Toronto. The impact took place near the sharpest point of the curve.

Today defence counsel Donald Bark called Harold Ralph, a passenger in the Faiers automobile, to testify that Labarre had been "two or two and a half feet over the centre line." Earlier a Crown witness, Lloyd Fawns, travelling behind Labarre, had testified that the centre line was imaginary in any case.

There were two main issues in the case, said Mr. Bark—whether Faiers was travelling so recklessly as to justify some degree of criminal misconduct and whether or not he was over the centre line. He pointed out that the curve was poorly banked, that Faiers was not exceeding the speed limit, and that other drivers on the straightaway could not tell with accuracy what was [illegible] the centre line, "especially since this centre line is imaginary."

PERHAPS TRUCK

Mr. Bark thought it equally possible that the Labarre truck could have been over the centre lines, since it would under the best of circumstances have no more than a foot and a half clearance on either side.

Even the most careful of drivers, said Mr. Bark, would be in difficulty on that curve. He cited three factors—the sharpness of the curve, a lack of visibility and the absence of the centre line.

"It is better that 100 guilty men go free than that one innocent man be convicted." These words from an address by Mr. Justice Trevelyan summed up Mr. Bark's attitude. Magistrate Philp agreed that Mr. Bark had provided a logical alternative hypothesis and the case was dismissed.

This afternoon Faiers faces trial on a charge of careless, driving, a lesser charge.

May Run Gas Line Through Timmins

TORONTO (CP) — Consideration is now being given to run the proposed natural gas pipe line from Alberta through Northern Ontario in the Timmins-Cochrane area, R. R. Crozier, provincial fuel controller, said today.

"The feeling is now that the line would go through the north country through the clay belt," Mr. Crozier told the Ontario legislature's sub-committee on gas.

The statement was made during a discussion on the trans-Canada pipe line. W. J. Grummett (CCF Cochrane North) said the great distances in northern Ontario posed a difficult problem for branch lines.

Mr. Crozier said the north country had the incentive to construct the lines due to the high price of competitive fuels in that area. He suggested the towns and cities group together in the construction of branch lines.

Efforts Being Made Identify Crash Victims

SINGAPORE (AP) — Efforts were still being made today to identify some of the charred bodies recovered from the wreckage of the British Constellation airliner which crashed Saturday at Singapore airport, killing 33 persons.

The victims included Alexander J. Wood, 73, of Montreal, a retired milling company executive who was on a round-the-world pleasure trip.

Police said Sunday friends or relatives in Singapore had claimed 13 bodies. The police had identified six others. Fourteen bodies, which were badly burned, had not yet been identified.

Plan To Revive Trade Talks

By ROBERT B. TUCKMAN

BERLIN (AP)—The British promoter of trade talks between British business men and the Chinese Communists said today the collapsed negotiations will be revived soon.

Roland Berger, chairman of the China Trade Committee, said the projected talks, called off the last minute by the Chinese yesterday, were only postponed.

Berger described as an "unsupported allegation" a British foreign office statement linking his China Trade committee with a Communist-front organization.

Negotiations between nearly 40 British business men and an official Chinese Communist trade delegation collapsed Sunday following a warning by the British government to business men to abandon the talks.

Nearly all of the British business men scheduled to fly from London to Berlin Sunday cancelled their plane trips at the last minute.

Three or four said they would see the Chinese here without the sponsorship of the China Trade Committee. At least two business men went to East Berlin today to contact the Chinese trade officials.

appeared as a modest, grandfatherly North American eager to listen and to look. Apart from the leaders of about 700,000,000 persons he chatted with their cabinet ministers, with business men, women, children, newspaper men and captains of honor guards present at almost every airport.

Mr. St. Laurent spoke of one idea:

"We are all of the same human family. All of us want friendly relations and peace to improve our conditions."

Everywhere he found people well disposed toward Canada as a rich young country which over the years has shaken off foreign rule, done its best to solve a racial problem and lived without fear of a powerful neighbor whose actions are widely misunderstood.

WELL-TO-DO SON

In Britain, Canada is looked upon as a well-to-do son, in France as an interesting daughter, in Germany as a competent young technician and in Italy as an upstanding Christian country.

In Pakistan and India, where many own nothing more than the ragged clothes they wear, Canada is regarded as a sympathetic and helpful Commonwealth brother.

To lush Ceylon and Indonesia, also struggling to work out systems of good government, Canada is a democratic model. In busy Japan, the neighbor across the north Pacific, Canada is a good trade prospect.

After spending six weeks talking to people at close to 150 luncheons, dinners, visits and other formal and informal occasions, Mr. St. Laurent returns to Canada knowing that all these countries will appreciate anything Canada can do to achieve two things: World peace and the chance to improve the lot of their prople.

Had Glow On But Not Vagrant

Donald Hantoon, 28, an unemployed snowshoveller from Lindsay acknowledged that he had "a fair little glow on" on the night of March 10 but said he was no vagrant. Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw acknowledged that there was an element of doubt in the case, and the charge was duly dismissed by Magistrate W. R. Philp.

Const. Cec. Bowyer said that he found Hantoon, who makes his home with his mother at 98 St. Patrick St. in Lindsay, somewhat the worse for wear in the city parking lot, trying the doors of a locked car. He told police he was looking for a man he knew only as "Ding."

"Ding" it developed was a friend of Hantoon's who drove him into Peterborough "for a little ride and a few beers" on March 10. Also along for the ride was Gordon Godfrey also of Peterborough.

Asked by magistrate Philp if he had ever been in court in Lindsay, Hantoon replied: "Not very much; not for three weeks."

ONE TOO MANY

Hantoon's Peterborough troubles began when he decided that he had had one too many and left his friends in the beverage room. He headed for "Ding's car", could not get in, and was feeling depressed when Const. Bowyer happened along.

All he wanted to do was go back to Lindsay, said the accused plaintively. In his defence, he pointed out that he had $2.35 in his pockets when arrested and could have stayed in Peterborough if he had felt the urge.

Neither Godfrey nor Ding appeared in court to testify for Hantoon, who acted as his own lawyer.

Barricade Fools City Police

TORONTO (CP)—Even the cops fell for it.

The two barricades, with lamps and red flags, were across Queen's Park crescent, a four-lane road which swings south around the Parliament Buildings. Signs told motorists: "Closed to traffic."

Two police happened on the scene and detoured scores of Sunday drivers.

A newspaper photographer snapped a shot and asked questions.

Nobody knew why the barricades were there. But they found out.

Obviously the work of pranksters from nearby University of Toronto, the cops said.

As the Canadian minister saw it, diplomacy consists of two things—persistent and patient effort to settle differences "with those whom we rightly fear;" and even more important, the search for agreement between friends on policies, tactics and timing, "so that 'our choosing' will mean an agreed collective decision, without prejudicing speedy and effective action in an emergency."

Economic Issues Get Precedence

CARACAS (AP) — Economic issues rated top billing at the 10th Inter-American Conference today, with the United States on the defensive after carrying the ball against communism last week.

Sixteen of the 19 Latin-American countries at the conference supported the United States in warning international communism to stay clear the western hemisphere. Now they want to talk about their economic problems—and they want the United States to listen carefully.

U.S. State Secretary Dulles and the rest of his delegation assured Latin America last week that the United States wants to co-operate on mutually advantageous economic plans. However, the Latin Americans are not likely to be satisfied with anything less than definite commitments that will eventually lead to a solution of their economic problems.

Latin America's principal grievance is that it is not getting [illegible] relation to what it has to pay for finished goods imported from the United States.

The southern republics also want more stability in the price situation. They complain also that they lack sufficient credit for financing economic development of their countries.

RESUMED FIGHTING

The fighting resumed at noon Sunday with a heavy rebel bombardment of the strongly fortified, French-held plain in the heart of the Thai tribal country.

Then, as they had on Saturday, wave on wave of screaming, bugle-blowing rebel troops surged forward against the bristling barbed wire barricades ringing the French positions.

French mobile artillery, tanks, mortars and heavy machine-gun and rifle fire cut down the Vietminh by the scores. Fighters and bombers roared overhead, mowing a wide swath in the charging ranks.

ALL-OUT EFFORT

The legions of Communist leader Ho Chi Minh appeared making an all-out effort to give the French a major setback before the Big Four and Communist China meet in Geneva, Switzerland, April 26 to seek a path to peace in Indo-China.

The French for their part hoped to decimate the ranks of the best rebel divisions and perhaps thus break the back of the Vietminh forces.

The fighting was described as the most savage yet in the seven-year-old Indo-China war.

The Vietminh encircled the fortress, entrenching from 36,000 to 46,000 troops in the surrounding hills. More than 100,000 coolies packed in supplies—mostly from Communist China—over mountain trails.

Late Saturday afternoon the rebels lunged out of the hills by the thousands, cascading against the acres of barbed-wire barricades ringing Dien Bien Phu.

Charles M. Freeburn

LAKEFIELD (ENS)— Funeral service for the late Malcolm Freeburn of Lakehurst, who died in hospital on Wednesday, was held Saturday afternoon from the Hendren funeral home.

A resident of the Lakehurst district for the past 22 years, Mr. Freeburn had been ill for seven months.

Pallbearers were six nephews, Jac kand Ray Harris, and Truman, Rod, Charles and Russell Dunford. Flower bearers were four neighbors, Stanley Barcroft, Gail Elliott, David Irwin and Russell Flynn.

The service was in charge of Kenneth Stewart of Wesley United church. Burial was in Lakefield cemetery.

Mrs. C. A. Robinson

The Rev. Arnold A. Mathews of George Street United Church officiated at the funeral service Saturday for Clara Alberta Robinson, 3 Bellevue Ave., who died Thursday in St. Joseph's hospital, at the Kaye funeral home.

Pallbearers were: Cal, Ross and Gordon Nicholls, Cecil York, William Clarke and Jeffery Dinsdale. Burial was in Bridgenorth cemetery.

CGE APPEAL

The court of revision will resume their hearing Wednesday, at 10 a.m., of the appeal of the Canadian General Electric Co. against their 1953 assessment, it was announced today by Robert Carley, legal counsel for the assessment department of the city. The hearing began Wednesday afternoon. The court is sitting in the general committee room on the second floor of the north wing of city hall.

Does Not Believe Russian Wife Obtained Divorce

FORT WILLIAM (CP)—Patrick Henderson, 35-year-old hydro employee, said today he does not believe there is a word of truth in a report his Russian wife has divorced him in Russia.

The former British embassy employee in Moscow said in a telephone interview he has evidence that his wife, the former Ros Ivanova Kugochova, has been in a concentration camp in Siberia since 1951.

The British foreign office announced during the week-end that information has been received from Russia that the Russian wives of four Britons have divorced them.

Henderson, who works on a hydro project 350 miles northwest of here in the Red lake district, said he will continue to press for his wife's release.

"I am sure that some day, somehow, we will be reunited," he said.

The Hendersons were married in Russia in 1947.

NO WORD SINCE 1951

"I don't believe a word of what they say about divorce," said the Irish-born Henderson, who came to Canada in 1948. He said he has had no direct word from his wife since 1951.

"I had a letter from her in January of that year. I've learned since that she was picked up by the secret police and sent to a Siberian concentration camp."

Henderson said he is acquainted with the three other men, now in the United Kingdom, whose wives are said to have divorced them.

"I am sure they all feel the same way," he said.

Swallows False Teeth In Prison Cell

QUEBEC (CP) — A young man, taken into custody Saturday night on fraud charges, was rushed to hospital where doctors performed an operation and removed a set of false teeth he swallowed shortly after his arrest.

Police, who withheld the man's name, said he was found ill in his cell and a further check showed he had swallowed his teeth.

When arrested, the man allegedly was posing as a medical student trying to collect funds for Laval University.

Sunday the Queen and the duke went out in a small glass-bottomed motorboat to look down at the underwater sights of the Great Barrier reef.

The royal couple spent hours cruising among the islands and coral reefs watching the multi-colored fish and underwater vegetation. Then they went "reefing," exploring the exposed reefs at low tide.

Burning embers were carried to the northeast to land on the roof of a house but Cobourg firemen swept off the roof with streams of water and kept another fire from breaking out.

Firemen connected their portable pump to a well in the lee of the wind and improvised a tin shelter to keep the heat away. From the pump, a hose was directed to a small building just south of the burning building.

The flames burned off hydro and telephone wires in front of the store, but service was restored later.

Development Of Australia Parallels Canadian Boom

The destinies of Australia and Canada are linked in the preservation of the things for which the Commonwealth of Nations stands, the Peterborough Rotary Club was told today by Sir Douglas Copeland, Australian High Commissioner to Canada.

Sir Douglas, a native of New Zealand, said that the post-war development of his adopted country of Australia closely paralleled that of Canada.

Since 1946, he said, there had been three-quarters of a million immigrants, half of whom were new Australians, that is to say from continental Europe. This was a new experience for Australia, if not for Canada, because the Commonwealth country "down under" had hitherto drawn its immigrants from the British Isles.

SUCCESSFUL PLAN

But the immigration had been successfully carried out. An annual "Citizens' Convention" was held in Canberra, the capital, where leaders of government, labor organizations, the law, the clergy and other groups were acquainted with the problems of new Australians.

This increase in population was backed by a natural increase of about a million so that the population now was nine million, compared with seven million before the Second World War. The rate of increase was 2¾ per cent a year so that, like Canada, Australia was expected to double its population in 20 years.

Referring to Australia as the "Timeless Land," Sir Gerald said it was sometimes thought of as a land of "wide-open spaces, horse races and good fellowship.

"It's all there," he said. "But it's apt to leave the impression that there is no great industrial enterprise in the country."

The proportion of investments to gross output, between 25 and 27½ per cent, was exceeded only by that of Canada in the world, he pointed out and proceeded to paint a graphic picture of the giant strides taken by Australia in post-war industrial development.

He compared the Snowy River hydro power development with the Kitimat project in the Rockies. Half the flow of the Snowy River was to be diverted through a tunnel to be cut through the 8,000-foot range of Southern Alps at a level of between 1,000 and 1,200 feet.

UNDER MOUNTAIN

Two of the seven or eight hydro-electric power stations to be operated by this diversion would be built 1,000 feet under the mountain and together would produce four million horsepower. The project was costing a billion dollars.

Australia didn't produce very much iron and steel but more than she needed from the richest ore in the world at Iron Knob, where the output was being doubled to produce two million tons of the cheapest steel in the world, some of which was being exported to the United States.

The pastoral industry is the backbone of the Australian economy, he said. With 125 million sheep, Australia produced a quarter of the world's wool, half of its finest wool and half of its exported wool.

But the wool industry had many enemies, he said chiefly drought and rabbits, so that one always had the feeling that it was on the brink of disaster. Possibly it was this that gave the Australian his carefree appearance.

In the drought of 1945-46, the country lost 25 million sheep.

WAR ON RABBITS

The national research council had developed a virus to control the increase of rabbits and in three years no fewer than 500 million rabbits had perished from the mosquito-borne slayer. As a result, there had been a substantial increase in both wool and beef production.

Wool was still the strongest commodity on the international market, he said, in spite of the fact that it was auctioned in the open market to bidders from all over the world, with no possibility of any rigging of the price.

The research council had also discover certain deficiencies in the soil of a 90-mile stretch of what had been considered an uncultivable area which was being turned into 2 to 3 million acres of profitable mixed farming land. This was one of the schemes which had led to a new wave of optimism.

Sir Douglas reserved his greatest optimism for the Woomera rocket range where the United Kingdom and Australia were making experiments in guided missiles.

A NEW FRONTIER

"You feel there that you are living on a frontier," he said. "The frontier seems to be dying—but not in Canada and Australia."

The speaker also referred with pride to the new National University at Canberra, of which he had been chancellor. Begun six years ago, it now has four graduate schools with an international reputation.

"All this gives us cause for hope that we will march together, building the things for which we stand and making up for the overwhelming difficulties the United Kingdom has had to face," the speaker concluded. "That is our destiny and I hope we will march towards it together to sustain the great Commonwealth of which we are both members.

Bus Chases Car Crashes Into Rear

ORILLIA (CP)—In a freak accident today, a bus pursued an automobile up a side street and collided with it.

Police said bus driver Hugh McLenachan of Mimico applied his brakes as a car driven by Joseph Malloy of Toronto made a left turn. The bus skidded on the icy pavement, swerved into a snow bank, then swung up the same side street Malloy had taken.

Eight Persons Killed U.S. Tornadoes

ATLANTA (AP)—A small army of soldiers, airmen and civilians today formed a cleanup task force in the wake of week-end tornadoes which killed eight persons in central and west Georgia and did more than $23,000,000 damage to property.

Three separate twisters whirled out of the night Saturday and carried their lethal force into Macon, where three died; to a rural area near the central Georgia city, killing three others; and to Lawson air force base, adjoining Fort Benning, where two others were killed.

CHILDREN KILLED

Four of the dead were children and two of those were infants. Seventy persons were injured and 23 were taken to hospital.

The tornadoes slammed into the same general areas where similar storms killed 18 and piled up damage exceeding $30,000,000 less than a year ago.

West Georgia was hit first. What appeared to be the largest of the tornadoes tore a path 600 yards wide across the air base near Columbus. The powerful winds overturned several giant C-119 Flying Boxcars which the air force uses as troop carriers. Eight of the 35-ton craft were destroyed and this contributed heavily to the damage estimate.

Driver So Drunk Needed Lift

who police say was so drunk he had to be carried from his ditched car and undressed in jail, was today convicted of drunken driving.

He was sentenced by Magistrate R. I. Moore to seven days in jail, plus $11 costs or another five days in jail.

The convicted driver was Donald McFadyen, 27, of Lindsay.

GOT NO SLEEP

OPP Constable Jim Plumtree said that early Friday morning he found McFadyen in his ditched car near a dance hall, just west of Lindsay on Highway 7. The accused man had been to a company dance on Thursday night and had been drinking.

McFayden's companion, Viola Freeman of Lindsay, said he had been working on the night shift and then, instead of having a sleep, spent Thursday decorating the hall.

Constable Plumtree and Constable Percy Mark of the Lindsay police said McFadyen didn't wake up when they carried him from his car to the cruiser; nor when they carried him from the cruiser to the jail. In the end they had to undress him and put him to bed.

Besides the jail sentence, McFadyen had his driver's licence suspended and car impounded for three months.

Americans Marching On Their Stomachs

LONDON (AP)—Financial editor Frederick Ellis of The Daily Express described Americans today as "an army of people marching on its stomach." And he heartily approves.

Nine pounds heavier after a two-month trip to the United States and Canada, Ellis wrote enthusiastically of how he put on the weight.

"Big, fat, juicy steaks. Good, red meat twice a day. Chops, ribs of beef, pork, veal—the whole butchers' shop. Anywhere, everywhere.

"No wonder the Americans churn out the goods. No wonder they work and play with such vigor."

In Britain meat still is rationed. The Conservative government has announced, however, that rationing will end in July.

U.S. Dollar At Discount

U.S. To Increase Air Strength Army To Lose Three Divisions

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Defence Secretary Wilson gave Congress today some details of the military "new look" — continued "rapid buildup of air strength" and an army slimmed down by three of its present 20 divisions.

Wilson outlined these plans for the year starting next July 1 in testimony prepared for the armed services sub-committee of the Senate appropriations committee, considering the military budget.

He said the new military plans, evolving from "the crash (emergency) program adopted following the beginning of hostilities in Korea" are "geared to improving our state of preparedness over an extended period of time." He also said:

"The military programs evolving from the 'new look' provide for the rapid integration of new weapons as they are proven and become available."

NEW WEAPONS

And at another point he said:

"Various new weapons have become available in increasing quantity and still newer ones are in the offing."

His comment could have referred to new applications of atomic weapons and to various types of guided missiles, in use or still in test.

On Saturday, a high government source who would not be quoted by name indicated that U. S. nuclear specialists set off a few days ago at the Eniwetok test area the biggest hydrogen blast they have yet attempted.

Wilson projected the air buildup ahead to July 1, 1957, when he said the air force will have 137 wings, plus air national guard and reserve units; the navy 16 carrier air groups and 15 carrier anti-submarine warfare squadrons; the marine corps three divisions and the naval and marine air reserves in a "high state of readiness." Turning to the ground forces, Wilson said:

"Army forces at the end of June will be organized into 17 divisions, 18 regiments and regimental combat teams, and 122 anti-aircraft battalions, together with appropriate supporting elements. This is a reduction of three divisions from the high level achieved during the Korean war. It is the same number of regiments and regimental combat teams and is an increase of five in the anti-aircraft battalions."

FURTHER INCREASE

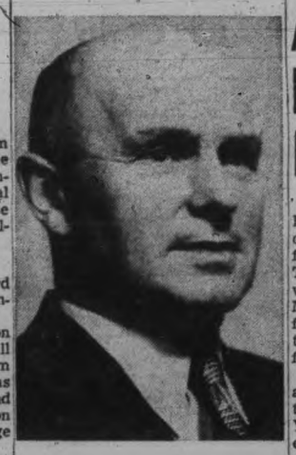
He also said the National Guard anti-aircraft battalions will be increased from 101 to 112.

A year from next June, Wilson said, the navy's active fleet will consist of 1,080 ships, 404 of them major combatant types such as carriers, cruisers, destroyers and submarines. This will be reduction of 49 ships from present average strength.

The Marine corps will continue at the present three-division level.

The secretary gave this accounting of manpower strength:

Total armed force strength next June 3,330,000, with the total a year later 3,047,000. Of this latter total, 1,173,000 will be in the army (strength last December 1,481,200); 689,000 in the navy (December 765,000); 215,000 in the Marine corps (December 243,800); air force 970,000 (December 912,500).



Adventists' Adherents Pass 12,000 Mark

OSHAWA (CP)—Canadian adult membership in the Seventh Day Adventists has passed 12,000, national secretary Eldon L. Green of Oshawa announced Sunday at the annual spring session of the executive board. The session is continuing this week.

Mr. Green said that during the last year more than 730 persons were added to the church membership by baptism alone.

He said tithes and offerings [illegible] average of $55.

William B. Ochs of Washington, president of the North American division of the church, said the spiritual leaders of the church "must set the pace if the laity are to contribute their fullest to the role of community leadership which God requires of his family on earth."

WARDEN REG. McCANN

Counties Warden Honored At Brighton

CAMPBELLFORD (ENS) — A banquet in honor of the new warden of the united counties of Northumberland and Durham, Reginald M. O. McCann, was held in the town hall at Brighton Friday evening.

Speakers at the event included Dr. Fred Robertson, MP, and the Hon. W. A. Goodfellow, minister of welfare.

Following a turkey dinner, a number of toasts were proposed and the more than 250 guests present enjoyed a short musical program.

Highlight of the evening was [illegible] to the new warden and his wife. J. A. George read an address to Warden McCann, who was presented with a silver tray by Owen L. Finlay. Mrs. Ernest Irvin presented Mrs. McCann with a bouquet of roses.

The presentations were made on behalf of the ratepayers of Brighton township, who sponsored the evening.

ADA Does Not Believe Toothpaste Claim

WASHINGTON (AP)—The president of the American Dental Association said today an ADA study group has found no acceptable evidence that any toothpaste now on the market has any special value in preventing tooth decay.

Dr. Leslie M. Fitzgerald said "many of the claims for these products tend to discourage such proven dental health procedures as proper tooth-brushing immediately after eating apd the avoidance of excessive consumption of sugar-containing substances."

Great War Veteran Dies In Guelph

GUELPH (CP) — Col. William Head, 88, postmaster at nearby Everton and a veteran figure in military circles innWellington county died Sunday. A major in the 34th battalion when that unit was mobilized in Guelph in 1915, th First World War and fought at Ypres and the Somme. He was promoted to the rank of colonel on his return to Canada. Later with the Wellington Rifles, he completed 32 years military service.

Foreign Tourists Spend $302,000,000

OTTAWA (CP)—Tourists from other countries spent $302,000,000 in Canada last year, but Canadian travellers more than matched this by spending a whopping $365,000,000 on visits away from home.

The Canadian government travel bureau today said the 1953 tourist expenditure in Canada was a record—10 per cent higher than 1952 and six per cent above the previous record in 1949.

President Dies

HAMILTON (CP)—Harry Bloom, 65, for the past 33 years president of the Coffield Washing Machine Co., died Saturday.

Allen Family Leaves Omemee For California

In the current issue of the Reader's Digest there is an article by Robert Thomas Allen. A footnote explains that Robert Thomas Allen, Canadian writer whose stories have appeared in MacLean's and other publications, formerly lived in Omemee, Ontario, and now resides with his family in California.

That statement is amplified in a letter which Mrs. Allen wrote to their writing friends, the Scott Youngs of Omemee. The Allens emigrated only a few weeks ago, seeking sun and warmth. They have it, at Santa Ana, California, 34 miles from Los Angeles. High temperatures of 85 to 89, average now about 75, and evenings cool enough for a top coat.

A woman real estate agent, native of Brantford, found them a house, away from the smog and the smell of oil wells which clutter the coast. Santa Ana (pop. 50,000) is eleven miles from the sea.

The house? "Houses in good locations are scarce and we were fortunate to get this one. It's well furnished and has wall to wall carpet in living room, dining room, hall and two of the three bedrooms. The kitchen and bath are tiled and the garden is better than I hoped for."

The garden? Hear Mrs. Allen's description of the garden around their pink stucco, Spanish-style house: "There's a fish pond in the yard with about a dozen goldfish in so we can't starve! There's a barbecue pit, too, and fruit trees —orange, lemon, black fig, peach, two plum, avacado, nectarine and [illegible] tall fence of [illegible] yard private. Calla lilies, hyacinths and geraniums are blooming in the garden now as well as a tropical thing called Bird of Paradise and several other flowers still strange to me."

GIANT GERANIUMS

The geraniums are veritable giants. "They grow into shrub-sized plants here, and there is a rose-colored and a red one in our garden, both taller than I am and covered with blossoms."

This house, completely furnished, and this garden, rent for $100 a month, and the price includes water, always a costly item in southern California.

Schools are good, too, for the two Allen daughters. One is in junior high, the younger in a grade school—"a series of one-storey buildings built almost entirely of glass." Both girls are finding the subjects easy. The schools are within walking distance of their new home.

It all sounds like paradise, doesn't it? "In spite of all the good things we miss our friends as we knew we would. We have no reason to be dissatisfied with California. We found here exactly what we were looking for, and we're going to give it a fair trial." And yet they think longingly of Florida, where previously they have wintered, and of the Omemee and Canada they have left, perhaps permanently.

OBITUARIES

JOSEPH ANDREW JOBE

Mr. Jobe was born in Owen Sound, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Jobe. He lived 65 years in Bridgenorth and before that in Peterborough and Owen Sound.

The post office had been run for many years by the family of his wife, the former Hannah Marcey, until Mrs. Jobe's father died in the 1890's. Mr. and Mrs. Jobe took over the store and Mrs. Jobe was postmistress until her death 22 years ago. Mr. Jobe then became postmaster.

A member of Bridgenorth United church, he was also a member of Corithian Lodge AF and AM and the Scottish Rite ,and the Canadian Order of Foresters. At one time he was active in Smith township municipal politics.

The funeral service will be held Tuesday at 2 p.m. at the Comstock funeral home. Burial will be in Little Lake cemetery. t

MRS. FRED SCOTT

A country storekeeper with her late husband at Brickley and Trent River for many years, Mrs. Fred Scott of RR 3, Havelock, died on Sunday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. George Brooks, same address.

Mrs. Scott had been ill for a long time and has been totally blind for the past two years.

She was born in Percy township 78 years ago, Martha Jane, daughter of the late Mathew Greenley and Sarah Richardson. Before going to live with her daughter six years ago Mrs. Scott kept store at Brickley, lived for a while in Hastings and operated a store again at Trent River. Her husband, Fred George Scott, died six years ago.

She leaves one daughter, Mrs. Brooks (Nellie) and one son, Victor Scott, in Campbellford. There are six grandchildren and four great-grandchildren. Mrs. Scott was a member of Trent River United church, of the Trent River branch of the Women's Institute and of Polmont Ladies Loyal Orange Benevolent Association.

Funeral will be held on Tuesday at 2 p.m. at the Brooks residence. The Rev. R. G. Newman of Trent River United church will officiate and burial will be at Maple Grove cemetery.

LINDSAY (ENS)—A Woodville teen-ager, Emery Lemay is in fair condition in Ross Memorial Hospital Lindsay, suffering from head injuries.

Lemay's head was injured when he was thrown from his motor scooter which went out of control south of Lornville late Saturday night.

He was treated at the scene of the accident by Dr. J. B. Cramer of Woodville and rushed to hospital by ambulance. He is being treated by Dr. M. E. Gorman of Lindsay.

C. G. MacOdrum Of PC Party Dies In Hospital

BROCKVILLE (CP)—C. Gordon MacOdrum, 46, member of the Ontario legislature for Leeds, died in hospital here early today. Mr. MacOdrum suffered a cerebral hemmorhage early Sunday evening at his home.

A former mayor of Brockville, he was the son of the late Dr. M. MacOdrum, one-time moderator of the Presbyterian Church in Canada.

Mr. MacOdrum returned from the sittings of the legislature Friday night and carried ou his duies as superinendent of the First Presbyterian church here Sunday. He had been catching up in his work when stricken.

In addition to having taken an active part in municipal affairs as a councillor and mayor, he was also chairman of the board of [illegible] Chief of the Brockville Curling Club and was active in the Masonic and Orange orders.

ELECTED IN 1952

Mr. MacOdrum, who had one of the largest law practices in this part of Ontario, entered politics in 1952 when he was successful candidate for the Progressive Conservative party in the Ontario elections.

He is survived by his widow and two children, and two brothers, Dr. M. M. MacOdrum, Ottawa, president of Carleton College, and Rev. A. S. MacOdrum, Montreal.

Funeral arrangements are not completed.

His death leaves the standing in the 90-seat Ontario House at: Progressive Conservatives 78; Liberals 6; CCF 2; Labor-Progressives 1; Liberal-labor 1; vacant 2.

Fatemi Suffers Relapse In Cell

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—Ex-foreign minister Hossein Fatemi, stabbed by an unidentified assailant, suffered a relapse and vomited blood during questioning in his prison cell Sunday night, an authoritative source said today.

The 41-year-old nationalist firebrand, facing treason charges for his work as chief aide to ex-dictator Mohammed Mossadegh, was quickly shifted by ambulance from Ghasr prisoner to the army's Yussefabad hospital in Tehran.

Informants said preliminary examinations failed to show whether the blood came from wounds Fatemi received after he was captured Saturday in a Tehran hideout or from an old bullet wound in the stomach, inflicted by a youthful fanatic about two years ago.

Police said a bystander knifed Fatemi after the arrest.

Take Precautions Against Polio

CANBERRA (AP)—Rigid anti-polio precautions will be taken when Queen Elizabeth visits West Australia later this month, government sources said today.

Government health authorities are recommending these precautions because of the polio epidemic in the area:

The royal party will get all food supplied from the eastern states or from the royal yacht Gothic; the Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh not to shake hands with any West Australian; no person presented will approach within six feet of the Queen; presentation posies by children will be banned; and all gatherings of children either will be curtailed or cancelled.

Warsaw Couple Mark 63rd Anniversary

WARSAW (ENS)—Mr. and Mrs. George Taylor received congratulations, cards, flowers and phone calls on the occasion of their 63rd wedding anniversary last Thursday. During the day a few friends called.

In the evening, dinner was served in their honor by Mr. and Mrs. G. Dyson in the United church parsonage. Mr. and Mrs. F. Sidey and Mrs. Mabel Anderson were among the guests.

An evening of singing was enjoyed following which tea was served by the host and hostess. Mr. Dyson offered prayer.

Mrs. Taylor celebrated her 81st birthday a few weeks ago.

Minor Mystery

CROWLAND, Ont. (CP)—Police were unable to explain how a thief could enter a coal company here through a window within range of an otherwise efficient watch dog, tethered on a 30-foot leash. The office was ransacked but the intruder left empty-handed.

Death Scandal Breeding Trouble In Rome

By RICHARD EHRMAN

ROME (AP)—A Rome tribunal delving into the scandal death of Wilma Montesi today ordered that the leading mystery man of the case, the Marquis Ugo Montagna, be called to the stand.

His appearance was asked by the lawyer for handsome Silvano Muto, 25-year-old editor accused of printing "false and alarmistic" news about the death of the 21-year-old Roman girl whose body washed up at Ostia 11 months ago.

The court also granted a defence request that Piero Piccioni, son of Italy's foreign minister, and Thommaso Pavone, Italy's police chief who resigned last week after he was mentioned in the case, be called to testify.

Premier Mario Scelba's cabinet meets tomorrow to consider repercussions of the case. A decision may come at that time upon the reported willingness of Foreign Minister Piccioni to submit his resignation if his son's involvment is considered harm to the government.

PROBE POLICE LAXITY

Meanwhile cabinet minister Raffaele de Caro, working on special commission of Premier Scelba, formally opened an investigation of charges of police laxity and high-level misconduct revolving around the Montesi death.

Young Piero Piccioni and former police chief Pavone have both been mentioned in testimony as friends of Montagna.

Investigation into the death was reopened after Muto wrote that Wilma had been left on Rome's Ostia beach after a high-society party at which narcotics [illegible]

Large Herd Of Deer Seen Near Camp Utopia

FREDERICTON (CP)—A herd of from 500 to 600 deer has been spotted on the blueberry barrens of the Camp Utopia area in southern New Brunswick.

Game officials say it was the largest congregation of "white-tails" ever seen in the province and possibly anywhere else.

One group of 65 huddle together in a space not larger than a half-acre block. All appeared fat and in good condition.

Wildlife officials here said deer usually leave the dense forest when spring comes and forage in the open plains for food.

Aircraft Director Sails For Canada

LONDON (CP)—Sir Roy Dobson, managing director of A. V. Roe Aircraft Company, sailed for Canada Saturday on what officials said is a routine visit to the A. V. Roe (Canada) branch at Toronto.

The Evening News reported that Sir Roy will check on "Project Y," a new type of aircraft being developed in Canada by the Roe company and likened to a flying saucer.

Cars Collide Head-on, Drivers Injured

LINDSAY —(ENS)—Two Toronto district motorists were hospitalized Sunday after a head-on collision at the curve on Highway 12 at Sunderland.

Arthur Whymerk, of 6 Calderone crescent, Willowdale, suffered a fractured left leg and bruises and McCluskey, 16, of 101 Holme Ave., Toronto, driver of the other car, suffered shock and bruises.

HEAVY DAMAGE

There was one passenger in each car. Neither was injured. Both cars were heavily damaged.

Whymerk was driving north McCluskey was returning to Toronto when the accident occurred.

Dr. A. G. Berry of Sunderland treated the men at the scene. They were taken to Ross Memorial Hospital, Lindsay, where they were put in the care of Dr. M. E. Gorman.

It is expected McCluskey will be released today.

Mrs. J. Moloney

Funeral for the late Mrs. Johanna Moloney, 98, of RR 11, Peterborough, who died last Wednesday at her residence, was held on Saturday from the Lane funeral home to Church of the Assumption, Otonabee township.

The Rev. W. C. McCarney said requiem mass and graveside prayers, and in the sanctuary were the Rt. Rev. P. P. Butler, and the Revs. Clayton O'Donohue, J. O'Sullivan and J. F. McGuire.

Honorary pallbearers were Joseph Moloney, Joseph Coughlin, Bart Leahy, Vincent Murphy, Charles Brown and John Tiveron. Active pallbearers were Robert Beaubiah, John Mock, Arthur Kelly, Thomas McQuaig, William McCarthy and William McCarthy. Burial was in St. Peter's cemetery.

Plane Lands Tail Down Says U.S. Navy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States navy is giving the public a guarded look at two new airplanes that take off vertically from a "t'ared back" position—and back down, tail first, for landings.

Navy sources said photographs but little information as to capability and construction, will be released Wednesday.

The planes, known as "VTO Fighters" for their vertical take off characteristics, have been built by Consolidated Vultee Aircraft company (Convair), San Diego, and Locheed Aircraft Co., Burbank, Calif.

Persons who have had an advance look at the Convair model the FYI, reported that it stands entirely vertical for take off and landing.

The pilot sits with his back to the ground, feet upward, at the moment of take-off or landing, and apparently has a periscope or a rear-view mirror arrangement to watch the field.

The Lockheed model is reported to be able to take off horizontally. The pilot is enclosed in a cockpit said to rotate somewhat like a seat in a ferris wheel.

Church Asked Give $4,000,000 To Fund

TORONTO (CP)—United Church members will be asked to contribute at least $4,000,000 to the missionary and maintenance fund this year, the church announced during the week-end. Last year's giving were $3,259,590.

Two staff members in the missionary and maintenance department have recently resigned to go into pulpit work. Rev. A. E. Kewley will go to Brant Avenue United church in Brantford July 1 and Rev Robert Morris to Zion United church in Moose Jaw, Sask., May 1.

Firemen Continue Drag River For Body

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — Firemen continued to drag the Thames today for the driver of a car that plunged down the bank and into the river near Dundas street bridge Saturday.

The owner, Ronald Tye, 55, of Ingersoll, has been missing since the accident. His cap was found Sunday floating on the river.

Nothing For Nothing

Like most other major countries in the world, Canada is now a "Welfare State". So of course, is the United States, to a degree which is startling to those who prate about the States as being the home of "Free Enterprise".

* * *

Canada has the baby bonus, unemployment insurance (compulsory on nearly the whole adult working population), free clinics, free care and hospitalization for persons suffering from diseases which, if out of control, could become national menaces (like T.B. and polio). Canada subsidizes agriculture, mining, fishing, aircraft building, and, in one indirect way or another, almost every major pursuit—even the automobile industry through protective tariffs. Canada has compulsory schooling, free schools, and, for those who are highly qualified, virtually free university education (through scholarships, grants and the like.) Canada has universal old age pensions. And such is [illegible] control through taxation and financial measures the incomes of the people and even the rise and fall of economic activity—unless there should be a really major, world-wide boom or slump. The Welfare State has arrived; nearly every business looks up to the Government for guidance, help or permission, and almost every family in the country is in receipt of Government bounty.

* * *

We do not propose here to discuss how good or bad this is for Canada and its people, but we do wish to point out the cost, in actual dollars. Such public welfare measures as Canada now has, cannot be carried on without spending more than a billion dollars a year. Where does the money come from? From taxpayers. Take [illegible] example, the Old Age Security Fund to provide universal pensions for all persons aged 70 or more. The monthly cheques of $40 are going out regularly to hundreds of thousands of people. Budget provision has been made to supply the money—there is, for instance the two per cent. tax included in the income tax bill, and the lien on employers. The Government makes stipulated contributions to the Fund. Despite all this, the Fund has a deficit, which is likely to amount to $150,000,000 by the end of this month. Does this distress the Government or bankrupt the Fund? No. Temporary loans are made from the Treasury. But where does the Treasury get the money? From taxpayers and by mortgaging their future. In this world nothing is got for nothing.

Graft: Ancient And Ubiquitous

Two news stories of recent weeks tell of individuals who were able to make fantastic profits because of their connection or influence with governments or government parties. One told of highly-placed Republicans in New York State who invested sums of $200, $2,100 and $2,500 in harness-racing stock, and who have realized $20,000, $100,000 and $150,000 from their investments. The other story reported the dealings of Mme. Mustafa el Nahas, wife of the former Egyptian Premier, who ran a monthly inheritance of $11.50 and her husband's modest salary into a fortune of millions.

It is an old story, this business of making a fortune by graft through government connections. In Mme. Nahas' country, it probably goes back to somewhere around the Middle Kingdom, if not to the First Dynasty. In the United States, it probably dates from the birth of the nation. The government-backed bank-land sales incident of the 1830's certainly added to the record, which ran on through the Harding regime and Teapot Dome oil to the scandals charged against the Truman Administration and the race-track racket in New York State.

Fraud of this general nature has probably been known in all lands in all ages. The South Sea Bubble brought the expulsion from the British Parliament of Chancellor of the Exchequer Aislabie and several members, either for graft or culpability in some form. John Sadleir won promotion to the post of Junior Lord of the Treasury in Britain before it was revealed that his schemes had resulted in a £400,000 loss to Sadleir's Bank. John Law found it much easier to operate his East India and Mississippi company after he had been made Controller-General of French finances, but this bubble also burst.

And there have been cases roughly in the same category in this country. Francois Bigot was one of the star turns. His grafting—or downright embezzling—is said to have contributed to the fall of Louisbourg in 1744, but he managed to return as Intendant of New France, and became even more impressive, selling supplies at 100 per cent. profit—to Bigot. Another case on the record is the Pacific scandal of 1872-3, in which the Government of Sir John A. MacDonald was charged with accepting $300,000 from the Pacific railway interests. Sir John was acquitted, but a commission found that the party had accepted the money. The Government resigned. At the present, there appears to have been some grafting going on among Ontario Highways Department employees.

The human race has improved tremendously in a number of ways down through the centuries. In some respects, it is still improving and may continue to improve. We doubt, however, that the crooked quirk of human nature that has so often linked graft and government will ever be entirely eliminated.

Prime Minister Would Recognize Red China

Mr. St. Laurent has not been mouthing platitudes during his world tour. He has had the courage—and conscience—to say very plainly in his wise, kind way, some things which might not have been pleasing to the host country. In Seoul he repeated his Government's belief that the Free World—[illegible]ague and rather self-righteous term which Mr. St. Laurent must use with reluctance for want of a better one—that this world which is not Communist must come to recognize the present government of China. His realism must not please [illegible] where he has made the statement.

Britain has recognized Mao Tse-tung's Communist government as the actual government and has thus rejected the pretensions of the Chiang Kai-shek rump in Formosa. India has also given Red China diplomatic recognition. Canada was on the way to recognizing the Mao Government when the Korean War broke out. Now that the Korean War has ended, why withhold the recognition much longer? It is neither statesmanship nor reality to maintain, diplomatically, that the Communist regime in China is not the governing power. Mao has more power over more of China than any other Chinese leader has had in this century. To pretend that his Government does not govern is ridiculous. From reports reaching this country it is possible to believe not only that it is in full control, but that it is governing, on the whole, very well indeed.

What Did The 63 Nurses Learn?

Last week in Columbus, South Carolina, two condemned men were legally killed in electric chairs. The double electrocution was witnessed by, among others, 63 student nurses. They came from the nearby state hospital. Some of the girls cried, some fainted.

Why this barbaric exhibition? One official said that the nurses attended because of "an unusual interest in the sociological aspects of community life." Who had the "unusual interest"—the student nurses, or their superiors and officials who permitted the outrage? Surely the act of putting a criminal to death is the very negation of community life. Whatever the "unusual interest", it was a morbid perverted one, and not sociological. There is nothing but its horror to be learned from a public execution except by a medical scientist or a jail technician. In the old days of public hangings the excuse for them was that they deterred the populace from crime. Were the 63 student nurses invited to witness the gruesome executions in South Carolina because they were potential criminals? We hope not.

Barbarity seems to flourish and linger longer in warm climates than in cold, but this does not condone and should not explain the public spectacle made of the double executions in that southern American state last week. The 63 nurses savaged themselves if they willingly attended the execution. If they were led into it by others, their seducers ravaged the nurses with a brutality and barbarism shocking even in a primitive state.

Legislative Committee To Investigate

For the sake of maintaining the good reputation of the Frost Government and to reassure the people of this Province through their elected representatives in the Legislature, it is desirable that the irregularities disclosed in highway acounting should be examined in the public of parliament. Previously, the Ontario Government had been satisfied to hand over the investigation to a firm of private accountants. This is not enough. Whatever pilfering, fraud or larceny has occured has been at the expense of the public purse. The public, through its representatives, has a right to investigate. Premier Frost recognizes this right through his notice of motion to appoint a committee of the Legislature to go into the whole matter, and to examine witnesses under oath.

London Theatre In Crinolines?

By IVOR BROWN

IT can hardly be denied that the London Theatre is living to some extent, perhaps far too much, upon its past, and also that it is excessively concerned with child's play. When (long after Chrismas) first-night audiences are summoned in successive weeks to see such old favourites of the slap-and-scamper kind as 'The Private Secretary' (1884) and 'Charley's Aunt' (1892) and a modern joke on the adolescence of 'Little Lord Fauntleroy' called 'Angels in Love' (his little Lordship had his literary birth in 1882) it may fairly be asked whether we are not burying our heads in antimacassars and clothing the Muse of Comedy excessively in leg-of-mutton sleeves, bustles, and crinolines.

✧ ✧ ✧

WHEN one inquires what Mr. Noel Coward is contriving one learns that he has retired to the West Indies and made an operetta out of Oscar Wilde's 'Lady Windermere's Fan', which is now on tour. So here is another return to the eighteen-nineties. We were expecting to see one new farce with Robertson Hare and Ralph Lynn called 'Liberty Bill.' But that was deemed to need further alterations and repairs and production was delayed. Meanwhile serious drama is being represented by Shaw's 'Pygmalion' (1914). The fact that it is very well handled by John Clements and Kay Hammond only calls attention to the fact that they preferred this to anything new that had come their way. It is also worth mentioning that the most popular British 'musical,' 'The Boy Friend' is a laugh at the expense of the musical comedies of thirty years ago.

✧ ✧ ✧

ASK any manager why this sort of thing happens and he says 'There aren't enough or indeed any, good new plays.' Ask a dozen, or a hundred, disappointed dramatists, and they will say 'We have the plays and nobody likes them,' possibly adding, 'And nobody bothers to read them.' The later remark is, I think, untrue, though [illegible] and carelessness in the handling of typescripts does occur in some offices. The former statement about dearth of good, actable material is more to the point.

✧ ✧ ✧

BUT the contemporary dramatist whose work is staged also has his grumble: it is against the critics. He can protest that when a new play of serious intention does come along, it is submitted to far more rigorous criticism than is ever given to trifles. Charles Morgan could justly complain that his piece, 'The Burning Glass' was marked upon with greater eagerness to find faults than with willingness to welcome something that confronts an audience with some mental challenge.

✧ ✧ ✧

'THE BURNING GLASS' does tackle one of greatest problems facing mankind today, the triumphs of science which now chiefly create a new dread of those triumphs. Has man become too clever by half? Can we be trusted with further control over Nature and its hidden sources of almost infinite power? Even if those powers are not used for destruction, is it to human advantage that they should be used at all? These are queries that all the nations have now to meet.

✧ ✧ ✧

TO QUESTION whether all Morgan's characters are real and fresh may be legitimate, but the point at issue is not that he did (or did not) fail with his people but that he did bring forward and discuss an idea of vital (or lethal) importance and an idea most pertinent to our hour in history. In short, he was treating his audience as possessing an adult intelligence and intellectual curiosity which is a dismally rare thing to do. If he had knocked up a 'sexy' trifle or had jested among the crinolines the criticisms would probably have been far gentler. I was shocked by some of the nagging that his play received. I hope it survives and flourishes, not because it has no weak elements but because it has one strong merit. It admits an argument on a theme that is obviously of supreme, importance, which is one of the things that the drama ought to be doing.

IF 'The Burning Glass' can establish itself in favour, it will have a long run, for one of the phenomena of the time is the extraordinary long runs which can be had if the first few months are weathered. The phrase 'an obstinate success' has been earned by quite a number of plays and then theatre-space is occupied for years at a time. Nothing, for example, can stop those 'Seagulls Over Sorrento' from circling over the West End, while year after year audiences are reductant to say good-bye to "Reluctant Heroes."

✧ ✧ ✧

IT IS NOT good for the theatre that runs should be counted by the year rather than by the month, though the authors and actors concerned will not thank me for saying so. The suggestion has been made that Entertainment Duty should be remitted in all theatrical productions for the first six months of the run, so that initial expenses for scenery, costumes, rehearsals, etc., could be paid off more easily. After that the tax would begin and it would mount steadily so that beginners would be helped to success during their hazardous youth while veteran successes would be encouraged to get out of the way.

✧ ✧ ✧

IT is certainly a suggestion that needs consideration, since the trouble now is the ever-mounting cost of production which, plus Entertainment Duty, makes managers naturally shy of trying new plays on new themes. With criticism ready to snipe at the new and ambitious while it gives at least a tolerant shrug of the shoulders to the old and trivial, it is not altogether surprising that those who have to make increasingly heavy investments when new plays are staged should prefer to offer an old favourite with the drawing-power of popular star-names.

✧ ✧ ✧

IT IS ALSO TRUE that the public of today is excessively influenced by box-office Names. It is almost impossible to get important 'dates' in the country or a site in London without them. Thus the new dramatist has not only to please a manager; his play has to please a star or stars who would like to appear in it. Consequently it may lie on the shelf for a long time while the manager is trying to provide the kind of cast whose magnetic names can recommend it to the public.

✧ ✧ ✧

IT is a hard time for writers of new plays who seek London and its larger market because London managers find old plays safer and claim they can only stage new plays at the top level of production if players with 'box-office names' —and there are not many of these— are attracted to play in them.

An American View:
A CHANCE TO GET OUT OF THE BOILING SUN

If Spain Wants Florida Back

SPAIN is again pressing its claim that it owns Gibraltar and saying that the British had better jolly well go home. The Spaniards have been holding demonstrations and throwing stones to show that they mean business.

The British explain politely that they intend to hang on to Gibraltar, that they own it and that they are getting tired of replacing broken windows in the Madrid embassy.

And the British come up with documentation of their claims. The Treaty of Versailles signed in 1783, explains the British included an agreement by which Spain renounced all claim to Gibraltar. In return the British recognized Spain's claim to Florida.

Spain later (in 1819) sold Florida to the United States. If you want Gibraltar, the British say unofficially, just give Florida back to us.

All we've got to say is that General Franco better not try to seize Florida. Any army that tried it would be lured ashore by bathing beauties, talked to death by real estate agents and buried under publicity releases on sunshine, orange juice and places to retire when its members were 65.

STOP WHINING ABOUT RUSSIA'S WIN

Sir: I followed with a great deal of interest the recent games in the World Hockey Championships. Canada did real well the first six games, 6 wins, no losses. Russia did just about equally well; 5 wins, 1 tie. Two excellent teams.

Then came the big play-off and Russia won fair and square seven goals to two.

While Canada won six games in a row, no one offered any excuses for them. They were just proving their superiority over European players. But when they got severely beaten in the seventh game, Oh my, the uproar across Canada. "Our boys did not know the rules." The Canadian team had to play on soft sloppy ice. I wonder what the Russian team was playing on while the Canadians were on the soft sloppy ice? If the Canadian team had not learned the rules and regulations by this time they could blame no one but themselves.

This has been the cheapest display of rotten sportsmanship I think ever exhibited over any games anywhere. This team went to represent Canada. If the Canadian people don't like the results, why not take their beating like true sports and admit the best team won (this time)?

Next year, if some of these 'Big Brother' teams that are getting so hot under the collar because Russians defeated the Canadian representatives, want to go over and beat the pants off the Russian team, let them officially enter the team of their choice (perhaps Toronto Maple Leafs) instead of these sixth raters; and play the game to win for Canada.

All this crying, whining, belly-aching and excuses over a fair and square defeat is disgusting, to say the least.

By now some readers will think I am a Communist sympathiser. I am Canadian born of Canadian born parents, English and Irish descent and I am 100 per cent for Canada.

I like to follow sports such as hockey and baseball. But the most important thing about sports is true sportsmanship, win, lose or draw.

O. L.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And the whole earth was of an language, and of one speech.

And it came to pass, as they journeyed from the east, that they found a plain in the land of Shinar; and they dwelt there.

And they said to one another, Go to, let us make brick, and burn them thoroughly And they had brick for stone and slime had they for mortar. And they said, Go to, let us build us a city and a tower, whose top may reach unto heaven; and let us make us a name, lest we be scattered abroad upon the face of the whole earth.

And the Lord came down to see the city and the tower, which the children of men builded. And the Lord said, Behold, the people is one, and they have all one language; and this they begin to do: and now nothing will be restrained from them, which they have imagined to do. Go to, let us go down, and there confound their language, that they may not understand one another's speech.

So, the Lord scattered them abroad from thence upon the face of all the earth: and they left off to build the city. Therefore is the name of the place called Babel: because the Lord did there confound the language of all the earth: and from thence did the Lord scatter them abroad upon the face of all the earth. (Gen. 11: 1-9.)

Let's Not Hobble Competition

(Calgary Herald)

We wish that some people would spend about one-tenth as much energy striving to make free enterprise and free competition a reality as they do in talking piously about it.

Too many of them seem to operate on the principle that all-out competition is a wonderful thing . . . in any other business but theirs.

Too many of them, while paying lip-service to the principle of free competition, spend a great deal of their time trying to make their own fields of endeavour nice and tidy and cozy for themselves and their [illegible] "competitors," and the idea of giving the poor old customer a genuine break once in a while comes far, far down the list of priority considerations.

Some merchants have been busy at Ottawa the fount of all power, recently, trying to get the government to slap a total ban on what are known as "loss leaders." Loss leaders are honest bargains which entice customers into shops and stores, and the merchants who use this bait do so in the hope that the customers, while in the stores, will buy some other things which, in the long run, will make up for the low price on the loss leader.

We cannot, for the life of us, see what is wrong with this. And we certainly can see no sane reason why the government at Ottawa should be asked to pass a law against it. If a man has items in stock which he wishes to sell cheap, at cost or below cost, for whatever reason, then we hold that this is absolutely and entirely his own business. Nobody is going to get rich selling his stock at cost or below cost, and any merchant who pursued this policy long would disappear from the commercial scene, having hurt nobody but himself.

Homemakers Told How To Save Time And Energy

BETHANY (ENS)—Miss Helen Downie, representative of the Women's Institute Branch and Home Economics Service of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, spoke on "Shortcuts for the Homemaker" in Bethany on Friday afternoon.

Showing a film strip "Take Time To Make Time", Miss Downie said most homemakers do not avail themselves of the possible shortcuts to save time. They do not make their equipment work for them. Learn to sit at as many tasks as possible. Learn to lift without tiring all the back muscles. Learn to use both hands at once.

Women walk many unnecessary miles in their kitchen; even if they have modern cupboards, etc., because they do not first plan their work. "Use your head to save your heels" is an old saying that still holds true. Plan ahead for good food. Follow the food guide for health. See that your menus include milk, fruit, vegetables, whole grain bread and cereals, meat and fish (use liver frequently). Use eggs and cheese at least three times each week.

Plan ahead for appetite appeal. Meals are more enjoyable when we plan for contrasts in color, flavor, texture, appearance and temperature. Plan ahead to save time. When you know exactly what you are going to serve, you waste no time standing in the middle of the kitchen wondering what you can produce in a hurry. Plan ahead to save energy. Keep on hand a good supply of homemade mixes ready for emergencies.

A wise homemaker keeps a weekly shopping list handy. It isn't a poor memory that makes you take your shopping [illegible] to the stores . . . it is wise forethought. Use oven meals frequently when your days are especially busy.

A sample menu planned for one week was given, as well as numerous recipes. Proper cooking of meat was discussed.

At the close of her lecture, Miss Downie held a discussion period, with each member given the opportunity to ask questions re menus and time saving devices. Each one present contributed one of their own best short-cut discoveries. Booklets containing sample menus and cooking shortcuts were distributed to the 50 ladies present.

The speaker was introduced and thanked by Mrs. Thomas Jennings, president of the Bethany Women's Institute.

Canadian Ministers Get Preview Of Eisenhower Tariff Program

By HAROLD MORRISON

WASHINGTON (CP) — Despite opposition in some Republican quarters, President Eisenhower has decided on a program of tariff cuts and his proposals will be placed before Congress within the next two weeks, diplomatic officials disclosed today.

At the same time he will ask Congress to extend the U. S. Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act, which expires next June, for another three years, thus paving the way for a possible fourth post-war round of tariff bargaining early next year.

[illegible] will be unveiled for a confidential preview at Tuesday's meeting of senior Canadian and American cabinet ministers.

The eight ministers, including U.S. State Secretary Dulles and Canada's External Affairs Minister Pearson and Trade Minister Howe, will meet at the first formal conference of the Canada-U.S. economic and trade committee.

Other members will be Agriculture Minister Gardiner and Finance Minister Abbott of Canada and U.S. Treasury Secretary Humphrey, Commerce Secretary Weeks and Agriculture Secretary Benson.

ASK COMMENT

The big issues at the moment are American tariffs and U.S. programs to dispose of a portion of huge stockpiles of food which threaten to clob world markets and reduce established prices.

Informants said Canadian ministers will be asked at the meeting to comment on Eisenhower's proposed tariff-cutting program and to offer suggestions for possible changes. If the Americans agree, the changes may be incorporated in the program before it is presented to Congress for approval.

Meanwhile Canadian ministers are preparing to ask the U.S. for an "understanding" that American food disposal programs are not applied in such a way that they wreck world markets and prices for Canadian products.

The Canadians have in mind particularly Eisenhower's Jan. 20 recommendation to Congress that $1,000,000,000 worth of commodities held by the government be used over a period of three years to "strengthen the economies of friendly countries. . . ."

GIVE-AWAY PROGRAM

Canadians fear that the U. S. government may be preparing to embark on a major food give-away program which might drastically reduce the world market for Canadian surpluses, particularly in wheat.

The Canadian ministers Tuesday are likely to request a promise that the U.S. will not proceed with Eisenhower's proposed program until consultations are held with Canadian officials.

While details of Eisenhower's tariff proposals are not known, they likely will fall in line with the recommendations of the presidential foreign - policy advisory committee headed by industrialist Clarence Randall.

Riddled by dissensions, the 17-man commission recommended [illegible] over a three-year period. The dissenters from the majority report are key figures in Congress, indicating that Eisenhower will face a tough battle in getting his measures through.

Naked Russian Takes Cold Dip

VIENNA (AP)—A naked Russian soldier took a cold bath Sunday in the Danube canal and gave Austrian and international police a chilly half-hour.

The soldier was one of three who started a brawl in an Austrian tavern. When the four-power international patrol arrived, two of the Russians gave up.

The third raced away flinging off his clothes as he ran. Finally, completely naked, he jumped into the canal.

An Austrian policeman swam after the Russian and pulled him to shore. But the Russian jumped back and battled the efforts of the Austrian and international police to fish him out.

Finally, before 1,000 amused Viennese, the police led him forcibly to his clothes and made him put on his uniform again.

Lunch was served by the hostess.

Father Executed

[illegible], Pa. (AP)—Oscar McGrew, 36, convicted of slaying his three-year-old son, was executed early today in Pennsylvania's electric chair. Police said the shooting of the child in May, 1952, was the outgrowth of McGrew's failure to bring about a reconciliation with his estranged wife, Mary Nell McGrew.

Housewife Packs Woollies Ski Safari Through Rockies

ANCASTER, Ont. (CP) — Mrs. Peter Austin and her husband have been making earnest preparations for a tough ski expedition in the Rocky mountains.

They have been tramping around this district near Hamilton in ski togs, loaded with packs containing 50 pounds of sand.

It's part of the training for a ski safari in the Rockies which they and five other skiers will start March 28. Mrs. Austin, who won the Canadian ski championship in 1937 when she was Peggy Johannsen, is the only woman on the trip.

MOTHER OF TWO

Mrs. Austin, 35-year-old mother of two children, is making preparations for Peter, 11, and Karen, eight, to be well cared for while the parents are away for three weeks.

She is eager for the journey, however. "It's the first time such a trip has been attempted, so I'm counting the minutes," she said.

The party, officially titled "1954 Canadian icefields ski expedition," will follow an arduous 200-mile route through rugged mountain passes and over eight glaciers. The members will prepare a report on food and clothing for defence research authorities.

RUGGED VENTURE

Despite the rugged nature of the expedition, Mrs. Austin is making bets that she will gain weight. Members will carry 40-pound packs including food, bedrolls, small gasoline stoves, lightweight tents and other necessities.

Their food—and they will need at least 4,100 calories daily to keep up their energy—will all be in small, handy packages.

EFFICIENT CLOTHING

Temperatures will be frigid so Mrs. Austin is packing gear which is practical. She's packing a string vest next to her skin for circulation, long woollen underwear, a ski shirt, two sweaters and a nylon parka. Also included are snow goggles and three pairs of mitts.

The trek will include Peter Bennet of Oakville, organizer; Murry Shively, insurance agent; Dr. Alan-Bruce Robertson, doing graduate work at the Banting Institute and Pat Boswell, staff member of the CBC, all of Toronto. John Dupre of Banff will be guide.

New Landing Device For Jet Planes

LONDON (Reuters)—The Royal Navy Sunday disclosed a new ship-to-plane signalling device designed to allow pilots to land supersonic jets safely on the pitching flight deck on a carrier at sea.

The device consists basically of a large mirror which the pilot watches as he comes in for a landing. The pilot keeps his eye on a spot of light reflected from it. Movements of the light, worked out by an automatic device on the ship, tell him when he is coming in at the correct angle.

The admiralty announcement explained that modern jet planes approach the flight deck too rapidly to allow time for customary hand singnalling.

The new aid means that carriers now will be able to operate the fastest planes in service.

Finns, Soviet Negotiate

HELSINKI (Reuters) — A Finnish delegation headed by Trade Minister Teuva Aura has gone to Moscow to negotiate a new five-year trade pact with Russia. Russia now is Finlan"s principal trading partner. The present long-term agreement, concluded in 1950, expires next year. Under it Russia supplies grain and various raw materials in return for ships, machinery and other products.

Godfrey Wins Award

[illegible], Va. (AP) — A 1953 Virginia award for "outstanding contributions" to aviation will be presented in the near future to Arthur Godfrey, who recently lost his pilot's licence on a reckless flying charge. Godfrey has decided to accept the award, which could not be presented last year because the radio-TV entertainer was in hospital.

4 Britons Told Russian Wives Divorced Them

LONDON (CP)—Four Britons—one of whom now lives in Canada—have been told officially their Russian wives divorced them in the Soviet Union.

The foreign office wrote to the four telling them this information was received by Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden from Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov.

One of the four is Patrick Henderson, 35, who married the former Rosa Ivanovna Kugochova while he was working at the British embassy in Moscow in 1947. He came to Canada in 1948 and now is employed on a power project at Manitou Falls, near Fort William for the Ontario hydro-electric power commission.

For several years, Britain tried without success to persuade the Soviet Union to allow the wives to join their husbands. Eden raised the question at the recent Big Four conference in Berlin. Molotov sent notification that the marriages had been dissolved.

Since the Russians imposed a ban on Russian wives leaving the Soviet Union, only one has been allowed to join an English husband. She was Mrs. Klara Hall who left Russia with her seven-year-old son and joined her husband, an employee of the British information service in Ottawa.

Six Russian wives of American citizens have been permitted to leave as has the Russian wife of a Chilean.

Fenella Ladies Hold Successful Card Party

FENELLA (ENS)—The March meeting of Fenella Women's Institute was held as an open meeting when the members entertained their families and friends of the community. This meeting was held Thursday evening, March 11, in the hall, with an attendance of 21 members and a number of visitors.

The secretary-treasurer was requested to forward to the district treasurer $22.23 for the scholarship fund and $1 for "Home and Country" magazine; $20 was forwarded previous to this meeting for the presidents' conference being held in Guelph in May.

Mrs. N. C. Leach and Mrs. Frank Down were elected to assist at Roseneath with the TB survey when it comes up in May or June.

The meeting adjourned for a card party. Fourteen tables were played, with ladies' high going to Mrs. Carl McNaughton and gent's high to Marcus Lonsberry; ladies' low, Mrs. W. H. Sandercock; men's low, Kenneth Waldie. A lucky chair prize was won by Mrs. Beecher McDonald. Sale of home made candy during the evening brought in $5.

Lunch was served and a social time enjoyed.

Haphazard . . .

The other day we heard of a professor who had a peculiar system for marking examination papers. The papers he set were always of the essay type : : : that is, each question was to be answered by a short essay. On his retirement, he made a confession.

"The questions I asked were always ones for which there were no hard and fast answers. Therefore, it was difficult to decide which were right and which were wrong. There were three steps leading down from my office and at examination time I would stand at the top and drop all the papers. The ones that landed on the top step got A's : : : the ones that landed on the second step got B's : : : those that landed on the bottom got C's."

It might be considered an understatement to say that the professor's methods were slightly haphazard. Unfortunately, many investors use methods equally as haphazard when buying securities. They may neglect to investigate before they invest : : : they may buy on tips or rumours and let enthusiasm run away with good judgment : : : they may invest without purpose : : : or even make an indiscriminate selection of securities, sound in themselves, but unsuited to their particular requirements.

If your investment buying or investment planning has been inclined to be a bit haphazard, we think we can help you. We can help you appraise the securities you now own : : : we can help investigate the securities you may be thinking about : : : we can help you plan a future programme.

Appraising, investigating, planning, are parts of our service which are available to you for the asking : : : personally, or by mail. Experienced people will welcome you in any of our offices.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

The luck o' the Irish surely attended the stellar efforts of one Robert O'Shropshire, who calls Orillia home. On Saturday night, the O'Shropshire was not only an excellent hockey goaltender but one draped heavily with horse-shoes and wearing a bunch of four-leafed clovers in his locks. Which is by way of saying that the Orillia Pontiacs pulled out a 3-2 victory over the Petes and they can thank their goalie and their lucky stars, as the Petes outplayed them by a goodly margin in this melee. Their winning goal in the last half minute of the game tied up the senior "B" group semi-finals at 3-3 and puts it down into a sudden-deather here tonight. Winner this eve at Civic goes into group finals Wednesday 'gainst Oshawa, and the loser is all through for this season.

* * * * * *

A quick check of the calendar shows that there will be some seven weeks before lacrosse blossoms again on the local scene, so let's not wrap up our hockey season tonight and put it in moth balls so early. Let's at least have group finals to fool around with for the next few weeks. It's that important—this playoff here tonight—and well both clubs realize it. One will definitely be all through ere 11 bells this p.m. here. Couldn't it be Orillia, please? The Pontiacs will certainly shoot the works, and the Petes will give it all they have. This has been a stiff series as everyone predicted, and it's just a tossup tonight in the deciding joust of the set. Better come early if you want a look at it.

They Deserved To Win

You couldn't fault the TPT-ers for their loss Saturday. They labored lustily all the way and deserved a win. Had more of the play in every period, but couldn't put more than two pucks past Shropshire. The O's had trouble, too, getting their three by Donlevy. Best game they've seen up Orillia way for years, a close, hard-hitting and exciting battle with the winning marker coming in the last half minute. You can't come much closer than that to a tie tilt, eh? Nearly 300 fans from Peterborough were on deck and made plenty of noise to swell the continuous uproar of a playoff puck crowd. One fight on the ice, a near fans-players' free-for-all, and sizzling action the last two periods after a careful opening stanza—it all added up to some fun. But a toughie for the Petes to drop. They've just got to win tonight.

Ere we forget it, here's the pro mat card for the Peterborough Arena this Wednesday night. Fred Atkins meets the towering Texan, Tex McKenzie in the main bout. Semi-final pits Ike Eakins against Ramon Cernandas. Earl McCready goes against Alan Garfield of England in the prelim. But of more interest to us is the fact that Jack Dempsey will referee the main bout. The Manassa Mauler is a rough-and-ready gee, a guy who lets plenty go as he never liked refs when he was world's heavyweight boxing champ, but a man who takes nothing at all from any grappler who tries to push him around. He's probably worth half a million, but loves the ring, and that's why he is still refereeing.

Six Hoop Clubs Erased

Seven Peterborough basketball teams travelled out of the city on Saturday for important playoff games, but only one of the clubs met with success. The male Regents won by 10 points in Orillia to open their OABA intermediate "B" playdown series, and the return match is here next Saturday eve. PCVS and SPS teams fell by the wayside in the COSSA playoff tournament up Toronto way, as peninsula squads took most of the honors. Belleville came through with the boys' junior "A" crown. There'll be some hoop play here yet this spring but the sport will taper off rapidly. Down at the YW they're still engaged in intermediate semi-finals with the set resuming on Friday.

* * * * * *

An all-time American Hockey League record for assists has been set by George (Red) Sullivan, who learned his shinny in Ashburnham. On Friday last the redhead set up three goals for Hershey Bears to run his total assists for the season to 79. The previous high mark was 76 set by Ab DeMarco at Buffalo three years ago. Sullivan, of course, still leads the AHL in total points and looks a cinch to hold this crown as the schedule runs out. A great puck battler, Red has a lot of followers here. Broke into OHA junior "B" action a couple of years after the war with Lakefield, then played here before stepping up to junior "A" at St. Catharines. Has played with Boston Bruins and should be back up there now. Sully is some shucks at softball here in the summers, also.

Niagara Falls, Notre Dame Crush City Teams' Hopes In COSSA Championship

By DON GRANT

High School basketball teams from the Niagara Falls district have done it again. They completely crushed the hopes of six Peterborough teams for COSSA titles Saturday in the annual tournament in Toronto.

After a record season in the lakeshore district, Peterborough quintets from St. Peter's, High and PCVS numbered six entered in the championship play. All six went down to defeat either at the hands of Niagara Falls Collegiate or Notre Dame High of Welland.

Provincial champions for the past three years, Niagara Falls Red Raiders, paced by Larry Triano and Burleigh, easily cast aside PCVS Garnet and Grey seniors 77-49 in the semi-final "A" play. If possible, the Raiders were much better than the Raiders of the three championship years.

Zoltan Temesey's seniors matched the Raiders in the opening minutes but after Doug Ash received four personal fouls, weakening the PCVS offence, the Raiders began to pull away.

TAKE EARLY LEAD

Emphasizing quick breaks, smooth passing plays and excellent shooting, the Raiders jumped to a 19-11 score in the first quarter. After that they were always in command as Triano and Burleigh led the Raiders to a 38-22 half-time score and then 58-36 third-quarter score, finishing just as strong.

Junior Paul Davis was pressed into service in the senior game when fouls hit the senior quintet. The lanky star was the only Garnet and Grey to reach the double figures in the scoring with 14 points.

Meanwhile Triano, with short set shots and layups, led the scoring with 22 points. Teammate Burleigh added 18 more with arching long shots and driving in layups.

Without a doubt the Raiders should once more become Ontario's top high school team.

The day's greatest disappointment was the showing of the St. Peter's senior Saints against Notre Dame in the "B" semi-finals. The favored Saints, making their first attempt for a COSS title, were upset 42-35 by a fourth quarter rally by Notre Dame.

At any other time the Hilly Yudin-coached Saints were 20 points better than Notre Dame, but high scoring stars Doug Galvin and Al Ryan had their worst games of the season. They were virtually held off the scoresheet. But then the poor officiating by Bruce Cunningham didn't help matters any either.

The Welland quintet took a three-point lead in a low-scoring 7-4 first quarter. Then Dave Quinlan with his jump shot rallied the Saints in the second and they went ahead 21-17 at the half. They still had a slight lead at three-quarters but it fell in the fourth.

Quinlan was the only effective scorer for the Saints with 22 points. Oshey, with eight points on foul shots, paced the Dame quintet with 26 points.

An 18-point first quarter by Niagara Falls junior girls' quintette provided the day's second big disappointment for Peterborough. That large lead enabled them to win 33-18 over Mabel Gillen's PCVS juniors.

SHELL-SHOCKED

Seemingly shell-shocked, the PCVS lasses watched the Niagara girls run up an 18-1 first quarter score and then cling to that lead. After that the Peterborough girls carried more than their share of the play, but the ball didn't want to go through the hoop. They stayed behind 22-7 at the half an d32-10 at the three-quarter mark.

Janet Hughson and Bernice Callan helped PCVS outscore Niagara 8-1 in the fourth as they completely outplayed the victors.

Carol Cowie and Louise Burberry did the damage for Niagara, each scoring 12 points. Meanwhile the PCVS star was again Callan with 13 points.

Dogged by poor officiating, again by Bruce Cunningham, Johnny Lynch's junior Saints lost out in the junior "B" semi-finals to a tall Notre Dame quintet 51-35.

The mistakes made in the scoring and officiating were unbelieveable, especially for a championship tournament. The Notre Dame players were numbered incorrectly on the score sheet. The scorer became mixed up in awarding personal fouls and

Falls' Raiders Win Senior "A" Over St. Andrew's

The favored Niagara Falls CI Red Raiders became COSSA senior "A" champions Saturday night when they defeated St. Andrew's College of Aurora 97-66. They will advance on later this month to defend their provincial title which the Raiders have held for the past three years.

At the same time Notre Dame of Welland edged past Albert College of Belleville 52-47 in the senior "B" final, Belleville collegiate won the junior "A" defeating Linwell in overtime 58-57 and Notre Dame junior became junior "B" champions, defeating Trenton High 54-44.

With greater ease than when they defeated PCVS Garnet and Grey seniors in the semi-final, Niagara led 25-15 by the first quarter, 49-31 at the half and 75-50 entering the fourth quarter over St. Andrew's who had beaten out Belleville.

Larry Triano once again led the Raiders with 26 points while Ray Nagy had 23, Bob MacDougall 21 and Bill Burleigh 14.

In the senior "B" final Steve Kekro, up from the juniors, paced the Notre Dame quintet to a 30-24 lead at half-time and they always stayed ahead.

The lanky star topped all scoring in both tournaments with an amazing 35 points. Lloyd Budgell counted 14 for Albert College.

By far the day's best game was the Belleville-Linwell junior "A" final. Belleville who had defeated Orillia 60-42 in the semi-final and Linwell who put PCVS out were tied 50-all at the end of regulation time. Red Townsend's quintet took the championship in the three minutes overtime.

Paced by Steve Kehro and Jim Mulligan, Notre Dame won its second COSSA title in the junior "B" easily defeating Trenton. They led all the way as both Kehro and Mulligan scored 15 points. Bob Burleigh led Trenton with 17 points.

YMCA Regents Take 10-Pt. Lead Over Orillia Y

Doug MacPherson's YMCA Regents took a 10-point lead in their OABA intermediate "B" quarter-final play Saturday when they defeated Orillia YMCA 67-57 in Orillia. The return game will be possibly Saturday at St. Peter's High gym.

"They're not near the team Kingston Monarchs were", said MacPherson after the game. "They had those two tall boys (Whitey Wilson and G. Ruiter) for their main power. Why one boy (Ruiter) is about six-six."

The small floor (it's shorter than the Peterborough YMCA court but slightly wider) made it rougher than in the previous series with the Monarchs. The referees handed out 38 personal fouls and both teams took advantage of the foul shots. Despite the high number of fouls no one was forced from the game with five.

Ab Stewart, Bill Edger and Don Ash gave the Regents their winning margin the first quarter. Then the trio combined well with teammates to run up an 18-7 score. Orillia couldn't overcome that lengthy lead.

Joe Stewart and Dan Griffen scored most of the Regents' mosts in the second quarter as Orillia rallied under the work of G. Page and B. Riddell. Although the Orillia quintet outscored the Regents 19-18 in that quarter the Regents still led at the half 36-26.

Big Ed Nicholls continued his comeback in the third quarter as he took over the scoring reins for the Regents as they again outscored Orillia 19-14 for a 55-40 three-quarter score. But in the fourth the Orillia team rallied, led by Wilson and Ruiter, for a 19-13 period score, but failed to overcome the Regents' early lead.

Former Collegiate star, Don Ash, dropped in five foul shots and several baskets from close-in to top the Regents' scoring with 15 points. Three of the foul shots were technical fouls, called when Orillia complained about the refereeing of Peterborough's Freddy Welford.

Nicholls mixed his shots, scoring a number from far out but most of his 14 points came from the vicinity of the keyhole. Dan Griffen was next in line with 11 points.

Orillia's tall player, Ruiter, topped all the scoring with 17 points, followed by J. Cross with 12 and Wilson with 10 as their scoring was well distributed.

If the Regents successfully discard the Orillia quintet this week in the second game, they'll advance in the Ontario semi-final play against either Oshawa Grads or Osgoode Hall who play this week. The winner of the Eastern Ontario round (the semi-finals) will play the western winner for the title.

Raiders Win 68-54 Against Mustangs

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—Assumption College Purple Raiders turned in one of their best performances of the season here Saturday night to trim University of Western Ontario Mustangs 68-54 in the final game of the Senior Intercollegiate Basketball League campaign.

The result left Assumption and Western deadlocked for first place. There will be no playoff.

SETS AHL RECORD—George (Red) Sullivan, Peterborough's puck gift to Hershey Bears last week set a new American Hockey League record for assists. His total of 79 to date is three better than the mark set by Ab DeMarco with Buffalo Bisons thee years ago. Red continues to lead the league in total points.

Pontiacs Win 3-2 Over The Petes To Sew Up Series

By CEC. PERDUE

Playing coach Vic Grigg of the Pontiacs potted a goal in the last half minute of play Saturday night in Orillia to give his side a 3-2 win over the TPT Petes. The victory sewed up their OHA senior "B" group semi-final series at three triumphs each, the deciding game being staged here tonight. Winner goes against Oshawa on Wednesday to open best-of-seven group finals.

A capacity crowd of nearly 2,400 fans—including several hundred from Peterborough — swarmed out of the arena right after Grigg's tie-breaking goal, many of them remarking: "That was the best game of hockey ever staged in this rink." It was a thriller, a grand one for Pontiacs to win, and a heart-breaker for Petes to lose.

CAREFUL AT FIRST

After a careful scoreless first frame which saw both teams playing it cozily, each scored a goal in the faster mid-heat. The visiting squad went one up early in the third stanza and it looked for quite a time as if that one-goal lead would suffice. But the battling Pontiacs tore in repeatedly and finally tied the score, going on to win at 19.31 on a ganging attack.

BERT HILL

As in previous games, the rugged Orillia outfit drew more penalties, getting six to Petes' five, each club drawing a major in the only fist fight of the fray when Denny Peterson and Goalie Bob Shropshire tangled near the O's net. Another player served the goalie's five-minute sentence. The opponents bounced each other hard, but it wasn't a dirty game, and the referees kept it well in hand. Two fans once took swings at Bill McMaster by the boards and he swung back. A woman and a man in the stands were cut on the face by flying pucks in the hot action.

TOODIE GREENLAW

EXCITING ACTION

[illegible] rocks kept the big crowd punctuated the exciting action of the last two periods in a game which saw Petes outplay but not outscore the Ponties. Petes had 65 to 70 per cent of the play but missed repeated chances to tally in close or were robbed by Goalie Shropshire. He turned in a terrific effort, being exceptionally good and also mighty lucky on a flock of labelled stabs at his citadel. He turned aside a ton

Detroit Red Wings Win Sixth Straight Title

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Detroit Red Wings picked up a few thousand dollars and another big-league hockey record during the weekend. It happened in one of those wacky National Hockey League weekends, with the Detroiters backing into their sixth straight championship because Toronto Maple Leafs couldn't win a game.

The Leafs dropped a 2-1 decision Saturday to the fourth-place Boston Bruins. The fact that the Wings were whipped 5-2 by New York Rangers Saturday and 2-0 by the Rangers in New York Sunday didn't mean a thing. Each Detroit player pocketed an extra $1,000 for winning the title.

The Leafs also suffered a double loss. They were beaten 3-0 by the Bruins in Boston Sunday. That dropped them into third place, one point behind Montreal Canadiens. The Canadiens, meanwhile, whitewashed Chicago Black Hawks twice, 4-0 at Montreal Saturday night and 6-0 at Chicago Sunday night.

ALL BUT OUT

Goals by Max Bentley and Glen Sonmor gave the Rangers their Sunday victory.

The two Ranger wins left them three points behind the Bruins and all but out of the Stanley Cup race. The Bruins have two games in hand and one more victory will give them the fourth and last playoff berth.

The Rangers were on the bit Saturday as little Camille Henry scored four goals to give them the 5-2 victory.

A second-period goal by centre Cal Gardner gave the Bruins victory in Toronto Saturday. Fleming MacKell scored the other Boston goal. Sid Smith gave the Leafs a 1-0 lead at 17:33 of the first period but it didn't stand up.

In Boston Sunday the Bruins went on a three-goal splurge in the second period. MacKell, a former Leaf, got two of them. Johnny Peirson got the other.

The Hawks were no match for the Canadiens. With fine support by relief goalie Jacques Plante, who turned in his fourth shutout in 14 games, the Montrealers were never in trouble. Maurice Richard bagged his 36th goal of the season and the others went to Lorne Davis, Jean Beliveau and Bert Olmstead.

A crowd of 6,071 fans saw a dilly at Chicago Sunday. Referee Bill Chadwick dealt out six major penalties, two 10-minute misconducts and a game misconduct.

Eddie Mazur of Canadiens got three of the majors, one misconduct and the game misconduct—penalties calling for automatic league fines totalling $50. Gus Mortson of the Hawks had two majors and a misconduct for a $25 fine.

Beliveau and Bernie Geoffrion each scored twice for Canadiens. Dick Moore and Paul Meger accounted for the others.

7 Skating Titles To Ontario

CALGARY (CP)—Five Canadian figure skating titles went to Toronto, two to Vancouver and one each to Ottawa and Schumacher, Ont., at the two-day championships which ended Saturday night.

Toronto title winners were: Barbara Grattan, who successfully defended her senior women's singles crown won last year in Ottawa; Charles Snelling, senior men's singles; world's champion pairs, Frances Dafoe and Norris Bowden, who repeated last year's senior pairs victory; Barbara Wagner and Robert Paul, junior dancers; Geraldine Fenton and William McLachlan, waltzing-10-step competitions.

Vancouver's Doreen Leech and Norman Walker scored the only double victory of the 43rd annual meet. They won the dance championship and scored top position in the junior pairs.

Fifteen-year-old Joan Shippam of Schumacher, who does her winter training here, won the junior women's title while Richard Rimmer took the junior men's.

3 Teams Remain Fight Out Senior OHA

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The number of teams in the race for the Ontario Hockey Association Senior A championship were reduced to three during the week-end.

Chatham Maroons, defeated 5-2 by Owen Sound Mercurys in Chatham Saturday, finished off league action for this season. The victory gave Owen Sound the best-of-seven semi-final 4-2. The Mercurys now will await the winner of the Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen-Stratford Indians series.

The Dutchmen won their first game of the best-of-five set Saturday when they scored four goals in overtime to wallop the Indians 7-3 in Kitchener. Stratford still leads the series 2-1 with the next game scheduled for Stratford tonight.

In Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Saturday the Greyhounds defeated Sudbury Wolves 3-0 to take a 1-0 lead in the best-of-five Northern Ontario Hockey Association Senior southern group final. The Greyhounds finished first at the end of the schedule, the Wolves second. Next game is in Sault Ste. Marie tonight.

TOPPED LEAGUE

Owen Sound, who finished first in the OHA regular schedule, won the first three games against Chatham only to have the Maroons bounce back to take the next two. But there was no doubt after the first period Saturday. Held to a 1-1 tie in the first they went ahead 4-1 in the second.

Doug Gillespie scored two goals and collected two assists to lead the winners. Jerry Reid, Bill McComb and Bill Hagen notched the others. Joe Carveth and Jimmy Campbell scored for Chatham.

[illegible] Murray Oliver, a junior B player making his first start in junior A company, and Bill Stewart, each scored two. Ed Louttit and Marlin McAlendin added singles. Hillary Menard scored Guelph's goal.

Cummy Burton, Marlin McAlendin, Joey Zorica and Brian Kilrea shared the scoring for Hamilton Sunday. Gerry James was the marksman for the Dukes.

8-047 — watched Kitchener's first victory of the series. Indians took 15 of the 27 penalties, including a misconduct.

Don Oberholtzer and Gerry Theberge each tallied a pair of goals for Kitchener. Ken Laufman, Don Rope and Don Bauer rounded out the total. Bill Cupulo, George Aitken and Johnny Muretich were the Stratford marksmen.

Majors Lose Third Placing In OHA Junior A Series

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Toronto—St. Michael's College Majors, who have held on to third place in the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A series during most of the season, were pushed out of their roost on the last day of the schedule.

As a result the Majors, instead of meeting the sixth-place Guelph Biltmores in the first round of the playoffs, have to clash with the tough St. Catharines TeePees, who finished the schedule in first place and who were instrumental in St. Michael's being displaced from third.

While Hamilton Cubs won two games during the week-end, the Majors were defeated 7-5 by the TeePes in Toronto Sunday to allow the Cubs to climb to third. Hamilton walloped Guelph 10-1 in Hamilton Saturday and defeated Toronto Marlboros 4-1 before the St. Catharines-St. Michael's game in Toronto Sunday.

In other Saturday games Marlboros edged the out-of-the-running Black Hawks 5-4 in Galt and St. Catharines took an 8-1 home-ice victory from Kitchener - Waterloo Greenshirts.

The St. Catharines-St. Michael's series, which starts in St. Catharines Tuesday, will be a best-of-seven semi-final. Two other series will be best-of-five quarter-finals. One involves the Marlboros and Kitchener, starting in Toronto Tuesday. The other one has Hamilton against Guelph with the first game scheduled for Hamilton Wednesday. The winners of each of the quarter-finals will meet to decide an opponent for the winner of the St. Catharines-St. Michael's set in the league finals.

NOTCHES FOUR GOALS

Hamilton's two victories were the 16th and 17th for the Cubs in the last 21 games. Saturday's win was led by Cummy Burton who fired

Marlboros victory over the Hawks Saturday was their first on Galt ice this season.

MAXWELL GETS TRIO

Wally Maxwell led the Toronto victory with three goals, Jack Bionda and Dave Reid adding singles. McDonald fired a pair for the Hawks, John Sleaver and Chick Chalmers bagging the others.

While St. Catharines were bouncing the Greenshirts Saturday Brian Cullen scored his 66th goal of the season to set a league goal-scoring record. He also collected an assist. Hugh Barlow scored two for St. Catharines and Ches Warchol, Don McLean, Elmer Vasko, Hank Ciesla and Pete Koval tallied singles. Gary Collins got Kitchener's goal.

Brian Cullen scored another two goals against St. Michael's Sunday to hoist his total to 68. He also assisted on two goals, giving him a total of 162 points for the season —tops in the league.

Ten of the 12 goals during the St. Catharines-St. Michael's game came while one or the other of the teams was short handed.

Barry Cullen and Hugh Barlow also scored two goals for the winners. Cec Hoekstra bagged the other one. Jim Logan and Paul Knox each fired a pair for St. Michael's. Dick Duff tallied one.

Feller Fighting For Berth

NEW YORK (AP)—Almost two decades ago—1936 to be exact—a powerful, fuzzy-cheeked youngster strode into the spring training camp of Cleveland Indians. Manager Steve O'Neill liked what he saw and that started Bob Feller's career.

Today, 249 victories later, Feller, the oldest major leaguer in point of service, is fighting for a starting berth. He'll have a job, all right, but at the moment he doesn't figure as one of the big four.

The one-time fireballer, who never spent a day in the minors, is hopeful that at 35 he can help the Indians break New York Yankees' stranglehold on the American League pennant.

The cuffing he took during his three-inning tenure against the New York Giants in Tucson, Ariz., Sunday should not cause much concern. The Giants won 16-6 and slugged Feller for eight hits and six runs. But it was Bob's first outing and veterans sometimes are slow to warm up.

Boxing Tournament At Sarnia April 9

SARNIA (CP)—Jack Miller of Hamilton, southwestern Ontario branch boxing chairman for the Canadian Amateur Athletic Union, has awarded the zone 1-2 championship tournament to the Sarnia Riverview Athletic Club. The tournament will be held here April 9.

The zone 1-2 champions will compete with winners from zones 3 and 4 in London during the last week of April for the branch championships. The southwestern Ontario branch title-holders will then compete in the Canadian championships in Toronto May 13, 14, and 15.

Weekend Stars

Jacques Plante, Montreal, who scored two shutouts during the week-end when Canadiens blanked Chicago twice to take over second place in the National Hockey League race.

Johnny Bower, New York, who earned a shutout Sunday when New York defeated Detroit Red Wings 2-0.

Sugar Jim Henry, Boston, who shut out Toronto 3-0 Sunday.

Bernie Geoffrion and Jean Beliveau, Montreal, who each scored two goals and two assists when Canadiens blanked Chicago 6-0 Sunday.

U.S. Footballers Staying At Home

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Football League is conducting such an effective "stay-at-home" campaign this year that the threatened war with Canadian teams over American players has become a mere skirmish.

A new, aggressive policy undertaken by the NFL has paid dividends.

Its aim is to convince the cream of American college gridders of the advantages of playing on an NFL club.

A year ago the National League members, fighting a defensive action against Canadian football's ambitious import program, had signed only eight of their 1953 college draft choices. This year they already have 55 signatures from rookies.

Centennials Defeat St. Catharines 62-53

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP) — Windsor AKO Centennials defeated St. Catharines Stars 62-53 Saturday night to advance into the Ontario Amateur Basketball Association Junior A final against Toronto Maruel Cleamers.

AKO, seeking its fifth straight provincial cage crown, won the two-game, total-points series, 131-80 having won the opener, 69-27, at St. Catharines the previous week.

Pontiacs Win

of hot rubber. Goalie Jack Donlevy was in fine form, too, and had no chances on the three that beat him.

Orillia marksmen were Earl McCrone, Cliff Aitkin and Vic Grigg, an assist each going to Atikin, Payne, Wood, Nelson, Robertson and Vasey, the latter filling in for the injured Bruno Favero. For the Petes, Toodie Greelaw and Bert Hill were the snipers, as Bill Crowley and Bill McMaster each earned an assist. Gus Leonard, nursing an injured eye, played his usual steady game up front for the Petes.

Pearsall was robbed on an early sortie into Donlevy's square, and Collins pulled a good try for the visitors. Both sides were canny most of this period, crossing the red line and unloading as they awaited a break. Redmond was gated for cross-checking and McCrone followed within two minutes for a similar offence, but no damage resulted in their absence. The Petes later peppered Shropshire and should have scored two or three, but he was unbeatable. Nelson tested Donlevy in close and Leonard had a neat try at the other end of the rink. Petes checked well and had an edge on play but there were few shots on either goal in the late part of the careful period.

It was faster and pretty even in the second as the rivals opened it up. Redmond made a sliding save on Vasey's breakaway as Ed had to skate hard to catch him. Then Aitkin counted for Orillia in close in a scramble with Vasey and Robertson in on the play. They drew a big hand. Wood had a nice try and then McCrone went off for hooking.

Greenlaw promptly cashed in on this with a quick shot into the open side of the cage on a pass from McMaster deep in Ponties' territory to sew it up. McCrone returned and a Hill-Crowley thrust just missed, later a dash by the Belisle line making Shropshire do the splits. Petes kept pouring in and Greenlaw was robbed on a nice return passing play with Fryia. Aitkin got the air for tripping and a fight broke out between Peterson and Shropshire, both drawing majors. Redmond was chased seconds later for interference as the frame ended.

Montgomery missed the net after stickhandling to get a breakaway early in the third. With the sides even, it was hot for a space and then Shewchuk was waved over for high-sticking. Hill cashed in on this with a smart finish inside on a dandy rush and pass by Crowley and that looked like the winner. Shewchuk returned but Nelson was gated for slashing and Peterson was robbed before Nelson got back. Fryia went next for cross-checking and just got on when Monty got it for kneeing. Belisle proved a real checker while they were short handed and the sides were even when McCrone tied it up on a smart close-in combination play with Nelson and Wood, flipping the disc past a diving Donlevy. It was red-hot then and the place was in an uproar as Orillia turned it on. Collins had one grood crack at Shropshire but Pontiacs roared back and Grigg finally cuffed the rubber into the twine on a scramble near the Petes' crease, Payne and Aitkin building up the play. Time ran out on the Petes as they tore back in a vain attempt to send it into overtime. Teams:

Petes: Goal, Donlevy; defence, Redmond and McMaster; centre, Leonard; wings, Fryia and Greenlaw; alternates, Hill, Crowley, Collins, Belisle, Prentice, Peterson, Montgomery, Munro and Armstrong.

Orilia: Goal, Shropshire; defence, Grigg and Pearsall; centre, Bowen; wings, MacDonald and Richardson; alternates, Nelson, Wood, McCrone, Payne, Aitkin, Vasey, Shewchuk, Robertson and Desroches.

Referees; K. Holmshaw and A. Bellemer.

Niagara Falls

even lost track of the score in the third quarter when the Saints were only a few points behind.

TOO TALL

Apart from the scoring and officiating the height of Notre Dame gave them the victory. Their lanky stars, both well over six feet, Luka and Kerha, paced the team throughout to a 13-7 first quarter score, 22-12 at the half and then 29-23 at three-quarters, pulling away in the fourth.

Laboring under three personal fouls awarded early in the game, Dan Quinlan stayed in to top the Saints' scoring with 12 points. Kerha, mostly on foul shots, had 16 points and Luka 10 for Notre Dame.

PCVS juniors, coached by Art Currie, had their troubles. They met a strong Linwell Collegiate team which had height, speed and an excellent grounding in fundamentals, especially shooting. Linwell checked well right down the floor, stopping PCVS attacks quickly.

KOSTECKI STARS

A senior calibre player, Kostecki, gave the Linwell quintet the edge. In every quarter he was featured on Linwell plays and didn't let them down. On his scoring alone Linwell went ahead 13-7, then 25-12 and finally 46-16 in the third quarter. In all the star scored 26 points, followed by teammate Lomb with 14.

Of the PCVS stars only Brian Bell could get untracked. Even then he only scored 14 points.

The day's most humiliating defeat, suffered by the PCVS senior girls, was also by Niagara Falls. Relying upon two players, Nancy Weir and Audrey Lowe, for nearly all their points, Niagara sent the senior lasses in discard 72-15.

Centring their plays around Lowe and Weir, Niagara took a [illegible] first quarter score and then romped to a 36-7 score at the half. They stayed well ahead in the third 57-12 and never let PCVS come near in the fourth.

Lowe topped the day's scoring with 28 points while Weir had 25. PCVS' best was Bev Pollock with six.

Curling News

The next bonspiel here is set for Saturday, March 20. It will be for rinks of schedule calibre. The committee is aiming for 28 entries, so that they would have two complete draws. Give your entry to Vic Brown by Wednesday night, and then the committee would have a good idea whether to go ahead with the 'spiel or not.

This Wednesday night most likely will be vice-skips' bonspiel. Consult the draw on the notice board.

After a 10-day layoff, the ladies are continuing their vice-skips' bonspiel this afternoon.

Our big open mixed rink bonspiel has come and gone. Is is rather difficult to cover every phase of the bonspiel, but we would like to pay tribute to those members who for full days, morning, noon and night, were on the job looking after all the details —and they were many—that are so necessary to ensure a successful bonspiel. They worked hard and long. To those willing workers the club is grateful.

Top Places Unchanged In Quebec League

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Five games during the week-end did not change the Quebec Hockey League standings at the top but the race for bottom positions tightened up as Sherbrooke Saints climbed over Valleyfield Braves to within one point of the fourth spot Quebec Aces.

Chicoutimi Sagueneens increased their lead over second-place Montreal Royals to four points. Royals dropped two straight games while Chics blanked Valleyfield 2-0 Sunday.

Springfield Indians and Sherbrooke respectively scored 8-5 and 5-3 wins over Royals. Springfield also downed Ottawa 6-2 Saturday. The third place Senators edged Aces 5-4 at Quebec Sunday.

Montreal Maroons scored three goals in 24 seconds to beat New York Rangers 4-3 in an NHL game 22 years ago tonight. The fast-scoring mark, set by Dave Trottier, Hooley Smith and Babe Siebert, was eclipsed by Chicago's Bill Mosienko who personally scored three goals in 21 seconds when Chicago edged Rangers 7-6 at New York March 23, 1952.

Sprinter Equals Indoor Record

HAMILTON (CP)—Charley Jenkins of Villanova (Penn.) University tied the Canadian indoor track record of 6.2 seconds for the 60-yard men's open dash at the 91st annual athletic games of the Royal Hamilton Light Infantry Saturday.

The record, set by Percy Williams of Vancouver in 1929, was tied in a 1952 Canadian meet by Jack O'Connell of Manhattan University, and again last year by Andy Stanfield of New York.

Horace Ashenfelter, United States Olympic champion, slipped 15 seconds off the Canadian indoor record for the 1½ mile when he covered it in six minutes, 40 seconds.

Ashenfelter, a New York policeman, bettered the mark set by Paavo Nurmi 28 years ago although he was not pressed.

Training Camp Notes

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (CP) Bob Trice, a 20-game winner for the last-place Ottawa Athletics in the International League last year, blanked Washington during his three-inning stint Sunday to gain credit for Philadelphia Athletics' 13-3 victory over the Senators.

Billy Shantz, Trice's batterymate at Ottawa and brother of ace Philadelphia southpaw Bobby Shantz, caught the entire game for the winners. It was the fifth straight exhibition victory for the unbeaten Athletics.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Injuries continued to strike at the major league baseball training camps Sunday when southpaw pitcher Bill Miller of New York Yankees was struck on the pitch-

He was hit by a drive off the bat of Chicago White Sox outfielder Bob Boyd in the fifth inning of an exhibition game.

X-ray examination showed only a bad bruise and Miller was expected to return to action in a week.

Before Miller was injured he had held the White Sox hitless for four innings.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—National League president Warren C. Giles Sunday officially designated Walter Alston of Brooklyn Dodgers as manager of the National League all-star team which will meet the American Leaguers at Cleveland July 13.

Alston, who replaced Charlie Dressen at the helm of the National League champions at the end of last season, will be the first "rookie" manager ever to pilot an all-star team.

TUCSON, Ariz. (CP)—New York Giants clobbered three of the most illustrious members of the pitching fraternity Sunday as they trounced Cleveland Indians 16-6 in an exhibition game.

Bob Feller, Hal Newhouser and Early Wynn each took a three-inning pounding as the Giants slapped them around for 22 hits. Feller and Newhouser yielded six runs apiece while Wynn gave up four.

Curve-baller Sal Maglie blanked the Tribe on two hits for the first four innings to gain credit for the victory.

Local Trundlers Still In Running

TORONTO (Special)—Saturday eight bowlers were knocked out of the scratch singles events of the Molson's Classic, four men and four women were dropped in the elimination tournament which continues on Monday at the show. Ladies start at 6:40 p.m. Men at 8:45 p.m.

The eight remaining contestants are listed with total for eight games:

LADIES' SINGLES

Ethel Andison, Ottawa Regional champion, 1,811, Irene Atkinson, Northern Ontario, 1,800; Mary Hatt, London, 1,710; Bea. Ross, Peterborough, 1,709; Elsie Hodgson, Hamilton, 1,699; Helen Clarke, Toronto East, 1,677; Millie McCabe, Toronto West, 1,627; Ruth Grant, Windsor, 1,596.

Men's singles, total for ten games:

Bill Hoult, Toronto East, 2,747; Forrest Richards, Windsor, 2,438; Jack Pritchard, Toronto West, 2,401; Stan Battersby, Hamilton, 2,389; Eugene Legault, Ottawa, 2,352; Jim McKenzie, Kingston, 2,346; Chuck Heath, Peterborough, 2,343; H. Reibel, Kitchener-Waterloo, 2,250.

High single to date—Men's, Stan Battersby, Hamilton, 331; ladies', Bea. Ross, Peterborough, 291.

Apsley And OPP Tie

APSLEY (ENS)—Before a fair-sized hockey crowd here Friday, Apsley and the Provincial Police tied 8-8 in an exhibition game. W. Tucker scored two and M. McCormick one in the first frame for Apsley, as Eady and Bark tallied for the Police. Eady got three and Lacombe one [illegible] frame. Apsley broke out with five in the third, M. McCormick notching three, and A. Harris and J. Blewett one apiece. Healey and Reid counted for the OPP squad. Play was generally clean. Teams:

OPP—Healey, Feeley, Lacombe, G. Gray, J. Gray, Eady, Louth, cNeil, Reid, J. Bark and D. Bark.

Apsley: McKendry, Blewett, C. Wason, Skelcher, D. Wasson, Harris, McCormick, Watson, Tucker, Jeff, Wagner.

Wilmer Fields Signs With Red Sox Team

BRANTFORD (CP)—Mike King, president of Brantford Red Sox, announced Sunday he has signed Wilmer Fields of Manassas, Va., for his Intercounty baseball team this year. Fields had a batting average of .374 when he played with Red Sox in 1951.

During his 1951 stint he won nine games as a pitcher and lost one. He played with Toronto of the International League in 1952 and in the Dominican Republic last year.

Mark St. Wins Puck Title In Church Loop

Mark St. won the midget championship of the Church Hockey League on Saturday two games to none by beating St. James' 4-2 at Civic Arena. St. John's peewees tied their best-of-three finals by downing George St. 2-1. Their final will be at 11.00 next Saturday morning.

In the midget final, John Phillips scored for the Saints but Bob Moffitt equalled it on a pass from Wally Beavis, as Bob Stevens and Barry Heard, of St. James' sat out penalties. Larry Griffin counted next heat from Doug Patterson, with Dorrington of Mark St. in the sin bin. Bob Moffitt tied it with Barry Heard serving a penalty. Paul Jones was great in goal as Mark St. peppered him. In the third, with Wayne Rowe in the box, Jack Grills put Mark St. in front on Bob Moffitt's pass. Everett English clinched matters later on a breakaway.

Moffitt, English and Grills, along with a strong defence, shone for the winners. Huffman, Rose and Ashby stood out for the losers. Mark St. finished the season without a loss. Teams:

St. James'—Goal, Waldie; defence, Stevens, Phillips; centre, Ashby; wings, Griffin, Huffman; alternates, Rowe, King, Patterson, Rose, Hurley, Kimball, Heard, Merrett, Jones.

Mark St.—Goal, Bell; defence, Dorrington, Innis; centre, Jerry Harding; wings, Paul, Moffitt; alternates, English, Jim Harding, White, Duncan, Caton, Dixon, Hendry, Beavis, Cullen.

Referees, J. Hawthorne and W. Woodcock.

A CLOSE ONE

Dalliday put St. John's peewees up a goal in the first period, and the same player notched another in the third. Barry Black counted one late in the third for George St. Each side drew but one penalty in the keen, clean playoff. Dalliday, Lewis and Henwood starred for the victors in this game, while Black, Milburn and Walsh were best for the losers. Teams:

St. John's — Goal, McDonald; defence, Welsh, Dalliday; centre, Henwood; wings, Cunningham, Ross; alternates, Willison, Lewis, Parker, Gardiner, Muir, Cotton.

George St.—Goal, Walsh; defence, Delahey, Philp; centre, Milburn; wings, Gatfield, Black; alternates, G. Rowley, P. Rowley, Drain, Wilson, Barton, Murphy, Newell, Jones, Hancock.

Referees, J. Hawthorne and W. Post.

JOHN NIAGARA talks about:

Four ways to get a NIAGARA LOAN

Need money? Then the four different ways you can borrow at Niagara Finance will interest you.

First, domestic loans . . . These are sometimes called 'husband-and-wife' loans—they alone sign—it is arranged in about 24 to 36 hours and enjoys widespread popularity amongst Canadian couples.

Second, car or truck loans. Here's one of the fastest ways to borrow money. It's very easy to handle, both from your point of view and ours. Motor owners can apply by mail or in person. Only the owner of the car and truck need sign. Details are often completed in as short a time as 10 minutes.

Third, loans on business equipment . . . Businessmen like this service because it is fast and trouble-free. The business equipment acts as a backing and loans are made in accordance with value. Only the owner needs to sign . . . an excellent answer for temporary financial shortages.

Fourth, loans on farm machinery—stock . . . These loans have been especially designed for farmers' needs. And of importance to them —seasonal payment plans are available on loans over $500. Such loans are completed with little delay.

Besides loan plans which fit the needs of almost everyone, there are two good reasons for you to pick Niagara Finance for money requirements. Loans to $1500 are life insured at no extra cost to you. And rates on many Niagara loans are lower . . . in other words, you get more for your money! For full information, just drop in anytime or phone.

Farmers Never Assured Of Their Returns

By GILBERT McMILLAN
President, Dairy Farmers of Canada

Every spring presents its problems to the man on the land and 1954 is no exception in this respect.

The western grain grower is a bit worried by that big pile of stored grain in his bins for which he has received little if any cash. There hardly ever is enough snow to ensure moisture for the new crop.

The eastern farmer views his little-snowed-upon fields and wonders how much of his meadow has been winter-killed.

I doubt if any other group in our society has to go ahead and make plans with less assurance of what the returns will be. Yet from the beginning of civilization they have always carried on and I believe always will. Despite all the scientific and technical developments man now has at his command the world would not survive without the man on the land.

I sometimes wonder, as I see some group in a strategic position throw a monkey wrench into our whole economic machinery until its demands are met, what would happen if farmers had the same mentality as the leaders of these groups. This would never happen since the continental contract with natural forces which calls for individual decisions to be made, does not create the type of mind that easily submits to regimentation.

HARD TO ORGANIZE

This is fundamentally the reason why farmers are hard to organize. While this may operate against them in this age of organizations as individuals they are to be respected for it.

If it were not for the individual farmer's ability and willingness to make his own decisions, we would not get very far as no blanket plan of operations will meet all the different conditions he has to face. This is the difference between farming organizations and organized industry where a few men have to do all the planning and thinking for many.

It is not too difficult to expect all men on the land even with equal opportunities to meet with the same success, when in industry only a few have the ability to plan and lead.

The next three or so weeks before actual farming operations begin will have a great deal to do with the success or failure of the new year's operations. That is particularly so with the present shortage of labor where every hour has to count once field work opens.

In these days it should not be necessary to stress the importance of using only first-class tested seeds free of weed seeds.

It is now becoming evident that more fertilizers have to be used and tests should be made of soils in advance so that the proper fertilizer is used to suit the land and the crop.

CHANGE PROGRAMS

With the advent of grass silage changes must be made in the seeding program. While grass silage can be made from almost anything the best results will always be made by using the type of crop best suited to your own particular conditions. I don't believe any hard and fast rule can be laid down on this score.

It is to be hoped that winter killing will not be too prevalent as it creates one of the worst losses with which a farmer may be faced. He has lost valuable seed, it disorganizes his whole crop rotation and no matter what he does, the best is only a makeshift. Grass silage may offer some solution as it allows the harvesting of a catch crop at any season.

PROSPECTS UNCERTAIN

Prospects for 1954, like 1953, are not too bright. Lower prices for most food products are indicated without a corresponding lowering of the cost of things food producers buy. This is something that should be getting the attention of everyone for, with all the resiliency of farming, there comes a time when his condition may react to everyone's disadvantage by the loss of the farmers' purchasing power.

I again repeat: Trade is always a two-way street. The industrial worker needs the farmers' purchasing power to buy the products of his labor just as the farmers need the buying power to buy what he produces. By affording each equitable returns is the surest way of establishing a balanced economy.

Bethany Audience Enjoys Church Play

BETHANY (ENS)—The Ladies Guild of St. Paul's church sponsored the play "Henpacked Henry" given by the Dramatic Club of St. George's church in Peterborough.

The three act play directed by Mrs. Leslie Moore was full of comedy and romance, providing plenty of fun and laughs for the very appreciative audience. Cast of characters included Thomas McQuigge, Mrs. C. H. Crouter, Miss Violet Wilson, Mrs. Andy Fowler, Mrs. F. Johnson, Thomas Busby, Donald Ferguson, Mrs. Earl McIlwain, Mrs. Albert Peck, Mrs. Fred Hines and Arthur Green.

Members of the Ladies Guild served lunch to the cast at the close of the performance.

GRAHAM DOUBTS ANY DRASTIC 1954 CHANGES IN PORK AND BEEF

Increased Hog Production Expected In Fall May Affect Beef Market

(By R. H. Graham, Associate Livestock Commissioner, Ontario Department of Agriculture.)

Our present situation is one in which we find a surplus of certain products and a deficiency in others. Wheat, dairy products, potatoes, and beef cattle are in surplus supply for the time being. Pork and lamb are our low points in the livestock field. One would naturally believe those conditions might exist for some time, forgetting the fact that farming is the most speculative of any business, controlled by a gamble every year on what our weather will be.

During 1953 the income of beef producers was lowered considerably and so too was that of the cheese producer, despite the fact that a greater volume was handled. Our normal per capita consumption of beef is around 55 lbs. per person per year, while last year we consumed 70 lbs. This increase in consumption can be attributed to the lower prices that prevailed, combined with the relatively high prices for pork products. In 1953 this increased consumption took 300,000 head off the domestic market. Cattle marketings were 21.2 per cent higher in 1953 than in 1952, or altogether we marketed 1,763,000 head. Of this number 60,000 were exported alive and 65,000 as beef. Fortunately our meat appetite took care of a situation that might otherwise have caused trouble.

Hog prices rose from 23 cents to 36 cents during the year, simply because of one fact—demand was much greater than the supply. Normally we consume 90,000 hogs per week, which works out to 56 or 57 lbs. per capita, for the year. Last year we were marketing around 70 to 76 thousand hogs per week, causing a scarcity and hence a keen demand. Canned supplies in storage were worked into the trade. Eastern Canada was a deficiency area, particularly Quebec. The people in this area being heavy pork consumers caused a shortage which pushed prices up to their present levels.

BARLEY-HOG RATIO

At the moment the peef-pork relationship is about what it was for the long time average, 75 to 100, or in other words the average price of cattle compared with hogs, amounting to 75.7 per cent. Assessed against this is the barley-hog ratio which over the period 1914-41 was 17.4 and today stands at a level of 27. The barley-hog ratio is explained by stating that on the average 100 lbs. of live hog was worth as much as 17.4 bushels of barley while today 100 lbs. pork is worth as much as 17.4 bushels of barley while today should come when 100 lbs. of pork is not worth as much as 17.4 lbs. barley, then the barley will be sold and not fed. It can be seen that feeding barley today is more profitable than selling in the form of grain.

Present prospects, particularly in Western Canada, are for increased hog production and it would seem natural for this to happen. Unofficial estimates are that hog production will be up 30 per cent for the fall of 1954 and the spring of 1955, therefore a decline in hog prices can be expected.

BEEF HOPES IN U.S.A.

American predictions for beef production are based on the fact that in 1953 there was quite a serious liquidation of stock from the areas in the mid-west which were severely hit by drought. Quite a number of States were declared to be emergency areas, and with that condition existing it is not to be expected that as many animals will be available for market. Added to this condition is the normal increase in population which is running at about 7,000 persons per day. With a normal increase of 2,500,000 persons per year one would naturally assume that there would be a greater demand, which coupled with a smaller supply might add to the strengthening of the market. This belief is held in certain quarters of the U.S.A.

Some have even predicted a stepping up in the price of cattle between March and September of around 15 per cent. However, in my opinion this should be tempered with the other alternative, and it would be a statement of fact regarding the possibility of the increase in pork production and the consequent drop in price. This will naturally cause a greater consumption of pork products. If my reasoning should be correct, that would mean less buying of beef, which might easily offset any increase in population or decrease in cattle production.

WOULD HELP CANADA

The relative prices between cattle and pork, which in some instances are like the old teeter board, also can be found to remain fairly stationary for some time instead of one going up and the other coming down. If we assume the optimistic attitude of our American friends is correct, and that beef will strengthen during the summer months, our Canadian beef situation would profit considerably. The American market does after all control the prices we can expect to receive at home so we assume that American predictions are based on sound statistical facts.

This year finds world affairs in a somewhat better state than they were a year ago, particularly in so far as actual combat is concerned. Manufactured articles are catching up to demand, down payment offers in advertising are being featured every day, which indicates that we are now living in an era when it is a buyer's market, not a seller's market. Labour is apparently more plentiful than it has been for some time. Whether or not any of this labour can be diverted into the great industry of agriculture remains to be seen. Nevertheless more unemployment exists at the present time.

Much depends on the corp prospects for 1954, which if all goes well would possibly be lower than they were in 1953. This statement is based on the fact that we have had three excellent wheat harvests in Western Canada, averaging 618,000,000 bushels per year, which is considerably above the normal production we

STUART A. BOWMAN, district seed inspector of the Canada Department of Agriculture, Peterborough, is the manager of the seed fair section of the Central Ontario Spring Show, here March 16-19. Judging of exhibits begins Tuesday morning, and the show is open to the public Wednesday. Sale of seed begins Friday at 1.30 p.m.

Seed Experts Arriving For Spring Show At Morrow Park

Manager of the seeds section of the Central Ontario Spring Show is Stuart A. Bowman of Peterborough, district seed inspector of federal Department of Agriculture.

"Indications point to a larger volume of entries than last year," Mr. Bowman said today. "It also interests us that there will be some new district exhibitors, including—Harold Detlor of Stirling; Harold Swain of Nestleton; Henry Sharpe of Peterborough; Bruce Sargent of Cavan; John Calder of Warkworth; Arnold Stevenson of Norwood. Several others are expected, but their entries have not yet been confirmed."

Grain experts from both departments of agriculture are expected to assist in the judging.

John Dawson of Ottawa, district supervisor of the plant products division, will be in charge of the Junior Farmers judging competition in the market hall Wednesday morning. This is the only part of the show that has been diverted from the Exhibition Park.

Dr. D. N. Huntley, head of the field husbandry department of the Ontario Agricultural College, directs the judging of grain. He is also scheduled to speak at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday on "The High Lights of the Seed Show", and is on the subsequent panel discussing "The place of soy beans and grain corn in Central Ontario farming".

John Blakeman, chief of the inspection services of the plant products division, Ottawa, recently transferred from Winnipeg, will be here and Norman D. MacKenzie, Chatham, formerly of the plant products division in Toronto, and now with the Ontario Seed Corn Growers Marketing Board.

R. E. Goodin, Toronto, of the crops, seeds and weeds branch of the Ontario Department, widely known among the potato growers of the country is also coming.

Ken Fallis is also with crops seeds and weeds branch of the provincial department.

General manager of the show is Frank C. Paterson, Peterborough agricultural representative, and the president is James T. Brown of Newcastle.

rainfall and general weather conditions are nearly normal, it can usually expect. Therefore if would hardly be likely to create any extra surplus. There is some possibility of having a reduction in the over-all yield.

BUILDING STILL ACTIVE

Construction from coast to coast seems to be going on apace and with this trend will go employment and when this situation exists, people are going to buy food in order to live well. The Canadian standard of living is about the best in the world. Our food consumption is not based on any one staple diet. We have such a wide variety to choose from that when one commodity becomes too expensive we immediately turn to another. If we compare ourselves with other countries who consume 100 lbs. meat more per capita per year than we do, we immediately think we are not eating as well. The truth is we are perhaps eating better but our diet comprises a great many other foods.

Poultry raising in Ontario would seem to the onlooker to have gone through a tremendous increase. It would be more safe to say it has increased and kept apace with the increase in population. More specialized poultry farms are in existence now than there were 25 years ago, and on the other hand there are numbers of small farmers who used to raise turkeys and other poultry for sale who have ceased doing so. The poultry picture does not lend itself to any marked change in our every day normal method of living and has very little effect on the total amount of other meats that we consume. Therefore we leave the beef and pork prophesies to conditions which wil be encountered this coming year. From this distance we can expect a few slight changes, none of them very drastic.

Consumer demand to-day is definitely more grade conscious than ever. As a result the producers of live stock must also be aware of the fact that good quality beef or pork will sell first and demand a good price. When the quality of any product starts to slip, then one can expect the demand to slip with it.

New Soybeans Sell At $50-$75

Grain price records were shattered at the Middlesex seed fair auction a week ago. Nearly 2,000 attended, first sizable crowd of the show, a London victim of heavy snows and blocked highways.

Four two-bushel lots of Hardome variety soybeans brought prices $75, $71, $70 and $50 a a bushel.

This was the first known auction of the new Hardome beans which won the world's championship at the Royal Winter Fair last fall. Those samples were also the first registered seed raised from the foundation seed distributed last spring.

MATURES EARLY

The Hardome variety originated at Harrow Station, matures early, and is especially suitable to Western Ontario and Northern United States.

A Chatham dealer, W. E. Reid, paid the record $75 for a bushel of the soybeans seed raised by W. K. Riddell & Sons, RR 2, Granton. Mr. Reid also paid $50 a bushel for a second lot of Hardome raised by the Riddell farm, and $70 for a lot grown by W. A. Vail & Sons, RR 1, Denfield; Ron Macfie, of Appin, paid $71 a bushel for another lot of the Vail Hardome.

The prize lot of Harosoy soybeans exhibited by Clifford Dale of Glanworth brought $6.20 a bushel. The average price for the 36 bushels of soybeans auctioned last Saturday was $18.65.

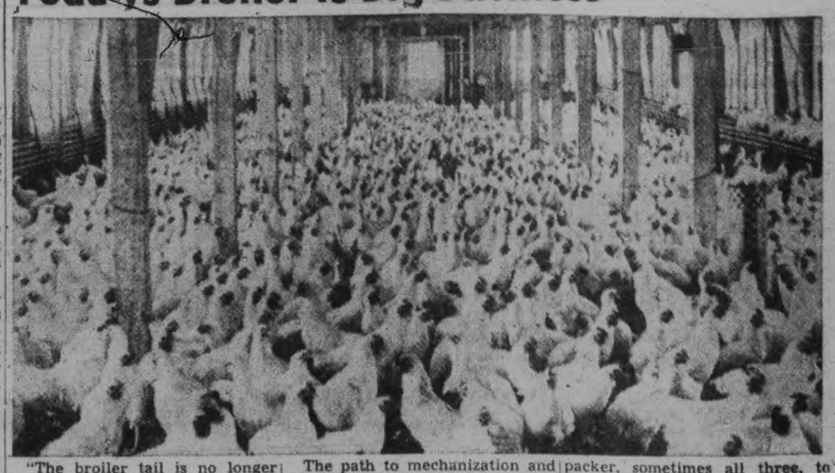
OATS AVERAGE $2.52

Average price for the 10-bushel lots of registered oats was $2.52 a bushel, while the average per bushel price for commercial oats was $2.36.

The champion 10-bushel lot of registered barley, exhibited by the Vail farm brought $3.75 a bushel, and the average commercial barley price was $2.40 a bushel.

The first prize Keswick seed potatoes exhibited by William Lethbridge and Sons, Melbourne, sold at $1.90 a bag.

Seed Treating Pays Dividend



On the basis of seed surveys made by the staffs of the Ontario and Canada Departments of Agriculture, nearly two out of every five farmers sow seed which, because of the presence of weed seeds, would not qualify for the lowest grade (No. 3 Commercial) if the seed were offered for sale.

C. H. Kingsbury, Crops Branch, Ontario Department of Agriculture, points out that it costs only 75c to $1. more per acre to sow No. 1 Commercial seed, and only about 25c per acre to have a reliable seed cleaner clean seed to bring it up to No. 1 Commercial standard grade.

Farmers are urged to select, whenever possible, the highest quality seed of the most suitable varieties for their partciular conditions. These are available from seed producers who are listed in a booklet now obtained from your agricultural representative. The booklet is titled, "Registered and Certified Seed Growers in Ontario."

Clean seed is not enough, however; it should still be treated with a reliable fungicide to protect it against certain plant diseases. Only about one-half the seed planted each year is treated, but since treatment can be carried out at your seed cleaning plant for five to ten cents a bushel, it is a precaution that pays valuable dividends. Information on treatment is contained in Ontario Department of Agriculture circular, "Cereal Seed Treatment," obtainable from your agricultural representative, who can provide further particulars, if necessary.

Toda'ys Broiler Is Big Business

"The broiler tail is no longer wagging the poultry business dog," says Professor J. R. Cavers, head of the poultry husbandry department of Ontario Agricultural College.

Only within the last six to eight years it has become established as a full-fledged industry. Prior to that time and change of attitude and method, broilers were produced as a seasonal sideline. Rated as a delicacy, the birds were sold usually at 2 to 2½ pounds alive, and were served as half-broilers.

Today's version is typically a 3½-pound bird, more properly termed a "fryer." Broilers are still a delicacy in terms of southern fried cookery, but they stake their claim on high quality meat at reasonable cost and on availability in volume to the consumer's market the year 'round.

NO LONGER BY-PRODUCT

Ten years ago broilers were seldom anything but by-products from flocks being raised for egg production. Sensing commercial possibilities, enterprising men launched out from time to time into a more ambitious program—only to meet with failure in most cases.

Unsuitable stock, inadequate feeds, small volume and losses from disease combined to wipe out any profit. Floor rearing in mass lots of thousands of birds, as now practiced, was unknown. Efficient processing facilities had not been developed. Above all, a market had not been created.

Broilers are now displacing heavy roasting chickens on metropolitan markets. During 1953 over half the chickens marketed through Canada's registered dressing stations were broilers. They must compete on a basis of price which offsets the traditional preference of Canadian consumers for roasting chickens.

In the prairie provinces roasters still hold sway; this is due in part to the inability of broilers, with their precise needs, to take full advantage of the plentiful grain supply. Over 60% of the chicks sold for broilers are hatched in Ontario, the volume having doubled and redoubled in the last three years.

Canada's per capita consumption of poultry has increased from 19.2 pounds in 1948 to 29.6 pounds in 1952. Broilers deserve most of the credit, but separate figures for them are not shown in the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

The path to mechanization and all-round efficiency was laid in the large plants with 15,000 to 30,000 and more birds per man. One of them reports only 20 seconds of labor required per pound of broiler. All growers whether part time or not, must follow closely the methods of the best operators since the margin of profit is narrow and decreasing.

Experienced operators start chicks all of one age and plan to completely depopulate the broiler house or plant for two or three weeks between batches. Some growers have started out with staggered ages and weekly marketing, but this system seldom lasts beyond a year or two.

Although vaccines and antibiotics play an important role in broiler production, regular periods of complete depopulation —whether of broiler houses, hatchery—provide the best insurance yet devised.

Mass marketing poses a problem in financing and places the broiler grower in a vulnerable position if the market is weak when his birds are ready to sell. He may carry them beyond the usual twelve weeks and sell them as light roasters, but this calls for adjustment of management in advance. Storing is not the answer because, while fancy packs of frozen broilers have been developed for special markets, the freezing of surplus birds from the general run places them at a disadvantage in competition with the constant supplies of fresh product thereafter—a factor which makes the broiler grower an unlikely prospect for any government support plan.

Various types of agreements have been worked out between the grower and feed company or packer, sometimes all three, to help finance and market the crop. In general, the grower must choose between different degrees of security and of freedom to capitalize on a strong market.

The broiler business is now very intensive and highly competitive.

Even so, it has yet to move beyond the larger consuming centres and tap a vast new market where the convenience of cut-up poultry will be equally appreciated.

Some of the outstanding operators have tremendous flocks of 25,000 to 50,000 and even substantially beyond that high level.

Test Plots of Barley Varieties

The development of new varieties of grain includes the important stage of field tests. Seed is planted in test plots, and identified with stakes as shown in the photograph. The variety of barley on the right obviously lacks strength of straw, as compared with its neighbor to the left, which may be OAC-21.

The first plant tester in this district was David Fife, of Otonabee, whose name will always be associated with the Red Fife hard spring wheat on which the western "granary of the Empire" was established. Objective of plant breeders is to develop high yielding strains producing good quality grain. They must be resistant to diseases that attack crops, such as rusts and smuts.

The science of the cerealists has vastly increased the wealth of this country. Federal and provincial governments maintain special departments for the breeding of new varieties. Assisting them, and by special arrangement, are grain farmers such as Robert Armstrong, of Cavan, who set out test plots to be visited by farmers of their neighborhoods.

In Peterborough district a few years ago, Dawson's Golden Chaff fall wheat was commonly sown. It was more recently followed by Cornell, and is now substantially displaced by Dawbul. Some hundreds of farmers saw the splendid ten-acre lot of Dawbul on the Armstrong farm last summer.

6,000 Cereal Plots TestGrain For Eastern Ontario

Illustration Station in Eastern Ontario are intensively used to evaluate cereal varieties, particularly oats and barley. The material produced by the plant breeders is given final testing on the Stations. The results have a very important bearing on whether a variety will be licensed and distributed or whether, due to undesirable agronomic characteristics such as lack of yield, straw strength or disease resistance, it is discarded.

In the period 1945-1953, over [illegible] and seed plots have been grown under varying conditions of soil, climate and cereal diseases. All the recent cereal varieties produced by the Central Experimental Farm have been carried in Illustration Station tests prior to being named says L. M. Casserly. In addition, promising material from other sources is carried.

CONSISTENT ABEGWEIT

A review of the results of cereal testing for a nine year period at nine different locations strongly indicates that no one variety is consistently superior. However, there definitely are varieties particularly suited to specific conditions of soil, climate and cereal diseases. The oat variety Abegweit, a sister of Beaver, and possessing medium rust resistance has been a generally satisfactory variety. In areas where rust is serious, some yielding ability may have to be sacrificed in favour of increased rust resistance and in such instances the oat variety, Lanark is valuable. Where an early variety is essential, Lanark is again useful as is also the new Guelph variety Simcoe. On light soils, the samewhat late maturing but very vigorous Roxton may be used to advantage. The short-strawed variety Clinto has a place on very fertile soils where lodging is a serious problem.

In barley studies, the long time standard malting variety O.A.C. 21 is the lowest in yield of the varieties tested. The newer malting variety, Montcalm, is the highest in yield. Both of these varieties are somewhat lacking in straw strength. Where the soil is high in fertility, larger yields are harvested when the new feed barley, Fort, is used.

There are two new oat varieties and one barley, which on the basis of one years testing, appear to have promise for the future. The oat varieties are Rodney and Garry. These varieties carry considerable disease resistance and appear to have yielding ability.

A new feed barley, Husky, appears to live up to its name in yielding ability and straw strength The results of the rather intensive testing of cereal varieties in Eastern Ontario strongly indicates there is considerable adaptation of varieties to local conditions. Yields secured from varieties on locations reasonably near provide a guide to the farmer in selecting a variety for use on his farm. However, in certain instances a farmer might be well advised to try for himself, a number of drill width strips in a test to ascertain how new varieties will behave under conditions existing on his own farm. At the same time, it must be remembered that suitable farm management practices are also important in obtaining and retaining continued satisfactory grain yields.

Accomplishments Of FAO.

The Food and Agricultural Organization (FAO) came into being at the Quebec conference of the United Nations in 1945. It was the first permanent U.N. agency formed. Broadly speaking, its function is "to initiate and help carry out development in the fields of food and agriculture".

From the day of its birth the F.A.O. has had on its hands what seemed to be an almost hopeless task. Its primary operations, naturally, were aimed against primitive agricultural methods, superstition and ignorance. Millions of acres were being scratched with crude wooden plows. Witch doctors were widely used to hex away plant and animal diseases.

ATTACKING DISEASES

Despite the odds, the F.A.O. has many noteworthy accomplishments to its credit. It has brought steel plows to countries which never had them. It has established a foot and mouth disease commission to control that dread cattle disease in 10 European countries. Rinderpest, which kills 2,000,000 cattle annually in Asia and Africa, is being fought in five separate areas. In Thailand, a vigorous campaign is being conducted against poultry disease. At a recent international plant protection convention it was agreed to establish a world reporting service to prevent the spread of plant diseases and insects. During the last two years an anti-locust campaign was fought on a wide front in Africa and the Near East to wipe out this centuries-old destroyer of crops. Other anti-pest campaigns were vigorously waged in Syria, Egypt, Afghanistan, Libya, Ceylon, Iraq and Israel.

REPLACE MANUAL LABOR

The F.A.O. is bringing advanced cultural methods to people who never dreamed that soil could be made to produce more by fertilization, irrigation, erosion prevention and crop rotation. New species of plants were introduced which resulted in greater yields. Animal and manual labor is being slowly replaced by tractors, harvesters and other mechanical implements.

Given time, the men at F.A.O.'s headquarters in Rome are convinced, the problem of world hunger can be licked. Increased production through application of scientific agricultural principles and proper distribution of agriculture surpluses, in a nutshell, is how they see it could be accomplished.

Cheap Seed Poor Investment, Fails At Harvest

"In no branch of farming is it so true that the penny wise-pound foolish policy is so often or so strikingly illustrated as in the buying and the use of cheap, poor seed."

That statement is by R. E. Goodin of the field crops branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

"The cost of seed is ordinarily a trifling matter in comparison with the expense of the season's labor, the value of the crop and the capital investment in the average farm. The difference in the first cost between cheap and good seed is usually so slight that no farmer who has his own best interests at stake will hesitate to pay it.

"So-called 'costly' seed will, or should, meet all the requirements of 'good seed,' namely viability, or the ability to come to life when suitable moisture, oxygen and warmth are supplied; freedom from weed seeds and debris; 100 per cent true to name, disease-free and resistant; insect-free, and it should have the ability to produce a crop of uniformity and excellence.

"As no one can grow a successful crop from poor seed, the time and attention devoted to crops from poor seed will be largely if not entirely wasted. One of the hardest lessons for a beginner to learn is that cheap seed is the most costly seed to buy."

"With favorable conditions for getting land plowed last fall, we expect some increase in 1954 acreage of oats, barley and corn.

Any production practice on our farms that will cut down the amount of cash spent for livestock feeds will be money saved. Therefore, as we make production plans, let us keep down key costs of production by adopting and putting good farming practices into action."

"This will include soil improvement and conservation, and the maximum output per acre of high quality grains, protein, rich supplements and roughage. Such a program naturally would include attention to grass production — whether for pasture or silage; and any good grass program will necessitate attention to good viable seed of suitable kinds and strains."

Nitrogen Wheat Insurance Recommended By Paterson

From its crop increase on some of the Peterborough farmers last years, F. C. Paterson, agricultural representative, is recommending application of 50 to 100 pounds of ammoniam nitrate on fields of winter wheat.

"An insurance against the uncertainty of the early spring weather." Mr. Paterson said.

"We never know what kind of weather spring has in store for us, but we do know from experience that it is often backward, with slow growth and unfavorable start for wheat. Probably it is a little early yet to apply the nitrate, but this job can be done while the frost is still in the ground. Use a drill or a cyclone broadcaster.

We have good winter wheat land in this part of the province but it is a practical idea to give it some help. Nitrogen provides a stimulant for the young shoots when they are beginning to make growth, and also stays with the crop in early summer. This has been the experience of some of our own farmers, and all those who visited the farm of Robert Armstrong in Cavan last year had an object lesson in the value of nitrogen applied in the spring on winter wheat. He found that the cost was more than made up in the extra yield per acre. And, there were others than Mr. Armstrong. An additional five to ten mushels an acre offsets the buying of the ammonium nitrate."

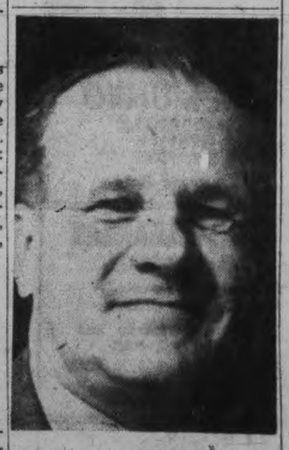
This recommendation is by way of reminder of the strong appearance of the field of Dawbul wheat at the twilight meeting at Mr. Armstrong's place, and the incidental comparison with a strip of the field that was missed in the spring fertilizing experiment.

Pork Too Fat Loss To Producer

"The hog business is the farmers' business", and is not a matter to be solved by the packer or the government, to quote an item in the news sheet of the federal Department of Agriculture.

It is too often overlooked that lean, high quality carcasses are just as necessary for the Canadian market as for export to the United Kingdom. The United States pays a premium only for lean cuts.

The Canadian Federation of Agriculture has been sponsoring demonstrations in packing plants with the idea of determining the basic factors upon which to plan future policies of production and of the actual selling of hogs. These demonstrations were at Hull, London, Winnipeg and Edmonton.



R. K. Bennett chief of the livestock marketing division of the federal department has emphasized three points.

(1) The processing of hogs in a packing plant is largely the trimming off or the removal of surplus fat to a point where the trimed lean cut is acceptable to the consumer.

FAT WORTH SEVEN CENTS

Early in February the packer paid the farmer approximately 32 cents a pound basis grade "A" for the dressed carcass. The fat which had to be removed is worth only seven cents a pound, in the form of lard. This loss has to be borne by the producer and shows up in the hog price.

DR. H. L. PATTERSON, Toronto, economist of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, will be chairman of the panel discussion, Thursday, March 16 at 2:30 p.m. on the subject of "Farm Machinery," considering particularly the implements needed in Central Ontario farming.

Burnbrae Cast Presents Play, 'The Red Spider'

STIRLING (ENS) — St. Andrew's Presbyterian church sponsored a three-act play entitled "The Red Spider" presented by a cost of Burnbrae people. The play was held in the Sunday school hall.

Mr. Carl Bateman introduced the Burnbrae director.

Between acts Mr. Gerald Taylor contributed piano accordion selections and solos were sung by Mrs. Bert Willis and Mrs. Ken Hagerman.

Drive Prevent Sale Liquor By Glass

VICTORIA (CP) — Temperance forces have opened a drive to prevent introduction of cocktail lounges in this staid British Columbia capital.

While residents of B.C.'s largest city, Vancouver, waited expectantly for sale of liquor by the glass to start, a petition was handed to the government asking for a local option vote for beer-parlor-free Victoria.

Legislation providing for sale of liquor by the glass in cocktail lounges, restaurants and clubs was approved by the legislature last fall and the provincial liquor commissioner this week began screening scores of applications for licences from Vancouver, New Westminster and Nanaimo. There are 61 applications from Vancouver.

Also before the government are applications from the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways for licences to sell liquor on passenger trains and steamships.

DRINK MORE BEER

Despite the broadening of hard liquor outlets, previously confined to liquor stores, the government has indicated it does not expect its liquor revenues to increase. Premier Bennett said in bringing down the budget in the legislature that he expected a $1,000,000 drop in government liquor profits because British Columbians were drinking less hard liquor and more beer.

The local option petition, presented by the Victoria citizens committee, had the immediate effect of postponing consideration of liquor licence applications from Victoria.

The committee is continuing the fight waged here for more than 30 years to keep Victoria free of beer parlors.

Under the new liquor act, a local option vote may be secured in any area by obtaining the signature of 35 per cent of the electorate. The committee said it had obtained more than 12,000 signatures—well over the required percentage.

Meanwhile, H. B. Olson, president of the Victoria Hotelmen's Association, said the citizens' committee had "misled" the people into thinking that beer and parlors would spring up in the city unless they signed the petition. He said the hotelmen were interested in the plusher cocktail lounges, not "sloppy beer parlors."

Find Dog Buried In Cemetery

COLCHESTER, England (Reuters)—The body of an elderly black spaniel, clad in a hand-knit sweater lies in his grave in a village cemetery near here.

Beside him is a well-chewed slipper.

His fresh grave was discovered early this month, among the graves of villagers. No person had been buried in the cemetery for 14 years, so suspicious police dug down—and found the spaniel's body in a beautifully-made coffin.

It was clear that some boy or girl had loved the spaniel. But it is against the Church of England law for an animal to be interred in sacred ground.

Colchester policemen and the village vicar held a meeting.

The vicar asked: "Is it right to hurt the feelings of the young master or mistress who lovingly wrapped the dog in a sweater and buried him as though he were a brother? That child thinks his pet has gone to heaven."

No, the policemen said, it is not right. So they nailed the coffin lid on again and reburied the spaniel. And they pledged to keep the name of the village a secret from higher authorities.

Sunday night the Bishop of Colchester said, "I am very fond of animals. But consecrated ground for human beings is not at all the approp iate place for a dog's burial.

"If the matter is brought officially to my notice I shall have to look into it."

The matter will not be brought to the bishop's attention.

Today, the spaniel rests in peace.

Havelock WMS Meets

HAVELOCK — (ENS) — "The church in their home" was the theme of the worship service led by Mrs. H. Thompson at a meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of Havelock United church in the Sunday school auditorium, Thursday afternoon.

The study topic "Our Own Backyard" from the study book "where'er the sun" was taken by Mrs. H. Hoard and Mrs. W. Forsyth. A talk on temperance was given by Miss Mary Seeney.

e president, Mrs. R. G. Newman presided and during the business session it was decided to hold a quilting on Tuesday for the mission bale.

A social half hour was enjoyed at the close of the meeting when lunch was served by Mesdames H. Thompson, H. Hoard and W. Forsyth.

Radio Communication In North Said To Be No Real Problem

By DON HANWRIGHT
Canadian Press Staff Writer

KLUANE LAKE, Y.T. (CP)—Radio communication in the sub-Arctic presents no difficulties to Maj. Frank Riddell of the Royal Canadian Army Signals Corps.

A unit of the corps recently had a part in the Canadian Army's northern exercise Hot Dog II, a lesson in cold-weather operations for two parachuting companies of the 1st battalion, Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry. The unit later returned to Ottawa where it is part of a signals experimental branch.

Maj. Ridell's men tested lightweight portable radio equipment from a tiny camp on the frozen surface of Kluane lake, in southwestern Yukon, about 1,400 miles northwest of Edmonton.

VETERANS OF NORTH

Experiments at their transmitting centre on the lake were largely secret. But in addition to this work hte group maintained a larger radio-teletype unit near the army's Silver creek base camp to provide necessary communications during the exercise.

The group included three veterans of at least seven years' service in the north. They were Lieut. R. I. Thompson and Sgt. Tommy Francis, both of Vancouver, and Sgt. Maj. M. M. Craig of Ottawa.

The lake was chosen for the setup, Mr. Riddell told reporters, because it is virtually impossible to get good connections through frozen ground permafrost. In other instances, the unit camped over small streams.

A five-by-three foot steel plate sunk through the ice to the lake bottom provided a ground for their small transmitter.

The aim of the tests was to establish periodic radio contact with other wireless units along the Mackenzie river valley and other points in the Northwest Territories. With pulse signals every half-hour, they listened for acknowledgment from the other stations, most of them operated by the army or the transport department.

For Maj. Riddell the task was nothing new. He was one of the first to establish the now-thriving Northwest Teritories and Yukon Radio System, and has spent 13 of his 31 years in army service living and working in the north.

"There are people who say that radio communication in this part of the country is impossible," he said. "But there is really no problem at all. Radio presents no more of a problem here than elsewhere."

Tests are being conducted by the defence research board at the University of Saskatchewan to improve long-range radio transmission through the auroral zone barrier of the Arctic. Maj. Riddell commented that most of the army's radio interference occurred following—not during—displays of northern lights.

Most of their trouble with transmission came during windstorms which created radio static through blowing snow. The Barren mountains extending some 500 miles east of the camp presented no real barrier. "They might as well not be there," Maj. Riddell said.

Newspaperman Dies In Vancouver

VANCOUVER (CP)—James Wilbour Bryan, 63, a veteran western Canada newspaper man, died here Sunday following a lengthy illness.

He was an active reporter for the Vancouver Sun at his death, making daily telephone checks by bedside telephone throughout his fatal illness.

He was born in Lucknow, Ont., in 1890. His father published the Lucknow Sentinel for 40 years.

Appointed the Sun's first sports editor in 1912, he later worked on the old Vancouver World and on the Edmonton Journal.

He returned to the Sun in 1946 after working on a small weekly here.

Shoemaking Turned Into Shoe Repairing

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—T. J. Garland, although known as a cobbler, actually is a shoemaker.

One of the shoemakers of the old school, Garland continues to build shoes from toe to heel. But shoemaking has turned into more factory-built shoes.

Now 73, Garland began shoemaking 61 years ago when his brothers, also cobblers, let him play around with their leather and tools. In a few years he had his own shop and has been turning out shoes ever since.

CD Recruits 1,200

ST. CATHARINES (CP) — The civic defence organization in this area has recruited 1,200 volunteers since it was formed two years ago. The unit includes nearby Merritton, Thorold, Port Dalhousie, and Grantham township. Director is Brig. R. G. Whitelaw of Niagara-on-the-Lake, a retired Canadian Army officer.

Congress Asked Defeat Power Bill

NEW YORK (AP) — Robert Moses, newly elected chairman of the New York state power authority, has asked Congress to defeat a bill that would permit private utility firms to develop Niagara river power.

In a letter to Senator Edward Martin (Rep.-Pa.), chairman of the Senate committee on public works, Moses said that "the record shows that the worst possible procedure from the point of view of public interest would be to turn over the waters of the Niagara to the five utility companies."

The letter, dated March 13 and released Sunday, added, "The history of private exploitation of the Niagara frontier in New York state is one of outrageous effrontery."

Moses said U.S. development along the Niagara shows up unfavorably compared to Canadian peojects. He urged that the state power authority be allowed to carry out projects on the same basis that the Ontadio hydro-electric power commission has done its job.

"The Canadians" said Moses, "talk less nonsense, act faster and have a better scale of values."

Taxi Driver Held For Deportation

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP)—A Canadian taxi driver was held for deportation today by United States immigration authorities.

Richard W. Friesman, 30, of Niagara Falls, Ont., was arrested Wednesday night after taking a fare across the Rainbow bridge.

Richard C. Haberstroh, chief of investigation, said a woman arrested in New York City last September told of being brought across through an arrangement with Friesman.

Haberstroh said the investigation was continuing.

Kent Junior Farmers' debating team won the western semi-final round from the Cobourg team yesterday. In the final engagement they meet the winner of the Peel vs. Carlton semi-final debate here at the Spring Show Thursday night. Their subject is the effect of professionalism on Canadian athletics. Kent teams are: Marion Griffith and James Boyle of New St. Andrew's Junior Farmers' Club.

GOING TO GERMANY

Major Charles Watt, well known as a former commanding officer of the Salvation Army in Peterborough, is proceeding to Germany to take charge of the Army's work of welfare among the Canadian troops in Germany, at the request of the government.

MEETING POSTPONED

Meeting of the Peterborough Nature Club, scheduled for Wednesday evening, March 17, for a tour of the provincial laboratory at city hall, has been postponed. Instead, members are asked to attend the open meeting of the Canadian Engineering Institute the same night at the Public Library at 8 p.m. The subject of the evening will be "The Geology of South Eastern Ontario."

St. Andrew's Church Choir Wins Festival Competition

Tonight the Peterborough Kiwanis Music Festival moves to Queen Mary auditorium for the remaining three days of its eight-day run. During the first week the contestants were heard in St. Peter's auditorium.

St. Andrew's United church choir, under the direction of organist and choirmaster Harry Northrop, on Saturday night won the open competition for church choirs. It was the first time that St. Andrew's have won in the eight years of the annual music festival.

There was one required number, "King of Glory, King of Peace". The other was the competitor's own choice. St. Andrew's sang an arrangement by Mr. Northrop's brother, Stanley, of the hymn, "Near to the Heart of God".

They were first with 167 points, followed by George Street United with 166 points and St. John's United church, Campbellford, with 165.

PCVS Choral Club, under the direction of Melvin J. Curtis, was tops in the girls' chorus entry with a total of 170 marks. The required musical number was "O Peaceful Night" by Edward German; their choice was "My Johann" the original Norwegian Dance by Grieg.

The PCVS Choral Club edged out the Kenner A Capella Choir, thus somewhat reversing the results of the festival last month in Toronto. At that festival the Kenner choir drew higher marks than their collegians.

After the competitive singing was over Ronald Biggs, adjudicator, put the four church choirs together and they sang a selection from Handel's Messiah.

There was also some round singing with audience participation.

Following is the complete list of Saturday's results: St. Peter's Auditorium:

Hydrant, Post Knocked Off By Skidding Cars

A hydrant and a mail box post were Saturday night casualties in the north end of the city when skidding cars knocked them off.

Neil E. Oliver, 24, RR 1, Peterborough, hit the hydrant was He was travelling east on Parkhill Rd. when just west of Benson Ave., he braked his car for another car in front of him. He skidded to north side, jounced over the sidewalk and broke off the hydrant. A gusher of water spouted as high as the house at 192 Parkhill Rd.

A car being driven north on Benson Ave. late Saturday night skidded out of control for 80 feet at Bennett St. It sailed through the intersection, mounted the northwest curb, and broke off a cement post with a mail box attached.

The driver was 20-year-old Norman Hayward of 95 Bennett St. He told Constable E. G. Stephen, who investigated, that the car slid on the snow-covered road after he put on his brakes.

Hayward was unhurt but there was about $100 damage to the grill, bumper and front of the car generally.

Seventy dollars damage was caused to two cars late Sunday in a collision at Donegal and Brock Sts.

A car being driven west on Brock St. by Dr. H. V. Dobson, 62, of 270 Brock St. was struck on the right rear fender as it went through the intersection by a southbound car driven by Ralph Hutchinson, 29, of 541 Donegal St.

Forty-five dollars damage was caused to the right rear fender of Dr. Dobson's car, and there was $25 damage to the Hutchinson vehicle.

English Firm Buys Store On George St.

Dolcis Shoe Company To Operate Retail Outlet In City

One of Britain's leading shoe manufacturers plans to establish a retail store in Peterborough it was announced today. The Dolcis Shoe Co. on Saturday purchased the Woolworth Block on George St., between Simcoe and Hunter Sts.

It is expected that the Woolworth store will be vacated some time in May, when the business will be transferred to the new store now being completed at the corner of George and Charlotte Sts.

The Dolcis company, which operates stores in Canada in Toronto, Ottawa, London and Montreal has had an eye on Peterborough for more than two years. Gordon Hancock, real estate dealer, has been endeavoring to secure a suitable location. Finally Mr. Hancock secured an option on the Woolworth building from the Florence Estate and the purchase was completed last week. It is believed $160,000 was involved in the deal, and the price per foot one of the highest secured for George St. property.

The Dolcis company manufactures a high grade shoe for both men and women and is expected to take over just as soon as the present tenant vacates.

10,000 Cottages To Be Built In Haliburton

Plans have been announced for the construction of 10,000 cottages in the Haliburton district, costing a total of $30,000,000.

President of the company formed to undertake the project is James Dunn, Peterborough lawyer. Directors are Jack Hayward, a local builder, and Fred Overend of the Peterborough Lumber Co.

The proposed project is an extension of the 800-cottage development known as Haliburton Lake Cottage Project, to be completed this year.

The new and considerably more ambitious project will be located in the townships of Guildford, Havelock, Eyre and part of Harbrun. It will be known as Haliburton Park and will be spread over 70,000 acres, more than 100 square miles.

Groups of cottages will be placed around 150 lakes, including Kenisis, Redstone, Macdonald, Eyre, Clear, Kelly and Johnston. The aim is to have the project resemble a national park.

RESTRICT COMMERCE

The directors plan to restrict commercial activity along the 100 miles of roads that will be needed to service the project. It is hoped to keep it in its natural state as far as possible.

Sale of the cottages is aimed at the low and medium income groups, "people who have been unable to afford cottages before."

Selling prices of the cottages will be from $2,200 to $3,500.

It will probably take about 20 years to develop the entire area, The Examiner was told by James Bowes, Peterborough manager of Ridout Real Estate Ltd., who are agents for the development.

Mr. Bowes has been attending the Sportsmen's Show in Toronto, where his company have a display, including a full-size three-bedroom cottage and pictures taken at the Haliburton Lake project last year.

In the first two days of the show, orders totalling $30,000 were placed, Mr. Bowes reported.

More than 40,000 people had seen the show at Saturday night closing time and most of them appeared interested in the summer cottage section, he said. The show is continuing this week.

"It looks like a very successful show," Mr. Bowes told The Examiner.

Sun Blinds Man Car Rams Train

Leo Jones, 27, of Ware St., escaped death or serious injury when his car ricocheted off a CNR train at the Sherbrooke-Bethune crossing Sunday.

Jones told police that he was driving east on Sherbrooke and was dazzled by bright afternoon sunlight. He also testified that the road was icy and slippery, and that he did not have full control of his vehicle.

Jones then plowed into the side of the train, engineered by Ernest Renbow. After he bounced off, he caromed north on Bethune and ended up parallel to the tracks. The train emerged from the accident unscathed, while Jones' car suffered extensive damages on the front and right side. The accident was investigated by Constable John Conlin.

YOUNGEST IN FESTIVAL

Shelia Brooks of Cobourg has been awarded a silver medal by the committee in charge of the Kiwanis Music Festival for being the youngest contestant this year. She was only five years old. Sheila was the only entry in the piano solo class for children under six years; she got 82 marks for her playing.

Handy Box On Parking Meters Takes Fine Offenders Get Special Rate For Prompt Pay

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—Fuming drivers who hate to go to the police station to pay a parking fine have found salvation at last in the "traf-o-teria."

The little device was installed recently on all parking meters here as an experiment, and indications are that it's going over big with the paying customers.

A motorist here receives a parking ticket and an envelope. If he puts the ticket and 50 cents into the envelopes and place it in the traf-o-teria, an aluminum box attached to the parking meter, the fine is considered paid. Wait 48 hours and the ante goes up to $1.

Conceding that a few hasty notes crop up along with the ticket envelopes, chewing gum, match covers, and assorted loot when the collecting officers empty the boxes, police insist that so far public reaction has been "quite favorable."

Delegation Of Two Counties To Ask Doucett Take Bridge

A delegation from both Peterborough and Victoria counties will interview Highways Minister George Doucett on Thursday to try and persuade him that the department should take over the Kinmount bridge.

The present bridge over the Burnt river is in poor shape and is a bottleneck for motor traffic because it isn't wide enough. As it is a boundary bridge (between Galway township in Peterborough and Somerville township in Victoria) both county councils are interested in it.

The two county engineers — Jack Kean of Peterborough and Harold Wilford of Victoria — have looked it over and estimate that a bridge to replace the present one will cost $60,000.

At the Victoria county council session last week an amount to cover the full cost of the bridge was put into the budget. Victoria will then bill Peterborough county for 50 per cent of it.

However Peterborough county council thought of a different approach. They're willing to pay their share of the cost but they think the department of highways should be approached first and asked to take it over.

After all, they argue, the Kinmount bridge is on a secondary highway. And there is heavy motor traffic.

Peterborough county will have a three-man delegation trying to sell Mr. Doucett on the idea when they go to Queen's Park on Thursday morning. They are Reeve James Gifford of Ennismore, Reeve Roland Tedford of Douro, and Mr. Kean, the engineer.

Mr. Wilford will be one of the Victoria county delegation.

Low Prices Fail To Find Buyers For Potatoes

Durham farmers who specialize in the growing of potatoes have expressed surprise that consumer demand at the low prices through the winter has lacked the activity of two years ago when the price was three times more than it is today.

Probably there is some factor of psychology in the current situation that baffles the trade from the grower to the retailer. If it was expected that the housewife would buy in large quantities at the present price levels that hope has not been realized. Sales are steady without any bulge of demand.

The 75-pound bag today is selling around $1.50 and the 50-pounder at approximately 85 cents.

Two years ago retailers were parting with $7 a bag in an extremely lean market when the grocer was paying considerable money to keep on hand a fair sized stock for his customers. Even then he had difficulty in maintaining supply. Demand then was active and pressing on the trade, although buying was mostly in fractions of a bag. The prospect of being without potatoes entirely was the element that added liveliness to the consumer demand.

Potatoes in Maine were reported last week at 40 and 50 cents a barrel as compared with 70 cents at the warehouse in the depression years of the 1930's, and with $1.85 to $2.50 a year ago. Stocks around Aristook are still heavy as winter ends.

The trade also reports that New Brunswick has in effect an emergency selling plan by which inspectors apportion sales by growers as a means of distributing the business "so that every recognized producer will have a chance to share in the market".

Altogether it is a grim contrast with the peaks of two years ago. Meanwhile, it is likely that the new U.S. crop will be looking for a market north of the border for some of their 1954 production, and in another month or so it is likely that the price of seed potatoes will be cheaper than a year ago.

Farm Wages Remain Steady

OTTAWA (CP)—Canadian farm wages in January held about even with those of the same month last year.

The bureau of statistics reported today the average monthly pay without board was $122—the same as January, 1953. Pay for help hired by the day was $5.80 a day, up 10 cents.

With board, the monthly pay was $88, up $1. By the day, it was $4.60, down 10 cents.

Three Hospitals Awarded Grants

TORONTO (CP) — Three community hospitals in Ontario have been awarded grants totalling $14,542.90 by the Atkinson Charitable Foundation, it was announced today.

The hospitals: Soldiers' Memorial Hospital, Orillia, $5,237.40; Bingham Memorial Hospital, Matheson, $2,632.50; and Dufferin Area Hospital, Orangeville, $6,673.

The grants are for purchase of additional hospital equipment.

Extend Time For Tenders On Bridge

200-Foot Span Over Narrows Should Open In Fall

The job of putting in rock fill at Gannon's Narrows is finished and the next step will be construction of the 200-foot overhead bridge.

Time limit for contractors to tender on the construction job has been extended to April 5. The original deadline was today but a number of companies asked for more time to work out an estimate.

Jack Kean, county engineer and road superintendent, says that if everything goes according to plan the overhead bridge and causeway at Gannon's Narrows will be open for traffic in September.

The causeway and bridge will replace the old floating bridge that joined Ennismore and Harvey townships. The narrows are between Pigeon and Buckhorn lakes, 14 miles northwest of Peterborough.

MAY COST LESS

Original estimate of the cost was $206,000 but there is a strong possibility that this figure will be scaled down. The tender of Armstrong Bros. of Brampton to dump rock fill was 97 cents a cubic yard; and it was estimated that 30,000 cubic yards of rock would have to be used. Final figures on just how much rock was dumped are not yet available.

Armstrong Bros. moved out last week.

The county have already received $99,000 from the department of transport to cover their share of the project. (As the causeway crosses the main route of the Trent Canal system the department are interested in the problem of water flow and boat traffic. They approved the overhead bridge design and gave $99,000 for construction of the bridge itself.)

Plans call for the bottom of the bridge to be 23 feet above the summer water mark so sail boats can go through without the necessity of having their masts taken down. (Since plans were drawn up a year or so ago, there have been some protests from owners of sailing boats that the bridge is not high enough to let the boats through. But it is unlikely that there will be any changes made now.)

A 40-foot bridge is going to be put in at the Harvey township end of the causeway, instead of a culvert that was originally planned. Its purpose will be to permit the free flow of water.

Rock fill and top dressing (pit run gravel) have been built up to six feet above the water level. But it has been built up into a 225-foot ramp where the causeway meets the overhead bridge.

Members of the Masonic fraternity in Peterborough and district are hereby advised that an emergent meeting of Corinthian Lodge No. 101 will be held at 7.30 p.m. Monday at the Comstock funeral home, Rubidge St., for the purpose of attending a Masonic funeral service for Bro. Joseph Andrew Jobe, for many years a member of Corinthian Lodge.

Harness Steam Underground In New Zealand

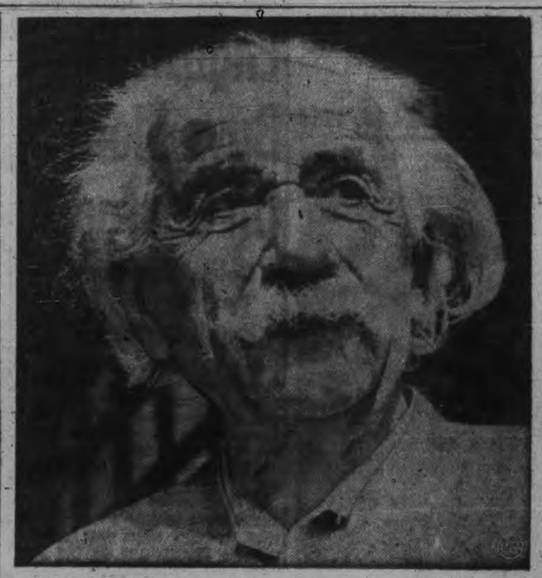
By J. C. GRAHAM
Canadian Press Correspondent

AUCKLAND, N.Z. (CP) — After four years of tests New Zealand has found it has ample resources to produce a large volume of cheap electricity from a new source. It is going ahead rapidly with plans for the first power station using natural underground steam.

In the four years engineers have drilled 29 bores in the heart of the north island's thermal region—the strange area of boiling mud pools, steam blowholes, geysers and hot lakes.

The bores have gone down to varying depths, some as deep as 3,000 feet. Tests have shown that the pressure of steam emitted does not diminish with time. Some, in fact, have become hotter and fiercer after prolonged operation.

It has also been shown that several bores can be put down in the same area without reducing the pressure.



THUNDEROUS ROAR

When first blown, the bores hurl steam hundreds of feet into the air with an ear-splitting roar. Later the steam is controlled and diverted through heavy steel pipes fitted with valves and gauges to measure the pressure.

For the present it is not proposed to put down any more bores. Experts are satisfied that there is plenty of steam available to run at least one big power station. The 10 largest bores—four with a diameter of eight inches and six of six inches—are believed to be sufficient to produce 90,000 kilowatts of electricity, the same output as some of the larger hydro-electric projects developed in New Zealand.

The first power station will not be large. The size has not been determined, but the aim is to use it as a trial of practical operational problems with a view to learning the requirements for later and larger schemes. Work on foundations for the first station is already in progress.

Indications are that the first station will lead to the building of a great chain of others. The thermal belt stretches 50 miles wide across much of the north island. So far drilling has been done in only a few areas.

REFLECTIVE—Dr. Albert Einstein, originator of the theory of relativity, relaxes in his Princeton, N.J., study. The world-famous scientist will celebrate his 75th birthday on March 14.

Handkerchiefs Had Beginnings In 11th Century

WASHINGTON — Surrounded by machine age factories, a small island of European handicraft continues to turn out one of the oldest articles of useful and decorative wear—the handkerchief.

At the textile centre of Cambrai, in northeast France, veteran artisans still weave fine cloth by hand before cutting it into squares for finishing, says the National Geographic Society. Often the work is done at home on looms that have been in the family for generations.

Cambric, a material originally made of linen and now including various grades of cotton, was named by Cambrai (Flemish Kamerik). According to tradition, the close cambric weave was first produced there in the 15th century.

Cambrai's handkerchiefs once were all white, trimmed with delicate lace or embroidery. Now color spashes across the looms. Fifteen or more shades may decorate the elaborate designs of today's hand weavers.

FOR THE RICH ONLY

Whatever the latest achievements in color and design, there is nothing new about the handkerchief itself, whether carried or worn for decoration. Students of dress and custom find reference to its use in fashionable Europe as early as the 11th century.

By the 15th and 16th centuries, handkerchiefs were in vogue among the nobility and well-to-do from the Baltic Sea to the Mediterranean. Not all could afford them.

Venetian ladies displayed handsome 18-inch squares of cambric and lawn, trimmed with metallic or colored-thread embroideries. Edged with lace, fringed and tasseled, some hung by a cord from the waist.

"Handkerchers" of various shapes and sizes were highly prized in the English court under Queen Elizabeth I. As on the continent, many of these were expensive and ornate, with gold and silver embellishment.

Others, exhibited as tokens of affection, bore names of the beloved and "true love knots." Ladies gave miniature bits of such finery to young men, who wore them in their hats as favors.

QUEENS HELD HANDKERCHIEFS

Lace was common handkerchief adornment from the earliest times. It probably reached its most elaborate forms during the 18th-century age of elegance preceding the French Revolution.

Two famous 16th-century portraits of Catherine, Queen of Portugal, and Queen Ann of Spain showed both with large lace-inset handkerchiefs held firmly in hand.

In the 18th and 19th centuries, India prints and Paisleys became popular additions to the old-fashioned white styles. Other prints depicted current news events and proclaimed political affiliations. One early 19th century English handkerchief copied the American Declaration of Independence in full.

Progressive Conservatives To Choose New President

OTTAWA (CP) — Progressive Conservatives will meet here for the next three days to choose a new president for their national organization and chart policies for the years ahead.

Chief interest centres on the choice of a president to succeed George Nowlan of Wolfville, N.S., Member of Parliament for Digby-Annapolis-Kings, who is retiring after four years in office.

A contest seems assured. Although only one definite contender, George Hees, 43-year-old member for Toronto Broadview, has emerged, there are indications that one or more other likely nominees will stand.

Recent speculation has mentioned four possible contenders: Hon. Earl Rowe, member for Dufferin-Simcoe in Ontario and former cabinet member under the late prime minister R. B. Bennett; John Hackett, former MP for Stanstead in Quebec; M. A. Macperson, Regina lawyer, and Gordon Churchill, MP for Winnipeg South Centre.

However, in a statement on the eve of the convention Mr. Rowe said he will not be a candidate for the presidency.

VOTE TUESDAY

If a choice if necessary, it will be made Tuesday by some 140 voting delegates at the start of the formal two-day meeting.

Today will be devoted to meetings of the party's women's organization and the Young Progressive Conservative Association.

The three-day meeting marks the 100th anniversary of the party founded in 1854 by Sir John A. Macdonald. Between 600 and 800 party members are expected to attend.

Discussions on future policy and organization will be aimed at a return to government power last held 19 years ago.

As one change, the party may return to its former name of "conservative" which was changed in 1942 at the request of John Bracken at the Winnipeg convention which chose him party leader. A number of resolutions favoring a return to the former name have been sent in by constituency organizations.

Party officials say they do not expect the present leadership of Hon. George Drew to become an issue. As at past annual meetings, there will be a motion of confidence in the leadership.

Crown Princess Reported Ill

OSLO, Norway (CP) — The state hospital announced that Crown Princess Martha, 53, was admitted Saturday for treatment of an internal haemorrhage caused by jaundice. The statement said the bleeding has been stopped and described her condition as "satisfactory."

Nevertheless, celebrations of her silver wedding anniversary March 21 with Crown Prince Olaf have been cancelled.

In London, the Press Association said Queen Mother Elizabeth may cancel her proposed visit to Norway at the end of this week because of Princess Martha's illness. The Queen Mother was to have attended the celebrations.

U.S. Gift To Japan May Speed Signing Of Trade Agreement

By HAROLD MORRISON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

A United States decision to give Japan gifts of wheat and barley as part of defence aid likely will speed up signing of a Japanese-Canadian trade agreement.

Japan is one of Canada's top grain customers, second only to Britain in wheat purchases, and [illegible] competition increasing, this country is anxious to protect that market for Canadian grain.

Japan, however, has made clear she will sign a guarantee, providing a minimum market for Canadian grain only at the time the general trade agreement is signed. This latter move would reduce tariffs on Japanese goods, giving Japan the opportunity to earn more dollars in Canada.

Recently the U.S. announced that as part of defence aid, it will provide Japan with 500,000 tons of wheat and 100,000 tons of barley free.

Indications [illegible] Canadian pact will be signed in Ottawa in the next few weeks.

NO DUMPING

The agreement will provide tariff reductions on Japanese shirts, gloves, toys, novelties and other goods, but likely will safeguard Canadian manufactures with a proviso that the concessions can be withdrawn if Japan "dumps" goods at rock-bottom prices on the Canadian market.

In turn, Japan will guarantee Canada "non-discrimination" in the allocation by the Japanese government of dollars for imports. Japan has exchange controls and a dollar shortage.

In 1953, Canada's exports to Japan increased to $118,600,000 from $102,600,000 in 1952.

Japan's sales in Canada totalled only $13,600,000, up slightly from $13,100,000 in 1952.

A big portion of Canada's exports was in grain. Wheat shipments in the calendar year 1953 totalled $52,400,000, almost double the $27,000,000 shipped in 1952. Barley shipments to Japan rose to $17,500,000 from $13,600,000.

Rough Reviews Irritating Priestly Is Fighting Mad

By RON EVANS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP)— John Bounton Priestley, for 25 years one of Britain's favorite authors, has run into rough reviews and he's fighting mad.

One review of his latest novel, "The Magicians," calls it a "childish, angry, cryptophilosophic fantasy." Another says Priestley has joined "the army of the embittered [illegible] the decriers of the age who hope, by decrying it, to elevate themselves above it."

The wealthy, 60-year-old novelist, playwright, lecturer and broadcaster, who actively backed the socialists in 1948 and then bolted without explanation in 1951, is hitting back hard. He calls his critics members of the "new hangover school" of reviewing.

In a letter to The Daily Mirror, which earlier examined "the sad case of Mr. Priestley," he said: "I may have changed—though nobody who knew me would say I had gone sour—but it may be too, that my work is honestly reflecting the times . . ."

STORY ABOUT DRUG

"The Magicians" is the story of a powerful group of men trying to market a wonder drug, "sepman 18," which has all the beneficial, but none of the harmful, effects of alcohol. They enlist the help of a high-spirited business man, Sir Charles Ravenstreet, but he is dissuaded from taking part in the venture by three mysterious magicians—some say angels—and the drug is never placed on the market.

"This book might have been good entertainment," said Philip Toynbee of The Observer, "if it hadn't been ruined by the constant intrusion of Mr. Priestley's private, but by no means unique or illuminating, prejudices."

Most other critics agreed that the political tone of "The Magicians," as presented through dialogue, mars the book. They quoted some samples:

"He'd have more to enjoy by selling out . . . thanks to a system of taxation sanctioned by both Labor and Tory governments."

"Sheep and rats . . . Some of my old socialist pals who used to thump it out at street corners are among the worst. The rest are just mugs . . ."

WRONG INTERPRETATION

Priestley protests that the critics wrongly interpret as his own opinions voiced by the book's characters.

He wrote to one paper:

"As a conscientious novelist, I must make my characters talk in the way I believe they would talk. The creation of fiction becomes impossible unless this freedom is recognized . . ."

Reviewers recall that in Priestley's earlier books, such as "The Good Companions," "Angel Pavement" and "English Journey," which he has said were written [illegible] rather than money, he voiced strong faith in Britain. He wrote of "her political wisdom . . . and the courage and steady kindness of the people."

SWITCHED POLITICS

In 1947 he wrote that he was a socialist of Liberal, English type, and would do everything he could to prevent Britain from abandoning socialism, "for that alone can save it."

Four years later he announced: "I am no longer a socialist. I suppose you could call me more of a liberal."

He also resigned from the board of the left-wing New Statesman and Nation. The same weekly now gives "The Magicians" its most glowing review:

"Beautifully composed and splendidly written, it has great power and real point, and the power and the point alike come from Mr. Priestley's perception of the condition of contemporary man."

Priestley's voice became familiar to many Canadians through a series of weekly 15-minute broadcasts called "Britain Speaks," beamed to North America from 1940 to 1943.

Red Cross Blitz Night Nets $800 In Bancroft

BANCROFT (ENS)—The Red Cross campaign "Blitz" night, held in the village on Thursday, netted a total of over $800. This amount was collected by a group of 27 canvassers in less than three hours.

Campaign chairman E. G. Thomas said he "was highly gratified" with the result of the canvass and confident that when the returns from the outer districts are available later in the month, the North Hastings target of $1,000 will be comfortably exceeded.

Members of the volunteer canvass team were: Mrs. W. L. Martin, Mrs. G. Thomson, Mrs. J. Hawkins, Mrs. Art Towle, Mrs. Bernice Turner, Mrs. Fred Delyea, Mrs. F. Hibbard, Mrs. P. Stringer, Mrs. J. N. Following Clues In Murder Of 21-Year Old

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP) — Provincial Police today searched for the owner of a silver tie pin with three hearts across it in connection with the slaying of a Woodstock girl last Friday night.

The bruised, battered body of Fern Henkell, 21, was discovered by a Detroit man Saturday on a lonely country road 15 miles southeast of Windsor.

Police said she was beaten to death by someone using a fairly light, sharp instrument who hit her several times on the back of the head. The partly-clad body was lying in a three-foot, water-filled ditch, the head submerged and right hip showing.

A post mortem indicated she was in the water Friday night, perhaps longer. Large welts appeared on each hip and bruises showed below and behind each ear.

She wore only a girdle, an open sweater and stockings. Her shoes hung by their straps from her ankles. Her coat was beside her with the right wrist caught in the sleeve. The wrist was broken.

BATTLED ATTACKER

Under clothing was scattered along the road for about 50 feet. Police did not say if the woman was sexually attacked. They said she battled her attacker and apparently tried to run away.

Stewart Ingram, 30, of Detroit, found the body on his regular Saturday afternoon walk in the country.

Ingram was held for questioning but released after police checked his story. He had called police immediately from a nearby farm house and waited until they arrived.

Police found the tiny tie pin when they removed the broken wrist from the coat lining. Water in her lungs indicated she was not dead when thrown into the ditch. Direct cause of death was a cerebral haemorrhage from the blows on the head.

FIND RAFFLE TICKET

Police searching the scene found a $10 bill, some snapshots and a raffle ticket on a car. A Woodstock man who runs the raffle supplied the girl's name from a counterfoil. Samuel Henkell of Woodstock, the girl's father, identified the body Sunday.

Mr. Henkell said his daughter left home a week ago to look for work in Toronto. He received a card Wednesday saying she had found a job. A check with her employer showed she left Toronto Thursday night saying she had another position and was going to Woodstock for a few days.

Musicians Of West Indies Play Steel Barrel Music

WASHINGTON—Aladdin rubbed his lamp and up popped a genie. In the West Indies, music-minded islanders are tapping on steel oil barrels with rubber-tipped sticks—and out pour magic melodies.

Enthusiastic "steel bands" now springing up around the Caribbean say their tunes are as true as those of conventional orchestras. Certainly they have a haunting quality all their own.

The steel-barried instruments are discards from oil-industry warehouses scattered among the islands. The musicians cut the drums to size with a hacksaw, and tune them by sledgehammer. With the talent of people who created Calypso, they pound out indentations on the drum face until they achieve the precise tonal effects desired.

DANCERS JINGLE PEBBLES

All over the world, the ingenious use of primitive devices proves that music will out.

Mrs. Gilbert Grosvenor, wife of the editor of the National Geographic Magazine, reported in a recent article on the improvised gadgets played by the native gold miners of Johannesburg, South Africa.

One dancer at a tribal show at the mines "rattled his own accompaniment with stones in a shoe-blacking can . . . There were drumheads stretched across barrels, tin whistles, and marimbas made of planks, copper tubing, and tin cans."

In Latin America, each nation has its own assortment of native rhythm makers, some that go back to the old Indian civilizations of the Inca and Aztec.

Among curious examples are cow-horn, deer-hoof, and gourd rattles, bamboo flutes, copper bells, and trumpets made of bark, clay, seashells, and animal bones. Other pieces include grotesque but beautifully carved wooden whistles, panpipes of bound reeds, and bird-beak and crab-claw jingles.

MATERIALS AT HAND

Through the ages primitive musicians have used what came to hand. The drums that throb in jungle villages, from central Africa and Caribbean isles to the Far East, may be huge calabash shells, hollowed-out tree trunks, or converted pottery jars. On some, buck-skin, sheepskin and lizardskin covers give off the reverberations. Hides of the pig-like peccary are popular in South America; in Australia, the wallaby skin.

Students agree that many string instruments originated in Asia. An ancient contrivance still played in the world's remoter areas is the musical bow. It resembles the hunter's arched bow, with a fiber or string stretched its length, and either an attached or separate soupd box. Musical bows ranging from 25 feet to a few inches have been found.

Musicians of India draw plaintive melodies from a long-necked string instrument whose body is a dried pumpkin. Peruvian shepherds play lingering, melancholy notes through a flute made from the leg bone of a llama. Australian aborigines strike together two boomerangs, or music sticks, with an intense metallic syncopation.

Another bushman favorite is a leaf from the eucalyptus tree, held to the mouth somewhat as children blow through a blade of grass. When an aborigine chorus sings some ancient ancestral theme through the strangely vibrating gum leaves, the effect is unique in primitive music.

Thirty Witnesses Called In Murder Case

BARRIE (CP) — The crown, which has already called 30 witnesses, was expected to complete its case today in the murder trial of two Toronto youths charged in the shooting of Fred (Scotty) Cameron Oct. 29.

Charged are William S. Kingsley, 19, and Ian Francis Robertson, 20. Cameron, a Toronto investment house messenger and former professional football player in Scotland, was shot five times and his body was dumped on a sideroad in this district Oct. 30.

Residents on the sideroad testified they heard shots and a car speed away the night before.

The trial, being heard by Mr. Justice H. A. Aylen and an Ontario Supreme Court jury, was recessed Saturday after five days of testimony.

KILLED FOR $14

"I'll bet that's the first time anyone shot a man for $14," Robertson is alleged to have told Kingsley in a statement to police admitted as evidence Saturday.

Detective sergeant Bernard Simmons of the Toronto force and inspector Alex McLeod of the provincial police testified Saturday Kingsley made a lengthy statement to them. The statement, admitted as evidence, told of Kingsley's having had homosexual relations with the victim.

The statement quoted Kingsley as twice shooting Cameron. After the first shot Cameron was put in the trunk of Robertson's father's car and the youths drove along the Toronto-to-Barrie highway with Cameron, not yet dead, pounding on the trunk sides and shouting.

SHOUTS FROM TRUNK

The statement quoted Kingsley as saying:

"Cameron was yelling and yelling. It scared me. We pulled off on a sideroad.

"Robertson stopped the car and opened the trunk. . . Cameron got out and walked towards Ian and Ian shot him a couple of times.

"We then ran back to the car. . . Ian said 'Go shoot him again.' I went over and he was lying on the grass still looking at me. So I went close and shot him.

"Later in the car Robertson pulled some money from his pocket. He had a $10 bill, three ones and a handful of change. Robertson said: " 'I'll bet that's the first time anyone shot a man for $14.' "

WMS Receives Thanks For Food Sent To India

BETHANY (ENS)—The March meeting of the United Church Women's Missionary society was held at the home of Mrs. W. Rowland, with Mrs. C. Rowan acting president in the absence of Mrs. G. Waddell, through illness. Mrs. L. Norman read the scripture lesson.

Two quilts were reported completed for the mission bale, having been quilted at the homes of Mrs. Ernest Stacey and Mrs. John White. Mrs. Lloyd Kennedy donated a third quilt top, which will be finished in the near future.

Mrs. G. M. Longfield, supply secretary presented a request for goods for a bale to be sent from the Peterborough Presbytery and a special collection was taken for it.

Mrs. Rowan, reporting for the Watch Tower on India told of the appreciation of the people of that country who had received milk and food supplies through gifts from Canada directed towards the famine areas. Mrs. T. Jackson gave a short talk on stewardship, also of a mission school for Japanese in Denver, B.C. and of the number of pupils who have been a credit to the school and are now serving in different occupations as christian leaders.

Mrs. Herb. Coppins had charge of the study period. Her topic was mainly evangelism by radio in South America and the work among the Latin Americans. "People who cannot read can listen to the message of the gospel over the radio and often become christians. The use of airplanes also allows the missionary to serve more people in a much shorter time. There are now 30 air strips in South America."

At the close of the meeting lunch was served by the hostess.

Driver Charged As Car Clips Posts

CAMPBELLFORD (ENS) — A 24-year-old Campbellford youth, Donald W. White of 21 Churchill drive, has been charged with careless driving following an accident on Highway 30 about six miles north of Campbellford early Saturday evening.

White was driving north on the highway and had just rounded a curve when the car went out of control and skidded about 448 feet, taking out 100 feet of guard-rail posts in its plunge.

Police said the car skidded from one side of the road to the other before striking the guard rails. The driver was not injured but the car was damaged to the extent of about $400. The accident occurred a short distance north of the Woodland cheese factory.

SNAPS POLE

In another accident on Highway 7, about five miles east of Havelock, two Marmora district men escaped uninjured after their car skidded more than 300 feet and broke off a telephone pole owned by the Belmont and Methuen Municipal Telephone System.

Driver of the car, Alex M. Empey, 25, of RR 2 Marmora, told police he was crowded off the road by another car as he travelled east on the highway.

The car was damaged to the extent of about $100. Neither the driver nor a passenger in the car Cecil J. Bell of Marmora, were injured.

OPP Constable Archie Eady of Campbellford investigated both acicdents.

200 Attend Sacred Heart PTA Irish Tea

The Irish were out in numbers, more than 200, Sunday afternoon for the St. Patrick's tea of the Parent-Teacher Association of Sacred Heart School. The tea was held in the new hall at the church, which was decorated, as one would expect on such an occasion, with Shamrocks.

"Little girls in green to serve you tea," as pre-advertising posters stated, were wearing white aprons dotted with Shamrocks and high green hats. The green and white color scheme of the tea room decor was highlighted by the bouquet centring the main table which featured green carnations. The ecru lace tea cloth was laid over green and green tapers completed the setting.

Tea pourers were Mrs. B. Holland, Mrs. M. O'Brien, Mrs. W. Larocque, Mrs. Ben Smith and Mrs. Neil Collins.

Ten quartette tables to accommodate the guests, each decorated too, were in charge of Mrs. D. Hatton, Mrs. J. DeNoble, Mrs. G. Harrington, Mrs. B. Bailey, Mrs. P. Coursey, Mrs. C. J. Cunningham, Mrs. Leo Collins, Mrs. R. Bacon and the Misses Teresa Sullivan and Marguerite Collins.

The tea was made by Mrs. W. DeNoble and Mrs. E. Gregg and Mr. Leo Martyn, secretary of the Association, had the job of keeping the tea pots filled. Mrs. J. Johnston and Mrs. M. Stabler replenished the plates.

President Mr. Fred Whaley was receiving, assisted by Mrs. W. Flint and Mrs. V. Flynn. Messrs. Ed. Johnston and Jos. Slattery were taking tickets.

The decorations were the handiwork of Mrs. B. Rogers and committee.

Spring Hat Tea Proceeds Go For YW World Service

Easter fashions traditionally start at the top — with the hat — and every daughter of Eve is at this season most interested in the kind of creation she will wear on her head Easter Sunday. So, it is small wonder that the annual Spring Hat Tea of the YWCA Members' Council continues to be an extremely popular event and Saturday drew a crowd of more than 300.

One annual attendant at this tea is finding that it is very profitable for her to do so. Mrs. Thomas Smith of 199 Reid St. last year and again this year was the winner of the draw for a spring hat worth $8.50.

This hat draw is a very lucrative arrangement and added considerably to the net proceeds of the afternoon, which are for the Y World Service Fund. The fund assists in the building and maintaining of Y's in various parts of the world, including Suriname where the former program director here, Miss Marion Foster is now in charge.

So Miss Foster wanted to have a part in the tea too, and she sent a new Easter hat such as is worn by the well-dressed lady of Surinam and it was modelled in the show. Simply a square of brightly printed calico, it is folded and gathered in the accepted style of that country.

Three showings of the pert and becoming hats selected by the eight models were presented in a charming spring flower garden setting in the spectator room. Each hat was commented on by Mrs. W. J. Gilling, and the models were Mis Joan Cruikshanks, Miss Dorothy Harle, Miss Bea Pelsis, Miss Betty Merrett and Miss Millie Hayward, Mrs. Paul Irwin, Mrs. Jack Nicholls and Mrs. James McClenaghan.

In addition, all those taking part in the tea were wearing hats from the same spring collection which each had chosen to suit her costume for the day.

But it was not spring hat weather outside on Saturday, so the guests were easily distinguished by the fact that they were not wearing bright new toppers.

RECEIVING

They were received by the Council president Miss Annie Williams, assisted by Miss Jean McIntyre and Miss Leta Brownscombe and Mrs. Walter Perks, and hostesses in the tea room were Mrs. Jack Pruner and Miss Ella Down.

The tea table was lovely with a palest green Chinese linen embroidered cloth, centred with a silver [illegible] all the spring varieties, and pink and green candles.

The flowers were also given as a draw prize and were won by Mrs. E. W. J. Collins of Chesterfield Ave. Both the draws were made by Mrs. Hugh Waddell just at the close of the tea.

Tea pourers in turn were Mrs. E. W. J. Collins, Mrs. James Fraser, Mrs. S. L. Smoke, Mrs. J. H. Whiteside, Miss Jean Hammond and Mrs. J. Haldimand.

Servers were Misses Mary White, Nancy Walsh, Betty Harle, Gladys Davis, Jean DeNure, Doreen Shaughnessy, Cathy Carnegie, Norma Timlin, Sally Poole, Mary Woodhouse, Wanda Deyell, Enid Philp, Joyce Harris, Nellie Tinney, Edith Miller, Lily Taylor, Margaret Moher, and Mrs. L. Hele, Mrs. H. Roberts, Mrs. J. Young and Mrs. T. Smith.

A home baking sale, conducted in the cafeteria, did a very substantial business, and was in charge of Mrs. Clarence Porter. Mrs. Stewart Wright was selling the home made candy.

General convener of the event was Mrs. Tom Cook. Ticket sales were in charge of Miss Hammond and Miss Hazel Wilson and the draws in charge of Miss Isobel McCamus.

St. Peter's CWL Hold Annual St. Patrick"s Tea

The annual St. Patrick's Tea of St. Peter's sub-division of the Catholic Women's League was held Sunday afternoon in the social centre and was one of the nicest teas they have held as regards arrangements, but due to the bad weather it was not largely attended.

President Mrs. Frank Guilfoyle, who received, was much complimented on the delightful tea table setting. She had a long lace-covered, candle-lit table centred with an arrangement of large narcissus and daffodils combined with varying shades of green foliages and fat pussywillows.

Tea was poured by Miss Lillian Hurley, a former president and Mrs. J. V. Gallivan the first hour, and Miss Agnes Grant and Mrs. F. J. Lynch poured during the second hour.

Assistants were Mrs. Grace Poole, Mrs. Ephgrave, Mrs. M. E. Readman, Mrs. J. M. Graham, Mrs. John McManus, Mrs. M. E. Finn and Mrs. F. S. Raymond.

Mrs. Earl Quinlan was the tea treasurer and Mrs. F. J. McCarthy was in charge of the sale of draw tickets for prizes donated by the members.

First prize, a tea service, went to Mrs. W. E. Perdue, 269 Rubidge Street. Other winners were Miss Marie Finn, 305 Margaret Avenue, Miss Mary Sullivan, 666 Downie Street, Miss Cathy Howell, 575 Water Street and Mrs. A. M. Conlin, 556 Sherbroke Street. The door prize was won by Mrs. J. Vitarelli of Elm Street.

Anglican Sisterhood Life Outlined By Sister Lois At St. George's Meeting

Explanation of life and work in the Sisterhood of St. John the Divine by Sister Lois, member to this Order very much interested a large audience at the open meeting in St. George's Anglican Church, Friday evening.

Sister Lois' visit was arranged by the Sanctuary Guild of the church and she spent the week-end in the parish, addressing a group of young women at a communion breakfast Sunday morning and also speaking at the church service.

Purpose of this lenten meeting, a sexplained by Guild president Mrs. Norman Thomas, was to acquaint more people with the Order of the Sisters of St. John the Divine. The interest revealed by a lively question period following the Sister's address was most gratifying.

Sister Lois went way back in history to explain why there are such Orders as this. "The first Christians were forced to withdraw from an idolatrous world and become hermits. When they were given religious freedom by the Emperor Constantine, religious communities sprang into being."

There are special vows for each community, she advised. The Sisterhood of St John the Divine take the three-fold vows of Poverty, Chastity and Obedience.

"The vow of poverty is to give greater freedom to the spirit by being relieved from the care of material possessions. Celebacy is because having been called to leave the family it is not logical to make new ties. Obedience to the will of God is what every baptised Christian is called to do", Sister Lois explained. "All that the world holds dear —home, possessions, work, ambition and influence —are sacrificed in the call to Holy Religion."

The person aspiring to the religious life becomes an Aspirant, entering the community at first very much as a guest for a period of a month. At the end of this period she asks to be received as a Postulant for a period of at least six months, and at the end of that time, if all is favorable, she is accepted as a Novice and receives the Habit of the Community.

She remains a Novice for at least three years during which time she receives instruction in prayer, Bible study and Christian doctrine and is given practical work in the house. At any time she is free to leave or many be asked to do so. She must do whatever work she is called upon to do but special qualifications are usually used to best advantage.

At the end of the Noviciate if she still wishes to be professed an election is held. She must receive three-quarters of the votes available in order to become a Professed Sister and take her vows. "After having spent nearly four years of testing there is little danger that the Vocation will not be suitable," remarked the Sister.

For entrance to the Community of St. John the Divine there is no particular educational standard required.

The sisters are committed to what is known as the "Mixed Life". Their first work is that of prayer. They have daily celebration of the Holy Eucharist, and each day they say the Seven Hours of what is known as the Divine Office. They also have daily private prayer and meditation. On this foundation they perform whatever works of mercy God commits to them.

Their active works include teaching, nursing, altar bread making, embroidery of altar linens and vestments. They are a statutory organization with a local charter and by that charter may engage in the aforementioned works.

At present there are only 70 Sisters in the Sisterhood, hence their works are limited. It was sensed from Sister Lois' tone that the only poverty regretted is lack of time and limited numbers to do all the work that could be done.

The convent is at Willowdale where they have their Church Work Room and Altar Breads Department. A Church home for the aged is operated in Toronto. St. John's Convalescent Hospital at Newtonbrook; a school for Retarded Girls at Aurora; a Convent at Bracebridge; at Edmonton two small houses are operated—one for the aged and one for girls. In Montreal they have St .Michael's Mission connected with the Church of St. John the Evangelist, also the Qu'Appele Diocesan School for Girls in Regina.

ASSOCIATES

Connected with this Community are the Associates of the Sisters of St. John the Divine. These women do not become members of the Community but are associated by their alms, works and prayers so far as they are able. They must serve probationary periods of one year before they are received as Associates. As in the case of Professed Sisters they never ask any one to become an Associate but feel the call should come from God.

There are also Priest Associates who pledge themselves to teach the Holy Life in their parishes and hold three services of Special Intention each year.

The Order of the Sisters of St. John the Divine was founded in Canada by Mother Hannah who was Professed at Peakskill, N. Y. in 1884 with the special purpose of founding a Community in Canada.

The Rev. Harvey J. Scuse opened the meeting with prayers. Mrs. Thomas introduced Sister Lois and she was thanked by Mrs. O. Laderach.

A small reception was held in the church parlours under convenership of Mrs. S. Parkes, assisted by Mrs .Robert Pilling. Refreshments were served by junior members of the Sanctuary Guild, Misses Noreen Morman, Pat Cacavella, Marion White, Norma Branson, Audrey Tripp, Mavis Siddall, Dorothy Watkins and Sharon Ferguson.

Apsley WA Plans Play Presentation

APSLEY (ENS)—The WA of Trinity United church met at the home of Mrs. Wellington Lean on Thursday evening.

The president, Mrs. Ralph Fitzgerald, was in the chair and a large number of members were present.

Mrs. Hector Montgomery had charge of the devotional period.

The treasurer's report showed a balance of $71.68. Miss W. Robinson, leader of the CGIT, reported that the group will take the service on Sunday evening, March 21, with Mr. John Stegenga speaker.

It was decided to ask the CGIT to attend the May meeting at Mrs. S. McCauley's and take the devotional period.

Committees were appointed to arrange for presentation of the play, "The Path Across the Hills," by St. James' Bible class, Peterborough.

Mrs. N. Wilson volunteered to be in charge of articles for the bazaar.

Mrs. Stegenga conducted a contest, "A Minute's Speech." Winners were Mrs. Gerald Watson and Mrs. F. Dafoe. Lunch was served by Mrs. Fitzgerald and Mrs. G. Watson and Miss W. Robinson.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Busse (nee Audrey Irwin), of Gull Lake, Sask., were recent guests of the later's sister, Mrs. F. Mann. Mr. Mann and family, Mr .and Mrs. Busse recently lost their oldest son in an level crossing accident near Medicine Hat, Alta.

Children's Aid Work Outlined

HARWOOD (ENS)—The Harwood branch of the WI met Thursday in the community hall, with Mrs. Frank Staphens, hostess. Mrs. Garnet Isaac, the president, presided and there were thirty-two present. Miss Dennison read three letters, 'Thank You' notes for flowers and fruit sent to the sick.

A new table was on display, and three more tables are to be made up, some of the lumber for them will be donated.

Mrs. Crick spoke briefly on the hobby show in Toronto.

Mrs. Drope explained the Red Cross canvass, also the mass X-ray which is to be held May 1st.

The program convener was Mrs. McKinlay. Poems were read by Mrs. Crick and Mrs. Robson. Other items were a solo by Mrs. Garnet Isaac, with Mrs. Meggs accompanying. Readings by Mrs. Frank Stephens, and by Mrs. George Isaac.

Mrs. Perry, a director from the Children's Aid, Port Hope, gave a most interesting and informative address. A vote of thanks was tendered Mrs. Perry by Mrs. Lawton.

Then Mrs. Ellis Isaac, demonstrated candy making, making candy rice balls. An Irish song contest was won by Mrs. C. E. Burrison.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess and group.

The next meeting will be in the hall with Mrs. Everett Harris, hostess, April 1. This will be the annual election of officers.

DOROTHY DIX

Wife Finds Her Husband Is Ensnared By Greed

DEAR MISS DIX: It is somewhat trying to be married to a brilliant, overambitious, and always dissatisfied man. I have a big decision to make and hope you can help me.

After five years of marriage, we have a smartly furnished house in a nice suburb, a good car, and a fine three-year-old son (and that's about the order in which my husband cherishes his possessions). Because Army service put George a bit behind in getting on his career, he has been most impatient with everything he's doe so far, although his job is a good one with opportunity for advancement. He wants more things, too—a bigger house, to travel extensively and added entertainment. To that end, he wants me to return to work and he's done so far, although his job This, I am most reluctant to do, not because I am unco-operative, but because I feel the boy needs me more than we need further possessions. Also, I want more children. My husband thinks I'm making excuses because I'm too lazy to work. Can you help us?

MOIRA

HIS AMBITION NEEDS CURBING

ANSWER: There are many things to be said in favor of a driving ambition — our country was founded and built by men who had it—but to sacrifice the welfare of a child for possessions is greed rather than ambition. One fact to keep clearly in mind is that never, never, will George be satisfied with what he owns. He'll go from big house to bigger house, to a summer home, a winter home—whatever someone else has that's better than what he owns.

No matter how much you sacrifice, you will never be able to halt his desire to surpass the other fellow. So the best thing for you to do is to satisfy yourself. Naturally, you want a family. Hence you must convince George that a sizable family also will elevate him in the eyes of his fellow citizens. He'll never have the affection for his children that a father should have — to him they will always be showpieces. His proposed course of putting his son in the care of someone else, while you work, will cause unfavorable comment in your smart suburb where family life is paramount, and this is another argument that may make him reconsider his foolish desire. Stick to your guns, Moira, and insist on bringing up your own child. Doing that job efficiently is a task that belies any suggestion of laziness.

DEAR MISS DIX: I'm 15 and in love with a soldier, 20. He wants to marry me, but his parents object, and so do mine. How can we be married and not offend anyone? We would like any advice, except, "don't get married".

S. C.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Sorry, there just isn't any other advice. Your parents' objections are based largely on your extreme youth. Fortunately, the advice is simple—just wait a while.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: What can be done with a husband who is cheap when it comes to spending money on friends ? He's wonderful to his wife and children, but when he gets into company he hates to part with a cent.

OLIVIA

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Since he is such a kind, understanding person, it's odd that you can't even talk to him about this trait. If you could only convince him that he's lowering himself in the eyes of associates and friends for the sake of a measly few pennies, he might wake up. That convincing will take time, but doesn't everything worth-while?

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Irish Games Get Mixed With March 17th Recipes

We were trying to work out a game for a St. Patrick's Day party my sister-in-law was giving for my nephew Paul and his school chums. Paul is nine.

The game was conundrums which he dearly loves. Every answer was supposed to have the syllable "pat" as the beginning of the word. For instance: What "pat" is a girl's name? Or, what "pat" is noisy? Paul chimed in with "Do you suppose we could get them to go for "What 'pat' do we mash?" He was hoping to get a laugh from the grown-ups (which he did) and also that we would include his pat-atoes (which he did). I won't know how his playmates swallowed this until after Wednesday, March 17.

I'd rather play Irish games on St. Patrick's Day than eat green food, but this is a food column (it says somewhere), so it behooves its manager to dish up some green food ideas.

My idea of what an Irish family in Ireland eats is rashers of bacon and spuds, but Canadians won't go for that at a party. They want such eye-catching stuff as green jellies and the cake frosted with green icing.

I'll give you a few recipes for dainties that will fit into any Irish party you dream up and then I will have done my duty.

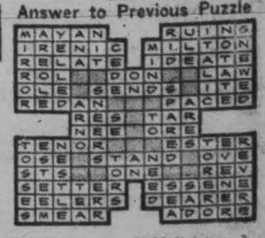
IRISH JELLY MOULD

Open and drain one can of pears, 28-oz. size, preferably Bartletts. Into the seed pit of each put a maraschino cherry. Now with the cut side of the pear facing out, place the pear halves upright around the sides of a mould —a ring mould is preferable. If the rounded bottoms of the pears tend to make them slip, cut a flat slice from them. To the dry ingredients of two packages of lime-flavored jelly add 2 teaspoons of gelatin, and when it is mixed add 1 cup cold water. Let stand 5 minutes, then add 3 cups boiling water and stir until dissolved. If it does not all dissolve stir it over hot water. When it has cooled to room temperature carefully pour half of it around the pears in the mould and chill until set, then add remaining jelly mixture which you must keep at a high enough temperature that it does not set. When ready to serve unmould on flat round large plate. Fill centre with mayonnaise containing chopped walnuts if you like, and garnish with dainty inner lettuce leaves.

CANDY BY ST. PATRICK

(Using Potato Fondant)

NOTE: This is easy and the children can help, for it is uncooked.



Freshly boil and mash enough potatoes to make one cup well packed. Force through sieve to remove all lumps. Stir in 2 lbs. sifted icing sugar, when the fondant will be firm enough to roll out or mould. Divide into four equal parts. PART 1: Flavor with almond essence and work in about 8 drops of green vegetable colouring to give a delicate tint. Make these into balls size of hickory nuts and press into top of each a blanched almond, and dust with granulated or powdered sugar. PART 2: Flavor with strawberry essence or rose essence. Tint a delivate shade of pink with a few drops of red vegetable coloring, working it in well. Break off small pieces and roll into each a blanched almond or filbert. Dip in unbeaten egg white and roll in fine cocoanut. PART 3: Flavor with vanilla, but do not color. Break off and roll into ovals roughly the shape of potatoes. Dust with cocoa to make them look like potatoes, and press tiny pieces of chopped peanut on the surface to dint potatoes and resemble "eyes." PART 4: Roll to ⅛-inch thickness on board dusted with icing sugar. Spread with melted chocolate or fresh soft peanut butter, then roll up and cut into slices when chilled.

EMERALD JELLIES

These are very easy and effective and call for four simple ingredients. The young people will enjoy making them. Soak 2 tablespoons plain gelatin in ½ cup of cold water 5 minutes. Stir in ½ cup boiling water, then stir this over hot water until gelatin is dissolved. Add ½ cup granulated sugar and stir off heat until dissolved. Cool to room temperature and add enough green colouring to make it an emerald green and enough peppermint flavoring (about ¼ to ½ teaspoon) to give a pronounced peppermint flavor. Pour mixture into shallow pan which has been rinsed in cold water, to ½-inch depth. Chill until very firm. Cut into oblongs, squares or diamonds of about 1 inch, roll each in granulated sugar. Dry in cool place. Roll a second and third time in sugar just before serving.

NO ONE PERMANENT IS IDEAL FOR ALL TYPES OF HAIR

Only Toni Trio brings you 3 different home permanents

Because you choose the one permanent that's custom-made for your hair, you get deeper, more natural-looking waves. Today, choose your personal Toni from New Toni Trio. Your money back if you don't say your Toni looks as lovely and lasts as long as the most expensive permanent money can buy!

ONE JUST RIGHT FOR YOU!

"I USE VERY GENTLE Toni"

For easy-to-wave hair, Very Gentle Toni has extra mildness, gives a wonderfully soft, manageable wave. Ideal for bleached or tinted hair, or for hair with some natural curl.

"I USE SUPER Toni"

For hard-to-wave hair that resists ordinary permanents, Super Toni gives that extra urging that means a long-lasting, natural-looking wave. Ideal, too, for women who want a curlier permanent.

"I USE REGULAR Toni"

For normal hair, Regular Toni is now custom-made to give a better-than-ever wave. Perfect for most women — including the millions of users who have always been pleased with their Toni wave.

YOUR CHOICE $1.75

FOR CHILDREN 2 TO 12— Tonette

Children's hair is stubborn and hard to wave. Toni guarantees Tonette will give every little girl natural-looking, easy-to-care-for curls that won't wash out, month after month. New simplified process means less work for mother, less sitting still time for daughter.

6—In Memoriam

McDONOUGH—Treasured memories of a dear daughter Mary Ellen McDonough who passed away March 12, 1933.
Memory lane is a lonely lane.
Where hearts are ever true
A lane I often travel down
Because it leads to you.
May the joys you missed on life's highways
Be found in God's garden of rest.
Lovingly remembered by mother and sisters Eileen and Noreen.

7—Card of Thanks

Mr. and Mrs. Basil Watson of Hall's Glen wish to thank their many friends most sincerely especially the Red Cross, Lakefield Institute, Hall's Glen Institute, Fairview United Church Ladies and neighbors for all their kindness during the recent loss of their home by fire.—Mrs. Basil Watson.

Mrs. H. Brook and family wish to extent sincere and heartfelt thanks to attending doctors, nurses and sisters of St. Joseph's Hospital, friends, neighbors and relatives for many acts of kindness and floral tributes in our sad bereavement of a loving wife and mother.

Elect President Of Women's PC

OTTAWA (CP)—Mrs. E. W. Sansom of Fredericton, today was elected president of the Women's Progressive Conservative Association of Canada at a meeting here of the national executive.

Miss Sybil Bennett, Progressive Conservative member of Parliament for Halton and retiring president, cast the deciding vote in favor of Mrs. Sansom after the first ballot ended in a tie between Mrs. Sansom and Lorraine Johnston, Vancouver lawyer.

Miss Johnston, the Conservative candidate in Vancouver South in the last general election, was chosen national secretary by the 30-member national executive.

Mrs. Sansom, president of the PC Women's Association in New Brunswick, is the wife of Lt.-Gen. E. W. Sansom.

Police Investigate Ship Damage

LONDON (AP)—Police are investigating damage to electric wiring aboard two British navy ships —the submarine Turpin and the frigate Loch Lomond—the admiralty said today.

The damage was similar to that reported aboard more than a score of other British warships in the past year. In most cases the damage has been described as minor.

In the past most cases of damage have been blamed on "hooliganism" or on sailors disgruntled with living conditions aboard.

Newspaper Owner Attempts Suicide

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — Karimpoor Shirazi, pro-Mossadegh newspaper owner facing trial on charges of plotting against Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlevi, was badly burned last night in what police described as a suicide attempt.

The army prosecutor general said Shirazi in a cell at Ghasr prison poured kerosene over his head and body and set himself afire.

"Y" Swimmers Take Meet Against Trinity

Peterborough YMCA captured their annual swimming meet over Trinity College Schools of Port Hope by 55 points to 47 here Saturday before 200 spectators. Bisons Maintain AHL Lead

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Week-end games did nothing to change the American Hockey League championship picture with Buffalo Bisons remaining 11 points ahead of the field despite a 5-3 defeat from Pittsburgh.

Providence Reds climbed out of the cellar Sunday at the expense of Syracuse Warriors whom the Reds downed 8-2 at Providence. Cleveland Barons moved into sole possession of third place with a 4-3 victory over Pittsburgh.

Paul Larivee was the star for Providence, netting three times. Tod Campeau added two and Chuck Scherza, Ken Davies and Pete Kapusta got the others. Eric Pogue and Ted Glover were the Syracuse marksmen.

Fred Glover and Fred Shero scored late in the third period to help Cleveland edge the Hornets. Glover scored another goal earlier and Eddie Reigle got the fourth Cleveland marker. Bob Sabourin, Willie Marshall and Frank Sullivan counted for the losers.

In other games Saturday, Cleveland downed Providence 6-2 and Hershey tied Syracuse 4-4.

Bailey Retiring

LONDON (AP) — McDonald Bailey, one of the greatest sprinters of modern times, announced today he is hanging up his track shoes for good. Bailey is joint holder of the world 100-metres record.

SPOTTY—Many citizens of Rome, Italy, were probably startled when they first got a glimpse of this "leopard," but then they remembered it was carnival time in the Eternal City. The youngster's baby face was a dead giveaway to the otherwise authentic-looking costume.

Here And There In Sports

EAST YORK LOSE AGAIN

PARIS (CP)—A team of Canadians from British hockey league Sunday won the Jean Potin Cup by defeating Toronto East York, Canada's official representatives, 6-5 before a crowd of 6,000.

The expatriate Canadians won the three-day Paris tournament in which Sweden was also represented. The East York club, which finished second to Russia in the world championships at Stockholm a week ago, also finished second [illegible] championship and [illegible] swept the 1954 Canadian curling championships here early this month.

TOSKI COPS TOURNEY

BATON ROUGE, La. (CP)—Bob Toski shot four birdies on the back nine Sunday to win the $10,000 Baton Rouge Open with a four-under-par 68 and a 72-hole score of 279.

The little Livingston, N.J., professional came back strongly after going two over par on the fourth hole to win a one-stroke edge over Ted Kroll, Chandler Harper and Jim Ferrier for the $2,000 first money.

Jerry Kesselring of Kitchener was two strokes out of the prize-winning list as he fired a closing 76 for 289, one stroke over par. He had scored 68, 72 and 73 on his first three rounds.

Bob Dean of Cornwall, Ont., failed to qualify for the final day's play.

TWO-MILE RECORD FALLS

MILWAUKEE (CP)—Rich Ferguson of Toronto, running in the colors of the University of Iowa, broke a meet record set by another Canadian as he won the two-mile race at the Milwaukee Journal Indoor track games Saturday night.

The 21-year-old member of Canada's last Olympic and British Empire Games teams covered the distance in nine minutes, 14.5 seconds erasing the mark of 9:15.7 set by Don McEwen of Ottawa for the University of Michigan two years ago.

SCORES 'GRAND SLAM'

EDMONTON (CP) — Matt Baldwin, 27-year-old Edmonton curling wizard, won the fourth annual Edmonton car bonspiel Saturday night with a 14-4 victory in 10 ends over Truman Bailey of Tugaske, Sask., to take the best-of-three final in straight games. Baldwin won the first game 10-6.

The victory gave Baldwin curling's first grand slam. He won the Edmonton Bonspiel two months ago, followed that by [illegible] world hockey championship at Stockholm which [illegible] day, says misunderstanding may have been one cause of ill feeling toward the Canadians.

The East York club, loser 7-2 to Moscow Dynamos who won the champion, arrived here Sunday by train after a 48-hour journey from northern Sweden. The players will leave by boat from Le Havre for New York Tuesday.

"Although generally speaking the Swedes we came in direct contact with were among the nicest people we met on the continent, I cannot understand the spectators who gave the countries behind the Iron Curtain such encouragement and us a rough time," Preston said in an interview.

He noted that Moe Galand, Canadian forward, was the leading goalgetter of the Stockholm tournament but "was forgotten and the prize for the best scorer awarded to the Russian Bobrov."

"The Swedes, when they heard of this, immediately went out to buy an exact replica to offer to Mo," he said.

Preston indicated he thought some of the misunderstanding resulted from language differences.

Mounts And Liners Take First Playoffs

The Millbrook and Cavan Bush League semi-finalists served up a tasty hockey bill-of-fare in the first of their best-of-three series. Seasonably undefeated, Mount Pleasant Mountaineers kept the record intact by annexing a 3-2 thriller from Millbrook. The second game saw the defending champions, Fourth Line, knock over Scott's Corners in a 7-3 encounter.

The Mountaineers' front lines combined eager beaver youngsters and seasoned hockey veterans and the combination clicked. Play opened cautiously but soon livened with Millbrook missing on a couple of good scoring chances. Then Alex. Ruth got in the clear and outsped several green-sweatered pursuers to go right in and give Blair no chance. Early in the second, Carr put his team two up in a neat display of stick-handling. Ginn got one when he banged Lunn's pass into Evans' cage from a scramble in front and in the third, Smith and Padgett knotted the count in a brilliant attack. Carr and Bryan finished up the evening's scoring when the former put the finishing touches on a neat set up from Ken Bryans. In the dieing seconds Millbrook pulled their goalie in a desperate attempt to get the tieing goal but the Mountaineers threw up a stout defense to successfully protect the slim margin.

Millbrook: Blair, Batley, Handley, Wright, Ginn, Lunn, Smith, Padgett, Lowery, Guthrie.

Mt. Pleasant: B. Evans, J. Evans, Fisher, Armstrong, A. Ruth, B. Ruth, Fox, Parker, Jamieson, J. Bryan, K. Bryan, Carr.

Referee: "Sixty" Coombes.

LOTS OF GOALS

Although the Liners didn't finish in the first division in the season's standing they didn't have too much trouble putting away the second place Highwaymen from Scott's Corners. With seven goals registered in the first period it looked like a high scoring affair but the statistics tapered off as the game progressed. The Walling-McDowell-A. Hutchison production unit got together for four goals with Friar, Thompson and Herbie Fallis tossing in singletons. Fallis' goal was a display of perfect timing. Minnie was top man for Scott's Corners, picking up two goals and an assist on Seabrooke's counter. Harris missed by a whisker when his drive caroomed off the goal post. Coulter Brothers have donated a beautiful trophy for competition in the Bush League and the way things are shaping up there will be some highly interesting tussles before it finds its season's resting place.

Scott's Corners: Heen, Conroy, Galley, Alberico, Harris, Stevens, Seabrooke, R. Dunn, Minnie, Craig, Dawson, Little, Laroque, E. Dunn.

Fourth Line: Hubbeard, E. Hutchison, Agnew, McDowell, A. Hutchison, Walling, Friar, Thompson, Fallis.

Referee: "Sixty" Coombes.

Three Youths Jailed For Car Theft

LINDSAY (ENS)—Three Lindsay youths were sentenced to reformatory terms of a year to 16 months in Lindsay Magistrate's court today on charges of car theft, breaking, entering and theft.

William Tracey, 17, was sentenced to a year on the first charge of car theft, laid on Feb. 12, a year, and 16 months, to concurrently, on a second charge of car theft, laid March 6.

Robert Carpenter, 18, was given a year on the car theft charge, laid Feb. 12, and a year, concurrent, on breaking, entering and theft charge.

The third youth, Donald Campbell, 17, received a year for the March 6 car theft.

The charges were laid after Campbell and Tracey were picked up in Scarborough on March 6 in a car stolen from a Lindsay used car lot. Tracey at that time admitted the Feb. 12 entry of the Kawartha Motors garage with Carpenter.

Then a 1954 model car, checks totalling $1,610 and $34 in cash were taken. The car was found abandoned in a ditch on Highway 7 west of Lindsay.

Sees Reason For Ill Feeling

PARIS (Reuters)—Don Preston, manager of Toronto East York, Canada's representatives in the [illegible] hockey championships at Stockholm which [illegible] day, says misunderstanding may have been one cause of ill feeling toward the Canadians.

The East York club, loser 7-2 to Moscow Dynamos who won the champion, arrived here Sunday by train after a 48-hour journey from northern Sweden. The players will leave by boat from Le Havre for New York Tuesday.

"Although generally speaking the Swedes we came in direct contact with were among the nicest people we met on the continent, I cannot understand the spectators who gave the countries behind the Iron Curtain such encouragement and us a rough time," Preston said in an interview.

He noted that Moe Galand, Canadian forward, was the leading goalgetter of the Stockholm tournament but "was forgotten and the prize for the best scorer awarded to the Russian Bobrov."

"The Swedes, when they heard of this, immediately went out to buy an exact replica to offer to Mo," he said.

Fort Erie Water Safe To Drink

FORT ERIE (CP) — Week-end tests showed that Fort Erie drinking water, while dirty, is safe to use and does not contain typhus germs or other infection.

Dr. T. W. Omulvenny, medical officer, said today he asked for the tests after a typhoid case was reported in adjoining Bertie township.

Pork To Fat

(2) There is a definite type of carcass—the grade "A" or select type—that gives a high proportion of lean cuts with a minimum amount of fat.

The undersirable carcass, that is the "C" or lard type carries a much higher percentage of fat. The difference in type is quite evident to anyone, with the "A" type being long, smooth, well balanced, and very light back fat.

(3) It is true the packer sells the lean parts (trimmed cuts) of the "C" hog through regular channels, but this product is less desirable and brings less money because there is an interior or scam" fat that cannot be cut out. This is particularly true in the case of bellies. At today's prices there is a difference of 27 cents a pound in the wholesale price to the retail trade between the top grade of bacon and the inferior grade.

Mr. Bennett said the lower hog quality could have only one result, that is a lower general price for hogs. Top quality is necessary to maintain the domestic demand for bacon.

"Many farmers are still reluctant to accept individual responsibility for the hog business. They seem to think it is the business of the packer or the government."

The same issue says that records of feeding stations for the advanced registry of swine across Canada have shown there was no difference in the feed cost to produce a pound of lean meat or a pound of fat, using the same feeds commonly available to any hog producer.

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS —By Merrill Blosser

Writer Reviews 12 Years Spent In Russia

Editor's Note: If you could question someone who has lived 12 years in the Soviet Union, what would you ask him about Russia? Chances are you'd ask some of the 10 questions Eddy Gilmore, former Associated Press correspondent in Moscow, was asked most frequently on a recent lecture tour.

By EDDY GILMORE

NEW YORK (AP)—I always emphasize I'm no Russian expert. But, by living and working in Russia for nearly 12 years, knowing several hundred Soviet citizens and travelling over the country, you can't help seeing and hearing a lot of things.

I spoke to all sorts of audiences on a United States lecture tour. These were the 10 questions most frequently asked and my answers:

Q. How does the Moscow press treat Senator McCarthy?

A. The Moscow press almost ignores the senator. Every once in a while they give him three or four paragraphs and denounce him generally as the "leading American Fascist."

VOICE OF AMERICA

Q. Can you hear the "Voice of Ameria" broadcasts in Moscow?

A. You can hear the English-language broadcasts of the Voice of Moscow. You cannot hear the Russian-language broadcasts. They are drowned by jamming from several hundred (I've seen them) jamming stations in and around the Soviet capital. But—I lived in a Russian village 25 miles from Moscow for four summers and I could hear the Russian-language broadcasts almost around the clock. Sometimes they were as loud as Moscow radio. I do not know how effective these broadcasts are.

Q. Is there freedom of worship in Russia and is there freedom of worship?

A. During the war Stalin opened a number of churches in the Soviet Union. I would say there are about 50 or 60 operating in Moscow and I've seen them in other cities and villages. They are all well attended.

Q. Have things really changed since Stalin died and Malenkov took over?

A. Not really. There's a new look, but I'm afraid all the old ambitions of world communism are still there.

Q. What do the Russian people think of the United States?

A. I suppose I must have known 400 Soviet citizens by name and I never recall hearing one of them say anything unkind.

HOPE FOR DEPRESSION

Q. Do you think we are going to have a war any time soon with Russia?

A. No. The Soviets don't start wars they are not sure they can win.

Q. Do you believe there is any chance of settling our differences with Russia around a conference table?

A. Very little right now. If there is one single thing the Communists really believe, it's that the U. S. is going to have terrible depression. They think it's coming and that when it does the U. S. will withdraw its forces and influences from all over the world—and then they'll move in.

Q. Were the Russian people sorry to see Stalin die?

A. I watched them file by his body by the thousands and I saw a few of them crying, but the vast majority seemed to me to have come down there out of curiosity—and to make sure he was dead.

Q. Have the Russians the atomic and the hydrogen bomb?

A. I have no real way of telling, but if you asked me what I think, I'd say I believe they have an atomic bomb, but I'd be greatly surprised if they have a droppable hydrogen bomb.

Q. Why was Beria eliminated?

A. Beria was executed in a raw and only slightly disguised struggle for power. If Malenkov hadn't axed Beria, then Beria would have axed Makenkov. Ignore any of the official reasons advanced for his arrest. It was a wolf fight. One had to go. Just as simple as that.

Ancient Rope

DONCASTER, England (CP)—Among displays at the engineering society exhibition here is a length of camel's hair rope, used in building the pyramids in Egypt 3,000 years ago.

Londonderry Would Prefer Industrial Hum To Song

WASHINGTON — The city of Londonderry, which lent its name to a moving Irish folk melody, the Londonderry Aid, would like to hear the hum of new industry.

Northern Ireland's second largest city, after Belfast, Londonderry has long been an important part and centre for shirt and collar manufacturing. Now, with a surplus of labor and with modernized port facilities the city of 50,000 inhabitants hopes to match with industry its wartime activity at a naval base.

Londonderry is the principal city of the county that bears its name. It stands on the bank of the River Foyle four miles above an almost landlocked estuary, Lough Foyle, save the National Geographic Society's little [illegible] given the longer name of Londonderry when it was handed over to London interests in the 17th century, the city and its county are always referred to simply as Derry, the town's old name.

"PLACE OF OAKS"

Linked with England by regular steamer service and by rail with Belfast, 95 miles to the southeast, Derry is a natural distributing centre for northwestern Ireland. Southward lie rich agricultural lands whence barges move downriver from Strabane on the Eire border. Behind Derry to the west rise the purple mountains of Donegal.

Derry grew in the 6th century around a monastery built by St. Columba in an oak grove. The name Derry is formed from the Gaelic "Doire", meaning "place of oaks."

Viking raiders burned the town repeatedly, and it saw heavy fighting in Elizabethan and Cromwellian times. In 1689, during an eight-month seige by the forces of James II, Derry earned its ringing motto, "No Surrender."

Led by a militant clergyman, doughty citizens repulsed every attempt to capture this key to James' lost English throne. Relief ships finally broke through to Derry's aid and James marched away to final defeat at the Battle of the Boyne.

WALLED CITY

Derry's walls, a mile in circumference and pierced by seven gates, still girdle the cathedral-crowned hill that forms the center of the modern city. They are the most complete city walls remaining in the British Isles. Bristling with old guns and planted now with flowers, the bastions overlook two miles of quays.

Londonberry was a center for American, British and Canadian naval forces in the Second World War. As many as 160 vessels at a time were based at Derry, and 60 German submarines surrendered there.

It is the Londonderry Air, however, that has made the city's name most famous. At least one noted composer has called it the most beautiful melody in the world.

Queen To Return In Style Aboard New Royal Yacht

By JAMES F. KING

LONDON (AP)—The Queen is going to ride home from her royal tour in style—aboard a $6,000,000 yacht.

Finishing touches are being put on the new royal yacht Britannia at Portsmouth navy yard.

The Britannia is the first royal yacht built in half a century—and it's a far cry from the 700-ton wooden paddle steamer that was the first royal yacht 113 years ago.

Some sea-loving Britons are admittedly disappointed in the Britannia. Lawrence Dunn, one of the architects, said he wasn't entirely pleased, explaining:

"The royal apartments between the second and third masts look as if they had been added as an afterthought."

Another leading naval architect wrote to the editor of a London newspaper:

"Ships should be a showpiece of British shipbuilding. She isn't. Her superstructure looks like a three-tier wedding cake that crumbles in the middle."

SPEED 21 KNOTS

The Britannia—413 feet long with a 55-foot beam—will be powered by four steam turbines and have a speed of 21 knots. It's ultra-modern with a special water distilling plant, an all-electric galley, air conditioning and a stabilizer to reduce the roll in rough weather. The shelter decks are strong enough to land a helicopter in an emergency.

The Britannia is a colorful ship, too—painted royal blue with a gold band below the level of the upper decks, a white single funnel and three masts in buff. The crew wear special uniforms—a serge jumper worn inside the trousers instead of outside with all ratings flashing shoulder emblems bearing a crown and inscription "Royal Yacht Service."

Prince Charles, 5, and his sister, Princess Anne, 3, will sail on the Britannia in May to meet their mother and dad at Tobruk for the homeward voyage winding up the royal tour.

Governor Outlaws Organization

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana (Reuters)—The governor of British Guiana, Sir Alfred Savage, Sunday used his emergency powers to outlaw a little-known organization called the Union of Progressive Youth on the ground that it threatened public safety and order.

The union was formed recently by some former executives of another outlawed organization, the Pioneer Youth League, which was affiliated to the Communist-controlled World Federation of Democratic Youth.

This brings to four the number of organizations which have been outlawed in British Guiana.

Others are the British Guiana Peace Committee and the Demerara Youth Rally.

LIFE NOT WORTH LIVING?

Then wake up the liver!

You know that sour, sunk, constipated feeling? It may be caused by the liver. If your liver doesn't pour out up to two pints of bile a day your food may not digest properly, gas bloats up your stomach and you feel that life's just not worth living. That's when the liver needs mild gentle Carter's Little Liver Pills. These famous vegetable pills help stimulate the flow of liver-bile. Soon your digestion starts functioning properly and you feel that happy days are here again! Don't ever stay sunk. Always keep Carter's Little Liver Pills on hand. Only 37c.

U.S. Troubled With Surplus

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States government may use coupons in an effort to move surplus butter and cheese onto American dinner tables.

Under one plan being considered by Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson, housewives would get a coupon with each pound of freshly produced butter and cheese bought at the grocery store.

Benson had said earlier this week that he expects to announce soon a plan to move 300,000,000 pounds of butter and 312,000,000 of cheese into domestic and foreign markets before they deteriorate. The butter and cheese were bought by the government under the dairy price support program.

The secretary may disclose details of the plan at a press conference today. It was emphasized that the coupon plan was only one of several under consideration.

Comments On Gibraltar

MADRID (Reuters)—An article believed to have been written personally by Gen. Franco, says Spain "has stretched her patience to its limits" on the Gibraltar issue with Britain.

The article, which appeared Sunday under a pen-name in the Falange (government) newspaper Arriba, says: "Fainthearted persons and friends of compromise agreements need not bother to seek a solution to relations between Britain and Spain.

"The case of Gibraltar (the strategic British naval base has long been sought by Spain) is so grave that it goes beyond our frontiers.

"The fact that in these days a European nation pretends to continue to hold as a colony a piece, small though it may be, of another sovereign nation, goes against the conscience of any honest person.

"Spain has stretched her patience to its limits in dealing with Britain.

"Gibraltar is for us the barometer which marks Britain's hostile policy—and it is marked clearly enough for anyone to see."

The article is regarded as important in circles close to the government here, mainly because of its pessimistic conclusion.

The impression here is that unless Britain accepts Franco's proposal of 1951, Spain will sooner or later close permanently the land frontier with Gibraltar at La Linea.

Telephones Moving Outdoors Proving Popular With Public

NEW YORK (AP)—The telephone, which has flowered indoors since Alexander Graham Bell invented it, now is sprouting in the wide open spaces.

Outdoor telephone booths are springing up along superhighways, in parks, on public squares and other places where a lot of people pass by or congregate.

American Telephone and Telegraph Co. reports its Bell system companies now have about 50,000 in operation in the United States compared with 6,000 in 1945, with the number increasing fast.

Because of the growing popularity of the outdoor telephone, AT and T's Bell laboratories recently designed a standard booth that now is being mass produced. The booth has removable side panels which come in transparent safety glass or red, blue or green aluminum.

Color can make a difference, as the New York Telephone Co. found when a painter who was supposed to put a conservative maroon finish on a booth in a subway station decided to do it in brilliant Chinese red. The painter wasn't in the dog house long. That particular booth trebled its take of coins.

The outdoor booth, including the highway booth, isn't particularly new but only since the end of the war has it caught on in a big way.

Companies have found that in spotting outdoor booths for both motorists and pedestrians the most congested spots are not always the best. The most important consideration seems to be that they are in spots where it is convenient to stop.

Suggest Atomic Plant To Produce Power

WASHINGTON (CP) — The Atomic Energy Commission announced Saturday night it is negotiating an agreement with the Duquesne Light Company of Pittsburgh for the construction and operation of the first full-scale central station nuclear power plant in the United States.

"It is not expected," the announcement said, "that this first plant will produce electric power at costs competitive with power from conventional fuels. The project has been undertaken in order to gain more design and technological experience than could be obtained otherwise, such as from a smaller plant, and to provide firm cost estimates for the future."

Doctors Report On Pope's Illness

VATICAN CITY (Reuters)—The Pope is suffering from a stomach complaint called stegnosis of the pylorus, it was learned Sunday night.

This is the description of the Pope's malady given in the last few days to cardinals and other high prelates who have asked for news of his condition.

It means contraction of the end of the stomach which leads into the small intestine.

It was understood that this contraction is still preventing the Pope from keeping down any but minute quantities of food.

But the direct nourishment, begun a week ago, has enabled his doctors greatly to reduce the indirect feeding which had maintained him for the previous two months.

It was understood that he now is being fed an occasional teaspoonful of extract of grapes and a paste made of bananas.

Army Officer Dies

TORONTO (CP)—Col. Edmund Batten McPherson, 55, in command of A2 Canadian Artillery Training Centre at Petawawa military camp from 1941-1945, died Sunday. Born in Toronto, he was graduated from Royal Military College, Kingston, in 1917. He was called to the Ontario bar in 1921.

ALMOST A TRAGEDY was the flash fire that destroyed the bandsmen tent of the Canadian Corps of Signals who were to play for Prime Minister St. Laurent. The band borrowed music and instruments from the British Royal Scots and carried out their serenade to the PM. Canadian Soldiers No Saints Take Interest In Religion

Canadian Press Sthaf Writer

IN KOREA (CP) — Canada's lusty 25th Brigade lining the demilitarized zone are no saints, but many have "got religion."

Both Roman Catholic and Protestant voluntary spiritual-training courses have capacity attendance and waiting lists.

Maj. J. R. Beauparlant of Montreal, senior Roman Catholic padre, says the courses are appealing to the "real tough guys" who have the courage to improve their minds.

NO SISSIES

"We don't get sissies on these courses," he said. "The sissies are the guys who go around boasting of what they think are he-man instincts but are actually grave weaknesses in their character."

Maj. Jock Anderson of London, Ont., who won two Military Crosses serving with the Highland Light Infantry of Galt, Ont., is senior Protestant padre. He's a Presbyterian but has representatives of all denominations on his staff.

"The keen and serious interest shown in spiritual values has been a terrific inspiration in our program," he said. "The lads have come forward voluntarily and after serious study and acceptance of the Christian concepts have gone back to their units, better soldiers and better Canadians."

Both Maj. Beauparlant and Maj. Anderson say they'd like to see the voluntary religious courses extended to army formations in Canada and Europe.

Focal point of the training centre is a green and white church on top of a hill. The church is actually a quonset hut with a steeple.

The altar is carpeted, a decorative flower vase is made out of an empty shell case embossed with a cross, and the hymn books are stored in an ammunition box.

The Roman Catholics have three-day courses every two weeks while the Protestants have one-week courses every five weeks. The volunteres come from the compulsory "padre's hour" which is held weekly in each unit. The instruction at the religious centre or retreat leads in most cases to confirmation or joining the church.

For instance, in a week in mid-February about 40 each from the Roman Catholic and Protestant schools became church members.

All the courses touch on religious history, doctrine, ethics and morals.

"These courses are one of the most important phases of our training program and we've had real practical results from them in making good soldiers and good Canadians," Brig. Jean Allard, brigade commander, said. "We find they contribute tremendously to developing leadership."

All ranks and all units are represented in each course and the men on the waiting list eventually are accommodated in the restricted facilities of the retreat at brigade headquarters.

The program also includes sports periods and sing-songs and each class does a little choir practice to the accompaniment of a battered foot-organ.

Narrow, Rambling Roads In Britain Said Not Safe

By RON EVANS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP) — Industrialists and traffic experts are knocking the tar out of Britain's network of narrow, rambling roads.

They say the 190,000 miles of highways which criss-cross England, Scotland and Wales are unsafe, uneconomic and undeveloped. On that score they're in agreement with the government.

Conflict arises over what is to be done.

Transport Minister Alan Lennox-Boyd told the House of Commons last December that "for the past 14 years or so the highway system of this country has been largely starved of development." He said the situation could not continue without "serious damage to our economy."

He proposed—and the House approved—the spending of about £50,000,000 in the next three years and £15,000,000 annually for the following "period of years."

The critics, pressing a full-scale better - roads campaign through press and pamphlets, promptly replied it wouldn't do.

STARTLING STATISTICS

Dr. W. H. Glanville, road expert with the department of scientific and industrial research, came up with some startling statistics.

He said that unless something is done soon the present road casualty rate of 226,770 can be expected to climb to 350,00 within 10 years. That would mean that every other person in Britain could expect to be injured on the roads once in a lifetime.

The construction of 1,000 more miles of road could save 7,500 casualties.

Sir Norman Kipping, director-general of the Federation of British Industries, which represents about 7,000 industrial firms and 300 trade associations, said the government plan was clearly inadequate.

To point up how heavily British industry depends on road transport, he cited the case of one firm which daily draws on 750 different sources at an average distance of 100 miles. But, he said, outdated roads are resulting in waste and boosting costs.

SEES BIG SAVINGS

He estimated that one new 60-mile motorway in Lancashire, which would cost £14,000,000, would result in an annual saving of 11,900,000 man-hours travelling time and £1,650,000 in operating costs.

The government plan, he said, represents an actual additional expenditure of £2,500,000 in 1955-56, £7,000,000 in 1956-57 and £10,000,000 a year thereafter. What is needed is an aditional expenditure of between £20,000,000 and £50,000,000 a year over the next five years.

Lennox-Boyd's answer:

"Don't expect everything at once. After a long period of virtual starvation, be content to look on the program as at least a good begining."

Although English roads generally have excellent running surface and solid foundations, they are too narrow. In the Midlands and East, country roads generally are wide enough to pass two medium-size motor cars.

But in the West and mountainous areas there is often not enough room for a car and a bicycle to pass. In some counties there are many roads on which a single motor car will brush the hedges.

In 1946, the government anounced a 10-year plan for road improvement and development but post-war economic problems prevented it from passing the planning stage.

Now the situation has become critical with an 88-per-cent increase in goods traffic carried by road since 1938 and vehicle licensing up from 3,00,000 to 5,00,00.

Call For Inquiry Into Royal Yacht

LONDON (AP) — Two Labor members of Parliament called Saturday night for an official inquiry into why the Queen's new royal yacht Britannia has cost more than £2,000,000.

Emrys Hughes and Cyril Bence, both Scottish members, wrote to First Lord of the Admiralty J.P.L. Thomas saying:

"In these days when it is so necessary to secure economies, we have been surprised to hear that the cost of the Britannia has exceeded £2,000,000 and is much greater than the sum that was originally intended.

"We suggest therefore that the whole question of the cost should be referred for examination to the public accounts committee with full powers to examine witnesses."

The Britannia sails from Portsmouth April 15 with Prince Charles and Princess Ane to meet the Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh, at Tobruk on their way home from their Commonwealth tour.

During a recent debate on the navy budget in the House of Commons, questions were raised about the cost of the vessel, Thomas said then he felt there had been no undue expense.

Substance Is Subject Of Lesson-Sermon

The healing power of that faith which is rooted in a spiritual understanding of God was brought out at Christian Science services on Sunday.

The Lesson-Sermon entitled "Substance" included the following passage from the Bible: "Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen. Through faith we understand that the worlds were framed by the word of God, so that things which are seen were not made of things which do appear."

(Hebrews 11:1,3.)

Among the correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy were the following: "When we come to have more faith in the truth of being than we have in error, more faith in Spirit than in matter, more faith in living than in dying, more faith in God than in man, then no material suppositions can prevent us from healing the sick and destroying error."

(Page 368:14.)

The golden text was from Psalms 135:13: "Thy name, O Lord endureth for ever; and thy memorial, O Lord, throughout all generations."

Father Rescues Boy, 9 Buried By Slab of Ice

Cobourg Man Digs At Ice With Hands

Children Playing In Shore Cave When It Collapsed

COBOURG—A cool-headed youngster who gave the alarm and the frantic digging of a father, saved the life of nine-year-old Johnny Anderson at six o'clock Monday night after he was trapped when ice collapsed on top of him at the lakeshore.

Ten-year-old Jimmy Davis, who was there when the ice collapsed on the boy, raced a block away to get the boy's father, Malcolm Anderson, who ran to the shore where his son's feet could be seen sticking out from under a ledge of ice.

Mr. Anderson dug with desperate haste with his hands, scooping out loose sand and gravel through a seven-inch opening between the ledge and the beach and reaching through to dig under the top part of the boy's body.

FRIEND BROUGHT SHOVEL

Pete Caffin, a neighbor, arrived with a shovel and dug further until Mr. Anderson was able to pull the lad out by the legs.

A timber kept the full weight of the huge slab of ice from resting on the boy, and this fact, plus the spongy nature of the sand was all that saved the youngster from being crushed to death.

As it was, he almost smothered and was unconscious when his father pulled him out.

Taken to Cobourg Hospital, he revived and was able to recognize his mother and father. His forehead bore a cut and bruises where he had been hit by the log as the ice bore him down and his mouth and nostrils contained sand and fine gravel.

He is being X-rayed to learn if his back is injured but he is making a good recovery and apparently escaped serious injury.

The boy's father said he thought that Johnny had gone into the water when Jimmy Davis breathlessly told him that the ice had caved in on the other boy.

"I thought he was gone," said Mr. Anderson. "Then I saw that it had happened up on shore, but when I saw that huge section of

Misses His Cheese

WASHINGTON (CP) — State Secretary Dulles, possing for photographers with other American and Canadian cabinet ministers today, mentioned that he is found of a certain brand of Canadian cheddar cheese. "We would like to send you some," cracked L. B. Pearson, Canada's external affairs minister. "But we probably couldn't get it across the border." The ministers are to discuss, among other things, tariffs.

23 Fishermen Burned In U.S. A-Blast

TOKYO (Reuters) — Japan today asked the United States government to find out why 23 Japanese fishermen were burned and scarred by radioactive "death ashes" which rained from the sky after a mid-Pacific atomic explosion March 1.

Government sources suggested the U.S. may be asked to pay compensation if an official Japanese investigation of the accident shows the claims are warranted.

Scientists here today confirmed the radioactive nature of the ashes, but said it will take at least a week to test their strength.

But doctors said it is clear that the effects of the blast were 10 times greater than from an ordinary atomic bomb.

ASH ON CLOTHES

The fishermen walked ashore with the ash still on their clothes, they said it would not wash out. All are scarred and blackened by the radiation. However, none of the injuries are expected to be fatal.

First diagnoses showed no unusual changes in the men's white blood corpuscles, generally affected by serious radiation. Their eyes showed symptoms of conjunctivitis, inflammation of the membranes.

The Japanese foreign ministry today asked the U.S. embassy whether the U.S. had warned all ships to stay clear of the Bikini atoll test area where mid-Pacific atomic tests are held.

A spokesman said the Japanese government had received no advance notification that new tests would be held.

President Can Order Attack Made

Has Retaliatory Powers If London Or Paris Blitzed

WASHINGTON (AP)—State Secretary Dulles said Tuesday that President Eisenhower has authority to retaliate against an enemy attack on Paris or London without awaiting congressional war declaration, just as he has power to retaliate against an attack on New York or Chicago.

Dulles said the president has such authority under the North Atlantic treaty—which embraces 14 countries from Canada through Turkey—and under the inter-American defence treaty covering all the American nations.

At a press conference, Dulles defended his policy of deterring possible new Soviet aggression by building up massive power of retaliation in the United States. He said that uncertainty on precisely when, where and how the United States would retaliate is the key to the success of the policy.

PEARSON SPEECH

His remarks appeared to be partly in reference to a speech here Monday by L. B. Pearson, Canadian external affairs minister, who said Canada and other North Atlantic treaty countries would expect to be consulted before the United States government adopted any decision for "instant retaliation" against any foe who might break the cold war into open conflict.

Labor Brief Branded Unfair

TORONTO (CP)—Labor Minister Daley today branded as "unfair in many ways" a brief presented to the cabinet by the Ontario Federation of Labor (CCL-CIO) which called for a public works program and municipal aid to combat unemployment.

Criticizing the "attitude" of the brief and the delegates, who he said were "provocative," Mr. Daley charged:

"It is wrong for you to come here year after year and tell us no matter what we do, it isn't good enough."

The minister said the department of labor has accomplished much. Unionism in Ontario has contributed to the high standard of living in the province but charges in the brief were "just not true."

60 DELEGATES PRESENT

George Burt, Canadian director of the United Auto Workers and president of the OFL and Cleve Kidd, OFL secretary-treasurer, headed the 60-man delegation, said to represent 200,000 workers.

The brief suggested establishment of a board or commission, with labor representation, to plan works in towns where textile or other industries are in a slump.

The federation accused the province's milk control board of violating the Ontario Labor Act by ordering milk deliveries cut to five days a week from six in the Toronto area during a strike by milk delivery men.

Canada, U.S. Open Largest Conference On Trade Problems

WASHINGTON (CP)—Canadian and American cabinet ministers met at 10:15 a.m. today to begin a series of talks aimed at solution of trade and economic problems affecting the two countries.

The eight ministers, meeting as members of the Canada-U.S. economic and trade committee, are the largest group of cabinet officials from the two countries ever to gather at a trade conference.

The ministers were scheduled to confer with President Eisenhower at a White House luncheon meeting.

The Canadian group, External Affairs Minister L. B. Pearson, Trade Minister C. D. Howe, Finance Minister Douglas Abbott and Agriculture Minister J. G. Gardiner, went into a last-minute huddle Monday night to cement their views and prepare their stand.

Biggest issue is the North American food surplus problem. The lack of Canadian-U.S. co-ordination on this issue became evident Monday when U.S. agriculture secretary Ezra Taft Benson announced the sale of 10,000,000 bushels of wheat to Spain for Spanish currency to help meet local costs of U.S. military construction in Spain. The Canadians had not been officially informed of the move.

MAY HURT CANADA

Fearing the U.S. is attempting by various means to grab wheat markets away from Canada, the Canadian delegation likely will make it clear that rash action by the U.S. in its food-disposal programs may injure Canadian economic strength.

Officials said the delegation probably will ask for an understanding that U.S. give-away programs will not operate in such a way as to destroy markets for Canadian products.

In particular the Canadian government wants to be consulted before the U.S. launches Eisenhower's proposed $1,000,000,000 program to provide food for friendly countries overseas.

Both countries have large surpluses of wheat and competition for overseas markets has been razor sharp.

FBI Agent Traps Extortionist

LOS ANGELES (AP)—An FBI agent, made up to look like make-up manufacturer Max Factor Jr., helped trap an unemployed man accused of trying to extort $30,000 from Factor under threat of blasting him and his family with a time-bomb.

Wendell Martin Ringholz, 47, father of three children, was arrested Monday as he picked up a dummy bundle of money in an orange grove in San Fernando valley.

The arrest climaxed week-long negotiations by letter, telephone and a newspaper ad, and marked the third time the package had been planted at spots designated by the would-be extortionist. The first two times he apparently had been frightened off.

Last Thursday night the Factor family left its Beverly Hills mansion after a man telephoned that a time-bomb was hiden in a wall. No bomb was found.

PICKED FROM WHO'S WHO

The FBI quoted Ringholz as saying he selected Factor after reading about him in Who's Who. Ringholz was arraigned and held under $10,000 bond on a charge of using the mails in an extortion attempt.

An FBI agent, disguised as Factor, carried out extortion-message instructions. Twice a dummy package of money was placed where stipulated, but was not picked up.

Monday, the money was put on a white sheet in a grove. Several FBI agents were hidden in the area.

Minutes later, the FBI said, Ringholz picked up the package. He was arrested at once.

MP Humiliated, Restaurant Refuses Cheque

OTTAWA (CP)—A member of Parliament Monday protested against the "unexpected humiliation" of having his cheque refused in the Parliamentary restaurant.

H. W. Herridge (CCF—Kootenay West) asked in the Commons who ordered the restaurant and cafeteria management not to honor cheques of members of Parliament. Later, he said he had offered the cheque as part payment for a meal he had with several guests last Saturday. He said he had forgotten to cash a cheque at the bank Friday.

Speaker Rene Beaudoin said the Parliamentary restaurant is not a bank and at times is unable to cash cheques.

Julian Ferguson, Progressive Conservative for Simcoe North, said there is another reason cheques aren't being honored. He said he intends to raise the matter at a meeting of the parliamentary committee which governs the restaurant. He did not elaborate.

However, it was learned later that cheques for $200 and $50 not covered by funds in the bank had been cashed in the restaurant.

Fish On Market Stalls Found Radio-Active

SHIZUOKA, Japan (Reuters)—Scientists armed with geiger counters found dangerous radio-active fish on market stalls here today.

The fish could have killed anyone who stood near them for more than an hour, it was reported.

The fish came from the Japanese fishing vessel Fukuryu Maru, covered by white "death ashes" believed to have resulted from an atomic explosion in the mid-Pacific.

The scientists removed the fish from the stalls before any had been sold.

Screaming Shock Troops Fall Back Before French

HANOI, Indo-China (AP)—Screaming Vietminh shock troops surged today to within a half-mile of the heart of the Dien Bien Phu fortress, then faltered and fell back under fire from the French garrison, taking their dead and wounded with them.

Masses of the Communist-led rebels staged the attack from the encircling hills in a driving rain, firing rifles, pistols and machine-guns and throwing grenades and spears. French guns tore wide gaps in their ranks. A French army spokesman said thousands of the rebels were cut down.

Unofficial estimates of the Vietminh dead and wounded in the four days of battle for the barbed wire-ringed plain, in a strategic sector of northwest Indo-China, rose to between 6,000 and 8,000.

Bullet-riddled bodies of rebel dead dangled like scarecrows on the barbed wire as the outnumbered French Union forces fought desperately to keep the plain out of rebel hands.

It was the most savage battle of the Indo-China war, now in its eighth year. Early today the outcome, certain to have a major effect on the Geneva conference next month, was still in doubt.

The fighting, which began Saturday, raged furiously through Monday night as thousands of wildly screaming Communist-led rebels, backed by Chinese artillery, charged repeatedly into the bristling U.S.-armed defences of the fortress plain.

The "do or die" fanatic rebel charges over the mounting bodies of their own dead duplicated the Communist onslaughts on United Nations troops in the Korean war. For the first time in the long Indo-China war, the Vietminh abandoned their guerrilla tactics for an all-out frontal assault.

CAPTURE STRONGPOINTS

In the first 48 hours of fighting, the Vietminh wrested two northern and northeastern strongpoints from the French Union defenders. But the French high command said the

Have Showdown With McCarthy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senator Joseph McCarthy (Rep. Wis.) and his Senate investigations sub-committee went into a showdown meeting today on his row with army officials. Democratic members were demanding a full public hearing on the charges and counter-charges.

Senator John McClellan (Dem. Ark.) told reporters he would insist at the closed-door meeting that the sub-committee:

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate investigations sub-committee voted to explore at public hearings, with the witnessess under oath, the bitter charges and counter charges between Senator Joseph McCarthy Rep.-Wis., its chairman, and United States army officials.

1. Ask that its parent body, the Senate government operations committee, takes over the inquiry.

2. Have all testimony taken in public hearings.

3. Hire a "special and impartial" staff to assist in the hearings.

WOULD BAR REGULAR STAFF

A reporter asked McLellan whether he is disposed to allow members of the regular staff who are "under fire" to assist in the hearings and the senator answered, "No, sir."

McCarthy accuses Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens and John G. Adams, the United States Army's general counsel, of using "blackmail" tactics to block his investigations of alleged Reds in uniform.

Massey Guest At White House

OTTAWA (CP)—Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey will be the guest at Washington's White House May 3-4. It will be his first trip to the United States since becoming Canada's governor-general in early 1952.

At the invitation of President Eisenhower, he will repay the November visit here of Mr. Eisenhower and his wife, who at that time were guests at Rideau Hall.

The 67-year-old Mr. Massey, first Canadian to become the representative of the Queen in Canada, will be the third governor-general of this country to stay at the White House.

He will fly to Washington May 3 and be the guest of President and Mrs. Eisenhower until the next day. Then he will move to the Canadian Embassy and stay there until his departure for Ottawa on the morning of May 5.

A brief announcement from government house gave no further details; it was understood these were still to be worked out.

Russian Forces Given A-Weapons—Alexander

LONDON (AP)—Defence Minister Lord Alexander indicated today that Russian forces are being supplied with atomic weapons and said the Western allies "cannot afford to relax".

Opening a two-day debate on defence in the House of Lords, Alexander said Britain is "pushing ahead" with plans for guided atomic missiles operating from the ground, ships at sea and from planes. But he cautioned against any "half-baked conclusions" because "most of the weapons are several years ahead."

He warned: "It is not only the Allied forces which are being supplied with new weapons. NATO therefore cannot afford to relax. We must go on strengthening the shield behind which the full strength of the member countries can be rapidly mobilized in war."

There have been unconfirmed reports recently that Russia was supplying atomic bombs to her air force in eastern Europe and that Soviet ground forces may possibly have atomic artillery or rockets.

Alexander repeated Britain's pledges to help defend Western Europe if attacked and to continue full support of the proposed six-nation European Defence Community (EDC) with Western German troops included.

He said "western Europe must be held" and to do it there must be conventional weapons as well as new ones.

"We cannot afford to lower our present shield of conventional weapons and stand naked and defenceless until a new shield of non-conventional weapons is ready to take its place," he added.

Alexander said Britain could not cut its two-year national service draft or reduce the number of her armed forces "in the present conditions of the cold war." he said Britain is planning defence for the "long haul" over the next several years rather than a "rush to arm at any price."

Army Begins Hiring Dock Workers To Load Transports And Cargo Ships

NEW YORK (AP). — The United States Army today began hiring dock workers under civil service rules to load transports and cargo ships tied up at its strikebound bases in the port of New York, but the response of workers was slow.

An hour after the usual time for the start of the day shift, only 65 of the 400 men needed at the Brooklyn army base had been processed, screened and put to work.

An army spokesman said the men still were coming in, but slowly. None had been hired at Staten Island, where 350 dock workers are needed, or at Jersey City, N.J.

About 500 persons demonstrated at the entrance to the Brooklyn base for half an hour today before they were broken up by police.

No violence was reported. Several pickets took up posts at the entrance.

The civil service employment, approved in Washington, means the longshoremen will be working directly for the government and not for stevedoring firms under contract to the government.

Lead 58 Children From Blazing School

WROXETER (CP) — Fifty-eight children were led to safety Monday when flames swept through a six-room public school in this community some 50 miles northwest of Stratford. The two-storey brick building was gutted in the $100,000 blaze.

First warning of the fire came when principal Campbell Brown smelled smoke and went to the basement to investigate. When he opened the door to the furnace room banked-up flames burst forth.

The principal raced upstairs to warn the children and assistant teacher Mrs. Gordon A. Wearing.

The fire spread so swiftly the children hadn't time to save any books or clothing.

Presents Credentials

MOSCOW (CP)—John Watkins, new Canadian ambassador to Russia, today presented his credentials to President Voroshilov in a brief formal ceremony at the Kremlin.

The ceremony was confined to actual presentation of credentials and the introduction of respective entourages.

Accept Canada's Offer On Gouzenko Data

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States Senate internal security sub-committee has moved to accept Canada's offer to make public testimony taken from Igor Gouzenko, now living incognito in Canada

William E. Jenner, sub-committee chairman, Monday asked the state department to request that the Canadian government make public the full transcript. His request was announced after External Affairs Minister Pearson said in a speech here that Ottawa would be "quite happy" to permit publication of all but 35 words of Gouzenko's testimony.

Pearson said these words involve some names that Canada believes should be kept secret.

Jenner and Senator Pat McCarran (Dem. Nev.) interviewed Gouzenko in Montreal Jan. 4.

Ice-Fishing Control Asked

TORONTO (CP)—Strict control of ice-fishing was urged today by Ralph Bice of Kearney, president of the Ontario Trappers' Association.

Mr. Bice told the Ontario legislature's fish and game committee that a ban should be placed on some lakes. The hundreds of fishermen sometimes hooked so many fish that the waters were depleted for summer anglers.

Len Hughes of North Bay, president of the Northern Ontario Outfitters' Association, said many people realize "that we can't fish both winter and summer. The day is coming when angling should be permitted only in the summer."

Pooey Moves To Kingston

Girl Beats 16 Bidders To Get Odorless Skunk Pet

OTTAWA (CP) — Fourteen-year-old Bev Stafford beat 16 other bidders from across Canada so Pooey, the odorless skunk, is going to live with Bev in Kingston.

Pooey sedately stepped into a wooden crate Monday addressed to Bev. She left behind her some disappointed admirers—the W. E. Balcombe family who adopted her about a year ago and Mayor Charlotte Whitton.

Pooey's 115-mile train ride resulted from a story carried by The Canadian Press. It told how the Balcombe family had to get rid of Pooey because of their jealous cat Mi-Mi, boss of the Balcombe house for 14 years.

The Balcombes adopted Pooey last fall when her former owner couldn't keep a skunk in an apartment.

The story brought letters from would-be skunk owners in Kingston, Gananoque, Paris, Brantford, Hanover, Belleville, Haileybury and Oshawa, Ont.; Bridgewater, Middleton and Springhill, N.S., North Battleford and Saskatoon, Sask., and Brandon, Man.

Mi-Mi and her 11-year-old son, Snook, have made the Balcombe home in the northeast section of Ottawa a frustrating place for Pooey. When Pooey became annoyed, her tail would rise but nothing would happen. She has lost her only protection, the scent bag under the tail.

This loss is the reason Bill Balcombe wanted to find her a home rather than turn her loose.

The Balcombes had an official of the wildlife department write a zoo in Ireland to see if there was a home there for Pooey. There wasn't.

However, Pooey's story in the newspapers attracted so many offers that Mr. Balcombe says he feels guilty because he doesn't have enough deodorized skunks to go 'round.

Pooey arrived from Ottawa Monday night and is now making her home on the summer porch of the parents of her new owner.

The deodorized little skunk seemed to be pretty upset by the 115-mile train ride from Ottawa and today is still very nervous. She is on a diet of eggs and milk just now.

Wants Government Legislation

Councillor Says Steelworkers Owe Stores $100,000

TIMMINS (CP) — Councillor James P. Bartleman, a former Timmins mayor, said Monday the United Steelworkers of America (CIO-CCL) owe town merchants between $50,000 and $100,000 as a result of the recent gold mine strikes in this area.

He told a council meeting that the government should enact legislation compelling a union and its officers to be responsible for debts. He said some merchants have been unable to pay their tayes because the union had not paid for groceries and other items supplied to strikes on welfare vouchers issued by the union.

Mayor Wilf Spooner said the union is doing its best to pay as a result of the seven-month strikes in which 5,000 Porcupine district miners were out of work. Money had arrived here today to pay some of the bills.

"I have complete confidence in Charles Millard (national director of the union) and the people who run the steelworkers," he said.

Councillor Vincent Bonhomme said "a substantial amount has been paid by the union."

"I feel that before mid-summer everything will be paid up," said councillor T. G. McDonald.

Mr. Bonhomme charged that Mr. Bartleman was "union - baiting" and that he had brought up the union's debts for political reasons.

"You are opening wounds," he said. "A substantial amount has been paid by that union."

DENIES CHARGE

TORONTO (CP)—C. H. Millard, national director of United Steelworkers of America (CIO-CCL) today termed "inaccurate and grossly unfair" charges by Timmins councillor James P. Bartleman that the union owed Timmins merchants between $50,000 and $100,000.

Mr. Millard, in a letter to Mayor Wilfred Spooner of Timmins, said more than $1,000,000 had been spent by the union in grocery and other accounts with Timmins merchants since the strikes began last summer. He added:

"We spent that money with Timmins merchants because we believed in supporting community business. We resisted proposals that the union set up its own food stores although this might have cost less money."

St. Laurent Visit To U.S. "Informal"

Tours Naval Base At Pearl Harbor Says Prayer For Dead

HONOLULU (CP) — Prime Minister St. Laurent left here by air early today on his way to San Francisco. Returning home from his world tour, he is due at San Francisco at 10:56 a.m. PST (1:56 EST).

The Canadian leader, his six-week tour of parts of Europe and Asia almost finished, left shortly after midnight, Hawaiian time, after a two-day unofficial stop in this Pacific island group.

He has visited a dozen countries and talked with prominent world leaders. The tour began at Ottawa's Rockcliffe airport Feb. 4.

The U.S. stop is not an official part of his world visiting, so the Canadian leader had no formal calls to make in the California city. He planned to rest much of the afternoon and evening in preparation for Wednesday's last flight of the tour, which ends back in Ottawa in the evening.

TO MEET OFFICIALS

However, security officials of the United States state department planned to be on hand at the San Francisco airport to greet the Canadian leader, along with Christopher Eberts, Canadian consul-general in San Francisco.

Monday, last day of his stop in the Hawaiian islands, the prime minister toured the big U.S. Pearl Harbor naval base here, and visited the rusting hulk of the battleship Arizona, sunk by the Japanese attack in 1941 that brought the U.S. into the Second World War.

The Canadian leader placed a wreath on the dead battleship and said a prayer for the 1,000 men entombed within her.

INFORMAL VISITS

He also visited the U.S. aircraft carrier Boxer and made a series of informal visits around the base with Admiral Felix B. Stump, U.S. commander-in-chief in the Pacific.

In London the Times, in its principal editorial, today reviews the prime minister's round-the-world tour and says it has "attested the wide extension of the responsibilities of Canada as a world power."

The editorial is largely confined to tracing the prime minister's progress through parts of Europe and Asia. In Germany, it says, he spoke "wisely and gracefully" of the problem of German reconciliation with the West, while in India his defence of American policy was "generous and just."

New Housing Program To Be Felt By June

OTTAWA (CP) — The government's program to stimulate housing may make itself felt by June, the Senate was told Monday night.

Solicitor - General Macdonald, government leader in the upper chamber, threw out that hint in explaining the new program which has already been passed by the Commons.

He said that since Parliament began consideration of the bill, Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation and the chartered banks have held discussion of the part the banks will play in lending mortgage money under insurance.

CMHC, the government's housing agency, already has increased its branch office system and an inspection staff is ready to begin work the day after the program becomes law.

"Current developments are very contrary to rumors abroad that the legislation will not be operative until June and then only on a limited basis."

In Hospital 42 Months Young Indian Now Enrolled In Manitoba Normal School

WINNIPEG (CP) — The one thing George Henderson feared was going back to the way of life he had escaped through sickness.

He had been in hospital for 3½ years and now he was cured and free to leave. But to go home would be to abandon ambition.

"I pleaded to stay on and work there and finish out my grade 11," he says. "I knew if I once got away from the hospital and back to the reserve, I would never fulfil my dream of being a teacher."

The hospital knew determination. George stayed and today the 33-year-old Saulteaux Indian is enrolled in Tuxedo normal school here, well on his way to a diploma in teaching.

George, born on the Fort Alexander reserve in Manitoba, was admitted to the Brandon sanitorium for Indian and Eskimo patients in 1949 with a tubercular condition.

"I stayed in hospital for 3½ years as a patient and six months as an orderly," he says. "And they did more there than just patch up my lungs. It was there that I got the idea that I could do something with my life."

He had a lot of catching up to do when he started to study through the classes provided for sanatorium patients. His education had ended in grade school.

He recalls: "I explained to my teacher that I wanted to study and learn to be a teacher. I suddenly realized that one of the main things wrong with my race was a lack of education and the feeling that an Indian couldn't get an education, just because he was an Indian."

By the time he was given a clean bill of health he was within six months of his junior matriculation. He got that in hospital and then took his grade 12 at Brandon College in 1953.

"I worked hard there," he says. "The department of Indian affairs gave me a $1,000 grant to go to Brandon College for that year. I couldn't let them down, but there was so much new to learn. I didn't do too well I'm afraid, but I managed to write off enough subjects to get into normal school."

Before his sickness George worked for a paper factory in Pine Falls, Man.

More Spending, Less Taxes Conflicting Education Views

By IRVING C. WHYNOT
Canadian Press Staff Writer

HALIFAX (CP)—Most of Nova Scotia's parents believe school teachers are about right in their class-room discipline, but almost half of them think physical punishment should be abolished.

Close to 80 per cent are in favor of spending more money on education, but only 30 per cent are willing to pay more taxes to provide the funds.

These, and other interesting—and sometimes conflicting—views are given in a joint survey carried out by the Nova Scotia Federation of Home and School Associations, the provincial education department, the Union of Nova Scotia Municipalities and the Nova Scotia Teachers' Union.

COMPREHENSIVE QUIZ

In straight questions and answer form, the parents were asked to comment on teachers, teacher-parent-pupil relationships, finance and administration, physical facilities and school program.

On teachers in general, parents split about evenly on whether the public is too critical of a teacher's private life. But 92 per cent agreed that teaching is not an easy occupation and disagreed widely, from five to 100 per cent, on the percentage of elementary school teachers who should be men. But 39 per cent said "none."

About 30 per cent said they would not favor a son becoming a teacher and made this comment: "Not enough money, no future." About 81 per cent favored a daughter taking such an occupation.

About 60 per cent said a teachers' union should not strike but 38 per cent took the opposite view, some qualifying their answer with "if other means fail."

On discipline, 68 per cent of parents agreed that keeping children after school is a good thing. Twenty seven per cent said teachers generally were too lenient.

SCHOOL FINANCING

Parents showed a lack of knowledge of school financing and administration and in general could not name school board members. Fifty-two per cent of those questioned did not know one member.

Seventy-five per cent of those questioned couldn't make even a guess on what percentage of total expense is borne by the various government levels.

Three out of four felt the province should increase spending on education and four out of five felt the federal government should make grants for education to the provinces.

Sixty-two per cent said schools are not placing too much emphasis on sports. Only 56 per cent, however, said school gymnasiums are necessary.

In general parents had a variety of suggestions for subjects which should be taught in high school, ranging from commerce and agriculture to sex and traffic rules.

But they split about evenly when asked whether religion should be taught as a subject, not in opening exercises only.

centre of the Vietminh-encircled plain was still intact and the balance of the outer perimeter also was still holding.

They predicted the defenders would hold until the rebels had worn themselves out. The French said they had killed 2,500 attacking Vietminh and wounded as many more, but admitted "appreciable" losses out of their own garrison of French, Moroccans, Viet Namese, Algerians, German foreign legionnaires and Thai tribesmen.

The French in Saigon predicted that the Vietminh could not maintain their intense attacks of the last 48 hours longer than two more days.

Rainy weather, Vietminh anti-aircraft and rebel bombardment of Dien Bien Phu's airstrips reduced the fort's airborne supply line to a minimum.

ice broken off I was afraid that little Johnny was killed. I bent down and there were his legs sticking out from under. I dropped to my hands and knees and dug with my hands, all that I had.

"I dug and dug until I had a little hollow under his legs and the middle of his body. My wife told Pete Caffin, our neighbor and he came running with a shovel.

"With my digging with my hands and Pete with the shovel, we got him loose enough that I could pull him out by the legs. There was a log underneath the ice and that is all that kept the whole weight of the ice off him.

"He was alive but unconscious when I got him out and we rushed him to the hospital. If Jimmy hadn't used his head and came right to tell me, we'd never have got him out alive. Johnny was smothering and we got him out just in the nick of time," said Mr. Anderson to The Examiner.

Jimmy Davis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Davis and belongs to the Lions Cub Troop. Johnny belongs to the troop also. The two boys and Harold Boundy, who is around ten years of age, had been trying to build a fire on the lake-shore, in front of a natural cave formed by the action of the waves on "ice-bergs".

"It was a dandy cave," said Jimmy. "We were trying to get the fire going but the wood was too green. Johnny was back in the cave and all of a sudden there was a big cracking noise and the next thing the whole thing fell in.

"We were all right but Johnny was trapped underneath. He was hit on the head I think and was under the ice. We could just see his feet sticking out of the sand. I ran like the dickens for John's place and got his dad and then I showed him where Johnny was. [illegible] Anderson and Mr. Caffin got him out but he was breathing a little. I sure hope he gets better soon," said Jimmy.

Find Prices Mixed On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO (CP) — Prices were mixed in light early afternoon stock market trading today.

Industrials and western oils were stronger but the mining groups slipped a little.

Third-hour volume was 1,585,000 shares.

Papers, utilities, agricultures, financial institutions, textiles, motors and liquors were stronger in light trading as the industrials were slightly stronger. Foods and refining oils were steady and steels and manufactures slipped a little.

Western oils were stronger as they fluctuated from the opening.

Base metals were weaker with seniors lower in light, narrow-range trading, juniors steady with only slight changes.

Senior golds were weaker although all changes were small. Juniors showed a little strength in light trading and holding companies were quiet.

Uraniums and Bathurst-area base metals were slightly lower although trading was quiet and all active issues showed only fractional variations.

Call Scotland Yard On Churchill Threat

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill today called in Scotland Yard to deal with a threat to Lady Churchill.

The threat was in a letter received in the morning mail at 10 Downing St., the prime minister's official residence.

Churchill's aides refused details of the letter, but said it had been sent on to the commissioner of police "for him to take any action he considers necessary."

They said Churchill occasionally gets abusive or eccentric letters and any that appear sinister are sent on to the police at once.

Youth 16, Charged With Careless Driving

SUDBURY (CP) — David F. Hood, 16-year-old Toronto youth, was charged with careless driving today after a two-car head-on collision Monday which sent two men to hospital.

Travelling from Hagar, 25 miles east of here, he collided on a corner with a car driven by Edgar Taillefer of Sudbury.

Hood's cousin, Herbert Smith, 45, of Toronto, is in hospital here with severe lacerations suffered when he was thrown through the windshield.

Would Be Self-Supporting

Urge Admission Fee To Provincial Parks

TORONTO (CP)—An admission fee to provincial parks was proposed Monday in the Ontario legislature.

C. E. Janes (PC—Lambton East) said such a fee would help make the parks self-supporting.

"A small admission fee wouldn't hurt anyone," he said.

The government member, speaking during the second reading of the new Provincial Parks Act, suggested the original fee should be good for admission to any other provincial park during the year.

W. E. Brandon (PC—York West) suggested the government take over as a provincial park 500 acres of land on the south shore of Lake Simcoe, currently opetated as a park by York county.

During second reading of an act to amend the Workmen's Compensation Act, Labor Minister Daley said construction of a new rehabilitation centre for injured workmen to replace the temporary structure at Malton Airport, northwest of Toronto, is necessary.

CONSIDERING SITE

Mr. Daley said the government is considering the purchase of land adjacent to the Sunnybrook Veterans' Hospital in northeastern Toronto, now occupied by the army, as a future site for the centre costing an estimated $3,000,000 to $4,000,000.

Funds from the industrial compensation assessment would be used in the project.

Hon. Harry Nixon (L—Brant) said he is "in accord" with a bill amending the Highway Traffic Act which was also given second reading, but suggested that the provision compelling farmers to have two means of attachment on tractors hauling farm equipment on the highways, would "be a hardship on the farmers."

Robert Macaulay (PC — Riverdale), in concluding debate on the report of the select committee on the Cemeteries Act, suggested that the limitation on the number of salesmen at one cemetry as recommended be dropped.

Today, Mr. Nixon and W. J. Grummett, CCF house leader, will open the budget debate, followed by consideration of the supplementary estimates.

Toronto Group Brings Senator

TORONTO (CP) — A Toronto group known as the Senator McCarthy Committee is sponsoring a visit of the United States senator to Toronto April 20, it was reported today.

A spokesman for Maple Leaf Gardens said today it has been negotiating with John Hladun, a former Communist now known widely as an anti-Communist lecturer, for use of the arena for the event. They did not come to terms at their first meeting.

The Toronto Star said the committee has more than 100 on its membership list. It quoted one unnamed member of the committee as saying its purpose was not to spread McCarthyism in Canada "but to give him a break."

Police officials said they will take special precautions to guard the senator.

"There is liable to be a lot of old grapefruit thrown," said one official.

Small, Light, Cheap Jet Soon Standard NATO Forces

By RON EVANS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP)—Air experts predict a small British jet fighter, yet to leave the ground, will play a big role in west European defence.

Officials of the Society of British Aircraft Constructors say the Gnat, a stubby, swept-wing plane which is smaller, lighter and cheaper than standard jet fighters, is being studied by North Atlantic Treaty Organization air authorities for service as a ground-attack and troop-support weapon.

"LIKE A GLOVE"

They say the little jet, about the size of the Supermarine Spitfire of Second World War fame, fits recently announced NATO specifications "like a glove."

The Gnat, designed by William E. Petter, creator of the British Canberra jet bomber, carries three 30-millimetre cannon, weighs three tons fully loaded and is expected to become the first British fighter to exceed the speed of sound in level flight in its trials next fall.

Observers say, however, that the Gnat will find competition for NATO favor from two other models. They report a new Avro light delta-wing jet and a French craft, the Baroudeur, may also meet requirements.

SHORT OF FIRE-POWER

Most modern jets, such as the F-86E Sabre now in extensive service with the RCAF, RAF and United States Air Force, cost between £70,000 and £100,000 and weigh more than eight tons. The Gnat is expected to cost about £25,000.

The main argument offered against the Gnat is that it is not as well-equipped or heavily-armed as standard models. The Sabre carries six .50-calibre machine guns and 16 five-inch rockets.

Neither is the gnat equipped with the necessary radar apparatus which would enable it to operate, like the heavy planes, as a night fighter.

It is reported that NATO is prepared to order 1,000 light fighters of the right design. The Gnat builders estimate that, with government support, they could turn out 50 planes a month.

Won't Dictate Check-off Plan

TORONTO (CP) — The government should not dictate to industry that it must accept the voluntary revocable check-off, Labor Minister Daley said today.

In addressing a delegation from the Ontario Federation of Labor (CCL-CIO) which presented its annual brief to the cabinet, Mr. Daley said the Ontario department of labor will not pass such legislation.

"This is something that should be decided by collective bargaining. . . . It pleases me when you get it, but the government should not dictate to industry that it must accept the voluntary revocable check-off."

George Burt, O. F. L. president, said six of the 10 provinces now have the check-off.

The federal plans a mass lobby at the provincial parliament buildings Wednesday to urge legislation making the check-off compulsory.

Seek To Aid Citizens In Beautifying Homes

"Beautifying Canada by Landscaping Your Home" is the title of the talk at the Horticultural Society meeting Monday, March 22 at the YWCA.

"One subject in this course was Evergreens, the next 'how to make a good lawn' and now we go further to beautification of the home," W. C. Wilks, secretary, mentioned to the Examiner. "You can add 10 per cent to the value of your home by the improvement of lawns and flower beds and so on."

Conservatives To Choose Association President

OTTAWA (CP) — Progressive Conservatives will choose between two members of Parliament for the presidency of their national association.

No other candidates are expected to seek the post. The job will be decided today by some 150 official delegates to the annual meeting of the Progressive Conservative Association of Canada.

The contest is expected to be close. The records of both men are remarkably similar.

Both entered Parliament in by-elections, Mr. Hees in 1950 and Mr. Churchill in 1951. Both were army officers overseas in the Second World War, Mr. Churchill as commander of the 1st Canadian Armored Carrier Regiment, and Mr. Hees as brigade major of the 5th Infantry Brigade.

The election is the only major issue to arise so far at the two-day meeting, which continues Wednesday.

MARK ANNIVERSARY

Attendance is expected to reach about 700, a record for annual meetings of the party which this year marks the 100th anniversary of its founding by Sir John A. Macdonald.

Party organization is to be the chief topic today, the general membership attending a forum study of the question. Committees of delegates most apparently to discuss publicity, the association's constitution, party policy and resolutions. All meetings are closed to the public.

The meetings of the two associate groups both were marked by close voting for top officer.

Mrs. E. W. Sansom of Fredericton was chosen president of the women's association over Lorraine Johnston, a Vancouver lawyer.

Harvey Galbraith, 24, of Calgary was elected president of the young PCs in what was later described as a "very close" vote.

Ottawa Calling Conference On Highways

OTTAWA (CP) — The federal government is calling a federal-provincial conference for late April to work out means of keeping all highway operations under provincial jurisdiction.

The conference springs from a February judgment of the United Kingdom Privy Council ruling that the federal government has jurisdiction over traffic crossing provincial boundaries.

The federal government has stated it does not want to take over control of this transport, hitherto a no-man's-land of jurisdiction, and that it hopes the central and provincial governments can reach a common understanding to have the provinces take it over.

SEND INVITATIONS

Invitations to a conference aimed at this objective have gone out to all provincial highways ministers and Transport Minister Chevrier said he hopes the meeting will be held here in the last week of April.

The minister, in an interview, declined to discuss a possible agenda for the conference. It was understood a committee representing several government departments has been working on conference plans since Mr. Chevrier told the Commons Feb. 23 that the federal government does not want to move in on control of highway transport.

The statement represented an apparent reverse from federal policy, since for about two years previously the central government had fought for a court ruling that it holds jurisdiction over interprovincial and international road traffic.

RIGHT UNQUESTIONED

The provinces' right to control highways within their boundaries has been unquestioned. But the federal government for many years has contended that cross-border traffic is its field, though it has not actually put in controls in that field.

After the Privy Council judgment uphold the federal claim, Mr. Chevrier announced the government here feels "divided jurisdiction" between the provinces and Parliament would not be in the public interest. It was "reluctant" to get into the field and hoped for a general understanding that would enable the provinces to regulate all highway transport.

The Eisenhower proposal has not yet been worked out in detail and it is unlikely that the Canadians will get much enlightenment at today's conference.

THREE PLEDGES SEEN

The Associated Press reported this morning that U. S. State Secretary Dulles was said to be ready to give these pledges to the Canadians:

1. The Eisenhower administration will turn its back on any demands the Republican administration embrace high tariff policies.

2. The president soon will ask Congress for specific authority to extend the reciprocal trade policy, conceived under former president Franklin D. Roosevelt's administration, to permit further American negotiations with friendly governments for reduced tariff duties.

3. Despite a mounting store of surplus agricultural products, the U. S. does not intend to "dump" this hoard on world markets but will dispose of it to help the free world, after prior consultation with its allies.

Meeting Granting $500 To Nursing Registry, Legal

Ald. Alene Holt received the assurance of both the city clerk and the city solicitor Monday night that the finance committee meeting at which a grant of $500 to the Peterborough Community Nursing Registry was recommended was a properly constituted meeting.

After many recent days and nights of tussling with the estimates for 1954, city council were content to despatch their routine business in a scant 50 minutes Monday night, but not before Ald. Holt had aired her doubts about the legality of the grant.

In a somewhat ambiguous statement, Ald. Holt said she did "not want to cast any reflection on the press" but "I resent the implication in the paper that members of this council did not understand what they were considering."

Ald. Holt's note of doubt was struck at the end of the meeting when she referred to a clause in Ald. Pat Anglesey's finance committee report, which was approved by council. The clause contained the recommendation for the grant.

"Are we not setting a precedent in opening and closing and then opening this matter again?" Ald. Holt asked. "It didn't seem the proper order of business to me."

"I believe it was a properly constituted meeting," said Ald. John Dewart, who was elected head of council in the absence of Mayor Norman Graham.

(His Worship broke a blood vessel in his leg as he was about to go from his office to the council chamber but turned up at the meeting later.)

City Clerk E. A. Outram explained that no written notices of the meeting had been sent out but it had been decided at a previous meeting to meet Friday night, March 5, when the grant was recommended.

"It was a properly constituted meeting," Mr. Outram said.

"The implication in the press that we didn't know what we were doing made us look rather foolish in the eyes of the public," Ald. Holt said.

Ald. Art Burrows said the meeting was open to the press "and anyone else who knew about it." There were seven members present and the recommendation was passed unanimously.

NO NOTICES

"Mrs. Holt is actually treading on very good ground," Ald. Anglesey said. "No notices were sent out and in that way the press would not get to know there was a meeting held."

"Was there any question of the legality of the matter?" Ald. Dewart asked Mrs. Holt.

"No," she said. "The only question in my mind was whether we were setting a precedent in not making up our minds and sticking to it."

Ald. Gordon Powell said he had been assured by the city clerk and the solicitor that before the question could be re-opened there would have to be a majority vote of the whole council.

"When the motion to re-open it was introduced by Ald. Rehill, we had six members of council sitting and they voted on it," Ald. Powell said. "I don't know whether this is a move to re-open it or just a scratch."

Ald. Burrows then read rule 21 of the rules of procedure, stating that a motion to re-open a question required a majority of the whole council and that no more than one motion for consideration could be made at one meeting.

"I still feel it was an impromptu meeting and I still resent the implication I didn't know what I was voting about," Ald. Holt said.

"I would be glad to hear if the meeting was legally constituted," Ald. Anglesey said.

W. F. Huycke, city solicitor, said that in his opinion, if there were six members present and they voted to reconsider, the matter was at an end.

Council then adjourned.

Royal Couple Photographs Unique Animals

BRISBANE, Australia (Reuters) Queen Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh spent an informal "holiday" here today taking movies of Australia's unique animals and testing the ability of a talking horse.

Into the grounds of Government House were brought a young Kangaroo, a wombat, snakes, and a duck-billed platypus—an odd furry creature with a duck's bill and a beaver's tail, which lays eggs and suckles its young.

Later, Topsy, thee talking horse, coped successfully with the royal couple's questions.

PICK QUEENS NAME

She picked the name Elizabeth from many others by nodding her head correctly [illegible] on Lady Pamela Mountbatten's dress; read auto licence numbers by pawing the ground; and did a little arithmetic.

Meanwhile, amateur photographers here offered to replace 1,000 feet of official color film of the royal tour, lost in the crash of a Constellation airliner at Singapore last Saturday.

The Queen today accepted a collection of butterflies presented to Prince Charles and Princess Anne by a Queensland naturalist, Reginald Baftlett.

In Melbourne, Lord Mayor R. H. Solly denied a Baptist minister's charge of drunkenness at the royal ball there. The Rev. J. A. Lewis had said guests at the recent ball in Melbourne "drank themselves insensible" and behaved like "dressed-up apes."

Princess Reported Slightly Improved

OSLO, Norway (AP)—Norway's Crown Princess Martha was reported "somewhat improved" this morning. The 53-year-old princess, suffering from haemorrhages caused by jaundice, had been reported in "very serious" condition after a relapse Monday.

Her physician, Prof. Paul Owren, announced the Swedish-born princess slept well Monday night and has regained consciousness.

Translating Of Bible Still Needed

[illegible] service was held in the Fellowship Baptist Church, Sunday evening, when Mr. and Mrs. William Davidson of the Wycliffe Bible Translators Inc., Glendale, California, were present.

Mr. Davidson, described the work of the Wycliffe Bible Translators and gave statistics to show that there is still a great work to do in providing the Bible in more languages. He said that there are 2,000 languages in the world and the entire Bible is printed in only 200 of these, while 200 more languages have only the New Testament. Five-hundred languages have a portion of the New Testament and 10 languages have less than one book of the Bible.

That leaves 1000 languages that have nothing at all of the scriptures which is a great challenge to Christians.

Mrs. Davidson sang two solos accompanied by Miss Shirley Taylor.

After the service Mr. Davidson showed a colored sound film depicting the work of the Wycliffe Bible Translators in Mexico and Peru amongst the Indians. It was filmed by E. Moon of the Moody Bible Institute.

The service was conducted by the pastor the, Rev. L. V. Bigelow and a large congregation was in attendance despite the inclement weather.

Mr. Davidson also showed slides to the Sunday school demonstrating the routine they have to follow at the Jungle Training Camp in Mexico in order that they may be prepared for the conditions under which they will have to carry on their missionary work.

Gilmour BYPU Meets

GILMOUR—The regular meeting of the Gilmour B.Y.P.U., with 28 present, was held Sunday evening at the church parsonage.

The meeting was in charge of Douglas Irwin and opened with a verse by Jack DeGroot. The scripture was read by Jim McMullen followed by prayer by Mary Raddon. Dianne Rowland conducted the Bible Quiz.

The topic, entitled, "The blind man who was author, pastor and poet" was given by Don Raddon This was the life story of the the great George Matheson.

The business meeting was then taken over by the president Donald Irwin. The B.Y.P.U. rally in Belleville and a bowling party were discussed at this time.

City Council Passes Bylaws To Conduct Normal Business

Apart from the routine approval of committee reports and a slight digression concerning the $500 grant to the Peterborough Community Nursing Registry, the main business of Monday night's brief council meeting consisted of the passage of bylaws.

Two bylaws authorizing debenture issues for the PUC were given first and second reading. Third and final reading awaits provincial approval.

One bylaw authorizes the borrowing on debenture of $88,000 for the gas department of the utilities commission, of which $29,000 is to cover conversion of the gas plant to automatic equipment. The remainder is to fund capital expenditures of the past seven years which had been charged to current revenue and not yet paid.

The other debenture bylaw authorized the borrowing of $42,022.86 to cover the cost of laying water mains.

STREET LIGHTS

Council also received a letter from the PUC recommending the installation of three 300-watt street lights on High St., between Lansdowne and St. Mary's streets. Council requested the commission to go ahead and install the lights.

Third reading was given to the bylaw authorizing a debenture issue for borrowing $85,000 to cover the cost of an addition to Grove school. First and second readings were given March 1.

Third readings were also given to bylaws to authorize the construction of a concrete sidewalk on Snelgrove Rd. and crushed gravel roads on Cordach crescent, Shirley Ave. and Bellaire St. These works will be carried out under the Local Improvement Act.

Council also approved Civic Hospital board's [illegible] ment in monthly instalments of $209,113.11 to take care of the hospital's operating deficit during 1954. The payment of $14,132.31 will be made for February, with 10 monthly payments of $19,498.08 for each of the subsequent 10 months to follow.

TRAFFIC PROBLEM

Council referred to the special traffic committee a letter from the board of education, requesting that consideration be given to placing "No Parking" restrictions on the north side of Murray St. and permitting parking on the south side.

In their letter the board pointed out this change would enable school buses bringing students to PCVS to park on the north side of Murray St. The number of these buses was increasing year by year and, under the present parking arrangements, students have to cross Murray St. to get to the school "at some hazard to themselves and an interruption to traffic."

Council also authorized the mayor and clerk to sign an agreement with Philip E. Selfried and Harold C. Sanderson, builders, whereby the later undertake to pay the cost of works on a plan of subdivision, consisting of four lots on Cluxton St.

Murdered Girl Started To Hitch-Hike To Windsor

WINDSOR, Ont. - (CP) — Fern Henkell, whose partly-clothed body was found in a water-filled ditch in Maidstone township Saturday, set out Thursday from Tilbury to hitch-hike to Windsor, provincial police established here today.

Miss Henkell told a friend in Tilbury at 2:30 p. m. Thursday that she was going to thumb a ride to Windsor to get a trunkful of clothes she had left there.

Inspector Lou Needham of the Ontario provincial police said today the young murder victim had been employed as a domestic in a Windsor home during 1951. He said he hoped the girl's employer in 1951 will get in touch with him, so that inquiries in Windsor can be pursued.

MOTORIST'S VICTIM?

Police are working on the theory that the murderer of the 21-year-old Woodstock girl is from the Tilbury area and they are certain she was picked up by a truck driver or motorist.

A tie pin, bearing a bowling emblem, hitherto the main clue in the hunt for the girl's slayer, has receded in importance, it was indicated today. Inspector Needham said he was satisfied the pin belonged to the killer, but a check with the manufacturer in Toronto showed that approximately 10,000 of the pins were made and distributed throughout Ontario through a dime-store chain.

The girl's parents in Woodstock said they had not seen the pin in their daughter's possession.

The pin was found clutched in the girl's hand, which was tangled in a torn coat sleeve. Her wrist had been broken.

From London, Ont. came word that police had interviewed at least one person there in connection with the girl's death.

4 Men Acquitted

WHITBY — Five [illegible] men were acquitted Monday of being in possession of house-breaking tools. They are John MacDnald, 19, of Oshawa, William Bateman, 18, of Toronto, and Edgar Harvey, 18, and Russell Mayhew, 21, both of Red Rock, Ont.

Left Scene Of Accident Driver Fined $25 In Court

Vernon MacMillan of 211 Prince St., an employee of Wes Edwards Shell service station, was found guilty of failure to remain at the scene of an accident in magistrate's court Monday. He was fined $25 [illegible] and assessed $6.75 court costs.

Const. Grant Gillespie testified that he investigated an accident, in which damages totalled $350., near the Rubidge-Charlotte corner on the evening of February 16. He found only one of the drivers involved, Robert A. McQuaig of 677 Lundy's Lane, on hand at the scene.

The next morning, Const. Gillespie testified, he was visited at home by MacMillan. He testified that MacMillan had told him that his car was involved in the accident, but that he had not been driving it at the time.

At the police station that evening, Const. Gillespie continued, MacMillan changed his story and admitted that he had been driving the car.

Mr. McQuaig testified that MacMillan stopped his car after the accident and remained a while "but never even came to look" at his (McQuaig's) damages. He noted MacMillan's license number at this time.

Unrepresented by counsel, MacMillan testified in his own behalf that he waited 10 minutes at the scene, and then went on to visit his wife in hospital. He said he did not see the McQuaig car until it was too late to avoid a collision.

Upholding Crown Attorney John Bradshaw's [illegible] tion, Magistrate W. S. Philip said he could not condone MacMillan's action in misrepresenting the facts, the morning following the accident, to Const. Gillespie.

Electronics Lecture Given To Men's Club

The men of St. George's Parish were guests of All Saint's Men's Club on Monday evening, March 15th in All Saints Parish Hall.

Following the opening exercises and business, an exceptionally entertaining and educational demonstration on Electronics and Sound was given by Mr. James Sands of Weston. Considerable interest was shown in the several pieces of equipment used, and much enjoyment was obtained from an electronics organ made by Mr. Sands to assist in his demonstration.

The speaker was introduced by Mr. Bob Pulford, and thanked on behalf of the club by Mr. Don Foster. A social session concluded the very successful evening.

25-Year Awards Presented At CBNE Banquet

On Saturday, March 13, Division 170 of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees and other transport workers held their annual banquet at the Colonial Room. Arrangements were made by a committee composed of Brothers W. Edwards, A. Parsons, and Pete Castle. There were 34 members in attendance.

Following the dinner, President Reg. Hill presented honorary life membership certificates to Brothers W. H. Bartell, Harry Rome and Harry Udy. The following brethren, who have each a membership of twenty - five years or more in the Brotherhood, were honoured by the presentation of twenty-five year pins: H. S. Delahaye, W. H. Downes, O. R. Kidd, W. J. Prindible, Harry Rome, O. I Smith and Bruce Telford. A number of those who were to have received life membership cards were absent. These were H. Campbell, C. McGee, S. Perry, W. Suddards and A. Weese. Brother A. E. Rundle, a charter member of the division with more than thirty-three years service in the Brotherhood, was unable to be present to receive his pin because he is at present in Montreal on a special assignment for Canadian National Railways.

Later a program of films was presented by Mr. Harley Carr of O'Keefe's Breweries. Brother Frank Crowley entertained with several songs accompanying himself on the guitar. Mr. J. Gibson of Corby's Distillery also assisted those in charge of the program. Cards and other amusements were enjoyed until a late hour.

Journalist Enters Hammarskjold Apt.

STOCKHOLM (AP)—A Swedish woman journalist broke into the Stockholm apartment of the United Nations' bachelor secretary-general, Dag- Hammarskjold, Mnnday night. She said she dictated a cable over the telephone to President Eisenhower after she got in.

Police refused to disclose the contents of the cable, or the woman's identity. They indicated they would not charge her.

The woman, 36, was let into the apartment by a locksmith after she claimed she had left an electric iron switched on. She called Hammarskjold at an official dinner he was attending with Premier Tage Erlander and Foreign Secretary Osten Unden. The secretary-general came home at once and called police, who arrested the woman.

Police said she had tried unsuccessfully to get a job from Hammarskjold two years ago while he was with the Swedish foreign office.

City's Hospitals Both Accredited

CHICAGO — The joint commission on accreditation of hospitals today released its annual list of fully and provisionally accredited hospitals in the United States, and in Canada.

The commission gave full accreditation to 2,920 hospitals and provisional accreditation to 498, a total of 3,418. There are about 7,500 hospitals.

The list released today is the first list published by the Joint Commission since it took over the actual hospital surveyal work from the American college of surgeons January 1, 1953. The commission is supported by the American college of physicians, the American college of surgeons, the American hospital association, the American medical association and the Canadian medical association. The director is Dr. Edwin L. Crosby. Headquarters are in Chicago. Among the best of accredited hospital were Civic Hospital and St. Joseph's Hospital, Peterborough.

DODGE TOWN-PANEL

Here's why YOU'LL SAVE with a DODGE

NEW 1954 "JOB RATED" TRUCK

YOU'LL HAVE FASTER DELIVERY

You'll like the loading ease of the new Dodge trucks—floors of these panel and express models are knee-level. You'll find wheeling through traffic and parking is a cinch—because Dodge trucks have the shortest turning radius, right or left, to speed up your hauling. Cab floors, too, are so much lower that drivers can slip in and out with passenger car ease. Further, Dodge trucks cut costs because they're "Job-Rated" from engine to rear axle to fit your job . . . and stay on your job with a minimum of upkeep.

YOU'LL CARRY MORE

The new Dodge Town Panel, illustrated above has a full 155 cu. ft. body capacity to handle bulky loads. Express bodies have extra width and depth. The Dodge "Job-Rated" truck design (which reduces truck weight by shortening wheelbase and overall truck length) gives a sizable payload advantage over trucks of similar Gross Vehicle Weight . . . you haul more at lower cost.

YOU'LL HAVE GREATER COMFORT

New Dodge cabs are designed to make driving safer and more comfortable. Floors and running boards are lower, doors higher and wider. The big, one-piece windshield and high side windows with lower sills give safe, wide angle vision. Dodge Truck cab and express models have 3-man seats, chair-high with full luxury-type seat cushions.

What The Two 'Have' Nations Have

After the war, when Europe was exhausted, Canada suddenly found herself one of the two "have" nations in the free world. This condition is examined by Mason Wade in the current issue of "Headline Series", published in the U.S.A. by the Foreign Policy Association. The booklet Canada, A Great Small Power, has been written by Mr. Wade and Tom Twitty, an American Foreign correspondent. It is a concise and stimulating expert American view of Canada's economic boom and her relations with the world.

* * *

Since the end of the war Canada has had an expanding economy founded upon wartime industrialization and fed by American and European capital. To Europeans and intending immigrants Canada is the El Dorado which the United States was in the last century. Her new strength has made even Americans conscious of her potential, and the growing Canadian nationalism has proclaimed it a nationalism partly inspired by Canadians' own discovery of their country's importance. Now Canada makes loans to Britain, takes part in plans for the economic development of other Commonwealth countries and even talks back to the U.S.A. Consider, for instance, Mr. Pearson's statement last year that "Proximity does not mean for us the imposed leadership of the master or the enforced obedience of the satellite. It means a partnership, based on consultation and co-operation and it includes the right to agree—or disagree". The strength of Canada's independent voice was shown yesterday in Mr. Pearson's warning in Washington to the United States not to abandon NATO and to beware of "entrenched continentalism" as a concept of defence against world Communism.

* * *

Why has Canada this importance? Why is it considered a new El Dorado? A reason is material wealth. Canada is one of the two "have" nations, and what it has compares very well indeed with what the U.S. has. There is a chart in the booklet referred to above which portrays the relative wealth of the U.S. and Canada, in per capita terms; that is, making allowance for the difference in size of population. The picture fortifies the immigrant's dream of coming to Canada to get a slice of the wealth. In the U.S. he would have statistically .02 square miles; in Canada he would have ten times as much—.26 square miles. The wealth in those square miles or produced on them is enough to tantalize even an American. That is why so much American capital has been coming into Canada since the war.

* * *

Here is the record of comparative wealth, again on a per capita rating. Wheat: U.S.—8.5 bushels produced for each person; Canada, 48 bushels. Coal: U.S., 3.4 short tons, Canada, a third of that (1.3 tons). Oil. The U.S. has the lead here, too, 15 barrels compared with 5 for Canada. Electricity: 2.700 kilowatt hours for each person in the U.S., double as much for each Canadian (4.500 kwh). Iron Ore—in the U.S., .7 short tons; in Canada, half as much (.37 tons). Aluminum: the U.S. has 2.4 tons a head, Canada has 32 tons. Railways: the U.S. has .15 miles of railway for each person, Canada twice as much (.3 miles). Finally, Canada exports three times as much as the U.S. and therefore gets in return three times as much money from the exports—unless too much of it goes as gifts. The record is $100 worth of exports for each American person, and $300 for each Canadian.

This is of course incomplete tabulation. It does not take account, for instance, of Canada's major industry, the pulp and paper industry, nor does it compare taxes, which reduce the amount of "have" each person can keep. But to see these figures worked out in an imposing graph is to realize that Canada is indeed a "have" country, and in many things has much more than the U.S. The trick in the tabulation is this. The reckoning is on a per capita analysis. In the bulk the U.S. has much more than Canada, and in the most basic reckoning of strength and wealth, population, Canada is far behind the U.S. Canada has only a tenth of the population of the U.S. but a land area a million square miles larger.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Better make sure the Uranium deposits have been found in Muskoka. Geiger counters have not been set ticking by the old tin cans from tourists' lunches.

Scheming Moppets

The St. Thomas Times-Journal takes a jaundiced view of the children who have been trying to get near the Queen during her Australian tour. Last Wednesday a four-year-old broke through a barrier, swarmed up on the Queen's lap, and kissed her. The Queen kissed the child, gave her a hug, and put her down; the child announced to the press that she would never wash her face again. The next day another child tried to get to the Queen, but a policeman nabbed her. Our Western Ontario contemporary does not believe that these children acted in beautiful innocence; it suggests strongly that they were put up to these dodges by their mothers.

Our editorial heart is not of stone, but we think the Times-Journal is probably right. The first little girl may have schemed to get at the Queen all by herself; children are very sharp about such things—sharper than adults like to think; the second child, we suspect, was coached by her mother.

The Queen behaved as we would expect; she is, after all, fully accustomed to children, and would be glad to see a nice child if one suddenly swarmed up on her lap. But she must be protected against scheming moppets and their ambitions mamas. For, if she kisses one child, there is no good reason why she should not kiss all children; children belong to the great republic of childhood, where all are equal, and if one child is kissed by the Queen, every other child has an equal right to expect this attention. Obviously the Queen cannot involve herself in such wholesale exploitation of her good nature and fondness for little people.

The innocence of children has great beauty. Mothers who corrupt that innocence [illegible] gain publicity for themselves or for their young deserve severe censure. We are sure that Her Majesty would be both angry and grieved if she thought that she were being involved in any such action.

What Peterborough Is Known For

Last week we were talking to a man whom we had just met, and when he heard that we were from Peterborough, he said: 'Oh yes, that's the place where they have the wonderful Children's Aid Society'. We confess that we were somewhat surprised at this identification, for although we have every admiration for the local Children's Aid Society we had expected that a businessman would identify this city by reference to one or several of its industries, or by its fame as a tourist and sporting centre. But it appeared that the Children's Aid Society was one of his enthusiasms, and that he had been particularly impressed by the organization and record of its local branch.

We pass his comment on to our readers because we hope that it will draw their attention once again to a fine local charity, and also because it is proof that Peterborough has many reasons for pride, some of which we lose sight of when we live close to them. It is a matter for pride that the record of a local humanitarian group should be uppermost in the mind of one man when the name of Peterborough was mentioned to him.

Mumbled Prayers

The Brantford Expositor comments at length and with fervour on a plea from Bishop Luxton of the Diocese of Huron, that public prayers should not be gabbled or mumbled. It is the Lord's Prayer which most often suffers from this apparently insulting treatment.

We have no desire to be disagreeable on this matter, but we think that there is a reason for the apparent gabbling and mumbling. When people recite the Lord's Prayer in public they are rarely thinking of the exact meaning of the words they speak; they are joining in an act of public worship, and they are using a prescribed form, but their thought are busy with supplications of their own. They may speak the words of the best-known of all prayers, but what they feel, very often is 'O Lord, have mercy upon me, a sinner'.

Now, which is better: that they should feel themselves as suppliants before God, or that they should give a nice example of concerted recitation, or choral speaking, or whatever you choose to call it?

We are not out of sympathy with the Bishop, or the Expositor; a group of people praying in unison too often sounds like the beating of waves upon a rock. But we have heard the Lord's Prayer recited, with several people doing their elocutionary best, and the result has been theatrical in the cheapest sense of the word. We have also heard clergymen read prayers, and passages of Scripture, in a manner which suggested that they were trying to squeeze the uttermost drop of meaning from the words. The impression they created was a painful one. Perhaps it is better to read simply, without mumbling or delivering a harangue.

A prayer is meant, after all, to be heard by one ear alone. In prayer we do not speak to one another. We should not gabble or mumble, but is there any reason why we should trouble to impress those around us?

Boys Will Be Boys

By DENNIS BLOODWORTH

A FEW nights ago a Paris taxi pulled up opposite the house of a friend. As the fifty-eight year old driver leaned sideways to read the meter, his fare, a studious-looking young man, struck him savagely across the back of the head with a heavy wooden mallet and fled.

The young man had been inspired by the youthful pranks of Messrs. Khsiorowski and Aussibal, who half-killed a taxi-driver with brutal blows from the butt of a revolver earlier in the week at Nogent-Sur-Marne. Explaining their attack when arrested, Aussibal said: "We wanted to make an experimental assault. We had been much impressed by the work of Jacques Fesch."

The work of Jacques Fesch and two adolescent accomplices had consisted of raiding a Paris shop, attacking its owner and fatally shooting a policeman who intervened. The boys wanted money to buy a yacht in which to tour the world. It seems they were suffering from the same boredom which earlier prompted Gerard Dupriez to kill off the two Parisians who had given him everything he desired: his parents.

✧ ✧ ✧

THESE ARE merely recent examples taken from the multitude of "J.3" (juvenile) crimes which are seriously alarming Frenchmen today. In 1953 more than twelve thousand French youngsters were arraigned and sentenced for offences which included thirty-seven murders or attempted killings and ninety-seven cases of white slave traffic or sex crimes.

Nevertheless, when the new film "Avant le Deluge" (Before the Flood") which is a study of this problem, was released here, its director, Andre Cayatte, was accused of showing the world a distorted and sordid picture of French family life, and members of the National Assembly called for it to be banned.

Yet if there is any sinister discrepancy between Cayatte's film and the truth, it is that while he shows French youth unfortunately corrupted by bad environment in [illegible] the heroes who bludgeon elderly taxi-drivers come from happy and comfortable homes, and the redoubtable Fesch and his first lieutenant are, respectively, the sons of a bank director and an eminent architect.

IT IS ALL the more agreeable to turn from these malevolent minors to their elders and betters in the Paris courts: people like Justin Pollet and his gentle helpmeet, Yvonne Vasseur. Justin, a bespectacled little dreamer, owed his downfall to two praiseworthy ambitions—he wanted to play a Beethoven Concerto "so that the Master himself would be proud of me," and to write a "Life of Napoleon" to end all Lives of Napoleon.

Living in great simplicity, he spent one third of the day practising his violin in front of a bust of Napoleon and one third reading up his adipose military hero in the shadow of his music stand. Needing money to buy leisure for these pursuits, and being as luck would have it a tolerable draughtsman, Justin devoted the rest of his time to artistic hackwork — the conscientious reproduction of the pleasing designs to be found on a five, thousand franc note. In no way intended to enrich him, but merely to permit his studies, this modest enterprise began when he bought the necessary equipment cheaply in the Paris "flea-market" in 1941. Each note took him twelve hours to make.

✧ ✧ ✧

ARRESTED finally by the police for passing forged currency, Justin readily told his story. Confronted with one of his notes he said: "But of course it is not genuine," as if he had been asked if the Mona Lisa hung in the spare bedroom was in fact the original. Brought before their judges, Justin and Yvonne won all hearts with their integrity of purpose and the charmingly-told tale of their idyll. The police highhandedly appropriated their forging kit, but the court President gave them remitted prison sentences and set them free.

✧ ✧ ✧

THERE WILL BE even more interest, however, in the verdict to be passed next week on the case heard March 3rd in Court No. 17. M. Bontemps De Launay is the director of a business publication called "Courrier Des Sarl". In 1952 tax inspectors called at his offices to examine his accounts. He politely showed them the door. They came again. He threw them out. He was then ordered to make a tax return. I replied that his paper was non-profit-making and not subject to taxation. The authorities replied that this was incorrect as the paper published advertisements, and fined him handsomely.

✧ ✧ ✧

M. BONNTEMPTS de Launay consulted the written law and counter-attacked. On Wednesday six sheepish tax-inspectors stood in the dock while prosecuting counsel, though not doubting their honesty, made out a fine technical case against them for extortion. For this the law prescribes a penalty of from two to ten years' imprisonment. Meanwhile, there is much joyous speculation in the community; for if a precedent is set whereby the citizen can put fiscal agents behind bars if he does not fancy their assessment of his tax obligations, it is felt that a new Golden Age may be at hand.

Even M. Edgar Faure, the French Finance Minister, must feel some sympathy for the individual faced with the complexity of tax declarations. Asked why he agreed recently to a postponement of the final date for tax returns, he threw up his hands: "What could I do?" he asked. "I still have not managed to fill in my own declaration form."

But then, there can be little aptitude for arithmetic in a city whose most intellectual daily newspaper publishes news that "The lively quinquagenarian Fernand Leger yesterday celebrated his seventy-third birthday."

NEVERTHELESS, French scientific genius may yet solve the difficulties of taxpayers and melody-making forgers alike. The main attraction at the annual "Arts Menagers" (good house-keeping) exhibition in Pairs this year has been a precocious young lady with a heart of steel, an electronic brain, and a nice line in coy backchat. Her inventor claims that in ten years he will produce another robot which will fill in income tax forms. He may well be right, for there are no flies on Miss 1954. A colleague took off his hat to this electric-cellular Eve and asked her if she was free that evening. The reply was a faint whirr, three metallic clicks, and: "Monsieur, I am not what you think I am."

Crowds are also being drawn to the window of a well-known store here where a radio-controlled trio in duralumin dinner-jackets vamp out popular tunes on guitar, saxophone and drums. None of this musically-minded machine, however, has yet written a Life of Napoleon. This will no doubt come; but it is heartening to know that while robots are catching up with humans, homo sapiens is carving a niche for himself in the world of the future by rivalling robots.

M. Eddy Laurent of Dunkirk set out last Saturday to beat the world endurance record for non-stop accordion-playing. Faced with the performance of a Belgian who squeezed solidly for 113 hours, Eddy is still at it as I write. Truly, there is every hope that Man will always have an established place in society—possibly filling up tax declaration forms for mechanical Ministers of Finance.

Letters To The Editor

SPOT ON THE PRAIRIES

Sir: In the interesting letter signed Enid in Tuesday's paper she mentions "A lot of chicken houses or shacks squatting on the prairies." Does she not know that there are some splendid specimens of architecture on those prairies. They are not squat—they tower upwards to splendid heights and although they are not quite equal to cathedrals yet they put to shame some of the more modern buildings that are springing up everywhere. Look at the photo of a model of a proposed art gallery for Ottawa on page 18 of the "Examiner" of February 18. Will Enid not admit that this is a monstrosity compared to the breath-taking beauty of those buildings to be seen on the prairies. I mean of course the grain elevators.

TAKE A PENSIVE LOOK

Sir: In the recent Weekend Picture Magazine of the Peterborough Examiner, it states in an article on the flag issue that "there appeared to be a bridgeless gap between those who would accept no flag without the Union Jack and those who would accept no flag that included it." This second group could be further identified by saying that it consists, in great part, of French Canadians.

Before we go overboard in making concessions to this second group, it might be both wise and enlightening to look briefly at the part played by many of its adherents in World War II.

In April, 1942, the government held a plebiscite on the question of conscription. In eight provinces the vote was a resounding 70-83 per cent. "Yes", and in Quebec, 72 per cent. "No". Two French seats in Ontario also went decidedly "No". The only places in Quebec which registered a majority "Yes" were in English speaking parts of Montreal.

Quebec subscribed $51,298,750 of the first War Loan Ontario gave $136,114,850. In the second loan Quebec gave $63,614,800, Ontario $169,397,550. These are individual subscriptions from general canvass. At March 1942, War Savings Certificate sales showed Quebec $24,929,325, and Ontario $44,404,285. Only after January 1st, 1944 did the government call married men in Quebec City, and up to May 23rd only 106 had been conscripted (not for overseas service.) At that time 5,367 married men had been called in Toronto, and more than 8,100 in the three Ontario military districts. On July 31st, 1944, Labour Minister Mitchell admitted that 11,272 married men were called from 12 of the 13 military districts before one was called from M-D. 5, Quebec City.

The official Government answer as to what proportion of the Quebec enlistments were French was given on June 24, 1942. The reply must have shocked even the Quebec Nationalists.

Of 74,415 enlistments in Quebec since the war began, 36,235 were considered to be French. The 81 per cent. of the population had supplied 48 per cent. of the men, Therefore, the 19 per cent. of the Quebec populace of non-French origin had supplied 52 per cent. of that province's total.

A weak effort to try to locate those who had failed to report for duty was made in June, 1943. Only 110 were wanted as defaulters in two Ontario districts, while Nos. 4 and 5 in Quebec required 4,075, but only 277 were located. Another strange angle was the percentage of men found unfit in Quebec. Up to Feb. 29th, 1944, Ontario showed 312,106 fit and 182,872 unfit. Quebec, however, had more unfit than fit—209,806 unfit as against 144,025 found to be fit. Quebec also headed the list with prosecutions for defaulters, 2,443. All the rest of Canada put together had 1,771.

I reproduce for your inspection the Official Government figures, as published in "Canada at War", giving the estimated intake into the armed forces to March 31st, 1945.

* Place of permanent residence at time of enlistment.

x Male population, ages 18 to 45.

xx Total three services.

xxx Percentages total intake to male population, ages 18 to 45.

			xxx
*P. E. I.	19,000x	9,148xx	48.1%
Nova Scotia	123,000	58,559	47.6
New Brunswick	94,000	44,018	46.8
Quebec	699,000	171,007	24.5
Ontario	830,000	390,007	47.0
Manitoba	159,000	74,589	46.9
Saskatchewan	191,000	79,222	41.5
Alberta	178,000	76,561	43.0
British Columbia	181,000	88,992	49.2
	2,474,000	992,103	40.1

These figures show that the average for eight provinces was 46.2 per cent. of available manpower. Quebec gave 24.5. If Quebec had given 46.2 per cent. eligible males they would have suplied 322,938 in uniform instead of 171,007. They were 151,931 short.

If further proof of who did the fighting is needed, the following figures from an official Ottawa Casualty Release (CP Mar. 19, 1945) will suffice.

By provinces the casualties were: P. E. I., 408; Nova Scotia, 2,628; New Brunswick, 2,029; Quebec, 5,177; Ontario, 15,170; Manitoba, 4,090; Sask., 3,432; Alberta 3,307; B.C., 3,684.

The three Maritime provinces with a population of about one-third that of Quebec, had as many casualties as Quebec.

Manitoba, with a population of 729,744, had 4,090 casualties. Quebec, with a population of 3,331,882, had 5,177.

Alberta, Saskatchewan and British Columbia's combined population is approximately four-fifths that of Quebec's, but their combined losses were 10,423, or over twice as many.

Paul Bouchard (not to be confused with Senator T. D. Bouchard) said in the Quebec East by-election: "After the war the Province of Quebec will take control of Canada if we can rally to our cause all Canadians of non-Britannic origin." He then pictured a "Republic of Canada" at a future date.

We would do well to take a pensive look at the aformentioned facts, which graphically portray the phlegmatic war effort of French-Canada (Group No. 2) now so vociferous in the present flag deadlock. It is this same group that further wishes to move our country toward the goal of (Paul Bouchards by substituting for our National Anthem, "God Save the Queen" the superfluous words and boastful theme of the French-Canadien song "O Canada," known in Quebec province as "Le Chante Nationale." They wish to sing, "O Canada, we stand on guard for thee," yet from past indications, it is apparent that all they will stand on guard for in a crisis is the hills and backwoods of Quebec, where droves of them are hiding to avoid conscription.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Seek ye the Lord while he may be found, call ye upon him while he is near: let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts: and let him return unto the Lord, and he will have mercy upon him and to our God, for he will abundantly pardon. For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my way, saith the Lord. (Isa. 55: 6-8).

Let no man deceive himself. If any man among you seemeth to be wise in this world, let him become a fool, that he may be wise. For the wisdom of this world is foolishness with God. For it is written, He taketh the wise [illegible] And again The Lord knoweth the thoughts of the wise, that they are vain. (I Cor. 3: 18-20).

No. 100 Comes to Light

(St. Thomas Times-Journal)

Prior to the Atomic Age there were 92 known chemical elements. That is there were 92 known substances which defied being broken down into more fundamental constituents. Scientists did admit that there were more than 92 elements, but they had been unable to isolate them and study their properties.

The list now has reached 100 with the production and identification of No. 100 in an atomic reactor in the United States. The newcomer is yet unamed, but it is distinctive because it is the heaviest element known. It weighs 254 times as much as the hydrogen atom.

Scientists have predicted that nuclear research would extend the list of elements far beyond the 92 that were isolated up to 1945. So far eight have been identified, and no once can tell how many others await discovery.

It is a long way from the day when the four basic elements of creation were thought to be earth, air, fire and water. But at least then it was believed there were no hidden surprises. Today we must be prepared for anything.

Name Hugh Hunt Adjudicator Drama Festival

Hugh Hunt, director for the past five years of the Old Vic Theatre in London, England, will adjudicate the Dominion drama festival finals at Hamilton, May 10 to 15, it is announced by Richard MacDonald, festival director.

Mr. Hunt is the younger brother of Col. Sir John Hunt of Everest fame. Mr. Hunt was educated at Marlborough college; went to the Sorbonne and Heidelburg and later to Magdalen college, Oxford.

Mr. Hunt's first experience was at the Maddermarket Theatre, Norwich. He was called as a producer at the Croyden Repertory and while there he produced King Lear in 1934. In 1935 he was appointed producer at Dublin's famed Abbey Theatre, remaining there until 1938 when he went to New York. His New York productions included The White Steed.

From 1940 to 1945 Mr. Hunt served with the King's Royal Rifle Corps and toward the end of the war he worked with the Resistance Movement in France and Germany. After the war he became producer and director of the Old Vic's new venture at the Theatre Royal, Bristol, where he established a high standard for an out-of-London repertory theatre.

In 1949 Mr. Hunt was appointed director of the Old Vic, London, where he remained until 1953. Among his outstanding productions during this period were Love's Labor Lost; Hamlet (played in the courtyard at Elsinore, Denmark, as well as at the Old Vic) and Romeo and Juliet.

The adjudication at the final festival this year will be a two-day seminar which Mr. Hunt will conduct on the Monday and Tuesday following the festival for the directors of plays taking part in the final competition.

Supply Canned Goods To Fire Victims

DARTFORD (ENS) — The WMS of the Dartford United church met on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Teade De Jong with 14 members present. Mrs. A. Ward led the devotions. Mrs. A. McCracken announced that the allocation for this year is $140.00.

Mrs. Simpson offered her home for the April meetings. Mrs. Cecil Yokum announced the following programme:

Solo, Mrs. Hayden Atkinson; readings by Mrs. Earl Nelson, Mrs. A. McCracken and Mrs. John Coggins; piano solo, Mrs. Stuart Atkinson.

The ladies brought canned goods good for Mr. and Mrs. John De Jong who lost their home and contents in a recent fire.

The hostess was assisted by a committee in serving lunch.

OPP Will Use Radar

TORONTO (CP)—Provincial police cars in southern Ontario will be using radar highway speed control equipment May 1, commissioner E. V. McNeill said Monday. The equipment will record a passing car's speed on both dial and graph, providing police with a permanent record. The OPP units will be clearly visible being mounted on either a tripod or on the bumper of the cruiser.

Eggs In Face

TORONTO (CP) — Mrs. Doris Lauronde, 22, said in court Monday she threw a bowl of scrambled eggs in the face of Melvyn Norris, 25, and that he struck her several times after intervening in an argument between Mrs. Lauronde and another woman. "After she threw the eggs in my face, I couldn't see her, much less hit her," Norris objected. Magistrate S. Tupper Bigelow dismissed the charge.

RCAF-U.S. Air Forces To Test Defences

OTTAWA (CP) — RCAF and United States air force personnel at Goose Bay, Labrador, will test their ground defence strength in an exercise this week, air force headquarters said Monday.

The exercise will be under command of the RCAF station commander, Group Capt. Frank W. Ball of Brandon, Man., and St. Thomas, Ont.

Will Extend Controls On Exports

OTTAWA (CP)—A government measure extending controls on the export of strategic materials for three years was introduced Monday in the Commons.

It supersedes—and in some respects modifies—legislation due to expire next July 31. It would run to June 31, 1957.

The measure provides controls over both exports and imports of strategic and other goods.

The original legislation was aimed primarily at controlling the sale abroad of goods scarce in Canada.

EMPHASIS SHIFTS

Acting prime minister Howe, introducing the bill, said the emphasis now has shifted to restricting the export of strategic materials, particularly to Soviet - controlled countries.

A key section would empower the government to set up "export control lists" of munitions or any articles capable of being converted to war use. These would "not be made available to any destination detrimental to the security of Canada."

Commission Plans Cigarette Sale Study

OTTAWA (CP)—A study of cut-rate cigarette sales by chain stores will likely be made within the next few months by the restrictive trade practices commission, it was learned Monday.

The commission recently received a report from the federal government combines commissioner on the subject of "loss leaders"—the practice of selling an item below cost to attract business. It will consider the matter at a forthcoming meeting, reporting its findings to Justice Minister Garson.

In Montreal this weekend, Premier Duplessis of Quebec told members of the Retail Tobacco Dealers Association he plans to take action on price-cutting of cigarets by chain stores.

Joke With Pearson About 'Progressive'

WASHINGTON (CP) — A questioner confronted L. B. Pearson with mock solemnity at a National Press Club meeting Monday and demanded:

"Are you or are you not a card-carrying member of the Progressive Conservative party or any other progressive party?"

Canada's external affairs minister grinned at the obvious reference to the detention of two Toronto members of the Young Progressive Conservative Association by U.S. immigration officials, who took them for young Labor-Progressives.

Pearson told his questioner he's all in favor of the word progressive—provided it's spelled with a small p.

Street Car Cottage

TORONTO (CP) — Street-cars make ideal summer cottages, says a Toronto firm. The Toronto transit commission Monday sold 152 trams to Western Iron and Metal Company. The company plans to scrap them but offers to sell some, too, and says that "by spending $200, a street-car can be converted into a three-room cottage."

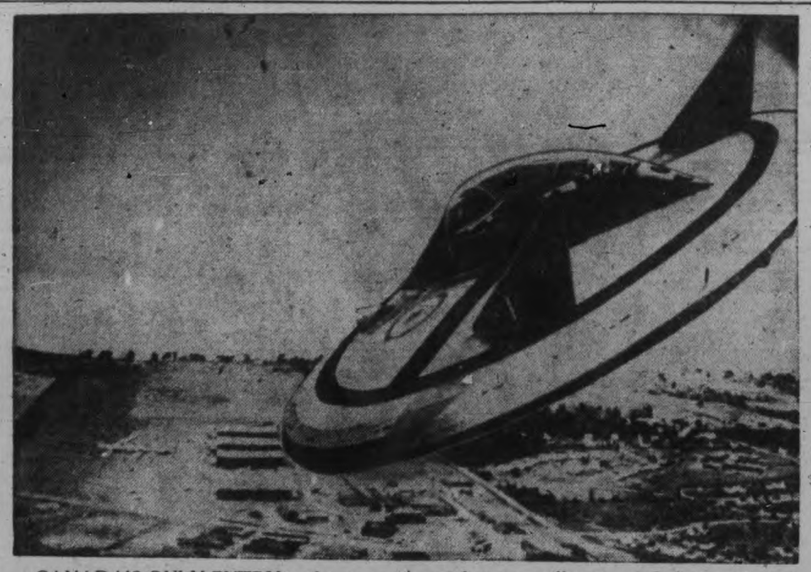
Amputee Dies

TORONTO (CP)—Curley Christian, Canada's only quadruple amputee, died Monday of a heart ailment after a long illness. He was 69. Mr. Christian suffered the injuries which resulted in amputation of both arms at the elbows and both legs at the knees in 1917 at Vimy Ridge, while he was serving with the Canadian army in the First World War. Survivors include his widow and a son, Douglas Christian of Toronto.

TOWNSHIP OF NORTH MONAGHAN

Notice of Nomination Meeting

PUBLIC NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN



1. That I have been served with a Warrant by Reeve W. G. Waterman, to call a Nomination Meeting for the purpose of Nominating and Electing one Councillor to fill the vacancy caused by the Resignation of Roy A. Locke, a member of the Council who has resigned. The Nomination Meeting will be held in the County Council Chamber, in the Court House, in the City of Peterborough at the hour of 7.30 o'clock in the evening on Monday, March 22, 1954. If more than the required number of Candidates are nominated to fill the vacancy in the Council the polling for the Office of Councillor will take place on Monday, March 29, 1954 between the hours of ten in the forenoon and six in the afternoon.

2. Voting will be held at Polling Sub-division Number One (consisting of those parts of Concession Twelve and Thirteen now in the Township of North Monaghan) at [illegible]ley's School in the Township of North Monaghan.

3. Voting will be held at Polling Sub-division Number Two (consisting of Concessions Seven, Eight, Nine and Ten in the Township of North Monaghan and those parts of Concession Eleven now in the Township of North Monaghan), at the Town Hall School in the Township of North Monaghan.

DATED this 15th day of March, 1954.

BRUCE JOHNSTON,
Returning Officer and Clerk
Of the Township of North Monaghan.

CANADA'S ONLY ENTRY in the supersonic air race will be scratched or run under the colors of a foreign flag. The entry—a top secret plane that will allegedly outfly anything in the skies—is presently stabled at the A. V. Roe plant in Toronto awaiting money for a test flight. About three million dollars have gone into the plane so far and another two million is needed to get it up in the air. As the money has not been made available to date and the prospects of it being made available by Canada's defence department, the A. V. Roe people are willing to sell it to get back their original investment. The photo above gives an artist's idea of what may be the world's fastest plane looks like.

Party Leaders Pay Tribute To MacOdrum

TORONTO (CP)—Party leaders in the Ontario legislature Monday joined in tribute to [illegible] Odrum, Progressive Conservative [illegible] who died suddenly Monday.

Premier Frost said Mr. MacOdrum was a "distinguished Canadian to whom we owe a deep debt of gratitude."

"His first concern was for his country, then his province and his constituents. . . His passing invokes great regret. . . from those who were touched by his engaging personality and his deep understanding."

Mr. Frost said as a mark of respect, the house will not sit Wednesday afternoon.

SUFFER LOSS

Opposition leader Farquhar Oliver said the government suffered a "great loss."

"It is significant that more and more confidence was placed by the government on Mr. MacOdrum. . . He was a good debater and a man of the people."

W. J. Grummett, CCF house leader, said Mr. MacOdrum was an able member and debater who "discharged his duty faithfully."

J. B. Salsberg, Communist Labor-Progressive member, said Mr. MacOdrum faithfully served the interests of labor in his community.

Tough Welsh Miner Refuses To Yield To Mountain

BLAINA, Wales (AP)—A tough Welsh miner clung Monday night to the cottage that has been his home for 78 years and vowed he would not yield in the face of a moving mountain.

"I'm not going out of this house as long as I live," said William Pugh as he figuratively shook his fist at the mountain menacing his small home.

Eleven other families have vacated their homesteads on the side of the mountain of this Monmouthshire mining town. Only Pugh and his niece, Mrs. Morgan Jenkins, and her husband now remain—adamant and alone against the elements and the pleading of local authorities.

Heavy rains of the last two months are considered the major cause for the ominous movement of tons of wet earth and slime down the mountainside.

Other householders stood firm as long as they could. But finally they removed their furniture and left the mountainside to nature—and to Pugh.

Damaged Church

TORONTO (CP)—Dragon Savurdich of Buffalo has been ordered to pay $1,500 for damage done to a church 30 miles north of here when his car smashed into it. Trinity Anglican church at the community of Bond Head launched the suit. Police said Savurdich must have been driving "well over 50 miles an hour" to do the damage to the church wall after he swerved to avoid another car.

Diefenbaker Denies Any Criticism

OTTAWA (CP) — John Diefenbaker said Monday that recent remarks of his do not imply criticism of W. J. B. Kelly who defended 2nd Lieut. Peter Balcombe at his recent murder trial in Cornwall.

Mr. Diefenbaker (PC—Prince Albert) said in the Commons that he referred last week to the question of a change of venue for the Balcombe trial. He was commenting on the distribution of three magazines containing articles concerning the slaying of Marie Anne Carrier.

NO IMPLIED CRITICISM

"It now has been brought to my attention by Mr. Kelly, who was counsel for the accused, that there are some who might interpret my words as criticism of him for his failure to ask for a change of venue," Mr. Diefenbaker said. "There was no criticism implied or expressed."

Mr. Diefenbaker said he realized it would have been impossible to have succeeded in getting any better trial. The widespread distribution of the magazines would have had an equally harmful effect anywhere in Ontario.

Balcombe was sentenced to be hanged for the murder of the girl.

Vital Thule Air Base Defences To Be Tested

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (AP) — The first test of defences against capture of the huge and strategically vital Thule air base in Greenland and other U.S. Arctic installations which Russia might seek to seize in a war is under way.

A defence department announced Monday that a joint air force-army "exercise chill wind," involving use of 850 paratroopers and a score of the giant C-124 troop-carrying planes will be conducted "this month" at Thule, on the northwest corner of Greenland.

Actually, it is understood, the operation already has started and will include in addition to defensive tests for Thule, several other arctic bases.

EXTREME CONDITIONS

The Thule test, only 900 miles from the north pole, is the most northern locale for any American airborne manoeuvre ever held.

The department said:

"The exercise will provide training under extreme Arctic conditions. The airborne force will simulate attacks on several installations to give air base personnel practice in defence tactics.

"Part of the task force will attack an "aggressor force" that will be presumed to have established a Thule air base defence area.

"Personnel assigned to Thule air base will assume the role of the 'aggressor force' and practise defensive tactics against the airborne infantrymen."

Petes Beat The Pontiacs By 8-6 In Overtime To Go Into Group Finals

By CEC. PERDUE

Scoring twice in overtime at Civic Arena last night, the TPT Petes rubbed out Orillia Pontiacs by an 8-6 score to capture their OHA senior "B" group semi-final series by four games to three. Hundreds of fans of a crowd of about 2,300 swarmed on the ice immediately afterward to join the Ponties in congraulating the victors after a sizzling battle. The Petes open their best-of-seven group finals against Oshawa in Kingston on Wednesday.

Before the game started, the big crowd stood for two minutes in silent tribute to one of the starry Orillia players, left-winger Murray Richardson, who was killed in an accident while at work earlier in the day.

RUGGED STUFF

The scrappy Pontiacs lost the deciding game through the rugged tactics which marked their play through the season and during the hectic semi-final playoffs. They were given 10 of the 12 penalties in this game, and the opportunist Petes cashed in to score six of their eight goals while Orillia were shorthanded. They got three quickies in a row in the initial period with two Ponties sitting out sentences.

Despite these penalties, the Pontiacs turned in a very gallant effort to fight an uphill battle, spotting the Petes a 4-0 lead at one time and eventually taking a lead over them before the third period with the score 6-6. Denny Peterson scored the winner early in overtime and a second before the last gong Chum Fryia got one more with the Orillia goaltender removed from the net for an extra forward.

It was a hard-checking, speedy and highly exciting playoff all the way and kept the arena in a continual uproar. The refereeing was good, as it has been generally throughout this series.

FAVERO BACK

Minus Richardson, the Ponties used a young forward, Clare Vasey, and Bruno Favero was back, wearing a mask over his cut face, having been injured in the fifth fray of the set on local ice. Roy Armstrong was away for the Petes, Kevin Heffernan(a junior) being dressed, but not seeing any action. Between periods, members of the ornamental swimming club took up a collection from the fans for aid in getting to the British Empire Games next summer.

Chum Fryia led the Petes' attack with two goals and two assists. Denny Peterson was not too, to click for a marker and two assists. Gus Leonard and Bill McMaster each scored once and aided on another, while playing coach Eddie Redmond earned two assists. Denny Peterson and Keith Montgomery got a goal each, and Bill Crowley and Rod Belisle each had one assist. Both goalies kicked out plenty of rubber in the steaming match, and the rival defences bumped hard in every period.

LED THE PONTIES

Sparking the desperate Orillia attack was Clary Payne with two goals and one assist. Bruno Favero cuffed in one tally and helped on another, as Ron Nelson aided on a pair. Earl McCrone and Danny MacDonald got a goal each, while an assist apiece went to Ab Bowen, playing coach Vic Grigg and Rusty Aitkin. Both sides were plenty tired before the 10-minute overtime frame finished.

Slightly more than half a minute had gone by in the first chukker when Pearsall drew a hooking penalty. Less than a minute later, Favero followed for tripping, and the Petes struck savagely for three quick goals. Leonard got the first from Greenlaw and Redmond on standing passes in in-close ganging. Fryia smashed in the next in a scramble from Greelaw and McMaster. Fryia rapped in the third, right after on a fast pass inside from Leonard. The sides were even briefly when Robertson went over for charging Crowley, and Greenlaw cashed in on it to score from Fryia on a fine pass and smart finish after a quick rush up.

GOT THEIR FIRST

Robertson returned and the Petes pressed again, the Leonard line being especially pesky. Then Payne put Orillia on the scoresheet with a drive from a corner faceoff in the Petes' area. McMaster was gated for interference and Hill followed for tripping, the team being shy two for three-quarters of a minute. Leonard nearly got one on a breakaway and Redmond pulled a sliding save on McCrone in their absence. One was back when Wood steered in Nelson's shot at close quarters to make it 4-2. Wood was waved over later for roughing.

All were back in the middle heat and Hill, Crowley and Collins threatened to tally. McCrone was thefted and later Greenlaw as play shifted fast up and down to keep the rival goalies on the jump. Grigg's interference penalty cost them another, McMaster's whistling screen shot on Crowley's pass fooling Shropshire. Grigg returned and players of both teams were falling like 10-pins in hot action. Pearsall got the nod next for tripping and the Orillia trainer was chased to the dressing-room for unpleasant remarks directed at the refs. Pearsall returned and MacDonald scored from Bowen on an angle shot, being helped partly by a Petes' forward who slid into his own goalie. Payne got another nicely from Favero and Grigg as a Petes' player set them up with a blind pass back in his own end of the rink. Payne was gated for high-sticking before the period wound up.

TIED THE GAME

The sides were even in the third when Favero sewed up the tilt at 5-5 on a corner passout and slap in close, the play being started by Aitkin and Payne. A Peterson-Belisle thrust just missed and Petes pressed but Orillia went ahead shortly, McCrone counting after a corner faceoff near the Petes' net, Nelson slipping him the pass for the angle shot. It was redhot and even for minutes after that, Belisle pulling one fine rush. Payne was chased once more for elbowing and Grigg came close on a breakaway. All were back and Orillia was checking hard when Montgomery got the equalizer from Fryia as they poked away at the sprawling goalie on his doorstep as frames piled up all over the place. Nelson and Robertson both tested Donlevy hard before the bell.

At 1:56 of the third period, Peterson's quick thrust from in front of the goal beat Shropshire on combination out of the corner from Redmond Belisle. That sent the fans into hysterics and the players danced happily about. Both sides began changing lines often as the hot pace told. Payne drew an elbowing penalty but the O's checked closely till his return. Belisle had a neat rush again before Favero went off for slashing at 9:19. Pontiacs pulled their goalie out to put an extra forward on, and the Petes rolled down the ice, Fryia stickhandling into position with Greenlaw's pass to beat an Orillia defenceman trying to guard the twine. This came in the final second of play to make it 8-6.

PETES ADVANCE INTO FINAL—Eddie Redmond's Petes advanced into the Group I senior "B" finals against Oshawa Truckmen Monday night with an 8-6 overtime victory over Orillia Pontiacs. After the Petes had taken a 4-0 lead early in the first period, the Pontiacs kept Petes' goalie, John Donlevy, busy to tie the score six-all in regulation time. Bill Crowley and Jim Munro (top photo) clear the puck as Donlevy eyes the disc. Later, Ronnie Nelson (lower photo) tested Donlevy but the Petes' netminder shovelled Nelson's shot away. —(Examiner Staff Photos).

ON THE ROAD TO RECOVERY—Ted Williams star outfielder of the Boston Red Sox, is all smiles at a Cambridge, Mass., hospital, where he underwent surgery to correct a fracture to his left collarbone. Williams will be able to rejoin his team around May first.

Ted Williams Leaves Hospital

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Ted Williams, Boston Red Sox slugger, is due to leave hospital today—exactly one week after undergoing an operation on his fractured left collar bone.

The $100,000-a-year baseball star was hurt in a fall March 1 at the team's Sarasota, Fl., training camp. He fell while trying to field a liner only 10 minutes after starting his first practice session.

The operation, performed by Williams' fishing pal, Dr. Russell Sullivan, was designed to hasten healing. The broken bone was wired after a steel pin was inserted into the broken ends.

Physicians plan to remove the operation stitches Thursday and Williams hopes to head for his Miami home soon afterward. There is no final word as yet on when he will be able to play.

Marmora Gets Third One

MARMORA (ENS) — Playing under protest because of Havelock using Floyd of Peterborough, Marmora were fortunate in winning the third game in the northern section T.V.L. finals on the Marmora rink on Monday evening by 4-3.

Players of both teams through over-zealous play failed to add to the score when favorable opportunities were presented and yet stellar play by both goalies was also a faction in the score being kept down.

Marmora led at the end of the first by 3 to 0. In the next period they got their final goal but Havelock's efforts were rewarded with two counters. In the third, Havelock got another goal.

The goalie was pulled and with the Havelock goal left open, Marmora had a couple of rushes but poor aim resulted in the score remaining 4-3 in their favor as the final whistle was blown.

The game throughout was spirited and with paid admission numbering about 800 the cheers of each team's supporters was at times deafening. Where the fourth game will be played and when was not announced but some anticipate that the venue will be Peterborough and Friday the probable night.

Marmora: goal, Killian; defence, Gray and Leonard; centre, Maynes; wings, K. Trumble and Lavender; alts.: Jones, Mantle, T. Brooks, E. Trumble, Brown, Paranuik, Darrah, Loveless, Smith.

Havelock: Nicholls; defence, Hannah and Wootton; centre, Kane; wings, Doris and Floyd; alts.: F. Mortimer Vitarelli, S. Brooks, Mason, Ruttan, Laing, Kelly.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Scribe George Campbell comments on Truckmen taking their series over Kingston: "Oshawa polished off Goodyears 9-5 on Friday night at Belleville before 1,800 fans to wind up their semi-final playoffs. Orillia plays its seventh game Monday in Peterborough. The Truckers didn't fool around Friday. They led Goodyears 3-1 in games last year and then collapsed to see Kingston take the next three games and win the series. From there, Goodyears went on to capture the OHA senior 'B' championship. Now Oshawa Truckmn are in the group finals again and they hope to take over Kingston's title and crown now that they've knocked Goodyears off their throne." First of the group finals will be Wednesday night on Kingston ice.

* * * * * *

A sadder story wafted out of Kingston to start the week, as Scribe Mike Rodden bravely remarks: "Kingston's failure to stop the Oshawa steamroller is a matter of regret but not a civic disaster. Those Truckmen, who were ousted by Goodyears last season, after the former had erected a 3-1 lead in group finals, are a potent and colorful OHA senior 'B' aggregation, and rate favoritism to prevail in the group finals against either Peterborough or Orillia. The deposed champions wish them well in their quest of top laurels. After losing the first game 5-0 the resourceful, younger and faster Oshawans struck back with dynamic effect to take four in a row."

* * * * * *

What Might Have Been

Don Miguel had this to add re his Goodyears, who ignored his copious statistics in falling from grace: "It is felt that injuries which put Wilson Reid and Don Bellringer out of action and that assailed Joe Watts prevented Goodyears from going all the way, or at least reduced their effectiveness. The additions of Ross Atkins and Tom Tindal, two Gananoque stars, might also have produced dividends. The report has been heard that there will be drastic changes in the squad next season. This city, strongest supporter of senior 'B' hockey in the province, is entitled to the best that can be provided." Ah, yet, but the rinkless Truckmen had little respect for the champs and rubbed 'em out in just five games.

* * * * * *

For a time there in the third period last p.m., we thought we'd be asking George Carver and Mike Rodden to move down a step along the Wailing Wall to make room for us. But the Petes had the extra punch in overtime to [illegible] a great game, and truly a sound thumping by the Orillia Pontiacs. They went down fighting furiously to the finish, after coming into the game feeling very low over the death earlier in the day of teammate Murray Richardson. He was fatally injured when hit by a car at work, we understand. Pontiacs spotted our bunch a 4-0 lead and yet were in front 6-5 near the close of regulation time. A terrific tilt before slightly more than 2,300 fans. Petes open group finals in Kingston on Wednesday and we're told the second tilt will be at Civic on Saturday night.

* * * * * *

O's Paid For Their Sins

Ability to cash in when Orillia were shorthanded gave Petes their close win, as they notched no less than six goals owing to Orillia penalties. That rugged system employed regularly by the big Pontiacs cost them this deciding game. Chum Fryia (three goals and two assists), Toodie Greenlaw (in on four), Gus Leonard, Eddie Redmond, and other hustling forwards toiled like troopers before a strong defence and goalie, and they had to give it all they had to stave off elimination. Clary Payne's fine work for Pontiacs was offset by several penalties he drew. It was a fitting climax from a local viewpoint to as hot a group playoff series as we've seen in years. Petes may find Oshawa smoother but certainly not as rugged opponents in the big set coming up.

Some 800 customers took in the amateur mitt show at the Brock, and saw one solid knockout. Bill Twomey of the local Alpha Club tucked Tap Nasturzio of Toronto to sleep in the fourth round, and he was really out cold. Final saw Emmett Crough of Alpha win on points over Toronto's Ray Bloom in a so-so scrap. Heavyweight Bill Cridland outboxed Pete Anderson handily in their setto, and Pete Howe (another fighter) took a split decision o'er Lorne Gibson of Toronto. Pete Keough, Alex Caravaggio, Don Burgomaster and Clare Crowley won the prelim bouts, making it a good all-round showing for the Alpha mitt-slingers. Other boxing cards will be lined up through the spring here.

Cullen Winner Of Trophy

TORONTO (CP)—Brian Cullen, captain of St. Catharines TeePees and the centre who won the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A scoring championship, has been selected as the 10th winner of the Albert (Red) Tilson Memorial Trophy.

The trophy is presented annually to the league player regarded as the most valuable and most gentlemanly. Dennis Riggin, Hamilton Cubs goalie, was second in the voting.

Cullen, selected by a panel of nine sports writers, scored 68 goals this season—a league record. His 93 assists gave him 161 points for the scoring title.

Cullen, a 175-pound native of Ottawa, has improved in each of his three years at St. Catharines. In 1951-52, his first season, he scored 30 goals and assisted on another 31. Last year he notched 41 goals and collected 33 assists.

Cullen is a perfectionist. He is a stickler for physical fitness. He usually practises longer than the other players and is a great team player. He hasn't missed a game in his three seasons with the TeePees.

Nat. Hockey League Race For Playoff Berth Entering Its Final Week

MONTREAL (CP)—Four brass rings are still in the slot, all redeemable in cold cash, as the National Hockey League campaign spins along on its final week.

Waiting to be grabbed are these prizes: second-place finish, goal-tending honors, fourth-place finish and the runner-up position for the individual scoring title.

Detroit Red Wings are already safe in first place and assured of something like $1,000 per player for getting there. The red-hot battle between Montreal Canadiens and Toronto Maple Leafs is a matter of roughly $500 or $350 to each player, depending on whether his club finishes second or third.

With a one-point margin in their favor, Canadiens move into Toronto Wednesday for what should be a classic.

Neither team can afford to coast from there on. Canadiens must face Detroit Red Wings in Montreal Saturday and meet New York Rangers in New York Sunday. The Leafs entertain the Rangers Saturday and play in Detroit Sunday.

MEET IN DETROIT

The battle for goal-tending honors, $1,000 to the winner and not a cent to the next best, may not be decided until Sunday when Harry Lumley of the Leafs and Terry Sawchuk of the Red Wings face each other in Detroit.

Lumley overcame a five-goal deficit last week, finally moving into a tie with Sawchuk Saturday. Then the Detroit goalie took a one-goal edge Sunday when the Bruins beat Toronto 3-0 and Rangers blanked Detroit 2-0.

Boston Bruins last week all but wrapped up fourth place with their three victories. New York Rangers face an almost hopeless situation. [illegible] the Bruins have four remaining and need only two points, one win or two ties, to nail nown the last playoff spot for the Stanley Cup series.

HAS BIG LEAD

If Gordie Howe and all the goalies in the league were suddenly kidnapped, there would be a chance for someone else to take the point-scoring title. The Detroit rightwinger has compiled 31 goals and 44 assists for 75 points and all but has the $1,000 award in his poiket.

The runner-up spot, worth $500, isn't yet secure for Maurice (Rocket) Richard of Montreal. Canadiens' famous Rocket, top goal-getter with 36, has 27 assists for a point total of 63 but Detroit's Ted Lindsay has been busy whittling into the Rocket's second-place lead and now has it down to five points.

There was only one positional change among the leading 10 scorers last week. Bernie Geoffrion of Montreal amassed five points, on two goals and three assists, to take over fourth place from Detroit's Red Kelly. Geoffrion now has 52 points to Kelly's 50.

Stratford Makes Finals; Defeats Kitchener

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Stratford Indians, who couldn't get into the Ontario Hockey Association Senior A final after finishing second last year, have done it this year with a fifth-place club.

The Indians pulled their first upset by eliminating Windsor Bulldogs from their best-of-five quarter-final 3-1. A bigger surprise, however, was their play against Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen, last year's Allan Cup champions, in the semi-finals. Stratford defeated Kitchener 4-2 in Stratford Monday night to win the best-of-five set 3-1. Kitchener, who finished second, [illegible] series.

The Indians, who now have won six playoff games this year with only two defeats, advance against Owen Sound Mercurys, who finished the schedule in first place. The Mercurys have played only one round of playoffs, eliminating the sixth-place Chatham Maroons 4-2 in the best-of-seven semi-finals.

The stage now set recalls the 1951-52 series when Stratford and Owen Sound met in the final. Stratford won that series, shading the Mercurys 4-3 in games.

Owen Sound has been in the final for the last three years. They were beaten in the last two. The winner of the coming best-of-seven series will advance to the all-Ontario senior final against the winner of the Northern Ontario Hockey Association.

HOUNDS TAKE LEAD

Sault Ste. Marie (Ont.) Greyhounds took a stranglehold in the NOHA Senior Southern group final Monday night by defeating Sudbury Wolves 3-1 in Sault Ste. Marie. The Greyhounds, who finished first in the regular schedule, now lead the best-of-five final 2-0. One more victory will send them against the NOHA northern group winner for the NOHA championship.

Centre Johnny Muretich scored the winning goal in the close game at Stratford. Kitchener had taken a 2-1 lead in the first period but Fred Pletsch tied the score in the second. Billy Flick scored the first Stratford goal in the first and Lou Bendon followed Muretich's counter in the third to clinch the victory. George Scholes and Jack McKenzie tallied for Kitchener.

OUTSHOOT INDIANS

Kitchener outshot the Indians 33-25 and Stratford received nine of the 15 minor penalties called. Ron Ingram of the Indians and Kitchener's Jack McKenzie started a brawl in the dying minutes of the game and both received minor penalties. Charlie Brooker of the Dutchmen was tagged with a match-misconduct penalty on the same play.

The Greyhounds have a chance to wrap up their series when they meet the Wolves in Sudbury Wednesday night. But it won't be easy to win in Sudbury.

Two goals in the second period at Sault Ste. Marie last night decided the second game of the series. The markers, fired by Tom Smelle and Terry Biocchi broke a 1-1 first-period deadlock. Biocchi also got one in the opening session. Tatter McLellan scored Sudbury's goal.

Criminal Code Will Outlaw Sale Or Possession Of Regular Spring Knives

OTTAWA (CP) — The Criminal Code will outlaw sale or possession of spring knives unless a person can prove he has a right to sell or own such a weapon.

The Commons Monday wrote this provision into the revision of the Criminal Code now before Parliament. The idea is to prevent juvenile delinquents obtaining possession of them. Maximum penalty is a $500 fine, six months in jail or both.

Harold Winch (CCF—Vancouver East) successfully proposed the ban. He recalled recent reports that "these spring knives or switch knives have been used by irresponsible youths to the ill effect of those who were attacked."

The knives have blades between three and five inches long. The blade is retracted within the knife handle and springs open like a jack knife or shoots forward when the spring holding it in place is released.

Their manufacture is not banned by the new provision, but anyone caught selling of possessing one would have to justify his act before the courts.

Mr. Winch foresaw difficulties in enforcing the law, but believed it would be a deterrent if given proper publicity.

BAN LIFTED

During day-long consideration of the proposed new code, the Commons also:

1. Agreed to lift a 62 year-old ban on campaign contributions to political parties by companies holding government contracts. However, it retained a ban on making such contributions to obtain or hold a contract.

2. Decided that magistrates should be allowed to establish terms for payment of fines by convicted persons without ready cash. Fines generally would be collected when imposed, but the magistrate could make exceptions.

3. Approved by a vote of 52 to 19 a provision that persons giving contradictory evidence intending to mislead the court be liable to a maximum of 14 years in prison.

4. Dropped a proposal under which an unemployed person might have been liable to a vagrancy charge.

The sections concerning financial contributions to campaign funds were proposed by Elmore Philpott (L—Vancouver South) and Dave Fulton (PC — Kamloops). They were accepted by Justice Minister Garson who recalled that present laws on this subject hadn't been interpreted by the courts since 1892.

Mr. Philpott said if present laws on the subject were enforced, one-tenth of the population could be jailed for five years.

CHRISTENING ABOARD ONTARIO—Seventeen children of Canadians now living in Australia were christened in a mass ceremony on board HMCS Ontario when the cruiser called at Melbourne during her Australian cruise. Protestant Chaplain Earle Sigston (extreme right), of Toronto, conducted the baptismal ceremony on the quarterdeck using the ship's bell as a font. The children ranged in age from three months to 11 years. The children are shown here with their parents. —(CP from National Defence).

Shot Farmer After Attempt At Robbery

ROUYN, Que. (CP)—Rolland Dumont, former Rouyn theatre manager charged with murder, said Monday he shot at Albert Belisle on a district sideroad and drove away after Belisle tried to rob him.

He testified at his Quebec Superior Court trial that when he left Belisle was sitting on the edge of a ditch, throwing gravel and cursing.

Dumont is charged in connection with the death of the Val d'Or farmer, who died in hospital Oct. 21, seven days after he was found lying in a ditch on a sideroad. He had suffered four bullet wounds and his death was attributed to them.

Dumont testified that after closing his theatre one night he drove to a nearby hotel and picked up a man.

IDENTIFIED MAN

Dumont said that, on his passenger's instructions, he drove to a sideroad near Granada. The man got out and told him to return in 15 minutes and he would have the "merchandise."

Dumont said that when he got back the man pulled open a door of the car, pointed a gun at him and demanded his money.

He identified the man as Belisle when shown Belisle's picture by his defense counsel.

WRESTLE FOR GUN

Dumont said he grabbed at the gun, and they wrestled for it. Belisle pulled free and ordered Dumont to drive away.

Dumont said he drove a little distance and then went back to [illegible] dropped to the road in the scuffle. He stopped and Belisle reappeared, demanding Dumont's money.

Dumont said Belisle started shooting, and he shot back. Belisle fell to the ground. Dumont kicked Belisle's gun away from him and pocketed it.

Belisle sat on the edge of a ditch, cursing him and throwing gravel, Dumont said.

Mentally Deficient Adults Status Change Asked

OTTAWA (CP) — A prominent Canadian lawyer has urged that mentally-deficient adults should be treated as children in the eyes of the law.

John Diefenbaekr (PC — Prince Albert) made the recommendation Monday in the Commons during discussion of the proposed new Criminal Code.

He said there are many cases where the mental age of an accused is lower than his physical or chronological age. The law regarded such a person as an adult.

Adults with the mentality of children should be treated under the section of the law dealing with the criminal responsibility of persons between 7 and 14.

The present law was written 110 years ago when it was believed that physical and mental age were coincidental.

Capacity U.K. Congregation For Evangelist Graham

Billy Graham, still fit and in good voice, opened the third week of his London crusade Monday night with another capacity congregation of 12,000 packing Harringay Arena.

Hundreds of other worshippers were left out in the cold but Monday night's congregation brought attendance figures so far up to 183,500. There have been 4,015 "decisions for Christ" with Monday night's 338 converts.

Earlier Monday Graham lunched with alderman Cyril Black, Conservative member of Parliament for the London suburb of Wimbledon, and leaders of the Baptist Union of Great Britain and Northern Ireland.

In an address of welcome, Dr. F. Townley Lord, pastor of Bloomsbury Baptist church in central London, and president of the Baptist World Alliance, highly praised Graham's spirited campaigning.

BEST SINCE WAR

"I have never had such good congregations since the war as I have had in the last two Sundays. Last Sunday there were more people in my church than at any time since 1940," he said.

Graham had tea with J. Arthur Rank, British movie maker and pillar of the Methodist movement.

He moves into the heart of London's financial district today with a lunch-hour sermon at St. Stephen's Walbrook Church especially aimed at businessmen and their clerks out for their mid-day stroll.

Runs Over Dog Man Fined $100

HAMILTON (CP) — A Toronto man who ran over a collie dog was fined $100 and costs Monday and had his driver's licence suspended for three months.

Magistrate Beamver W. Hopkins imposed the penalties and ruled that Bernard Gallant, 23, be given another driving test before making application for renewal of licence.

On a charge of cruelty to the dog, Gallant was fined $75 and he must also pay the dog's hospital bill of $25. Gallant denied kicking the dog and also denied he ran over it intentionally the first time, as crown witnesses testified.

The dog's owner, John MacCormack of St. Catharines said the dog had to be destroyed after a week in hospital.

Government Elevators Have $443,672 Surplus

OTTAWA (CP)—Canadian government elevators completed the 1952-53 fiscal year with a surplus of $443,672.

The annual report of the board of grain commissioners tabled Monday in the Commons said the surplus was down sharply from the $815,337 figure of the 1951-52 year.

Business, Industry To Bear Brunt Of New Quebec Tax

QUEBEC (CP)—Business and industry will bear the brunt of the new provincial income tax collecting chore which begins officially next month in Quebec.

The new tax, roughly equivalent to 15 per cent of the federal income tax, was adopted by the Quebec legislature during the recent session.

It is retroactive to Jan. 1 but deductions at source by employers begin April 1.

Finance department officers now are working overtime to get computing tables out in time for the date set by the provincial cabinet last week, but the forms and instructions will probably not be distributed for two or three weeks.

The deductions order also applies to companies whose head offices are outside Quebec province but who pay their Quebec employees by cheque.

A finance department officer said there would be borderline cases involving outside or foreign firms who have one or two representatives travelling in Quebec. The finance department would study such cases individually.

MORE WORK SEEN

A quick survey of large companies in Quebec City showed employers expect computation of both provincial and federal income taxes will cause "considerable increase of work" for accounting staffs.

One complicating factor is that the provincial tax is computed on a different basis from the federal.

Under the federal tax basic deductions are $1,000 for single, and $2,000 for married persns.

Under the provincial deductions are $1,500 for single and $3,000 for married persons.

Deductions for children and dependents are similar.

Moreover five per cent of the amount paid in federal income tax will be deductible for provincial purposes.

WHERE BODY FOUND—An Ontario Provincial Police officer snaps a picture at the scene where the bruised, battered body of Fern Henkell, 21, of Woodstock, was found on a lonely road 15 miles southeast of Windsor. Police said she was beaten to death. A Detroit man found the partly clad body lying in a three-foot, water-filled ditch. The slain woman's coat can be seen in the ditch.—(CP Photo).

Ontario Passes Hospital Grants

TORONTO (CP)—Hospital construction grants totalling $146,000 have been approved by the Ontario government, Health Minister Phillips announced Monday.

Hospitals to benefit are located at Hanover, Richards Landing, Kenora, Guelph and Little Current.

Dr. Phillips said the Hanover Memorial Hospital would receive $70,000 for 26 active beds, 20 chronic beds and 12 nursery basinettes; St. Joseph's Hospital, Kenora $12,000 for 12 nurses' beds; Guelph General Hospital, $16,000 for 16 active treatment beds; and $2,000 to St. Joseph's Island Hospital, Richards Landing, for two active treatment beds.

A special capital grant of $46,000 to St. Joseph's General Hospital, Little Current, for 23 beds was included.

54-Year-Old Walks 200 Miles Non-Stop

LONDON (Reuters) — Bert Couzens, 54-year-old marathon walker, reached central London Monday after walking 200 miles non-stop from Leeds, Yorkshire, in 36 hours and 13 minutes.

He drank 60 cups of tea, ate one sandwich and smoked 70 cigarets on the way.

"Tired? Not a bit," he commented as he sat down for the first time since Saturday.

Mrs. Warren Atkinson is ill at the home of her sister, Mrs. Ernest Timlin, Cobourg.

Mr. J. A. Darling has returned home after spending a few weeks at the home of his daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Coffee and Bob at Hilton.

Mr. and Mrs. George Broadworth, also Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Atkinson, attended the Warden's banquet in Cobourg on Friday evening.

The Fox without a Tail

A FOX once fell into a trap, and after a struggle managed to get free, but with the loss of his brush. He was then so much ashamed of his appearance that he thought life was not worth living unless he could persuade the other Foxes to part with their tails also, and thus divert attention from his own loss. So he called a meeting of all the Foxes, and advised them to cut off their tails: "They're ugly things anyhow," he said, "and besides they're heavy, and it's tiresome to be always carrying them about with you." But one of the other Foxes said, "My friend, if you hadn't lost your own tail, you wouldn't be so keen on getting us to cut off ours."

Trade-In Your Old Furniture

as You Would – Your Old Car!

Now Your Old Furniture Can Help Pay for the Beautiful New Furniture You've Been Wanting for Years!

AT Cherney's AND YOU'LL ENJOY, THE INDIVIDUAL INTERESTED SERVICE OF OUR ENTIRE STAFF

Soundly built furniture seems to refuse to "wear out" long after its bloom has faded. Relatively few families are in a position to discard usable furniture, to give it away or sell it for peanuts, in order to refurnish their homes with the beautiful new things they see in the stores and in the magazines. That's what makes Cherney's Trade-In Policy so important.

Cherney's Will Appraise Your Old Furniture, Tell How Large a Trade-In Allowance You Can Receive

Here is the complete, simple, common-sense plan; no "gimmicks," no "sleight of hand," no "flat allowances" offered regardless of the value of your furniture, no prices inflated to absorb the allowance you receive.

You phone 2-4201. We send an appraiser to your home without the slightest obligation to you whatsoever. You then visit Cherney's Main Store . . . choose the furniture you want from one of the largest, finest, most value-conscious collections in Peterborough. You deduct your trade-in allowance from the price on the tags—and if you prefer, you arrange payment of the balance to suit your convenience. That's all there is to it. It's that easy . . . that simple . . . that practical.

Some Questions and Answers

Can I come in to see whether I can find the new furniture I want before you send an appraiser to my home?

Of course. You are decidedly welcome to visit Cherney's, Peterborough (and if you haven't shopped at Cherney's you're in for an eye-opening treat!) After you have made your selection, we can arrange to have an appraiser call at your home.

What if I decide not to make a purchase after you make an appraisal?

You are under no obligation at any time. If you decide not to make a purchase, we'll thank you for having given us an opportunity to be of service—and hope that you'll give us another opportunity some time soon.

May I trade-in any suite of furniture I own toward the purchase of a new suite?

Yes. For example, you can trade-in your old living room suite toward the purchase of a new living room suite; you can trade-in your old bedroom for a new bedroom. Or you can trade-in your old bedroom suite for a new living room. You can even trade-in your old sofa for a new one.

And here's the $64 question! If your prices are as low as they are now, how can you afford to offer trade-in allowances?

You know what happens to your old car when you trade it in. That's exactly what will happen to your old furniture. We plan to recondition it and resell it through our Used Furniture Department on Hunter St. Our trade-in allowances will not be price discounts. They represent actual value we expect to recover through the resale of your old furniture.

NOT FINED

A report that Neil E. Oliver, 24, RR 1, Peterborough, was found guilty of a charge of driving while impaired and fined $40, was incorrect. The charge against Oliver, who pleaded not guilty, was adjourned a week to March 22.

APPROVE CANOPY

City council Monday night approved the erection of a canopy over the Swartz furniture store on George Street. The plans submitted indicate the canopy is to be suspended from the building rather than supported from the street, and therefore comply with the city's building bylaw.

NO APPELLANTS

The court of revision were all prepared for a long session Monday night as the remaining appellants from McGill St. were scheduled to appear. However, despite ample notification, nobody appeared. The court have reserved judgment on McGill St. appeals, and it has not been revealed when they will give them.

END OF AN ERA

Workmen began today to remove the first bricks from the top of the wall on the west side of the Examiner building. Scaffolding has been erected around the outside on Water and Hunter Sts. to permit the demolition of the entire outside wall, which will eventually be replaced with a modern one, as part of the extensive alterations to the building.

SANITARY VANS

City council Monday night gave formal approval to the sanitation committee's recommendation to purchase four garbage collection vans, to be put into operation about May 1. The cost, which has been estimated at about $10,500 for each van, will be financed by issuing debentures for five years.

Ottawa Gives Approval Health Grant

MOH Says Services Costing City $10,000 Less Than In 1952

For the fiscal year April 1, 1953 to March 31, 1954, the Peterborough board of health are eligible for a federal health grant of $12,150.

They will be able to take advantage of about $10,000 of this amount. The difference is caused by the fact some of the travel allowance wasn't used up, as well as several other items.

$20,000, FOR NEW YEAR

"We are asking for $20,000 for the fiscal year April 1, 1954, to March 31, 1955," said Dr. J. P. Wells, medical officer of health, "and we expect to use all of it."

The 1954-55 application is a renewal of the present grants-in-aid with respect to salaries, travel allowance and approval to purchase four $2,500 cars. In addition it will cover grants on salaries for three new board of health personnel: a nurse for the city's secondary schools, another sanitary inspector, and a clerk stenographer.

These grants-in-aid are money from the federal department of health and welfare, administered through the provincial department of health. Applications for grants are made to the province from the local board; if they are approved by the province they are then passed along to the federal government.

BASIC UNIT

For grant purposes the 1947 staff is considered the basic unit. Additions in staff, (doctors, nurses, clerical help, for example), if approved, will increase the grant. Money will also be paid on approved new equipment, including books.

The 10th nurse will be hired by the Peterborough board to provide a new service: a public health nurse for the city's three secondary schools. At present the medical services are only available to elementary school pupils. Only secondary school pupils coming into the city from outside centres have been given a medical checkup.

BUY FOUR CARS

The federal department have also approved the purchase of four cars from a Canadian manufacturer at a cost of approximately $2,500 each. A 25 per cent grant would be paid in 1954-55, and similarly for three years, until 75 per cent of the cost of the cars was met.

BUDGET FOR $65,000

This calendar year the Peterborough Board of Health are budgeting for $65,000, $8,000 more than was estimated for in 1953 and $15,000 more than was actually spent. (Less money was actually spent than was estimated for because of the delay in hiring personnel.)

Dr. Wells estimates the Peterborough taxpayers are now paying $10,000 less than they were in 1952 for similar health services.

In 1952 the board of health's budget was $52,000; this year it is $65,000. But in the meanwhile they have taken over the board of education's medical services, as well as continuing to give medical services to the separate schools; they have enlarged their staff and increased pay, they have had the plumbing inspector's salary switched to their charge from city welfare; and they are buying new equipment.

Under the old setup the taxpayers would be paying a total of about $75,000 for these services, Dr. Wells said.

"We now have a bigger staff, better paid, and we are giving the city more efficient health services at a cost $10,000 less than in 1952—the last year that the board of health and the board of education budgeted for a full staff for health services."

11 People Flee As Flames Threaten Double House Before Stopped By Firemen

Hair Of Elderly Man, Child Singed Escaping Through Kitchen Cause Of Fire Not Yet Determined

Fire that spread swiftly and was burning fiercely by the time the alarm was phoned in caused 11 people to flee from their double house, 459-461 Chamberlain St., at 11:30 p.m. Monday.

One family of five—three adults and two children—were fortunate to escape from their upstair bedrooms. They were roused from their sleep by shouts and had to run downstairs, through a flaming kitchen, to avoid being trapped.

Eighty-one year old Charles Trotter, who suffers from a bad heart, had his hair singed as he struggled through the smoke-and-flame-filled kitchen to the living room. There he was found, standing in a daze, by OPP Constable Emmett Crough, who came in the front way and led him out.

The youngest member of the family, four-year-old Donny Trotter, also had his hair singed as he was carried in his father's arms through the kitchen.

THROUGH ATTIC

The fire, which started at the rear of 459 Chamberlain St., where the five members of the Trotter family live, spread through the attic and under the shingles to the attic of the Lackey family who live in the adjoining half of the double house.

Fire Chief William Sorrie today gave a preliminary estimate of damage. He put the figure at approximately $7,500—$5,000 to the wooden frame building and $2,500 to the contents. Both the building and contents are covered by insurance.

The 45-year-old dwelling is owned by Garth Braund. Living in 459 Chamberlain are Wallace Trotter, his wife, Doreen, his two sons (Terry, age 10, and Donny, age four), and his father, Charles Trotter, age 81. Next-door neighbors, at 461 Chamberlain St., are William G. Lackey, his wife Jennie; also Clarence Lackey and his wife, Muriel, and their two children, David, age five, and Donna, age four.

Both families had to find other accommodation for the night. Most of the fire damage is in the Trotter half of the double house; the upstairs and rear are gutted and nearly all the family's possessions are destroyed. However Mr. Trotter has $3,000 insurance on the contents.

Louis T. Durkin Re-elected Legion President

Louis T. Durkin on Monday night was re-elected president of Peterborough Branch 52, Canadian Legion. He defeated George Gimblett Sr. at the annual meeting for the election of officers.

Nearly all the offices open for election were contested. There was a good turnout of members.

Mr Durkin is beginning his second term of office after taking over temporarily in 1952. In the Second World War he was an armament sergeant with the RCAF.

Following are the officers for 1954: Lou Durkin, president; Claire H. Stuart, 1st vice-president, defeating George McNabb; Leo Herr, 2nd vice-president, defeating Harold Yelland; five executive members—Harry Kelsey, beginning his 14th consecutive year, Albert Mason of the welfare committee, and James Marchen, Robert Corp and C. B. (Pete) Castle, all newcomers; Michael Gahagan, sgt.-at-arms; and the Rev. A. E. Larke of Springville, padre.

Among the visitors was Mel Hamblin of Norwood, zone commander. Past president P. J. (Paddy) Burke, who is also district chairman of membership, Ontario command, conducted the election.

The officers will be installed April 19 by McIntyre Hood of Oshawa.

Seed Entries In Spring Show Double Volume Of Last Year

Seed entries at the Central Ontario Spring Show are twice the number and volume of last year, Stuart Bowman, manager of that section, said this morning as he was completing the setting for the judges.

President James T. Brown of Newcastle arrived Monday afternoon with a Durham group of growers bringing 700 bushels of seed in three truck loads. A. O. Dalrymple, Stirling, secretary-treasurer, reported 113 exhibitors representing the nine counties comprising the Show area.

The quantity of seed on display this afternoon is the first evidence of success this week in the increase quantity for sale at the Friday afternoon auction beginning at 1:30 p.m.

Distribution of quality seed is the main purpose of the show. In addition to the Central Ontario competition for seed growers, Durham and Hastings counties have transferred their local shows to Peterborough, and there is also a junior section.

JUDGING COMPETITION

Seventy-three farm boys, are expected here Wednesday morning for their judging competition which has been moved up town to the market hall. They will be guests of the executive at lunch at the Empress Hotel, and for them the guest speaker is Rev. W. A. Young, OAC chaplain.

Propane gas salamanders were set up today for emergency heating. The weather dropped to 10 degrees during the night, but the sunny days are accepted by the committee as preferable to the depth of snow that cut the attendance at the London seed fair to a handful last week.

Dr. D. N. Huntly, head of the field husbandry department of OAC, who is judging and speaking at the show, said today that although seed grain looks much the same from one year to another, "there is nothing static in this branch of agriculture."

"Looking over the exhibits I noticed only one lot of Dawson's Golden Chaff wheat. Three or four years ago you would have found it comprising the bulk of the show with some few entries of Cornell. Today we see Dawbull and Genesee varieties of wheat tending to push Cornell into the background, at least in the number of entries.

"It is the same with oats and barley and the small seeds. A couple of years back you would not have had any soy beans here.

"The work of our cerealists is largely directed toward raising the quality of our seed grains, and bringing out new varieties that are more productive in volume."

The end result that is being aimed at is an increase in farm income. And that is only part of the story.

The 50 bushel wheat club has had its day. With new varieties, farmers have passed the 50-bushel mark and to such an extent last year the name was changed to "60 bushel of wheat clubs."

Three of the soy beans exhibitors are: Garnet Rickard, Roy McHolm, and Doug Wight of Durham county.

Hockey Player Killed By Truck

BRADFORD — Left-wing hockey player for Orillia Pontiacs and hydro worker Murray Richardson of Barrie was killed almost instantly on Monday on Highway 11 when struck by a truck five miles north of here.

Police report that Richardson, 27, was standing behind his parked hydro truck on the side of the highway when he was hit by a truck driven by Walter Dusome, 33, of Toronto. Richardson had climbed down a hydro pole seconds before the accident. He leaves his wife, the former Lillian Ferguson of Barrie and a three-year-old son, Lee.

Richardson would have played with his team against the Petes in Peterborough on Monday night in the deciding game of their OHA senior "B" semi-final series. More than 2,300 hockey fans at the arena observed two minutes of silence before the game in memory of the popular Orillia player. The Peterborough Hockey Club sent a floral tribute. One minute silence was also observed at the Peterborough boxing show.

GRANTS APPROVED

City council Monday night gave formal approval to grants of $1,800 to the Chamber of Commerce, $500 to the Peterborough Community Nursing Registry, and $500 to the Peterborough Historical Society for 1954.

City Still Vexed How To Get Rid Of Old Houses

City council, in a special meeting called by Mayor Norman Graham, Monday night wrestled with the perennial problem of how to get rid of the dilapidated house on the south-east corner of Aylmer and Dalhousie streets.

The matter stands just about where it did before, except that a special committee was appointed to consult with City Solicitor W. F. Huycke as to what steps should be taken. Committee members are Aldermen Art Burrows and Gordon Farquharson, City Clerk E. A. Outram and Fire Chief Bill Sorrie.

The matter was brought to a head by a letter to Chief Sorrie from the Dominion Fire Prevention Association.

The letter noted that parliament was revising the Criminal Code. Apparently not included in the revision was a subsection empowering fire prevention officers to authorize alterations to buildings which constituted fire hazards. The subsection provided a maximum fine of $6,000, a maximum term of imprisonment of six months or both for owners who failed to make the alterations.

SEEK SUPPORT

The association asked its members to seek support from local bodies to have the subsection left in the code.

Mayor Graham said he thought the subsection should be invoked against Percy Dunford, owner of the house at Aylmer and Dalhousie streets.

"Let's get at this thing," His Worship said. "It's been hanging fire for 12 years."

"I don't think there's a worse fire trap in the city," was Ald. Stan McBride's comment. "The people down there are almost in tears whenever you mention it to them."

In answer to a question from Ald. Farquharson, however, Chief Sorrie said it was the contents of the house that constituted a fire hazard.

"If you removed the contents, it would cease to be a fire hazard," suggested Ald. Farquharson.

"Yes," said the chief, and added, "I don't think the fire marshal would take action if it were just a question of getting rid of an eye-sore."

PREVIOUSLY CONSIDERED

The city solicitor pointed out that action had previously been considered under the fire marshal's act and the city's building bylaw. He said the building bylaw had been stiffened to permit the engineer to tear the house down but this action had not been taken.

"After looking over the subsection and hearing what the chief had to say, I think the engineer was justified in hesitating to tear it down," said Ald Farquharson.

After appointing the special committee to consult with the city solicitor, council also passed Ald. Bill Begg's recommendation to approve the Fire Prevention Association's resolution.

$400,000,000 DAM—This scene shows Mica Creek at the big bend in the Columbia river in British Columbia which may be the scene of a $400,000,000 hydro project. Works Minister Winters has told the House of Commons that his government is studying the project. Site of the proposed dam is about 250 miles east of Vancouver.—(CP Photo).

VAST HYDRO PROJECT—Proposed dams in a vast development plan for British Columbia's mighty Columbia river are shown in this map. A long-range plan disclosed by Lands Minister R. E. Sommers, of B.C., calls for constructing nine hydro dams on the Columbia and Kootenay rivers, including a $400,000,000 development at Mica Creek where the Columbia bends southward. Shown here also are dams already constructed, including the development between Trail and Nelson.—(CP Photo).

Two Provinces, Ottawa Not Agreed On Bridge

OTTAWA (CP)—The federal government and the provinces of Ontario and Quebec still have not reached agreement on the construction of a bridge across the Ottawa river at Pembroke.

A return tabled Monday in the Commons disclosed that Ontario and Ottawa still are discussing the division of costs and that Quebec has postponed consideration of the project to a more appropriate time.

The return said a conference of federal and provincial officials Jan. 12 agreed tentatively that the federal government would build the bridge and that the cost would be split three ways.

The estimated cost is about $1,250,000. It would run from a point on highway 17 in Ontario across the intervening channels and islands in the Ottawa river to a junction with a Quebec provincial road on Allumette island.

Works Minister Winters wrote to the Ontario and Quebec governments Jan. 18 asking them whether they approved the tentative plans.

George Doucett, minister of highways for Ontario, replied Feb. 2 and proposed an amendment. He suggested the federal government erect the bridge but that Ontario should be charged only for "the actual cost of the approach roads and bridges from highway 17 to the span over the interprovincial boundary."

Mr. Winters said the proposed amendment would have "the effect of making the federal government responsible for the whole project, and, at the same time, required the separation of the costs of the Ontario portion from what might well be a single contract. I am not sure that this would be either desirable or easy to achieve."

Premier Duplessis wrote to Mr. Winters Feb. 5 stating that pressure of urgent business at the Quebec legislature "oblige us to postpone to a more appropriate time a definite decision concerning the drafting of the essential plans and specifications and of the necessary agreement in this matter."

FIND PLEASURE AREA—Two scientists at McGill University have discovered that rats have a "pleasure" area in their brains. The scientists say the rats have a stronger desire to have this area stimulated than eat. In this picture electronics engineer Peter Milner of Barnsley, England, adjusts an electrode on a rat's head. The animal learns to press the lever which gives it the pleasure impulse. Mr. Milner is working with Dr. James Olds, McGill psychologist. They believe that humans may also have a "pleasure" area in their brains.—(CP Photo).

Publisher Sets Self Afire, Dies In Jail

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—Publisher Karimpoor Shirazi, in jail waiting trial for treason, died Monday from burns. Police said he poured kerosene over himself and set himself afire.

Shirazi, pro-Mossadegh publisher of the weekly Shuresh, bitterly attacked the Shah last summer before Premier Fazollah Zahedi successfully overthrew the Mossadegh government.

He made another suicide attempt two months ago when he eluded jail guards and jumped from a second-storey window to a cement side walk.

Meanwhile, former foreign minister Hossein Fatemi continued in serious condition from knife wounds inflicted by a would-be assassin shortly after he was arrested Saturday.

Shah Mohammed Rezi Pahlevi sent his personal physician to attend Fatemi, who is accused of plotting against the monarch.

Palace Officials Deny Queen Intends Move

LONDON (AP) — Buckingham Palace officials denied all knowledge Monday of a published report that Queen Elizabeth dislikes the 690-room palace and plans to make her permanent home at Windsor Castle, 30 miles west of London.

The Sunday paper, The People, said the Queen seeks greater privacy and wishes to rear her two children in a country atmosphere.

"Obviously only the Queen could make such decisions, and nothing of the kind has been announced," a palace spokesman said.

Urge Increased Forestry Research

TORONTO (CP) — An increased program of research in the problem of reforestation in the province was urged Monday by Dean J. W. Sisam, head of the forestry department, University of Toronto.

"Research in forestry has really had very little support from either industry or government," Dean Sisam told the Ontario legislature's committee on lands and forests.

Pearson Answers Chicago Tribune Criticism

WASHINGTON (CP) — External Affairs Minister Pearson Monday took oblique notice of an ephithet hurled at him last November by the Chicago Tribune.

The Tribune, in an editorial during the Gouzenko row, said "the least that can be said against Pearson and his followers in the Canadian pinko set is that they are dangerous and untruthful."

Addressing the National Press Club today, Pearson mentioned the "intimacies" of Canada-U. S. relations, and added:

"This very intimacy has its dangers. It means that our disagreements, when we have them, take on a sort of family character. May I give you a personal example.

"If a European journalist said or wrote that Canada's External Affairs Minister was a 'pinko' I wouldn't hear much, if anything, about it. And if I did, I would put it down to the childish ignorance of some benighted foreigner.

"If a comparable American said the same thing, it wouldn't even have to be translated and would certainly get in the Canadian papers. My reaction, until my better self asserted itself, would be almost a domestic one: 'He can't do that to me. Didn't I tell the Rotary Club at Washington's Corners only last week that I was heart and soul with the great United States in the struggle against communism?'"

Murdered Man Led Son Astray–Mother

BARRIE (CP)—Mrs. Margaret Kingsley, mother of 10 children, told a court Monday her son was led astray by the man he is accused of murdering.

She said William Stephen Kingsley, 19, saw much drunkenness and immorality in the Toronto slum area where the family lives.

Kingsley is charged with 20-year-old Ian Robertson in the shooting of Fred (Scotty) Cameron, 57-year-old Toronto brokerage messenger whose bullet - riddled body was found in a ditch at nearby Stroud last Oct. 29.

The crown ended its case Monday after calling 30 witnesses. The trial, which started a week ago today, may go to the all-male Ontario Supreme Court jury late tonight or early Wednesday.

"KIND OF MAD"

Kingsley described how he and Robertson went for a drive in Robertson's father's car the night the messenger was shot.

Questioned by defence counsel Norman Borins of Toronto, Kingsley said that between October, 1950 and August, 1953, Cameron had taken him to his room for homosexual practices.

On the night of the shooting, Kingsley said Cameron "got kind of mad" when he refused his advances. He added:

"I got out (of the car) and went to Ian, who was still trying to fix the car, and told him Cameron was kind of sore. . . Ian went around and got into the car. Cameron grabbed him and pulled him out. They started fighting. Cameron was shaking him and Ian was trying to punch him. I didn't know what to do. I thought Ian was going to get beat up good.

"I remembered the gun in my pocket. It went off when I was pulling it out. The shot hit him in the neck. He dropped to the ground. We put him into the trunk and drove off. He started screaming. Ian stopped the car and unlocked the trunk and Cameron got out. Ian was standing in front of him and shot him a couple of times. Cameron fell and Ian shot him again."

Some time later, Kingsley added, Robertson pointed the gun at him and said: "Go put it in him. There's one bullet left. If you don't I'll put it into you."

Earlier Robertson was in the witness box. In a statement, he told [illegible] 54 miles.

He said he and Kingsley intended to rob Cameron and took the gun along to "terrify him."

"When he tried to force himself on us for homosexual reasons, we were forced to use the gun to defend ourselves," the statement added.

Alexandrov New Minister Of Red Culture

MOSCOW (AP) — Georgi F. Alexandrov has been named the Soviet Union's new minister of culture, and a ministry of higher education, dissolved after the death of Stalin, has been reorganized with Vyacheslav Petrovich Elyutin at its head, the government announced today.

Alexandrov, philosopher and wartime propaganda chief of the Communist party, succeeds P. K. Ponomarenko, who recently was named first secretary of the Communist party organization of Kazakhstan, central Asia. Elyutin was little known to the public before his appointment to the higher education ministry.

In the sweeping government reorganization following Stalin's death, the old ministry of higher education was dissolved and its activities incorporated into the ministry of culture. Now it is once again established as an independent ministry.

Alexandrov comes to the fore again as virtual czar of the Soviet theatre, art and music, following a period after the Second World War in which he was roundly criticized and shoved into oblivion.

He was fired as party propagandist because of a textbook on the history of philosophy he wrote in which he was accused of overemphasizing the role of Western European philosophers. He later was fired from his position on the editorial board of the important party ideological organ, Bolshevik, for supporting other philosophies which at the moment were in disrepute in Russia.

Since then, however, Alexandrov has risen gradually to the fore in Soviet cultural affairs. He recently headed the Institute of Philosophy and two months ago he led a Soviet scientific delegation at a meeting in India.

Unveil Mammoth U.S. Atom Smasher

By RENNIE TAYLOR

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — The greatest thing yet in atom-smashers, a mammoth machine which will lead scientists onward into the exciting mysteries of the atomic nucleus, was unveiled today at the University of California.

With this electronic giant scientists may turn up some more surprise discoveries such as those which led to the atom bomb. A vast new field for deriving energy from matter is among the possibilities.

Although scientists had to learn something about the nucleus to make the A-bomb, they still don't know much about it. To find out more they must smash the atom more thoroughly than ever before.

The bevatron, a part of Prof. Ernest O. Lawrence's radiation laboratory, is a race-track-shaped affair of steel and copper 135 feet in diameter and 14 feet high, the largest nuclear research instrument in existence.

BIG PROJECT

It weighs 10,000 tons, about the weight of an ordinary - sized freighter. It cost $9,500,000 and was financed by the United States Atomic Energy Commission.

Six years were required to design and build the machine. The actual construction required four years.

A month ago the machine was cautiously started for the first time. It whipped up a thin beam of atomic projectiles to a feeble 20,000,000 volts. Gradually it was accelerated until on March 12 it produced atom bullets of 5,000,000,000 volts in energy.

This is by far the greatest energy ever produced in an atom-smasher. The pevious record was made by the cosmotron in the AEC laboratory at Brookhaven, L. I., which hit 2,300,000,000 volts.

In the absence of Mrs. N. Weatherilt, Christian citizenship secretary, Miss Hetherington gave the talk on peace. Mrs. Irwin Hatherly, Christian stewardship secretary, spoke on "Interruptions," taken from the Upper Room.

Some Teachers Bring Own Pianos To School

TORONTO (CP)—Some Toronto public school teachers are so interested in their work they bring their own pianos to school to teach music to pupils, the board of education's finance committee was told Monday.

Z. S. Phimister, superintendent of elementary schools, said some teachers would bring their own equipment even if they were charged for the privilege.

The statement was made during a discussion of whether the board should replace a teacher's personal radio that was stolen from a school. The committee decided to pay for the radio.

TO THE 1954 RED CROSS and COMMUNITY CHEST FUND

The Peterborough Red Cross is your helping hand . . . extended with warmth and compassion to all humanity. It is you at the scene of disaster. It is you by the side of the wounded and crippled and hurt. It is you cheering the shut-in . . . feeding the hungry . . . relieving the stricken . . . encouraging the frightened. It is you comforting, sustaining, restoring.

The Red Cross is you . . . because your support makes it possible for the Red Cross to go where needed and do what's needed to help suffering men, women and children. Your local Red Cross dollars given to the Red Cross and Community Chest now will be you "in action" on all the far-flung fronts along which the Red Cross will fight disaster and despair in 1954 as well as here in Peterborough.

BLOOD DONORS AT YOUR SERVICE 24 hours every day at both Peterborough hospitals — free of charge

THE LOAN CUPBOARD

The Peterborough Red Cross Loan Cupboard is designed to supply, free of charge, equipment needed in caring for the sick and injured at home. Only a doctor's certificate is required to make this equipment available to you. It is kept in good condition, sterilized when returned and inspected before being given out again. This stock is valued at over $4,000 and repairs are often made by citizens—at no cost—as their contribution to the Red Cross.

In 1953, all the larger items were in constant use. The 13 beds were used by 28 different people for a total of 4,216 patient days. The 22 wheel chairs were borrowed by 39 persons for 6,618 patient days. Altogether 208 persons used 216 different articles from the Loan Cupboard during 1953.

Civilian & Soldier Relief

From all kinds of appeals 57 orders were provided to needy people in the County of Peterborough, such as shoes, rubbers, clothing, bedding, layettes, groceries, fuel and meals. Parcels were sent at Christmas time to 21 D.V.A. patients in hospitals.

Disaster Relief

While no local major disaster occurred in the Peterborough area, several families, whose homes were burned—or who had met with other misfortunes were provided with clothing and bedding.

Police Patrol Arab Quarter

TUNIS, North Africa (Reuters)—Strong police squads patrolled the Arab quarter here today to prevent renewed rioting following a clash Monday in which two persons were killed and five wounded.

About 80 per cent of the town's Arab shopkeepers went on strike in protest against the casualties. In the European quarter, about five per cent of the bakers and cafe owners also refused to serve the public.

Both the Arab and European quarters were orderly this morning.

The casualties occurred when police opened fire as hundreds of students tried to storm into the headquarters of the Tunisian government after a protest meeting against the French-backed government of premier Mohammed Salah Mzali.

Think Provinces Should Levy Income Taxes

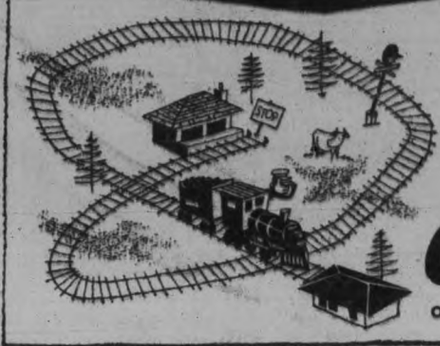
A resolution asking for a federal-provincial tax conference was adopted at the annual meeting of the Young Progressive Conservative Association of Canada.



It said the conference should be convened "to discuss provincial taxation rights and to restore to those provinces which desire it their right to levy provincial taxes."

Other officers include: First vice-president, Betty Turner, 25, of Woodstock; English-speaking secretary, James Baskin, 33, Renfrew.

Another resolution supported "a continuing move towards freer trade among nations." Senate reform "to ensure full protection of provincial rights," and changes in income tax laws to permit full deduction of all medical expenses and drug costs.

Worth Remembering

The Canadian National Railways has 24,261 miles of tracks, with 119,930 locomotives and cars! Smallest railroad system in Canada is the Thousand Islands Railway, with 5 miles of track and 1 locomotive, 1 passenger car, 1 miscellaneous car. An interesting contrast worth remembering!

Drops Complaint For Theft Against Husband

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Dyoll Prather Herman, 67, wants to withdraw the complaint against her [illegible] of taking away with $600,000 in jewels and cash.

The couple were reunited Monday through a lawyer for the husband, Percy William Herman, 49. The lawyer said Herman had "good reasons" for disappearing March 5 after his Palm Beach marriage was but a day old.

Apparently Mrs. Herman agreed. She chatted and laughed with Herman and said she wanted to withdraw the complaint she had filed in Richmond, Va.

Herman was held in $10,000 bail, however, until a check could be made in Richmond.

BLAMES NERVES

Herman's lawyer, Daniel Jacobson, blamed Herman's bad nerves for the mix-up. He said the automatic-closing mechanism failed on the couple's expensive new automobile, and all through the first day of their honeymoon the windows kept opening and closing by themselves. The groom became highly nervous after 20 hours at the wheel.

Leaving his bride at a motor court in Fredericksburg, Va., Herman went to hunt for a garage, but thought he was being followed by another car, Jacobson said. Aware of the money and jewels in the car, Herman kept going. He left the car in Paterson, N. J. and took a train to New York, where he slept for 48 hours in a hotel.

On waking, he read in the newspapers that his wife had filed a complaint against him, the lawyer reported. The valuables, he said, were intact in safety deposit boxes.

Regina Flier Killed Overseas

OTTAWA (CP) — Wing Cmdr. Frank H. Darragh, AFC, 33, of Regina, was killed Monday when his F-86 Sabre jet fighter crashed near its base at Baden Soellingen, air force headquarters announced today.

Wing Cmdr. Darragh, a member of the RCAF since December, 1940, was officer commanding No. 444 Fighter Squadron at No. 4 Fighter Wing, based at the German station.

A dispatch from Iffezheim, Germany, Monday said the pilot attempted twice to bail out but failed both times. German police said that even if he had made it, the plane was too low for the parachute to open in time.

Wing Cmdr. Darragh's wife and three children are overseas and had been living with him at the base. Mrs. Darragh is an Ottawa woman.

The wing commander's father, Hugh A. Darragh, is living in Vancouver.

Manvers Protests Regulations Of Department

BETHANY (ENS) — Manvers township council met in regular session at Bethany with all members present and reeve Allan Beer in the chair.

Secretary J. C. Cummiskey read communications from the Department of Municipal Affairs concerning payments estimated to be made by the provincial government to municipalities and their local boards; the department of highways about the balance of subsidy on road expenditure for 1953 with cheque for same; from the department of agriculture livestock branch about warble-fly control; Hydro Electric Power Commission concerning arrears assessed as taxes; from the counties clerk and treasurer on fox bounty; from the Welfare Officers Association announcing a meeting to be held at Owen Sound in June; from the Ontario School Trustees and Ratepayers Association giving details about the Easter Convention to be held in the King Edward Hotel at Toronto on April 19, 20 and 21st. Also from a number of ratepayers on different matters.

On motion of Councillors Payne and Scott, the appointment of Walter A. Neals as Warble Fly inspector was confirmed at an hourly rate of 70 cents and mileage at 8½ cents per mile. On motion of deputy reeve Argue and Councillor Malcolm a grant of $15 is to be given to the Durham County Junior Farmers for 1954.

On Motion of Councillors Payne and Malcolm, Reeve Allan Beer and Councillor Addison Scott were appointed a committee to arrange for the wiring of the township hall basement with power to complete any arrangements.

On motion of Deputy Reeve Argue and Councillor Payne, the Clerk J. C. Cummiskey was instructed to write to the Department of municipal affairs protesting the Act whereby all payments of subsidies, grants, etc., made by the provincial government to the local municipality and their local boards, as well as all payments made to the county of any local share of costs must be printed on the local tax statement to the ratepayer, on the grounds that the municipal clerk has no way of knowing the amount of a number of these payments, and that a number of the payments are not paid by the government until months after the local tax statements must be printed; also that in the estimation of the council, the government should do it's own advertising.

On motion the reeve and treasurer were instructed to sign chequese for the following accounts: Hydro Electric Power Com. street lights for the villages of Bethany and Pontypool $131.88; Thomas Whillier & Son for assessor and office supplies $191.22; school money for sections No. 2, 8, 14, and 15, $2,200; Victoria High School debentures $26.74; township treasurer, road voucher No. 3, $1,538.63; Millbrook Reporter for advertising $2. Dr. G. M. Longfield, medical services for indigent $4; Lorne Bowin, food for indigent $25; J. C. Cummiskey on salary account and registering births and deaths $154.50; Council expenses to Ontario Good Roads Convention $60. Grants to Durham Junior Farmers $15; Relief $126.95.

Left Hook By Bill Twomey Knocks Out Nasturzio Crough Wins Unanimously

By DON GRANT

Tap Nasturzio will remember never to lower his guard for a moment. The Toronto boxer dropped his right guard for a second Tuesday night and Nasturzio went out for a half-hour.

Boxing in the five-round semi-final of the bi-monthly card as the Brock St. arena, the 147-pound fighter faced a dancing, left-jabber Bill Twomey from the Alpha Boxing Club.

Twomey danced about the Vic Bagnato boxer for three rounds carrying the fight, but late in the third due to lack of conditioning, he began to tire. Immediately Nasturzio had life.

For the first minute of the fourth round, Nasturzio first started to box with the tired Twomey. Then suddenly Nasturzio lowered his guard, allowing his chin to peek out.

Twomey's left hook could be heard with a loud smack throughout the arena as it hit Nasturzio's chin. The Toronto fighter rocked momentarily, then dropped with a thud, his head bouncing on the mat.

Before Referee Bill Joiner was half-way through the 10-count, Charlie Bagnato was at his boxer's side. But Nasturzio couldn't appreciate Bagnato's quick movements. Nasturzio was out cold.

STILL OUT

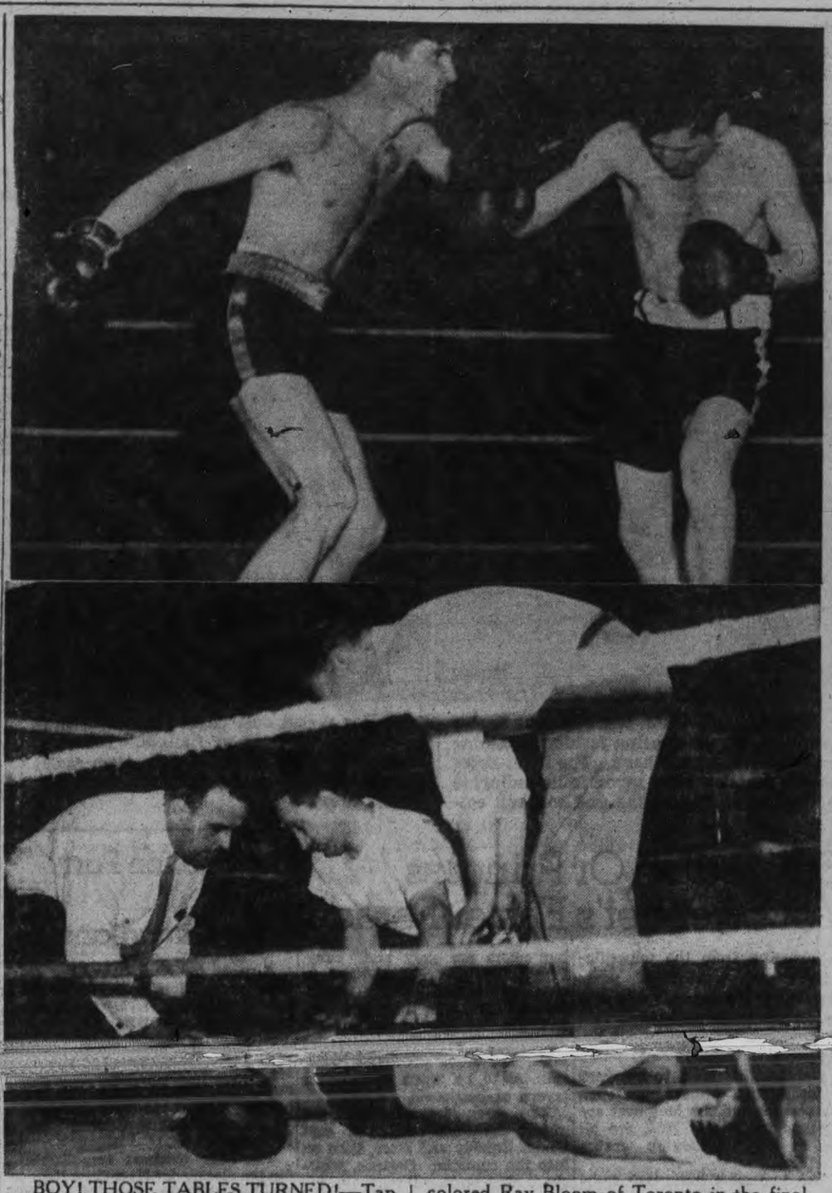
For five minutes Bagnato, Joiner and others worked on Nasturzio, until finally he was carried out still very, very groggy. Even a half-hour later he had trouble concentrating on his surroundings.

That solid punch and the resulting knockout completely overshadowed a disappointing final bout between Emmett Crough of Alpha and Ray Bloom [illegible] boxer from [illegible] Throughout their five rounds, the boxers were told numerous times to start mixing, but they reluctantly kept a good distance from each other. Crough was the aggressor, causing a flurry in each round and therefore was awarded a unanimous decision.

Actually several times during these flurries when Crough thumped Bloom with wild rights and lefts, the Alpha fighter had his opponent in trouble. But unfortunately he never followed through.

The closest knockdown was in the first round when in a flurry Crough caught Bloom with a wild right, forcing the Toronto boy to cling to the ropes for support, but he held on.

The heavyweight bout, pitting Bill Cridland, former English boxer now with Alpha, against colored Pete Anderson, was a thriller for the 800 fans.



Cridland won the crowd with his aggressiveness in the first round, jabbing out twth a left and following up with a right. He bloodied Anderson's nose in the second and seemed to concentrate there as he chased the troubled Anderson. Although he landed several haymaker rights late in the second, Cridland couldn't down the taller Toronto boxer.

WINS UNANIMOUSLY

Actually Anderson's only part in the fight came in the late stages of the third when the better conditioning of the Toronto boy paid off. Therefore Cridland easily won the three-rounder by unanimous decision.

Fighting in the 135-pound class Pete Howe of Alpha started and finished strong to win a split decision over Lorne Gibson of Toronto.

The results of the four preliminary bouts were: (a) Stuart Davidson, Alpha, lost a unanimous decision to Pete Keough, Alpha; (b) Alex Caravaggie, Alpha, decisioned Jack Spratt of Lindsay; (c) Don Burgomaster, Alpha, took a split decision over Mike Hennessey of [illegible] both of Alpha.

India Decides To Enter Games

VANCOUVER (CP)—India Monday entered the British Empire Games here July 30-Aug. 7, becoming the 25th country to decide to send a team.

India originally planned to bypass the games here for the Asian games in Manila. However, a telegram from Patnabankiporae, India, signed by a Mr. Moimulhaq of the Indian Olympic Association, arrived Monday, saying:

"We have just decided to send a team number to be determined later."

India's entry brings the number of countries to be represented to 25 of the 27 members of the games federation.

R. L. Dobbin Visited 47 Institute Branches

PORT ARTHUR (CP)—The production of yung engineers in Canada continues to fall behind the demand, Ross L. Dobbin of Peterborough, president of the Engineering Institute of Canada, said in an interview Monday.

Mr. Dobbin is on a coast-to-coast tour of the various universities and engineering institute branches. He now has called on 47 of the 48 institute branches. He will wind up the tour with a visit to Port Hope.

32 Rinks Begin Play At London

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — Rinks from Sarnia, Toronto, London, Woodstock, Kitchener and Chicago were left in the runing in the main event of the London Ladies Curling Club annual bonspiel here Monday night. Winners of the two trophies at stake will be decided today.

A full entry of 32 rinks started play today.

Hamilton Thistle, winner of last year's contest, fell behind early under an 11-7 defeat by Sarnia. Toronto Ladies, runners-up last year, won their opening game 9-3 over Brantford.

Wins Split Decision

TORONTO (CP) — Despite a bloody mouth and nose Pat Campbell of Guelph won a five-round split decision over Billy McDonald of Toronto in the main bout of the Palace Pier weekly amateur boxing show Monday night. Both fighters were in the 145-pound class.

Open Series Thursday

TORONTO (CP) — Stratford Indians and Owen Sound Mercurys will open their best-of-seven series for the Ontario Hockey Association Senior A championship in Owen Sound Thursday night, March 18. A second game will be played in Stratford March 20. OHA officials said further dates will be announced later.

A CHAMP PREDICTS

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Gunder Haegg predicts Britain's Roger Bannister will be the first to run the four-minute mile—possibly this year—"because he has brains."

"The four-minute mile will be run this year—it's long overdue," says the Swede, whose 4:01.4 clocking for the distance is the world's record.

Haegg, who once set 10 world records in 80 days, has retired from the track and now operates an exclusive millinery and women's dress shop in this Scandinavian capital.

Speaking through an interpreter, he listed the modern threats to his record—John Landy of Australia, Wes Santee of the United States, Gordon Pirie and Roger Bannister of Britain, Josey Barthel of Luxembourg and Werner Lueg of Germany.

"Bannister has brains," Haegg said. "That's something you can't say about all runners. He doesn't overtrain the way many runners do. You don't see Bannister burning himself out running 20 and 30 miles a day."

NO BROADCAST

DUBLIN, Republic of Ireland (Reuters)—Irishmen living abroad won't be hearing the annual St. Patrick's Day broadcast from the Emerald isle this year. Wild shenanigans by some of their sports-loving fellow countrymen have led to its cancellation.

The spalpeens responsible for this sad state of affairs are fans of two rugged Irish sports—hurling and gaelic football.

When they learned that the state-run radio Eireann planned to include a commentary on a soccer game on Wednesday's broadcast they raised the very divil. They branded soccer—which originated in England—an "alien and imperialist sport" and demanded that the commentary be cut.

President M. V. O'Donoghue of the fiercely nationalistic Gaelic Athletic Association joined the donnybrook by calling the proposed soccer commentary "an insult to the nation."

Annoyed by the uproar over soccer, radio Eireann retaliated by deciding to scrap the whole two-hour, St. Patrick's program, which would have been beamed toward Canada, the U.S. and other countries.

NAMED CAPTAIN

LONDON (CP)—Mrs. Mary Halford, veteran tennis player and one of the first women to wear shorts instead of a skirt on the courts, Monday was appointed captain of the British Wightman Cup team.

The British women's team play in the United States in their annual matches June 11-12 at Wimbledon.

Britain has not won a Wightman Cup round since 1930 and has won only three times since the cup was put into play in 1923.

Mrs. Halford, who was Mary Whitmarsh before her marriage, is the mother of two children and is still considered a good doubles player. She is not expected to compete in cup matches, however.

TRAIN FOR PLATE

OSHAWA (CP) — Six horses owned by Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Taylor are in training for this year's $25,000-added Queen's Plate, Canada's richest racing classic.

The horses have been training on the straw of a covered arena at the Taylor-owned national stud farm here since January. With the coming of spring weather they will start training on the outdoor half-mile track before moving into Toronto's Woodbine Park next month.

Settle TV Problem

TORONTO (CP)—Toronto housing authority Monday settled a controversy over television aerials at the Regent Park housing project by approving erection of a community aerial to serve all the apartments on a rental basis. Some time ago the city sought to ban TV aerials at the project but gave up the idea. Later, tenants complained the numerous aerials on the buildings interfere with each other's reception.

Controller Ford Brand said that the letting of the contract was "preposterous." It would cost each subscriber a $2.50 monthly rental and a $5 charge for connecting.

Moscow Serenades U.K.

LONDON (Reuters) — Skirling bagpipes, Scottish reels and the traditional "Auld Lang Syne" featured a 15-minute program broadcast Monday night by Moscow radio for listeners in Britain. Popular Russian singers sang Scottish songs in English.

RACING RARITY—Harness fans at Toronto's Dufferin Park witnessed a rarity in the first heat of a junior free-for-all trot and pace when three horses staged a sensation duel for second and passed under the wire in a dead-heat. In perfect alignment in the photo finish are Sacramento (1), Flash Regent (6) and Ensign Grattan (5). Princess Betty G. (4) was fifth. The heat was the top attraction on the program at the winter harness meet.—(CP Photo).

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery

Finds Healing Substance That Does Both— Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

Toronto, Ont. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to stop bleeding—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

Now this new healing substance is offered in ointment form for hemorrhoids under the name *Preparation H. The price is only $1.19 a tube including an applicator. The name to ask for is Preparation H—at all drug stores. And remember—if not entirely satisfied—your money will be refunded promptly. *Trade Mark

'Shamrock Dance' To Aid Swimmers First Of Events

The Shamrock Dance, to be held on March 17th of course, is the first of the money-raising events that will take place in coming weeks in aid of the Peterborough Ornamental Swimming Club team that plans to give an exhibition at the British Empire Games in Vancouver next August.

Tickets to the dance are selling well, though the time has been limited. The club members and their directors are hoping that many friends they have not been able to contact will take this opportunity to celebrate St. Patrick's birthday with a good time, and help them out at the same time.

The Empress Hotel management is donating the Kawartha Room and Paul Minicola and his orchestra are donating their services for the evening. All proceeds from the dance will go to the club's travelling fund.

Home and School Association News

RAY'S SCHOOL

Ray's Home and School Association was host to the Bridgenorth Association this month. President Jack Lacey welcomed the visitors, then conducted a short business period. Mrs. C. Crawford led the devotions.

Mrs. A. R. Gariepy announced plans for an April Showers tea to be held on April 25th.

Mr. Quirt McKinney, of the Teachers College, speaker for the evening, was introduced by his former pupil, Mrs. J. Crawford. His subject was "Music in the Home" and he opened his address with his audience a new song. Confessing that he was a little surprised at the speed with which his listeners picked up the tune, he asked "Are We Making Canada Musical"? He credited the school teachers with doing an outstanding work, but deplored the lack of "homemade" music in families. He showed how such masters as Bach Brahms and Mozart were the product of home music and family training.

As he traced the rise of the custom of going out to hear musicians instead of enjoying home performances he credited Prince Albert (the Prince Consort) with leading family music back to the road and urged his listeners to continue the good work. He said music in the schools was better than parents deserve and urged co-operation. Mrs. A. Nichols thanked the speaker.

Mrs. N. Hinds entertained with a clog dance, and gave an encore to the tune of "Turkey in the Straw".

After several St. Patrick's games had been enjoyed Mrs. O' Loucks and her committee served dainty refreshments.

Edwardian Or Princess Younger Set's Easter Parade

Springing from the unpredictable Easter weather of years past, children's fashions this year reflect the need for clothes that can be worn in spring and early summer days.

Lightweight suits to be worn under a coat, dresses that span the seasons and the long coat are all new for Easter 1954, are all the results of varying spring weather.

The two most important fashion themes for teenagers and girls are the little boy look and the completely feminine look. The little boy look is expressed by the Edwardian coats, and suits, and blouses and dresses cut with shirt lines. For the feminine look, there are the princess coats, costume suits and the wide-skirted dresses stemming from the princess and Empire silhouettes.

In the little boy coats, outstanding colors are gray and navy. Princess coats are best-liked in pale, pastels and pretty watermelon pink. The little boy coat fools the eye in that while front and back are fitted, the lines, the sides provide enough fullness to be worn easily over layers of petticoats.

The span-season dresses are meant for wear under a coat Easter Sunday and after, then on into the summer. Cottons, semi-sheer silks and synthetics are important to these dresses. Many of them are cut in the princess or Empire silhouettes.

Lightweight separates that have a suit look and cotton separates that appear to be a one-piece dress will also parade in some parts of the country this Easter. These suit separates usually have unlined jackets, can be worn under a coat now and alone later on.

Pupils Present Variety Show

BANCROFT —(ENS)— North Hastings high school variety show, held on Thursday and Friday evening, was well attended.

The program, comprised of two short plays, glee club numbers and exhibitions of tumbling and precision drill by cadet members. The newly formed school band also made its first public appearance.

On Thursday, Royal life saving medals were presented to ten students by Lions' club secretary Art Hewitt. They were B. Wiggins, R. Blatherwick, S. Heaton, M. Hayton, G. Ray, A. Weiss, G. Groves, Loraine Watson, Jane Heaton, Jane Heaton.

The senior glee club, under the direction of Charles N. Montreuil, rendered three songs, "The Whiffenpoof Song", "Rose Bloom", and "Sleep". The school band, also under the direction of Mr. Montreuil, gave three numbers, "Chorale", "Shadowland Waltz" and a march.

Two plays, presented by the senior and junior dramatic groups, were entitled "Rumors Wanted" and "Polly put the kettle on and we'll all have tea", they were directed by Harold E. Petch and Ralph H. Pyle.

Sicilian and Irish airs and a Highland melody were selected by the junior glee club, which performed under the direction of A. Zettler. Smart precision work by 12 cadets, led by Sgt. O. Burke, rounded off a pleasant evening's entertainment.

Gilmer-Kinsman

MILLBROOK (ENS) — The marriage took place Saturday in St. Andrew's United Church parsonage of Jean Frances, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Kinsman of Millbrook to Alton Pember Gilmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Gilmer of Oxford Station. The Rev. A. M. Butler officiated.

The bride wore a powder blue suit with navy hat and accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. Bridesmaid Miss Joan Sanders, wore a navy suit with pink hat and accessories and a corsage of pink roses. Groomsman was Mansell Porter of Oxford Station.

IMMACULATE CONCEPTION SCHOOL

The Immaculate Conception Parent-Teacher Association meeting Monday evening in St. Mary's Hall was highlighted by a panel discussion of the work of the organization which proved enlightening and interesting to the parents. Panellists were Mr. Neil Collins Mrs. H. J. McLarnon, Mrs. V. Flynn and Mr. B. J. Holland.

Entertainment for the evening was a humorous skit titled "Mrs. O'Leary's Cow." Players were well cast and capably directed in their roles by Mrs. D. Campanaro and this was very well received.

Congratulations to the teachers and pupils who took part in the Kiwanis Music Festival and brought laurels to the school were extended.

Opening prayers and business of the meeting was conducted by president Mrs. M. Armitage.

New Hat, Pot Of Flowers Won At BPWC Irish Tea

Draw prizes and entertainment were features of a delightful evening tea held on Monday by the Business and Professional Women's Club of Peterborough.

But there were other interesting things about the pre-March 17th event, including decorations all about the YWCA Green Room in the theme of the season, and waitresses dressed as Irish Colleens in white skirts and blouses, and wearing aprons frilled with green and small hats in green and white.

General convener of the evening was Mrs. Jean Watson who received at the door with president Miss Alice Hardwicke.

Tea tickets were taken by Misses Louella Knapp, Rubena Carter and Leila Burgess and these were the keys to two door prizes drawn for at the close. The winning numbers were 262 and 150, and the gifts may be claimed from Mrs. Watson.

Other prizes were a spring hat, with tickets in charge of Miss Olga Haskill, and a large pot of spring flowers. The hat was won by Mrs. Mabel Wood, of 735 Aylmer Street, and the flowers by Miss Kitty Allen, of the YWCA staff.

A handsome leather purse, on which tickets were sold by Miss Myrtle Knapp, is being held over until April 26th for the draw, and it will be displayed in various store windows in the meantime.

Musical entertainment during the tea hours was provided by Mrs. Frank Guilfoyle and Miss Anne Deyell at the piano, but there were also several program items that were much enjoyed. Little Eleanor McNeill did tap dance routines to Irish tunes, and was prettily dressed in keeping, and Mrs. Robert Baldwin gave a humorous Irish reading.

The tea table was very attractive with the bouquet of daffodils and green tinted carnations highlighted by real Irish green candles in silver candelabra. Tea pourers were group leaders, Miss Vera Heyes, Miss Ella Distin, Miss Florence Hutchinson and Mrs. Maude Dunford.

Servers were Mrs. Jean McIntyre, Miss Mary Taylor, Miss Wynn Hunter, Mrs. John Lenart, Mrs. Florence Spenceley, Miss Agnes Dixon, Miss Vida Foote, Mrs. Mabel Smith, Miss May Stone and Miss Vi Payton.

The refreshments were arranged on the plates by Miss Amy Bowles and her committee which included Misses Sarah Eastwood, Jessie Martin, Flossie McNaughton, Mabel White, Mary Eason, Sadie Garrett and other members.

Hostesses were Mrs. Mabel Louden, Miss Helen Moore, Miss Vi Walsh and Miss Jennie Saunders.

Assistants to Mrs. Watson on the tea committee were Mrs. Lyda Telford, in charge of the servers' costumes, Miss Florence Hutchinson, in charge of decorations, and Miss Margaret Battersby.

Japanese Bride TB Patient After 4 Months In Canada

By GERALD FREEMAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

HALIFAX (CP)—Even after four months, Harue, Japanese bride of a Canadian soldier, felt strange and a little afraid of this bleak, foggy city. Then she found she had tuberculosis.

The eight months she had to spend in hospital were good months however, and the doctors, nurses, all very nice." Looking back, Harue has no regrets. For the girl, tiny and delicate as an Oriental doll, it was a chance to make friends in a country whose customs and language were confusing.

Released in November, she is convalescing in the care of her husband, Sgt. E. C. Farmer, and his parents. Sgt. Farmer is a native of Halifax, and has been stationed at eastern command army headquarters here since he returned from the Far East.

LANGUAGE TOUGH

Though Harue misses her people and her country, she insists she loves Canada and is struggling to master the language.

She has most difficulty with "E" and "R" sounds. Magazines are a bit beyond her yet—"such hard words"—so she reads comic books for practice.

She has a way of grinning and knitting the brows of her bright eyes in puzzlement before she speaks. She forms her thoughts into sentences, then speaks rapidly. "Canada not like Japan. Country, people, cars, houses—everything—so big!" the 92-pound woman says. "Both nice."

The Farmer family has taken to the cheerful girl, but her illness has prevented her taking an active part in the household routine.

When she is a little stronger, Harue will visit a 15-year-old Japanese girl who is studying at Mount St. Vincent College, just outside the city. The two are the only native Japanese women in this area.

Sgt. Farmer thinks, however, that a New Brunswick soldier brought a Japanese bride home with him. If he can locate them, he and Harue will visit them.

Harue met her husband on a ferry going to a religious festival on an island near Kure, Japan. They were married in an Anglican chapel, and came to Canada in December, 1952. Although Harue has never renounced Shintoism, she goes to Church of England services with her mother-in-law.

Harue comes from a suburb of Hiroshima, and was there when the atomic bomb exploded. She is sad when she speaks of the city, once a Japanese show place.

IN STRANGE LAND—Harue, Japanese bride of a Canadian soldier, wears the traditional figured kimono of her country as she makes coffee in a Canadian kitchen. Harue was married to Sgt. E. Farmer, of Halifax, when he was with the Canadian forces in the Far East. Now they live in her husband's home town.—(CP Photo).

HE'D BETTER BEHAVE — Don't rub your eyes—it's true. Pretty Elvie Paulsen lifts her 150-pound husband, Pilon, above her head with the greatest of ease during a musical act in Hamburg, Germany. The muscle-packed glamor girl also seems to be taking things in stride as she carries on a telephone tall while balancing her husband on her lower leg. Elvie claims she gets her strength by eating three spoons of chopped shark's tail for breakfast. However, she's not strong, or fast enough, to be in two places at once. This is a composite picture of two of her most difficult poses.

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Do Not Underestimate Your Power

By MARY MOORE

"If you have an urge to something helpful, do it now. Do it while you are charged with enthusiasm."

That is the credo of a director of a large advertising firm who practices what he advertises.

You often feel the urge to visit a sick friend, but put it off because it might make you late preparing dinner. Or you want to invite a homesick student for dinner but hesitate because you are not having a roast for dinner that night. Or feel you should give one of your Susan's outgrown dresses to the little poor girl in your Sunday school class, but don't because you don't know how her mother would react.

Don't put these things off! Life is not long enough. Do them in the spirit which moved you, and they will be interpreted that way.

I know a girl who was asked by her friends if she would go to a cocktail bar before a dance. She asked her mother if it would be okay with her if she went but did not take a drink. Her mother said, "What do you think?" That question gave her enough pause to decide to say "no," and to her utter amazement none of the girls or their boy friends went either.

Don't underestimate your power just because yours is just one small voice. One voice, the conviction and the faith of one ordinary housewife can work miracles. If you think a thing is right, say so. Don't hide your light under a bushel.

You know well the story of the speaker in a huge stadium who asked that the lights be turned off. In the pitch darkness he lit one match. All eyes were focussed on it. Then he asked everyone in the audience to light a match or lighter after he counted 1-2-3. The hush, then the blaze of light was thrilling beyond words. He'd made his point, for 10,000 matches were really only a multiple of one.

I enjoyed this letter so much that I want to share it with you. Since I am giving it in detail, I shall print the writer's first initial only.

"Dear Mrs. Moore: I have been following your column for a long time and like it very much. I tell you first something about myself. I came to your wonderful Canada seven years ago from Holland. I married a Canadian soldier during the war. My husband was born in Scotland. I could not speak good English when I came here and I could not even cook potatoes. But I have a wonderful mother-in-law and she taught me a lot. Now we have five children, all girls; ages are 7, 6, 5, 3, 2, and expecting a boy, we hope, in April. We have a nice home in the country with a yard and I have a small garden. I do a lot of my own sewing, and I put last fall about 200 jars of fruit, pickles, etc., up and we will be eating this all winter. I have a thick vegetable soup once a week as main course. I make a meat loaf in the pressure cooker. On Saturday I don't cook. We eat all leftovers from the week. We live close to the lake and we spend a lot of time there during the summer. I would like to know what is better to use, detergent or soap flakes. I wash twice a week and I try to save on soap. I bake twice a week. On Tuesdays I bake cookies and maybe a couple of pies, and Friday or Saturday I bake for the weekend. I have maybe a cake or date loaf or so. I collect all the recipes I think are good, and I have a lot of them. Two of my girls go to school and take lunch; so does my husband. I get up at 5.45 and at night I do my knitting or darning. My husband works at G.M., and he is very helpful around the house. He always helps me do the dinner dishes and bath the children at night. For entertainment we watch television or go fishing. We never go anywhere without the children. Of course I do get tired every so often, but when they are all dressed up on Sunday I am very proud. Well, Mrs. Moore, keep up your good works. I like your column so much I always look for it every night. I would like some more recipes for pressure cooker. I am not a very good writer; I hope you can read this and please don't laugh at my writing. My speaking is far better than my writing. —D."

Answer: Please see some pressure cooker recipes tomorrow. And I certainly did not laugh. Your letter was most interesting.

WI Learns Use Of Bandages

LAKEFIELD (ENS)—Mrs. Roy Farrow, community activities convener, was in charge of the program when the Women's Institute met in Memorial Hall. The president, Mrs. Howard Bullock, presided. There were 14 members present.

Mrs. Douglas Daves gave a demonstration on the making of cancer dressings and Mrs. Farrow and Mrs. T. Payton on various types of bandages.

It was decided to donate $2 towards the fund for the purchase of weaving looms and sewing machines for war widows in Korea.

Mrs. Clarence Foster reported the Peterborough Exhibition board was asking the Lakefield board to give prizes to each exhibit by the women's institutes at the fairs, rather than having them enter on a competitive basis. The topic for the exhibit this year will be: "Let's have a bazaar."

The committee in charge of arrangements for the exhibit is composed of Mrs. Farrow, Mrs. J. McKerchar and Mrs. Elvie Dunford. Mrs. Foster was authorized to purchase a suitable sign to be used at the fair.

The linings and batts for three quilts will be purchased by Mrs. Farrow and Mrs. H. Bullock and quiltings will be held at their homes. An executive meeting was planned for March 19 at the home of the president. Committee conveners will be there to discuss the reports to be presented to the district annual meeting.

Sheets were purchased to be sent to a family who had recently been burned out of their home.

Mrs. Gordon Dunford and Mrs. Theo Nichols were appointed a nominating committee. The election of officers will be held at the next meeting.

Mrs. Nichols was tea hostess.

DOROTHY DIX:

Wife's Parents Too Much For Her Husband

DEAR MISS DIX: My husband and I have been married five years and have a four-year-old daughter. We get along perfect—except for the problem I am about to relate. We agreed before our marriage to share a home with my parents. We all chipped in and bought a house.

At first things went along very well. Mom and I shared the housekeeping chores, taking turns with the meals. This seems to be the bone of contention. Of course, Phil and I never have a meal alone, and he has become quite sullen at mealtime. He never wants to talk, just has his lunch or dinner, and leaves the table. I suppose the solution would be for us to strike out on our own, but we have the problem of the house. My parents couldn't keep it up by themselves and we also have quite an investment in it.—SHEILA K.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Your husband merely wants a home of his own, and a wife to give him the major share of her attention. That's by no means an unreasonable desire and it's definitely what most men want. Perhaps your parents monopolize the conversation at mealtime, or you devote so much time to serving them that you have no time to talk to Phil, or perhaps he prefers your style of cooking to your mother's.

MATE HAS HIS RIGHTS

At any rate, there's quite a bit of right on his side. Could you manage a little alteration in the house, to divide it into two units, giving each family their own quarters?

If the men in your family are at all handy, the change could be made without too much trouble or expense and it would be well worth the cost. With the exception of food bills, expenses still could be shared. There may be serious trouble ahead of you don't do something to give Phil his required privacy. After a day's work he needs it. No matter how nice in-laws are, or how well two families get along, perfect comingling of two households is very difficult. Don't try to push it too far.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: My mother-in-law says she has a right to tell my husband what to do, since he's her son, although we've been married two years. My mother lives with us, and my mother-in-law resents this very much. She tells my husband he ought to put my mother out. Who is right?

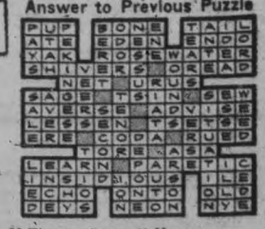
Adele

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Your mother-in-law is in the wrong in thinking she has the same authority over her son as she had when he was a small boy. He's a grown married man with a child and old enough to handle his own affairs. You must help him to insist on doing what he desires and to give up depending on his mother for advice.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: Roger and I went together for several weeks, then he stopped telephoning me. So I called him. I kept calling for about two months; now he doesn't even speak when he meets me on the street. Should I call him and ask him what is the matter?



H. G.
